If You Were Less Boring Your Daughter Wouldn't Be Pregnant

by DraceDomino

Summary

Queen Angella is droning on and on and on during one of the daily meetings, and while Adora struggles to stay awake she decides to entertain herself in a way we can all relate to: daydreaming about fucking Glimmer. Who hasn't been there?

Thing is, unlike MOST of us, Adora doesn't know she has a magical ability to control other people's minds with her horny daydreams. As a result, poor Glimmer is forced to sit there vividly imagining everything Adora wants to do to her, up until she can't take it anymore.

If You Were Less Boring Your Daughter Wouldn't Be Pregnant
Chapter One
-by Drace Domino

Adora sighed, and relaxed even deeper into the embrace of her seat at the Princess Council table. Normally, she would've been at full attention during one of the meetings with Queen Angela and the other princesses, but then...normally, those meetings were about taking it to the Horde. They were about smashing Horde bots, smacking Scorpia's tits back down, and sending Catra crying home to Hordak with a big, red handprint on her tight little ass. Those were the kind of meetings that Adora could get behind - the ones primarily based around roughing up her ex, with a few liberal doses of everyone in attendance talking about how fucking amazing She-Ra was.

But this? This meeting was as dull as they came.

"Furthermore, if we cancel the plans for the Bright Moon Flower Festival, it will give us more to spend on troop placement," Queen Angela had been droning on like that for what felt like hours. There was more to running a kingdom than flying around and being a hot older woman, apparently, and that afternoon she seemed determined to drag the rest of the princesses into the boring muck with her. It was all talk of budgets and finance, troop placement in the most obscure places of Etheria, and only every now and again did things get interesting when Angela grew impatient. "GLIM-MAH! Are you paying attention, dear?"

"Hnnn---whuzzat?!" Glimmer lifted her head from her hand, eyes snapping open as she looked around the table. "What?! Yes! I'm awake! I'm...definitely awake, Mom!"

Queen Angela merely pinched the bridge of her nose, sighed, and then went right back to droning on. While she did so, Adora took the time to gaze across the table at all the faces collected before them - Mermista and Perfuma, Spinerella and Netossa, even the head of the guard whom Adora had never been properly introduced to and still didn't know her name. It was a council attended by the very beast they had, and there they were...wasting their time listening to how much money Perfuma could save them if they simply moved the Bright Moon Flower Festival closer to her territory.

Needless to say, it wasn't long before Adora's mind started to wander and her attention began to drift. It was a particularly bad afternoon for that, considering that no more than six hours ago the princesses had an early morning scrap with a small group of Horde soldiers, Catra among them. Those little skirmishes with her ex always managed to get Adora riled up, and since it took place so early in the day she still didn't have an opportunity to relieve some of that tension. The evidence of that was tucked tightly within the confines of her tight-fitting pants - which by that point, had been bulging at the front with a constant state of arousal. Adora's cock had been rock hard ever since she managed to slam Catra through a table just hours ago, and if she couldn't satisfy herself with a bit of personal time, some casual fantasizing would have to suffice. If nothing else, it would make sure that when she did manage to wrap her hand around her heroic dick just a few hours later that her eventual release would be all the more exciting.

It wasn't often that she found herself daydreaming in the midst of a Princess Council meeting, but then...it wasn't often that they were this tedious. Idly, her eyes drifted once more across the attendants, and she pondered each one with a gentle nibble on her bottom lip. Who would she fantasize about this afternoon? Queen Angela herself was always a fine option, but usually she acted in a much more...badass, sexy fashion. It was easy to get off on thoughts of her when she was flying all over the place bossing people around and yelling at her daughter, but the woman that sat at the head of the table droning on was a far cry from that hot bitch. Mermista or Perfuma? It was always hard for Adora to dream about fucking them without thinking about Princess Entrapta - the sexy little piece of nerd ass that defected.

Spinerella and Netossa? She had just masturbated last night while thinking about her cock throbbing in between their scissoring pussies. And as for the captain of the guard, well...it just seemed downright rude to fantasize about fucking a woman whose name she didn't know.

That just left Princess Glimmer, and Adora was quite fine with that resolution. While Angela went on and on, Adora's eyes danced to the other end of the table and she set her gaze upon Glimmer, sitting there with a face of faux-attention and a passive smile on her face. The chubby younger woman caught Adora's eye from the very first day they met, with those curvy hips and that wonderfully soft, tempting backside. She had a thicker frame that wouldn't have been tolerated in the Horde recruits, and that aspect of the pampered princess really did it for Adora. From the chubby cheeks to the plump breasts, to the glorious ass and the outright breeding hips. Glimmer was something she'd never seen before her life in Bright Moon, and as such she had no lack of fantasies to inflict upon her.

But right then and there, with a tiny smile creaking to the corner of her lips and her brow lifting idly, Adora couldn't help but think...how fun would it be to grab Glimmer by that sparkly pink hair and give her the sloppiest, nastiest, wettest facefuck of her life?

From her position across the table, Glimmer blushed, and she didn't know why. An errant thought popped into her mind that she couldn't quite track the origin of, and it certainly wasn't one that she'd ever had before. For some strange, inexplicable reason as she sat there listening to her mother ramble her mind chirped up with a random observation - and as soon as she had it, Glimmer's thighs pressed together in a sudden surge of arousal that wasn't there a second ago.

"I want Adora to facefuck me," Glimmer thought to herself, as surprised as anyone could be by the fact. It was the first time she'd ever given anything more than a passing thought to spending intimate time with her blonde friend, but there during the meeting the image that entered her mind was so...so visceral. She could practically feel fingers tighten within her hair and her nose lunge against the other girl's lap. She could feel her throat constrict as if it had just been stuffed with the massive, hung cock of her dear friend. She could even almost taste it on her tongue - even though she had no idea just what it would've actually tasted like. "Ohh goodness, I hope she makes it as sloppy as she can!"

Those thoughts continued to dance through Glimmer's mind as her cheeks continued to darken and her thighs kept grinding together. Thoughts of what it would feel like when Adora plucked her thick and throbbing dick from those plump lips, only to swing her prick from side to side and slap her with it. The sting of impact on her cheeks would come along with wet streaks of spit lashing over her cheeks, and while Glimmer would gasp and groan Adora would paint her face with the saliva drawn from her throat. Her eyes would be forced half-closed as spit clung to her lashes, the slippery mess would drip down her cheeks and slither its way between her cleavage, and the entire time she'd be hanging her mouth open wide - tongue outstretched, voice only offered in whimpers, endlessly desperate for another taste.

All of those thoughts entered Glimmer's mind in rapid order, forcing the girl to sink her teeth against her lower lip and draw in deep, patient breaths, doing her absolute best to stay focused despite an unexplained desire steadily rushing within her.

Meanwhile, Adora's mind was already spinning elsewhere. She kept her focus on Glimmer for now - after all, the princess had already done such fine work getting her massive cock nice and messy throughout the course of that rough deepthroat. She imagined pulling Glimmer's mouth off her prick with a fierce yank of the girl's hair, only to spin her straight down to the floor and give a harsh, vigorous spank to that gorgeous, plump ass. Before it even stopped jiggling, Adora would drop behind her friend and snag her fingers against her tights, ripping them open in a seamless display of her natural strength even when she wasn't wrapped in She-Ra's power. With that plump pussy exposed, Adora dreamed of sinking one, two, three fingers deep within her friend's nethers...and when she could feel Glimmer pushing back against her hand in a slutty and shameless hunger for more, give her the entire fist.

As Adora sat there at the meeting table, she tightly closed a single fist, envisioning it deep inside of Glimmer. The princess would whine and whimper, wriggle around and squeeze her all the way down to the wrist, her body trying to escape that deep penetration while her slutty mind only craved more. Adora could picture Glimmer's howls, her whimpers, her desperate confessions that she couldn't handle any more...all while the fierce grip of her cunt proved otherwise. So vivid was Adora's fantasy that she even pictured Glimmer's sparkling princess nectar clinging to her wrist and dripping down when she had been properly stimulated, and in the same dancing thought she pictured sliding her own fingers underneath to catch the nectar and bring it to her lips, licking them clean and tasting just how excited she made the plump princess.

Outside of her fantasy, Adora patiently licked her lips while she envisioned it, her fist remaining locked into position like it was crafted from iron. And even though she was lost in the midst of her fantasy, she could still faintly notice that Glimmer was blushing, and she could only wonder if the princess was having her own naughty fantasy.

Probably about Bow. Meh.

"I want Adora to fist me right this second! Ohh, fuck, I want her to pound my little pussy down to her elbow!" Glimmer had zero idea where these thoughts were coming from, but as they rushed through her mind she sat there with wide, open eyes set with a distant, glassy look. Her lips were drawn into a thin smile as she completely froze, thoughts filling with every wicked little detail that across the table were being conjured by her friend. "W...What if...what if she takes out her fist and licks it clean?! What if she makes me lick it clean?! Oh god, oh god, what if she only fisted me to make sure I didn't pass out when she shoved that massive cock inside?!"

One of Glimmer's eyes twitched as she continued sitting there, doing her best to look...present, if nothing else. Queen Angela was still talking about things that Glimmer had stopped paying attention to the second these fantasies began, and even with her eyes locked on her own mother, Glimmer couldn't force the mental images from her brain. Her own thick figure writhing with Adora wrist-deep inside of her, the approving remarks from her blonde friend about what a tight royal pussy she had, and the teasing half-threats that maybe...just maybe...she could fit two fists if she was excited enough.

Glimmer's thighs had never pressed together so tight, and she lowered her hands below the table to sink her fingers against her knees in a fierce grip. It took tremendous willpower to not tease her pussy through the fabric of her outfit right then and there, so soaked and excited she was, so downright hungry for a taste of Adora's cock. Before that afternoon, Glimmer was a relatively good girl - her moments of teenage rebellion took the form of running off to fight the Horde without her mother's permission, and not shamelessly slutting it up. But that afternoon...by the blush on her cheeks and the strained sweat that was forming at her brow, Glimmer wanted nothing more than to be the biggest slut in Bright Moon, ready to worship Adora's cock and let her do whatever she desired.

And just when she was getting used to the idea of the former Horde Force Captain fisting her, another thought arrived fresh in her mind, even more vivid than the others.

Within her fantasies, Adora had already facefucked and fisted Glimmer, and both women wore the proof of those interactions. Glimmer's face was a messy display with spit smearing her cheeks, makeup running down her face, and red cheeks from where she had been cockslapped. Adora's right hand was completely coated in the girl's nectar nearly to her elbow, with a sticky, dense layer of royal squirt clinging to her flesh. In her idle afternoon fantasy, she envisioned stretching out a hand and curling her fingers underneath Glimmer's chin, just before offering the girl her pussy juice-coated thumb. While Glimmer suckled at it, nursed on it, eyes still half-lidded with spit-weighted lashes, Adora spoke in the midst of the fantasy - her voice proud of the princess' shameless behavior, but still encouraging her to take it further.

"Lean back and stretch your pussy for me, Glimmer," Adora demanded, just as she could feel Glimmer's tongue tracing her thumb. "I want a baby, and you're the breeding bitch I've decided to make one with."

"GLIM-MAH!" Queen Angela slapped a hand on the table, glaring in the direction of her daughter. The loud, unexplained yelp that the princess just made had served as a real distraction, and the queen's brow was knit in an irritated state as she glowered at her. "You're a little old to be making such disruptions, don't you think?!"

"N-No! Y-Yes! I mean...uh...I'm sorry, Mom, it won't happen again!" Glimmer barked in rapid fashion, her cheeks vibrantly red and every part of her body language tense. So much so that Queen Angela's gaze softened, and she even reached out to her daughter's seat to angle her gloved fingers below her chin. Lifting it up, she tilted her head as she studied her little girl - nose slightly scrunched up as she did so.

"I'm sorry, darling, are you all right?" She asked, the voice of a concerned mother replacing that of a strict disciplinarian. "You look stressed. We're almost finished here, you can take a much-needed rest when we're done."

The delicate fingers of Angela underneath Glimmer's chin mirrored that of the fantasy within the girl's mind, so much so that when her mother gently, comfortingly slid her thumb across her daughter's cheek that Glimmer nearly took it into her mouth. By some miracle she managed to resist sensually sucking her mother's thumb long enough for Angela to settle back down into her seat and resume the meeting, and in doing so she once more left Glimmer to stew in the midst of some deeply dynamic thoughts.

This was the most visceral and vivid fantasy of all, making Glimmer's thoughts twist in wild passion that not even the tight squeezing of her thighs could possibly hope to give her relief from. In the unexplained daydream she had just actively begged Adora to not just fuck her, but actively breed her. To give Angela a grandchild, to recklessly and shamelessly take the former Force Captain's seed in the depraved hope of getting knocked up. In her active fantasy she was stretching her legs and showcasing her pussy through the gaps Adora tore in her tights, pressing her fingers to the edges of her sensitive folds and stretching them out. Once the pink was visible, the curvy young woman would gaze up at Adora with fawning, adoring eyes - whimpering from the back of her throat in a desperate bid for what she wanted.

"Please, Adora…" Glimmer squeaked in her daydream, tears in her eyes to show just how badly she wanted this. "Please...breed me. Use me as your personal cumdump, shoot all your spunk inside of me and knock up my slutty, tight, princess pussy!"

Frankly, Glimmer couldn't imagine how her daydream self learned to talk like that, and yet there it was.

"Well now, I believe that's all we need to discuss," Queen Angela's voice broke Glimmer out of her stupor, even if it didn't do anything to quell the desire that was rushing through her. The regal older woman gazed across the table with a pleased smile on her face, just as she started to push up to her feet. “A lovely meeting, everyone, outside of a few...rude interruptions. Is there anything anyone wanted to bring to the table before we adjourn?”

“I WANT TO TALK TO ADORA,” Glimmer slammed a hand face down on the table, before realizing the scene she was making. With flushed cheeks and a tiny squeak from the back of her throat she slithered back into her seat, giving a tiny cough as she did so. “Privately. Please.”

“Sure, Glimmer, I’d be happy to stick around a bit,” Adora smiled in response, although admittedly through gritted teeth. Though the blonde was completely ignorant to the strange forces tugging at Glimmer’s mind, the last thing she truly wanted to do was keep hanging around the boring meeting. Not with her throbbing cock wedged tight against her pants, not with a burning, ceaseless hunger to get herself off. She forced a toothy grin and gave a tiny wave to the rest of the crew, offering a shy half-laugh as they all started to trot off. “Ha haaaa, all right now, good meeting everyone. Mermista. Spinerella. See you girls...latah.” She even offered them a few gentle finger guns as they slipped out of the door, all of them just naturally expecting that Glimmer and Adora were up to something. Queen Angela was the last one to leave, lingering in the doorway and gazing over her shoulder. She glowered at the often-troublemaking pair, but ultimately decided to slip outside, letting the door close behind her.

“So, Glimmer, what is it you wanted to talk to me abou--”

“Breed me right now! Right now, Adora, I want your cock!” Glimmer sparkled herself out of her seat, vanishing and reappearing right beside Adora. In another flicker of energy both girls found themselves right there in the center of the meeting room, with Adora laying back against the table and Glimmer grabbing her shirt collar like she was shaking her down for money. As she rattled the blonde back and forth her voice carried forward with her usual yelp - somewhere in between urgency and outright panic. “Adora, if you don’t take out your cock and knock me up this instant, I’m going to go out of my mind!”

Adora blinked, tilted her head, and gave an immature chuckle.

“Haaaa, so funny, I was just thinkin’ about tha-woooah!” She blinked as Glimmer grabbed her pants and vanished from sight, taking the garment with her. When she reappeared the princess of Bright Moon’s plump figure was completely naked, and Adora’s pants were nowhere to be seen, leaving her throbbing, thick cock sticking straight up from her lap. “...huh. I had no idea you could do that.”

“NEITHER DID I, FUCK ME RIGHT NOW.”

Considering Glimmer’s outright urgency, Adora was swift to give the girl what she wanted. With her strong hands drawing against the girl’s thick waistline, she rolled Glimmer over onto her hands and knees, lifting that lovely, round rear up so she could steal her very first glance at Glimmer’s pussy. This wasn’t how she expected to first fuck her best friend, but it seemed downright fitting - laying it into her right in the center of the Princess Council meeting table. Adora nibbled her bottom lip as she slid a hand down the back of Glimmer’s rump and between her thighs, gasping a little as she moved her fingers across a pussy that was intensely warm and wet.

“Wooow, Glimmer, you’re...you’re really...whew!” Adora giggled a bit and flexed her fingers, tightening them into a fist. She came desperately close to jamming it inside just like she had been fantasizing about earlier, but a stark glare from Glimmer cast from over the girl’s shoulder was enough to snap Adora back to the moment. She was genuinely a bit worried just what this manic little ball of energy would do if she didn’t give her what she wanted, and as such Adora soon knelt directly behind her friend with that big, heroic cock flopping right against her backside. “Here goes, Glimmer! Gonna...gonna breed you like a prized warhorse! I guess.”

With that, Adora simply shrugged, and shoved herself forward into a pussy she knew was already prepared for her. She managed to slide into Glimmer with ease, rewarded for doing so by the tight, warm embrace that soon engulfed every last inch of her cock. Both girls were left shuddering in the heat of the moment, and Adora soon dropped a hand to the back of Glimmer's soft pink hair, holding tight as she braced herself. Almost immediately, the princess was wiggling from side to side and grinding her hips back against Adora's, showing that she just couldn't get enough of the other girl's dick. Her walls tightened and she made sweet moaning noises that were frankly a bit bold considering her mother was no doubt just out in the hallway. Adora couldn't help but give a satisfied sigh, and held Glimmer's hair like a leash as she started to thrust.

"Fuck, Glimmer...I never knew you liked me like this!" She admitted, just as her member swept in and out of the other girl. She pulled back to the point that Glimmer's pussy was just barely showing a glimmer of her cockhead, and then slammed forward once more with every ounce of strength inside of her. Glimmer squeaked from the impact, but still looked over her shoulder to Adora to listen as she spoke. "Hell, if I had known, we could've been having this kind of fun for months!"

"I...I didn't know I wanted it until now!" Glimmer whimpered, her hands gripping around the edge of the table and her thighs spreading in another desperate bid to encourage Adora deeper. Her slit was soaked and spasming around the other woman's cock, and Glimmer was lost in the realization of her forced fantasy. Delirious and delighted, she was swooning as Adora kept pumping inside of her, happily letting her lovely curves jiggle with every thrust. "I...I was just sitting at the meeting and started having...having all these wonderful daydreams about us!"

Adora blinked, and didn't stop thrusting even as she pressed the issue. In fact, she sped it up with a fierce spank to Glimmer's plump rear, and a sudden series of intense thrusts that left their flesh slapping together and making Glimmer yelp with every subsequent push. With a playful look on her eyes she leaned forward even still, and with her hand yet clutching the girl's hair whispered against the back of her ear in a lusty, hungry tone.

"Tell me what you were daydreaming about, Glimmer," Adora cooed, and made it a point to weave her hips from side to side, stirring that tender cunt with her rod. "If you really want me to knock you up, you better start talking!"

"I...I...oh, fuck, Adora, that's so good!" Glimmer whispered, face flushed and knuckles white as she gripped the table. She gave a few desperately eager nods at her friend's command as she kept up the momentum, whispering even as sweat began to cling to her brow and her juice started to drip to the table below. "I...I was just sitting there and...and I thought about you grabbing my hair and...and just making me suck your cock! Forcing it all the way down my throat, slapping my cheeks with it, covering me in spit, I...oh, Adora, it was so hot! I could...I could almost taste it! P-Please...please keep fucking me!"

Adora did as Glimmer requested - obviously - but she wasn't quite so dense that Glimmer's daydream didn't ring any bells. She gave the girl another firm spank to keep her pounding back into her lap, and while her cock twitched within the girl's entrance pushed the issue further. Her voice was softer, a little more analytical than it was sensual, but she was trying to work something out.

"Uh...and….and what else did you daydream about?"

"You...you took your hand, and you...you…" Glimmer quaked from the mere memory of how that fisting fantasy made her feel, her entire figure tightening and tensing at the drifting thought of it. "You made a fist and just...just jammed it into my pussy, Adora! And you were twisting it from side to side and making me squirm around, and...fuck, Adora, it made me so wet that I almost started to play with myself in front of my mom!"

Adora, whose eyes at that point had opened particularly wide and was giving an enormous smile, couldn't help but let a rapid, eager giggle escape from her throat.

“I’m sorry, do you think that’s funny?!” The bratty princess shot back at Adora, even while still pumping against her. Adora swiftly shook her head, and redoubled her efforts to fuck her best friend.

“N-No, not at all! I was just...uh...just thinking about something neat!” Specifically, she was thinking about what could only be a new power bestowed upon her thanks to her connection to She-Ra. It was too specific to be a coincidence and too perfect in timing to be anything else, and immediately it made Adora’s head spin with ideas. Most of them...admittedly pretty filthy. This was definitely going to make her next encounter with Catra a lot more interesting, she knew that much. For now, though, Adora focused on the matter at hand - that being the plump, bouncing backside of her best friend and the sight of her own throbbing, thick cock spreading a pink and eager pussy. Adora gave her the hardest spank of all, and this time allowed her hand to linger in the same spot so she could sink her fingers against the soft flesh in an eager squish. From there, she locked her heels and leaned forward, whispering urgently to Glimmer as she started to vigorously pump with every ounce of strength she had in her. “Hold on, Glimmer, ‘cause you and I are about to make a whole new princess! I’m going to fill this little cunt with cum and breed you like my own personal slut!”

Unchecked sexual authority was an...interesting fit on Adora.

Her words fueled Glimmer’s wild and uncontrollable desires in that moment, and before long both girls were moaning in tandem as they collectively made the meeting table squeak. Adora was slamming forward with such potent power that the impact of her cock inside of Glimmer filled the room with constant noises of moist delight, and the princess’s nethers continued to drip beautiful, sparkling nectar down to the surface below. With heat rushing across them both and a filthy, shameless joy overtaking them, it was actually Glimmer that came first, and with a ferocity that few would’ve suspected Angela’s daughter capable of. She pounded her fists against the table and actively screamed in climactic glee, her pussy squeezing Adora’s member as she fell into a violent, squirting orgasm. Her sparkling juice splashed against the table and dripped from the edges, blasting not only it but Adora's thighs and that heavy sack that kept slapping to her hood. She absolutely filled the room with the scent of royal cum, something that only a precious few in the castle were able to truly appreciate as the ambrosia it was.

Drawing in deep that scent and bolstered by the knowledge that she had a brand new power, Adora hit a peak inside of Glimmer that she was sure would do the job tasked of it. With one last vigorous shove - so hard that she had to grasp Glimmer's hair extra tight to avoid pounding her right off the table - Adora hilted herself inside of her best friend and began pumping her full of creamy, virile, potent cum. Her member twitched and the blonde's head swung back as she gave a few glorious cries of delight, her length spasming and convulsing within the soft, warm, inviting grip of the young royal. As cum surged within Glimmer both girls were left basking in the immediate heat of it all in addition to the rush of dirty adrenaline - this wasn't just reckless fucking, but fucking for a purpose. Fucking with intent that Glimmer would get knocked up and carry around the baby of She-Ra.

"Hahh...Hahh...f-fuck, Glimmer, you're still twitching around me," Adora breathed out a few seconds later, when both girls were sweat-licked and exhausted. She leaned forward to give a kiss to the back of her friend's throat, and gently wiggled her hips to continue stirring around that cream-flooded slit. "I came so much. Fuuuuuck, your mom...she's...whew, she's gonna be pissed."

"Yeah, well...I don't really care wha--FUCK, IT'S MY MOM!" Glimmer's obstinate voice was immediately replaced by a hushed whisper of panic as the door to the meeting room started to open again, and from sheer reflex she suddenly teleported both of them away. Somewhere in Glimmer's bedroom, the two naked, still-connected best friends would flop down onto a comfortable bed and likely continue their fun. Meanwhile, as the door opened in the meeting room Queen Angela stuck her head inside, looking from side to side with a critical eye.

"...what's that sme--" She cut herself off as she stepped inside, drifting over towards the table. One look at the surface revealed just what that smell was, as a puddle of sparkling, shimmering princess cum was sitting right there. Rolling from the edge of the table, filling the room with its heady scent, it was absolutely unmistakeable...and Angela's response rushed through the halls with loud, indignant vigor. "GLIM-MAH! GLIM-MAH THAT IS NOT WHAT THE MEETING ROOM IS FOR, GLIM-MAH!"

The End.

Chapter Two: Twisted & Tangled
-by Drace Domino

"How is it, Adora?"

"Adora?"

"Hey! Adora!" Glimmer suddenly reached out a hand, pinching the inside of the blonde's thigh. "Pay attention! I swear, you can be so empty-headed sometimes! You're really daydreaming while I'm giving you a blowjob?!"

Adora simply gave a sheepish look in response to her friend's question, rubbing at the back of her head while an exasperated Glimmer went back to work. The two friends were sharing a space in Adora's room that night, as the pink-haired princess struggled to wrap her head around the unusual changes that took place in their relationship a few days ago. Something was definitely happening in Bright Moon, and if the opportunist in Glimmer could play her cards right, then there might be potential to be found in how submissively she begged for Adora to cum inside of her. Still, those were thoughts for other nights when the chubby young woman wasn't distracted by the sight of her friend's dick, glistening in spit and demanding attention.

"Fuck, you really are huge," the princess murmured, half-pouting as she wrapped her fingers around Adora's length. She pumped it slowly from the base to the tip, watching the cockhead tremble and glisten, eyeing up a line of spit that slowly dripped to the carpet below. She naturally ignored it - after all, this was Adora's bedroom, what did she care if they made a mess? "I'm impressed you manage to keep it hidden in those pants of yours. No wonder you're always distracted."

"Yeah, I think that would be fun, too." The…distracted Adora murmured in response.

"Oh, forget it." Glimmer finally murmured to herself, and brought her mouth down to Adora's unit. At least she'd get some cum out of her bimbo blonde friend, even if Adora seemed like she wasn't really there. The princess swirled her tongue around the tip and savored the taste for a long moment, right before pistoning her mouth up and down - taking Adora down to the halfway point on each thrust, and slipping her hands forward to cradle and caress the former Force Captain's balls with spit soaked fingers. She only spoke once more mostly to herself, even if her dismissive, irate tone referenced the girl whose length twitched against her face. "Sometimes, I can't even imagine where your head is."

It really did seem odd that Adora could be daydreaming, considering one of the cutest creatures in Bright Moon was kneeling - naked and with full, curvy breasts covered in spit - right at the edge of her bed. Glimmer was nothing short of an eager and willing slut for her that night, and the longer she tended to Adora's cock the more worked up she became, with nectar glistening the inside of her thick thighs and her hips involuntarily rocking back and forth. She wanted fucked. She needed fucked. And yet…she was just left sucking, all while Adora idly stared at the wall at nothing in particular, nibbling her bottom lip.

And what was filling the Horde defector's mind? What could possibly be more important than the princess pussy that was waiting to be stuffed in her room?

Two princess pussies.

It was little more than a follow-up to Adora's fantasy from a few days ago - the night before she managed to pound Glimmer on the meeting table. That night, she'd been particularly worked up and unable to sleep thanks to her impressive unit, and she conjured a thrilling fantasy that had proven difficult to squeeze from her mind. Two of the older princesses of the council - Netossa and her wife Spinerella - danced through Adora's thoughts. The night in question she had pounded herself fiercely while envisioning what it would be like if the two sandwiched her cock in between their pussies, grinding and twitching until she popped off in between them. But…that was only one of the many things that she could do with women like that! The holes, the curves, the fact there were two of them…and oh, their powers! Netossa's nets, Spinerella's flying and momentum…the blonde tensed a little more, and she gave a nervous swallow. It might not have been fair to the princess so diligently sucking her cock at that exact moment, but Adora just couldn't shake her fantasies.

What would Netossa's pussy taste like? What if Spinerella's ample frame rode her, really rode her, as hard as she possibly could? What would their beautiful, married faces look like pressed cheek-to-cheek, smiling as Adora's enormous member unleashed torrent after torrent of rich, creamy whi--

"Pfffft! Adora, what's wrong with you?!" Glimmer snapped, and suddenly broke into a fit of coughing. Adora's attention snapped back down to her friend only to immediately realize she was climaxing - that thick, spit-soaked unit twitching in Glimmer's grasp, unleashing ropes of cum up into the air. Glimmer had clearly been completely unprepared for it, with cum splattered in her hair, stretched over her face, and most notably dripping from her mouth and nose as she struggled to cough herself clean. While Adora's pleasure suddenly struck her like a bolt of lightning with her mind snapping back to reality, Princess Glimmer continued to sputter and struggle until she finally grumbled again at her friend. "You promised you were going to warn me! It went right up my nose!"

"Uh, sorry, Glimmer," Adora murmured, and rubbed the back of her head in sheepish fashion once again. The half-assed apologies were getting old, she knew, but for all Glimmer complained, she never put her clothes back on. "Do…do you still want me to bend you over the bed?"

Glimmer, despite the anger on her face, the cream in her hair, and one eye that was still closed against a streak of white, simply scoffed as she forced herself to her feet.

"Of course I still want you to bend me over the bed, don't be an idiot."

Adora would try to pay attention the rest of the night, and she'd mostly succeed.

The next morning, Adora was feeling great! Why wouldn't she be, after the restful night of sleep she'd had? After fucking Glimmer to the point of exhaustion, the blonde managed to pass out on top of the princess sometime around three in the morning, and when she woke up it seemed like Glimmer had taken the easy way out and teleported back to her own room. It let Adora avoid all the annoying small talk that went with getting up in the morning all sticky and gross, and it allowed her the opportunity to continue her fantasies in the shower. She'd enjoyed another long and languid masturbation session in her quarters under the spray of the showerhead, and this time she properly indulged in the fun that had tickled at her mind the entire night before - the thought of Spinerella and Netossa having their way with her. The curves, the experience of older women, the…the nets! Needless to say, the former Force Captain had plastered the front wall of her shower with spunk before getting dried and dressed and starting her day.

She had barely made it five minutes out of her bedroom, however, before she bumped into a pair of familiar faces in the hallway. It was just around the bend of a corner that the ditzy young woman walked right into a wall of bodies, and thankfully, the hands that moved to catch her were dutiful, kind, and considerate.

"Woah there, Adora, what's the rush?"

"Yeah, where do you gotta be in such a hurry? That little brat Glimmer isn't working you too hard, I hope!"

And there they were. Looking every bit as lovely as they were in Adora's fantasy, Spinerella and Netossa stood before her, the former offering her kind and sweet smile and the latter with her typical, confident smirk. It was Spinerella that had caught the girl and now held her hands at Adora's shoulders, keeping her steady until the girl found her feet. Even once she did, Spinny was slow to release her, and she only did so after gently straightening the soldier's collar.

"Oh, Netossa, you know if the princess hears you call her that, there's going to be trouble," Spinerella chided her wife with a kind smile, just before tucking her arms behind her back and standing patiently, respectfully aside. Her curvy figure was packed snugly into her typical tights, and those long locks of hypnotic hair were every bit as freshly-dried and shampoo-scented as Adora's. Seemed like the pair were straight from the shower, just as Adora was. "You're always looking to rock the boat, aren't you?"

"Sometimes the boat needs rocking. Sometimes you need to mix it up!" Netossa quipped right back to Spinny, and even gently elbowed her in the side before shooting a glance in Adora's direction. "You know what that's like, right, Horde girl? Probably pretty exciting when you started living here. All those new faces, new smells, new…new sights."

Her eyes lingered on Adora, from her face all the way down her fit figure and to her lap, though the stare wasn't particularly noticed by the ditz.

"Hmm? Oh, yeah, well…there's a lot less smoke here than in the Fright Zone," she murmured, tapping her bottom lip. "And it's not anywhere near as noisy. No machinery grinding, no Shadow Weaver yelling, no screams of prisoners in the dungeons." She clicked her tongue to the roof of her mouth, and then wiggled her hand back and forth. "It took some getting used to, but I think I'm almost there. Getting better nights sleep than I used to!"

"Oh, that's wonderful!" Spinerella chimed up, as sincere and genuine as ever - beaming, kind, and lovely. "It's important that a handsome young lady like yourself gets all the rest she needs. I'm certain you have many courtiers!"

"Will you stop, Spinny?" Netossa laughed in an exaggerated tone as she darted around Adora, bumping across her as she did. She "accidentally" allowed her chest to nudge the soldier's shoulder and her hand to "accidentally" brush along the girl's fingers, only to stand entirely too close to her before continuing. "Just look at this woman! She's tough! She's badass! She doesn't need her sleep to get people interested in her, she gets plenty of attention just by doing what she does on the battlefield!"

"I suppose you have a point, Netossa," Spinny chuckled, blushing as she traced Adora's features with her eyes. "Why, who wouldn't get chills watching her work? Goosebumps, even!"

"Damn right, Spinny." Netossa cooed, somehow standing even closer to Adora now, so near that her breath teased the back of the blonde's ponytail. "How about it, Adora? Do you know how many girls you give goosebumps to?"

Adora blinked, and looked in between the two older women for the moment. First to Netossa and then to Spinerella, then back again twice. Her head was tilted in quizzical fashion, genuinely confused by the sudden flurry of attention from the pair - not that she minded, but they'd hardly ever poured it on this thick with her before. Any girl with half a brain in her head might have even been able to tell the married couple were flirting with her, and yet…Adora, sadly, came up just a little shy.

"Oh, I know what all this is about," Adora nodded, and punched her fist into her open palm. "You two want me to beat someone up, don't you?"

Netossa simply facepalmed and grumbled to herself, while Spinerella - the sweeter and more patient of the two - simply reached out, took Adora's hand between her own, and cut right to the chase.

"Adora?" She began, gently. "Since we have some time before the daily meeting, would you like to come to our quarters and have sex with us?"

"Woah, really?!" The Force Captain couldn't believe her luck. "Weird, I was just thinking about how fun that would be a few minutes ago!"

And everyone in the hallway was either too magically enchanted - or too stupid - to realize. They trotted right back the way Spinerella and Netossa came, making a beeline for their bedroom.

How lucky could one wielder of the power of She-Ra get? Adora almost didn't believe the way her morning was going, seated right in the dead center of the married couple's bed, already stripped down to nothing. As the surprising stud she apparently was, Adora didn't have a trace of self-consciousness as she made herself at home - arms stretched out across Spinerella and Netossa's headboard, legs splayed out, and cock fully erect. Her fit figure was still warm and clean from her previous shower and her hair just a little bit damp, giving her as fresh a feeling as she could imagine while she watched the two women at the edge of the bed. Spinerella and Netossa - who had watched Adora strip down with eager eyes, now stood side by side with their arms around the other's waist, fingers kneading at their respective lover while their eyes remained locked on Adora's naked frame.

"Oh, Netossa…she's…" Spinerella quivered, her eyes opening wider and a nervous swallow rolling down her throat. "She's incredible!"

"She sure is, Spinny," Netossa murmured, the net master mirroring the gaze of her wife. Though the two women were so very different in so many ways - whether it was Netossa's assertive nature versus Spinny's passive one, whether it was one athletic figure nestled against a chubbier frame - that morning, they were of a like mind. Netossa actively allowed her tongue to pass across her lips as she gazed at Adora's cock, clearly only barely able to hold herself back from darting forward and worshiping it. "H…Hey Adora, Spinny and I were talking before we invited you here, and…we've got something we'd like to try out with that dick of yours."

"Oh? What's that?" Adora tilted her head, and tapped her chin with a forefinger. "I was just gonna…y'know, put it inside of both of y--"

"Just sit back and enjoy, Adora!" Netossa beamed, flashing out a hand in bold, dynamic fashion. As she did so, a pair of tiny nets darted outward, speeding through the room and crashing against Adora's wrists. Suddenly, the blonde found herself secured at the headboard while Netossa's nets locked into place, keeping her stable. Adora didn't even have the chance to respond to the princess' words before the married pair were already in motion, actively lifting up in the air from a sudden, surging tempest of Spinerella's making. As they rose, Adora's eyes went wide as bits of clothing began to dart out of the tempest - tights, a shirt, bras, panties, every stitch the married duo were wearing, all as Spinerella held her arms aloft and the wind obscured the majority of their bodies. By the time the tempest faded the two were left as bare as Adora, and the wind picked up only to launch them in the direction of the bed. As they closed the distance from the edge to the blonde, Netossa gave a triumphant cheer, eyes flashing as they traveled in tandem. “We couldn’t decide who goes first, so we’re just gonna share you!”

As they crashed against the bed, Adora gave an excited squeal. Another dream was coming true as the pair landed with their legs overlapping and their bodies facing each other - two glistening, perfect pussies squeezing against the sides of her cock in glorious harmony. The Spinerella and Netossa pussy sandwich had come to fruition, and the bound She-Ra couldn’t help but let an excited giggle pass up and over her lips.

“Ohhhh, this is exactly what I was hoping for!” She cooed. “You two must be mind readers!”

It was easy, when someone’s mind was less like an open book and more like an overflowing bathtub.

Once Adora put her surprise aside, it was easy to focus on the excitement…and the pleasure. Her cocktip was emerging from between a pair of slick, nestled slits - squeezed so tight together that they couldn’t just feel each other, but every twitch, every pulse that ran through the blonde’s unit. Both Spinerella and Netossa had their legs entwined with near-perfection, and at first Adora speculated that they’d clearly done this before, though in reality it was simply because certain impulses were guiding them, leading the path to arousal for all three. Once they were secure in place, the married pair looked at each other as Spinerella held her hands out in dainty fashion, only for her wife to secure her grasp. Their fingers interlocked and their palms pressed face-to-face, and though Adora was clearly the object of their attention, it was clear they wouldn’t neglect each other.

“Darling, after you,” Spinerella cooed, and even blew her wife a tiny kiss. Considering who it was, the thing had a gentle impact against Netossa’s cheek, leaving the aftermath of a gust of wind on her flesh. “You lead the charge, and I’ll support you.”

“Just like when we’re on the front lines, Spinny,” Netossa beamed right back, before shooting a glance in Adora’s direction. “You’d better appreciate this! I don’t let just anyone into our bed!”

“Hey, I’d be applauding if my hands weren’t tied.” Adora murmured sheepishly, and wiggled the fingers of her net-bound hands. The fact that the two women were being so kind to her certainly wasn’t lost on her, and she absolutely feasted on the sight of them as they started moving. Just as their pussies put extra pressure on her dick from the sides, Adora allowed her gaze to pass first over Spinerella and then her impulsive wife. The former was a glorious, curvy body of confidence - thick thighs, a pudgy belly, chubby arms, and absolutely stunning breasts that never seemed to stop jiggling. A tiny curl of hair was nestled just above Spinerella’s pussy, fashioned like an artist’s depiction of sweeping wind. Adora’s eyes traveled from Spinny’s nethers straight towards Netossa’s, whose public hair was shaved into a net-like crosshatch that Adora stared at with a drooling mouth. Her body was different from Spinerella’s - thinner and more athletic, and sporting a bit more visible muscle. She didn’t have the bounce of her wife, but she made up for it in how her perky breasts snapped back and forth with every ensuing thrust - not to mention the focused way in which she gazed right back at Adora, captivating the blonde’s sight as she controlled the pace.

Just as Spinerella suggested, Netossa led the charge while she provided the foundation. It was Netossa that was grinding back and forth at first, hitching the back of her heels to the mattress as she rushed forward, squishing Adora’s length between their pussies and forcing it to respond to the attention. As Adora unleashed a faint gasp from the back of her throat, Netossa’s smirk grew all the more, and she used the blonde’s reaction as motivation to rush forward. She was quick to find a rhythm, her hands remaining effectively locked against the grip of her wife’s, delightfully imprisoning Adora’s unit between two wet, trembling, almost impossibly warm walls.

When Adora managed to look from the dominant Netossa and to her wife, she was met by a kind gaze and an effortless smile.

Spinerella only moved to meet Netossa's thrusts, but that was all she needed, bucking forward from just a hint below Netossa's vantage point, catching Adora's cock with a taller wall of flesh. Her curvy backside lifted from the mattress and flopped down again each time she bucked, and every one of her gestures came accompanied with the absolute visual feast that was her curves rolling - not to mention those stunning, thick, swaying breasts dancing before Adora's gaze. If the blonde wasn't bound she likely would've reached out and groped at them, and her fingers even flexed up and out from her palms like she was picturing doing just that, but the motion was clearly involuntarily. There wasn't much more than a thought in Adora's conscious mind that just how good it felt to be caught between these two.

"That's it, Spinny…fuck, she's a big one, huh?" Netossa whispered through her teeth, and suddenly pivoted the grip of her hands. She released the interlocked fingers of her wife only to push her palms further, grasping Spinerella's wrists from below and using the new hold for leverage. Immediately she could buck against her even harder, grind the lips of their pussies to just barely keep them in constant contact from opposite sides of Adora's rod, smearing the blonde's unit with a blended nectar of their juices. "I can't wait to watch you ride it. You're going to look so pretty stuffed with that big cock of hers…"

"Ohh, she's going to ride it, next?" Adora perked up, her eyes opening and a big, goofy smile spreading on her face. She was immediately put in her place by a harsh glare from Netossa, nose scrunched up and eyes focused.

"Quiet, you, or I've got a net for your mouth, too!"

"Darling, don't be so rude to our guest!" Spinerella chimed up, and as always, did damage control for her impulsive wife. "If…if you wouldn't mind, Adora, I think it could be quite fun for both of us!"

"Hey, I'll let both of you ride if you want! I've got nowhere to be!"

She did. All three of them did. In fact, several floors down Queen Angella was droning on and on to the rest of the council members about how important it was to be punctual. Good thing they weren't there for that boring speech!

It wasn't much longer that passions began to really peak between the three women, with Spinerella and Netossa's constant, warm pressure pushing Adora to the absolute breaking point. They'd been grinding against her for some time now, unknowingly living out a fantasy that popped into the blonde's head on a whim, little more than eager dolls playing a part at the behest of the former Force Captain. The magic of She-Ra was in full use but no active observation, with the doting pair falling prey to an ability that Adora herself was too dense to realize she had activated. They were all victims of it in a way, and yet…it was hard to call any one of them such, considering how much fun they were having.

As things picked up and Netossa's thrusts became harder and quicker, Adora's unit responded by actively twitching between them. Her cock was effectively flailing, and with every buck of Adora's backside from the mattress, it slapped between their pussies before instantly getting squished between them again. The lines of nectar that the two women spread over Adora's rod were dense and visible - keeping her smeared in juice and arousal from both sides, filling the air around them with a sweet scent of combined delight. Adora, who had practically been leaking precum since the fun began, now had a near-constant bead of clear excitement clinging to her tip, a visible precursor to what was to come. Netossa's stark comments and Spinerella's kind gestures fell to the wayside as all three women gave up the need to speak, with their shared breathing overtaking them as one half of the melody filling the room. The other half, of course, being the steady slap, slap, slapping noise of their pussies crashing against each other, all as a throbbing unit struggled to endure.

When Adora came, it was intense, and whether it was the sight of her subsequent volcano of cum or the way in which her cock twitched in between their pussies, it was easily enough to push both Spinerella and Netossa over the edge. The two princesses watched wide-eyed as the ropes of spunk began to fire into the air, jetting upward in a swift bolt and quickly followed by more. As Adora sat trembling and trapped, her fit figure convulsed underneath her two mature friends that were in a similar state of orgasmic bliss, with Netossa and Spinerella actively clinging to each other as they came. The juices and nectar that coalesced around Adora's unit only intensified to form a wet, sticky seal, and the icing on the cake came as Adora's climax finally fell back down from the air, splashing across the whole mess. Her cum painted the pussies of both women that were still sandwiching her, smearing the white over the pair's nethers, connecting them all via a blanket of warm, delicious cream. Netossa and Spinerella didn't stop convulsing until long after Adora's peak ended, and by the time they had their wits about them once more, the blonde was already rock hard again. Sticking upright through the blanket of cum, twitching in between their pussies, it was clear she still needed more attention.

More importantly, she was already daydreaming about what came next.

Spinerella and Netossa both turned their heads in Adora's direction and each of them gave nervous smiles. Netossa was the first to speak, lifting a hand to dismiss the nets binding Adora's wrists. Her words weren't meant for their visitor, but instead, the curvy beauty that was still helping her keep Adora's length pinned between them.

"Spinny?" Netossa began, her voice low, hungry, and demanding. "I want you to let her breed you."

The faint distortion in hers - and Spinerella's - eyes might've been a sign that the two women were speaking from a place of enchantment, but Adora had no idea. After all, she was still ignorant of her power, no matter how potent it was.

It didn’t take long for the two of them to launch Adora flat against the bed, and even less time for the pair to assume their positions atop her. The young woman had barely caught her breath before Spinerella was looming over her, squatting in her bare state, dripping cum from where Adora had blasted it across her nethers. She reached down to cradle the stiff length positioned a mere half-inch below her, and when the sweet Spinerella looked up, she saw Netossa in a similar position. The aggressive princess had already swung a thigh over Adora’s head and brought her pussy squarely against that gasping mouth, smothering Adora’s nose and tongue below her slit. As she reached out a hand to tease her fingers across her own crosshatched shave job, Netossa purred with a rumble from deep in her throat, and spoke in that same eager voice to her beloved.

“Do it, Spinny,” she urged Spinerella, eyes flashing and her hips rocking. “Jam that gorgeous thing inside of you, and squeeze her of every drop of cum she’s got!”

“But…but if I do that, you won’t be able to get an--”

It was Spinerella’s turn to be interrupted as Adora - voice half-muffled by Netossa’s pussy - spoke up as she lifted a hand with a single, poignant, outstretched finger.

“Don’t worry about that, ladies, I’ll only need a min--mmm, wow, that’s good pussy,” she made a few audible licking noises before continuing. “I’ll just need a minute in between, and I’ll knock both of you up!”

Netossa and Spinerella, whom had never once considered the prospect of raising a family, simply cheered as they began to ride. The thrill of being bred by this blonde, buff bimbo was the only thing they were chasing now, from Spinerella’s sudden crash atop Adora’s lap to Netossa grinding back and forth, smearing her juicy slit across the girl’s eager mouth. For her part, Adora absolutely basked in the attention, hooking her arms around Netossa’s thighs while she feasted, swallowing mouthfuls of flavor as she bucked into Spinerella from below. It was a shame that she couldn’t see

Spinny's curvy figure bounce as she rode, but she'd get over it - especially if they invited her back for more sometime!

Netossa and Spinerella, despite the enchantment that was so deeply clouding their judgment, nonetheless leaned against each other with reckless passion. Netossa's spread fingers nestled against her beloved wife's breasts, squeezing and holding them aloft so they didn't jiggle too uncomfortably for the curvier woman. She knelt in close, bringing her mouth to kiss as Spinerella's lips, and in between the smooches and the shared, heated breath, she managed to squeeze out words of encouragement as Spinerella rode harder and harder and harder.

"That's it, Spinny, you're doing great…you look so beautiful when you're stuffed with cock…" Netossa cooed, and squeezed her thighs against Adora's cheeks, bucking back down. She was giving the girl's tongue a ride in equal fervor to what her wife was putting Adora's cock through, refusing to let her up for a breath anytime soon. "I love watching you have so much fun! You're perfect, sweetheart, and the only way you could look any better is…is if you…is if we…"

Her words were silenced as Spinerella threaded her arms around Netossa's shoulders, pulled her the rest of the way over, and fiercely kissed her as they both rode to shared climaxes. It was a long few minutes during which the bed below them screamed practically nonstop, though when the trio found their peaks they were once more shared in joyful unison. Netossa's convulsing climax left Adora's head ringing from how hard she squeezed with her thighs, and Spinerella's own depraved crashing down on the blonde's lap would certainly leave Adora sore in the morning. It was Adora's peak, however, that kicked them both off into a state of absolute bliss, the enchantment of She-Ra flaring through them and sparking all new heights. The very second that Spinerella took the first shot of cum into her warm, fertile pussy, the princess went wild with pleasure - clawing at Netossa, clinging to her, screaming out in blubbering moans about how good it felt to be bred. The ropes of white that clung to her walls only continued to layer within, surging and swirling, surrounding Adora's dick with white, and spurting out from between their nethers to soak the sheets below.

And when Spinerella and Netossa finally pulled away as the trio went gently quiet, there were a few desperate, tense breaths. Sweat-licked foreheads were pushed together as the two wives collected themselves, and Adora was left basking in the mess they'd made, with Netossa's soaked pussy still smothering her and Spinerella still leaking cum on her lap. When Netossa spoke again, Adora quivered in delight, and her member twitched right back to life inside of Spinerella.

"...all right, Adora, your minute's up." Netossa growled, and reached her hands down to drag her nails across the blonde's thighs. "It's my turn."

The mystery breeder of Bright Moon's work wasn't done just yet. She'd be busy the whole afternoon, all while several floors down, Princess Glimmer pouted.

But she did that a lot. Bitch was a real pout princess.
