Head and Tails

by TL_Hercules

Summary

Adora and Scorpia have found a game they like to play as means of relaxation. It is a game that Adora does not like to lose, so she never does... Well, not exactly.

Notes

Note Update (5/16/2021):

dear reader,

when I was a beginner fic reader/writer, I was wholly intimidated by ao3 because it has a higher standard than, say, Wattpad and FFN. i write and publish now for the sake of making my younger self proud, showing myself that, "yes, you can do it, you did do it, and you will continue to do it so long as it makes you happy".

this piece was my direct response to the fact that there was no porn in this shipping tag that only involved these two. at the time of original publication (3/16/2021), i had decided that i liked this shipping and i wanted to see them with each other without being bogged down by plot or other characters.

currently, i feel almost the same way, except now i LOVE them and the idea of their relationship, so I'll continue writing them together, fucking and in love.

all of this to say, enjoy!

yours forever,

Head and Tails

Adora wasn't sure when exactly she had gotten used to seeing Scorpia laying on her own bed, her feet crossed behind her as she carefully held a pencil between her pincers. The pictures she drew were nothing but doodles, or so the artist thought. Most, if not all, of Scorpia's drawings, hung on the walls of Adora's bedroom: trophies of their time here because Scorpia would only draw them in this exact position and always on Adora's bed. Such were the perks of courting each other.

"How was the hike?" Scorpia chirped from over her shoulder as Adora treaded into her sunlit bedroom. She pretended to straighten out her golden hair in one of the mirrors, but her eyes stayed stuck on the little sway of Scorpia's tail-tip over her chiseled back. The snowy blonde's dark eyes stayed fixated on the page, her arm moving carefully to guide the pencil. "The Whispering Woods would be kind of cold today, right?"

"Yeah it was", she confirmed. Goosebumps lingered on her exposed skin where her training outfit didn't cover. She wasn't actually that cold on her mission outside. There was just too much sweating and movement involved to truly feel the chill. Adora cleared her throat. "So... What's up with you?"

Scorpia's tail coiled slightly and then immediately snapped back into place, hanging directly over her body. She put her pencil down gently and batted her eyelashes to Adora in the mirror, clearly having felt her watching. "I'm pretty sore."

Adora giddily backed away from the mirror with a half-smile that she tried to contain. If she wasn't so well versed in this particular woman, she would have definitely missed the signal. It wasn't quite clear if Scorpia was aware of the positions her tail assumed, but it didn't matter: Adora would have picked up on these little cues regardless. Quickly, she attempted to create an air of innocence, folding her hands in front of her. "Why are you sore?"

Of course, Adora already knew the answer. Scorpia still enjoyed her Fright Zone routines from when she was a soldier, much like Adora, except that she didn't recoil the same way when a blistering task was mentioned. She appreciated and seized those moments when they arrived. It wasn't a problem for Adora, other than occasionally worrying over her well-being and pitying Scorpia because she remembered how difficult it was to diverge from an old way of life for a new one. Today, before Adora had been hiking through the woods, Scorpia was busy building new homes for the villages destroyed in the chaos of the past. No one had specifically asked Scorpia to do anything, but there she was, always excited and somewhat desperate to help out where she could.

After the former Horde soldiers were granted the satisfaction of completing something that day, what was left was the need to be vulnerable. The need for each other. Scorpia propped herself up on her elbows and rested her chin on the smoothness of her claw, but she didn't sit upright. Adora's ears tinged with fire as she reared up behind her, taking note of the way Scorpia's tail slid further down her back to reveal the dips and curves of her powerful thighs. "I don't know", Scorpia sighed, her tone playful. "I probably tore something."

Adora blinked, nearly forgetting she even asked a question. "Uh", she waved a hand around, searching for another line to say. "What'd you tear? Where does it hurt?"

"My shoulder", she muttered and rolled it back for emphasis, the muscle bulging delightfully so. "Massage it for me?"

The sizzling of Adora's blood told her to lunge at the woman lying there on her bed, but her pride commanded her to wait for as long as she could. Adora cleared her throat and nodded curtly. "You should take your clothes off. So I can really get in there."

Scorpia's tail tip twitched, the point at the end glinting in the light. Adora bit her bottom lip, suppressing a wicked grin of triumph. She made the right move. Now it was a game of chicken and it was Scorpia's turn. She suddenly relaxed fully onto the bed, ever so slowly, her back arching as she did. "Gotta help me with that", she flashed a look of equal competition at Adora. "'Zippers back there, champ."

Adora choked on air. She didn't think about having to remove the clothes herself! As Scorpia graciously turned away to reach for a pillow, Adora wiped a layer of sweat off of her temples wishing that she thought further ahead. Okay. Scorpia won that round. Now it was time for Adora to even the score.

She reluctantly admitted that she needed a minute to regroup, but only silently. Quickly, she came up with an excuse, ignoring the pressure gathering in her loins. "I'm going to get the oil first."

"You do that", Scorpia giggled lowly. She knew very well that she was winning so far. Adora turned away, not wanting to give her satisfaction. Well, not this kind of satisfaction anyway. She buckled into her closets, pushing curtains aside and collecting the bottles she needed. How was she going to get on top of this situation?

The idea crackled in her brain like the Black Garnet's electricity.

Adora hurried back, skidding to a halt at the foot of her bed. She shook her head as Scorpia perked up, curiously. "No, no", Adora smiled. "Relax. I got this."

The scorpion woman quirked a brow but said nothing as she complied, resting her upper body on a pillow. Adora, still smiling, tapped the bottom of Scorpia's tail and pushed it aside, a flicker of pride flaring in her chest when her lovely opponent gasped. She glared back at Adora. "Hey!" Scorpia gave a high-pitched squeal, her cheeks flushing red. "You're a little cheater!"

"It's not cheating. How am I supposed to do anything if it's in the way?" Adora didn't bother defending herself further as Scorpia yelped at her fingertips drumming on the lower plates of the armor. It surprised Adora at first that Scorpia could feel anything here since it wasn't skin, but she had been proven wrong time and time again. The tail was just as sensitive as it was expressive.

She chuckled deeply when it twisted out of her grasp and curled over its owner's hips. "Now you're just being dramatic!"

"Just stop touching there!" Scorpia's whine marked the official brokenness of her sensuality, her raven-colored lips pouting. "Pervert", she grumbled.

"Me?" Adora climbed onto her bed, her knees sinking into the soft cushion. She pawed at Scorpia's clothes, smirking. "You asked me to undress you and I'm the pervert?"

"I actually can't reach the zipper!" Scorpia wriggled under the touch, though she didn't attempt to push Adora off. The muscles rippling between them told her that Scorpia was making a conscious effort to use no force.

"Then stop moving around!" Adora swung one leg over Scorpia's torso, her hands planted on the other's shoulder blades. She settled all of her weight on Scorpia, knowing even that wouldn't truly be enough to keep her there. Grinning, she yanked the zipper down, drinking in her partner's little whimper. "There. Let me pull it down, okay?"

When Scorpia didn't reply, she reached down at the swell of her spine and the base of her tail, rubbing it gently. Adora stayed perfectly balanced as the other trashed lightly. "I need a yes or no, sweetheart."

"Yes", Scorpia groaned. Adora's heart raced as she felt Scorpia's hips bucking from under her slowly and rhythmically. They hadn't even really done anything yet, but the thought that Adora had won their game was exhilarating. Even if she used "underhanded tactics" or, what she reasoned it as, her secret weapon for winning.

Adora very purposely slipped her fingertips down Scorpia's back as the zipper revealed more of her beautiful, rosy skin, and, from practice, she removed the fabric from her shoulder spikes, careful not to let anything snag on the jagged ends. It was still so amazing to Adora that someone could be this dangerous and alluring all at once. Or maybe Scorpia was dangerously alluring. It was like pricking her finger on a spindle over and over again for pleasure; she was reminded of the literal needle brimming with poison at the end of her partner's tail which flicked back and forth impatiently.

Adora chuckled deeply as she shuffled backward on her knees and tore the rest of the clothes off of Scorpia's upper body. "Watch your tail, won't you?"

"I'm trying", Scorpia muttered into her pillow, holding it tightly between the flat sides of her pincers. Adora laughed again, earning a little whine from the other. "I could control it better if you didn't— Ah!"

Adora snatched the end of Scorpia's tail in her strong hand, not minding the way the tapered point at the end glistened with toxicity. "If I didn't... what?" Adora asked with false intrigue.

"Y-You're doing it right now!" She squeaked and squirmed, her face flushing with color almost as bright as her exoskeleton.

"Doing what?" Adora tipped her head to one side, dragged her hand down the plates, and attempted to push aside the heat pooling between her legs at Scorpia's delightful cries into the pillow. "I only want to massage you, so I implore you to keep very still."

"O-Okay, okay", Scorpia exhaled sharply when Adora let her tail go free. It coiled down her thighs, far enough out of Adora's range. "Do it if you're going to do it!"

She cracked her taut knuckles one by one. By the eighth one, Scorpia wriggled from under her, sighing in exasperation. Like a brat. Adora paused. "What was that?"

"What was what?" Scorpia asked coyly, tossing her head back to flutter her pretty, dark eyelashes. "I didn't say anything."

"Mm." Adora found that she couldn't muster up any more authoritative power to keep Scorpia in line. She was being too cute. Frustrated, but mostly aroused, Adora went to work rubbing oil on her palms, the lavender scent wafting in the air. Scorpia shuddered slightly as Adora began gently pushing down on her defined muscles. "Keep still", Adora chided in a hushed tone. "Or I'll have to stop."

Scorpia agreed under her breath, but it was muffled by the pillow that she burrowed her face in. For a few minutes, Adora was actually intent on rubbing Scorpia's knots and tenseness away, until the receiver reminded her of what they were actually doing, maybe unintentionally, with a delicate moan escaping her lips. That shifted Adora's goal instantly, wiping away any other stray thoughts echoing through her head.

Adora shuffled lower until her hands brushed over the small of Scorpia's back. She tugged at the fabric bunched at her waist. "Sweetie, get up so we can take this off. I gotta get here too."

She gave Scorpia a few seconds to recollect her mind and got up off of her. The scorpion woman sighed dreamily as she rolled her shoulders back and peeled the top of her clothes off her chest, exposing her breasts. Adora swallowed an eager hiccup threatening to slip out at the sharp surge of heat in her center and the furious beating of her heart. Leisurely, Scorpia kneeled on the bed, deep enough so that her shapely butt pressed on her heels. Her tail flicked at Adora, gesturing her to do the honors.

Adora pounced, gripping Scorpia's strong hips and planting a kiss on the side of her neck. She couldn't help herself any longer, and it seemed that her partner couldn't either as she turned to catch Adora's lips. She breathed hotly on Scorpia's shoulder, pulling the rest of her clothes down and hooking her fingers into the panties underneath. "Don't move, darling." Adora dipped lower under the cloth, smiling softly at Scorpia's whimpers. "Or I'll have to stop."

"O-Okay", she agreed, purring. Adora abandoned the place she knew Scorpia wanted it most to reach up and cup her breasts instead. It seemed to have been so long since Adora had touched them because her heart pounded against her ribcage as if she had never done this before. Maybe it was the way Scorpia's carnal, beautiful sounds slipped out of her mouth at every pinch and caress of her nipples. She breathily laughed as soon as Adora trailed her hands back down her defined abdomen.

"What's funny?" She murmured in the crook of Scorpia's neck, careful to keep her skin away from her ruby spikes.

"I don't know", Scorpia's giggle was like a bunch of flower petals in the wind. "I can't believe I didn't like you once."

Adora couldn't either, but she didn't let this be known as she buried her hand between Scorpia's thighs. "What didn't you like about me?"

She took a sharp inhale as Adora pushed into the slickness waiting for her and began to slide up and down her heat. "Y-Your dumb hair poof."

Adora smirked. "And what else?"

"I don't know..." She trailed off. Adora kept her fingers still and clicked her tongue disapprovingly. Quickly understanding the new game, Scorpia pushed her hips into Adora's touch, desperate for more. "Your eyes! They're gorgeous and I'm s-still jealous."

"You have beautiful, sexy eyes, honey", Adora said huskily. She gave Scorpia what she wanted, brushing her thumb on her budding clit. "Keep going."

Adora was dimly aware of Scorpia's tail tip twitching nearby her calves. "I can't think when you do that", she whined. "I can't think about what I didn't like about you when I love you now."

Was it possible that her heart was going to burst? Adora was slack-jawed, her brow raised to her "dumb" hair poof.

Love.

They never used that one before.

She sighed, half chuckling. "I... love you too."

Scorpia gave her a sideways glance over her shoulder, her blush deepening. "I know."

"Well... tell me things you love about me then", Adora commanded smoothly. She pressed further into Scorpia's center. "And you can have what you want."

"Easy", she moaned. "Your dumb hair and your pretty eyes and the way you train and..." She cut herself off in a loud cry as Adora pushed inside of her with her middle and ring fingers. They stayed silent for a few seconds, only Scorpia's panting filling the room as she got used to the size. Adora grinned and pressed a kiss on her ear, encouraging her to continue. "I-I love... Mmph!"

Adora thought she would be able to hold herself back from pleasuring her partner in order to tease her a bit longer, but she quickly discovered otherwise. Once Scorpia's hips tilted down on her knuckles and she'd felt the wet, hot intensity of how much she was enjoying this— Nothing else seemed to matter, especially not her own silly pride. Whatever Scorpia was trying to say fizzled away into nonsensical noises, but of course, Adora knew what they meant, and she didn't need the extra step of syntax.

They were fighting for balance as Scorpia practically began fucking herself with Adora's hand, the smooth sides of her pincers touching Adora's wrist and keeping it there. She jerked her powerful hips until it almost hurt, but Adora couldn't find it within herself to care. She was doing her job and she loved her job. For a quick moment, Scorpia slowed her movements, panting like she was out of breath. Adora took the opportunity to curl her fingertips inside of her until she groaned and started up again.

She leaned into Scorpia's muscled back, breathing in her scent of sweat and desire, and the oh so familiar tang of sugar. Adora smiled against her skin and closed her eyes when Scorpia got louder, needier, tighter around Adora's fingers, and the inevitable brush of her venomous tail lingered on her thigh.

"A-Adora..." She moaned, tensely. The needle at the end of her tail twitched. A warning.

Mustering up all of her mental strength, Adora swiftly reached down and wrapped her fingers around the end of the tail, silencing its threat for the meantime, and triggering a blissful sob from her partner as she held it as hard as she possibly could. They had both been aware of the quirky nature of Scorpia's tail and how it needed to be subdued if any of her sexual partners wanted to live another day after. Sometimes, Adora couldn't help but wonder what would happen if she didn't catch it in time one of these days. Scorpia and few others claimed that she would simply be eaten as an act of scorpion love, but she could never imagine that. Scorpia was just too sweet to eat her. Wasn't she?

Adora kept her fist tightly closed around her tail as she breathed in Scorpia's scent again, and yes, she was very sweet. They had been open in their earlier discussions about these risks, and Adora hadn't cared as long Scorpia was happy too. She specifically remembered the pheromones discussion, because originally, she thought it was silly. The simple scent of Scorpia would make her want to let go of the tail and to let it sting her. Adora groaned lightly into Scorpia's shoulder as the scent flooded her mind and ignited her entire body, engulfing everything in pleasurable flames. She could not let go. She couldn't give in. This was, in fact, not a silly feeling at all.

Scorpia rode out her orgasm on her fingers while Adora leaned helplessly on her back until the feelings of wanting to be injected with that wonderful, pulsing drip of venom passed. "Fuck", Adora bit out, feeling her partner's wetness dribble down into her palm. "I think it gets harder every time we do this."

"What?" She panted softly, to Adora's surprise. Scorpia never really talked after climaxing, in fear of losing her concentration. To keep Adora safe. "What do you mean?"

"To resist you", she said without thinking about it. Maybe it was her scent. Maybe she liked the challenge all along and wanted to feel the adrenaline she once felt in battle. She didn't know.

"I-It's harder?" Scorpia's voice quivered, then she hissed in pain. "You can let go now, by the way..."

Adora paused. She let go of Scorpia's tail, dropping it like hot coals. She realized what she just said; the sensation of fire and excitement dimming when it finally clicked that she made a mistake. "Oh, honey, I didn't mean that. I'm sorry!"

"You don't have to be sorry", Scorpia muttered delicately and dipped her head. "I just... I won't ever be offended if you decide you don't want to do this anymore. I swear."

"I'm not ever going to want to stop", Adora chided playfully. She carefully slid out of Scorpia, her pride flaring at the shudder she got when she pulled out and reached for Scorpia's pretty lips. "Open."

"Y-Yeah?" She squirmed a little, not taking Adora's soaking fingers yet.

"Yes", Adora hummed and kissed her jawline. "I love you. I want you cumming on my hands all the time and..." She wiggled her fingertips.

Scorpia giggled, carefree, and gingerly kissed Adora's knuckles. "Pervert", she squeaked before eagerly sucking her own slickness clean. She made a small show of it, flicking her tongue and popping her lips when she was finished. Adora burst out in laughter despite her loving every bit of it, which only made Scorpia blush deeper. "Well, it would be rude if I didn't clean it off! Doesn't make you any less of a—"

"Pervert. Got it, got it", Adora chuckled, running her free hand across her partner's thigh. "Thank you", she said sincerely.

Scorpia gently pressed her butt back, giggling again.
"Thank you. I needed that."

"You can't thank me when I'm already thanking you!"

"Too bad", Scorpia huffed, turning around in spite of Adora. "I think I already did."

Adora furrowed her brows playfully and moved aside when Scorpia sat down to face her, her legs on either side of Adora's hips. "You're not accepting my gratitude?"

"I will accept your gratitude once you accept mine." Scorpia pursed her lips. "So, thank you, Adora. I had a wonderful time."

"I had an even better time", she muttered, getting closer to her partner's face in fake aggression. She didn't miss the flush of color creeping in near Scorpia's neck. "I fit inside of you so perfectly, it's like we were made for each other."

"W-Woah", Scorpia's voice cracked. She was full on blushing, her eyes darting shyly away and her pincer coming to rest on her bosom like she was trying to calm her heartbeat. "T-That's cheating. That can't not be cheating!"

"How am I cheating this time?" Adora rolled her eyes and placed her hand on top of Scorpia's pincer, trying her best to keep a straight face."You can just say you're a sore loser. I'd completely understand."

"It was so out of left field—" Then Scorpia's face lit up, backtracking the conversation. "Me?" She pushed Adora backward with her leg. "A sore loser?"

"Yes, you!" Adora balanced on her knees, her mouth open in laughter as she grabbed both of Scorpia's ankles and held them down on the bed. "Look at you now!"

It would have been impossible to miss the way her partner's muscular thighs shook with anticipation at the contact or the glistening of her center, but still, Adora decided to keep her eyes trained on Scorpia's lips. "That was your penalty for cheating", Scorpia said with very little robustness. "And if I play unfairly— which I never do— you can have your own penalty."

"Who said you could make penalties?" Adora narrowed her eyes, abandoning Scorpia's ankles to climb up and grip her hips instead. She was delighted at the way she fit between her legs as Scorpia locked them around her, but tried not to look too excited about it. "That's never been a thing. You just made that up because you're a sore loser." When Scorpia made no move to reply, Adora pressed a kiss on her top lip. "I think you deserve a penalty for coming up with unfair new rules", she whispered.

If Scorpia was aware of the ludicrous logic of this, she didn't bring it up, and Adora didn't think she would. Her eyes went half-lidded and she lowered her chin, blushing still. Some sort of switch in Adora's brain went off at that look. Boldly, she planted a kiss on Scorpia's lips again, fully, as if she was going to leave and never come back after this. They moaned into each other, Adora tasting the heavy sweetness that always made her want to be stung. It suddenly dawned on her that she could be tasting elsewhere.

"I just had an idea", Adora murmured, running her fingertips along her partner's hardened nipples and smiling when she shuddered.

"For a penalty?" Scorpia's eyes fluttered closed, her legs flexing further around Adora's waist.

"Mhm." Adora pecked her lips quickly before continuing. "I'm going to eat you out and when you're close, you'll beg me to stop because you don't want to cum without my permission..."

Scorpia's eyes widened as if Adora suggested that they jump off of a cliff. "That's so cruel and elaborate!" She tilted her head to one side, kissing Adora gently and slowly pulling back. "I like it", she laughed loudly. "I really like it!"

"I knew you would", Adora nuzzled her head into the crook of Scorpia's neck, giving it a quick nip. "Now lay down."

"You're ready again?" Scorpia stiffened momentarily as she opened her legs to let Adora go.

"Sure am." She nodded firmly. "I want you to put a pillow on the end of your tail this time."

"You think that's gonna work?"

"I said it didn't I?" Adora snorted, putting her hands on her hips to seem even more confident. They locked eyes and Adora gave Scorpia a big, bright smile. "Tasting you is gonna be more than worth getting stung. Not that I think you will."

The wash of color that spread on Scorpia's features was enough to convince Adora to get on her knees and kiss the tip of her tail twitching on the side of the bed. The needle just barely pierced her lip. Scorpia looked on in disbelief and snatched it back, tucking it across her thigh and away from Adora. "You really like playing with fire", Scorpia gulped.

"I like playing with you", Adora said seriously. "Nothing you do will ever make me feel any different."

Scorpia didn't so much as breathe. She took her pillow from earlier and burrowed the needle at the end of her tail into the cloth. Finally, she reached over to brush a lock of golden hair out of Adora's face with a gentle claw. "I'm not sure if those are the pheromones talking—" She pressed the smooth side of her claw into Adora's lips as she began to rebuttal. "—but, I feel the same way about you. I really do love you, so I trust that you know what you're doing."

Scorpia put either of her legs on the sides of Adora's face, her cheeks promptly flushing scarlet. A fresh wave of sugary desire filled Adora's senses as she stared right into the pussy her fingers fucked minutes before. Scorpia's hips twitched up at Adora's breath and she watched in amazement as her arousal dribbled down her folds, waiting to be lapped up. "I trust you", Scorpia repeated, moaning this time. She relaxed, running her calf down Adora's back to pull her closer. "Please be careful."

Adora wasted no time, roughly kissing Scorpia's lower lips and muffling her laughter as those powerful thighs closed around her head, trapping her there for good. It wasn't like she had any intentions of leaving anyway. She lashed her tongue anywhere she could get it, fighting with Scorpia indirectly for control. Her opponent was nearly winning thanks to her size and strength, but Adora had another secret weapon.

Power collected in her very bones. Her muscles scrunched up at the force of magic filling them out and flooding them with raw energy. The familiar crackle of intensity burst in her spirit as her body grew taller, heavier, and mightier. Adora— or, She-Ra now— erupted into a fit of laughter as Scorpia's eyes sparkled in astonishment. She still fit between her partner's legs, but now she wasn't completely smothered.

"I kind of miss not being able to breathe", She-Ra joked, her voice brimming with satisfaction. She used her large shoulders to push Scorpia's legs open further and grabbed the backs of her knees. She-Ra wasn't susceptible to being wooed by Scorpia's scent, but she did still think it was lovely. She tugged Scorpia forward, her smile sharpening into a smirk when her partner gave a sexy little moan and arched her back up. "You're okay with this?"

Scorpia nodded, pressing herself into She-Ra's face. "Stop teasing me", she gasped. "Please, Adora!"

"Shh, shh", She-Ra dipped her head down, purposely talking against Scorpia's clit and smiling when she cried out in pleasure. "You're supposed to be begging me not to bring you there, remember?"

"I-I don't know how much l-longer..." She stopped talking to bite down on her pincer instead, an adorable squeal being pinched out from her lips. She-Ra dragged her tongue over Scorpia's sweet, soaking center, not stopping once for air and only to push inside of her partner's entrance, just to drive her even crazier. "Adora! Adora!" Scorpia tried pulling her legs away, but She-Ra held them in place effortlessly. She didn't stop thrashing under her mouth, not a drop of her wetness escaping She-Ra's tongue. "I-I can't... Please..."

"Please what?" She looked up from her work, a brow rising in smugness. "Use your words, sweetie."

"Mm... Please don't make me cum yet", she whined, avoiding her partner's gaze. "I w-want your permission first."

"My permission for what?"

"T-To cum."

She-Ra wanted to be satisfied with that. She really did. But she saw the flash of warm affection pooling in Scorpia's gaze and She-Ra's mighty chest swelled with prideful desire. She couldn't just give Scorpia what she wanted when she deserved so much more. "Oh, honey." She-Ra purred softly. "I'm not done with you yet. Don't you dare cum, okay?"

That sparked a pouting, whimpering mess of Scorpia, who attempted to twist out of She-Ra's grasp again, her muscles flexed in the effort. They squirmed around, She-Ra placing her hands firmly on Scorpia's hips and pinning her down. Panting wildly, Scorpia's tail curled and swished beneath her spine, the pillow still stuck on the end. "Let me c-cum!" Scorpia pleaded, exasperated and needy. Her lidded eyes screwed shut and she covered her face with her pincers as She-Ra lapped at the fresh arousal beckoning for her tongue. "I-I really can't... Oh! I'm c-cumming! I-I... T-That's so good!"

She-Ra's cheeks were warm listening to the chorus of pleased cries and, amazingly, her jaw ached as she let Scorpia's hips go so she could ride out the orgasm she hadn't gotten permission to have. In the back of her mind, she figured that she could bring this up with Scorpia for the next time they did this. For now though, she nestled deeper between Scorpia's thighs, gladly allowing her to fuck her face for a few glorious moments.

Gradually, She-Ra was fading away as Scorpia collapsed onto the bed and curled up her legs into her chest. Her tail twitched, but it made no move to attack, so Adora— she waited until She-Ra was gone for sure— quickly stood up. She leaned over her partner, smiling. "I'll be right back, okay?"

"Mm", Scorpia hummed, not opening her eyes, and resting her cheek on the smoothness of her claw.

Adora trotted out and swiftly return like she promised with a cup of tea. She sat down beside Scorpia, running a hand through her snowy hair. "I have a gift."

"Tea?" She opened one dark eye, curious.

"That's the one."

Scorpia rolled over on her back, resting her claws on her chest. "I never showed you what I drew for you."

Adora set the cup of tea down on the floor and climbed over to kiss Scorpia's forehead. "What can I add to my collection today?" The scorpion woman tipped her head towards the bundle of papers under a few more pillows. She reached over and examined the picture. "Is that Swift Wind?"

"Yup."

"Is he wearing a top hat?"

"More of a bowling cap— but yes, classy wear."

Adora was silent for a few seconds. "So, where's his horn?"

"His what?" Scorpia blinked.

"His horn..." Adora motioned to the missing piece on cartoon Swift Wind's head.

"I thought that was a little horse sword!" She sat up with genuine confusion in her voice. "You didn't put that on him?"

Technically, she did. So Adora just nodded. "But... It's not a removable piece, just so you know."

"Oh", Scorpia brought her claw up to her chin, still looking confused.

Adora shrugged. "It's alright. The rules on it weren't exactly clear; I probably would have tried to pop it off if I had the free time."

"Do we have the free time now?" She asked innocently.

Adora smiled. "No. I'm going to go hang this up." She leaned in for one more kiss. "I love you."

"I love you too." She glanced sideways, her tail swaying back and forth. The pillow was still stuck on the end. "But now I'm hungry."

"For... me?" Adora's eyes grew wide. "Did the pillow work?" She asked without hesitation. She wasn't sure how frightened she should have been yet.

"No, no!" Scorpia raised her pincers, worry etched on her face. "I didn't mean you. I mean, just in general, I like to eat after sex."

Oddly enough, Adora laughed without meaning to, maybe out of relief. "I get it", she nodded. "I'll go get something to eat for us." Scorpia agreed, getting up to follow her out of the doorway, but immediately paused when Adora whirled back around. "You're still naked!" She gently nudged her back, horrified at the thought that someone who wasn't her would see Scorpia like this. She guided Scorpia back to the bed. "You stay here. I'll be right back, again."

"What am I supposed to do when you're gone?" She pouted, crossing her legs and coiling the pillow at the end of her tail near the base of her spine.

"Draw", Adora patted the top of her head. "Swift Wind still needs a horn."

Chapter Summary

Adora and Scorpia wake up together. They immediately tease each other.

Chapter Notes

dear reader,

while i was writing this, I was listening to SO much classical music that I forgot that some songs actually have lyrics. i remember sort of listening to a piece that I think was called "romeo and juliet" and, oh, i'm a hopeless romantic.

i was having such a hard time with the companion chapters at first because i wasn't sure how to continue it, but then i started writing and it's soooooooo fucking long. i might be an overwriter, but im not sure.

all of this to say, enjoy.

best regards,

hercules

Scorpia kept her eyes closed against the warm wash of sunlight beaming on her face. She had been awake for a few long minutes now, but she had also been acutely aware of the still, steadily breathing woman tucked under her pincer. As she found it almost every morning, she had no intention of disturbing Adora's sleep, even if it meant pretending to be asleep herself.

Adora more often than not woke up well after Scorpia for no other reason than she had missed so much needed sleep ever since she was a child. Scorpia would have pitied this fact if she wasn't the one lucky enough to share a bed with Adora and watch the way her limbs twitched when she was evidently fighting some unknown thing in her dreams.

She couldn't help but wonder if Adora dreamed of herself in the body she started in, or as She-Ra. There was probably a different feeling associated with both, Scorpia guessed, because Adora would get twice as brazen when she was parading around as an eight-foot-tall warrior. It was certainly warranted, and Scorpia grew to fall madly in love with both versions of Adora. Sometimes, she didn't know what else to do with the soft, gentleness of her heart in her chest, except to let her object of affection know how much she cherished them with physical contact. Helpless to stop herself, Scorpia smiled at Adora's gentle snoring and placed a kiss on her forehead, finally opening her eyes and drinking in the sunlight glittering across the bedroom.

She loved the chaotic golden strands of hair cascading all over their pillow and the strings of drool pooling from the side of Adora's mouth. Blessedly, Scorpia was the first person, out of all of the people in Etheria and beyond, to see Adora like this so early in the morning. Though she tried, Scorpia couldn't imagine a greater honor than this. Adora let out a sleepy groan and responded to the kiss with a groggy smile.

"I don't know what time it is", Adora grumbled softly. "But it's still too early. Go back to sleep."

"It's too early for complaining!" Scorpia giggled, her voice full and awake. She brushed their foreheads together to let Adora know that she was in a great mood already, her heartbeat quickening with fondness. "There's so much of the day to seize! So much to do!"

Adora emitted a low hum, blinking her gorgeous, sky-blue eyes against the light. "And so many dreams to chase..." She twisted away, stretching out her arms and legs, and eventually her neck and shoulders when Scorpia let her go. "I guess it's too late to go back to them now", she yawned, showing all of her teeth and the back of her mouth. "Good morning, Scorpia."

"Good morning, Adora." Scorpia dipped her head politely. She found humor in the way Adora squinted at her, offended. "What?" She tried to keep her voice even and innocent.

"Aren't you going to give me a kiss?" Adora wriggled her way under Scorpia's arm again, her previously cloudy gaze turned bright with expectation. "I can't get out of bed without one."

"Mmm?" Scorpia's tail flicked from the side of their bed, coyly. "You're She-Ra, you'll be fine without it for one morning."

"No, I won't", Adora said, frowning. She pressed closer to Scorpia's face. "Neither will She-Ra. You give me power. Energy. I need a kiss, please."

Scorpia's tail swayed back and forth as if it were dancing, her entire body buzzing with joy. "Wellllll..." She clicked her tongue, knowing she wouldn't be able to resist Adora so long as those sky-blue eyes sparkled pleadingly. "I don't know..."

"Pretty please?" Adora's hand made it's way up to Scorpia's collarbones, sliding towards the back of her neck. "With a cherry on top?"

A huge, silly grin was pushing on the sides of Scorpia's mouth, but she remained strong, refusing again with a slow shake of her head. Adora's irises blew out wide before she threaded her fingers into snowy-blonde hair, running her nails across Scorpia's scalp. "You want me to keep begging? I can do this all day." There was a competitive edge to her words, something Scorpia was quite familiar with.

"I'm sure you can", Scorpia purred and tilted her head back, enjoying the feeling of her hair being played with.

"I can and I will." The fingernails created seemingly random patterns, until Adora's hand made its way down to Scorpia's collarbone once more, teasing the skin there with gentle circles. "Is that what you want?"

"A little bit", she sighed, loving the hard determination in Adora's voice. Her eyes fluttered closed as the nails trailed up to her earlobe, caressing it slowly. She liked where this was going and grew even more excited when Adora shifted her body to rest her leg in between Scorpia's thighs. "If you ask me again, I might give in", she muttered softly, smiling.

However, it seemed that Adora had a change of plans that went beyond a mere kiss. Adora's arm reached around her waist and towards her hips. Scorpia knew what was going to happen, opening her eyes, and peered down at the triumphant look on Adora's face. Instantly, she felt her skin simmering with heat as Adora's soft, human hand closed around the sensitive tip of her tail.

"What are your plans for today?" Gently, Adora began working her palm up toward the needle, ignoring the small droplets of poison collecting at the very point. "I heard the Fright Zone is due for reconstruction soon."

"Ah... Yeah. I-It is." Now that the war was over, the former grounds of Scorpia's kingdom would be returned to her. It was truly exciting news for the future, so she tried to focus on this instead of the increasingly tantalizing desire to drive her stinger forward. She knew that, no matter how many times she gave the warning, Adora simply didn't believe that Scorpia would have the capability of really hurting her. Maybe she was correct in her stubbornness, and yet, Scorpia could barely control her thoughts, an instinctual whisper that she followed the tradition of cutting her lover's life short and eating the remains.

Scorpia shivered, hating that she loved the idea of having that experience with Adora, whom she treasured more than she did her own feelings. Therefore, she'd never actually go through with something as permanent as mating. Real mating, not "sex" that every non-arachnid insisted on calling it. No, "sex" was for mammals. It was sweaty and sloppy but still felt incredibly good, as Adora had proven many, many times.

Mating on the other hand was precise and elegant, something Scorpia had pieced together herself the very same day she'd also begun her first molting. She was a fully grown woman at that point and the heavy, scratchy weight of an old exoskeleton was a relief to finally remove. The only downfall of this process was that now she was too delicate to touch without her bursting into tears at the pain, or in the case of her tail armor, hissing with pleasurable confusion.

Admittedly, she never liked being the only girl with a poison stinger. It was always only a conversation piece between her kid-soldier friends and a burden to explain to her commanding officers that she had no idea how to control the flow of venom when she stung. The molting had uncovered something new, however. She had flicked the point of her tail, a little longer than it had been a year ago, in front of her face, examining it with a critical eye. Nothing seemed to be wrong at the time. In fact, it was the only part of her exoskeleton that hadn't been crinkling up and falling away into new, shinier armor. But when young Scorpia looked closer, she began to notice that the clear liquid running down in rivulets at the point was her own toxicity, something she had previously been able to control unconsciously.

What else was there to do but to go along with her daily instruction in the Horde? The incident of her molting wasn't considered a medical emergency and she knew that her poison flowing freely wouldn't sway that judgment. However, for hours and hours, she couldn't focus long enough to please her superiors. She found herself much more interested in the wet heat between her legs and satisfying the hungry pit in her belly.

She had kept to herself for days at a time when things of this nature continued to happen. Underneath the covers of her bed, she found safety and comfort and privacy to deal with something no one else would be able to understand. She'd spent most of this time finding a suitable surface to grind down against, just so that it would stop and she could think sensibly again. It always took long, antagonizing hours to bring herself to a climax, and even longer to come to terms with the fact that she'd probably never have "sex" because she'd get far too hungry as soon as the warm aftershocks of an orgasm died down.

Adora's hand never paused its motions. A sharp prod to the rounded base of her stinger brought Scorpia back to the present. She hadn't realized that Adora had been staring at her the whole time, her face blank. "What were you thinking about?" Adora asked almost indifferently, ignoring the shuddering gasp Scorpia gave. "The Fright Zone?"

"S-Sort of", Scorpia shrugged, her cheeks glowing with embarrassment. It was rare that she was too shy to explain her thoughts and feelings to Adora, but when it came to her arachnid body, there was a severe lapse in understanding between the two of them. Most notably, even though Scorpia craved attention to her tail, she'd already heavily discouraged it, to no avail. "I was thinking about the Horde."

"Yeah?" Adora leaned forward in interest and tipped her head to one side. Her voice was feather-soft and sweeter than honey as she dragged her thumb furiously up and down Scorpia's stinger. "And what about it?"

Knowing that it would only allow Adora to feel victorious, Scorpia refused to answer and instead turned away, hiding her blushing face. Every slight movement of Adora's hand sent waves of pleasure coursing down her spine and straight in between her legs, which were beginning to tremble. Slowly, as not to alert Adora, Scorpia raised her hips to receive more of that beautiful pressure on her hot, wet center.

Unfortunately, Adora was no fool. She easily slipped her knee further down onto Scorpia, tightening her grip around the tail tip. "You won't kiss me, but have no problem with getting off?"

She stifled a moan, keeping her eyes purposely trained on the floor below. There was no need to look because she could feel that the confident, ambitious expression on Adora's face wasn't going to leave anytime soon. It was much too easy for Adora to provoke her arousal, and lately, it seemed to be all Adora wanted to do. Naturally, Scorpia was content with this; all she wished was that the bold, fiery determination of Adora would rub off on her at some point so that maybe she could give a better experience for her lover.

As Scorpia didn't answer the question, Adora nuzzled closer to the crook of her neck, breathing in the thick, sweet scent that was no doubt wafting in the air. Scorpia had little to no control over the pheromones being released, but she knew that this aspect of her body was truly reserved for Adora. It never happened without her lover being present. Sometimes it frightened Scorpia because before Adora she could release pheromones for whoever she found attractive at the moment. Now it seemed as if her body were aware that she never wanted to leave Adora's side; that she was so in love that she wanted no other to be affected by her scent as if that would be a betrayal to Adora.

"You already smell so good..." The words were murmured against Scorpia's skin, spreading her smoldering blush down to her chest. Adora's hand on her stinger slowed, distracted.

Scorpia nodded, almost too shy to speak. With her scent came her arousal, which she felt soaking the cotton of her panties against Adora's knee. "For you", she whispered. "It's for you."

"I want all of you", Adora declared softly.

"Of course", Scorpia agreed, nearly moaning.

"Is all of you for me?"

Again Scorpia nodded, this time far too flustered and giddy to confirm such a thing with words. All of Scorpia was for Adora. She shivered in delight.

"Say it."

She felt hot to the touch, ready to melt away with her embarrassment and sudden self-consciousness. Still, she pushed past her feelings to please Adora. "A-Alright", she said, finding the floor of the bedroom much more interesting than she ever had. "All of me... is for you."

"Good job", she heard Adora smiling. "All of me is for you as well."

It took her by surprise when Adora pushed up and with her free hand, guided her chin over so that their noses touched. Slowly, Adora leaned forward, planting a deep kiss on Scorpia's lips and making her tremble with happiness.

Adora peeled herself away, leaving Scorpia with less heat than she wanted, despite not actually being cold. She blinked in confusion, but Adora only grinned wickedly. "Well, it seems that we've reached the natural conclusion for something like this", her tone was too playful and mocking for Scorpia to take her furrowed brows seriously. "Now that I have my kiss, I can get on with my morning!"

In the absence of Adora's knee, Scorpia pressed her thighs together and crossed her ankles, wanting any kind of friction to soothe her lustful ache. She felt herself pouting, and unable to stop it, she whined: "You're always cheating! Why are you like this?"

"I haven't the slightest idea what you mean", Adora feigned innocence, but her haughty glare gave her away. "We weren't playing a game, were we?"

"You were playing with me", Scorpia puffed out her still blushing cheeks, turning her back to Adora. Her tail was coiled around her hips, far out of Adora's reach. The end of it was warm with the lingering attention it received, leaking with droplets of poison. Scorpia was just about ready to throw an adult tantrum, frustrated at the wetness that continued to collect between her legs and the hard press of her nipples against her bra.

"Oh, don't be sad, sweetheart." Adora's hand rested on her shoulder. "I'll make it up to you!"

Scorpia scoffed. The only way she could think of Adora making amends was with hours upon hours of sloppy, sweaty, but fantastic sex. An apology she could only accept after multiple, hard orgasms that made her forget her own name. "Doubtful", she grumbled. They both had things to do today, in public no less. "I'm off to the Fright Zone and you'll be here in Bright Moon."

"So?" Adora asked with genuine curiosity. "What's that got to do with anything?"

Embarrassed for what felt like the millionth time, Scorpia crawled out of bed, her tail quivering above her head as she stretched. Adora didn't need to know what she was thinking. It would only give her more reasons to be conniving with her teases. "Nothing", she called over her shoulder. She ambled to the washroom, ignoring Adora's quick footsteps behind her. "Do you want to take a bath first? I can wait."

Hard, muscled arms latched around her waist. Adora's breath was warm on her back. "Why don't we take one together? It'll save some time, won't it?"

If Scorpia wasn't a roughly trained soldier at one point, she probably would have allowed her knees to buckle, and she would swoon like the princess she was. "I don't want to take a bath with you", she hissed, poking Adora's hands away with the blunt side of her pincers. "You're mean!"

"I'm not mean so much as you're a sore loser!" Adora stayed put, tightening her grasp when Scorpia's tail swished indignantly. "Anyway, you started this; all I wanted was a good morning kiss!"

"Well, you got it!" There was no resentment between them at all, something that was made abundantly clear at Adora's chuckling.

Despite this, Scorpia mustered up her best annoyed tone of voice, remembering that her body was still releasing sweet, but obnoxious pheromones all due to Adora's antics. She made it known to Adora, swiftly turning around and holding her in a hug. "And at what cost? I can't leave your room until I smell normal!"

"Well, if you're here longer, I'm grateful", Adora huffed, grinning up at Scorpia with wide, sparkling eyes. "Are you sure you don't want to share a bath? I can help you wash your back."

"No, 'cause you'll start normally, flatter me, and then we'll end up..." She waved her pincers around, clicking them open and closed in exasperation. "You know..."

"I don't know", Adora said plainly. "You'll have to tell me."

"You do know! We do it all the time!"

"More the reason to say it, isn't it?"

"No", Scorpia complained. "You just want to hear me say it!"

"I do!" She could practically taste Adora's smugness. "I do want you to say that we have sex. That we fuck, even. That we fuck like rabbits in spring..."

Scorpia shook Adora off before she could get any cruder and stared at her, baffled. The deep rosiness of Adora's face and neck wasn't new to Scorpia, but still, it surprised her. It was the color of a woman drunk on pheromones, ready to please her with intimacy. "Mating", "sex", "fucking"; it didn't matter what it was called. Scorpia wanted it. She wanted it so badly.

She sighed.

But this would have to wait. There really were things to do in the Fright Zone, and she'd at least have to make some announcement to postpone it. Meanwhile, if Adora stayed love-drunk, there was no telling what she would miss out on today. Scorpia didn't think it was fair and gently explained to Adora that, although she was soaking wet and smelled like she had been dipped in sugar, it would be best to finish what they started when they were free of responsibility.

"Okay", Adora frowned, understanding the logic quickly enough. Sneakily, she bounced up on her toes, giving Scorpia one last kiss. "I'll see you soon!"

"Not soon enough", Scorpia said bittersweetly. "I love you!"

Adora's face broke out into a smile. There was no jeering, no overconfidence, and no bragging. This was a smile of gratitude. "I love you, too! Have a good time!"

After her bath alone and a trip to the Fright Zone, Scorpia really did try her hardest to have a good time like Adora said. But she could still feel the tension of her center and her heart's desire both wanting to be with Adora. It was not the most productive mix. Scorpia could barely focus, and it was horribly reminiscent of when she was younger and never dreamed of being intimate with someone.

As she walked around the new Fright Zone, she began to wonder if Adora would ever move over here to be with her. She knew that Bright Moon had been Adora's home for such a long time already, and yet... Scorpia was only a visitor there. She'd have to sit on the throne of her bloodline's legacy and rebuild everything from scratch, literally and politically. She wanted Adora there with her, not as She-Ra, Champion of Etheria, but as her loving, supportive wife.

Scorpia blushed at her own thoughts. She was still in the company of civilians and fellow Horde veterans helping out with construction, but there she was wallowing absently in her love-sickness. She should be helping, not hoping for some vague future!

The trip back to Bright Moon seemed very fast, for all Scorpia could think about was what training outfit Adora might be wearing when she got back home. A tight top and loose bottoms? A loose top and tight bottoms? Loose, top and bottom? Tight, top and bottom? She smiled lazily. All of the options were very attractive to her, and although she liked to pretend she had preferences, she thought Adora looked stunning in anything and everything.

She barely made it through the courtyard before she was met with pale-blue eyes, miles of silky, golden hair, and a firm kiss on her forehead that only an eight-foot tall woman could give. "Hi, honey", She-Ra greeted plainly. "You're back early."

"Good thing I am!" Scorpia chirped, clinking her pincers together in front of her waist. Something was very suspicious about the way She-Ra's nose bridge dusted pink. She-Ra never blushed. She had no concept of being shy or ashamed. What was so different now? Scorpia raised her brows, officially knowing that something was awry when She-Ra scuffed her perfectly polished boot on the ground like a child caught stealing candy. "Just what have you been up to?" Scorpia placed her pincers on her hips.

"Well, don't sound like you're accusing me of something!" The giant woman tensed her huge shoulders before rubbing the back of her neck. "I've been training", she muttered, looking away. "Trying new things."

"Like what?" Scorpia inched closer to her lover's counterpart, batting her eyelashes. While Adora usually had to touch Scorpia's tail to fluster her, Scorpia had the much more useful ability to fluster Adora (and She-Ra) with only a look.

Instantly, She-Ra gaped, the tips of her ears tinged red. "Nothing that you should know of yet!"

"Yet?" Scorpia laid on the charm again, batting her lashes and touching her bottom lip with her pincer. "Why 'yet'? Why not now?"

"You'll know soon enough", She-Ra grumbled meekly. She reached her hand out to pet Scorpia's hair. "Patience is a virtue, darling."

"That doesn't answer my question!" Scorpia peered one eye from under She-Ra's massive hand, frowning. "I want to know now!"

"Well, my answer is going to have to suffice!" She-Ra shrugged her huge shoulders. Her hand left Scorpia's head and one strong finger tapped the point of her nose. "Not even a spoiled princess like you can always get what she wants, exactly when she wants it", She-Ra teased, the lofty edge of her voice returning with full force.

"Spoiled?" Scorpia huffed, swiping away She-Ra's touch with the blunt side of her pincer. "I am not spoiled! I want to know what you're doing! Something's different about you!"

"I have been working out more", She-Ra's voice was even heavier with cockiness as she swung both arms up into the air and let them come down in an easy flex. Scorpia could count the individual muscles twitching with power, trailing along She-Ra's shoulders; to her biceps and triceps; to her miraculously thick forearms, and the veins popping out at each of those rough knuckles. She-Ra's arms dropped down to her sides, but the lack of flexing didn't hide the massive bulges of beautifully constructed flesh. She-Ra grinned, her teeth as bright as sunlight. "Naughty girl! Don't swoon over me like that in public; it'll be a lot harder to explain how you aren't actually wearing perfume to strangers."

Heated shyness swelled on Scorpia's cheeks as She-Ra continued to chuckle. It was hard to detect at precisely what moment Scorpia's body began producing pheromones for the second time that day, but she figured that She-Ra's muscled, beautiful arms were to blame for it. The timing was so inconvenient. Scorpia pressed herself into She-Ra's chest, immediately wanting protection from others who could have possibly picked up on her scent of lust. It was only for Adora to be affected by and for She-Ra to indulge in since the chemicals had no effects on this form.

"Aw, what's wrong?" She-Ra wrapped an arm around Scorpia, glancing down in concern. "I'm not getting under your skin, am I? You know how I like to play. I didn't mean to..."

"Let's go somewhere private", Scorpia breathed, looking up through her eyelashes. She rubbed her thighs together, trying to stay composed, despite the hot, wetness pooling from her center.

She-Ra's pale-blue eyes widened. She blushed a light pink. In any other circumstances, Scorpia would have taken this moment to poke fun at Adora's extremely arrogant counterpart, but she was too busy imagining said extremely arrogant counterpart doing things to her that scorpion women were not naturally inclined to do. Instead of mentioning She-Ra's abnormal reaction, Scorpia nuzzled her smoldering cheek against She-Ra's hard bicep.

"Take me to the bedroom, Adora..." Scorpia used her real name, as to not lessen the fact that She-Ra was only a counterpart and not the one she fell in love with first. She yelped in surprise as she was suddenly scooped up from the ground and tossed over one tremendous shoulder. Confused and disappointed, Scorpia watched the Bright Moon castle shrink as She-Ra carried her further from their bedroom and closer to the village.

"Where are we going?" Scorpia kicked her legs slightly, her tail sticking up awkwardly in the air. She made no effort to sound flirty anymore as they drew nearer toward the public. "Put me down!"

"I want to show you what I've been working on", She-Ra announced, slowing her pace some as Scorpia squirmed in her hold. "It's just through the woods, okay?"

"I don't want to be smelled", Scorpia whined. She was happy that she was getting her way, but not at the expense of humiliation. "I smell like sex; you're not the only person in Bright Moon aware of that!"

"I'm not?" She-Ra's voice deepened a note. Her upper body stiffened with defensiveness."Who else knows?"

"Other non-mammalian species do the pheromones thing", Scorpia rolled her eyes, not impressed with She-Ra's bout of jealousy. She wrapped her tail gently around the back of She-Ra's neck to soothe her. "Not just scorpions. Anyone who isn't human will know that, and any human who's been around animal-people enough would figure it out! The chance of it..."

"Is low", She-Ra finally stopped walking towards the village to adjust her hold on Scorpia's legs. "Bright Moon has a mostly human population, you know. Our neighbors, Plumeria, have deer and goat-people, but those are mammals anyway. How would they know?"

"Maybe someone will have a reptilian cousin?" Scorpia's tail flicked back and forth, bumping occasionally into She-Ra's nose. "Or an insect family friend?"

"Well, if they have an insect buddy, they won't be so harsh on you, right?"

Scorpia guided her tail to thud right across She-Ra's cheek. "I'm an arachnid, Adora!"

"What?"

"It's not the same thing!" Scorpia exclaimed, gravely offended to be compared to a bug!

"Oh", She-Ra murmured, shaking her head. "Right. Of course. I'm sorry."

"Are you?"

Scorpia was shrugged off of She-Ra's shoulder like the world's most talkative piece of armor. She was set carefully onto the ground, only for She-Ra to pick her up again and hold her like a bride. Scorpia blushed, not used to being held like this, but She-Ra didn't seem to notice it as she trudged forward. "I'm going to take my arachnid lover to the woods to show her what I've been working on; I'll go around the village so that nobody realizes she's horny for me; and then, I hope, she'll forgive me."

"Oh, I hate that word!" No matter how much she tried to sound annoyed, Scorpia's voice was soft and dripping with need. She leaned closer to She-Ra's face, not wanting to talk very loudly just in case someone else would hear. "'Horny' is gross. Why can't you say something nicer than that?"

"Because that's what you are", She-Ra grumbled playfully. "Sugarcoating a word doesn't change its meaning."

They traveled past cozy, civilian storefronts and avoided the Bright Moon guards by darting behind large tree trunks. Scorpia couldn't help but admire that She-Ra absolutely insisted that she be carried like this the whole way— she tried to wriggle away only halfheartedly because the truth was that she liked being cradled by such a ferocious warrior. Of course, She-Ra only held her tighter, probably remembering that Scorpia matched her strength almost equally.

"It does change its meaning", Scorpia spoke faintly into She-Ra's neck and watched the way her jaw flexed when she smirked. She thought it was safe enough to continue their conversation now that she could no longer see children playing in the grass, or hear wind chimes sounding off in the breeze. "'Horny'", Scorpia spat around the word, "is raunchy." Her tail curled with presumption since She-Ra was cackling ungraciously. "It's like swearing. I hate swearing."

"Yes, it's a real shame that you can't handle the raunchy truth of life", She-Ra snorted, stepping carefully over a considerably high wall of bramble tendrils. Again, Scorpia was grateful to be snuggled close to waves of blonde hair and an arrogant face. "That almost makes me think that you're a spoiled princess." She laughed when Scorpia's tail lashed. "Okay, okay... A brat then. A spoiled brat. Is that better?"

Scorpia's tail lashed again, harder this time. "That's even worse", she grunted. Her pincers snipped away at stray branches hanging from their trees as She-Ra entered the woods. "I get revoked of my royal status!"

"Hm... Well, I digress." She-Ra bit her bottom lip. She was quiet as her boots trampled the fresh, green sprouting undergrowths, searching for a path that wasn't visible to the naked eye. They veered off of the main trails that were stamped into the ground by thousands of footprints entering or exiting Bright Moon, and headed down a rocky slope, to what Scorpia assumed was the place Adora chose to train.

Scorpia shouldn't have been so surprised that She-Ra wasn't out of breath when she finally let her stand on her own feet, but she was, and she allowed herself to stare at She-Ra with sheer awe and wonder. How exactly did "former-Horde-soldier-Scorpia" get the "Champion of Etheria, Bringer of Stars" to court her? She couldn't recall at the moment as She-Ra twiddled her calloused thumbs.

"So... I've been working on... Well, sort of a personal project." She-Ra bent her head as she cleared her throat. "But it's also kind of for you...? Or, at least, it would be if you decide you like it, but if you don't, that's totally fine too."

Scorpia nodded, seeing that She-Ra's timidity was back. Was she insecure about Scorpia not liking this project? She couldn't force herself to act excited yet, since she had no clue what it was. Instead, she wedged herself under She-Ra's huge arms and held her lover's counterpart in a hug.

"I can tell that you're proud of it, and if that's the case, I'd love to have you share it with me!" Scorpia avowed all of this with a warm smile, forgetting her previous fussiness and converting to be as comforting as she could.

"I guess I'm just afraid that I'll scare you off." She-Ra accepted the hug, leaning down to rest the top of her chin on Scorpia's head.

"Scare me off?" Scorpia flicked her tail tip up and down, giggling. "How many times have you had to restrain this thing?" She reached up to hold She-Ra's pink, blushing face in between her pincers, stood on her toes, and kissed her lips modestly before pulling back. "You should be scared off already!" Scorpia laughed until her stomach began to hurt, so then added: "But I'm glad you aren't! You're very brave, Adora, you really are!"

"You think so?" She asked wistfully, her pale-blue eyes shining like full moons.

"Mmhm." Scorpia nodded, her face burning up like a wildfire. "Do remember a few weeks ago when you kissed the end of my tail?" At the mention of it, Scorpia felt a shiver rolling down her spine and towards the sensitive, toxic needle. "That... was the single hottest thing I could ever imagine", she sighed, hiding her moan for a moment. "It was reckless, yeah, but brave."

"Well..." Scorpia's reassurance seemed to be all She-Ra needed to inflate her sense of pride once more. She-Ra stroked her chin in thought, smiling slyly. "It's good to know that you loved it so much! Also, it's great that you said that." Her long legs carried her to the edge of the clearing before Scorpia could ask questions. "I'll be right back! Wait there!"

Since she had no options in the matter other than getting lost in the woods, Scorpia was gladly obedient to the request. Her brows furrowed in confusion as She-Ra plummeted down the rocky slope, landed squarely on her giant boots, and dropped down to the ground, kneeling.

"May I have your tail?" She held out her hand. Even on the ground, She-Ra was poking her chest out proudly. Scorpia hesitated. There was one hand hidden behind She-Ra's back. "This isn't the big project", she promised, haughtily, "just a little complimentary gift, okay?"

"Okay", Scorpia agreed after a few more heartbeats. She let her stinger rest between She-Ra's fingers and it was accepted with surprising delicacy. A fuzzy-looking, light-orange fruit appeared in She-Ra's free hand and she showed it off to Scorpia before easing the fruit through her tail's needlepoint. It was a terribly strange sensation for her needle to be surrounded by sticky fruit flesh instead of actual flesh, but she pushed away her discomfort. She-Ra was pleased as the entire fruit went through without a pause. Scorpia's tail tip was mostly hidden away and her tail dropped to the undergrowth, too heavy to hold up to her back.

"Is this supposed to be like a decoration?" Scorpia asked, spinning around to catch sight of her new tail-fruit. She nearly caught it, but She-Ra stopped her, slipping her huge arms around her waist. This was the same position that Adora was in the morning. Scorpia was feeling the same level of desire. Or was it the same level of desire? She began to tremble at She-Ra's hands running down her torso and then her hips, holding her in place as she kissed the side of Scorpia's neck.

"It's supposed to help with the project", She-Ra whispered before she let Scorpia go. "I was thinking of you the entire time I was making it."

Scorpia, interested and deeply besotted, nodded along, prepared for anything that She-Ra might bring.

Before her eyes, a blue, shimmering light wavered from beneath She-Ra's hands. It sparked with cosmic power, scattering stardust in the air as her fingers commanded it to take a new shape. With its form came along its intention and purpose, one that needed its creator's approval which she offered with a soft grunt. Scorpia didn't dare to breathe as the object dropped down into She-Ra's hands, glistening with light and humming with energy.

"Woah!" Scorpia took a step closer, examining the object with a gentle, curious pincer. She liked the smooth edges and semi-opalescent texture that reminded her of jewels. She-Ra held her hands out, cupping them like the object was birdseed and Scorpia was a delicate finch. "It's beautiful, Adora! If art is what you want to do with your free time, I'd say you're already so good at it!"

"It's not an art piece", She-Ra huffed, averting her gaze. "It's actually the Sword of Protection taking on a new form."

Scorpia nodded. She figured that this was the case since She-Ra had summoned it from thin air. She hadn't known her fellow Princess to have the ability for summoning anything else. Still, Scorpia was impressed that She-Ra could craft the sword to be quite literally whatever she wanted.

"I only managed to do it in this form", She-Ra continued. "I think as Adora, I get too nervous and I mess it up."

"Nervous about what?" Scorpia tipped her head to one side. She was trying her best to be understanding, but so far, she didn't know what the source of She-Ra's shyness could be. "That I wouldn't like this?" She poked at the object, running the blunt side of her pincer down its smooth curve. "Well, I do like it. It's pretty."

"Oh..." Pale-blue eyes stared at Scorpia with intense interest and humor. "You don't know what this is, do you?"

"Should I know?" Scorpia picked up the object carefully, holding it up to the dappled sunlight glittering through the treetops. "It doesn't look like a weapon to me."

"It... Well, no. It isn't."

"So, what is it?" Scorpia questioned softly.

She-Ra smirked, her face dusting with an increasingly familiar pink. "It's a dildo, honey."

Scorpia blinked. Was she supposed to know what a "dildo" was?

"Let me see." The pretty object was taken out of her pincers. She-Ra guided it down and it filled the little space between them as its weight dangled from its sapphire-blue hilt. The rounded tip brushed against Scorpia's thigh as She-Ra placed the base right above her own clothed sex. "Do you get it now?"

The woods seemed to fall silent as Scorpia's brain pieced together the absurdity of the situation. Her jaw fell open as a jolt of horror zapped through her. "You want to put that inside of me? But it's huge!"

"I know", She-Ra pursed her lips, nervously fiddling with her creation as she looked to the undergrowth. "It's okay. You don't have to do anything you don't want to do. I just thought I'd show you..."

Scorpia shuffled her sandals on the ground, unsure of what she could say to be supportive. Admittedly, she was flattered by this sentiment, but she couldn't bring herself to say this aloud as she watched She-Ra's hands wrap around the dildo. It was made with Scorpia in mind, but she suspected that She-Ra's massive size had warped her perception of average sizes relative to herself. Not to mention that Scorpia was an above-average size and she was still nowhere near She-Ra's might.

But Scorpia longed to please the warrior. They didn't particularly spend that much time together since Scorpia preferred Adora's company over She-Ra's on a day-to-day basis. Maybe they could get to know each other better this way, Scorpia thought hopefully, even though she worried that she wouldn't be able to take all of She-Ra's gift.

"We can try it", Scorpia stated, forcing herself to sound brave like Adora always did. "Y-You worked so hard on it, after all."

"I don't want you to say that just to spare my feelings", She-Ra frowned. "Like I said, I don't want you to be scared."

"I'm not scared, Adora." She shook her head. Reaching out with her pincers, she helped She-Ra hold the dildo. "I... want you to try to put it inside of m-me", she felt herself getting hotter, not used to saying these kinds of things without Adora coaxing it out of her first. "I-I'm horny. I want you..."

"Oh?" She-Ra beamed, seemingly holding back her laughter as she scrunched up her nose. "How very raunchy of you to say that." Scorpia was no longer in the mood to be teased as She-Ra slipped the dildo away from her and again, placed it down to her groin. She hooked one finger under her pants, pulling them down with an alarming speed, and revealed a set of leather straps wrapping perfectly around her hips and thighs. "But I'm glad you did say it", She-Ra flashed a white smile. "I'm very excited to try this."

"What is that?" Scorpia asked sheepishly, nodding to the leather straps.

"You'll see soon enough."

She-Ra was putting the dildo through the straps, Scorpia realized, just as she was promised. It hung heavily from She-Ra's groin, its dazzling blue surface looking brighter against her skin and taking Scorpia's breath away. Her hand touched Scorpia's chin gently and she guided their eyes to meet. "It's your turn."

Her heartbeat quickened as she nodded, wanting nothing more than to please. She slid her tights down to her sandals, taking her time with it, and when She-Ra hummed her approval, she turned around. "Help me?"

"Of course." Scorpia held her arms above her head and She-Ra pulled her blouse up slowly as if uncovering treasure. She decided to disregard that She-Ra had tossed her clothing aside as those large hands explored under her bra. Instead of going through the trouble of taking it off, She-Ra yanked the cups down, freeing her breasts to the woodland breeze.

Scorpia stifled her moans against her pincer as She-Ra pressed rough fingertips onto her soft flesh, sending blissful shocks straight to her loins. It was becoming difficult to balance on her weakened knees, so Scorpia leaned back on She-Ra's giant frame. The dildo pressed on the base of her tail. She wanted to feel it on her butt, perhaps to get used to it touching her at all, and eased her tail to the side so that it was out of the way.

"Is that where you want it?" She-Ra murmured into her ear, jokingly.

"N-No", Scorpia said, unsure. She was too afraid of the dildo's size, but if she were slightly bigger, or She-Ra slightly smaller, maybe she'd have a different answer. It was still strange to think that she was about to embrace this kind of sex, outside of a bedroom no less. Somehow, the feelings of being unsure sent aroused trembles through her body, ones that She-Ra must have been waiting for because Scorpia was then turned around and plucked up from the ground.

"Why are you so keen on picking me up today?" Scorpia moaned into the muscles rippling throughout She-Ra's shoulder, her naked breasts brushing up on her hard body. Without warning, She-Ra plodded deeper through the woods and tucked both her forearms underneath Scorpia's thighs. She could no longer protest against being carried around as her center collided with She-Ra's torso each time she took a step. Scorpia was being tortured and she was forced to hide her smoldering face into the crook of the loving warrior's neck.

"I wanted a better patch of grass", She-Ra explained, only when they had arrived at the mysterious location. She tried to set Scorpia down, but Scorpia was intent on clinging onto whatever part of She-Ra she could get, too embarrassed to ask that she stay put in her massive arms. Taking the hint, She-Ra examined the soft earth beneath her feet with her eyes, and settled them both down so that she was hovering above Scorpia, her silky waves of blonde hair blocking the sunlight.

They kissed deeply. She-Ra grabbed onto Scorpia's chin and Scorpia held the back of She-Ra's head, too distracted to know if the spikes on her pincers weren't getting tangled in locks of long, blonde hair. A forceful hand pushed Scorpia's back on the bed of fresh grass. She-Ra broke the kiss to nibble at her earlobe instead. "You'll tell me if you need me to stop or slow down", she growled lowly, not exactly asking a question. "But for everything that isn't new, I'm going to be rough with you this time. Okay?"

"O-Oh", Scorpia breathed, finding it so much more difficult to speak with her legs spread and her sensitivity heightened by the day's events. Everything was finally coming to fruition and she was more than ready to partake in it. "Okay..." she whined as She-Ra's hot mouth lowered to her neck, sucking eagerly on delicate skin. She held on tightly to She-Ra when the first contact of the dildo slid up her aching mound. "Oh! H-Hurry! Oh, please..."

"Aw. You've been waiting too long, haven't you?" She-Ra's soft tease wasn't soft enough. Scorpia squeezed her eyes shut, convinced that she would shed big, wet tears at the near painful arousal building at her core. She-Ra pressed their foreheads together, reaching down to push aside Scorpia's ruined panties. "Don't worry, baby... I'm going to fix this right now, okay?"

"Mmph!" Her hips quivered up at She-Ra's touch, banishing whatever fears she previously had. She felt She-Ra's fingers dip between her inner folds, hesitate, and then plunge inside of her with no resistance. Scorpia could only manage to groan under her breath as She-Ra moved away from her face and held down one of her shaking legs with a free hand.

If it were Adora's fingers and not the warrior's, Scorpia thought that she wouldn't be so close to her release. A part of her knew that this was untrue though. Both versions knew her so well, inside and out. It was no challenge for She-Ra to play with her sweet spots and assault her over and over and over until she was a sobbing, pathetic mess on the grass. There was no mercy for Scorpia, but still, she wanted to beg for it.

"Don't stop, don't stop!" Scorpia hid behind her pincers, feeling as if one smug look from She-Ra could send her over the edge. To her horror, the speed of her lover's counterpart was slowing down, coming to a halt. She-Ra pulled out of her and her hips bucked up at the emptiness uncontrollably. Scorpia wanted to be filled again, and she finally allowed her tears to spill down her cheeks because she was so frustrated and so confused and so unbearably horny.

"Oh, you're too cute", She-Ra growled in a hushed tone, humor sharp in her voice. "Do you want to be fucked that badly, honey?"

Scorpia didn't need to prepare herself to respond. "Y-Yes!" She nodded frantically, tears clouding her vision as she locked eyes with She-Ra. "Fuck me!"

She-Ra's irises blew out wide. She didn't even smile before she nodded, treating Scorpia's plea with the utmost seriousness.

Calloused hands traveled towards Scorpia's inner thighs immediately, pushing them further apart to make room for the dildo on her slick lower lips. Scorpia panted with a mix of anticipation and a fresh wave of genuine concern as the tip of it rubbed against her waiting entrance.

"What i-if I c-can't?" Scorpia looked up at the Champion of Etheria, dreading the very real possibility that she would be a disappointment. "W-What if it doesn't— Ah!"

All it took was one small push and the tip was poking Scorpia's swollen inner walls, stretching her out. She-Ra's face was a dark red for the first time as she stared, transfixed on the needy hole that her creation slipped into. "Well, there you go", She-Ra soothed, slowly dragging her gaze to meet Scorpia's. "It fits."

Scorpia wasn't sure how to respond, nor did she know if she could. Nothing had ever felt so heavy and huge inside of her. She glanced down warily. There was still so much of it to go! But it surprisingly didn't hurt, probably due to just how much arousal was pooling from her sex. Slowly but surely, she felt the return of her desperation as her body got used to having the odd, hard thing, and then it even welcomed it deeper inside. Her hips rolled weakly for the rest of the length, craving for the tip to hit parts of her that fingers just couldn't reach.

"Can I try to put in more?" She-Ra asked distantly. She was entertaining herself by sliding her thumb across Scorpia's too sensitive clit, ignoring the increasingly vigorous jerks of her hips. "Or are you going to try to do that yourself?"

She-Ra didn't wait for an answer as she eased in another inch, patiently waiting for Scorpia to stop squirming before more cautiously trying a second and then a third. Scorpia was amazed that she was actually able to do this without being in too much pain, though she could vaguely feel the sting of it before being quickly washed away with lust. Maybe she should just accept amazing things as a given when they were because of Adora.

"You're doing so great!" She-Ra's pale-blue eyes were shining like diamonds, nearly looking like Adora when she was drunk on pheromones. She leaned down directly above Scorpia, kissing and biting her bottom lip. "Are you ready?"

Scorpia's breasts rose up and down with broken breaths, her nipples meeting She-Ra's own wide, clothed chest. "Please, yes!"

With one quick motion, all of their progress was undone only for She-Ra to drive it in again with a soft grunt. Scorpia's legs hooked around She-Ra's powerful hips, not wanting her to pull out, but also not wanting the thrusting to stop. She-Ra seemed to understand, latching her arms around Scorpia's back and pinning her to the grass.

"Yesyesyes!" Scorpia didn't know where she was finding the energy to be so vocal. Her own sounds were evoking something wilder in She-Ra. Her thrusts became harder and faster, eliciting more of Scorpia's cries until they were stuck in a wonderful cycle of encouraging the other. "Fuck me... fuck me, fuck me!" She kept babbling on, unable to stop herself.

"I am, I am!" She-Ra laughed, stealing kisses to her lips in between words. She ground her hips hard into Scorpia, filling her up only to leave her empty again. "I'm fucking you!" She cheered, her excitement emphasized when she reached down to cup one of Scorpia's butt cheeks and squeezed it possessively. "You're doing so well!"

Scorpia trembled on the grass, groaning as her pleasure began flooding her groin, threatening to reach its peak with every movement of She-Ra's hips. She held onto massive shoulders with her pincers, doing her best to arch her back and meet with She-Ra's thrusts. Everything felt amazing; the earth and breeze, the heat of She-Ra's body, the rough bite of teeth on her neck, and the tongue lapping at the mark. But everything else didn't matter anymore as Scorpia held She-Ra's gaze, her chest filling with deep, soft emotion.

"Oh, I love you so m-much!" She-Ra thrust, again and again, the sounds of it ringing loudly through the air. Scorpia couldn't take it anymore. Her entire being tensed up, though She-Ra didn't stop or slow down to accommodate it. "I'm cumming! Y-You're making me cum!"

"I love you too!" She-Ra panted deeply. She nestled closer to her shaking, whimpering lover on the grass, holding her tightly as if the tremors of her orgasm were something she needed protection from. "Cum for me", she sighed, still pushing their pelvises together over and over. "I love making you cum..."

Scorpia shivered, her tail waving beneath her with the desire pulsing through her body. "Th-Thank you", she praised, dazed and staring straight up to the green and gold canopy looming over them. Her pleasure was subsiding, though She-Ra continued to poke inside of her with softer movements until she had to ask the warrior to stop with a little, imploring whine: "It's too much now..."

"Sorry", She-Ra hastily said, immediately easing the dildo out of her. She blinked down to Scorpia, pride flashing like lightning bolts in her eyes. "You're so beautiful."

"No, you are", Scorpia cooed. She touched the side of She-Ra's face, the red of her cheeks nearly matching her pincer. "I've never seen you blush, you know. Only as Adora."

"Of course I blush!" She held onto the pincer on her face, smirking. "Anyone would be hearing you begging like that."

Scorpia averted her gaze, feeling herself being consumed by shyness. "Only you would hear that from me..."

"I know." She-Ra was back to being completely arrogant as she went up on her knees and ran her fingers down the slick surface of her shaft. "The evidence is all right here!"

"Stop doing that!" Scorpia yelped, horrified at She-Ra wiggling her hips, swinging the dildo back and forth like a toy. She hauled her tail up to smack against the warrior's thick leg. "You're too silly!"

"You love me!" She-Ra didn't seem to hear anything she said, prodding Scorpia's knee with the tip playfully. "'You love me so much', isn't that what you said?"

"I do", she confirmed, sitting up so that maybe She-Ra would take her more seriously. "I do love you, but you're silly!"

"I'm just happy that you love me." The poking on her knee didn't stop despite She-Ra's sincere tone of voice. "Silly or otherwise."

Scorpia wouldn't argue anymore, suddenly realizing how drained and hungry she was feeling. She stretched out her tight muscles for a few seconds before standing up, covering her nakedness as best as she could. "Our clothes are in that hollow", Scorpia sighed, remembering that She-Ra wasn't thinking of anything else except sex when she brought them over here. She toed on her sandals which had slipped off somewhere during their fun. "Are you coming?" She called back to the warrior still sitting on the grass as she was walking away.

She-Ra seemed to snap out of a stupor. "I love watching you leave", she announced, scrambling up to flank Scorpia's side. Instantly, her huge hand touched the base of the dildo and it shimmered away into nothingness. A mischievous expression imprinted on her face. "Ah, but you don't know the way to the hollow, do you?"

"No", she shrugged, looking past She-Ra and into the wooded corners surrounding them. "I guess I don't."

"Annnnd I do", She-Ra bragged. "Wouldn't it be more sensible if I carried you over there?"

Scorpia pursed her lips. She was perfectly capable of following the warrior on her own two feet. Still, she nodded and She-Ra scooped her up, only using one arm to hold her legs in place.

She found herself dozing off even before She-Ra set her down so that she could help Scorpia put her blouse and tights back on. It was a weird thing because her panties were drenched and still slightly pushed aside from earlier. She would take them off later. Without being told, Scorpia held out her arms as soon as She-Ra pulled up her pants around the leather straps. They bounded off to the Bright Moon castle at a slow pace, Scorpia hugging She-Ra's neck the entire way.

Chapter End Notes

i hate to say that this is end, but here it is!

i have another page or so that continues this chapter, but i cut it short because i felt it was already too long, so maybe not the end? who knows. i certainly don't.

until we meet again, reader. bye!!

End Notes

please drink water and wash your hands!!! self care babeyyyy

I will fill this tag my goddamn self in 2021

Note Update (5/16/2021):

Imagine you walk into a dark bedroom of a typical suburban house. It's eerily quiet. You know that I am here somewhere, but you can't tell through the shadows. From muscle memory, you reach for the light switch on the side of the wall and instantly recoil away from the doorframe. I have been sitting there on a dusty, vintage couch the entire time, not so much as breathing.

I lean forward to you. You're frozen. Speechless.

"Catra's a furry", I say, steepling my fingers on my lap.

You feel your heart racing, blood pumping your ears. You know where I'm going with this, but your feet just won't move.

"Do you know what that makes Scorpia?"

Terrified, you shake your head. I stand up from the couch, grinning ear to ear.

"She's a buggy", I murmur. "A small section of the furry fandom, but still a part of it."

"No", you say, desperate for any saving grace. "She's a hybrid. She looks mostly human. Catra's literally covered in fur, so it's different..."

I stare at you, my grin getting wider. "You're a furry."

"No!"

"Yes!" I throw myself forward and grab both your shoulders. "You. Are. A. FUCKING. Furry!" You keep shaking your head, denying a fact that you already knew from the start. Laughing, I let you go. "But so am I! And anyone else who has read this!"

You whirl around, running so you can hide. Always running. Always hiding. From the truth.

Just kidding. I don't know who you are or what you do in your free time that can or can't constitute you as a furry!

But.

Scorpia IS a buggy. A furry by extension.

And Double Trouble is a SCALIE. A furry by extension.

God, this show loves furries. But that's a rant for another time.

Goodbye, reader!! Take care!
