Loyalty To The Queen

by kayassmuttytoast

Summary

Queen Angella knows how much of an asset She-Ra will be to the Rebellion and how much her involvement means to her daughter. So when Adora comes to her asking about the legendary warrior, Angella feels obligated to help. M-rated smut and incest, G!P Adora/She-ra x Queen Angella x Glimmer

Notes

This story contains explicit smut between G!P Adora and Angella, with eventual incest when Glimmer joins in. DL;DR.

Also, this was the second story I ever wrote so I think the writing is quite terrible, but I'm still posting it to show my personal growth as a writer. Please excuse the fact that it's trash.

Chapter 1

" Rise. The Rebellion accepts your allegiance, She-Ra, Princess of Power. "

I gaze at the Horde soldier who rises beneath me while the crowd chants her name. She-Ra, sorry, Adora looks up at me with gratitude before my daughter Glimmer captures her in a tight embrace. The world around me fades as I contemplate the choice I've just made. As Queen, I've chosen to trust this Horde soldier, whose allies and predecessors are responsible for so much destruction.

So much loss.

And yet, she pledges herself completely to our cause, abandoning the only life she's ever known. As my subjects before me break out in celebration, I retreat to my private chambers, my mind overflowing with uncertainties.

XXX

The night is lasting for what feels like a week. Sleep doesn't come as I continue to be plagued with the weight of the situation. Sighing in frustration, I get up and leave my room, my pale pink nightgown dragging on the floor. Wandering the empty halls, I glance at the portraits that line the walls. Heroes of the Rebellion. One figure always stands out.

Micah .

His kind smile beams down on me, his eyes bright and full of hope. God, why are the best ones always the ones who leave us? I reach up to the portrait, almost as if I could cup his cheek in my hand once again. A foreign noise catches my attention.

"Glimmer? I think I broke the bed!"

Adora jumps, startled when she sees me towering over her.

"Ma'am! I mean, Your Majesty. Sir!"

I raise an eyebrow, cocking my head to the side.

"What're you doing up?" she asks, blushing furiously. I sigh, feeling my wings sink a bit. "When I feel the cares of the day weighing upon me, I come here." Adora looks up, seeing the portrait that has my attention so captured. "Who is that?" "King Micah. My husband. He built the Rebellion with me. And he was one of the first casualties of the Horde." My heart aches just thinking about him. Adora looks at the ground, shuffling her feet. "Sorry. I didn't know."

“Adora, this decision has been a difficult one for me. Obviously, you understand my dilemma. You, too, have done something you could never have imagined, I’m sure, swearing loyalty to me as your Queen, and to the Rebellion. However, you cannot choose where you come from. Your background does not define you, and it should not stop you from having the same opportunities as the rest of us, including the opportunity to join the Rebellion.”

She looks up at me inquisitively.

“It is for this reason, and the fact that I greatly love my daughter who has seemed to place her complete trust in you, that I accept you proudly as part of our ranks.” I offer her a small smile. While I expected her to be over the moon, Adora instead considers her next words very carefully.

“Your Majesty, I have a question. About She-Ra…”

“Go on.”

“It’s kind of a personal one.” She’s looking at the ground. She cannot even look me in the eyes. I only now realise that this is my chance to show Adora that I can trust her. The Rebellion needs She-Ra and I should not let my own reservations stand in the way, especially seeing as her motivations seem entirely genuine.

“Very well. Follow me.”

I can hear her faint footsteps as she trailed behind me, keeping a respectable distance. Turning a corner, I lead her into my bedchambers, shutting the door behind me. I can't help but smile as Adora looks around in complete wonder. The walls are lined with crystals, in a somewhat similar fashion to walls that can be found in Mystacor. In memory of Micah. An ornate chandelier dangles from the high ceilings, reflecting the beams of moonlight coming from the open window and causing each and every crystal to sparkle. My bed, much like my daughter's, levitates several feet in the air.

"What was it you wanted to ask me, Adora?"

My voice pulls her out of her own thoughts and she snaps back to reality, blushing again. "Well, Glimmer and Bow were telling me you know all there is to know about She-Ra, so I thought you'd be the best person to ask. When I first transformed, something was different, and now it's like that every time, I…" Her voice trails off, leaving empty silence between us.

"Adora, I want this to be my chance to show you that I trust you. I know the Rebellion will be exponentially stronger with you on our side, but we need to be open with each other."

"It might be easier if I show you. If it's alright with you, can I remove my…"

She gestures to her trousers and now I'm the one who's blushing.

“I’m sorry! I shouldn’t have asked, I… I’ll just go, I can figure this out.”

She makes a beeline for the door but I stop her, stretching out my wings so they catch her before she can make it out.

“No, please. Do what you have to do. I don’t look if you don’t want me to.”

“Well, you kinda have to.”

Hesitantly, I direct my attention to her. Adora bends over, pulling off her trousers followed by her undergarments until she stands before me naked from the waist down. I can see a small bush of pubic hair above her pussy. The curtains certainly match the drapes.

“Okay, I’m gonna transform. But when I do, please don’t freak out.”

I nod silently, watching her pull out the Sword of Protection.

“For the honour of Grayskull!”

Adora begins to transform before my very eyes, growing over two and a half feet taller, her limbs bulking up and her hair becoming shiny, flowing down her back. The only thing different about her is the massive penis, hard as a rock between her legs.

It has to be at least twelve inches, probably more, and looks about the thickness of a small child's arm. Accompanying it is a set of balls dangling below, looking heavy and full. I feel my lower region begin to stir with arousal. It's just a natural reaction, MIcah's been gone for so long, you should expect to feel like this . I try to convince myself.

"She-Ra as a pe-"

" She-Ra has a penis! " She cuts me off. "Now, don't get me wrong, I know what a penis is. We shared locker rooms in the Horde, but back there it was called a whole bunch of other things like 'dick' and 'cock' and 'prick' and 'phallus' and they never looked this big!" She gestures to her member, pacing the floor now. "And why is this one facing upwards? Theirs were always pointed downwards and unnoticeable with clothes on but at the battle at Thaymor I was struggling to not let anyone see it, though all the dust and chaos everywhere did help. And just now, when I swore my loyalty to you and the Rebellion, I had to desperately cover myself with the sword the entire time. I don't know if this is just a She-Ra thing or if it's permanent and-" She's close enough to me now so I can put a finger to her lips, silencing her.

"Adora, you had no parents in the Horde, is that correct?"

She nods silently.

"And I'm assuming they didn't teach you much about your body there? As in the body of the opposite sex."

Another nod. "Only muscles, bones and pressure points. To know the best places to attack."

"Right…" It occurs to me that I have to step up and fill the Maternal role Adora never had, "The legends never mentioned She-Ra having an extra appendage but here you are so I'll tell you what I can. It appears that She-Ra is intersex, meaning she has both male and female reproductive organs, hence you still have breasts. Usually it would be soft and face downwards like you observed in the Horde, but due to an increase in adrenaline or teenage hormones…" I teeter off, both of us blushing furiously. Come on, Angella. She needs this.

"A variety of different bodily functions including puberty changes and increased adrenaline, a male, or I suppose in this case, your male organs, can experience what's called an erection. Some people also refer to it as a boner. All the blood rushes down there and it becomes hard. This is how people have sex, especially if they want to conceive a child. I'm afraid the only way to get it to go soft again is to masturbate and get that sexual tension out of you. It's similar to how you would do it as a girl, but now perhaps it would be easier as you have more surface area to play with rather than just one small pressure point. If you need privacy to finish yourself off I can-"

“I’m sorry, your Majesty. I’m still kind of lost here. What’s ‘masturbate’?”

I sigh, looking at her sympathetically. “The Horde really didn’t teach you anything about this? Not even about your own body?” She shakes her head. I consider my next move very carefully.

“Adora, I want you to be able to trust me. You’ve allowed yourself to be vulnerable before me, so I must do the same with you. First, I need you to transform back. I’m going to teach you about your regular body first before we move on to handling… that.”

She obeys, transforming back before my eyes.

“You have to remove the rest of your-”

“Yes, of course”

Her hands shake slightly as she lifts her top over her head, leaving her standing naked before me. Her round breasts look so soft, the nipples erect. Get a grip on yourself, Angella. This is just to teach her what she needs to know .

“Lay down in front of my mirror for me, dear. You’ll have to spread your legs apart.”

Adora lays down on the plush, carpeted floor, facing the tall floor to ceiling mirror and spreading her legs obediently. Her pussy lips are already dripping.

"I'll try to explain this as best I can. Please, tell me if I'm going too fast." I kneel beside her. "The human body has what's known as engorgeous zones. They're hypersensitive, reacting to many forms of stimulation. When people have sex, this is usually done with fingers, the mouth or actual sexual organs, that being intercourse. For girls, these are located on your nipples and on what's known as your clitoris, as well as within your vagina. The one in your vagina is especially sensitive, it's called the G-spot. For boys, it's around their nipples, their penis and their testicles." Pausing, I look at her face, riddled with curiosity. "It may be best if I show you. You don't mind?" She shakes her head, encouraging me to continue. Gently, I spread her legs further apart, drops of her wetness reflecting the light from the full moon. I point to her clitoris, making sure she can see it in the mirror. "This is your clitoris. Clit for short." She nods, mesmerised by seeing herself spread out like this. "Masturbation is when a person pleasures themselves by touching themselves in these zones. It leads to an orgasm which releases all that built up sexual tension. For boys, sperm is released, essential for human reproduction. For girls, it's often a thick and slightly cloudy, sweet-salty tasting liquid. It isn't necessary for reproduction but helps with lubrication, and it's pleasurable of course."

Adora stares at me. "How do I… can… can you show me?" She asks.

"Only if you want me to."

“I want you to.” Her reply is swift as the wind.

“Very well.” I begin pinching her erect nipples, sending shivers up and down her back. With one hand, I reach down and place a finger on her clit. Adora’s body jerks in response. Slowly, I begin rubbing my finger in circular motions, feeling her dampen. Her legs twitch under me, her chest heaving as she begins to breathe more heavily. “I’m going to show you the zone inside you, alright?” Biting down on her bottom lip, she nods her head frantically. Using one hand to spread her pussy lips apart, I use the other, coated in her wetness, to slowly enter her. I venture around inside her, searching until I find that bumpy, thicker part of tissue that I know will drive her crazy. As I rub my finger against it, her eyes roll back in her head, her fists clenched by her side. “Do you want to taste it?” I ask. She nods again, opening wide as I pull out of her. I bring my fingers to her lips and allow her to taste herself on me, her plump lips wrapping around them. When I pull away, she looks up at me with big, lust-filled eyes. “How do I use my mouth?”

I can’t help but chuckle lightly at that. “Oh, Adora, you don’t use your mouth on yourself.”

“Who does?”

“That’s if you have sex with… a partner.” It seems that I finally got what she was implying. “Ah.”

“Sorry. If you don't want to, it’s alright.”

I shake my head. “No, no, it’s not that. You’ve never had an orgasm before, that’s not normal for a young woman. You should get to experience that, and I’m going to make sure you do.”

I shift myself, positioning myself so my head is directly above her dripping pussy. Adora’s arousal is so strong at this point even I’m starting to feel frisky. Leaning over, I take a long, slow lick, tasting her sweet-salty wetness. Adora gasps, pursing her lips as if to try to keep silent. Smiling at this, I look up at her. “You can make noise, dear. That’s my indicator of whether I’m doing a good job or not.” Upping my pace, I lap her up like a cat licking milk from a saucer, enjoying the soft moans escaping the mouth of my lover. I use my lubed up fingers and enter her once again, pressing against her G-spot while my mouth attacks her clit, sucking hard.

This does her in.

Adora lets out a shriek, her entire body tensing up before releasing, the thick, creamy liquid getting all over me. I smile as I lap it all up while she comes down to earth, her eyes half-lidded from the pleasure. “How was I?” I ask, sitting up, the bottom half of my face soaked. She looks up at me tiredly. “I am… so glad… I left… the Horde…” she pants. I giggle, standing up before offering her a hand. “We’re not done yet, young lady. I still need you to transform again so I can help you with your She-Ra side.” Adora gets up on shaky legs and transforms again, her cock still big and hard.

“Now, essentially that entire thing is one big engorgeous zone, so you should be able to handle yourself. However, it is not uncommon for people to need a bit of encouragement whilst masturbating, and seeing as I expect this will be a regular problem when you transform, I should give you something to remember." I step out of my nightgown, leaving myself naked before the flabbergasted warrior. "I want you to start. Watch me while you do."

I get on my knees on the ground, my ass high in the air facing Adora, my breasts pressing against the ground. My wetness is evident and at this point, I don't even try to hide it. Reaching behind me, I begin to rub myself, much like how I did to Adora a mere moments ago. Behind me, I hear her begin to grunt as the jerks herself off, a steady slapping sound ringing throughout the room. I press two fingers inside myself, letting out a throaty moan as I feel myself stretching. It has been a while since I'd done this, yet it feels so natural. As I finger myself at a furious pace, I try to picture Micah, who always treated me so lovingly. But, of course, I cannot get the idea of She-Ra's cock out of my mind. Her grunts are getting louder behind me, her pace getting quicker than before.

"Adora, stop," I say panting, turning to face her. She removes her hand right away, pulling away from herself as if she touched a burning iron. "I'm quite sure you've got the idea of how to masturbate. But as I said before, I assume you will have to do this regularly as She-Ra and I want to give you something to remember. I won't always be able to showcase myself to you, therefore I believe getting up close and personal may cement myself in your memory." Adora looks at me curiously. "I need you to lie down for me, dear."

She lays on her back, this time her penis sticking up like a rigid flagpole. I walk over to her and straddle her cowboy style, rubbing my pussy up and down her shaft. “I’m going to give you something to remember forever,” I whisper, slowly impaling myself.

We both moan out loud as she enters me. My pussy clenched around her thick cock. I gasp and shiver, having never felt so full before in my life. Meanwhile, I can feel her heavy balls slapping against my ass as I begin bouncing on her. “Here,” I take her hands and shift them, “put your hands on my hips, this will balance us both. Thrust your hips upwards, going slower or faster depending on what you feel is right.” Adora’s eyes roll into the back of her head as she begins thrusting upwards at a frantic pace, causing me to scream. This must be some She-Ra speed. Micah had never been able to be this fast. My pussy is squirting all over her now, her furious pumping making me reach release much closer than I expected. “Yes, Adora, keep going!”

I roll us over until I am on my back with her topping me, watching her muscles work overtime as she continues to pump into me at a frenzied pace. My nails dig into her back as she doesn’t let up. The pleasure is so overwhelming I feel like I could black out. The world around me begins to fade as I feel my wings begin to move on their own accord, flapping and lifting us up into the air.

“Uhh… your majesty?”

I wrap my legs around her hips, pulling her close so she has no escape. “Don’t… even think… about... stopping…” I pant, my mind being taken over by euphoric bliss as we float higher and higher into the air. One particularly hard thrust against my G-spot sends me spiralling, letting out an ear-piercing shriek as I come undone over Adora’s cock.

“I… I think I’m close…” she grunts. Quickly, I lower us down and have her pull out. Surprising her, and myself in my fit of lust, I take her hard cock between the valley of my breasts and pump it. It only takes a few thrusts for her to release all over me, her entire body shaking as my face gets completely creampied. Adora transforms back before finally collapsing from exhaustion, her body heaving on the carpeted floor. I join her, laying next to her as we both attempt to catch our breath.

“I hope that was of use to you.”

“No kidding. I learnt more tonight than I ever learnt in the Horde.”

“And now you know what to do when you transform into She-Ra and your extra appendage is giving you trouble.”

“Yup,” she turns to me and smiles, “just remember that I pledged my loyalty to the Queen.”

Chapter 2

Months have passed since Adora first pledged her loyalty to the Rebellion. During this time, she's managed to help my daughter and the other princesses make considerable strides towards defeating Hordak's forces. As a mother, I couldn't be more proud of Glimmer. Of all of them.

Now of course, the question everyone is asking. What has happened between Adora and me?

I'm a little sheepish to admit that since that night, Adora and I haven't stopped. Her need for a maternal figure in her life is genuine, and I am willing to fill that spot for her. But as time goes on, it is becoming apparent that getting rid of her erections will require a more… hands on approach.

Admittedly, I've become addicted. The taste, the touch, the sounds, the thrill, they are all something I haven't experienced in years. Not since Micah. Although I am an immortal queen, there's been something invigorating about Adora and me sneaking around the palace at night, trying to find a quiet spot to do what we need to.

Originally, there was no romance about it. We haven't said anything about that. We haven't even kissed. It was just sex. Really good sex, fucking amazing sex, but sex nonetheless. That is, until today, when emotions are running high.

Adora comes to find me in the throne room just as the sun begins to dip below the horizon, bowing respectfully to me. “Your Majesty, Bow, Glimmer and I have returned from our mission in Salineas following Princess Mermista’s distress call and the Horde was chased off, leaving the Salineas Sea Gate protected. The Princess Alliance is running smoothly as we recruit more members.”

“Excellent. We should be on track to carry out the liberation of Erelandia. Does Swift WInd carry any news from the East?”

She shakes her head firmly, “the Horde hasn’t been spotted in the newly freed colonies. We have barricades set up to stop them if they try.”

I nod, “very well. Anything else to report?”

“Um… yes… earlier, with She-ra… there were some… uh… transformation issues.”

I cock an eyebrow at her. “Oh?”

A small blush rises to her cheeks but she says nothing, instead nodding silently.

“Very well. You are dismissed for now, Adora.”

With a final awkward bow, she leaves the throne room, leaving me alone with my royal court. My wings perk up a little at the thought of Adora's words. It has become a code between us by now. Her transformations into She-ra have been effortless so far, with her impressive physique able to wipe any battlefield clean. It was established early on into our endeavours that whenever Adora reports issues with transforming, it would be code for… something else.

"General, I am feeling quite tired. I will retire early for the day. Should anyone ask for me, they will answer to you."

General Juliet nods, her helmet turned up so her face is in view. "Do you require the royal doctor, your majesty? Are you unwell?"

I raise a hand to stop her. "That will not be necessary. It is just fatigue. Nothing to stress over." My large wings fan out and lift me into the air, above my royal court and out of the throne room. They carry me away to my chambers, navigating the familiar halls effortlessly, as if they have a mind of their own. When I reach my destination and lock the door behind me, I'm not surprised to see the young warrior already there, swinging her leg over the banister of my balcony.

"Is everything alright, Adora?" I ask, watching her easily swing herself over the threshold, dusting herself off before coming into the room and shutting the balcony doors behind her. "We've been doing this during the day more and more now."

“I’m sorry. We don’t have to if you don’t-”

“I’m not opposed to it,” I interrupt.

Adora heaves a sigh of relief. “Phew, that’s good because I mean I know it must be asking a lot of you to keep doing this and I wasn’t sure if-”

“Adora, it’s okay. We are both consenting adults and we know we can stop any time we want to.”

She nods firmly. “Yes. Exactly.”

“Now, I expect you came here to do something? Or did you just secretly summon me to my bedchambers for idle chit chat?” A small smile tugs at my lips and I undo a few ties, enabling me to step out of my dress effortlessly, revealing my nude form. My bedrobe sits hanging to the side, within arms reach. We wouldn’t need it now, but it’s always nice to have clothes nearby for after.

Without a moment of hesitation, Adora wields the Sword of Protection and chants the order for her to transform.

“For the honour of Grayskull!”

Before my very eyes, the changes happen. Her hair comes undone from its usual ponytail, she grows taller, her limbs grow more muscular, and of course, there was a very prominent bulge in her skirt.

"Is that a sword in your skirt or are you just happy to see me?" I tease, my hands immediately gravitating to her nether regions.

"The clothes are beginning to get in the way, aren't they?" she says, letting out a small whimper as I cop a feel of what she has to offer me. "That's something else I wanted to show you too. I figured out how to do this in the Crystal Temple while Light Hope was rebooting her system. Let me show you." I watch in fascination as Adora closes her eyes, focusing all her energy. Her body emits a bright light to the point that I have to shield my eyes. When I feel it's safe to look at her again, I am surprised to see her completely naked, her boner rigid, displayed in all its glory. "Cool, right?"

"Impressive," I remark. "It certainly makes my job a whole lot easier." With that, I come forward and wrap my hands around her massive length, quite literally sizing her up. Even in her She-Ra form, I'm a good few inches taller, towering over her. It's all the more better for me as I get to watch her moan and writhe, trying to keep her knees from shaking. Her cock is already slightly wet with precum, making for good lubrication and enabling me to jerk her off faster.

"Oh God… Angella," she whimpers, her eyes crossing. It is nice to hear someone call me by name. It rarely happens nowadays. Early into our arrangement, we had established that formalities such as “Your Highness” and “Your Majesty” weren’t needed in the bedroom. It just doesn’t have the same ring to it.

“Fuck!” Adora gasps as I get down on my knees and open wide, sucking and licking the tip of her cock like the most delicious lollipop. I smirk at this. Something we also established was that neither of us had to censor ourselves. We are free to be as improper and vulgar as we like, leaving our regular roles at the door.

I increase the ferocity of my sucking, opening wider to take more of her shaft down my throat. Every vein, every curve, every inch of her cock drives me crazy. It has been driving me crazy, and today is no exception. While I am admittedly quite out of practise, Adora doesn’t seem to mind. Every time we are together, I seem to do a great job driving her to the farthest ends of ecstasy. Her fingers thread through my pink-purple hair, encouraging me to go deeper. One particularly hard thrust causes me to gag, saliva dripping out of the corners of my lips. Still, Adora does not relent.

My eyes begin to water as she takes me roughly, her length making her way deeper inside my mouth. When her large, heavy balls finally press against my chin, she stills, holding herself there for a moment. Another thing we established early on. I am perfectly content with Adora having her way with me. Being Queen can be tiresome, and it’s nice to just sit back and let someone else take the reins.

“You okay?” she asks, her expression one of concern as she gently strokes away a strand of hair that has stuck to my sweaty face. My heart flutters a little. It's nice to know that Adora is always so concerned for others, even in a time of passion. No wonder Glimmer likes her so much. Though, not like they're involved in that way. At least, I don't think they are. Not that I would know. But this thought is fleeting. My mind switches back to the task at hand.

In response to her query, I begin bobbing my head up and down her shaft on my own accord, causing her grip on my hair to tighten. Her pupils dilate with lust as she mutters filth under her breath, making my ears blush. She groans, she shakes, she pleads for me to keep going, to make her cum.

Wish granted.

Shifting myself around slightly, I wrap my hands around my breasts and wrap them tightly around her cock, pillowing the throbbing length. " Angella! " The way she breathes my name, it sends shivers up and down my bare spine, My tongue snakes down to tease the tip, swirling around it and feeling my cleavage get wet. Adora has lost all sense of coherent speech at this point, a series of unintelligible moans and whimpers leaving her trembling lips.

It's gotten to the point where I recognise her actions. Her tighter grip on my hair, the way her eyes roll back into her head, her toes scrunching up against the soft carpet. Every small movement is a telltale sign that she is so close to her release, and my suspicions are confirmed when she lets out a sharp shriek, forcing me down her length and spurting her seed in me.

Her thick cum paints the inside of my mouth, coating every square inch of its surface and working its way down my throat. The taste is addictive, making me tingle. No wonder we couldn't stop. I wouldn't be able to imagine going on without it.

God, did I just say that? I suppose Micah has been away for a long time and I won't be able to get this experience anywhere else. And Adora is very good in bed, despite the fact that oftentimes, we aren't in bed, but rather sprawled somewhere in my room or a tucked away corner of the palace grounds. And she does always act very concerned for me. Such a lovely girl. Even when we're together, she puts my wellbeing first, making sure she's never too rough on me, always willing to let me rest if I need to.

"I… that's all I got… for now..." she pants, gently nudging me. Always gentle after our lovemaking sessions. Is that what this is? Lovemaking? No. It's just sex.

"Angella?"

But if it's just sex, then why do I rise to my feet? Why do I wipe the wetness from my lips before leaning forward? And why do neither of us pull away when I cup her cheeks between my palms and press our lips together?

Adora's eyes slowly close, a faint golden glow radiating from her She-Ra form. The kiss is passionate, it's heated, it's intense. Our hands wander all over each other as a low moan escapes my lips.

It is only when my tongue slips into her mouth that she pulls away, her eyes wide with shock.

"Did we just…?" She looks at me, uncertainty written all over her face.

I nod somewhat solemnly, but can't hold back a little smile.

"Did you want to?" She asks, her look a cute mixture of confusion and insuppressible arousal.

"I don't know," I admit shyly, a small grin turning up the corners of my mouth. "Maybe one more kiss will make us come to."

My fingers thread through Adora's golden locks as I pull us together again. Her lips are soft against mine, and when I force my tongue into her mouth, I am met with no resistance. I can feel myself dampen below as we melt into the kiss. Suddenly, I feel Adora's foot nudge my leg a little, coaxing them open. Her hands roam lower. One rests firmly on my hip while the other massages my right thigh, caressing the smooth skin. I already know what she wants. I don't even need to utter a word as I lift my leg upwards, letting her hook her hand underneath it. The entire time, our lips never part.

Adora's cock nudges my wet folds, begging for entrance. Her eyes meet mine, awaiting confirmation. My response is to adjust myself ever so slightly, letting her slowly enter me.

A low groan rumbles from my throat as I feel her fill me. Although we'd done this countless times by now, each time required a little bit of patience. Her size is immense, and no matter how many days or nights we spend together, I am never able to take her all at once.

To ease the pain a little, her thumb circles around my clit, prompting me to leak even more. In the meantime, her lips travel away from my own, around my cheek and towards my neck. I shiver as I feel the sensation of her lips on my neck, kissing and biting, probably giving me hickeys I will have to wear scarves to hide.

Adora's actions have distracted me so well, I don't even realise what's happened until I feel her heavy balls pressing against my ass. "Ready for me to start moving?" she asks, leaning up to give me a peck on the lips. Her eyes are large blue orbs, waiting on my signal to continue, especially careful to not cause me any pain or discomfort.

Goodness, this girl.

"Do it," I assure her. I instinctively bite hard on my bottom lip to absorb the loud moan of pleasure threatening to echo through the palace. The impact of her balls against my ass feels nearly as powerful as a spank. Every movement sends shockwaves up inside of me as I am stretched in a way Adora can stretch me. My tongue is hanging out of my mouth as I begin to lose control of my senses, something Adora seems to enjoy, as she leans forward and takes my tongue into her mouth, sucking on it intently.

The grunts and moans coming out of her have become oh so familiar to me. Her hands grip my hips firmly, keeping me in her strong hold as she jackhammers into me. I can feel them begin to drift downwards, and before I have the chance to say anything, I feel her hands, a little bit rough and calloused from countless battles, groping my ass, massaging it.

"Oh God…" I whimper as she continues to drive me towards my fast approaching orgasm. Yet again, my wings function on their own accord, but instead of flapping and lifting us off the ground, they surround us, encasing us in our own chamber where we remain hidden from the world to enjoy ourselves as we please.

My eyes widen with anticipation as I feel Adora begin to spread my ass cheeks, revealing the puckered muscle. Her gaze meets mine and she gives me a questioning look, of course not proceeding until I tell her to. I can't even think straight, let alone speak coherently, so I give her an affirming nod, sticking my ass out to her as her cock humps repeatedly over my g-spot. With my permission granted, Adora takes her finger, already wet from playing with me beforehand, and nudges at the tight hole before sliding in.

"Fuck-!" I shriek as I feel myself reach my end as both my lower holes are played with. Adora doesn't relent, continuing to pleasure me as my body convulses and I let my sweet release erupt. My body is on fire as our pod closes in around us, mimicking the clenching of my walls as I descend further into orgasmic bliss. She is not deterred by my loud outburst, instead simply capturing my lips in hers to absorb my screams of pleasure whilst I come down from my high.

When my body finally stops shaking and my wings relax, she slowly pulls out of me, stroking my hair out of my face as she does so. “You okay?” she chuckles.

“More than okay…” I pant, trying to reclaim my breath. “I think that was the most intense orgasm I’ve ever had. Where did you even learn about that?”

“What, anal?” I nod. “I wanted to educate myself so I may have snuck into the royal library a few days ago to read up on the subject. Sex, I mean. I wanted to make sure I’d be able to show you a good time, because it’s just as much about your pleasure as it is mine.”

This causes a smile to grace my lips. “Well, I’ve enjoyed myself thoroughly. Thank you.” Again, I plant feather light kisses on her forehead, eliciting a giggle from my lover.

Don’t ask me how I know this, but suddenly I get a feeling that we have to hide. That we won't be alone for long. “Someone’s coming,” I whisper. She looks at me confused, but doesn’t say anything. Thinking quickly, I wrap the still naked Adora in my wings, curling her into a cocoon behind my back. Mind you, Adora’s larger She-Ra form makes it hard to keep her contained. I rush to slip on my robe, smoothing it down my front and tying the ties securely when I hear tinkling near the door of my room. A trickle of wetness still runs down my legs, but thankfully my robe keeps me covered for the time being.

“Mom! Have you seen Adora?” Glimmer materialised in front of me, just as I manage to barely make myself decent. She holds a large bouquet of flowers in her hand and I will myself not to have an allergy attack. I may be immortal, but the natural wonders of Etheria still have the potential of giving me the sniffles in the right conditions.

“GIimmer, what have I said about knocking?” I chide, trying to keep a fidgeting Adora secure in my stronghold. When I tighten my grip around her, I think she gets the message as I feel her body freeze. Her boner nudges against my back, still hard. I may have had an earth shattering orgasm, but Adora is still waiting in anticipation.

“Sorry!” she raises her hands up defensively. “I just…” My daughter pauses, looking me up and down. “Why are you all sweaty? And your face is really flushed. Are you sick? You never get sick!”

A warm blush spreads across my cheeks. “This is why I tell you to knock,” I argue. “I was… exercising. And about to have a bath. You’re lucky I hadn’t or you may have seen something you’d rather not see.”

Her eyes narrow but she doesn’t push on. “Well, now that I’m here, tell me what you think of these? Aunt Casta needs help with flower arrangements on Mystacor and Perfuma’s dealing with something in Plumeria so I offered to help. I was going to ask Adora for-”

"Not so close, Glimmer! Allergies!" I push her bouquet away as she nudges it towards my face, but the damage is done. I feel the pollen make its way into my system, tickling the back of my nose and throat. My eyes begin to water and I can feel a sniffle.

Don't sneeze don't sneeze don't sneeze .

I can't hold back, and with a quick intake of breath, a sneeze erupts from my throat, causing my body to convulse, and with that, my wings to fly open. I cringe as I hear Adora hit the floor behind me with a thump.

Chapter 3

A golden glow envelopes her, and I watch as she transforms back into her regular form, shrinking considerably, her penis gone, but still very much naked. I fan out my wings to try to hide her, but Glimmer still lets out a shrill shriek, her eyes wide with shock. She's seen all she's needed to see.

"Adora? Is that you? What are you doing here? And why…" Her eyes drift from me to her nude friend and back to me. "What is going on?"

I feel like a child caught with my hand in the cookie jar. The look Glimmer gives me is a mixture of confusion and horror. "I'll admit, there isn't much I can say to make this look good, darling," I admit.

"Yeah, you think?"

Adora stands up, hiding behind me so only her face isvisible. "Glimmer, it's not what you think."

"I doubt it," she huffs, crossing her arms. "When… why did you… how did this even happen?" My daughter turns to me for answers.

A heavy sigh explodes from my chest. "If I'm going to explain this to you, you have to promise me you won't treat Adora any differently. She doesn't need that piled onto her on top of being She-Ra."

"Considering I pretty much walked in on you two together, I think that'll be hard," she says defiantly. Then her stern expression falters, She probably sees the looks on our faces, how we're desperately trying to tell her everything without destroying her. "But okay, I'll try," she says, her expression softening.

"Alright, but first, Adora, I need you to transform," I instruct.

The blonde looks up at me, uncertain. "I…"

"We need to show her. It's the only way she'll believe us," I whisper softly. Her hesitation is clear. "If you'd feel better, you can transform behind me first. I won't drop my wings until we absolutely need to." Nerves are still written all over her face, but she agrees and says the magic words.

By this point, her transformation sequence has become almost second nature for me to witness.

Everything from the neck down is still concealed from Glimmer, who looks to us expectantly.

"One of Adora's first nights here, I ran into her near the Great Hall," I recount, trying to keep my voice steady. "We didn't intend to, but when we did, she asked me a question about She-Ra, seeing as she thought I had the most knowledge about the legendary warrior and she had yet to make proper contact with Light Hope. Although I was still getting used to the idea of having an ex-Horde soldier within our forces, I agreed, wanting to let her know that I trusted her, and try to convince myself of that.

There's something about She-Ra that the legends didn't tell us. Which is what Adora needed help with." I glance behind me. "May I?"

She takes a shuddering breath and nods silently, giving me the go ahead. With that, I drop my wings, letting them relax at my sides. Glimmer lets out a surprised gasp, especially when her gaze settles upon Adora's raging erection. "She-Ra has a pe-"

" Yes , She-Ra has a penis, but I already went through the whole freak out once," Adora says, running a hand through her golden locks.

"It was like… that… the night she showed me," I gesture to Adora's cock pointing upwards like a proud flag. "And apparently every transformation before. An erection that large is difficult to hide, legendary warrior or not. And on top of that, Adora had no one to teach her about her regular female body, let alone her intersex one. Glimmer, you know about these things. I've been around to tell you these things and we've been open about it. Adora didn't have anybody to fill that role, so I took it upon myself to help her with it. It was meant to be a one time thing, just to give her enough material for her to be able to take care of herself before missions if she found herself like this, so as not to reveal

She-Ra's uniqueness, but…"

"It was me," Adora interrupts, stepping in front of me. Maybe she's worried Glimmer might lash out and attack me for sleeping with her best friend and wanted to protect me. Maybe she thinks Glimmer will pounce at her for sleeping with her mother and knows her strong form can take it. "Angella's right, it was meant to be a one time thing, but I came back asking for more. She was only humouring me-"

"Adora, that isn't fair. I said earlier that we're both consenting adults who both knew what we wanted. The blame shouldn't be entirely on you."

"But you already taught me what I needed to know! I just kept coming back for more which is what landed us in this situation."

"You can't say that. I wanted it just as much as you and-"

"Can it, both of you!" Glimmer exclaims, her hands alight in a poof of sparkles which silence us. She takes a breath to calm down. "So let me get this straight. She-Ra is intersex, and since the Horde is absolutely useless , that left you with no way to know what to do about the situation at all. So Mom, you helped her, and that just led to this?"

"Pretty much, yeah," Adora shrugs.

“Yes, that’s the gist of it,” I agree.

To my surprise, Glimmer buries her head in her hands. “Adora, I’m so sorry,” she mumbles, shaking her head.

“What on Etheria are you sorry for?” I ask, coming forward to gently place a hand on her shoulder.

“I’m sorry you felt you couldn’t tell me,” she says sadly, looking her friend in the eye. Her gaze doesn't even drop down like one would expect. It’s one of pure concern. “We’re best friends, and I wish you didn’t feel like you needed to hide this part of yourself. The Horde sucks, and although I’m mad, I’m not surprised that they didn’t teach you anything about that stuff.” She turns to me. “I’m kind of glad that Adora was able to come to you and you were able to give her the help she needed. And I… I want to learn.”

“You what?” Adora and I gasp in unison.

Glimmer nods enthusiastically. “I wanna learn! That is, if you both are okay with it. This is helping Adora for when she has to transform, so she won’t have to worry about exposing herself to the entire world. There will be times where we’re out for long stakeouts or Mom you might be away in another kingdom working on some negotiations, so if Adora has another outlet, wouldn’t that be better?”

Adora and I exchange a glance.

"I suppose…" I begin.

"Have you ever done anything like this before?" Adora interrupts.

She shakes her head firmly in response, "nope. But I know roughly what happens. I'm not entirely naive. And I'm sure you'll know what you're doing. That is, if it's okay with you, Mom?"

I cringe a little as the conversation is directed back at me. "Glimmer, you're an adult. If you want to be intimate with another person, I won't stand in your way. In fact, I'm glad you're open to this with Adora because I know for a fact that she'll take care of you. But wouldn't you feel weird being with her, knowing that I am too?"

My daughter shrugs. "You're an adult too, you can do what you want. And if Adora's okay with both of us, then why not?"

"I'm fine with it," she agrees.

There's a moment of silence between the three of us, Adora's boner still very much visible and begging for attention.

"Very well," I sigh. "I'll leave you both to it then, though make sure you keep the door locked as we wouldn't want any guard to stumble in on-"

"Wait!" Adora reaches out to grasp my arm just as I turn to leave. Her eyes are big, staring hopefully at me. "I want you to stay. That is… if both of you are okay with it… I mean… I don't want either of you to be left out… and I can please both of you at the same time… you don't have to do anything with each other… but I mean… only if you want… if you want to..." She seems nervous.

Glimmer and I exchange a glance. "I'm okay with it," she says bluntly, a small smile gracing her lips. Her pink eyes meet mine. "But Mom, this is only if you want to. Like Adora says, we don't have to do anything with each other. She just wants a chance to make us both feel good."

They both watch me with their eyes full of hope, Adora's naked figure getting me more excited. I suppose it won't do anyone any harm if we're together, even if Glimmer and I don't do anything with each other. And I will be able to teach Glimmer about this for when I'm not around to help Adora out. We've always been open about talk of sex since she hit puberty, since it's such a natural part of life. This is just taking it a step further, isn't it?

"Well, then it seems like we're all okay with this," I say, my mind filling with thoughts that a mother frankly shouldn't be thinking about.

“What should we do then, Angella?” They look to me for instructions.

I can’t help but nibble my bottom lip seductively, and I revel in the fact that this small action has the both of them squirming. “Adora, lay down on the carpet.” The warrior complies with no resistance, laying down on the plush surface. Her cock stands up straight, begging for attention. “Glimmer, undress for us, would you?” I order as I undo the ties of my robe, letting it seamlessly fall to the ground. In an instant, Glimmer teleports to the spot next to Adora but leaves her clothes behind. It’s slightly amusing to see her garments, still full of air as if her body is in them, fall to the floor in a neat pile.

“What now, Mom?” she asks, her excitement showing clearly on her face.

“Adora’s going to get you ready for her, while I get her ready for you,” I say simply. A throaty groan escapes them both and I watch eagerly as Adora’s strong hands reach around to cup Glimmer’s thighs. My daughter lets out a small shriek as she is pulled lower and lower until her centre is hovering just above Adora’s lips. While she may not be as worked up as I am, I know Adora will get her on the same wavelength. I am reassured of this when I see her pink tongue dart out to slink in between Glimmer’s folds, causing a soft whimper to escape her. The taboo nature of me watching my daughter be with someone else does cross my mind, but I stifle it down. I know Adora will show Glimmer a good time, and it’s my responsibility to make sure Adora enjoys herself too.

While the two of them are busy, I sink down towards the ground, my face now level with Adora’s throbbing length. It is still soaking wet from my earlier release. The sight gets me even more excited and I can hardly contain myself as I lean over and lay gentle kisses up and down her shaft. I smirk as I see an immediate reaction from Adora, her fingers digging harder into Glimmer's soft thighs. My lips travel all over, from the tip of her cock to her balls, large and full, laying gentle kisses to keep her on edge. At the same time, my eyes never leave them.

Glimmers hands are gripping Adora's golden hair tightly as her legs tighten around her head. Her movements remind me of myself whenever Adora uses her expert tongue on my most intimate area. While one of Adora's hands remains on Glimmer's thigh, the other gravitates upwards towards her perky breast, pinching and squeezing the erect nipple. Glimmer can't stay quiet, an endless stream of moans and groans escaping her.

"Shit… Adora… you're so good… you're really fucking good…" she whimpers breathlessly, clawing at the blonde mane beneath her.

"She'd better be," I reply in a sultry tone, "she's had an abundance of practise." I smirk as Glimmer's eyes roll back and she bucks her hips down more onto the mouth of our lover.

Wanting to increase the pleasure for Adora, I lean over and take the tip of her cock into my mouth. I can taste myself on her, my own sweet salty release spurring me to suck harder. Bobbing my head up and down, I stifle my own gag reflex to take more and more of Adora down my throat, gradually until I feel my nose nestled against her small bush of pubic hair and have to come up to breathe. Giving my lungs a break, I attach my tongue onto her balls, feeling my cheeks swell as I try to take two at once. When it becomes clear that the task is near impossible, I settle for taking one at a time, sucking and licking hard to drive Adora crazy.

"An… el… ah!" she tries to moan out my name, but her voice is stifled by my daughter who continues to smother the warrior with her pussy, now leaking like a small river into her mouth. I watch on with delight as Adora removes her hand from Glimmer's breast and instead brings it to her clit, rubbing gently and getting the digit slick and wet. The other still has to hold her thigh firmly, otherwise I'm sure Glimmer would have fallen over entirely. It's a good thing her wings are only birthmarks or there's no way she wouldn't have soared into the sky out of pleasure.

Glimmer lets out a stream of expletives as Adora's finger enters her. In any other situation, I would tell her off for her language, but I've proven to have a dirty mouth myself so who am I to tell her to censor herself? The squelching noises of Adora's fingering are nearly as loud as the sounds of my sloppy blowjob. It seems we're both trying to be messy. For me, it's a welcome change to the pristine appearance I'm expected to uphold. For Adora, I know she wants to show Glimmer a good time.

My daughter's body is shiny, coated in a thin layer of sweat that seems to sparkle in the evening light. Her movements become more agitated and I watch in delight as she races towards her release. "I'm.. I'm close… oh fuck… I'm… I'm gonna…"

Wanting to have some fun with this, I release Adora from my mouth with a pop , sitting up so I'm kneeling before them.

“Stop,” I command. Adora immediately obeys, using her strength to lift Glimmer so that she can breathe and her tongue is no longer attached to her pussy. Glimmer eyes me with a mixture of curiosity and frustration, but mostly frustration. “Don’t look at me like that, young lady.”

“But Mom , I was about to-”

“I know,” I say, putting up a hand to silence her. “But I think you’re wet enough. Trust me, this will have been worth the wait.”

“But-”

“No buts!” I shift until my hands are on her shoulders and gently turn her until she is straddling Adora cowgirl style. “Try to disagree with me and I may just have to punish you.” The both of them physically shiver. The power I have over them makes me giddy.

The cogs in my head turn. I realise Glimmer and I never officially said how far the two of us would go together. While with Adora, we would obviously go all the way, how far between mother and daughter is too far? I decide that a soft kiss on the forehead isn’t pushing it, gently pressing my lips there as I let Glimmer steady herself on me, Adora’s cock aimed straight at her dripping entrance.

“Take it slow, darling,” I whisper, brushing away some hair that has stuck to her sweaty face. “Adora is quite well endowed.” The sharp gasp that escapes her mouth is music to my ears, Her nails dig into my shoulder blades as Adora grabs her hips, gently lowering her down. Her eyes roll back as she gets used to the immense length inside her, rocking her hips slightly to take every inch. It takes every ounce of my willpower to not reach out and caress her breasts or grace my fingers lightly over her clit to ease the pain. While a small part of me wants to so desperately, I’m not sure if that would put Glimmer off the whole experience. Though, sharing an athletic intersex warrior with one’s mother is already skirting the line of taboo.

“Don’t shortchange me now,” Adora says as Glimmer is able to steady herself without my help. “I said I was going to please both of you, didn’t I?”

I let out a sharp squeal as I feel Adora wrap an arm around me, pulling me until I’m straddling her face and facing my daughter. Immediately, her mouth latches onto my dripping centre like a magnet to metal. Her tongue is gentle at first, skirting the outside of my lower lips before gently parting them. At the same time, I can feel her movements beneath me, her body shaking as she plants her feet flat on the ground, thrusting upwards. A rhythmic slapping noise fills the room as Glimmer takes every inch, her hands clawing at the plush carpet beneath her. An incoherent series of moans and screams escape her, any control over her mind she once had gone in an instant, the second Adora found her rhythm.

“Oh, yes Adora!” I feel her lick harder, sucking on my lower lips like it's the tastiest treat. Involuntarily, I rock my hips, trying to feel the most pleasure that I can. At the same time, my hands gravitate towards my own breasts, kneading the soft flesh and getting myself more worked up.

Glimmer's gaze meets mine, her pink pupils dilated, full of lust. Our shared look feels intimate, like touching without touching, and something within me stirs. I have to remind myself constantly to not lay a hand on her, no matter how much I want to, because that's not what she wants.

She cries out Adora's name over and over, every syllable melding together until it's unclear whether she's moaning her lover's name or just saying ah repeatedly. Her bounces are increasing in speed, her perky breasts bouncing with her every movement. Her pink hair sticks to her sweaty face and she uses her hand to brush it aside, only to quickly grab something to keep her balance. What she ends up grabbing is me, falling into my stronghold as I reach out to catch her so she doesn't hurt herself. My breath hitches when I realise how close we are, and my breath is taken away entirely as I feel Adora place a hand on each ass cheek, spreading them apart. Her tongue darts at the clenched muscle before slowly teasing the tight hole, making me scream. At the same time, her hand slinks around, sliding two slick fingers into my pussy until my screams are reduced to ragged pants.

Glimmer is the same, her voice lost, broken breaths and gasps the only sound that can be heard on top of the thrusting or wet fingering. When she finally speaks, I'm surprised she doesn't let another profanity escape her, instead whispering " Mom… ", a hoarse, throaty groan. We lock eyes and seem to get the same idea at the same time, as the second I reach out to grip her shoulders, her fingers are tangled in my hair and she pulls me into a heated kiss. I feel as if a flame has been lit inside me. This is so wrong, but there isn't a single fibre of my being that wishes to stop. Glimmers lips are soft and hesitant at first, but in seconds, she gains confidence, biting and nibbling on my bottom lip. Her eyes are ablaze with lust, telling me that she has every intention to continue our forbidden relationship.

Adora seems to sense movement on top of her. I wonder if she knows what we're doing, whether the taboo nature of it all spurs her on as much as it does me. Regardless of her awareness, her speed reaches its peak, one I can only associate with She-Ra's legendary strength. It is this that sends me over the edge and I almost fear I will suffocate the poor girl with the way my thighs are clenching around her head, squeezing tightly as I squirt all over us, every nerve on fire.

My daughter's body is surrounded by small glimmering sparkles as I see her near her end. With a final shriek that I worry will wake the castle, she collapses, letting me hold her in my arms as she erupts. I imagine Adora has cum too, as I can see droplets of the white creamy liquid running down her shaft and staining the inside of Glimmer's thighs as she continues to bounce on the length of her shaft.

After a few moments, it becomes clear that the two of us have exhausted ourselves, finally rolling off and lying down, the three of us a tangled heap of sweaty limbs. Not a word is said as we take a few moments to attempt to catch our breath.

"I'm going to be the first to say I thoroughly enjoyed that," I pant.

Glimmer looks at me, uncertainty clearly showing in her eyes. “Are you… did we… are you okay with what we did?” she stammers.

I offer my daughter a tired smile. “I suppose I should have expected it. There’s no way we could share Adora without doing things with each other. It’s not normal, but as long as we keep it a secret between us, within these walls, it will be alright.”

Adora transforms back, her body completely drained. She wraps an arm around each of us, pulling the both of us close. “I love you guys.”

“I love you guys too,” Glimmer replies immediately.

After a moment of thought, I snuggle my head against Adora’s bare chest, feeling its slow rise and fall beneath me. “Hear, hear.”
