Focus and Hunger

Posted originally on the Archive of Our Own at http://archiveofourown.org/works/54875206.

Rating:	Explicit
Archive Warning:	Creator Chose Not To Use Archive Warnings
Category:	F/F
Fandom:	She-Ra and the Princesses of Power (2018)
Relationship:	Adora/Catra (She-Ra)
Characters:	Catra (She-Ra), Adora (She-Ra)
Additional Tags:	set early season 2, dubcon-ish, Catra planned a hatefuck, Adora did not know this and as such did not abide, Service Top Adora (She-Ra), Bottom Catra (She-Ra), They're switches but Catra Needed This, Hair-pulling, Biting, Possessive Behavior, Plot What Plot/Porn Without Plot, They're both super repressed and repression creates Freaks, Catra's a Brat, brat taming, Adora's Aftercare game is on point, Right up until it's not, Adora has no filter during sex, Catra almost makes it to subspace but keeps yanking herself out of it
Language:	English
Series:	Part 1 of Repressed Girlies Can't Catch the Feelings if They Never Put Them Down
Stats:	Published: 2024-04-30 Words: 15,225 Chapters: 2/2

Focus and Hunger

by genVicron

Summary

It is not Catra's fault that Adora is so hot.

The spy drones aren't her fault either.

She has a plan to deal with this, it does not work as intended.

Notes

Inspired by and adapted from an RP that fell through like a year ago. If you see this, no hard feelings. ^_^

See the end of the work for more notes

Chapter 1

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

Catra was mildly losing it. Just mildly; she was still in control, and she was definitely paying attention in this joke of a strategy meeting. The reports coming in had the usual spread of lost and taken ground- losses where the Princesses had intervened, gains where they hadn't- all adding up to the usual stalemate.

If Catra was dumber she'd have tried to shake Hordak out of whatever dark corner of his sanctum he was hiding in to make him listen to this. Maybe it would motivate him to get off his ass and do something about it. Luckily, she didn't have a deathwish, so contemplating that wasn't what was getting under her skin right now.

No, what was driving her crazy was the fleet of little flying spy drones Entrapta had put out to watch the borders. Because of course she'd offered Catra a few to use for herself, and of course she'd been dumb enough to accept, and of course she sent one out to Bright Moon, and of course she managed to get a look in Adora's stupidly huge balcony windows, and of course she just so fucking happened to catch her coming out of the shower. And, because Adora clearly knew she'd been watching and wanted to destroy any chance Catra had at thinking about anything else for the next three weeks and counting, of course she just- for kicks- didn't bother to put on more than her underwear before starting her morning workout.

The fact that Catra had watched the whole thing was, quite firmly, not her fault. Especially since nobody else knew about it. She'd like to see anyone else pull themselves away from the subject of every fantasy they'd had since they were old enough to start having them bouncing away in a sports bra that sometime over the last year she had clearly outgrown-

Catra stood up from the table all at once to force her attention back to the now and off of Adora- toned, huffing, straining, with her hair down - so she could snap at somebody and get an excuse to wrap this up already.

"Aww, but I was just getting to the cool part." That was Entrapta, when had she started talking? Catra blinked, watching her keenly. It was pretty hard to tune her out, and Catra usually made a point not to. Entrapta's 'cool parts' had a damn good track record of either exploding spectacularly enough to be repurposed into weapons or giving them a direct edge in the next skirmish. Catra really needed to get this out of her system if she couldn't even keep track of what Entrapta was up to.

"...Fine," Catra huffed, sitting back down with a forced casual wave, "what's it this time?"

"I've been taking some remote readings from around the southern edge of Bright Moon territory," she started, a wide smile snapping onto her face, "right up against Plumeria. Specifically the Vale Spring Temple, which if you check the map is right in a contested zone. The construction itself seems dated to around eight hundred years ago, there's a lot of First Ones' inspired artifice, but nothing directly from them-"

“Entrapta,” Catra snapped, “focus.”

“Right,” Entrapta plowed ahead, still grinning brightly, “there’s something in the structure- either mineral or a device- that the readings suggest should severely interfere with Runestone-based magic. My current theory, based on that and its position at what at that time in history would have been four intersecting borders, is that it used to be a meeting space for the Princesses with a sort of built-in disarming field.”

“You had me at ‘severe interference’,” Catra’s mind was already racing with the possibilities. If it was a machine, Entrapta would be able to reverse-engineer it so they could deploy it, if it was something in the stone of the building, they could mine it for use elsewhere. They just needed to make sure it actually worked first. She turned back to the rest of the table. “We’re taking that temple. Organize a strike team-”

“And an exploration team!” Entrapta interjected. Catra shot her a side-eye, “if it’s a device it might be deep inside, and the information I’ve been able to find on the temple suggests everything down from the first level is a maze.”

“...And an exploration team,” Catra allowed, rolling her eyes before turning to finish giving everyone their orders.

Now she just had to figure out how to lure a Princess inside, which was pretty easy, just make sure her team made a lot of noise once they arrived and Adora would drag Glimmer right into the trap herself.

And if it worked, the part of her she’d been trying to ignore informed her, Catra would have her best opportunity in almost a year to get Adora by herself, no teleporting nuisance or annoyingly crafty bowman to get in her way. Then she might be able to pay Adora back for the last three weeks of mounting frustration.

Catra tried to shake the thought out of her head, but it wouldn’t quite leave; it spent the rest of the day ambushing her from the back of her mind, providing annoying- enticing- little tidbits. Like how Adora always used to go limp when Catra pinned her during training. How when it happened she’d smile so earnestly that Catra always had to stop herself from pressing the advantage.

She went to bed wound tighter than she’d ever been.

Adora’s hands around her wrists, all the muscles in her arms stark in the dim light, blue eyes sharp with determination and focus. Catra couldn’t remember how to breathe, barely able to work up the determination to test how firmly Adora had her, completely unable to stop the giddy gasp she took when Adora didn’t even begin to budge.

“Good girl,” Adora growled, making Catra’s whole world go hot and heady as she leaned in and Catra needed to be-

Catra woke with a start, gasping like she’d just been underwater and clutching at the sheets. She stared up at the ceiling for a long moment, panting as she tried to reorient her…

everything.

Fuck, she felt like she was on fire beneath her skin, all trapped energy and need, her underwear stuck to the fur of her thighs. She swallowed, her throat feeling thick and sluggish. The tension leaked out of her slow, surging back in each time her insides squeezed down on nothing, burning with arousal.

Eventually she managed to unhook her claws from the bed, forcing them to slide away as she slipped her hand under her shirt. She needed this, bad.

She dragged her fingers down her chest, closing her eyes to try and imagine it was Adora's hand on her, slipping through Catra's fur to tweak one of her nipples as her other hand slipped further down her body, dipping between her legs. She could picture it so easily, Adora looking up at her all eager earnestness and- over her, pressing down on Catra's chest to keep her in place, eyes sharp with focus and hunger-

She gasped, eyes flying open as she pulled her hand away, another wave of needy heat rocking through her whole body and a desperate whine forcing its way out of her.

What the fuck was that? She took a couple more unsteady breaths, shaking her head hard to try and force the image out. This was not happening; Catra's been scraping and clinging to every scrap of control she could get her hands on, no way in the Fright Zone's toxic underbelly was she going to give up a scrap of it even in a fantasy.

Her breathing evened out, maybe it was just the fact that she was on her back, it was harder to imagine being over someone when her back was the one on the sheets. That made sense. She turned over, gathering the tough pillow under her chin with one arm, lifting her hips off the bed so she could slip her other hand under them.

She called the scene up again, imagining the pillow as Adora's shoulder, resting her whole weight against it as she cast her mind back to the breathless way Adora used to pant for her when Catra had her pinned, imagining her reaching up to give Catra her prize.

Fingers ghosted over Catra's clit, too much heat coursing through her to take more than that without overstimulating herself. She growled a warning, imagining how Adora's hand would flinch back, waiting for her permission to go forward and groaning as her fingers shifted to play at her lips, relaxing slightly.

"That's it," she murmured, sliding her fingers between her lips, the burning in her calming a little at the touch. She circled her entrance, her wrist aching just a bit at the angle she had to hold her hand to keep from brushing against her oversensitive clit until she slipped a finger inside, wet and open enough that one only made the need pulse harder and she couldn't help the whine that forced its way out of her.

She needed more. She slid another finger in, but she could remember the feeling of Adora's hands, her fingers were so much thicker than Catra's. She tried to press a third finger in, taking in another shuddering breath as she finally got the sort of stretch she needed, her mind calling up the little smirk Adora gave whenever she did something just right and Catra shuddered, moaning into the pillow.

Her fingers started moving, Adora's other arm would go up to wrap around Catra's back, holding her close as she started fingering her, she'd- squeeze Catra tight against her, whisper in her ear about how pretty she was, how wet she was, tell her it was fine to bite her shoulder, how good she was being all for-

Catra's teeth pressed against the pillow and the musty storage room smell all the washers in this place had pulled her back to the moment. She pulled her fingers out quick enough that the air against her cunt felt like a shock of cold. A furious snarl ripped its way out of her as she spat out the fabric, her whole body shuddering; she'd been so close, but- Adora over her, looking at Catra like she wants to eat her as she takes her- no, just, no. If that was how her brain was gonna be about this, she'd just go the fuck back to sleep.

She wiped her hand on the sheets with a grimace, rolling back onto her side, tugging her underwear back into place, and curling up tight to lock her hands together around her knees so they wouldn't get any more clever ideas. She's been running on shitty sleep ever since Adora left, she could manage another few days until she could prove that stupid, needy part of her wrong.

Things had started according to plan, Glimmer's power fizzled out when she tried to use it. Most of it, anyway, she could still throw around those stupid flashbang bubbles when she really put her back into it, but that wasn't Catra's concern. Getting Adora to chase her deeper into the maze was as easy as ever, though she'd admit she got a little lucky with Adora's response time when she snatched her stupid sword, dashing off to draw her along while Lonnie's crew kept the other two busy.

So Catra had Adora all to herself, soon in more ways than one. She rushed through the temple just slow enough for Adora to barely keep up, leading her through the twisting maze until she found a room with a deep pool on one side, stairs leading down into the clear waters. Catra stopped and turned to face the entrance as Adora barreled in, hesitating just a moment at the sight of Catra holding the sword out to the side. A flash of confusion and apprehension passed across her face before Catra carelessly tossed the sword back into the water.

Adora leapt into action almost the moment the sword left Catra's hand, eyes locked on it, and Catra smirked to herself. Jackpot.

She pounced to intercept, but Adora's eyes flicked over and she threw herself to the side, barely escaping Catra's first lunge. Catra snarled, she couldn't just make anything easy for her, could she? She watched for another opening as Adora stepped back, eyes catching on the way her forearms tensed when Adora set her stance.

Catra recognized the way she held herself, the same as she ever did during bare-handed sparring drills. A wave of heat pulsed through her body, she hadn't seen that in far too long, Adora held herself differently with the sword. Catra fell into her own stance to mirror hers, the shadow of an old grin tugging at her lips before she reminded herself this was a distraction and charged in.

Adora ducked around her first swipe, coming up with a jab that Catra swatted aside with ease, her palm slightly stinging with the impact as she drove her other arm's elbow forward to try and slam it against Adora's collarbone. Adora's other arm snapped up to catch Catra's attack across her forearm and Catra winced at the tingling jolt that sent up her arm.

Adora stepped forward to try and drive a knee into Catra's gut and she jumped back, sizing Adora up again. She definitely wasn't out of practice, and as Catra moved back in her body was practically singing to go back to their old patterns, to see how long they could keep this up, how perfectly they fit together again.

As the dance dragged on, Catra didn't notice her walls starting to come down, her strikes slowing, her dodges getting tighter so she could stay closer to her, her tongue loosening to throw out playful taunts, all for the excuse to keep dancing, keep close, keep touching her, keep that cocky grin on Adora's face and those intense blue eyes on her, nothing else. The heat under Catra's skin was only intensifying with each movement, but it felt good with the rush of the sort of spar she only ever got from Adora running through her.

Then Adora's eyes shifted, glancing down behind Catra, and she remembered Adora's goal here wasn't just to chase the old high. Something roiled in Catra's chest, jealous and needy even as she cursed herself for forgetting too. She moved in, speeding up her movements again to put Adora on the defensive, forcing her attention back where it belonged. "Eyes up, Princess," she snarled in Adora's startled face.

"Catra?" Adora had the nerve to sound confused, like this was something other than Catra's chance to get all the burning, needy heat out of her system.

"Don't play with me," she pushed, swerving around Adora's sloppy counterattack to try and drive an open-palmed strike into her chest, "I want Adora, not She-Ra," Adora twisted out of the way to keep from taking the hit head on, but still letting one of Catra's claws rake through her shirt, "that's why I'm here, and if you think you're getting away without paying me back for that stupid workout-" another growl forced its way out of her, snatching the rest of her words away as Adora blocked and deflected her next three strikes.

"Workout?" Adora blinked at her and for a split second Catra froze. "What workout?"

"No-none of your business!" She lashed out with her claws, the same quick swipe that always came out when Catra's insides got too tangled to handle, one which Adora unfortunately had plenty of practice dodging around. Adora's brow furrowed and her eyes flicked away again. The stinging, jealous roil flared up and Catra roared, flinging herself headlong into a flurry of attacks. "I said eyes fucking up, " Adora was forced back, away from the pool and that damn sword, "you don't get to show off like that, run half naked through my head all the time, and then not even look at me!"

"What are you talking about?" Adora's eyes snapped back to her, still confused but sharp again, focused, and it settled some of the churning in Catra's stomach. Her next swing still went wild, though, and Adora shoved with it, forcing Catra to spin with her momentum. Catra had just long enough to realize both what just came out of her mouth and that she needed to move away to keep Adora from getting a hold on her at the same exact second, embarrassment trying to freeze her in place at the same moment as she braced for a jump.

Just long enough for Adora to sweep her legs out from under her, one hand snatching up one of Catra's wrists while the other slammed into the back of her neck at an awkward enough angle that some part of Catra that wasn't flashing panic was pretty sure it hadn't been her target. She braced herself as the ground rushed up to meet her, her free hand flailing uselessly as Adora drove her down; but the impact didn't come, Adora's hand on the back of Catra's neck tensing before she set Catra down almost gently, her grip there and on her arm still unyielding.

"What're you-" Catra started before she felt Adora's weight settle on her back, suddenly hyper-aware of the contact with her basically straddling Catra's ass and the hand around her neck, of her scent, warm and slightly tinged with effort from their spar in a way that was doing directly to Catra's head.

"Shut up," Adora snapped, panting hard, tense for a moment before her grip loosened. "Okay, Moons, wait." Catra stopped squirming for a long moment as she heard Adora take a deep breath, the hand on her neck making it hard to check what she was doing- or think, but clearly she wasn't doing too hot on that front anyway if she got caught like this. "...Half naked?" Catra tried to sputter but Adora let out a low chuckle that sent a bolt of static directly down her spine, "did you set this up because you've been fantasizing about me?"

Adora's weight shifted as she leaned forward, her thighs pressing against either side of Catra's waist, "it's been way too long since we've lived together if seeing me work out got to you this bad." Catra could already feel her tights clinging to her, but she forced herself not to shudder.

This was Catra's plan, Adora was supposed to be the one pinned right now.

"Get. Off." She growled, squirming to try and force Adora's hands off of her. "You were training in your fucking underwear," she threw out, trying to get a shock in that might give her an opportunity. "You putting on a show for Sparkles or something?"

"You- You were looking in my room?" Bingo. "That's on, like, the third floor, with a balcony, where were you even-" Catra bucked hard underneath her, pitching her shoulders sideways to force Adora's hand off her neck while she turned over and grabbed at Adora's shoulders to flip them.

"Like you didn't know!"

Adora recovered fast, bracing her knees to keep from being tossed around, but it still wasn't quite enough to keep Catra down as they wrestled across the floor.

"If you're getting like this over that, you're lucky you didn't show up an hour earlier!" Adora growled, briefly grinding Catra's brain to a halt with a palm pressed up against the bottom of Adora's jaw, trying to shove her head away.

"Why? What were you-" one of Adora's hands snapped out to try and grab Catra's face right back but she jerked her head to the side, leaving it to slam into the floor.

“What do you think? I didn’t know you were perving on my room until right now!” Catra had just enough time to recognize the feeling of Adora taking a fistful of her mane from where it was splayed out on the floor beneath them. “Now hold still!” Adora’s voice went stern and the tingling want cranked up even higher before she yanked and Catra’s whole body lit up as her world went white.

The irritating, sharp pain that was supposed to happen when someone yanked on her hair was muted beneath how the heat under her skin began singing, forcing a loud moan out of her. Her back arched up, everything going tense and trembling before it all released at once, leaving her dazed and limp.

The heat felt less like fire and more like sitting curled up on top of one of the exhaust pipes for a nap all of the sudden. She tried to blink the stars away, looking up at Adora looming above her, face shocked as she radiated whatever black magic was letting her turn the need under Catra’s skin into something floating and almost blissful right through every point of contact between them.

Oh, fuck no.

But before Catra could muster up the will to pull away, shove Adora off of her, flip them over, do something, she leaned forward, her eyes sharpening, more of her weight settling on Catra’s hips and making the decadent warmth sink deeper under her skin. Then Adora tugged again, gentler, almost hesitant compared to the last time, but it still set something bubbling in Catra’s stomach that came out as a pathetic little mewl before she could even register what was about to happen.

This had to stop, she could not afford-

“No you don’t,” Adora chided her- so fucking gently, where did she get off sounding like that while that stupid little ‘I did a good job’ grin spread across her face? Catra had to fight her off, she had to- Adora’s hand wrapped around her other wrist and another wave of yes washed over Catra’s whole body.

While Catra tried to recover from that, Adora pinned both of them over her head, leaving her exposed beneath a playful smile and blue eyes that were quickly growing hungry. “Damn, Catra,” why was she saying her name like that? Like just the sound of it was the best thing she’d ever tasted? How the fuck was Catra supposed to react to that? “And people say I’m repressed. You really are pent up, aren’t you?”

Right, she was supposed to try and take back some control. She finally managed to close her mouth, but Adora’s eyes flicked up to her hands and Catra realized her claws weren’t out, and she… didn’t want them to be. Catra let her own eyes wander, down Adora’s shoulders, the poised tension in her arms, the way her jacket was hanging half-off her shoulder. The hole Catra had torn in her shirt, giving her a peek at pale skin beneath.

This was exactly what she’d been dreaming about. Oh, she was screwed.

Adora’s eyes flicked back down, capturing Catra and making her breath catch. She could salvage this, she just needed to get out from under Adora so she could think about something other than how her body was lighting up like a landing strip under Adora's touch.

"F-Fuck. Adora, please, just…" did she just say 'please'? Stop looking at her eyes, she had to look away. She forced her head to turn, trying not to think about how closely Adora was still watching her. "Let me go, okay?" She forced a little bit of the irritation that was supposed to be there into her voice. "If I'm pent up or not is none of your business, traitor. Now, get off me."

She was already bracing herself to deal with the loss of all the soothing warmth Adora was pushing through her when Adora just hummed at her, skeptical. Catra hazarded a glance back and Adora was looking up at her hands again, still not even a hint of her claws.

"I dunno," she mused and Catra tried everything in her power to deny that she felt like she'd just dodged some kind of punishment. "You kinda made it my business when you set this up to make it my problem." Adora's eyes came back down and Catra felt another jolt of static at the absolute focus in them, the intensity all zeroed in on her. "I might let go of you," Adora's eyes narrowed and the static smoothed out, compliant and heady under Adora's gaze, under her control, "but just because I've never done this before, and I'm probably gonna need a hand free."

Catra tried to get her breathing back under her control, but just ended up gasping as her body reacted to the thought, hips twitching under Adora's. The glint in Adora's eyes shifted with a question, the same way they used to whenever she was considering doing something stupid and fun with her back in the Fright Zone. Catra's expression shifted in response, daring her forward. "But you're staying right here," Adora's voice took on that stern edge again, "got it?"

Catra started nodding before she could catch herself, forcing everything she could still control to tense to stop it. Then Adora leaned in closer, the warmth singing under Catra's skin again in response. "I've finally found your off switch," she gave Catra's mane another gentle tug and she lost control of her muscles again, squirming in Adora's hold, fighting with everything she had not to arch up and plaster herself against her chest, "so you're going to keep your hands where I can see them." She should not do that, she should absolutely not do that, if she did that she was going to finish falling right into Adora's hands and then she'd do anything she asked so long as Adora kept touching her.

Adora hesitated a moment longer, like she was about to dive into dark water, before she released Catra's hands, shifting enough away from her that Catra could breathe in air that wasn't thick with Adora again. She wanted it back, the world felt cold without Adora's grip around her wrists. Fuck, she was folding so bad.

Adora was looking down at her, waiting to see if she'd do something. She didn't, she couldn't tell if she should or even slightly wanted to anymore. She wanted to say something biting- get Adora to start looking at her like she was an opponent again, not a bomb that might go off. She wanted to tell her to get back down on top of her- hold her close like they were friends again. She wanted to demand where under all the Moons' Light she learned to do this to her if she hadn't done it before. But nothing was willing to come out of her mouth, and she held still.

Adora swallowed, her weight shifting and lifting off of Catra, her hand releasing Catra's hair to brace herself against the ground, all of which was terrible because it meant Catra lost all her points of contact with her, and wonderful because it brought Adora's head back to right above Catra's, their eyes locked together.

"Now," Adora breathed, her voice still solid as her expression sharpened again, pinning Catra properly, "I'm gonna help you fix this, and all you have to do to make me stop is not move." Didn't that contradict what she'd said befo- Adora slid a thigh up between Catra's and what was about to happen crashed into her all at once. As if in confirmation, one of Adora's hands lifted to settle on her hip, squeezing gently and making Catra's breath catch in her chest again.

Catra lifted her hips a little as soon as Adora's hand started sliding around her back, coming to settle just above the base of her tail and pulling her up, making Adora lean in even closer as she lifted Catra's hips to press her crotch against the warm, solid ridge of her thigh. Decadent warmth surged through Catra's core again, stronger than ever before and she gasped, eyes trapped by Adora's hungry gaze.

Adora's other arm shifted, sliding her hand under Catra's head to cradle it off the ground, bringing herself down on her elbows now and putting her face so close to Catra's that she could feel the heat coming off her skin, her breath stirring through her fur, the warmth cranked up to uncomfortable heat again and she strained up a little, pressing her forehead to Adora's and feeling it settle back down.

Adora gasped, starting to tremble, but Catra was not backing down, that was the first movement she'd managed on her own in what felt like ten minutes, she was keeping it. She wasn't going to do what Adora wanted her to, though. This was her last chance, she was barely holding on, she was so close to just giving in that she'd just pushed herself into Adora's touch because she needed it. She just had to hold on a little while longer and maybe she'd have some hope of salvaging this.

"Now be a good girl," Adora murmured, casually setting Catra's brain on fire; she wanted that, she wanted that so badly it almost hurt, "and grind for me."

Catra couldn't do anything but obey, trapped between Adora's arm around her back, the desire in her voice, and eyes so deep and blue they almost seemed to shimmer, she started to buck her hips. An immediate jolt of pleasure surged through her, and she couldn't tell if it was more from the sensation or just from being good for Adora. Either way it made Catra start to melt under her, drawing out another moan as her head lolled back, her eyes rolling up into her head.

Adora groaned above her, and the warmth sunk in all the way to Catra's bones, the world going hazy around the edges, she was being good, every breath was coming with little whimpers and groans, pleasure washing over her in waves with each rocking of her hips.

Adora took in a harsh breath above her and Catra's eyes fluttered open, letting her see Adora looking down at her with something like wonder. "Fuck, Catra," her eyes flicked down and Catra would have smirked if Adora didn't rock forward a little, the sensation intensifying and forcing her mouth to drop open in a long groan. "That's it," Adora praised her and Catra couldn't do anything other than keep melting for her, her tail wrapping around Adora's arm.

Adora's hand on the back of her head shifted, tilting her back to expose Catra's throat, loosening her grip to scratch at Catra's scalp while she started pressing soft kisses up and down her neck. Every point of contact was bliss, warm and wonderful, and Catra let out a sigh filled with so much contentment that she didn't recognize her own voice for a second.

There was no way this was Catra's fault, she could just, lay back and let this happen. It was so easy, and it felt so good.

"Good girl," Adora murmured against her throat, nuzzling against her, scent marking herself against Catra's neck. She could just give in, right? She didn't have to do anything other than this. Adora's arm around her started moving in time with Catra's hips, making everything even more intense, forcing mewling notes into her moans. "You're going to be such a good girl for me, right?" Adora gave a demanding little nip right up under her jaw, her voice cutting through the haze, demanding her submission, demanding she give herself up.

"Guh- Good girl," she moaned, feeling Adora shiver around her again, egging her on, "yes, I want-" a part of her that was being loudly shouted down by what was starting to feel like the entire rest of the universe pushed back; this wasn't the plan. This was a battle, and Adora was making her feel good, not the other way around, Adora was serving her right now. Her jaw clenched shut, cutting off the words, she tried to growl but it came out as a pathetic whine.

What the fuck was she doing? She could not be this easy, even if she wasn't going to fight against the rhythm they've set together, she refused to beg. If Adora wanted something like that, she had to earn it.

"It's okay," Adora murmured heavily, kissing at the base of her ear, "I know you will." Cocky little- she leaned forward, changing the angle of her thigh to press right against Catra's clit and wiping every thought out of her head while she nipped at the top of her ear. "Just follow my lead." Her arm around Catra's back pressed up and locked, leaving Catra to yowl as something that had been almost painful under her own fingers shifted needy against Adora's warmth.

"Ador- aah!" Catra's hips bucked faster, her peak rapidly rushing towards her. She desperately tried to get a hold of herself, lifting her head to bury her face against Adora's shoulder. She shifted back and Catra's traitorous voice had the gall to whine about it, even though it was letting Catra think her own thoughts again. Adora decided to take care of that, apparently, because she started helping her grind again, putting her back on the tempo she'd lost in the onslaught, and the whine melted into moans as she tried to catch her breath.

"I've got you," Adora whispered in her ear, sending the words echoing through her head, putting Catra that much closer to just melting for her again before she kissed Catra's cheek. "Just let go, I'll take care of you, I promise." Moons, she was making this hard.

"I- I need-" She nearly bit her tongue forcing the words back down, trying to shake her head but only succeeding in getting herself stuck nuzzling against Adora's neck. Adora made a comprehending noise, squeezing Catra's head against her shoulder for a moment before pulling away. Catra couldn't even make herself begin to protest, blinking up at her as Adora's eyes swept across her body, faintly glowing as she drank her in, her expression somehow so soft and ravenous at the same time.

Like she meant it, like she wanted her so bad it was taking everything Adora had not to start tearing things off of her.

Needy warmth pulsed under Catra's skin, like her entire being was crying out for Adora to ditch the self control and just do it. Catra let her head fall back, letting out a desperate moan and squirming in Adora's grip, another pulse of heat and pleasure shooting through her at how firm Adora's hold on her was.

"You're so fucking beautiful," Adora breathed, understated and awestruck all at once, like she'd just remembered something obvious but vital and Catra closed her eyes to stop them from watering as her entire body trembled.

Adora shifted back, lowering Catra's hips back to the floor. Catra's tail tightened its grip on her arm before Adora started leaning in closer again, stretching out and draping herself over Catra's side; her weight actually pressed on top of her was making Catra's whole body sing again, but she managed enough control of herself to try and scowl at her, though with how thoroughly melted she was she'd probably only managed a pout.

Then Adora's hand on Catra's back started dragging along to her hip again, caressing like it physically hurt Adora to stop touching her as she drew it away, then twined her fingers around Catra's tail, just letting it slide through her hand as she freed her arm. Adora brought her hand back down on Catra's stomach, resting heavily just above her waistband and drawing a needy whimper out of her that choked out into a gasp as Adora pressed down.

It was like being jabbed with a livewire of need, Catra's hips tried to buck, but Adora's solid strength held her in place and Catra groaned again. The warmth practically felt like it was swallowing her, like the entire right side of her body was radiating it out with Adora draped over her, and with Adora's hand on her stomach giving it a focus she was getting lost in it again.

She tried to open her eyes, her eyelids fluttering and failing her, "oh, Catra," Adora groaned low, "you feel so good." Was it happening to Adora too? Was that how she seemed to know just how to touch her? How the fuck had this never happened to them before in the Horde? Her mind cast back to when they'd spar or wrestle, how it always felt like the only thing holding them back from something perfect was the audience. Okay, this had happened a lot in the Horde, just never this intense, never with intent like this before.

Adora's hand pushed down under her waistband, pressing down on her mound now. If it had started out as a livewire, this was a lightningstrike. Catra's whole body jolted, confused signals firing this way and that, it wasn't enough, it was too much, and her legs kicked out- she couldn't give in, she had to take control, and she closed her legs- but she wanted it, needed it, and they fell back open again. Her chest arched up off of the ground, she couldn't get air, her tail thumped against the ground.

Adora just sat there, radiating soothing warmth into Catra, one hand remaining firmly where it was, the other gently tracing fingers across the back of Catra's head until the noise calmed down, letting her breathe again and relax back into Adora's hold.

She pressed a kiss against Catra's cheek once her head was back on the ground. "Keep your legs open for me," she said firmly, like an order, and Catra barely got to register it before Adora's fingers were moving further down, beneath her underwear to gently squeeze at her clit on the way down to cup her core.

"Fffffuck," Catra hissed, pleasure and need concentrating down onto Adora's hand on her, her hips bucking up into her, her head lolling back. Adora took a deep breath next to her ear, like she was bracing herself, and the hunger she'd seen in her eyes flashed through Catra's mind. What kind of insane discipline did Adora have that she could have that burning under her skin and still go this slow?

How the fuck was Catra supposed to compete with that when she was already this desperate?

"Fuck, you're soaked, " Adora growled, actually growled, maybe she was closer to her breaking point than it looked. But then her hand was still steady, deliberate, as the pressure eased off, her fingers sliding up and down the lips of Catra's cunt, the caress leaving her breathless. "So needy for me." She started kissing up and down Catra's neck again. "Good." Catra was fucked. Adora said something else, but whatever it was was lost in the haze when she slid two fingers through her inner lips, dragging them up and back down until they started circling her entrance, drawing back just enough to ghost along it. Teasing her, like Catra wasn't practically dripping to her knees right now. "Tell me when you're ready."

That got through. Moons, Catra needed it, but Adora was offering her another chance to be defiant, and she couldn't think but there was still a part of her that needed to at least pretend to fight. A moan ripped its way out of her; why couldn't she just let go? She finally opened her eyes again, turning to look at Adora.

"I'm-" a weak growl shuddered through her chest, she wasn't going to beg, she swore it, but Adora was just watching her, all softness and desire and molten warmth. " Adora-" it came out in a childish whine, and a smile started spreading across Adora's face. The kind she got when she solved a puzzle. She knew. "I'm- I- I can't, Adora," she started trying to grind down against Adora's hand, make her slip her fingers inside without having to admit anything or hear Adora expose her, but Adora's grip on her just shifted to keep on her exactly the way it was. Catra had to bite back a needy sob.

"Shh, it's alright," Adora cooed in her ear, and when had her voice gotten so mesmerizing? She gave Catra a bit more pressure, drawing her fingers in tighter and tighter circles around her entrance, so close to just slipping inside. The needy sound shifted to a long, relieved moan and forced its way out of her. "I know you need to play hissy kitty," she teased, and if Catra couldn't already feel herself flushed all the way down to her stomach she was sure she'd have turned red enough to see through her fur. Adora gave her a gentle, exploratory push and Catra quickly lost the ability to feel embarrassed about anything as those two thick fingers pressed all the way inside of her.

“But that’s okay,” Adora continued as Catra roared, the feeling of finally being filled too much for her to process all at once. “You don’t want to give up, do you?” Adora’s voice cut through it, taming the storm under her skin and making it feel so fucking good. Catra gasped, shaking her head, she couldn’t give up, she had to keep pushing, keep fighting, she had to stay in control. “You need me to earn it, to beat you, take you.” Catra grit her teeth, she needed it, she needed that so bad. “Show you how much I want you.” She needed to see that focus and fire in Adora’s eyes, needed to know she’d been conquered by the only person she’d ever trusted to treat her right. She nodded fast. She needed the weight against her side, over her, needed Adora to take everything she had to give and weather it, hold her close even as she contained the storm. She wanted-

Adora growled again, deeper, more guttural, hunger and awe in the same sound, “you want to be tamed.” Catra saw stars again, her whole body locking up. That wasn’t fair, she couldn’t know that. She didn’t get to do that; she didn’t get to make it sound like something glorious instead of shameful, like she’d be giving Adora a gift instead of garbage, like freedom instead of proving every awful thing Shadow Weaver said about her right.

But Adora did it anyway. Adora made it sound right.

The stubborn part of her tried to muster one last stand, sending Adora as close to a glare as she could manage with her fingers buried to the base inside her.

“I do not nee-” then she cheated. “Wha- huh!? ” Adora started rocking her hand, steady, hard, each push in reaching deeper than Catra had thought was possible, her fingers hooking and dragging on their way out until the heel of her palm pressed and rubbed at her clit, making Catra’s whole body go molten with pleasure. She howled with the onslaught, too much to be contained, too good for her to even consider trying.

There was no way she’d never done this before, this felt practiced. Adora let out a surprised little sound- it wasn’t? What the fuck? Catra moaned just shy of screaming, shaking and squirming as Adora relentlessly fingerfucked her.

“I can do that,” Adora panted, her hand on the back of Catra’s head tilting her face towards Adora’s and shifting to cup her cheek, fingers threading through her tufts and Catra had never felt safer in her life as she continued like an oath, “I can give you everything you need.”

“Oh, Moons, fuck- ADORA! ” She roared, her legs twitching as she spread herself wider for her, trying and failing to start grinding in time with Adora’s pace, it was just too much for her to have that kind of control, interrupted by an onslaught of sensation that had her grunting and slurring around her moans, her insides squeezing around Adora’s fingers like she never wanted them to leave- which, for the record, she very much did not.

Adora responded by taking a hold of her head again, tilting it back to lean in and bite at her neck, holding her firm, and something primal in Catra’s chest rumbled with a satisfaction so deep that even if Adora wasn’t bouncing her entire fucking body on her wrist it would have been the game right there.

“I’ll make you mine,” Adora promised as she released Catra’s neck, leaving soft kisses around the bite; and why had Catra even bothered pretending not to want that, again?

"Yesss," she hissed, arching up to press as much of herself against Adora as she could manage with her arms still stuck above her head. "Fuck, Adora, please," she gasped out. The whole world was safety, and Adora, and pleasure, and molten warmth. She just needed one more thing to make it perfect, just needed to hear Adora say one thing. "Fuck me, tame me, make me yours. Adora, please, I need it so- fuck!" Adora hit something just right and Catra couldn't breathe, her whole body locking up again until the wave passed and she gulped down air. "I need you so bad. I need- I need to be yours, take me, take me, please don't stop!"

She twitched and squirmed beneath Adora, baring herself for her, she just needed-

"There she is," Adora moaned, tilting Catra's head back down to look at her, letting Catra see the molten affection in her eyes, the desire and pride. "There's my good girl." And the world was perfect. Catra moaned, there were no words, Adora was fucking her so right, Adora was proud of her. "I've kept you waiting so long, haven't I?" She leaned in to press her forehead against Catra's, swallowing her whole world in the deep, shining blue of her eyes.

So long, she's needed this for so long.

Adora shifted her tempo a little, slowing until there was no strain to it anymore, just relentless, perfect pleasure. "I'm sorry," she cooed, her hand on Catra's face sliding to the back of her neck, somehow holding her even closer, "I'll make it up to you." She started pressing harder, sending delicious shockwaves through Catra's body that had her stuttering and gasping, mourning each pull away and melting with each thrust in. "You're all mine, Catra." The hunger in Adora's molten blue flared and something wary started stirring in Catra's chest before she leaned up to kiss Catra's forehead, letting the skittish thing slide back away but leaving her lips feeling needy as the whimpers spilling from them. "My needy little Kitten."

Her grip on the back of Catra's neck tightened and she let Adora guide her, presenting one of her ears. "And no one," she whispered into it, pressing a kiss at its base, "will ever take my Kitten from me again." Adora's mouth closed around the tip of Catra's ear, teeth ever so gently tugging at it just right to draw another grateful sob out of her, words caught and slurred into meaninglessness as they tried to tumble out of her.

Adora released her ear, the hungry growl low and pleased as she tilted Catra's head back towards her, letting Catra see the fierce smile on her face. "Now, I think I told you to do something earlier." She did? "Won't you be good for me, Catra?" Yes, she wanted to be good, she needed to be good. "Hold onto me." Catra just stared for a moment. How could she do that? Adora still had her wrists- Adora's hands were on her face and in her cunt, Catra's hands were free.

She snapped her arms down, wrapping them around Adora's shoulders to pull her closer, digging her fingers into the back of her jacket, burying her face in Adora's shoulder and words started working again.

"Fuck, oh Moons, fuck, I needed this," she babbled, nuzzling in underneath Adora's jacket to wrap herself in Adora's warmth and scent. "Thank you. Adora-" she lost her words to more heavy waves of pleasure, leaving Catra panting and shivering around her for a long moment. "Adora- so good- fuck, Adora." Her name was drawn out in bliss, Catra couldn't catch her breath, and she didn't want to, she never wanted Adora to stop. "Wanna be your Kitten," she gasped and Adora groaned like Catra had when Adora pressed down on her core, like Catra just gave her a pure shot of Rightness. "Your good Kitten, all yours," she promised, baring her teeth against Adora's shoulder, she wanted to bite her, mark her, prove it.

"So good for me," Adora sighed, "I've got you." The urgency softened as Adora nuzzled against the top of Catra's head, and another long moan spilled from Catra as her body relaxed into Adora's embrace at last. "That's it, Kitten, feel good for me." Catra let the pleasure wash over her, sinking deep into it, seeking more instead of trying to surface, and her hips twitched. This time she managed to synch her movements to Adora's pace, rocking her hips against her hand, panting through her moans into Adora's shoulder. Adora leaned heavier against her, the pressure driving her even deeper. "Doesn't it feel so good to let me fuck you?"

She pressed more kisses to the top of Catra's head, and it did, she was cradled in a sea of pleasure, safe and owned.

"Yes, yes, don't stop," she groaned, kissing and licking at Adora's shoulder through her shirt, the separation a slight irritant, but one that faded to nothing as her teeth scraped over the fabric and Adora gasped. "Don't ever stop," Catra pleaded and Adora squeezed her closer.

"Moons, I can't believe how wet you are for me," Adora cooed, that hypnotic note entering her voice again, "It's so easy to fuck you like this." Catra sobbed into her shoulder, overwhelmed in the best possible way, clinging tighter. "That's it," Adora assured her, "hold on, I've got you. You're so worth it." Adora threaded her fingers through Catra's mane again, gently scratching behind her ear, holding her like she's something precious. "Just let me play with this pretty cunt, Kitten." Catra whined, rocking her hips harder, her fangs pressing against Adora's shoulder, she needed it. "I'll make you cum so hard, I promise."

A high pitched noise forced its way out of Catra, she couldn't tell if there would be any difference between this and cumming. Part of her didn't even want to, just wanted to float in this forever.

Another guttural growl rippled through Adora's chest, "I'm gonna carry you out of here." Adora upped the pace, the waves coming rougher, "you're not gonna be able to walk," she promised and Catra whimpered, the overwhelming sensation edging closer to being unpleasant, and Adora slowed back down, like she knew exactly how to keep Catra in the sweet spot. "You're mine, Kitten," she snarled, "nobody else can have you." Her hand on the back of Catra's neck shifted down beneath her, pulling Catra up to squeeze her against Adora's chest. "This is mine, got it?" She kept on Catra's clit for a few long moments, driving her higher and higher.

"Yes," Catra gasped, "all yours, all yours," her eyes rolled back, almost cresting the wave before Adora went back to fucking her properly, "Adora, Adora," she chanted, no room for anything else in her mind as Adora held her right at the edge. Her teeth itched, she wanted- she needed- to mark her, forgetting to breathe for a long moment.

She gasped, her fangs pressing hard against Adora's shoulder, "so close- Adora, I need to-" her teeth slid and she felt fabric split beneath them, leaving Catra to pant desperately against her.

"Do it," Adora gasped, sounding as desperate for it as Catra felt as her fingers found a spot that sent so much warmth through Catra that it had her moaning wordlessly again, "bite me, I'm yours." Catra gasped, her mouth dropping open wide against Adora's shoulder, fangs slicing through her shirt to glide along warm, soft, flushed skin. "Good girl," Adora praised her, "such a good Kitten for me, I want it, mark me, Catra." Catra had no name for the grateful noise that bubbled up out of her before her jaws snapped shut, the copper tang of blood hitting just before Adora's insistent fingers drove her over the edge.

Catra's whole body started to ripple as her world went white, her only anchors Adora's embrace and the firm hold her teeth had on Adora's shoulder. She couldn't think, she couldn't see, she could hear Adora babbling, the praise driving her even higher until her body finally gave out and it felt like every night of sleep she'd ever missed came to collect at once, the sound of Adora moaning her name echoing into the dark as the world faded away.

—

Catra was floating, somewhere out in a sea of Adora that she never wanted to leave.

What just happened? Who cares, not Catra.

Where the fuck had Adora picked all that up? She could not give a singular shit.

Wasn't she supposed to be smarter than this? She was so fucking happy she clearly wasn't.

She had Adora's arms around her, Adora's breath against her ear, Adora's voice in her head, Adora's fingers inside of her, and some vague, far removed part of her was pretty sure she just made Adora join in on the best orgasm of Catra's life by biting. This was everything Catra wanted and if she opened her eyes it was gonna turn out to be a dream, so she was staying up on cloud nine where she could purr loud enough it felt like the whole world was rumbling and listen to the way Adora cooed at her for it as long as she possibly could.

She felt Adora's weight against her side shift, pulling away the slightest amount, and whined for her to come back. Adora chuckled and- because she's the worst- drew her fingers out, making a whimpering little noise force its way out of Catra's chest. Catra tried to remember how her muscles were supposed to work, but Adora shushed her in that same way she had before she'd decided to start rocking Catra's entire world on her wrist and she couldn't help but melt.

She didn't have to wait long for the world to line up properly again; Adora gathered Catra up in her arms, cradling Catra's head while she shifted to lay her back down across her lap. Gentle hands carded through her hair, brushing it away from her face before familiar calloused fingers started brushing along her temple, drawing a contented sigh through her purring.

“You did such a good job,” Adora’s voice drifted to her through the hazy bliss starting to take hold again. One of her hands left its place to reach down and squeeze Catra’s shoulder. “Thank you,” she said it low and awestruck, like Catra had been the one to utterly rock her world instead of the other way around.

Catra’s eyes started to open, but Adora softly rested her fingers over them, “not yet,” she breathed, “just a little longer.” Catra considered it for a long moment, eventually nodding as much as she was able with her whole body feeling boneless like this. “Good girl, Catra,” Catra couldn’t help the pleased shiver that shot through her at that.

Adora’s hand over her face slid to scratch at the base of Catra’s ear and her purr rumbled even louder as Adora’s other hand traced down to rest on her exposed belly, her shirt rucked up at some point while Adora had been giving Catra what she needed that she couldn’t have bothered to keep track of or even care about as Adora started rubbing, fingers carding through her fur. “I’ll take care of you.”

Adora let her luxuriate in that for what felt like hours, somehow both completely exposed and completely at ease. “How’s your back?” Her back? Catra almost started to open her eyes again, but a gentle phantom weight across them reminded her not to. She let out a creaking noise that she hoped Adora would understand. “The floor here’s not exactly soft, and you’ve been rocking against it. Does your back hurt at all?” Right, it was just stone down there, wasn’t it?

Catra tried to focus her mind in on checking if there was anything that hurt through the pleasant full-body tingles. Adora giggled somewhere above her, but she eventually managed to feel a stiffness settling in along her shoulder blades, where she’d rested her weight while grinding against Adora’s thigh.

“Lil’ bit, sh’lders,” she slurred out, tilting her head to chase Adora’s hand as it started drawing away from her ear. “C’m baaaack.”

“I’m here,” Adora assured her, giving her a pat on the head, “I just need to turn you over so I can help.” Catra begrudgingly allowed herself to be lifted again, turning over and burying her face in Adora’s stomach, wrapping her arms around her middle. Adora made a shocked little noise, going completely still in Catra’s grip for a moment before those wonderful hands came back, one resting on top of Catra’s head while the other started gently exploring down her shoulders and back.

Catra melted again once Adora found the right spot, warm fingers rubbing away the ache Catra had to concentrate to notice and leaving a much more noticeable comfort in their wake. Her tail lazily lashed side to side as she purred and nuzzled against Adora’s abs, thoroughly marking her, her arms flopping down to drape along Adora’s thighs. “Moons, Catra,” Adora breathed, that awestruck tone back in her voice.

Adora sounded like that over her. Everything was right with the world. In fact, Catra was going to find some way to record her doing that so she could replay it every time she had a bad day. Did she have anything on her she could do that with? She’d been planning on getting laid, so probably not. Oh well.

A little bit after the ache was completely gone, Adora's hand on Catra's head slid down to gently toy with her ear again, tracing the outer edge of it and occasionally stopping at the base to give her a scratch. Her other hand started dragging up and down Catra's back, fingers splayed, with just that right level of pressure years of warning growls and flashed claws had taught her. Catra never, ever wanted to wake up.

"We're a mess," Adora mused, drawing her hand back and Catra chased it, taking her face out from Adora's belly. Her hand slid into the opening to cup her face, fingers slowly petting through the tuft on the side of Catra's head. Her eyes started opening again and this time she let them, blinking a couple times before Adora's face came into focus.

She looked… enraptured. Like she'd found something precious and holy, like she couldn't believe she was allowed to touch her, to even see her. Those blue eyes deep and so, so soft.

Catra's mouth opened, she wanted to say something, so many things.

"...Hey," she ended up drawling, slow, dizzy, still thick with how good everything felt. Adora's expression twitched into a smile.

"Hey," she shot back, the grin shifting cocky. Part of Catra felt like she'd just lost a contest and wanted to get indignant, but the rest of her was still sitting quite firmly in the 'getting pet after being fucked through the floor' zone, so she decided she'd let Adora have that one.

"Never call me that again," she threw out carelessly, nuzzling into Adora's hand.

"I'm not dumb enough to try," she giggled- and wasn't that a noise?- a mischievous glint in her eye, "not unless we do this again." Adora could call her whatever the fuck she wanted when she was fucking her that good.

There was a noise happening somewhere, nearly drowned out in Catra's own head by the purr still rolling through her, but she elected to ignore it, instead letting her eyes drift closed again.

Then Adora went stiff beneath her. An alarm bell started ringing in the back of Catra's head, but Adora was there, she said she'd take care of her. "Shit, your tights- How're we-" Adora murmured, whatever about quite firmly not Catra's problem. "...Oh, she's not gonna like this."

That sounded like it might be her problem. Her eyes blinked open again as Adora's hand on her face slipped away. Her brow was furrowed as she gathered Catra up in her arms again, one hand sliding beneath her thighs while the other went across her chest. "Wrap your arms around my shoulders," she said urgently, setting more alarms off in Catra's head. She blinked again and more of the pleasant buzzing in her mind and body slipped away, but she still reached up to lock her hands around her.

Adora carefully turned her over before standing, cradling Catra against her chest as she carried her. Catra's tail lashed at the reminder of Adora's strength, the feeling of her muscles tensing around her, but it wasn't enough to keep more of the buzz from drifting away. Which meant she was unfortunately aware which direction Adora started walking in.

“What are you doing?” She forced it to come out with some of the proper bite and Adora winced.

“Somebody’s coming,” Adora murmured back shamefully, as she rightly should, considering she was walking towards the water. “They’re gonna catch us.” Catra’s claws still weren’t coming out for some reason, and that was the only reason Adora got to keep her jacket and the back of her neck intact with how tightly she gripped them.

Shit, shit, what was she- did she just spend the last however the fuck long blissed out in her arch-enemy’s lap!? She barely had any time left to contemplate that as Adora took a step out into the pool and they both found that first step was much deeper down than it looked.

Adora let out an alarmed noise and Catra screamed as they pitched forward. Adora turned around, tucking Catra in against her chest and the small part of her that was paying attention to the barrage of moonlight and flowers still emanating from Catra’s chest crooned about how Adora was just trying to look out for her.

Yeah, well Adora could look out for her by letting her go because she was now a traitor twice over. Adora hit the water first and let her grip go loose, sinking beneath the surface when the water rushed back in and letting it push Catra up without her.

Catra was changing her fucking mind. How dare Adora abandon her like this? She flailed for a moment before muscle memory kicked in and she made for the wall, latching onto it and scrabbling out of the water. Adora’s head breached the surface a second later, grinning sheepishly at the glare Catra leveled at her.

“Adora!” Glimmer’s voice sounded from somewhere outside the entrance and Catra’s head whipped around. Oh Moons, she couldn’t let the Princesses see her like- she froze, slowly turning back to Adora, who shrugged helplessly, treading water. Oh, that’s what the stupid, sappy part of her had understood. She still hissed at her, making Adora duck her head a little, get water up her nose, and then sputter as she reeled back.

“This isn’t over,” Catra snarled, glaring at her.

“Really?” Adora’s eyes lit up, making Catra’s brain stutter to a halt.

“I’m- n-ye-” she floundered for a moment, her face heating up. “You’re an idiot!” She turned and booked it out as fast as she could, not even giving Sparkles a second glance as she rushed past her.

Well, that had been a disaster. She just had to hope the actual mission went properly.

“So, turns out it actually is a First Ones device, and its security system is very strong. ” A thoroughly singed around the edges Scorpia offered, at the head of an even more thoroughly battered exploration team and carrying an unconscious Entrapta against her chest.

Entrapta snored loud enough that it almost drowned out the string of swearing Catra let loose on them all, and Catra made the conscious decision to count what happened with Adora as at least one objective accomplished.

Because she needed one win today, and no other reason.

She definitely wasn't considering using those spy drones to try and just set up a booty call like she should have done in the first place.

Adora's whole world was still shaking. She couldn't believe she'd actually gotten to do that, hadn't even realized she'd wanted to do that quite so badly.

So she was just going to float there for a while longer, waiting for her... everything, to realign itself.

The water was nice beneath her. Nowhere near as nice as Catra- squirming, moaning, soft and hot and wet and sharp, squeezing around her fingers, biting her, cumming for her- had felt, but it was good.

Catra said it wasn't over. Granted, she said that pretty often, but she'd called her an idiot the same way she used to, exhasperated instead of hateful. So, maybe they could do this again?

She'd still run away, though.

Adora would need some warning next time, not tearing Catra's clothes off had taken way too much effort towards the end, she wasn't sure she'd have it in her again.

She took a deep breath, holding it for a moment before letting it out in an irritated shout. This wasn't fucking fair, okay? What if they never got to do this again? She just had to know better than to risk kissing her and hadn't even been able to see the cute little stripes that spanned over Catra's back, or on her hips. Catra had apparently gotten to see Adora's tits, but Adora didn't get to see hers. She totally could have touched them, but Catra had just looked so needy, and Adora had only had one free hand. How was this somehow both the best and worst day of Adora's life? It wasn't fair!

"Adora!?" Oh right, Glimmer was coming.

"In here," she called back, staring up into the darkness that swallowed the ceiling. It still took a little bit longer for her to hear Glimmer running into the room.

"Finally! I lost track of Bow somewhere and-" Glimmer paused, "what are you doing?"

"Trying to figure out how I'm supposed to be normal about anything ever again." Adora tilted her head back to look up at Glimmer on the edge of the pool.

"What're you- is that blood!?" Glimmer's whole body flickered and she stumbled backwards. Adora blinked up at her.

Oh, right, Catra's fangs, she took those pretty deep, she probably looked like a mess right now. Now that she thought to pay attention to it, her shirt was sticky with blood.

"Worth it," she muttered to herself, raising a hand to rub at where it had smeared all up the side of her neck and down to check if the bitemark was still bleeding. Nope, that had scabbed up pretty nicely. "The sword's at the bottom of this thing." She waved vaguely down with her other hand. "...If this doesn't scar, I'm gonna cry."

"What!?"

Chapter End Notes

Catra: I hate her, it's not my fault she's so hot, I just need a quick hatefuck and it'll get this out of my system and we can go back to trying to kill each other. I'll just set something up so we can get into a spar, I'll pin her and she'll melt just like she used to in training.

Adora, an hour later with a fistful of Catra's hair: "Hold still, already!"

Catra, every switch flipping so fast she nearly passes out: Oh no, I'm the sub.

-

Adora, internally: Don't kiss her, don't kiss her, if you kiss her she'll panic and run off before she's done; do you want that? Do you want to leave Catra unsatisfied? Resist, do not kiss her, RESIST!

Catra, somewhere up on cloud nine: Why isn't she kissing me right now? -Would absolutely bolt into the water herself if she did-

-

Come say hi at Makuta's Chronicle or genVicron!

Bonus: How she did that

Chapter Notes

> I actually wrote this out first because Catra's mood swings make it a little difficult to read her and I wanted to make sure it didn't look like Adora was just plowing ahead against her will, so the sex scene was going to be from Adora's POV; but that was just structurally weird because the whole rest of the fic is Catra POV.

Catra moaned and Adora froze, her mind suddenly racing, torn between apologizing and sweet cycling Moons did she just- as Catra's whole body arched up into her before she went limp, panting, her face slack and eyes dazed as Catra blearily looked up at her.

Adora's mouth was completely dry, but she had enough presence of mind to look up, glancing back to the entrance of the room and listening to make sure nobody else heard that before she remembered that Catra had been trying to tear her throat out about five seconds ago and she turned back to watch her face.

She looked… mesmerized, starting to get a little indignant about it, too, as some of the sharpness slowly made its way back into her- gorgeous- eyes and her breathing slowed. It didn't seem like that had hurt her, had she really just…

Adora leaned in a bit closer to watch her, settling her weight against what she was now very aware was Catra's hips, and gave her hair another- much gentler- tug. Catra's pupils blew out wide and she let out a low, needy mewl that if the way her eyes widened and she started tensing beneath Adora was anything to go by she had not given permission to happen. Oh, Catra really liked that.

"No you don't," she chided her, her free hand gathered up both of Catra's- with no resistance, part of Adora noted- and pinned her wrists up above her head. "Damn, Catra," a sly- though on Adora's face it probably came out closer to playful- grin spreading across her face, "and people say I'm repressed. You really are pent up, aren't you?" A touch of defiance made its way into Catra's expression while her breath caught, but she still wasn't even trying to get away; her claws weren't even out anymore.

"F-Fuck. Adora, please, just… let me go, okay?" Catra looked away, her ears twitching like she'd tried to pin them back but they kept drifting forward, showing her attention was still keenly on Adora. "If I'm pent up or not is none of your business, traitor. Now get off me." Adora crooked a brow at her, eyes flicking up to Catra's still completely relaxed hands. What was it Catra had said, 'that's why I'm here' ?

"I dunno, you kinda made it my business when you set all this up to make it my problem." She met Catra's gaze again, noting how her pupils were still blown out, her breathing unsteady. “I might let go of you,” Adora allowed, narrowing her own eyes, “but just because I’ve never done this before, and I’m probably gonna need a hand free.” Catra gasped again and her hips twitched beneath her, her eyes sparking the way they used to when she dared Adora to do something stupid. It took everything she had not to shiver, but she couldn’t keep the heat quickly spreading through her out of her voice, “but you’re staying right here, got it?” Catra’s chin dipped before she seemed to catch herself and freeze.

Adora leaned in closer, “I’ve finally found your off switch,” she gave Catra’s mane another gentle tug, making her squirm, her eyelids fluttering, “so you’re going to keep your hands where I can see them.”

Adora hesitated a moment longer, this was a terrible idea, but she released Catra’s hands, placing her own down next to where her thighs were bracketing Catra’s waist, and waited.

Catra didn’t move, still just looking up at her like she wasn’t sure whether to be confused, eager, or furious.

Adora swallowed, resting her weight on her hand as she shifted off of Catra’s hips, putting herself on all fours above her and sliding a leg between Catra’s thighs. “Now, I’m gonna help you fix this, and all you have to do to make me stop is not move.” Once she’d settled into her new position she lifted her hand to put it on Catra’s waist, squeezing gently a moment before she slid it around to the small of her back, just above her tail, and pulled her hips up, pressing Catra’s crotch to the tensed ridge of Adora’s thigh. Catra gasped, her face twisting with something desperate and surprised.

The new position forced Adora to lean in closer, almost resting her forehead against Catra’s as she leaned her weight on her elbows, her hand in Catra’s hair almost cradling her head now. Catra’s head moved forward to close the gap and Adora couldn’t keep from gasping, her body starting to tremble as she held herself above her. She couldn’t kiss her, there was a tension in the air right now and they were on the edge of breaking it, she had to make it break the right way. Doing the wrong thing right now would make Catra bolt, and she had apparently set this up to get laid, so. “Now be a good girl,” Adora murmured, keeping her eyes locked on Catra’s, “and grind for me. ”

Catra moaned again, her hips starting to work against her thigh and all the air left Adora’s lungs at once in a low groan. Catra’s head fell back, her eyes fluttering closed- Adora’s lungs were supposed to be able to take in air too, right? How did that work, again? “Fuck, Catra,” she gasped once she remembered how to do that, “that’s it.”

She couldn’t kiss her, this was just physical for Catra, if she kissed her that would get feelings involved, and if Adora spooked her now she would never be able to live with herself. She could not kiss those lips no matter how tempting they looked, gently parted as more of the hottest noises Adora had ever heard spilled from her, no matter how Catra’s tail wound its way around the arm holding her up, no matter how all of Adora’s emotions were melting together in her chest and screaming to take her lips. Fuck, she could feel something warm and wet spreading across the thigh Catra was grinding on already, she must be soaked. Adora could not afford to fuck this up. Do not kiss her.

Her hand in Catra's hair relaxed, cradling her head properly now and gently scratching at her scalp as Adora angled Catra's face away, removing some of the temptation. But that just introduced a new one as the arch of her neck was exposed. She could kiss that, right? That was a sexy thing to do.

Adora leaned in to start tailing kisses up and down Catra's throat, drawing a decadent sigh from her that was going right on Adora's list of favourite sounds in the whole world. "Good girl," she murmured against Catra's neck, nuzzling in against the underside of her jaw, reveling in the softness of Catra's fur against her skin.

She waited a moment longer for Catra to settle into a rhythm before she started helping her, Adora's hand on the small of her back pulling her more firmly along each grind, drawing more delicious noises out of Catra. Moons, having Catra pressed against her like this, bucking and moaning beneath her, warm and needy and so fucking soft to the touch, was even better than Adora had ever dared to imagine. "You're gonna be such a good girl for me, right?" She gave Catra a gentle nip at the back of her jaw

"Guh- good girl…" Catra mewled, making Adora shiver above her, "yes, I want-" Catra's teeth snapped shut so hard it sounded like it hurt and she made a noise that might have been a denial if it didn't trail off into a needy whine, but she didn't stop grinding.

"It's okay," Adora murmured, kissing up to the base of Catra's ear, "I know you will." She leaned forward a bit more to nip at the top of it, shifting the angle of her thigh to better press against Catra's clit. "Just follow my lead," she growled, pressing Catra's hips up and holding for a moment to keep the pressure up.

"Ador- aah!" Catra yowled, grinding up against her faster, desperately, her head pitching forward into Adora's shoulder. Adora glanced up, Catra's hands were still right where she'd left them, and she smiled, shifting back again. Catra whined louder at the loss of the direct focus and Adora started tugging and pushing at the small of her back again to help her keep grinding, the whine melted into breathless moaning.

"I've got you," Adora whispered, pressing a kiss to Catra's cheek, "just let go, I'll take good care of you, I promise."

"I- I need- " Catra's voice choked off into a frustrated groan and she weakly shook her head, but her grinding intensified, letting Adora know exactly what she needed.

Adora leaned back away, letting her get a good look at Catra splayed out beneath her, her top half practically melted into a blissful puddle while her hips arched up against Adora's thigh, eyes so needy and beautiful. Fuck, she wished she'd seen this coming, she'd have prepared something for her. She wanted to take and hold and rail Catra within an inch of her life, but right now they only had so much time. Someone was going to come looking for them eventually; she couldn't even risk taking Catra's shirt off here. Catra tossed her head back, moaning and squirming.

"You're so fucking beautiful," Adora breathed, completely awestruck as she lowered Catra's hips back down, stretching out over her to settle draped against Catra's side so she could watch her face as Catra pouted and whined at the loss of stimulation. Her hand on Catra's back dragged across to her side, leaving her after a caress over the swell of her hip to slide her fingers along Catra's soft tail wrapped around her arm as she freed it, then brought it back down to settle on Catra's belly, just above her waistband, and pressed down.

Catra's breath stuttered around a needy whimper, her hips trying to buck up only to be held in place by Adora's hand, and the whimper escalated into an open-mouthed moan, her eyes fluttering open even as they rolled back in her head a little. "Oh, Catra," Adora didn't even try to tamp down the moan that drew out of her in response, "you feel so good." She pushed down, soft, dense fur parting around her fingers as they slipped beneath Catra's tights to press against her mound; a tease, but even if they didn't have much time, Adora was going to milk every second they had for everything she could.

Catra's entire body jolted, her legs kicking out for a moment before pressing together and then falling apart again, her hands still held over her head balling into fists, her chest arching up off the floor as she silently gasped, her tail thumping against the ground.

Adora waited for her to start untensing before she pressed another kiss to her cheek, "keep your legs open for me," she instructed, keeping firm, insistent pressure on as her fingers slid further down beneath Catra's underwear to cup her core, gently squeezing her clit between her fingertips on the way down.

"Oh, fffffuck," Catra hissed, her hips pressing up into Adora's touch, her head lolling back. Adora licked her lips, Catra was beyond wet, hot, pulsing and slippery beneath Adora's hand. She had to take a deep breath to keep herself from just going full force right away.

"Fuck, you're soaked, " she growled, letting some of the pressure off so she could slide her fingers up and down the lips of Catra's cunt, caressing her and relishing in how slick she was. "So needy for me." She pressed another flurry of kisses to the side of Catra's neck, "good. You can move your hands now, hold onto me." She slid two of her teasing fingers between Catra's lips, just ghosting over her entrance. "Tell me when you're ready."

A strange look passed over Catra's face, her eyes screwing shut but her mouth dropping open to let out another long moan. Her eyes slitted open after a moment, pupils still wide as she turned her head to look at Adora again.

"I'm-" she started in a breathy moan before a growl shuddered through her and she grit her teeth again, the set of her brow softening. " Adora- " she whined, her eyes pleading with her, but Adora didn't move, feeling a bit of a grin stealing across her face. "I'm- I- I can't, Adora," she ground down against Adora's hand, but she just adjusted to keep from pressing into her.

"Shh, it's alright," Adora cooed in her ear and Catra froze, her tail fluffing up. She gave her a bit more pressure, fingers circling around the edge of Catra's entrance- one right move away from just slipping inside- and drawing a long, absolutely obscene moan from her. "I know you need to play hissy kitty," Adora teased her, giving Catra one last gentle push to make sure she was ready and finding her so soft and open for Adora's fingers. She slid both her fingers inside all at once, unable to keep herself from tensing, wanting to pull Catra closer, feel her deeper, take her. "But that's okay," she groaned as Catra roared for her, holding her fingers deep, "you don't want to give up, do you?" Catra gasped, weakly shaking her head.

“You need me to earn it, to beat you, take you. Show you how much I want you.” Catra grit her teeth but nodded fast, her whole body shaking, her tail lashing against the ground.

Something needy and primal took a hold of Adora and she growled, “you want to be tamed. ” Catra’s whole body locked up, her pussy squeezing down on Adora’s fingers, her legs opening wider as she took in a desperate gasp. Adora waited a moment for Catra to start gathering herself, like she was waiting for an answer, but as soon as Catra started to cast her a weak glare she deployed a trick she’d learned to pull off on herself.

“I do not nee- wha- huh!? ” Adora rocked her hand back and forth, steady, hard, each forward push fucking Catra as deep as she could reach, her fingers shifting and hooking to find her sweet spots, while each pull back made them drag against Catra’s insides and the base of them press and rub against her clit. As Catra howled and shuddered beneath her, Adora was a little surprised to find this was easier to do to someone else rather than herself, she had a much better angle to work with draped over Catra’s side like this.

“I can do that,” she promised breathlessly, her hand on the back of Catra’s head shifting to cradle her face, fingers threading through those adorable grey tufts that were just as soft as she’d always imagined they’d be, “I can give you everything you need. ”

“Ah! Oh, Moons, fuck- ADORA! ” Catra screamed, her legs twitching like she was going to close them before she spread herself open wider, a couple attempts at grinding to Adora’s rhythm starting then stopping as guttural, primal sounds forced their way out of her, her insides squeezing and releasing around Adora’s fingers.

Adora tilted Catra’s head back, leaning in to firmly bite at the side of her neck, holding long enough to leave a map of her teeth behind before she pulled back, remembering they probably shouldn’t be leaving visible marks on each other. Then she pushed deep into Catra again and it became very hard to feel anything but fiercely proud of it. Her fur would hide it, anyway.

“I’ll make you mine, ” Adora murmured, leaning back in to press soft kisses around the bitemark.

“ Yesss, ” Catra hissed, arching against her again, “fuck, Adora, please, ” she practically sobbed out, sending more pulses of heat flowing through Adora with every desperate, pleasured noise she made. Adora lifted herself just a little to watch as Catra came undone under her touch. “Fuck me, tame me, make me yours. Adora please, I need it so- fuck! ” Catra’s body surged and locked up for a moment, her mouth hanging open before she took in a sharp gasp and found her voice again. “I need you so bad. I need- I need to be yours, take me, take me please, don’t stop! ”

“There she is,” Adora moaned, tilting Catra’s head back down to watch her face, dreamy, flushed and needy and so, so gorgeous. “There’s my good girl,” Catra shivered, letting out another wordless moan as Adora continued to relentlessly fingerfuck her, affection, desire and triumph all mixing in her chest. “I’ve kept you waiting so long, haven’t I?” She leaned back in, resting her forehead against Catra’s.

She shifted her tempo until some of the strain left Catra's voice, her moans smoothing out a little. "I'm sorry," she cooed, her hand on Catra's cheek sliding around the back of her neck to cradle her close. "I'll make it up to you." She increased the force of her rocking until Catra's voice caught and stuttered, making her tense as Adora withdrew and fall apart under her all over again when she pushed back in. "You're all mine." The thought brought a hungry rumble back to Adora's voice and she had to pull away to kiss Catra's forehead so she wouldn't take her lips. Catra moaned and whimpered, wordlessly begging as she tilted her head up like she was trying to follow her. "My needy little Kitten."

Her grip on the back of Catra's neck tightened possessively, tilting her head to present one of her ears for Adora to whisper into. "And no one," she pressed a kiss to the base of it, "will ever take my Kitten from me again." She took the tip of it between her teeth, carefully tugging it and making Catra let out another moaning sob, her pleading halfway to words again.

Adora released her ear, growling low, and drawing back to watch her face again. "Now, I think I told you to do something earlier. Won't you be good for me, Catra?" She smiled, watching Catra's dazed eyes as she tried to focus on Adora's words through the hard, steady fucking she's giving her. "Hold onto me."

It still took a second longer, but once Catra seemed to register the words her arms came down in an instant, wrapping around Adora's shoulders to cling to her back, fingers digging into her jacket as Catra tried to squeeze herself closer, burying her face into Adora's shoulder.

"Fuck, oh Moons, fuck, I needed this," Catra babbled into her jacket, nosing underneath it, "thank you. Adora-" she panted and shuddered, the hot breath against her neck and the feeling of Catra's pussy squeezing and quivering around her fingers making Adora shiver. "Adora- so good- fuck, Adora, " Adora could go deaf now, she got to hear Catra say her name like that, long and breathy and so fucking blissed out and she can't think of anything else worth hearing, "wanna be your Kitten," Catra gasped and Adora couldn't stop the groan that forced its way out of her, "your good Kitten, all yours. " She bared her teeth against Adora's shoulder and she had to focus so fucking hard not to let the rhythm of her fingers hitch.

"So good for me. I've got you," Adora sighed, nuzzling against the top of Catra's head and delighting in the way Catra relaxed at that, another long, decadent moan coming out of her. "That's it, Kitten, feel good for me." Catra's hips twitched for a second, her insides fluttering around Adora's fingers before Catra finally managed to start moving in tandem with her, still panting against Adora's neck. Adora was panting hard now, too; between the effort of keeping up her almost punishing pace and the heat pulsing harder and harder through her body it was impossible not to. "Doesn't it feel so good to let me fuck you?" She pressed a flurry of kisses to the top of Catra's head to keep the impulse to drag her out from Adora's shoulder to take her lips at bay.

"Yes, yes, don't stop," Catra babbled, starting to kiss, lick, and nip at Adora's shoulder, making her shiver and gasp, " don't ever stop. " Adora had no intention to, squeezing her closer as she luxuriated in it all.

“Moons, I can’t believe how wet you are for me,” she cooed, “it’s so easy to fuck you like this.” Catra clung to her tighter, another sobbing moan coming from her. “That’s it, hold on, I’ve got you. You’re so worth it.” Adora threaded her fingers through Catra’s hair again to gently scratch at the base of her ear. “Just let me play with this pretty cunt, Kitten.” Catra whined, her fangs pressing against Adora’s collarbone and Adora moaned, the heat pulsing through her blazing even higher. “I’ll make you cum so hard, I promise.” Catra keened, her insides squeezing down on Adora’s fingers for a long moment.

With how completely Catra had let herself go, Adora wasn’t entirely sure why she hadn’t cum already- or if she hadn’t already cum and just been too far gone already for Adora to tell- but there was a part of her that was still very aware that this was probably all going to end as soon as Catra got off and she didn’t want to stop yet, so she wasn’t exactly complaining.

She was still keeping an ear out for any of the others coming to crash the party, but she knew by the time she heard them it would be too late anyway, and she had no intention of leaving Catra wanting.

The idea of being interrupted, of something making them stop, made that primal something in Adora’s chest surge again and she growled. “I’m gonna carry you out of here,” she upped the pace for a moment, “you’re not gonna be able to walk, ” Catra whimpered and Adora forced her tempo back down, not wanting to overstimulate her this far down the line. “You’re mine, Kitten. Nobody else can have you.” Her hand on the back of Catra’s neck slid down under her, pulling her up against Adora’s chest. “This is mine, got it?” She gave Catra a few solid seconds of grinding against her clit.

“Yes,” Catra gasped, “all yours, all yours, Adora, Adora, ” she started chanting her name as Adora went back to fucking her properly. Adora’s skin was starting to itch, she probably needed to wrap this up before she really lost it and just started tearing their clothes off, possible witnesses be damned.

Catra took in a sharp, harsh breath, her fangs pressed hard against Adora’s shoulder, “so close- Adora, I need to-” those wonderful teeth slid and she heard fabric split.

Fuck witnesses.

“Do it,” Adora gasped, her hips twitching, her fingers seeking out a sweet spot that made Catra moan and shudder especially soft, and sticking to it. “Bite me, I’m yours. ” Catra gasped, her mouth dropping open wide against Adora’s shoulder. “Good girl, such a good Kitten for me, I want it, mark me, Catra. ” Catra made a broken little noise, a sob of relief and need before her jaw snapped shut and Catra’s entire body started to ripple against Adora, moaning high and rough into her skin.

Adora’s world sparked and caught fire, the point of pain setting off all the heat that had been gathering under her skin, she forced herself to keep fucking Catra in time with the ripples of her cunt, keeping her up as long as she could manage, but that was the extent of her awareness of the world. Everything was Catra, and fangs, and squeezing wet heat, and it all felt so good. “Good girl, such a good girl, cum for me, you feel so fucking good,” she babbled, “you’re incredible, Catra, you’re perfect, Catra! ”

End Notes

Come say hi at Makuta's Chronicle or genVicron!

Please drop by the Archive and comment to let the creator know if you enjoyed their work!