Teacher Teacher

by Samftm1991

Summary

Catra was finally done her degree, she had her first adult job as a chemistry teacher. Stepping into the gym for the first teacher meeting of the year, she set eyes on another teacher; A blonde whose muscles strained against their clothes when they moved. What she had expected to eb a calm easy beginning of her career was no more. How does she navigate her time with Adora and how does she learn to love someone, when no one has ever loved her before.

Chapter 1

Catra ran through the halls, she was fucked. Great way to start her first adult job she thought to herself. She had worked her ass off through high school and university to make a name for herself. She had been left at an orphanage as a baby, and even with as many species that existed in Etheria; not many families wanted a magicat as a child. So there she stayed, until she aged out of the program. But she was lucky her intellect was her saving grace, scholarship after scholarship was placed in front of her. So her time in university was paid for, and here she was a high school chemistry teacher late like she always wanted to be. The click of her heels brought her back to what she was doing as she turned the corned and stepped into the gym.

Catra stopped dead in her tracks, there sat all the teachers that she would not be working beside and one took her breath away. There sat the most beautiful or handsome women she had ever seen. Long blonde hair tied into a tight ponytail while the white dress shirt and red vest were that of a men's cut, while the black dress pants hung off her as her leather clad foot bounced as she looked around. Then Catra watched her look around the room before coming to rest on her, Catra did not mean to stare but the small smirk that passed the women's face made her weak. Catra knew she was a lesbian, she had known is since she was a young teenager, but now looking at this women there was no doubt in her mind. Catra could feel her tail and ears twitching as the women looked at her, the smallest motion as the women licked her lips

"Ah Miss Horde, so happy for you to join us" Principal Walker stated

"Yes sorry ma'am. It will not happen again" Catra stated

"That is fine, we all have had our moments. Now everyone I would like to welcome our new chemistry teacher Miss Catra Horde" Principal walker announced

“Thank you for that welcome. I am excited to work beside each and everyone of you” Catra said her ears twitching again

“Now why don’t you take a seat by Adora. Adora can you stand?” Principal Walker asked

“Yes ma’am” Adora said standing and smiling

Catra wanted to drop to her knees as Adora stood, she was a amazon who toured over her and when she spoke her voice made her knees weak and inside she knew if she asked her to she would stay on her knees worshipping her. Catra shook her head, it had been way to long since she had gotten properly laid, taking a deep breath she smiled back at Adora and moved to take her seat beside her. Adora waited until she had sat down before taking her seat once again, Catra had a hard time paying attention to her new boss as she began to realize how jacked Adora was, each time she moved she could see the fabric stretching around her biceps and Catra wondered if the rest of her was just as muscled.

The next two hours passed slowly, she had not noticed that her tail had come from being wrapped around her and now was splayed across her lap as she ran her hands along it in a calming measure. Catra caught movement out of the corner of her eye close to the end when she was actually paying attention to what was being said, moving her head slightly she found Adora watching her intently. The blush that rose up her neck and onto her face made her turn away, she could feel her fur fluffing out. She knew not everyone enjoyed being with a magicat, she had fur that covered most of her body. Some of it was thicker and courser then other parts but most of it was a soft downy fluff, memories began to flood her brain as her past began to hit her. Digging her nails into her thighs she felt the pinch of the pain as a firm hand came to rest on her shoulder as hot breath on her ear made them twitch.

“Are you okay?” Adora asked softly

“Yes I am” Catra stated trying to stay calm

“Are you sure? You look stressed” Adora stated

“It is fine, just nerves. Why do you care?” Catra snapped

“I was trying to be friendly, I was hoping we could well get to know each other. We will be working with each other, but if you do not wish then I understand” Adora stated

“Sorry, I just am not used to people actually wanting to get to know me” Catra stated

She hated to admit but she was not lying, she had never been in a relationship and everything she had sex it was a fuck and skip. Those around her never needed her so she learned to become self sufficient, but something in the way this women looked at her made her think maybe this was going to be alright.

“I would like to get to know you, if you would let me” Adora said smiling widely

“Sure. So tell me what do you teach? Wait let me guess, physical education?” Catra asked laughing loudly

“I may be a gym rat, but no you got it wrong” Adora stated smirking at the women in front of her

“Oh interesting, then I am stumped. What do you teach?” Catra asked

“Calculus” Adora said smiling

“You teach calculus? Lucky students” Catra stated before she could stop herself

“Oh why is that?” Adora asked surprised

“Never mind what I said” Catra stated back tracking

“You are pretty easy on the eyes to” Adora winked as a cough brought them back to the meeting

Ten minutes later and they were allowed to finally leave, Adora offered to show Catra to her classroom. They spoke as they walked, Catra learning that Adora was the same age as she was but graduated school early which meant she went to university early, she learned that this was her second year teaching.

Adora watched the women beside her, she was making her mind blank as they walked. The moment she had walked into the gym time stopped for Adora, she towered over the women and could throw her around if she so wanted. Adora never had any thoughts about magicats before but she wanted to know what that tail felt like against her body as well as the soft fur that she had been told covered their bodies. Adora wanted to be friendly but not to friendly but if she could make a friend at this school she would be happy. She would be even happier if Catra turned out to be a lesbian like she was well kind of.

“Earth to Adora” Catra stated waving her hand in front of her face

“What? Oh yes right” Adora said blushing

“What is it? Cat got your tongue?” Catra asked smirking showing her fangs

“I well yes, no. Shit” Adora mumbled out

“I am just bugging you. Is this me?” Catra asked looking at the classroom

“Yes it is. I am across the hall” Adora stated pointing

“Oh lucky me” Catra faked rolling her eyes

“More like lucky me” Adora stated smirking

“You are horrible, I barely know you” Catra faked being offended

“I would like to get to know you more” Adora stated hopefully

“Maybe if you play your cards right. Now I believe I have a important question for you?” Catra asked leaning against her desk

“What is that?” Adora asked intrigued

“What are your pronouns?” Catra asked casually

“That isn’t something I get asked a lot” Adora asked surprised

“Well something inside me tells me I should ask” Catra explained smiling

“No one here has ever asked me that” Adora stated again

“Well is seems we are the youngest teachers here, so I ask again what are your pronouns?” Catra asked smirking

“Here she/her, outside in my normal life I prefer they/she. Sometimes he/him depending on my mood and what is going on” Adora explained smiling gently

“Good to know, mine are easy, she/her” Catra stated confidently

“Good to know, now I shall let you be. If you need anything let me know” Catra said kindly as they turned and walked out

Catra was fucked, she wanted to climb them like a tree. Now she had to work every day beside that handsome being, sitting in her chair she leaned her head into her hands. She thought this was going to be easy, but now everything had been flipped and it was her first day on the job. Adora practically ran to their classroom, taking a seat they closed their eyes allowing the thoughts of Catra to fill her mind. She was beautiful but she was most likely straight, but the thought of those soft ears and tail under their touch made them groan loudly. They never expected to be smitten with someone quickly but they were and did not know what to do with it.

Chapter 2

“Catra you have been in there all night, come out here” Scorpia yelled through her door

“Fine” Catra grumbled throwing open the door

“Oh you are alive” Perfuma stated from behind Scorpia

“What do you want!” Catra grumbled agian

“Well I wanted to know how your first day of work was but it seems like there is more to be told” Scorpia stated pulling Catra from her room

Catra sighed, Scorpia was her best friend and had been for years. They had met in high school, and had been accepted to the same university she had. That’s when they had both decided to move in together which now over four years later ad become their home. Perfuma had come into Scorpia’s life not long after their first day at the university and had yet to leave. Sitting down Catra pulled her feet under herself and wrapped her tail around herself as she slowly ran her fingers through the soft fur.

“Spill” Scorpia stated

“Spill what?” Catra countered

“You are off in your mind. What happened? Or should I ask who happened?” Scorpia asked wiggling her eyebrows

“Fine, my first day went well. I am ready for the kids to come in tomorrow, and I may have made friends with another teacher already” Catra stated blushing as her ears flattened

“Oh? Tell us more” Perfuma pushed

“They are just wow” Catra managed to get out

“That is great language for such a smart cat” Scorpia joked

“Shut up. Fine they are build like a amazon, and are kind and smart and are off in their own world all the same” Catra tried to stay calm as she explained

“Oh yeah? What’s her name?” Scorpia asked

“Their name is Adora. I am fucked, I wanted peace at work not some delicious human in front of me who would not want me even if I presented myself to them” Catra said curling further into a ball as her claws began to dig into her hands

“Hey now don’t do that, Catra follow my breathing. In and out, in and out” Scorpia stated calmly Catra breathed slowly, she knew her trauma was bad but something about having to panic attacks in the span of a day because of thoughts from her past made her head spin. Inhaling slowly she allowed her claws to retract before looking up to a concerned Scorpia and Perfuma.

“You are okay” Perfuma said gently

“I know, just hard. I know what people think of magicats” Catra stated sighing

“Nothing wrong with magicats. Did they flirt with you?” Scorpia asked

“Yes” Catra stated

“Then befriend them, you never know. Now dinner should be done” Scorpia stated clapping her claws together

Catra shook her head, she hated when her friends were right. Standing she tried not to think of Adora and the full day of her new job, but maybe things would work out.

Adora paced their kitchen, they had left later then normal but was still home earlier then their roommates. The front door of the townhouse opened then closed signaling the arrival of Glimmer and Bow.

“Hey you, how was the first day back?” Glimmer asked as she came into the kitchen

“Amazing” Adora stated smiling as they began to plate the food

“Did something happen? You are very happy” Bow asked intrigued

“No nothing happened, well just a new teacher” Adora stated pushing them to sit

“Oh you are smitten” Glimmer said smiling widely

“I am not” Adora stated blushing

“You are, tell us more” Glimmer pushed

“She is a beautiful small magicat” Adora began

“Magicat? Interesting, I have heard they are covered in some of the softest fur you could ever imagine” Bow stated as his girlfriend elbowed him in the ribs

“Yes magicat, she is feisty to. Something about her just pulls me towards her, she flirted back when I flirted but I think she did it out of niceties. I think she is straight” Adora said poking their food

“You never know until you ask” Bow suggested

“Yeah but that isn’t something I can just ask” Adora stated shrugging

Adora allowed the conversation to drift as dinner went on, Glimmer was their best friend. Had been since they were children, Adora had begun her time in an orphanage but was adopted and brought into the most amazing family. They had been brought up to appreciate life and to keep their body healthy, but they pushed that further. The muscle and athletic ability they held made them feel true, they were ripped and it was something they would continue until they could not anymore. Their mind began to drift thinking of how Catra's fingers would feel going along their abs and the nails that pierced the mucsles of their back. Shaking their head Adora returned back to the conversation in front of them, and wondered how the first day of school would go.

Catra was early, she knew after the late arrival the day before that she needed to be early to show she knew how to. Walking through the halls she stopped outside the gym, she could hear the rattle of weights before a door opening and footsteps echoing through the hall. She did not expect Adora to step out into view in baggy shorts and a tight sports bra, Catra gasped as she raked her eyes down the sculpted body. Adora had their back to her and she could see the braided blond hair but what she had not expected was a large tattoo down the middle of their back. Adora turned to face her and looked like they were chiseled out of marble, their muscles were well defined and she wanted to run her hands along their abs.

"Hey you" Adora said smiling

"Uh uh...."Catra stuttered as she turned and ran

Adora watched her run away, sighing as they turned into back towards the gym and into a private change room. Catra ran into her classroom, she had not expected to see Adora already nor did she expect to see them in that state of undress. She wanted to run her claws along those abs before pulling her down for a deep kiss, sitting down she grumbled and threw her head into her hands. This was not how her teaching career was suppose to go!

She half expected for Adora to come into her classroom before the students and part of her was actually upset when she didn't. Soon the bell rang as students began to make their way into their first period classes, and so it began the first class she had was a grade twelve class. She watched as the students walked in but she could tell they did not wish to be there nor wished to listen to her.

“Good morning, my name is Miss Horde. I expect you all to show me the utmost respect and care while using the chemicals that we will be using. Does anyone have any questions?” Catra asked

“Yeah just one. When will we get an actual teacher? Not some teenager” A male student asked

“I am your teacher and if you do not like that you can leave. I will not deal with any arguments or idiocy in this class” Catra snarled slamming her hand onto the desk

“Oh look her tail is getting fluffy” A female student stated

“Really? We haven’t even started the year and you are being rude and abusive to a teacher?” Adora stated from the door frame

“And further more, Miss Horde here has my full support and blessing. If you have an issue with her then you have an issue with me. Do you understand?” Adora stated walking into the classroom

“Yes ma’am” The class answered nervously

“Open your books and begin reading” Catra stated grabbing Adora by the wrist

“What did you do that for?” Catra snapped in the hallway

“Saving you a confrontation that does not need to happen” Adora stated calmly

“I can handle myself” Catra snarled

“I know you can, you are stronger then you show. But I wanted to try to be helpful” Adora stated shrugging

“Do not do it again” Catra said beginning to calm down

“I will try not to, but it is hard to control myself around a pretty lady” Adora said smirking

“You think yourself as a charmer don’t you?” Catra said trying not to laugh

“Yes I am” Adora smiled while wiggling their eyebrows

“You are an idiot” Catra laughed loudly

“Yes I am” Adora said smiling before turning and making their way back into their classroom

Catra shook her head, she was thankful for the help. It seems that having Adora’s support was a god send, the students did not make any issue for the rest of class nor did the class after that and the class after that. Maybe having them as a friend was not a bad idea, to bad her damn body had other ideas. Catra prided herself on her control and had never been horny at school or in a public setting, but any time she was Adora she could feel herself growing wet. She knew her fur on her lips and inner thighs were matted with her arousal and she could do nothing to fix it.

Chapter 3

The week passed quickly, after that first incident no other class attempted to contradict Catra in her class. She had crossed paths with Adora time and time again, she got to school each morning earlier then she needed. As though she was waiting for Adora to appear half dressed once again. It was Friday before she finally got another look at a half dressed Adora as they stepped out of the weight room.

“Back for another show?” Adora asked smirking as they wiped their face with a towel

“What! No never” Catra blushed

“You sure? I expected you to be late like you were the first day but instead you have been early every day since you last saw me half naked. It seems as though you wished to see a show” Adora winked

“No I just wanted to be here early” Catra stated lying “Sure sure. So any plans for the weekend?” Adora asked stepping forward

“Not sure, my roommates will probably drag me out somewhere. You?” Catra gulped as Adora stood close to her

“Not sure yet” Adora stated shrugging

“Well have fun with that” Catra stated turning around her tail twitching about

“Oh one last question” Catra said turning back around looking at Adora

“What is that?” Adora asked

“What is the tattoo of?” Catra asked her ears pinning back knowing she was entering dangerous territory

“A sword” Adora stated turning around and moving their braid

Catra could see the tattoo fully now, the pummel and grip of a sword came up to the base of their skull while the intricate cross guard laid upon their shoulders while the blade ran along the middle of their back. Catra wanted to run her claws along the outline of the sword and wanted to ask everything about the tattoo but instead she almost squeaked before running down the hall. Adora looked back as they heard the footsteps, sighing they knew they had now pushed to much.

Catra could not believe how happy she was that it was the weekend, she was able to sleep in and still get marking down of the first assignments she had assigned. Finally stepping from her room in the early evening she found Scorpia and Perfuma snuggled up on the couch.

“Look how is alive” Perfuma stated chuckling

“I know I know, I need the sleep and to do some marking” Catra stated shrugging

“Well good thing you got your stuff done as we are going out tonight. Go get ready” Scorpia stated

“Where to?” Catra asked knowing this would happen

“A new gay bar opened yesterday” Scorpia retorted

“Fine” Catra answered before walking away

She hated water, always had. It was most likely the fact that she was a magicat, so showers and baths were one of those things that happened rarely. Stepping into the bathroom she turned the water on before stripping her clothes, she had at a young age shaved all the fur off her body but the resulting bullying was worse then when she had the fur on her. And the ingrown hairs that came from it was horrible, so she learned to live with it. Stepping into the hot water she allowed the water to warm her and drench her, she used special shampoo and a conditioner when she actually bathed. So it went, an hour later she was ready, her fur soft and a little fluffy which she despised but she know once she put clothes on that it would settle down. Stepping into her room she stood looking at her wardrobe, pulling a short skirt and crop top out she slipped into it before running out to her roommates.

“Oh its nice” Perfuma stated as they stepped into the club

“It is” Scorpia agreed

“It isn’t bad” Catra shrugged

“Oh come on. You need to get your mind off your coworker” Scorpia stated smacking her on the back

“I don’t have them on my mind” Catra snapped

“Sure sure, come lets drink” Perfuma said pulling her towards the bar

Catra grumbled but would not argue with free alcohol, soon she had a few more drinks bought for her by random women. She felt one grab her by the hand before off she went onto the dance floor. Adora looked around they had been told about this new bar and wondered what it would be like, they needed to get their mind off of Catra. Stepping inside the music was pounding and the dance floor was packed, slipping in and standing at the bar they ordered a drink before turning and scanning the room. Turning back around they felt their elbow hit a drink before it crashed to the floor.

“I am so sorry, let me buy you a new one” Adora said kindly

“It is my fault but sure” Perfuma stated

“Nice bar isn’t it?” Adora asked making small talk

“It is! You here by yourself?” Perfuma asked

“I am, you?” Adora countered

“Oh no, this is Scorpia my girlfriend and I am Perfuma. Our roommate is here somewhere” Perfuma chuckled

“I am Adora” Adora said kindly

“You are Adora?” Scorpia choked out

“You know who I am?” Adora asked confused

“We have heard about you, and Catra is correct you are a marble amazon” Scorpia chuckled

“Catra is here?” Adora choked out

“She is, over there” Perfuma said pointing out to the dancefloor

Adora smiled widely at the two women before turning and making their way towards the dancefloor, moving through the people they came upon Catra who was dancing alone but seemed to be enjoying themselves all the same. Taking a chance Adora slipped in behind them, Catra did not look back but continued to dance now just closer to Adora. Adora could feel Catra’s tail wrap around them pulling them closer.

“Fancy meeting you here” Adora said bending down and speaking into Catra’s ear

“Oh God” Catra choked

“So you are a lesbian” Adora said her breath tickling the fine fur on Catra’s ear

“Yes, why do you think I run from you every time you are half naked” Catra stated pushing farther back into Adora’s touch

Catra felt Adora's large strong hands come to rest on her hips pulling her back against her body, Catra gave in reaching up and wrapped her hands around Adora's neck holding her in place as her tail wrapped around Adora's torso.

"Does the kitty want something?" Adora asked taking a chance

"Say it again" Catra said breathlessly

"Does the kitty want something?" Adora said pronouncing each word slowly

"Fucking hell" Catra shivered as her fur stood on end and a small purr escaped her lips

"You are as soft as I imagined" Adora whispered as they swayed to the music

"I am?" Catra asked running her claws along Adora's neck

"You are, and I am only touching the fine fur. I bet there are other places where it is thicker and even softer" Adora whispered before nipping Catra's ear

"Damnit Adora" Catra stated as she spun around in her grip

Adora looked down at the magicat in front of them, their pupils were dilated and their breathing heavy. Smirking as the same hands that held their neck earlier now reached out grabbing them by the hair and yanking them down. The first touch of their lips made Adora whimper, Catra felt Adora's arms reach under her butt picking her up as though she weighed nothing. Catra knew to wrap her legs around the slim strong waist as her tail wrapped around Adora's arms. A swipe of her tongue and Adora opened their mouth, they had never kissed a magicat but the fact that Catra's tongue was rough made a shiver run down their spine. Catra could not believe she was up in Adora's arms as she shover her tongue inside their mouth. Pulling back Catra looked at Adora who had a stupid look on their face.

“So you are pretty damn hot” Adora stated blushing

“You are not to bad yourself” Catra chuckled her ears moving around as she felt a rush of arousal soak her fur

“So should I put you down?” Adora asked

“You are an idiot” Catra shook her head

“Why?” Adora asked confused

“Because my tail is wrapped around your arms, my arms are wrapped around your neck and I am pretty damn sure you can feel how wet I am against that beautiful set of abs you have. Now what are we going to do?” Catra retorted

“We are going to go home now” Adora stated as they began to walk through the crowd of people with Catra still in their arms

Chapter 4

Catra felt herself being placed down, she knew she would have to walk but she had been enjoying the feeling of being in Adora's arms. She caught Scorpia's eye as they walked past a large smile passing her friends face, soon she was being dragged from the club and into the cool air. She did not realize how large Adora's hands were until they were threaded through her own.

"Mine or yours?" Adora asked

"Yours, well as long as you are alone" Catra said softly

"Deal, my roommates are out" Adora said smirking as they pulled Catra down the sidewalk

Catra did not remember much as she walked beside Adroa, but what she knew was that the feeling of her hands in theirs was something she did not want to give up. Two blocks was all they had to walk as they came to a stop in front of a townhome, she looked at the home in front of her slightly jealous that Adora had such a large place. Shaking her head she stepped inside, she attempted to look around but the moment she heard the door close behind her she was being pulled into Adora's strong arms.

"Are you still sure?" Adora asked as they pinned Catra against the door

"You are an idiot sometimes, I am here why would I not be?" Catra stated rolling her eyes

"Consent is everything" Adora said smirking

"Fine..."Catra began before Adora's lips came crashing down on her own

Catra melted into the touch as she felt Adora's arms come under her ass picking her up and walking with her in their arms. Catra did not expect Adora's large hand to gently grip her tail at the base causing a loud gasp to turn into a purr. Adora pulled back from the kiss suddenly and squeezed her tail once again, a groan escaped her causing a deep blush to pass her face. She did not normally allow the ones she was sleeping with to grip her tail, she found it to sensitive and to intimate. But something about Adora made her loose all sense of normalcy.

“Sensitive is it?” Adora asked as they climbed the stairs

“Yes very” Catra blushed

“Oh kitty is embarrassed or are you being turned on from me playing with your tail?” Adora asked coming to a stop in front of a door

“Why don’t you find out?” Catra retorted

Adora smirked as they gripped Catra’s tail once more running their fingers through the soft fur before tossing her onto the bed. Catra squeaked as she was tossed as she laid on the bed watching and waiting, the look on Adora’s face made her shudder with anticipation.

“Take your clothes off” Adora commanded

Catra was used to being the one who gave the orders but here Adora was in charge and Catra enjoyed it, sitting up she hooked her fingers into the hem of her shirt and pulled it off her body. Looking up at Adora she found them to be biting their lip as they watched the actions. Catra did not know why this made her more aroused but something in the way they watched her made her want to spread her legs even faster. Slowly moving her hands she popped open the buttons on her skirt before slipping them off leaving her in just a thong and bra.

“You forgot clothing” Adora said breathlessly

“I know but are you not going to join me in undressing?” Catra countered

“No” Adora smirked

“Fuck, please tell me you are not a stone top” Catra stated

“A what?” Adora asked confused

“A stone top. A top who only gives and does not recieve. Do not get me wrong there is nothing wrong with that, but I want to touch you. Well as much as you will allow me to” Catra asked

“Oh no kitty, you do not have to worry about that. I am not a stone top, I am a top but I do like receiving as long as there is boundaries. Do you want me to undress?” Adora asked

“You don’t have to if you do not wish” Catra stated worried that she over stepped

Catra watched as Adora smiled down at her before reaching down and untucking their shirt from their jeans, pulling the love sleeve shirt off Catra found to have a tight wrap around their chest. Catra understood some people used binders while others used tape and it seemed as though Adora used cloth. She scanned their body, she wanted to run her fingers along each and every ab that was etched into Adora’s skin.

“Do you like what you see?” Adora asked smirking

“Very, you are hot” Catra stated crossing her legs attempting to get relief

“You are as well. Now your bra needs to go” Adora stated kneeling on the bed

“And my thong?” Catra asked intrigued

“Keep that on. I will take that off” Adora stated

Catra felt a shiver run down her spin as she sat up her tail flicking back an forth in anticipation as she reached around unclipping her bra before slowly sliding it down her arms. The gasp and intake of air she heard from Adora as she did made her heart pound. Adora looked down at Catra who now laid back against the pillows, all they wanted to do was run their hands along ever inch of their perfect body feeling the fur beneath their fingers.

"Any restrictions?" Adora asked

"No, well don't yank on my tail. A little pull yes but do not throw me around with it" Catra asked covering her chest as she began to get embarrassed

"Oh no you do not get to cover your beautiful body. I want to run my hands all over you and through your beautiful fur" Adora whispered as they knelt over her

Catra couldn't help the shiver that ran down her spine as the first touch of Adora's hands on her body. It was soft and tentative until they began to dig their fingers into her fur, she had never had anyone so obsessed and willing to play with her fur like this. Every person she had ever slept with touched her breasts and pussy and that was it. But Adora here ran their fingers through her fur onto her sides, she had not realized how sensitive her sides were as Adora's fingertips ran against her skin. The purr that began to emit from her body was not one she had heard before as Adora looked up into her eyes before latching onto her nipple. There was no calmness nor gentleness as Adora attacked her nipple, she felt teeth begin to graze her nipple causing her to thread her fingers through the thick blonde locks. The moan Adora released as Catra ran her claws along her scalp caused a wave of arousal to escape both of them. Catra was being driven crazy as Adora switched nipples before latching on again as their hands continued to play with every bit of fur they could reach.

Catra bucked her hips attempting to get friction but none came, a small chuckle escaped Adora's body as they sat up placing a muscled knee against her dripping pussy. Catra took the chance as she reached up running her hands along Adora's ab's, loving the feeling of the strong hard muscle under the soft perfect skin. She watched as Adora's muscles twitched as she ran her claws gently along their sides, both of their breathing was getting heavy as Adora just watched and waited as they allowed Catra to explore.

“Do you approve?” Adora asked smirking

“Yes, fuck. I want to touch every where. You are a statue, god like” Catra groaned out

“In time yes. Now I want you screaming my name” Adora stated

Catra did not have time to respond as Adora leaned down and placed a gentle kiss on her lips before pulling back and hooking both hands into her thong. Catra had expected Adora to pull the thong down but she heard the ripping of the garment moments later leaving her bare. Catra wanted to cover herself, any other time she did not care but something about Adora’s gaze made her embarrassed. She felt the bed shift for a moment as a long thick finger ran through her slick lips. Catra bucked her hips as Adora’s other hand came to rest on her hip holding her down while running their fingers through the thick fur.

“So pretty, all this fur. It is beautiful, you are beautiful. It is soft in places while coarse in others, and thinner in places that it should and then thicker in others. You are perfection” Adora praised

“You are just saying that” Catra said throwing an arm over her eyes to not see the gaze

“No, this is the truest thing I have ever said” Adora said bending their body to place a kiss just above her clit

Catra stifled a scream as her hips bucked up again. She tried to stop the whimper that escaped her mouth but it was followed by the low purring that emitted from her body. She moved her arm now gazing down at Adora who still had their strong hand pushing into her hip while they placed one last kiss above her clit before beginning to run their fingers through her wet slit once again.

“I bet you are tight, aren’t you?” Adora murmured lowly as she whimpered again

“Cat got your tongue? You talk a big game but when it comes to it you are a big softy who just wants to be taken care of. You want to be used don’t you? You want me to make you feel good” Adora said smiling that wicked smile that Catra was beginning to want to see

“Please” Catra almost begged

The smiled from Adora made her heart weak, she was always the top. She was always the one in control but now when there was someone who actually liked them for them and seemed to enjoy their body and she just gave in. Adora watched Catra closely, it was as though they were fighting with themselves as Adora spoke but when they felt Catra’s tail wrap around their forearm Adora understood. Running their index finger along her slit, they felt the moisture from Catra’s arousal. Smirking they added another finger as they ran along her lips, feeling the soft short fur that surrounded their prize. Gently pushing their index finger in, Adora understood they were right; Catra was tight and they loved it already.

“Of fuck” Catra screamed already

“So needy already, you want it slow and soft or do you want it hard and fast?” Adora asked as they slowly moved their fingers

“Hard and fast” Catra managed to get out

“As my kitty wishes” Adora said smirking

Catra did not know what she expected Adora to do when she had asked for hard and fast but she would not be ever asking for anything else. Adora did as they were asked, removing the one finger as Catra groaned from the loss of touch before lining up two fingers and pushing in hard and fast. Catra screamed as her whole body was moved from the pace of Adora’s movement. Her fingers were large and filled her to a point where it was almost painful but but her body was reacting in a way she had never expected. Adora felt Catra's tail gripping their forearm, each thrust it tightened as though to egg them on.

"Doing good?" Adora asked softly not stopping their thrusts

"Oh god, please. Please touch my clit" Catra begged

Catra watched through lidded eyes as Adora moved their thumb from the place it had been resting on her hip as they brushed against her clit the first time. Catra saw stars as she reached grabbing for Adora, she felt movement as Adora moved from where they were kneeling to now hover over her. Catra took that as a sign as she dug her claws into Adora's shoulders causing a loud groan to escape the stoic Adora.

"I, oh fuck. I am so close" Catra screamed as her claws dug deeper into Adora's shoulders

"Then come for me" Adora said lowly

Catra shook as she felt her orgasm building as Adora quickened her already relentless pace. She wanted more fingers next time, she could not believe she was thinking of a next time as Adora bent down placing their lips on hers as their pace quickened on her clit. She grabbed a hold of Adora's bottom lip digging her fangs in as her body shook from her orgasm. Adora felt the pain in their shoulders and lip and they wanted more as Catra squeezed their fingers, Adora felt a rush of fluid coat their fingers as Catra slowly let go of their lip.

"I made you bleed" Catra said worried as she wiped Adora's lip

"That is fine, I think my shoulders are bleeding as well" Adora smirked as they moved their hand from her hip to her side

"You really like my fur don't you?" Catra teased watching Adora's reaction

"I do, I wasn't just saying it to get your riled up" Adora smirked

Catra felt a blush creep up her neck and face as she watched Adora slowly pull their fingers from her before slipping them into their mouth. Catra could not help but groan as she watched the action, Adora cleaned their fingers slowly as though they were savoring each lick.

“You taste wonderful. Next time I will get it right from the source” Adora said smirking

“Next time?” Catra sputtered

“I hope their is a next time” Adora said now worried

“I would like that. But right now I want you” Catra stated

Adora did not expect Catra to manage to flip both of them quicker then a blink of an eye. Adora now laid on their back, their braided hair off to the side. Catra bit her lip as she looked down at the statue in front of her, running her claws along Adora’s abs she watched them twitch under her light touch. She stayed away from the bindings that compressed Adora’s chest, she knew maybe in time she would be allowed to touch but she would never touch without permission.

“Can I?” Catra asked as she got to Adora’s jeans

“Please” Adora almost pleaded as their body twitched from Catra’s touch

“Fuck look at those muscles” Catra moaned as she pulled Adora’s jeans off

“You like my muscle?” Adora countered

“More then you know” Catra said running her claws along Adora’s boxer clad thighs

“Yes?” Catra asked as she slipped her thumbs in Adora’s boxers

“Yes” Adora groaned

Catra smirked as she pulled Adora's boxers down slowly, she did not know what she expected but Adora being completely shaved was not one as she let out a loud moan from the sight. Adora looked at Catra as she stared at their now bare bottom half. It was as though she was debating what she wanted to do first, but it seemed as though Catra figured out what she wanted to do. Catra ran one clawed finger along Adora's stomach down their thigh before pushing their legs apart. She could see how wet Adora was already, running a claw along each side of her lips she watched as Adora shivered and bucked their hips.

"You like my claws yes?" Catra asked

"Very" Adora moaned

"Do you wish for me to retract them or leave them out?" Catra asked still running her clawed fingers along Adora's lips

"Depends on what you are doing" Adora stated truthfully

"I am going to shove my fingers in you and have you a babbling mess while I take your delicious looking clit in my mouth and have you screaming my name" Catra said smirking

"Retracted. Maybe in time I will try your clawed fingers" Adora stated

"Good choice" Catra said smirking

Adora watched as Catra raised her hand showing them the act of retracting their claws. Adora wondered if it hurt or was uncomfortable to do so but this was not the time. Then they felt the most amazing feeling as Catra ran her rough tongue along their clit. Adora screamed from the pleasure as Catra slipped two fingers inside them, Catra was not surprised that Adora was as tight as they were. And so she began a pace that was fast but not as strong as Adora had been doing, Catra felt Adora's hands move, one coming to rest in her mane while the other traced circles in her shoulder as though her fur was calming.

“That tongue, oh fuck” Adora moaned at the rough feeling along their clit

“You like that don’t you?” Catra countered pulling off their clit

“So much, add another finger” Adora pleaded

“As you wish” Catra smirked before lathing onto their clit and slipping a third finger in Adora felt their eyes roll back as the feeling of pure pleasure radiated through their body. Catra felt the hand in her mane tighten as the hand on her shoulder tighten digging their strong fingers into her fur. Catra continued the pace as she felt Adora begin to tighten around her fingers as the scream that erupted through the room made her tail flick around. Catra continued as Adora shook under her fingers and mouth before taking a chance she nipped Adora’s enlarged clit causing her face to be held in place by Adora’s large strong hands. Slowly the hand in her hair released as the panting from Adora could be heard in the room. Looking up she saw Adora staring at her, a stupid happy look on her face.

“That tongue of yours, holy shit” Adora stated grabbing at Catra’s shoulders and pulling her up against her

“Those fingers of yours” Catra stated unsure if she should cuddle in “Just wait till you get my mouth” Adora stated looking at her closely

“Who said we are doing this again?” Catra teased

“I just thought, I guess if you don’t wish” Adora said sadly

“You are a idiot, that was the best I have ever had. And you treated me like a person, not some toy that most people do” Catra said smacking Adora’s chest

“What do you mean?” Adora countered

“No one has ever touched me like you did, what I mean is yeah people have made me cum. But you touched my fur as though it was the most amazing thing you had ever felt. And as though you wanted more it over and over again” Catra explained her tail swaying around them

“It is, I am obsessed with your fur. So yes again?” Adora asked hopefully

“Yes. Now I should let you have your bed and head home” Catra stated making to stand up

“Oh okay” Adora said softly looking away

“You want me to stay? I did not expect it” Catra stated surprised

“I would like it, if you want to. I would like to maybe see where this goes? If you just want sex that is fine but you have grown on me” Adora explained

“I well, okay. I have never been asked to stay the night, its usually a fuck and go” Catra explained

“Well let us change that, I am the big spoon so you will need to roll off so I can cuddle against you” Adora stated

“You are not going to sleep with that wrapped around you. I will look away, but you are not sleeping in that and causing harm to yourself” Catra explained pointing at the wrapping

“Oh right. I am okay with you seeing my chest, but just don’t touch it please. I am having a day where it is causing me some dysphoria” Adora explained moving to sit up

“Then I don’t need to look at your chest. Here I will lay like this and you do what you need to do then cuddle me as you say” Catra said moving to lay facing away from Adora

Adora looked down at Catra as she turned to face away from them, they could not believe how understanding Catra was being in this moment. Sitting up Adora began to slowly unwrap the binding that held their chest flat, the relief was instantaneous. They knew they should not bind like this for so long but they had not planned on bringing Catra home with them. Tossing the wrap on the table in the corner they turned back into the bed before slipping in behind Catra. Adora moved themselves so they could wrap their arm around Catra's waist before pulling her naked body against themselves. Catra gasped at the feeling of Adora's naked body against her own, she could feel their breasts pushing into their back but she did not care and did not mind. She felt Adora slip their arm under her neck before pulling her hard against their chest. Wiggling her butt Catra got comfy as she felt Adora's strong arms holding her close, Catra's last thought was of how she could get used to this.

Chapter 5

Catra woke with a jolt, she began to panic as she took in the surroundings. The strong arms that held her close to a warm body began to slowly calm her down. She began to remember where she was, then she remembered she was at Adora's, she had spend the night with them.

"Your breathing heavily" Adora said softly still half asleep

"Sorry, just bad dream. I should get up and leave" Catra stated trying to pull away

"Do you actually want to leave? Or do you think I want you to leave?" Adora asked now more awake

"I am intruding in your space" Catra said worried

"It is not intruding if you are invited. You can leave if you wish to. But I quite like this position" Adora said kissing behind her ear

"Okay, I will stay" Catra said beginning to purr as Adora kissed behind her ear once more

Catra woke an hour later, her head no longer on a pillow but instead on Adora's chest. She began to panic, this was not something they had spoken about and she knew Adora had dysphoria but the moment she tried to move the arm that was along her back held her in place.

"You can stay. You are comfortable, and I am comfortable" Adora said kissing the top of her head

"You knew I switched how I was laying?" Catra asked surprised

"Yes, because you began squirming so I flipped you. I put your head on my chest" Adora said shrugging

"Can I touch you?" Catra asked nervously

“You already are” Adora countered

“No I mean can I touch your stomach with my open hand?” Catra tried again

“You can touch me where ever and how ever you wish” Adora explained softly

Catra smiled into Adora’s chest, she slowly began to move her claws along the muscle that she so enjoyed. She listened to Adora’s soft breathing as it hitched every once and a while as she slowly began to push harder knowing she was leaving red trails.

“If you keep doing that, we will not be snuggling for much longer” Adora murmured

“Oh yeah? Is the great Adora getting horny?” Catra purred

“I am always horny around you. Thinking about your body. I want to touch it constantly” Adora smirked

“I think I would be good with that. What do you have in mind?” Catra purred as she dug her nails into Adora’s abs

“Taking you like the slutty kitty that you are. Head down and ass up, so I can slam my cock into you as you scream and mewl like a cat in heat” Adora stated lowly Catra stilled her movements, she never had someone speak to her like Adora was. Adora felt the stilling of Catra and worried that they had said something wrong, they could feel Catra trying to process what had been said.

“I am sorry, I should not have....” Adora was cut off as Catra smashed her lips against theirs

“Do you mean it?” Catra asked pulling back

“Yes, well only if that is what you want. We have yet to talk about how you like to be spoken to while having sex. I should have asked that before beginning to speak like that to you” Adora began as Catra rolled her eyes placing a clawed finger over their lips

“You are an idiot. If I had not liked it I wouldn’t still be laying here, I am giving consent now. Talk to me like that again and again please” Catra smirked

“Perfect” Adora stated rolling Catra off before jumping from the bed

Catra looked at Adora fully for the first time, every muscle on their body was able to be seen. They were not atrociously huge but enough that it made Catra want to lick and bite each one to see it move and twitch. She watched Adora bend over searching a drawer, her perfect ass on show and Catra wanted to sink her fangs into them. Then what she had not expected was Adora turning around chest on full view for her, Catra understood this was a massive point for Adora already in the short time they have known each other. Their breasts were small and perky, the nipples dark and already erect. Catra knew she should be thinking about how she wanted to take them into her mouth when she knew Adora was dysphoric of their chest but they looked delicious.

“Like what you see?” Adora asked raising their eyebrows as they fastened the strap to their body

“Can I be truthful?” Catra asked

“Of course, I would rather you always be truthful” Adora said as the dildo was slipped into the strap

“I love your body and my mind is battling with my wants. I want to take your nipples into my mouth and have my way with them” Catra explained nervously

“Not today, just showing you my chest is a lot. Maybe another time if that is okay?” Adora asked nervously

“I respect that” Catra said kindly

“Good. Now are you ready to be pounded into the bed?” Adora asked stepping forward

“Yes, that thing is huge though” Catra said looking at the large thick dildo

“It is, but it matches me. You will do so well, you will take my cock well” Adora said walking to the end of the bed

Catra did not mean to groan as she watched Adora, she had never taken something this big but she wanted to try. Flipping onto her front she moved so her head was on a pillow and moved her hips so her ass was up and her legs were spread. Her tail was flicking back and forth as she felt the bed dip as Adora took the base of her tail in their strong hands. Catra felt her arousal beginning to coat her fur, each small movement of their hand along her hair she was a mewling mess.

“I was right, this position turned you into a mewling cat in heat. Did you know you are dripping onto my bed? Each time I touch your tail you drip more. You are a little slut aren’t you?” Adora whispered as they ran their hands along her lower back to her butt

“Please Adora” Catra begged

“Please what?” Adora countered running their fingertips through her folds

“Please fuck me. I want to be your mewling slut” Catra moaned as it became a purr

Adora smirked, they had not expected Catra to give into the talking so easily. They had expected it to take much more then a few pets and touches before the stern and stoic Catra turned into a mewling mess. Adora ran the head of the dildo through Catra’s folds, they knew the cock they owned was big and could be painful but they knew Catra could take it even if it hurt a little. And so they pushed, slowly slipping the head into her dripping slit and pushing past her tight hole. Catra was right the cock was large, the largest she had ever taken. The pain and the stretch that was happening was making her babble, not able to form words. Soon she felt the cock head hit her cervix as Adora bottomed out.

"You took me so well. Are you my good slutty kitty?" Adora asked running their hand along her back

"Yes, oh fuck yes" Catra managed to get out

Adora smirked before moving their hips, slowly pulling out until it was just the head in before slowly pushing back in. And so the pace began, each time they bottomed out and the mewling and tail flicking intensified. Catra felt Adora's hands come around her hips tightening like the night before before the pace quickened. Adora started a relentless pace, her whole body moved each time Adora bottomed out. She began meeting the thrusts her tail wrapping around Adora's waist pulling them in each time.

"I wish I could feel how tight you are, fuck you hold me in. Such a good tight fuck" Adora said leaning against her back to talk into her ear

Catra purred loudly as Adora continued pounding into her, she had not expected to feel Adora's arm to wrap around her chest and take her by the throat. Pulling her against their chest as the blood flow was partially cut off, Catra was a mess and she needed more. Adora seemed to understand what she needed as the hand that was holding her hip moved so that their large strong fingers came to a stop on top of her clit. The first touch of her clit almost made her cum, the sound of the dildo slamming into her body as her arousal coated both of their legs was pushing her over the edge.

"Be a good kitty and cum for me, cum on my cock" Adora said nipping at Catra's ears

"Oh fuck" Catra screamed

Catra felt Adora's pace quicken as the fingers on her clit expertly circled it. She felt her inner walls begin to flutter, and soon her eyes were rolling back into her head. The hand on her neck tightened as she saw stars, soon her body shook as she came. She knew she was squirting as she felt warmth along her legs and she hoped Adora did not mind, but Adora did not stop the thrusts. She never came multiple times in a row but she was already close for a second time as Adora now pinched her clit. A flicking of their fingers pushed her over the edge again, she knew the neighbors could hear her as she screamed as her body shook. Adora slowed their pace before coming to a full stop. The heavy breathing in her ear made her body shiver but the warmth from Adora made her feel perfect.

"Holy shit" Adora said pulling out slowly before letting her go

"I do not think I will ever walk again" Catra said falling onto her front

"I am that good?" Adora asked smirking

"Yes, but do not let that make your ego bigger" Catra said turning to look at the now standing Adora

"It is already as big as it can get" Adora said wiggling their eyebrows

"What have I done? Now come here" Catra said pointing to the bed

"Giving me directions now?" Adora said wiggling their eyebrows as they pulled the strap on off

"Yes I am. I want to bury my tongue deep inside of you. Come sit on my face" Catra stated

"I am way to heavy to do that to you" Adora said shaking their head

"No you aren't come on. You don't want my rough tongue against your lovely clit?" Catra asked raising her eyebrow

“I do, okay fine” Adora said stepping forward

Catra smirked, she watched Adora climb onto the bed. She watched as they threw their leg over her face before lowering themselves. Catra did not think they were doing it fast enough as she wrapped her arms around their muscled thighs and dug her claws into the inside of their thighs and pulled them down. Catra did not wait, immediately shoving her tongue into Adora as one hand came to their headboard and the other came into her thick mane of hair. Catra smirked as Adora began to rock their hips as their arousal dripped onto her chin before moving to run her tongue along their clit. The moan made her want to cum again as she wrapped her lips around the swollen nub, Adora was bucking their hips quickly grinding into her face. Catra gripped Adora’s thighs, she probably was drawing blood but Adora did not seem to care and seemed to prefer the pain.

“Oh fuck, yes yes. Fuck Catra” Adora screamed as their orgasm hit

Catra did not stop the movement of her tongue until Adora’s strong hand was pushing her face away. Looking up at the person above her she was confused, this was not just sex but she did not know what she wanted this to be. She wouldn’t mind possibly dating Adora but she did not know where they stood in that. She watched as Adora moved off her face laying down beside her as they reached out to wipe the wetness from her face.

“Do you want to come shower?” Adora asked

“I don’t shower, well I do. Just not often, part of being what I am. I don’t need to, plus you do not have the right shampoos and all that. But I am very sticky” Catra said chuckling

“Can you use normal shampoo this time?” Adora inquired

“I can, my fur will just not be soft like it is now” Catra said shrugging

“Then let us go shower, I think you fur will be soft no matter what” Adora said smiling

“You want to shower with me?” Catra asked confused

“I do, I want to do lots of things with you. Now come” Adora stated pulling her up and into her arms

“Put me down!” Catra laughed

“No I think not, you fit nicely right in my arms” Adora said smirking as they threw open the door adn walked into the hallway

Chapter 6

Catra watched Adora eat, they had showered together and Catra did not hate it. Something about being around Adora made her feel safe, she did not like that she was beginning to rely upon someone like them already. She had no normal clothes so Adora had searched and found a pair of sweatpants and a small t-shirt for her to wear. Adora was dressed almost exactly like her, sweatpants and a t-shirt but the chest wraps were really the only defense.

"So when do you want me to leave?" Catra asked sipping her coffee

"Whenever you want to. Up to you, but I wouldn't mind spending more time with you" Adora stated

"What are we doing Adora?" Catra finally asked

"I don't know truthfully. You captivated me the moment you walked into the gym and you have yet to leave my mind" Adora admitted

"I hate to agree with you but I feel the same. I saw you and nothing else when I walked in. But we hardly know each other" Catra said watching their reaction

"Then let us get to know each other?" Adora offered

"Do you want to actually do that or do you just want to get in my pants again?" Catra asked not sure on what Adora fully wanted

"I would actually like to get to know you and maybe date if we so decide" Adora said sipping their coffee

"I don't date" Catra said shaking her head

"Why?" Adora asked confused

“No one has ever wanted to date me, so it is just easier not to date” Catra said shrugging but she could feel the emotions bubbling inside

“But I want to date you” Adora stated placing their fork down

“You are just saying that to make me happy” Catra said twisting her tail in her hands

“No I am not. I would like to get to know you and hopefully date you. How about we go on a date today? Just us” Adora offered

“Okay. But I need to go home first and get my own clothes” Catra said nervously

“That’s fine. Where do you live?” Adora asked

“Two blocks away from here” Catra explained

“How do we live so close but never before had we met?” Adora asked confused

“Because I did not go out much” Catra stated watching Adora closely

Catra did not understand why Adora wanted to get to know her so much, she knew that once they had fully gotten to know her they would leave. Everyone always left her, but she might as well enjoy it as it comes for the moment. Soon they were walking out of the door and towards her home, she was still dressed in the clothes Adora allowed her to borrow but her clothes were in a small bag that she carried. Adora had changed and Catra was having a hard time keeping her eyes off them. Black jeans with a tucked in charcoal gray short sleeve button up shirt with the top buttons undone, their hair was pulled into a ponytail and she could see the very top of the black wraps that they wrapped around their chest so carefully.

“Why don’t you wear a normal binder?” Catra asked as they walked

“I do sometimes, but the wrap just is easier I feel. The binder only has one tightness, while the wrap has many. Would you prefer me in a binder?” Adora questioned

“No I prefer you in whatever makes you feel the most comfortable” Catra explained

“Is this your place?” Adora asked as they stopped in front of a apartment building

“It is. It isn’t much compared to your townhouse” Catra stated shrugging

“It is your home so it is lovely” Adora said smiling

Catra walked ahead of them as they made their way towards the apartment. Quickly unlocking the door she slipped inside as Adora followed. She came face to face with her roommates who watched her smiles plastered across their faces. Catra felt the blush creeping up her neck and cheeks as she ran from the room leaving Adora with Scorpia and Perfuma.

“Your night went well” Scorpia stated

“Very, I am very glad I knocked over your drink” Adora chuckled

“You would have found her at some point” Perfuma tried to reassure

“I would have yes, but not as quickly and someone else may have gotten to her before me” Adora explained

“Oh no, I do not think she would have gone home with anyone but you” Scorpia stated knowingly

“Also did you manage to get her to shower?” Perfuma asked

“I did, why?” Adora asked confused

“She does not shower often and never with someone. You are special” Scorpia said watching Catra walk back into the room

“Hey kitty” Adora said looking at Catra

Catra felt the blush run up her body at the nickname, he hated being called kitty but when Adora said it, it seems to make her weak at the knees. Looking at Perfuma and Scorpia who knew how much she hated that name, she could tell they were surprised.

“So where are you two off to?” Perfuma asked smiling

“Not sure. Where are we going?” Catra asked

“Good question, maybe we will get lunch then shopping? A museum? I do not know yet” Adora chuckled

Catra nodded and they were off, there was a small mall another few blocks away. She was glad the weather was still quite nice, they walked and talked. She began to find out more and more about Adora and she hated to admit it but she was falling for them. Soon she felt Adora’s large hand take a hold of hers, the small smile that passe Adora’s face as they walked made her heart flutter. And so the day went, they made their way into the mall, shop after shop was searched while Adora attempted to buy her things she refused. Adora watched Catra closely, she was a strong women but she had insecurities which took hold of her. Adora had finally managed to get her to agree to dinner, they could tell Catra was not used to being out on a date like this as they sat and waited for their food.

“You okay?” Adora asked

“Just in my head” Catra said swirling her water

“Want to talk about it?” Adora pushed

“Why are you being so nice to me?” Catra asked

“Didn’t we go over this already?” Catra countered

“Yes but my brain keeps telling me that you are just doing this because you want something from me” Catra stated

“I do want something from you though” Adora said softly

“Of course you do. I should have known better” Catra stated standing

“Catra sit back down, I did not mean it like that. I do want something from you, but that something is whatever you wish to give me. I would like friendship, I would like a relationship. I would like whatever you wish to give me. But I need you to not think I am just using you” Adora explained

“I am just used to being used and left like I am nothing” Catra said softly looking at her plate

“I am not going to do that okay? Let us figure out what we want, because I want to be around you. I want to date you, I like you already if you can believe that” Adora said taking her hand in theirs

“You are odd, but maybe we can try” Catra said softly

“Try what?” Adora countered

“Maybe we can try this dating thing” Catra said looking up at Adora’s smiling face

“I would like that, my girlfriend Catra has a nice sound to it” Adora said smiling widely

“What do you want to be called?” Catra asked

“Partner?” Adora answered

“My partner Adora. I will tell you I am not going to be very good at this” Catra said as their food arrived

“That is okay, me neither. We can learn together?” Adora asked softly

“We will learn together” Catra agreed happier then she had ever been

Chapter 7

Adora walked into the house, looking around they found the lights to be on which meant their roommates had returned from their weekend with Glimmers family. Adora had walked Catra back to her apartment, a few more gentle kisses before Catra slipped into the building. Adora did not know how to feel, a week ago they were happy being single but now they were falling for a women who they had only met a week before. For both of them taking their time in this relationship was necessary, they had started backwards but Adora did not care.

"You look very happy" Glimmer said stepping into the living room

"I well yes" Adora blushed

"You brought her home didn't you?" Glimmer asked smiling

"I did, and she stayed the night. And we went on a date today, she is my girlfriend" Adora said blushing

"Bow! Get your ass down here! Adora has a girlfriend! We need to celebrate" Glimmer yelled to her boyfriend

"I work tomorrow Glimmer, not to much alcohol please" Adora said shaking their head as Bow ran into the room

"But you have a girlfriend!" Glimmer squealed as she ran to the kitchen

"Is it the magicat?" Bow asked shaking his head at his girlfriend

"Yes it is. She is spicy and head strong but damn is she amazing if you get through the armor just a little" Adora said accepting the drink glimmer was now placing in their hand

"I want to meet her" Glimmer stated plopping down on the couch

“You will, but you can’t be so enthusiastic. She is reserved and doesn’t take well to to much craziness” Adora explained

“Okay fine, can we have her for dinner this weekend?” Glimmer asked hopefully

“I will ask her, but no guarantee” Adora said tossing back the rest of their drink

“So?” Scorpia asked

“So what?” Catra countered

“How was your date?” Scorpia asked

“It was acceptable” Catra said feeling a blush creep up her neck

“Oh yeah? Just acceptable?” Scoripa retorted

“Fine, fine. It was amazing” Catra finally admitted

“You are crazy for them” Perfume said smiling as she walked into the room

“I am. They asked me out” Catra said her tail flicking back and form as she spoke

“And?” Perfume countered

“I said yes” Catra said smiling

“Finally you are doing something for you” Scorpia stated

“Yes, I guess I am” Catra said smiling at her two friends

Catra woke early, she had gotten into a good routine in the past week. Unlike her first day she was had not been late the whole week, truthfully it was so she could hopefully run into Adora while they worked out. Blushing a the thought of their partner once more naked under her, shaking her head she dressed quickly before grabbing breakfast and she was off. The walk to work was easy, living less then a twenty minute walk from the school meant she did not need any other type of transportation. She still was surprised how close Adora lived to her, and the fact they had never ran into each other still amazed her.

Making her way into the school, she walked past the gym hoping to catch sight of Adora. Peeking her head in there was no sight of them but she could hear the weights moving in the side room. Slipping into the gym she stood in the door frame for the weight room. A shiver ran down her spine as she watched Adora with their back to her squatting what looked to be over three hundred pounds. They did not have a sports bra or binder on, and she could see the edge of tape coming onto their back as well as the red marks from her claws. Her body immediately reacted to the sight, she did not realize how much she loved the fact that Adora could throw around the weight that they did.

“I can feel your eyes on me” Adora announced as they placed the weight down

“Is that so?” Catra asked her ears going back at being caught

“It is, if you want come and sit” Adora stated turning to look at her

Catra could not believe her eyes, the sight of Adora standing there hair in a tight braid with tape pushing their chest down. The tape pushed down the tissue but Adora has taped in the way that made it look as though they had pecs. Adora was really fucked when it came to Adora.

“I do not want to bother you” Catra said stepping into the room blushing

“You could never bother me” Adora said smirking knowing they were were causing Catra to blush

“Are you sure? I will sit here and be quiet” Catra said slipping into a chair as her tail came to rest in her lap

“I know you will be quiet, you are too enamored by my body right now” Adora smirked

Catra blushed deeply as she ran her hands along the fur of her tail. She watched Adora smile down at her before heading to continue their work out. Half an hour later Adora was done towel in hand as they stepped in front of her, a stupid smile on their face.

“Did you enjoy the show?” Adora asked looking down at her

“I did, does the tape not hurt?” Catra asked standing and looking up at them

“It did at first, but now I do not even notice it” Adora smirked

“Oh, well I like how it looks” Catra stated looking away

Adora smiled down at their girlfriend, in bed they were forward and needy but in this moment they were embarrassed about what they liked. Reaching down Adora took her head in their hands before turning her to look up at them, the spark in her eye was easily seen as Adora leaned down to kiss her gently

“Do not be nervous to tell me what you like” Adora said as they pulled back

“You are fucking delicious” Catra stated running her claws along their sides

“And you are as well, so sweet on my tongue. Would you like to touch?” Adora asked motioning to their chest

“Is that okay?” Catra asked amazed

“I wouldn’t offer if it wasn’t” Adora stated placing their hands on her hips

Catra looked up at them before tentatively bringing their hands up and running them along the taped skin. The feeling of the muscle under her hands made her shiver, this was much more intimate then she had expected. And the look that Adora gave her as she did it made her weak in the knees. Slowly she placed her palm against the tape feeling the heat radiating from their body, the smile that Adora gave her told her that they were both learning.

“You like?” Adora asked finally

“Yes, I do like how your body feels under my hands” Catra said blushing

“Good, because I like how your body feels under mine as well. Now I hate to cut this short but I do need to shower as we do both have to teach today” Adora chuckled

“Fine, can I have another kiss before you go?” Catra asked nervously

“You never have to ask for kisses” Adora stated placing a gentle one on her lips

Catra did not understand how she had managed to get so lucky to have found Adora, slipping from the weight room she made her way to her classroom. Stepping inside she turned the lights on, finding something she had not expected. A large vase with a bouquet of flowers sat in the middle of the desk. Shaking her head she knew who they were from without having to read the card attached but it made her heart flutter as she pulled the card off as she placed the vase to the corned of her desk.

Beautiful flowers for a beautiful girlfriend. -Adora

“Who bought her flowers?” A student murmured as they walked in “Someone actually likes her?” Another student murmured

“If you are all done with your murmuring about the flowers on my desk, we shall begin class” Catra snapped

She had control in class but the students still tried to do what they wished, classes passed quickly which she was glad for. Soon the bell rang alerting them to lunch, her stomach grumbling but she had forgotten her lunch at home due to wanting to get to school in hopes of seeing Adora. Sighing she grabbed her bag beginning her search for her wallet, she did not want to spend more money as she had very little to begin with but she needed to eat. Dumping her bag on the desk she found her wallet no where to be seen, groaning loudly she slid her items back into the bag before slumping into her chair.

“What’s wrong?” Adora asked leaning against her open door

“Nothing” Catra snapped

“Hey now, what’s wrong?” Adora asked slipping into the room closing the door behind them

“Don’t worry about it” Catra snapped her tail flicking with annoyance

“I will worry about it, now will you tell me or will I have to lift you out of the chair and pin you to a wall to get you to tell me” Adora said lowly stepping forward

“That is mean, you know what those threats do to me” Catra stated her ears twitching

“I know, because they do the same to me. So tell me what is wrong” Adora asked again now leaning their hip against her desk

“I forgot my lunch at home” Catra stated

“Then let us go grab food? That was my plan to begin with” Adora offered

“That is the next problem, my wallet is on my side table I am pretty sure” Catra said sighing and shaking her head

“You are upset over that? Come on baby, we are getting food” Adora stated grabbing her hand and pulling her into a standing position

“I just said I have no wallet” Catra grumbled

“And I have my wallet, so problem solved” Adora smirked that smirk that Catra was falling for

“You paid for dinner yesterday” Catra objected as she was dragged from the room

“And? I do not mind paying for us. With how careful you were when shopping yesterday I feel as though you have a very very tight budget. If not tighter then it should be, and with that I feel as though even if you had your wallet with you you would have still debated eating” Adora said softly as they opened the door for her

“Are you saying I am poor?” Catra asked hating that Adora was right

“No I never said that. I just said you are on a tight budget, I am not on a tight budget so I do not mind spending money on you” Adora said smiling

“You are a pain in my ass” Catra grumbled

“And a beautiful ass it is” Adora said smiling widely as Catra blushed

Catra felt her hand twitch wanting to take Adora's in her own but she knew it was a bad idea when they were just outside the school. The walk was short as there was a small sandwich shop that sat across the street from the school, Catra had passed it for the past week and she kept wanting to try it but told herself maybe next week when she had more money but that never happened. She hated that all of her money either went to rent or the loans she took out to pay for rent and necessities, she barely had enough for food but she made do. She watched as Adora opened the door ushering her forward their large warm hand on her lower back, something she seemed to now crave.

"Adora! First time this year, we were wondering if you forgot us" The owner said chuckling

"I know I know, the first week was just easier to bring my own food" Adora said laughing

"Who do you have with you?" The owner asked

"Catra, I am a new teacher" Catra said blushing slightly

"Well nice to meet you, something else going on between you two. I haven't ever seen Adora smile like that" The owner said watching them

"Wouldn't you like to know?" Adora said smirking

"Now together or separate for the bill?" The owner asked

"Together" Adora stated

"That answers my question" The owner said chuckling

Catra blushed again as he began taking their orders, soon she was sitting eating one of the best sandwiches and soups she had ever had. She watched Adora closely as they ate, the amount of food they could pack away astonished her but she assumed it was because of how much they worked out and how big they were.

Her ears went back as Adora caught her staring, a smile passing their face as they raised an eyebrow in question.

“You have a lot on your mind. Do you wish to talk about it?” Adora asked

“I just, well no yes? It is not something I should ask” Catra said stumbling over her words

“Ask away baby, I do not mind anything you could ask” Adora countered

“You are a young teacher just like me, how do you have so much money?” Catra asked

“Ah, well the beginning of my life was not as good as I would have liked. I was an orphan for the first ten years of my life then my most amazing parents adopted me. I have always been athletic and had a good brain as my parents put it, so I got scholarships. My parents paid for my rent and necessities so I have no debt, my parents died a little over a year ago in a freak accident. So I inherited money, their home was sold and I continue to rent” Adora explained

“I am sorry about your parents, may I ask why you would not buy if you have the money?” Catra asked nervously

“I don’t want to buy until I have found the one, I want to buy a home together. Equally, so then I do not feel like my partner is moving in to my home but instead our home. Now how about you, why do you hold your purse strings so tight?” Adora asked finishing their sandwich already

“I was in an orphanage my whole life, I never had anyone look at me to take me home because of what I am. But I was lucky, I was smart and with that came scholarships like you. But because I aged out I had to take out loan upon loan to pay for my accommodations and food. I could have lived on campus due to my scholarship but I had not been told that so by the time I had learned that the rooms were filled and I had to rent. So I am tens of thousands of dollars in debt, while still having to pay rent. So there are some weeks well more like every week that I only have a very small amount of usable money. So lunches like this or dinners like we had yesterday will be few and far between. I am sorry if you are not okay with that" Catra said stirring her soup while not looking at her

"I don't care if you have money or not, I have more money then I need. And I have enough for both of us, so I am more then happy to pay for breakfast lunch and dinner for you" Adora said smirking

"You can't just pay for me every time" Catra started

"Oh I can and I will" Adora stated raising their eyebrow

"Fine but I will pay you back" Catra said pointing a clawed finger at them

"Oh you already are" Adora said softly

"How is that?" Catra asked confused

"By being my girlfriend that is how" Adora said in a voice that made Catra shiver

"You are so cheesy" Catra said rolling her eyes

"I know, but you seem to enjoy it. You enjoyed it when you were beneath me this weekend" Adora said lowly

"Adora" Catra squeaked out

"Yes?" Adora smirked still

"We are in public" Catra said blushing again

"I know we are, we could run into the bathroom and get frisky if you want? Or would you rather me pin you to the wall in the weight room after I have just worked out?" Adora asked

"The later, I would prefer the weight room" Catra said blushing

“Good to know. We should probably head back to the school, oh did you like the flowers?” Adora asked as they grabbed their garbage

“I did, thank you for them” Catra said following Adora out of the door once more

“Oh before I forget, my roommates want to meet you. You want to come for dinner this week?” Adora asked as they made their way towards the school

“Umm.... sure maybe. That is a little scary” Catra said softly

“They are not that scary, they are a little over the top but you will like them” Adora stated as they stepped into the school

“Okay fine I will come for dinner” Catra said as she was pulled into a utility closet

“What in the world?” Catra asked as she was picked up

“I wanted to do this since this morning” Adora said pinning her against the wall

Catra wrapped her legs around Adora’s waist as her hands came to the tightly braided hair on the back of Adora’s head, their mouth was on hers in a second. Nipping and biting at her bottom lip as their large hands pulled at her blouse until their warm hand was now placed against her warm fur. She moaned loudly as Adora moved their thigh until she was resting against it.

“I could do this all day” Adora groaned out as Catra’s nails ran through their hair

“Could you now? Hold me up all day long?” Catra groaned

“Yes, and feel your beautiful body and fur against me” Adora said nipping at her neck

“You and my fur, oh fuck” Catra moaned as Adora bit her pulse point

“I love it, fucking hell” Adora groaned as the bell began ringing

“You leave first, you are the most presentable” Catra said sighing

“Fine, can I see you after class?” Adora asked hopefully

“I would like that” Catra said placing a kiss on their lips before being placed back down on the ground

Catra watched Adora straighten their clothes before looking at them once more before slipping from the room. Catra leaned against the wall for a few more minutes before she began to push her blouse back into her pants. She was fucked when it came to Adora, all she wanted was to have their hands on her at all times. And it seemed that Adora wanted the same thing which led to moments like this as she now was horny at school once more. Taking a deep breath once more she ran her hands over her blouse before slipping from the room hoping that the rest of the day would go well.

Chapter 9

Catra took a deep breath, it was the beginning of October already. September having flown by faster then she could have ever imagined. Her days were spent teaching while her nights were split between home and Adora's home. Her weekends on the other hand were now consistently spent in bed with Adora. Catra hated how Adora made her feel, the way that Adora made her feel like she was the only one in the world and made her heart pound in her chest each time they looked at her. She was falling in love with Adora and did not know how to deal with it. She had gone over the day after Adora had asked her to meet their friends, they were loud and crazy but they truly loved Adora. She could tell that everything they did was to make sure Adora was safe and cared for, and Catra understood why Adora was such a kind and compassionate person and that is when she knew this was more then just dating.

"Catra there is a letter for you" Scorpia called out

"A letter? What do you mean?" Catra asked stepping out of her room and into the living room

"There was just a knock then a letter taped to the door" Scorpia stated handing it over

Catra chuckled she recognized Adora's scrawl, shaking her head that they just left a note instead of waiting to speak to her made her shake her head. Slipping her claw through the seal she unfolded the letter and scanned it.

Come to the school right away, I have a key and no one else will be there. Meet me in the weight room

"So?" Scorpia asked

"I am off to the school" Catra said blushing

"It is a holiday, there is no school though" Scorpia said confused

“That is why I am meeting right now” Catra said grabbing her coat

“Oh god, you are just going for sex” Scorpia stated understanding

“Yes I am” Catra said smiling as she ran from the apartment

Catra ran towards the school, she knew she shouldn’t be this excited but something about how Adora asked for her to come there made her week at the knees. Throwing open the front door of the school she allowed herself to breath for a moment before making her way towards the gym. Stopping at the door she heard no movement of machine’s or weights so she began to worry that she had gotten here before Adora did.

“I can hear you kitty” Adora’s voice echoed through the door

“You are in here” Catra said blushing as she stepped in Catra stopped in her tracks, Adora sat on the weight bench leaning against the wall behind them, tape on their chest holding everything in place and their chest looking amazing. Catra continued to looked down their body to the bulge that was tenting their shorts.

“See something you like?” Adora asked smirking

“Very, is that for me?” Catra asked trying to keep calm

“It is, if you wish for it” Adora said trying to sound calm

Catra smirked before making her way towards Adora, stopping in front of them she looked at the burning need in their eyes as she dropped to her knees. The gasp as Adora realized what she was about to do made a new wave of arousal dampen her fur. Watching Adora carefully with a smirk on her face she grabbed the waistband of the shorts before pulling them down revealing a long and thick dildo that was attached to Adora but looked as though it also slipped inside them.

“You look incredibly hot like this” Catra said watching Adora’s face as she ran a tongue along the silicone

“And you are incredibly beautiful holy shit” Adora moaned as Catra smirked and took the dildo into her mouth

She began moving her head allowing the dildo to go further and further into her mouth with each thrust, she also knew this was driving Adora crazy as she could feel the arousal seeping into the bench and their legs. Catra kept her eyes focused up as she watched Adora’s hands move towards her head before coming back onto the bench, rolling her eyes at the fact that she knew what Adora wanted but was to worried to do so. Moving her one hand she grabbed their hand before placing it into her mane, her tail grabbed a hold of the other hand but instead of slipping it into her mane Adora’s hand came to wrap it around their hand and pulled gently. The groan turned into a gasp as Adora began to buck their hips the feeling of the piece inside of them as it rubbed on their clit was driving them crazy. Soon Catra felt the dildo slip into her throat as she choked and gagged. Adora’s eyes flew open before pulling her back up with worry etched on their face.

“I am so sorry” Adora said breathlessly

“It is okay, I should have expected that to happen” Catra said inhaling deeply

“I should not have done that, shit your tail” Adora stated realizing that her tail was wrapped around their hand

“I kinda liked it” Catra said blushing deeply

“I though you didn’t like your tail pulled like that” Adora asked confused

“I don’t normally, but with you it is different” Catra said softly blushing

“Fuck you are beautiful” Adora said pulling her up into their lap

“And you are beautiful? Handsome?” Catra said placing a kiss on their forehead

“I want to bury myself in your tight delicious pussy, can I?” Adora almost pleaded

“I though you would never ask” Catra smirked kissing them quickly before jumping off

Catra watched as Adora stared at them as though they saw no one else in the world, slowly she began to strip their clothes off. Adora’s eyes never once leaving her body as they shimmied from their shorts. Catra stood finally bare and tail slowly moving behind her as she came to straddle Adora’s legs.

“Fuck you are beautiful” Adora stated taking a nipple into their mouth

“Fuck” Catra screamed as she ran her claws along Adora’s neck

“Use your claws my pretty kitty” Adora growled

“I do not want to hurt you” Catra said worried

“I want to feel you clawing at my body as you sink down on my cock for the first time” Adora said their voice low and dark

“You want to make me yours do you?” Catra teased running a clawed finger down Adora’s chest

“I do not have to make you mine, you already are. The moment you walked into the school and I saw you for the first time. I knew you were mine and only mine” Adora snarled as they stood Catra in their arms

Catra did not know what was happening with Adora but she loved it, she could feel herself dripping as Adora pinned her against the wall. The look in Adora’s eyes drove her crazy, she could feel Adora release one of their hands as they slipped it between them grabbing the cock before running it through her soaked folds.

Catra ran her hands along Adora's shoulders as she felt the tip enter her. She expected slow and steady but that was not what Adora had planned, a thrust of their hips and they were fully seated inside her. Her claws dug into Adora's shoulders as drops of blood bubbled up and began to run down their back as they slowly moved.

"Oh god, oh fuck" Catra murmured

"You feel so good, you are so tight. Grasping onto my cock, you are made for my cock aren't you?" Adora asked before capturing her lips

"I am made for you, please please move" Catra pleaded as she pulled back from the kiss

"You are my good kitty, I want to hear you" Adora stated starting to move

Catra's eyes rolled back as Adora started to move, slowly the cock was pulled out and slowly pushed back in. The thickness pulled at every surface and she was loving it. Adora smirked at her, kissing along her jaw and neck feeling the soft fur along her body as it rubbed against their own. The fact aht all they had on was the tape made the feeling a hundred times better. Every time they fucked before they had worn a binder or wraps but this was different, this was more personal and they were falling in love each day with Catra.

"Please baby, please fuck me" Catra babbled as she grasped the back of Adora's head her claws digging in

"As my beautiful girlfriend wishes" Adora states smirking

Catra knew better then to underestimate Adora, she felt the large warm hands come into position as their hips began to snap. The cock hitting her cervix over and over again and her breath was taking away, she continued to claw at Adora's shoulders leaving mark after mark that she knew was bleeding but neither of them cared and she felt as though Adora enjoyed it. Leaning forward

Catra wrapped her arms around their neck as they buried their head into her arms as her lips were pressed against Adora's pulse point.

"You feel so fucking good, god I do not know what I would do without you. Fuck Catra, you are everything I want and need in life" Adora groaned out as the sounds of their fucking echoed through the room

"I...I....Oh god, Fuck. I love you" Catra groaned out then realized what she said as Adora slowed down

"You love me?" Adora asked as they slowly pumped their hips

"I do...." Catra said worried

"Good, because I love you to" Adora said smiling before beginning to slam into her again

"Can you come like this baby?" Adora whispered into her ear as she moaned loudly

"Yes, just keep going. It is rubbing so good" Catra groaned out nipping at Adora's neck

"Bite if you want" Adora said sweat dripping down their face

"I will hurt you and scar you" Catra said looking up at Adora

"Then ruin me" Adora smirked

Catra could not help the blush that crept up her face as her orgasm began to show its face. She had never bitten anymore the way she knew Adora wanted to be bitten, looking up at her face once more she placed a gentle kiss onto Adora's lips before kissing down their cheek and jawline until she got to their pulse joint. Her brain was already almost done for as Adora's thrusts began faster and harder as she bit down. The groan from Adora and taste of a little blood as her fangs pierced their skin sent her over the edge, two more thrusts and she was shaking as she heard the drops of her arousal hitting the floor. Adora continued their thrusting as her back was placed against hte wall again as the thrusts began erratic before Adora's body began to shake as she pulled back from her bite before placing kiss after kiss on the wound. She could feel Adora's shaking body as the thrusts stopped but soon their lips were on hers kissing her gently and tenderly not caring that they were covered in blood.

"I love you" Adora said breathing heavily

"I love you to. You can put me down if you want?" Catra said wiping blood from their lips

"Okay, maybe a nap to?" Adora chuckled

"Sure, and maybe a band-aid or two" Catra said as Adora pulled out of her as another splatter of arousal hit the floor

"Is it bad?" Adora asked looking at the mirror behind them

"It is, I did not mean to do it that hard. I am sorry" Catra said softly

"Oh do not be sorry, I love it. And I wanted it, it shows I am yours" Adora said softly looking at Catra once more like she was the only one in the world

Chapter 10

Adora watched as the snow slowly fell, the students were packing up their bags as the weekend now had begun. They never gave them any trouble, October had ended much like September had. Catra spending now even more so every moment that she could in Adora's arms. The letter they held in their shaking hands was un opened and they feared what it could say.

"Knock knock" Catra said leaning against the doorframe

"Hey you" Adora said placing the letter back on their desk

"You okay? You seem lost in thought" Catra said hopping up on their desk

"Yes? No? Maybe?" Adora said softly playing with the corner of the letter

"What is going on in your head love?" Catra asked watching them closely

"Could we talk at my place instead of here?" Adora asked nervously

"Of course. My bag is in my classroom, meet me there when you are done?" Catra asked watching her partner carefully

"Give me like half an hour" Adora said smiling up at Catra

"Of course" Catra said placing a gentle kiss on their forehead before leaving the room

Adora watched Catra leave, they hated making Catra wait or feel as though they had done something to bother them but they needed to take a few more moments for themselves. Placing the letter into their bag they began finishing up the last bits of paperwork before the half an hour came to an end. Bag in hand they made their way into Catra's classroom, the smile and look of love on her face always made their heart full. Soon they were stepping out into the lightly blowing snow, Catra's hand came into theirs the moment they stepped out of the school, the silence was nerve wracking for Catra as she did not know what was going on. Stepping into the town house not long after she felt her winter jacket being pulled from her shoulder and hung up by a nervous looking Adora.

"What is wrong? Did I do something?" Catra asked worried taking Adora's hand in hers

"Come and sit" Adora said softly pulling her towards the couch

"Adora, what is wrong?" Catra asked sitting and pulling her knees up under herself

"I got a letter today" Adora stated

"Okay and what did it say?" Catra asked watching closely

"I do not know, I haven't opened it yet" Adora explained

"Do you know what the letter is about?" Catra asked pushing

"Do you love me no matter what?" Adora asked the worry still in the back of the mind

"Of course I do. What has made you so worried?" Catra asked taking their hands in hers

"You know how much I hate my chest, there has been the moments where I have allowed you to touch me without binding or tape but I do really hate my chest. This letter right here will tell me if I have an appointment to get them removed, or if I am being denied. If I am denied I will just apply again but I just worry you will not love me anymore if I get this done" Adora said pulling from her grasp to grab the letter from the bag on the floor

"I could never not love you. I support you for you, and I love you for you. I expected you to get this done at some point, so open that letter and let us see what it says” Catra said taking the letter and running a claw along the seal before handing it back

Adora Shera

This letter is to inform you that your surgery for double mastectomy has been approved. Surgery will take place December 11th at nine am. Please be at the hospital at six am for pre surgery requirements. You will be on bedrest for three weeks before minimal duties for another five. You will also need someone to take care of you for those eight weeks, do plan ahead. Any questions or concerns please send a letter back.

Etheria Hospital

“I am getting surgery” Adora said softly

“You are, you will miss a week of school but that is okay” Catra said reading over their shoulder

“But it is in the holidays. And who is going to look after me?” Adora said their voice wavering

“I will, you thought I wouldn’t?” Catra asked hurt

“I did not want to assume. We have only been together for two months, I did not want to assume you would care for me like that so soon” Adora said looking up into Catra’s face

“Adora, listen and listen carefully. I love you, and I mean that. And with that means I support you through anything that comes about. The first week will be hard because I will still be teaching but the two other weeks where you are on bedrest will be much easier. Then the other five weeks you are able to do small things, so as long as you have your items for the day laid out then you will be okay” Catra said smiling

“You can’t just come here every day, that is to much work for you. It is okay I will push the date back or something” Adora said shaking their head

“Then why don’t we move in together?” Catra blurted out before she realized what she was saying

“You want to live with me?” Adora asked surprised

“I do, I hate being away from you. And I hate sleeping by myself. You have a stranglehold on my heart. But I can’t move out, I should not have said it” Catra said softly shaking her head

“Why can’t you?” Adora asked smiling gently

“I have no money for a security deposit, and that is not fair to you to have to pay it all because I am so in debt” Catra said shaking her head

“Then I buy and you help with the mortgage. You know that I have the means to do so. And then there is less financial stress on you” Adora offered nervously

“I can’t do that to you. Adora, you said you wanted to buy when you had a partner so you two were equal. But if you did this we would not be equal” Catra said shaking her head

“Yes we would, because we would search for it together and furnish it together pay the monthly payments together. I want to if you do” Adora said the hope in their voice breaking Catra

“What about your roommates?” Catra asked

“They expect it, they were actually asking me if and when we were moving in together just a few days ago. Now what about your roommates?” Adora countered

“They haven’t said it outright to me but they have mentioned it in a passing comment or question. I need to see what they say, I cannot just leave them if they can’t handle it financially” Catra said softly

“Then speak with them and I will speak with Glimmer and Bow” Adora said pulling Catra into their lap and holding them close to their chest

Adora sat on the couch, Catra having left twenty minutes before. The letter sat on the table unmoving but within that stillness their mind was going around as though they could not stop. The keys in the door brought them from their thoughts as Glimmer and Bow came in chatting away.

“You okay?” Bow asked worried

“I am, well I think. I got my letter, I have surgery in December” Adora said grabbing the letter and holding it up

“That is amazing! But I feel as though there is more to this then just having your surgery date” Glimmer stated watching

“Catra asked me to move in together. She wanted to take care of me after surgery” Adora said softly smiling

“Finally, are you two moving into one of each others homes or are you getting your own place?” Bow asked smiling

“We are going to get our own place, if you are okay with me leaving?” Adora asked

“Our lease is up at the end of January anyways. As soon as you came home that day talking about your new colleague we knew that you would be moving out soon” Glimmer said smiling as though this was the greatest thing in the world

“So you are okay with me leaving?” Adora asked as they slipped onto the couch

“Yes, we will help you move and everything, anything you need help with we will help with” Bow said smiling

“Thank you both of you, I appreciate it so much. And I love you both” Adora said reaching over to pull them both into a hug

“Perfuma? Scorpia?” Catra called out

“In the kitchen” Perfuma called back

“Hey” Catra said leaping to sit on the counter looking at the two women

“You look as though a cat has gotten your tongue and no pun intended. Spit it out” Scorpia said laughing watching her

“I asked Adora to move out with me, they said yes. I am panicking. What do I do?” Catra asked quickly

“Do you truly want to move out with them?” Perfuma asked

“Yes, I would love to live with them. But you both have done so much to help me in these past years” Catra said shaking her head

“Yes and you have done so much for us. Now are you truly wanting to live with Adora?” Scorpia asked

“I do, I hate waking without them beside me each morning” Catra said her ears pinning back as she ran her hand along her tail

“Then move out with them” Perfuma stated

“You two will be okay?” Catra asked

“Yes we will be. Our lease is up on February, we are thinking of buying” Scorpia stated

“Good for you, that is what Adora wants to do” Catra stated

“And you feel guilty because you cannot help with that down payment. Am I correct?” Scorpia asked

“You are. I hate that I cannot help” Catra said shaking her head a small amount of tears running down her cheeks

“But you can help with a mortgage. Do it, allow Adora to put the down payment and begin to have a life with the person you love” Perfuma said wiping the tears from her cheeks

“I love you two” Catra said reaching for them and pulling them into a hug

“We love you as well. You deserve this happiness” Perfuma said as they continued to hug

Chapter 11

“How many places are we looking at today?” Catra asked as she pulled on her shirt

“Three. All over the city” Adora said watching their girlfriend intently

“You are undressing me with your eyes” Catra said smirking

“Hard not to when you are as beautiful as you are” Adora said smirking

“You are cheesy” Catra stated rolling her eyes

“Yes I am. Now are you ready?” Adora asked

“I am, are you sure about this?” Catra asked worried

“More sure then I have ever been. Are you?” Adora countered

“I am. I love you more then I ever thought possible” Catra said running her fingers along the scarred bite on Adora’s neck

“Agreed, I would not have allowed you to mark me like this if I didn’t” Adora said smiling down at her

“I still cannot believe you let me do that” Catra said blushing

“Do you regret it?” Adora asked catching her hand in theirs

“Never. But normally a mark like that is given to a mate in my species” Catra said as Adora looked at her smiling

“Is that not what I am? Your mate?” Adora countered

“Do you want to be?” Catra asked taken aback

“I am buying a house with you, I want to spend my life with you. So yes I want to be your mate. Is there something I have to do for you to seal it?” Adora asked

“You would have to bite me and draw blood like I did on you for it to be sealed by custom” Catra said nervously

“I can do that if you want, but how do you know so much? You were not raised around any of this” Adora asked as they stepped from the house and towards the back of the townhouse

“I wanted to know more about who and what I was, so I found every book possible. And that was in the mating section, but you do not have to if you do not want to” Catra stated softly

“I want to, I promise” Adora said stopping beside a small red car

“Whose is this?” Catra asked confused

“Mine. I just very rarely drive as I live close enough to everything” Adora said opening her door before closing it as she settled in

“I did not realize you had a car” Catra said as Adora slipped in “Well now we have a car. Can you drive?” Adora asked as they pulled out of the parking spot

“Nope, never had the chance to learn” Catra said shrugging

“I will teach you then” Adora stated grabbing her hand as they drove toward the first house

The day passed quickly, two of the houses were nice but Catra fell in love with the last and final home. She had watched Adora look at her the stupid look of understanding on their face. The home was the closest to the school but still took them twenty minutes to get to. The home had three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a fully developed basement with a brand new kitchen with a massive living room. The backyard was planted with trees and a small garden, she was in love and Adora knew it.

“So” Adora stated as they walked into the empty townhouse

“I liked the last one the most” Catra admitted her ears flattening as she blushed

“I did as well, I like the fully finished basement. I can put a gym in there” Adora said smirking

“But it is the most expensive” Catra stated worried

“But it is not out of the price range. And the mortgage payment will still be less then you pay for that apartment” Adora stated knowingly

“Are we really doing this?” Catra asked

“I want that place if you do” Adora countered

“I want that place” Catra stated nodding

Adora smiled, before stepping away for a few minutes. A quick phone call to the relator and the ball was in motion. The house was already vacant as the owner had already moved, so if their offer went through they would have the home in a weeks time. Stepping back into the living room they found Catra leaning against the couch waiting.

“So?” Catra asked

“He is sending in the offer right now” Adora stated sweeping Her into their arms

“What are you doing?” Catra screamed playfully hitting their back as they walked “Taking you to my bedroom. And I am going to have my way with you” Adora smirked kicking the door open before tossing Catra onto the bed smiling wickedly

“Are you going to...?” Catra asked as she rubbed her legs together

“Am I going to what love?” Adora asked knowing what she was asking for

“Are you going to mark me?” Catra asked watching Adora stop as they unbuttoned their shirt

“Do you want me to?” Adora asked surprised

“You know I do, I said it earlier. I just did not know when you were going to, I should not have asked” Catra said her tail now in hand as she pet it nervously

“I would love nothing more then to do that to you, but only if that is what you want in this moment” Adora said resuming their stripping

“Please” Catra almost begged

“Strip for me love” Adora asked already completely stripped

Adora chuckled as Catra pulled her clothes off faster then they had expected, they stood watching as Catra laid back leg spread open waiting and watching every move they made. Adora moved slowly opening the drawer to their left pulling out the strap-on they both so enjoyed. Catra would never admit it but she was a size queen and she loved to be filled as much as she could be, so the introduction of the largest dildo they owned those weeks ago was the best idea.

“Fuck” Catra said feeling her arousal dripping down through her fur

“Fuck indeed. Touch yourself” Adora commanded

Catra looked at them for a moment before smirking and moving her hand down before slowly running a finger along her clit. She slipped her finger down between her lips feeling the pooling arousal and knowing Adora was going to slip in and fill her the way she wanted. Catra watched as Adora slipped on the harness as she ran her finger back up to her clit, her body already on the brink from just the simplest touch.

“I want you to ride me” Adora stated tightening the last strap

“Please” Catra groaned as she pushed herself into a sitting position

Adora smiled down at the women in front of her, laying back they moved the pillows to be perfect behind them as Catra threw her leg over her lap before taking the cock in hand. Running it through her slick folds she moaned before placing it at her entrance and slowly sliding down, Adora’s hands came to her hips pulling her down. Catra loved when Adora pulled her down onto the toy, she enjoyed the slow descent but the feeling of being impaled quickly made her heart pound. Soon she was seated fully on Adora’s lap, panting she held her hands on their stomach but found it not to be a good placement.

“Here” Adora said understanding the predicament

“Are you sure?” Catra moaned as Adora rolled their hips

“I am sure love. And keep those claws out, I want to feel them” Adora stated moving her hands to her chest

Catra did not touch unless she was told she could so this was not a common thing for her to do, her hand touching the strong muscle and soft flesh that was held down with the tape that Adora seemed to favor recently. Moving her fingers she allowed her claws to slowly scratch the sensitive skin, the shiver that ran through Adora’s body egged her on. Soon she was digging her claws into their skin just enough to leave a mark but not to bleed. This pushed Adora forward, their hips began to move as Catra met each thrust, the feeling of the feeling of the tip of the cock hitting her cervix with each thrust made her babble unknown words.

“Fuck I wish I could cum with you when you cum. Dig my teeth into your neck as we both scream” Adora groaned out

“Trust me?” Catra asked unsure

“With my life, why?” Adora asked slowing down for a moment

“I can make you cum, but it is a little well kinky” Catra said her face heating up

“What do you mean kinky? Oh” Adora said blushing as they understood what Catra was offering

“So that is a no?” Catra asked worried she overstepped

“Oh no, that is a yes” Adora said slamming their hips up to show their approval

Catra dug her claws into Adora’s chest as she allowed her tail to move around and between Adora’s open legs, she had never done this before and the fact that Adora trusted her to try this with made her heart swell. The loud groan that escaped from Adora as she touched the tip of her hair to their swollen clit made her dig her claws harder into Adora’s chest as a trickle of blood bubbled up.

“Oh fucking hell, that shouldn’t feel as good as it does” Adora groaned again as Catra began rubbing her tail against their clit

The Catra began to meet Adora’s thrusts as their hand moved just enough to still grab onto her hip but slowly rub her clit. She could hear how wet both of them were as their bodies became one with each thrust. She could feel how wet Adora was as her tail was soaked and she did not care, the loud breathing that was escaping Adora pushed her closer and closer to her peak. She did not want this to end as she heard a small gasp as her claws dug deeper into Adora’s chest, the look on their face told her that this was wanted as they pulled themselves into a somewhat sitting position to capture her lips with a hard but passionate kiss. Catra felt the nip at her lip before Adora shoved their tongue into her mouth, Catra nipped at the invading muscles causing a moan and a purr to escape both of them.

“You still want my bite?” Adora asked groaning as they came close to their peak

“Yes” Catra groaned

Adora looked at her for a moment as they felt their orgasm about to hit, they increased the speed of their thumb on Catra’s clit as she began to shake. Kissing Catra softly once more they moved to her neck before biting down on her pulse point, the fur that covered this area was thinner then all the rest of her neck. Adora bit down harder, their canine’s were sharper then they should be as they felt the skin give way as the taste of blood filled their mouth. Catra screamed as she shook her claws now digging into Adora’s shoulders as her orgasm crashed over and she slammed down on the cock holding herself in place. Adora felt their orgasm hit, as their body shook but did not let go of her neck. Catra panted, her tail slowly removing itself from between Adora’s legs, Adora had yet to let go of her neck but she could feel their tongue running along her fur as they let go slowly as they once more ran this tongue along the bleeding bite.

“Did I hurt you?” Adora asked pulling back to look at her face

“No not in the least, I hurt you more I think” Catra said running her finger through the blood droplets on Adora’s chest

“It is okay, I asked you for it” Adora said placing a gentle kiss on her lips before she moved off the dildo with a wet pop

Catra watched Adora slowly move to take the strap on off before tossing it onto their dresser, she watched as they grabbed a cloth to wipe away the blood droplets on their chest. Catra took it from their hands quickly and began wiping their back to rid it of the red lines, each time Catra wiped she would place a gentle kiss on each mark.

“Your tail was wonderful” Adora said laying down with Catra now laying their head on their chest

“I was worried you would think it to kinky” Catra said blushing

“Not at all. Most people thought the act of drawing blood on me was to kinky. You don’t though, and those claws are made for it” Adora smiled

“I though you just enjoyed the pain, it is actually a kink. Good to know” Catra said nuzzling under Adora’s chin

“I enjoy both my love. How is your neck?” Adora asked running their hand along her neck feeling the matting fur

“It hurts but it will heal and only you and me will know what is beneath my fur” Catra said blushing

“Are you sure you are okay that I did that?” Adora asked

“I am, are you sure you were okay with me biting you like I did without telling you it was a mating bite?” Catra asked worried

“I knew it was a mating bite” Adora said softly

“How?” Catra asked surprised

“When we started dating I took out as many books as I could to learn about your species. I wanted to know as much as I could so that I would not ever harm you and so I could learn about magicats. I knew the moment you said I love you and the fact that you were nipping at my neck you wanted to mark me. I wanted to be yours, that is why I told you to bite me in the way you wished. You marked me as your mate, but I know in your head you feared that I would not want it. So that is why I asked you about it today, I wanted to see your reaction when I asked about it. I love you Catra. I wanted to complete the mating ritual as it would be put between two magicats. I hope I did it well enough to count” Adora said running their large warm hand along her back

“You did that for me? You learned that all for me? You knew all along what that bite meant? You are wonderful, and even if you did not break any skin the mark would be complete to me. You wonderful person” Catra said pulling their face down to place a gentle kiss on their lips

Chapter 12

“It is weird isn’t it?” Adora asked picking at their dinner as they spoke with Glimmer and Bow

“It is, but we knew this was going to happen” Glimmer said chuckling

“I know. I love her more then I ever thought possible” Adora stated running their fingers over the Band-Aid that covered the scars on their neck

“Is there something you wish to tell us?” Bow asked raising his eyebrow

“What do you mean?” Adora asked playing dumb

“The Band-Aid you have worn on your neck since October. Now is there something going on?” Glimmer asked now getting worried

“Something has gone on yes but it is good. Don’t freak though” Adora stated pulling the Band-Aid from their neck

“What is that?” Glimmer asked

“What does it look like?” Adora countered

“That looks like a bite, I see the indents from fangs” Bow stated a smile coming to his face

“You are correct” Adora said chuckling

“Catra bit you hard enough to break skin? Why?” Glimmer asked confused

“Well I like pain for one, and well it is also a mating bite” Adora said their face growing bright red

“Mating bite? Have you bit her back?” Glimmer stammered out

“I did, the day we put the bid in for the house” Adora stated their face still red

“So you two are mated by the customs of magicats?” Bow asked calmly

“We are. I have not asked her to marry me, but I will in time” Adora stated pushing their plate away

“It is funny how one simple thing can change your whole life in an instant” Glimmer said smiling

“Her walking into the gym those months ago was the start of my new life, I could never had guessed that this was where my life would go this year” Adora said sipping the wine in front of them

“You deserve all of this happiness” Bow stated

“I need to tell you something” Catra said sitting on the couch playing with her tail

“Is it about the matted fur on your neck?” Scorpia countered

“How did you know?” Catra said her cheeks heating up

“I am not blind, nor am I dumb. You are very particular with your fur, and the fact you had a patch of matted fur on your neck for the past two weeks. What did you do?” Scorpia asked

“I bit Adora in October, to me it was a mating bite but I thought they didn’t know that. Well two weeks ago they made a comment about it, and well they bit me. By customs of magicats, we are mated” Catra explained

“So they knew that you biting them was you claiming them as your mate? Even though you didn’t tell them and they still let you?” Perfuma asked

“Correct” Catra said nodding her head

“You found the one. You deserve the happiness finally” Perfuma said smiling

“You don’t think it is odd?” Catra asked

“Not at all. Adora will propose in time I feel” Scorpia said chuckling

“I hate to say it but I hope they do” Catra said blushing

Catra made her way through the blowing snow, it was the first of December and her and Adora were receiving the keys to their new house right after work. The bid had gone through without any issue and they were now the proud owners of the house that they had fallen in love with. Stepping into the school she found Adora standing there waiting for her already.

“Hello beautiful” Adora said smiling

“Hello handsome” Catra countered reaching to touch their scars

“I decided I no longer wanted to keep them hidden” Adora explained

“Why?” Catra asked her breath hitching

“Because I love you, and I wanted you to mark me because I am your mate. And in time I want to marry you. So let those around us speak about it. We already have to speak with our boss” Adora said chuckling

“I love you, you big idiot” Catra said pulling them down to her level to kiss

“I guess this is what you wished to speak about?” Principal Walker stated walking into the school

“Yes” Adora said blushing

“Come with me” Principal Walker said smiling

Catra was nervous, she did not know how to read their boss yet and the way she walked in on them just now made her more nervous. Soon they were both slipping into the office, with Adora pulling Catra’s chair out before slipping into their own.

“How long has this been going on?” Principal Walker asked

“Just after the first week of school” Adora stated

“Did you two know each other before this?” Principal Walker asked eyeing Adora’s neck

“No, but we were pulled to each other from the moment Catra set foot in this school” Adora explained

“Is that your work?” Principal Walker asked pointing to Adora’s neck

“It is. It is a mating bite” Catra stated nervously as Adora’s hand came into her own

“I take it you have one as well?” Principal Walker asked

“I do” Catra stated

“You two are happy? And in love?” Principal Walker asked

“We are, and taking possession of our first home together tonight” Adora answered

“As long as you do not show affection in front of the students, then I do not care and am actually happy for you both” Principal Walker said smiling

“Thank you. We were worried” Catra said squeezing Adora’s hand

“No need to worry. Now I have lots to do, do you need anything else?” Principal Walker asked

“I am still approved for my time off?” Adora asked standing

“Yes, are you needing the week off before holidays as well?” Principal Walker asked looking at Catra

“I would love to but I understand if you cannot. We can find someone to take care of Adora if needed” Catra said truthfully

“It is just a week. We can get a substitute in for you as well” Principal Walker offered

“I would appreciate that greatly” Catra said trying to keep herself calm

“So you both will be off from the tenth. Catra you will return when school returns. Adora you will be returning in eight weeks correct? So the first week of February” Principal Walker said looking at her calendar

“That is correct” Adora said their smile large

“Very good. Now I have much to do for your paperwork. If you have nothing else to speak of, then you may take your leave” Principal Walker stated

“Thank you” Adora said standing and pulling Catra out

Catra was pulled through the halls until they came to Adora’s classroom, she was pulled inside before strong arms curled around her waist pulling her up into Adora’s strong arms. Catra laughed as Adora leaned back against their desk before hopping onto it so they were sitting as Catra straddled their lap.

“That went much better then I expected” Adora said smiling as Catra ran her claws over Adora’s neck

“That went very well, you are calmer knowing that you will be off the first week as well” Adora said holding her hips

“Well of course. You are stubborn and will do things you shouldn’t, now I can take care of you” Catra said placing a gentle kiss on their lips

“I love you” Adora said softly

“And I love you. But I should get to my class before the students start coming in” Catra said sadly Adora nodded, they loved and hated that they worked across the hall from each other. There are days all Adora wanted to do was sit and listen to Catra’s voice, Adora watched as Catra slowly maneuvered themselves off their lap before one last kiss was placed on their lips and the school day began.. The hours passed slowly for both of them, soon the final bell rang out as Catra looked up finding Adora already standing at the door waiting for her,

“Eager much?” Catra asked

“Very, I am thinking of every place I am going to take you in our new home” Adora said stepping in smirking

“Great minds thing alike then. But not until we have our stuff inside my love” Catra stated running their hand along the buttons of Adora’s shirt

“If you keep touching me like that, I will be taking you against a wall again as soon as we are alone” Adora smirked bending to kiss her

“Someone is horny today” Catra laughed before placing her lips upon Adora’s

“I am all day. Now come on kitty” Adora stated grabbing her hand that was on their chest and pulling them from the room

Adora had driven that morning knowing they would be heading to their new house, Catra had gone and taken her learners exam the day after she had learned Adora had a car. She had passed it with a perfect score and had now driven multiple times since then and was getting more and more confident each time she drove. But today was not one of those days she dared, the snow had gotten heavier and thicker and now a thick blanket covered the streets. The drive was calm, just before others were leaving work so the streets were peaceful. Soon they were pulling up in front of the home thje one they had chosen together. The relator stood at the door a smile on his face and a gift basket in the other, one last walk around of the house was done before the keys were handed over and they were left alone.

“This is something I could have never imagined” Catra said hopping up onto the counter

“What part of it?” Adora countered

“All of it. Three months ago I walked into the school to teach, now here I am with you. I am more in love with you then I ever thought possible, you took my bite and gave me your own and now we own our own home. Did we do this to fast?” Catra asked softly

“It is only to fast if someone does not wish for it. Do you wish for all of this?” Adora asked stepping between Catra’s legs

“I do, every last bit. I want a future together, I want to get married. I want a family if you are so willing. I want that all with you. But this right here is the first step, our first step together” Catra said softly her ears flattening with nervousness

“In time we will have each and everyone of those things you wish for, as I wish for them as well. One day we will both wear rings to signify our commitment to each other, just like our marks. I love you Catra” Adora said softly smiling down at her

“I love you to Adora” Catra said wrapping her legs around Adora’s waist pulling them in close

“You need to sleep love” Catra said softly

“I can’t” Adora said softly

“You need to though, we are getting picked up in less then eight hours. And you are having massive surgery tomorrow” Catra said stated her head laying on Adora’s chest

“I know, are you sure you are okay with this?” Adora asked worried

“Why would I not be? I have supported you since the beginning, this is your time to make yourself feel comfortable. I know what your chest does to you. I have only touched your chest twice and even then I know it bothers you” Catra said shaking her her head as she leaned on her elbow to look at Adora

“It sucks because I like having my nipples played with. But the fact that they are attached to breasts makes it hard. Could we, could you.... never mind” Adora said shaking their head

“What do you need love?” Catra asked now intrigued

“I have the chance of loosing all feeling in my nipples after this surgery. Could you, would you just touch them? Play with them?” Adora asked so softly that Catra barely heard

“Like this?” Catra asked running a claw against their nipple

“Yes” Adora said arching off the bed

“Or like this?” Catra asked again as she pinched the hardening peak

“Both” Adora moaned

Catra smiled, she loved nipples and the way they went from soft skin to these hard peaks that were so fun to play with. She wondered if once everything was healed if she would be allowed to play more but she would not push. Sitting up she swung her legs over Adora's stomach coming to rest on the hard plain of their abs. The flushed face of Adora looked up at her as she slowly ran a sharp claw around Adora's nipple. Adora's hands came to rest on her thighs slowly running along the dense fur, she still could not understand how Adora loved her fur so much but she was finally accepting of it.

"Harder" Adora begged

Catra smirked bending to kiss Adora gently before pinching the hard peaks and giving a small twist. The bucking of Adora's hips told her that that was exactly what Adora had needed and wanted. Slipping her tail from around her waist she slowly ran it along Adora's thighs feeling the muscle twitch and flex as they bucked their hips from the touch.

"What do you need handsome?" Catra asked softly

"You, touch me" Adora begged biting their lip as a moan wracked their body

"How do you need to be touched?" Catra pushed knowing Adora did not normally beg like this

"Fingers on me, mouth on my nipples please" Adora asked a blush growing across their face

"You just want the roughness don't you" Catra stated smirking showing a fang as she did

"Your tongue is amazing and you know it" Adora countered smiling

Catra laughed before throwing her legs off Adora's stomach and placing herself to their side, a simple move of her claw and Adora's boxers were ripped. A small groan of annoyance from Adora was heard but the moment Catra wrapped her mouth around a nipple. Slowly running her fingers along the soft skin on Adora's inner thigh she retracted her claws before slowly running her fingers through Adora's drenched folds. Catra slowly began running her rough tongue around the hard peak, the gasps and moans from Adora told her to continue. Slipping her fingers inside she began to move, slowly scissoring her fingers as she did. She knew this is how Adora always wanted it to start, nice and slow and soft. She continued the slow movement of her tongue as Adora's large strong hand came into her mane holding her in place. She wanted to bite and mark Adora but knowing that could lead to infection and issues in the next few weeks she held off. Retracting her claw on her thumb she began slowly circling Adora's swollen clit, she watched as Adora's free hand came and began pinching the nipple she was ignoring. The twitching that Adora's body was doing told her that their orgasm was coming, increasing the pressure on their clit she felt Adora's inner walls clamp down on her fingers as the loud moan echoed through their bedroom. Slowly she pulled back running her tongue once more over the swollen nub before looking up at Adora's red face.

"Was that what you needed love?" Catra asked smirking

"Yes, fuck. That was much needed. I hope that I have feeling after this" Adora said softly pulling her up to lay on top of their body

"Me to, I do love nipples. Now you need to sleep" Catra said kissing their forehead

"No it is your turn" Adora attempted

"No love, I can deal with it at another time. You need to sleep, I appreciate it. But right now your sleep is the most important thing" Catra said shaking her head

"Fine. But stay like this?" Adora asked hopefully

"You want me to lay on top of you?" Catra asked surprised

“Please. This is the last time we will cuddle for I do not know how long” Adora said shifting so she was laying fully on top of them

“Okay” Catra said placing her head on their chest as the covers were pulled up over them

“Surgery went well, once they have woken and fully recover from the anesthetic they will be allowed leave” The surgeon stated

“Can I go sit with them?” Catra asked still worried

“Of course. I will send a nurse out to take you back” The surgeon stated before turning to walk away

Catra hated waiting, the three hours she had to wait for the surgeon to come and speak with her were the hardest of her life. She could count on one hand how many times she had felt so worried, soon the click of shoes brought her from her thoughts as a nurse came into the waiting room.

“Are you Catra? Adora Shera’s partner?” The nurse asked

“I am” Catra said jumping up grabbing her book

“Come with her, they are awake and lucid but the effects of the anesthetic are still being seen. So if they are out of it, that is normal” The nurse stated as they walked into room

“I will return in a little, there are ice chips for them if they get thirsty but no water until they are fully awake” The nurse stated as she found Adora sitting partially

“Hey you” Catra said looking at the oxygen hooked around their ears and under their nose

“Hey sexy kitty” Adora said slurring their words

“You are still very loopy” Catra chuckled

“Yes I am. But you are my kitty” Adora stated the dumb smile making Catra’s heart hurt

“I am your kitty, you idiot” Catra said bending to place a kiss on Adora’s forehead

“How do you feel?” Catra asked pulling back

“Like I got a ton of things off my chest” Adora chuckled then grimaced

“You are horrible but you look at peace already” Catra said hopping to sit on the edge of the bed

“I feel good, I feel true” Adora mumbled

“I bet you do my love. I am so happy for you” Catra said raising her hand to push the stray hair from Adora’s face

“You still love me?” Adora asked softly

“I will always love you. Now close your eyes and nap a little, the meds they gave you need to wear off” Catra stated shaking her head

“Will you stay?” Adora asked grabbing for her hand

“I am never leaving you, do not worry” Catra said watching Adora smile before closing their eyes

Catra watched Adora as sleep slowly took over, she watched as Adora’s breathing slowed and became even. She could see the edge of the padding that was wrapped around their chest, the layers were tight and thick but she knew that was what was needed to keep what was just done in place. She wanted to see what Adora’s chest looked like but she knew it would be another week until the sutures for Adora’s nipples needed to be taken out as well as the drains that were under the skin. She hoped that the look was what Adora wanted, she wanted only the best for Adora and she knew Adora was the same about her.

Chapter 14

Adora watched as Catra stepped back into the house, her shoulders were turned in and the look on her face broke their heart. They watched with half closed eyes pretending to be asleep, they knew what was in Catra's hands but she had rarely spoke about the large amount of debt that she was in. Adora knew the debt was not from school but instead from living not on campus as well as the essentials she needed. Standing slowly Adora made their way into the kitchen finding Catra stashing the letter away in a drawer.

"Hey love" Adora said softly

"You should still be sleeping" Catra said shaking her head changing her expression

"It is okay. I am truthfully hungry" Adora said smiling

"Dinner will be ready soon, soup if that is okay?" Catra asked smiling

"More then. I love your soup" Adora said pulling her close and placing a kiss on her lips

"You shouldn't be pulling me like that" Catra said shaking her head

"It was careful and controlled. Now are we ready for the chaos that will be our home tomorrow?" Adora asked sitting at the kitchen table

"Yes? No? There is going to be a large amount of us" Catra said chuckling as she ladled a large helping into the bowl

"Could have been worse, the amount of people we used to have at my parents Christmas was crazy. Some years it would be small then other years there was thirty or more. So only four guests isn't to bad" Adora said taking the first bite

“It is weird that this is our first Christmas together” Catra said sitting down

“It is our first of many. I want a life with you, you know that. This is the first of many” Adora said smiling

“That was not as crazy as I had thought” Catra stated laying on the couch after everyone had left

“No, that was nice. A lot of my energy is gone though” Adora said laying back

“I bet, you haven’t stayed awake for that long since surgery” Catra said watching Adora closely

“But it was fun, it will hit me tomorrow though” Adora said leaning their head back

“Yes it will, but we do not have to do anything tomorrow love” Catra said standing and running their hand along Adora’s forehead moving hair out of the way

“I want to sleep in bed with you tonight” Adora said softly

“Are you sure?” Catra asked surprised

“My drains are gone. So technically no reason to be still sleeping sitting up. I miss waking up beside you” Adora said sadly

“I miss it as well. Come let us go sleep” Catra offered as she helped Adora stand

Adora watched as Catra helped them stand, soon they were both slipping into the bedroom. Adora looked at their bed, not realizing how much they missed sleeping in this room. Soon Catra was helping them into bed, the bed and pillows surrounding them. Catra soon slipped into bed, the feeling of her fur against their skin was the most amazing feeling they had felt in weeks.

Adora hated not telling Catra what was happening but they knew if they told her what they were about to do, she would have their head. Adora had managed to convince Catra to go have a girls night with Scorpia and Perfuma, while Glimmer had offered to come over and stay with them to keep Catra happy.

“We need to go do a few errands” Adora stated

“I will go do it for you” Glimmer offered

“No I need to do it, I have to go to the bank and you can’t do that for me” Adora said laughing

“What are you up to?” Glimmer asked watching as they grabbed the letter

“Something that Catra will hate me for” Adora said smiling

Half an hour later they were at the bank, Adora stood chatting away with the bank teller. Half an hour later and a weight now on their shoulders they were off again, stopping at one last shop before heading back to their home. The letter they had in their possession was either going to make or break their relationship but their love for Catra out weighed everything. The night went quickly, Adora enjoyed being around Glimmer for more then a few hours. They watched their favorite shows and ate more sweets and ice cream then they needed to. Adora hated the coldness of the bed, every time they woke their hand went out to feel for Catra but instead of her there the bed was cold. Adora was up first, making their way into the living room they slowly made coffee before slipping once again into their large chair. The letters from the bank were placed on the coffee table waiting to be found.

“Hey baby” Adora said as Catra walked into the house

“Hey you, how was your night?” Catra asked coming to place a gentle kiss on their lips

“It was good, we watched TV and all that fun stuff. Yours?” Adora countered

“About the same. Hey Glimmer” Catra said watching Glimmer come from the kitchen

Adora was happy that their best friend got along with Catra, if they did not get alone things would have been much harder but their love for Catra would never waver. Soon Glimmer was heading out, Adora felt the knot in their stomach as Catra puttered around their home. Soon she was sitting back down a coffee in hand, placing the coffee cup down Adora watched as she grabbed the letters.

“What are these?” Catra asked

“Open them” Adora said nervously

Catra looked at Adora, they did not like surprise's but something in the way Adora just spoke told her that she was not going to be very happy. Ripping open the seal she unfolded it reading it as her anger began to build, looking at Adora she did not know what to say but the crumpling of the letter told Adora what she thought.

“Catra” Adora began

“Are you fucking kidding me?” Catra snarled

“I wanted to help” Adora stated their voice wavering at the anger

“I wanted to do that on my own. That was my debt, not yours. You knew I wanted to pay it myself” Catra snapped

“I wanted to give you a fresh start” Adora started

“By paying my fucking debt off? That was almost sixty thousand dollars. That is not your debt, you took this away from me.

Something that I needed to do for myself, you took it upon yourself to do" Catra snapped as Adora reached out to touch her before retracting their hand

"It may not have been my debt but it was our debt Catra. We are together, which means your debt is mine. I wanted to help you because I could. I am your mate am I not? Does that not mean we are married under the Magicat laws?" Adora said their voice raising

"You are my mate....and yes it does mean that" Catra said her ears going down as they were pinned to her head understanding

"And as a mated couple, what mine is yours and visa versa. Which means your debt is mine, and my money is yours. As per magicat custom. That is why I paid your debt Catra, it causes you so much stress and I hate to see you like that. So to take this away will allow you to begin our life together as equals" Adora stated softly

"I just hate taking, and money is even harder to deal with. I never expected you to understand the customs so well and be so willing to follow them. We are married by my customs but by your customs were are just partners" Catra said her tail coming to wrap around her hand as she shrunk in on herself her head hanging

"Then marry me and be equal in both our cultures" Adora said shifting to the edge of the chair

"What?" Catra said looking up at Adora

"You heard me, Marry me? Pardon not getting down on my knee but that is a little hard at the moment" Adora said holding out a small black box

"Adora....We have only been together four months. You really want this?" Catra asked her ears pricking up

"I allowed you to mark me only two months into our relationship. You are everything I have ever wanted, you are my one and only.

You can say no if you do not wish for this” Adora said their hand shaking as they tried to keep their voice level

“Open the bloody box, you lovely idiot and ask me again” Catra said a smile passing her face

“Catra, marry me?” Adora asked opening the box showing a simple silver band with small diamonds imbedded in it

“Yes” Catra said her heart racing as Adora slipped the ring onto her hand

Catra looked at the ring upon her finger, she was never a big jewelry wearer. So the fact that the silver band had no diamonds on the outside that could get caught in her fur, but still was very feminine she was in love. The silver stood out against her dark fur and she now understood why Adora wore the mating mark with pride, this ring was a symbol she would always wear with pride.

“You like the ring?” Adora asked nervously

“More then you could imagine. I am sorry for getting upset” Catra said softly

“You had ever reason to do so, but we talked and came to an understanding. I love you Catra, I will only ever do things for us that will make us better” Adora said as Catra stood and climbed into their lap carefully

“Is this okay?” Catra asked nervously

“More then, I have missed this. You do have one more letter though” Adora said wrapping their arms around her body

“Can you just tell me what it is?” Catra asked not wanting to move

“You have been added onto my bank accounts and credit card. Your debit is there and your credit card will be mailed to us” Adora said kissing the top of Catra’s head

“Why?” Catra asked looking up to them

“Because I love you, and this is the beginning of our future” Adore said as Catra reached up to place a gentle kiss on their lips

Chapter 15

“Are you sure you will be okay?” Catra asked as she brushed her mane

“Yes love, you can’t not work because you are worried about me” Adora said leaning against the door frame

“I know, I just wanted to make sure” Catra said slipping her engagement ring back onto her finger

“Fuck you are beautiful” Adora said watching her carefully

“Oh hush you. I will try to be home as soon as I can be” Catra said reaching up to kiss Adora gently

Adora was bored, they normally did not sit around for this long without speaking or seeing anyone. Having Catra home for almost a month was the most amazing this they had ever dealt with but now their home was quiet. Attempting to watch TV for close to an hour they finally gave up, making a decision they stood before walking to the spare room they found the small cardboard box that one of their students had given them. Making their way back into the living room they found a documentary on some war years before. Popping open the box they found another box inside of it with a small knife and paint, realizing it was a model they smiled. All their student had said was that it would be fun for them to do and easy to do after surgery.

Pulling out the items Adora found the model to be of a tank, soon they were cutting out piece by piece. They had never built a model but something in doing this was fun, looking up at the TV they realized that they were watching a documentary on the war that this tank was from. The hours ticked by as the delicate art of painting was taking up much of their day and they found that they loved it. Standing mid day Adora made their way into the kitchen, tossing ingredients together in a crock pot they were then heading back to the table and back at the model building.

“Adora?” Catra called out

“Hey love” Adora said half the model done

“Whatcha doing?” Catra asked slipping beside them

“Building a model. One of the students gave me it” Adora explained

“Looks like you are enjoying it” Catra chuckled

“I am, I think I may want to build more of these” Adora blushed

“We can go this weekend how about that? You think you are up to doing a small drive? Doctor did say you would be allowed in small amounts” Catra asked running her claws through Adora’s loose hair

“I would like that. Could you ask him where he got it?” Adora asked smiling

“I can do that. Which student?” Catra asked her claws now running along Adora’s scalp

“Kyle. Final year” Adora said melting into the touch

“Perfect. Wait did you make dinner?” Catra asked sniffing the air

“I did. It is just soup but it was easy” Adora said smiling

“And this is why I am marrying you” Catra said smiling her ears twitching

“It’s why I am your mate” Adora said chuckling as Catra placed a gentle kiss on their cheek before running into the kitchen

Adora was happy to be leaving the house, the drive to the shop was easy and they knew if they started to feel uncomfortable that they could ask Catra to drive home instead. Stepping into the shop Adora was amazed at how much more there was to model building. Their mind was going crazy as they scanned the items on the shelf, the soft warm hand of Catra slipped into their own giving it a squeeze.

“So any particular items you want?” Catra asked as they walked through the isles

“No, but I don’t know where to begin even if I did” Adora chuckled

Catra smiled up at Adora, she could felt Adora’s finger’s slowly turning the band on her finger. It was odd to be wearing a ring like this but she would never change it for anything. The ring stood out against her fur and she loved that those around could see that she was taken and that she had a mate. They had yet to talk about a wedding but she knew that whatever they decided on would happen whether it was small or large.

“Is there anything you think that looks fun?” Adora asked gently

“This is your interest love” Catra said shaking her head smiling

“I know, oh that looks cool” Adora said walking off

Catra chuckled as she watched Adora begin to pull items from the shelves. Soon she was grabbing them from their hands, item after item as Catra finally went looking for a basket. She returned finding Adora with another pile of models, shaking her head she piled them into the basket. Soon they were on their way towards the paint and glue, Catra was surprised that they had already been in the shop for over an hour by the time they were finally checking out. She almost choked as she heard the price but Adora just shrugged tapping their card as Catra grabbed the multiple bags.

“You look like you have a question love” Adora said softly as they got into the car

“I do but do not want to offend” Catra said softly

“You could never offend me love. What is it that you want to ask” Adora said gently

“How much did your parents leave you?” Catra asked as they began driving

“I am surprised you took so long to ask me that” Adora said chuckling lightly

“I did not want to ask, it was not my place” Catra said shrugging

“But it is your place love. You are my mate, my partner, my fiancé, my soulmate and my world. It is your place to ask anything and everything” Adora said in the sweetest way Catra had ever heard

“Why do you always know what to say?” Catra said her voice hitching as she tried to keep her tears at bay

“Oh love do not cry” Adora said softly reaching for her hand

“I just feel like I do not deserve you some days” Catra said shaking her head

“You deserve me and everything good that you get. Now ask me again love” Adora said as they came to a stop at a red light

“How much money did your parents leave you?” Catra asked nervous to hear the answer

“A little over three million. I have spent only around a two hundred thousand of that. I could have bought our house outright but I knew you would not want that, and I wanted us to be equal. So the money that has been spent went to the car and your loans. Now I just use it for random things like this, but I make enough from the school that all my means are met. So that is how I can just buy things like this love" Adora said shrugging

"That is so much money" Catra said softly

"I know. But it means that we have no worry in our later years" Adora said as they began to turn onto their street

"I will never use your money" Catra said shaking her head

"But you will, because I want you to. It is our money, and you will need to get used to that my beautiful kitty" Adora said smirking that smirk that made her week

"Don't use that word with me right now" Catra said shaking her head

"Why not?" Adora countered

"Because it makes me horny and you are still healing" Catra stated shaking her head

"I am healing but you can do the work" Adora said wiggling their eyebrows

"Adora" Catra began as they parked

"Yes?" Adora said smirking

"Are you sure?" Catra asked her heart racing

"I am. It has been over a month, I am wanting this please" Adora almost begged as they walked into the house

"Fine, go get ready love. I will put your stuff away" Catra said swatting their butt as they walked towards the stairs

Catra did not want to push for sex, she knew Adora would tell her when they were ready again but she still did not expect it yet. Pulling the items out and placing them at the kitchen table she placed their reusable bags into their spot beside the back door and made her way towards the bedroom. Stepping inside she had to lean on the wall as she found Adora laying on their back their surgical binder off and the large strap on attached to their hips.

“Fuck you are handsome” Catra said softly

“Mmm I like that word today” Adora said blushing

“Good to know, do you want me to use he him through this?” Catra asked as she began to strip her clothes

“Please” Adora said watching Catra

“Well my handsome man you are delicious and sexy. I cannot wait to sit on your cock and stare at that lovely chest you have” Catra said straddling their hips as she ran the strap through her folds

“Fuck, touch me? Lightly but touch me please” Adora asked their hands coming to rest on Catra’s soft thighs

Catra smiled down at her partner, they had had a few moments in the past months where Adora wanted male pronouns but she knew it was few and far between as they preferred the non gendered terms but when they wanted it Catra was more then willing to give it to them. Retracting her claws she ran her fingertips gently along the thin red scars, the breath that Adora held in before letting out made Catra smile down at them. The feeling of the tight strong muscle under her fingers made Catra more aroused then she had expected.

“I love your chest, my handsome boyfriend. No my handsome husband, my handsome mate. I cannot wait to slowly run my claws along your chest, I know you want that as well” Catra stated as she moved her hips so the tip slipped inside her as she sat down slowly on the thick cock

“Catra” Adora groaned

“Your cock feels so good, I missed this. Fuck my handsome sexy man” Catra moaned out as she moved her hips

Adora gripped her hips, she forgot how much she loved their hands on their body as she leaned down bracing herself on Adora's stomach not wanting to put pressure on their chest. Soon their hips were were meeting hers as she slowly moved enjoying the feeling of the cock pulling on her inner walls.

"Do you want to cum as well?" Catra asked panting already

"Please" Adora nodded

Catra smirked as she felt Adora's thumb come to her clit before slowly circling it, slipping her tail between Adora's open legs she found their clit and began slowly circling it. The twitch told her that she was doing it the way Adora wanted, beginning to increase her movements she felt Adora's thumb begin going faster. The twitching in her body soon began the cresting of her orgasm as her inner walls clamped down on the cock as she felt herself soak Adora's lap. Adora's hand that was attached to her hip soon clamped down digging their strong thick fingers into their skin as they bucked their hips up as their orgasm took over. Catra tried not to moan as the cock was shoved farther inside her but her claws soon came out as they dug into Adora's stomach. Slowly she moved her tail as Adora stopped twitching, looking down at Adora as they opened their eyes a stupid smile passing their face.

"Good?" Adora asked softly

"You know it is always good" Catra said shaking her head as she slipped off them as she began undoing the strap

"I can do that" Adora said sleepily

"I want to" Catra said softly as she placed a gentle kiss on each of their thighs as she pulled the leather off

"Thank you" Adora said as though they were falling asleep

"Nap time?" Catra asked gently

“Cat nap. Come cuddle, on my chest” Adora said moving their arm so Catra could slip in

“Are you sure? I won’t hurt you?” Catra asked worried

“I am sure. Please” Adora said once more

Catra looked at Adora whose eyes were closed but looked so peaceful, slowly she moved to lay beside them pulling the blanket up as she placed her head onto their chest and their hand on their stomach. The feeling of their bare skin once more relaxed her as she felt Adora’s arm come wrap around her as their long fingers slowly ran through her fur lulling both of them into sleep.

Chapter 16

Adora had turned a spare bedroom in the basement into their own special room for their models, the shelves had been purchased and delivered before Catra put it all together. Adora had attempted to help but each time they tried to lift something they would get told off and sent back to the corner of the room to sit in the chair. A desk had also been purchased and placed in the corner of the room so they could build the model there instead of on the kitchen table. Adora stood and stretched, it was already three days before they would be returning to work. Their chest had healed perfectly, the appointment they had gone to that morning went amazingly. The surgeon was beyond happy with how it turned out, it helped with how much muscle Adora had before the surgery. They had plans for that evening, they were given the all clear to do anything and everything to their surgery site. Standing from the desk they checked their phone finding the notification alerting them to the package that was delivered to their from door.

Looking around the now filled shelves Adora smiled, glad that Catra understood the calm this hobby had had on them. the military models soon led into something called Gunpla and Catra had just chuckled when more and more of these little plastic machine's were now taking up all of the shelf space. Stepping from the room they made their way up the stairs, placing the coffee cup into the sink before stepping outside finding the large box of models on the step. Grabbing it Adora stood looking around thinking they had heard something. Placing the box back into the house they stepped back out before looking around, the small meow of a kitten was faintly heard.

"Where are you little one?" Adora called out gently

Another meow was heard, Adora now began looking around the front step of the house. Into the small flower patch on each side as the meow was still louder when they were at the steps.

“Are you under the stairs?” Adora asked now kneeling beside the cement stairs

“Oh you are. I see the hole that you went into” Adora said softly as a small meow was heard again

“Hold on little one” Adora said gently

Adora knew they were needing to repair the stairs in the summer anyways, so Adora looked at the rotting wood before reaching into the small hole and prying the wood sides away. The wood finally cracked under their hands, soon grabbing another piece and another the wood was breaking apart and Adora was now able to see into the hole under the stairs. There sat a terrified black kitten, it looked as though his had a blue grey mane as is cowered in the corner.

“Come here sweet little one. I won’t hurt you” Adora said now on their hands and knees crawling into the small space before managing to scoop up the kitten

“Oh you are so small. What are you doing all by yourself?” Adora asked softly

“Come on, let us get you inside and warmed up” Adora said clutching the small kitten to their chest

This was not how the day was supposed to go but they could never say no to a animal in need. Even as a child they could never say no to an animal that needed help, walking inside the kitten was still snuggled into their chest. Finding a small blanket Adora wrapped them up before sitting down on the couch. They did not remember closing their eyes but the click of the door and the small meow woke them quickly.

“What happened to our stairs? Did you do that? What was that?” Catra asked now fully looking at Adora

“I found a kitten, he was stuck under the stairs. So I had to break the wood to get the kitten” Adora said holding out the little kitten for Catra

“Oh my, you are the tiniest little thing aren’t you? Did Adora bathe you? I don’t think they did because you stink” Catra said shaking her head taking the kitten from Adora’s hands

“We do not have any shampoo love” Adora stated

“Shit, well we have nothing for a kitten. Wait are we keeping him?” Catra asked hopefully

“Do you want a cat?” Adora asked knowing the answer already

“Do you?” Catra countered

“I would not say no if you want to keep the little fluff ball” Adora said chuckling

“Yes, then yes. I want to keep him” Catra stated excited

“Of course love. Maybe we head to the pet store? Then we can get anything we need, we will put him in the bathroom and go out and grab what we need?” Adora questioned

“Perfect. Could I drive?” Catra asked nervously

“Of course love. And we will pick up dinner, as I fell asleep instead of making it” Adora said chuckling

“Perfect, I just want to change” Catra said handing the kitten back before kissing Adora gently

“Okay little man, we are going to be putting you into a bathroom for a little okay? We will be back soon” Adora said as they walked to the spare bathroom

Catra could hear Adora from the spare bathroom, their voice echoed through the house. It made her heart swell at how their amazing partner spoke to such a small defenseless animal. Stepping from their bedroom she leaned against the wall as Adora continued to speak to the small animal, something inside of her was stirring and she did not know how to feel about it. Soon the talking ceased as Adora stepped from the room quickly closing the door behind them.

“Have you been here the whole time?” Adora asked blushing

“No but I heard everything. Every day I fall more and more in love with you” Catra said placing her hands on Adora’s shoulders

“You can go lower” Adora said softly

“I do not want to hurt you though” Catra said softly

“My appointment was today, I am healed and no longer do I have to wear that compression garment anymore. And you can touch as much as you want” Adora said looking down at Catra that stupid smile on their face

“Oh, oh” Catra said moving her hands down to rest firmly on Adora’s chest

“How do you feel?” Adora asked enjoying the warmth from Catra’s hands

“Amazing, how do you feel?” Catra countered

“Amazing. We will do more touching later, but I think the little one wants to eat and maybe a litter box” Adora said laughing as the kitten yowled

“I love you, you big stupid idiot” Catra chuckled

“And I love you my little kitty. Lets go” Adora said taking Catra’s hand in their own

Catra could feel the blush, even after the months of Adora calling her their kitty she still blushed and felt like it was a new relationship. They had only been together half a year but to her that was a lifetime, and wanted a thousand more lifetimes with them. Slipping into the car she was nervous still, but a reassuring hand on her leg as she began to back out calmed her. The drive was quick and easy, the small amount of snow they had been having was slowly melting much to her happiness. Pulling into the pet store they made their way in, Adora grabbing the shopping cart and they began the task she had not expected to be doing this late Friday night. The items in the cart continued to grow and grow, each thing she touched then put back Adora would pick up and place inside. She was getting more used to the spending habits of Adora but it still made her stomach twist into knots thinking about how the price of this cart would have been her whole rent just a few months ago. And to have a pet was out of the question because she could not properly care for them like she wanted.

"What size cat tree do you think we should get?" Adora questioned staring at them

"I am not sure. Maybe a big one?" Catra said looking at the cat tree that was the same height as Adora

"I like that one to. Oh and it comes in a box!" Adora stated picking it up with ease

"You shouldn't do that" Catra said worried

"I am healed love. I am okay I promise. Can you push the cart?" Adora asked smiling that stupid smile that Catra so loved

Catra looked at Adora before shaking her head, it had been two months of constantly telling them to not try to do anything they shouldn't and now they were allowed and she knew it was going to be hard to get back into the mind set that their strong amazing partner was allowed to do things again. Tetrising the items into the car she slipped back into the driver's seat as Adora took back the cart before they were off once more. The trip home was just the same as it was to the shop, short and quick before they were loading bag after bag into the house as Adora carried the large box inside. They could both hear the meowing as they unloaded the bags before setting the house up, they placed a litter box upstairs and downstairs before the others items were strewn across the house.

“I think it is bath time” Adora stated stepping into the bathroom shirtless

“In the bathroom or Kitchen?” Catra called out from the living room

“I think the kitchen sink will be the best” Adora said stepping into the kitchen with the squirming kitten in their hands

“Oh hello” Catra smirked

“You like it? Looks much better without the lines in my skin from the compression garment” Adora said chuckling as they placed the kitten into the warm water

“It does look much better. Fuck look at those muscles” Catra said softly

“You will get to touch later” Adora said softly as they grabbed the small cup

Catra watched their partner slowly pour water over the small kitten, the care and tenderness they showed made their heart swell once more. This was their mate, this was the person they were going to marry in time. The person who took her heart in an instance. The soft meow’s were breaking her heart as Adora scrubbed the flea shampoo into their fur, the pitiful looking kitten staring at her as though he knew they were helping him but he still hated it.

“I know, I hate water to” Catra chuckled

“You do and you don’t. If you are in the shower with me you don’t hate it” Adora smirked

“Of course not, you wash my mane and the way your large strong hands scrub the shampoo into my fur makes me weak” Catra said truthfully

“And how I kneel in front of you as you lean against the wall as I hold your body up as my tongue brings you to orgasm after orgasm” Adora stated laughing

“Adora!” Catra sputtered out

“Yes?” Adora chuckled as they rinsed the small kitten

“You can’t say that in front of him” Catra gasped

“Oh my dear kitty, he will hear and see worse things than that” Adora smirked as they picked them up and placed them into a towel

“I hate when you are right like that” Catra grumbled

“I know you do. But you love me. Now what do we want to name this little man?” Adora said as the kitten purred in their arms

“Melog, that name is one that just keeps repeating in my head” Catra said softly

“Well little one, your now name Melog. Your parents will love you so much, and you will never be abandoned again” Adora said pulling Catra in for a hug with Melog between them

Chapter 17

Catra was happy to have Adora back at school, having them across the hall from them made them calmer. The days turned into weeks as the weather began to change as the snow began to melt. Melog had settled in quickly, finding his favorite spot on top of the large cat tree right in front of the main window. The return of Adora to work also meant the mornings were filled with their work out which now was shirtless each day. She had a hard time keeping her mouth closed as she stared at her mate lifting more weight then a human should be able to. The muscles in their chest straining as they did and the grunts and groans flooding her senses. Today was no different, she sat a book in hand as she watched Adora squatting three hundred pounds, the sweat ran down their body and something inside of them stirred. Shaking her head at her body she attempted to go back to her book but the feeling deep inside was getting worse and worse, her body temperature began to rise and she understood what was happening. She was going into heat, her first one since being with Adora.

“You good?” Adora asked re-racking the weights

“I am good, just a little warm” Catra said putting a smile on her face

“You sure? You don’t look a hundred percent” Adora said wiping the towel down their body

“I am sure” Catra said her body betraying her

She knew that Adora did not believe her but a small shrug and Adora was bending to place a kiss on her forehead before making their way from the room. She didn't not want Adora to worry and if she told them that she was in heat they would worry and not be able to get through the day. And so the day went, she could feel the sweat trickling down her back as she began to run warmer and warmer. She was glad it was a Friday because she was going to be out of commission for the rest of the weekend. The final bell of the day rang as she waited for the students to grab their things before piling her own items into her bag. Ten minutes later she was standing in Adora's room as a student talked with them, Adora sat explaining some mathematical equation and in that moment Catra realized how much Adora's intellect aroused her. The student took another ten minutes before they bid both of them a goodbye and was gone.

"You look even worse, are you feeling okay?" Adora asked as Catra sat on their desk

"I am okay, well kind of. I am going to tell you what is going on but you can decide whether you wish to help me or not okay?" Catra stated never having asked someone for help during a heat

"What is wrong love?" Adora asked worried

"I am in heat" Catra stated her tail flicking as she did

"And what does that mean?" Adora asked running their hands up and down Catra's legs

"My body thinks it is time to reproduce. So I am insanely horny and the only way to help calm my heat is sex and lots of it" Catra stated her ears now laying flat back

"We are leaving now" Adora said standing quickly

"Really?" Catra asked surprised

"My kitty is horny, and I am going to fuck her until she is a mewling mess on our bed. She will be so fucked she will not be able to think at all, and she will come again and again. Only when I say we are done will we be done, does my kitty want to be bred?" Adora said so lowly and deeply it sent shivers down her spine

"Yes, oh fuck yes" Catra moaned loudly

Catra was amazed at how quickly Adora packed their things up and was soon dragging her from the school towards their car. Catra did not know how this would go, she had never had a partner during one of her heats so she did not know how much sex she would truly need. She had gotten used to masturbating countless times during her heat to keep it at some sort of livable level.

"When we get home, what do you need?" Adora asked as they sat at a red light

"I am not sure. Water and snacks maybe? Then just you, and toys. I am sorry, this is a pain" Catra said as she rubbed her legs together to get some relief

"Do not be sorry, you will get in the house and get into our room. I will get everything else okay?" Adora stated watching their mate squirming

Catra had not expected Adora to reach over and slip their hand over her thigh before expertly opening the button of her pants before slipping their pants. Catra did not mean to moan as loudly as she did but the first touch of Adora's fingers on her clit and she was in heaven, her tail wrapped around Adora's thick strong forearm as they expertly played with her clit. Two minutes and one more red light was all it took before she was digging her claws into her thighs as a scream erupted from her body before she felt some relief.

"I hope that helps for a little bit" Adora said smirking as they licked their fingers clean

"You know all about heats don't you? You read about it" Catra groaned

"I do, same book as the mating bite. I knew you were going to be going into heat soon but didn't know when as you have not had a heat since we got together. I know that for you the only way to get true relief is orgasming with a knot in you. But small orgasms will help you, and it is more helpful with a partner. I love you Catra, I will do everything you need me to do okay?" Adora stated as they finally pulled into their garage

"Fuck I fall more in love with you every day" Catra stated crawling into Adora's lap as the car was turned off

"Good to know, now be a good kitty and get into bed naked. I have a surprise for you, go love" Adora stated squeezing her ass tightly

Catra did not have to be told twice, she was already wanted to be touched again. She was drenched, and very glad it was a Friday meaning she did not need to leave their bed or put clothes on for two days. Running into the house her clothes were were being stripped and dropped as she went, her thong was pulled from her body as a long strip of arousal came with it. Jumping into bed she could feel her body on fire. Every touch of her fingers on her own body sent shivers through her, she could not wait to have Adora's hands on her body but she knew their first fuck was going to be hard and quick.

"Ready?" Adora asked putting the bottles of water and snacks on their side table

"Please, I want your strap right now. No foreplay no nothing, put it in me and fuck me" Catra groaned out her tail thumping against the bed

"I have something better. I got you a present knowing this was coming up" Adora smirked going into their closet

"What did you get?" Catra groaned needing to be touched soon

"I think you will enjoy this, I got it a little larger then our largest one. You have been taking that one so well" Adora stated smirking as they held up a new dildo

"Is that a magicat cock?" Catra asked amazed

“It is, custom made. Everything is correct, barbs and knot as you can see” Adora smiled even larger

“I fucking love you. I have never had a knot in me” Catra stated feeling a blush creep up her neck

“Good, I like being the first and only to knot you. Do you still want no foreplay?” Adora asked as they stripped “Correct. I want to ride you now” Catra snapped sitting up quickly

“Whatever you want, I will fuck you any way you want” Adora stated pulling the harness on before slipping the new dildo in it

Adora watched their mate, she was panting and looked as though she had already been fucked senseless even though all she had been given was a small orgasm. Laying back they watched as Catra threw their leg over their waist before positioning the dildo’s tip at her entrance as she sat down taking the whole thing in one movement. The groan that escaped her body caused a shiver to run down Adora’s spine.

“Is it good?” Adora asked their hands resting on her hips

“Yes, I can feel the knot sitting at my entrance. Fuck Adora, the barbs oh fuck” Catra moaned as she began moving her hips as she raised and lowered herself

“So slow, I thought you were a needy kitty who needed to be fucked hard and to be bred” Adora pushed knowing what to say to get Catra going

Adora felt Catra begin moving faster but the shaking in her legs showed she was having a hard time lifting herself. Adora understood, soon Catra’s hands came to rest on their chest as their claws dug into the strong muscle.

“Do you want me to fuck you baby? Pull you down on my cock? Let me do the work” Adora said softly as they grabbed a hold harder on Catra’s waist

“Please” Catra pleaded as her tail wrapped around one of Adora’s legs

Adora did not need anything else as they began to raise Catra up before pulling her back down, each movement was met with a thrust of their hips. The sounds that Catra was making was driving Adora crazy, they had never seen Catra so loose and pliable. She normally allowed Adora to do what they wanted but was still helping but this was different this was a total submission. Catra’s head was thrown back as Adora pounded away, the strength in their body allowing for a constant thrust and each time they thrust the knot pushed ever so slightly against her opening.

“Please, please. Adora touch me” Catra begged panting

Adora smirked before moving their hand just a little so their thumb was now brushing against her clit over and over again. The tightening of her tail on Adora’s leg drove them insane, the softness of the fur mixed with the strength in the appendage. Adora watched as Catra began babbling, not understanding what she was saying but the way her claws dug into their chest they knew she was enjoying it.

“My pretty kitty, you are doing so well. I will do this over and over again until you tell me to stop. I want to make you scream my name, as I breed you. You want a litter of kits inside you don’t you? You want them to look like the both of us, fuck I will breed you until you are round with my child” Adora said lowly as Catra’s eyes went opened and looked down at them

“Please, Adora please. Breed me, make me completely yours. Oh fuck, I am going to cum” Catra managed to get out

Adora took that as the go ahead, lifting her up once more they thrust their hips up as they pulled Catra down. The scream as the knot slipped into Catra echoed through the room. Adora continued to hold Catra down on the dildo that now sat fully inside her, Adora could feel the arousal dripping from Catra as Catra screamed again as her orgasm hit her.

“There we go, cum baby. We are going to stay like this, keep the knot inside you. Make sure you are bred” Adora said as Catra collapsed onto their chest their breathing heavy Adora felt Catra move a little until they found a comfortable position with the strap and large knot still inside her. Adora pushed her down a little as a whine escaped from her but now her head rested on their chest and she was not pulling on the silicone. Adora slowly began to run their large hand along her back, watching the muscles twitch as her fur moved.

“You should drink some water” Adora said softly

“Okay” Catra said slurring her letters

“Here you go. Are you okay? Do you need anything else?” Adora asked softly

“Just you. Can we stay like this?” Catra asked after sipping the water

“Of course. Let’s get the dildo out of you though” Adora said gently

“No, keep it in. Feels really nice” Catra said groaning as she moved “Helps your brain tell you that you are being bred also am I right?” Adora asked

“Yes, I know I am not being bred right now. But my body thinks I am, so for right now this is what we do” Catra mumbled into Adora’s chest

“Do you want kids?” Adora asked understanding the comment

“Do you?” Catra countered

“I never thought I would get the chance to. But with you I would love to” Adora said softly

“Okay, good. We will have some somehow. I will carry only if I get to have babies that will look like you as well” Catra murmured

“We will figure it out love. Now sleep for a bit then we will go again” Adora said softly kissing the top of her head

“I love you, you are the best mate I could have ever asked for” Catra said softly as snores soon took over

“And you are the best mate I could have ever asked for. I love you more then words can explain” Adora said holding her tightly against their chest

Chapter 18

Catra's heat lasted the whole weekend, there were moments her mind was totally clear but most of the time all she could think about was Adora's hands on her body. And so Adora did just that, barely leaving her side for more then ten minutes at a time. By Sunday evening Catra was finally able allow Adora to head out and grab groceries while Melog was finally allowed into their bedroom much to the kitten's annoyance of being ignored all weekend. Monday came while only a small fever causing her some discomfort but this was the easiest heat she had ever dealt with. The comfort of having a mate who loved her so much and was willing to do anything to make them feel better made her hear heart hurt. The things that Adora said as they pounded into her body still swirled in her mind, Adora said they wanted kids but did they actually or were they just saying it to keep her happy. The next week passed before it finally began to bother her more then she could imagine.

"I want you to read chapter eleven to thirteen and complete the five pages of questions for Monday" Catra called out

"Five pages?" A student grumbled

"I can make it more" Catra snapped

Adora could hear her from the hallway, they were surprised at how grumpy Catra was being that day and did not know how to deal with it. Adora watched as the students walked out looking at them as though they were wishing them luck knowing that they were about to step inside the classroom.

"What?" Catra snapped

"Wow, what is wrong?" Adora asked shaking their head

"Nothing" Catra stated embarrassed at snapping at Adora

“It isn’t nothing if it is causing you to be this upset” Adora said shaking their head as they stepped towards her and wrapped their arms around them pulling them close

“It is stupid” Catra said into their strong chest

“Try me love” Adora said softly

“It is about something we talked about briefly during my heat” Catra said trying to keep calm

“Okay. So we will talk at home then instead? I just have a one on one in five minutes but after that is done we will go home and chat okay?” Adora said kissing the top of her head

“Okay. I am sorry” Catra said looking up at them

“Never be sorry for something that is bothering you. I love you” Adora said placing a gentle kiss on her nose

Catra smiled for the first time that day, she watched as Adora walked out. Turning back to her desk she began marking some quizzes while she waited. Half an hour passed before she heard the tell tale sound of Adora’s leather shoes on the floor. The smile that they wore made Catra’s heart pound in her chest, she always felt calmed when Adora stood there watching her as though she was the only person they saw. Soon they were on the way home, the drive was silent but that was okay by her as long as the silence did not turn awkward. A gentle squeeze on her knee centered her as Adora soon took her hand and held it until they were pulling into their garage.

“I think we should go sit in a nice warm bath” Adora said softly

“That actually sounds really nice” Catra said softly

“Good, go strip and I will get it ready” Adora stated walking to their bathroom

Catra still did not understand how Adora was like this, a presence that was calming but still so commanding all in one. They knew how much they hated water but at the same time knew how comforting a warm bath with the one you loved could be. Stripping and tossing their clothes on the bed they made they way back into the bathroom, there stood Adora waiting. Adora slipped into the bath with no words being spoken, soon Catra was slipping in and positioning themselves between their legs and their back against their chest. Adora's arms slipped around her waist pulling her close as she finally began to relax.

"Do you wish to talk about it?" Adora asked twenty minutes after they has slipped into the bath

"I feel like you will think what is going on in my head stupid" Catra said shaking her head as her tail slipped around Adora's forearm

"Try me love" Adora said softly pulling her closer

"During my heat, the things you said to me. Did you mean them?" Catra asked softly

"I did, I thought we had agreed after the first time on Friday" Adora asked confused

"We did, but I just feel as though you agreed to make me happy" Catra said her ears flattening against her head

"Catra I will never just agree to something to keep you happy. You are an adult and can take me saying no or disagreeing with you. If I agree it is because I want it as well" Adora said placing a kiss on the top of her head

"So you want kids with me?" Catra asked quietly

"Yes, I want children with you. As you said you will carry them but I want us to be a family, I want to watch your belly swell with our child. I want to hold you as they are brought into the world, I want to be beside you for every diaper change, every bath, everything. I want to take leave and stay home with you and our child, I want it all" Adora said reassuring her

"Fuck, I love you" Catra said tears running down her cheeks

"And I love you. We will find a donor who looks like me, but that will happen in time" Adora said gently

"I wish there was a way to combine our DNA and have the children be related to both of us" Catra said softly

"I agree, but there is not. So we take what we can have, and all that matters to me is that the child is related to you. And looks like you, they will be our child and I will love them so much" Adora said squeezing her close to their chest

"When do you want to have them?" Catra asked

"When the time is right, but not for a few years. You are only in your first year of teaching and I am only in my second. But we are both young so we have time, so first we need to marry then we wait a few years and go from there?" Adora said chuckling

"Oh right, I keep forgetting we need to marry. Not that I don't want to, but I just forget because we both wear the mark of mates" Catra chuckled gently

"I wear mine proudly, just like you wear the ring proudly. Would you maybe, never mind" Adora said shaking their head

"No, you don't get to back out of what you were going to say" Catra said shaking her head

"I want to marry in the summer" Adora stated

"Adora, it is the end of February already. Can we get it all done and ready?" Catra asked surprised

"We can, but that means we will have been together under a year. Are you okay with that?" Adora asked nervously

“Adora” Catra said shaking her head as she shifted to straddle their lap as they looked at them

“Catra?” Adora countered confused

“I gave you a mating bite only a couple months into our relationship. You gave me one back and then put a ring on my finger less then half a year into our relationship. I do not think anything we do is to fast. I love you and I want my life with you and only you. So only if you think we are going to fast will we slow down. But I would go to the court house with you tomorrow and marry you” Catra said softly placing a kiss on their nose

“Then let us start planning. Do you want to go ring shopping tomorrow?” Adora inquired

“I would like that” Catra said snuggling into Adora’s strong chest

“These are so expensive” Catra mumbled

“Nothing is to expensive for you” Adora said as they looked at rings

“Don’t be cheesy. You haven't even looked at rings for yourself” Catra grumbled

“I want you to pick your wedding band out first” Adora said pointing at some rings

Catra sighed, Adora was a pain in her ass but she loved them dearly. An hour passed before she finally found one she liked, it was simple but it matched the engagement ring that sat on her finger in that moment. Soon Adora began looking at rings for themselves, ring after ring was looked at a passed on before they found a simple silver band that had small diamonds embedded inside it.

“Is that it?” Catra asked running her hand along their back

“What do you think?” Adora countered

“No love, you are the one wearing it. What do you think?” Catra countered back

“It is the one” Adora stated smiling

“Good because I love it just like I love you” Catra said placing a gentle kiss on their cheek

Chapter 19

“Catra are you listening?” Scorpia asked as they sat eating

“What? Yes sorry” Catra said shaking her head

“What is bothering you?” Perfuma asked gently

“Just getting worried that we won’t get everything ready for a July wedding” Catra said sighing

“It is the end of March you still have three and a half months, and as you both said it is a small wedding. No more then fifty people, and it is being done in the park and then dinner at restaurant that you are renting out. Everything will work out” Scorpia said smiling

“I know, I will still worry. They are much more calm compared to me” Catra said sipping her drink

“Yes they are, but they even you out. You two are meant to be together, and nothing will ever separate you. If you told me less then a year ago that you would be in love and mated and about to get married to someone you have only know since September. I would have called you crazy, but the moment you told us about Adora. We both knew they were the one for you” Scorpia said sipping her beer

“Thanks, I think once everyth9ing is all set in stone I will be good” Catra said shrugging

“Soon. Your spring holiday is starting tomorrow evening so it will make it easier, plus you get to go dress shopping on Saturday!” Perfuma squealed

“True, I am still in amazement that we got in so quickly” Catra said smiling

“Sometimes the world works in wonderful ways. Is Adora wearing a suit?” Scorpia inquired piling the plates

“Yes and no, they are forgoing the jacket though. Way to warm, and I would rather not kill my new wife...Husband...I have not asked what they want to be called. Shit” Catra said coming to that realization

“That is a question you should ask. As that is very important to know” Perfuma said softly

“Shit, I am a horrible mate” Catra stated her earing flattening against her head

“No you are not. Sometimes a simple lapse in questions can happen even when they are the most important” Perfuma said patting her hand

Catra hated the fact that she had not thought of asking Adora this simple question, the next few hours passed as she spent it with her friends while Adora was doing the same. They had decided that at least once a month they would try to see their friends without each other, not that they did not want to see each others friends but they always seemed to gravitate to each other. The honk of the horn of their car soon brought her outside before slipping into the front seat and pulling Adora into a heated kiss.

“I missed you to” Adora said chuckling as they pulled back

“I am a horrible mate. I am a horrible fiancé” Catra said on the verge of tears

“Woah beautiful, what is wrong? What happened?” Adora asked now worried as they turned in their seat to face her

“I never asked you what you wanted to be called when we marry” Catra said shaking her head her ears flat against her head and her tail flicking

“Catra baby, look at me please” Adora said softly taking her hands

“I should have asked long before, what kind of partner am I to not ask what you wanted to be called?” Catra asked

“A partner who loves me more then anything else in the world. A partner who calls me her mate already. I am not upset, never will I be upset” Adora said gently running their thumb along her hands

“I love you, what do you want to be called?” Catra asked softly

“Never your wife, it is to feminine. I prefer your mate, your spouse and your husband at times. What would you prefer?” Adora countered

“Whatever you wish to be called. I like my spouse or mate, and if you have a day where you want to be my husband then these are days you are my husband” Catra said her worry calming

“See not so hard. I am proud to be your partner, and I will always be with you through thick and thin. Through sickness and in health, I will always be there for you. And I will always protect you, I love you” Adora said smiling

“I love you to. Now let us go home, as much as I want to snuggle up into you I have to send off an email about a student and his marks” Catra said shaking her head

“Shit who?” Adora asked beginning to move the car

“Markus. He has not put in any homework assignments, and ignores my prompts. Now I have to send an email to his father and yeah” Catra said shaking her head

“I have heard other teachers speaking about him as well. I am glad he is not in my class” Adora said shrugging

“Lucky you. Great way to start my spring holidays” Catra said chuckling

“Markus where is the homework?” Catra asked annoyed

“At home” Markus shrugged

“And why is it there?” Catra inquired

“Left it there, didn’t want to do it” Markus stated “Stay behind after class” Catra grumbled

Catra had not wanted the day to go this way, it was the last class of the day and she had not heard from Markus’s father. Soon the class was finishing and the other students made their way from the classroom as Markus sat watching and waiting.

“You need to do your homework” Catra stated sternly

“Why? It has no use for me” Markus said nonchalantly

“Because to graduate you need my class. What does your dad think?” Catra questioned

“He thinks it is a stupid class” Markus stated

“Why would he think that?” Catra questioned annoyed

“Ask him yourself” Markus said pointing behind her

“Ah you must be Markus’s father” Catra said her demeanor changing

“I am. Why did you email me about his lack of schoolwork?” Markus’s dad stated

“Because as his father, you are the last person we will speak with before having to fail a student” Catra

“Oh no you don’t, he is a star athlete. He cannot fail” Markus’s dad snarled

“He can and he will if he does not do his work” Catra said her nervousness increasing as this large man stepped towards her

“I said he doesn’t need to do it. So that is that” Markus’s dad snapped

“And I as his teacher state he needs to do it” Catra snapped as he stepped into her space

“You are exactly like he described you. A stupid dyke, something that should have never happened. And you have a ring on your finger, what has this world come to? Who would want you” Markus’s dad spat

“You can leave both of you. I will be speaking with the principle and he will be failing my class. Good day” Catra said turning to walk away

“Oh no you don't you little bitch” Markus’s dad said grabbing her arm as he turned her before grabbing her by the neck and slamming her to the wall

“You listen to me right now, you are passing...Who the fuck?” Markus asked as Adora pulled him into a headlock

“Let go of her now” Adora snarled pulling him from her as Catra slid down the wall clutching her neck as she took in deep breaths

“Who the fuck are you? Let me go” Markus’s dad snarled

“I am her mate. Leave before I have you arrested” Adora snapped

Adora turned him so he was facing the door, they could feel him clawing at their arm as their oxygen was slowly being depleted. Pushing them from behind they sent him towards Markus before turning to look at Catra who sat on the floor wide eyed. Adora knew better then to turn around but their worry for Catra out weighed what they should had done, the hand on their shoulder as they were turned and a fist to the face came right after. Adora felt the crunch of their nose before the sound of the quick footfalls as the two of them ran from the room. Catra was scrambling back onto her feet as she came to a stop in front of a bleeding Adora.

“Fuck, I am sorry. That is not how I thought the conversation would go” Catra said pulling a cloth from her desk

“It is fine. We need to get their information though. I am pressing charges” Adora said holding the cloth to their face

“You were hurt because of me” Catra said pulling the cloth back to look at the reddened face of Adora

“And I would die for you. A broken nose is nothing” Adora said smiling their stupid smile as blood leaked down their face

“No dying. Do we need to go to the hospital?” Catra asked looking closer at their nose

“It my nose straight?” Adora asked

“Nope, not at all” Catra said her stomach churning

“Then off we go” Adora said holding the cloth to their face again

“Great start to our holidays” Catra said shaking her head

“Very, but you are worth it. We need to stop and get their information as well, as we will be calling the cops on the way” Adora mumbled

“Why are you so calm?” Catra asked confused

“Because you are safe, that is all that matters” Adora said moving the cloth as they smiled

“You are an idiot, but I love you” Catra said sighing as she led Adora out of the class room

Chapter 20

Catra hated the smell of the hospital, it over powered ever one of her senses. She sat in the waiting room surrounded by screaming children and more people coughing then she had ever been around. Adora sat paperwork in front of them as they tried to stem the blood still dripping out of their nose.

"Why don't I fill it in?" Catra asked gently

"Could you? My health card is in my wallet" Adora stated as they felt Catra's hand slip into their pant pocket

"Of course you idiot. I cannot believe you did what you did" Catra said shaking her head

"I would do it again and you know it" Adora stated leaning their head down to keep the blood from the back of their throat

Catra shook her head, the moment they had walked into the principals office hell had broken loose. Principal Walker was furious when she had explained what had happened, information in hand they had called the police on their way to the hospital. As it was a non emergency at that moment they would send an officer out when they could to get their statements. Coming to the emergency contact section she stared at it before looking over at Adora.

"Would I be the emergency contact?" Catra asked

"I would assume so, you are my mate are you not?" Adora chuckled but soon groaned at the pain

"I just wanted to make sure. Now what should I put as my relation to you? I don't think they will take mate as a relation" Catra said tapping the paper

"Put my wife. Technically you are" Adora said softly

Catra felt the blush creep up her neck and cheeks at the comment, she always felt this way when Adora said things like this. Soon the paperwork was done and she was making her way up with the papers before coming to sit beside Adora once more. She felt their strong hand come and rest on their lap, slipping her hand into theirs she soon had her tail wrapped around Adora's leg running it along her thigh in a calming manner. The time passed slowly, Adora's nose had stopped bleeding two hours before but the wait was driving her crazy. Each time she looked over at the very bruised and swollen face of her mate she wanted to scream and find the man who did this.

"Adora?" The nurse called out

"That is me" Adora said standing but not letting go of Catra's hand

"Please follow me. And you are?" The nurse asked

"My wife" Adora stated in a tone which said not to argue Catra wrapped her tail around Adora's waist as they walked the hallway and towards a small room, the nurse took their vitals before stepping out. Catra once again hated the waiting, ten minutes then thirty then finally another hour passed before the doctor walked in. Catra had to keep her mouth shut as the doctor chatted away with Adora before beginning to examining them. Catra watched as her strong partner flinched as though they were in the worst pain as he touched their cheek. A small shake of his head and Adora was off towards x-ray, Catra hated waiting alone but it was not somewhere she could go. The click of the door opening half an hour later saw Adora walking back in, their face a pallet of purples and blacks.

"How was that?" Catra asked reaching to touch them

"Fine, it was a normal x-ray. I am a little concerned that he wanted a face x-ray" Adora said as the knock on the door brought them from their chat

"Alright let us have a look" The doctor stated

Catra sat up straight watching as the doctor typed away on the computer before bringing up the pictures. She could not see over his shoulder but the shake of his head as he clicked through the photo's told her something was not right.

"Alright, your nose is broken and out of place. You also have a deviated septum which needs surgery to deal with. However the reason you are tender to touch on your right cheek is that the punch cracked your cheek bone. It looks like it is partially out of line, so surgery and a small plate will be needed to keep it in place" The doctor stated

"Really? Fuck" Adora swore

"I will speak with admitting and you will be moved to a room, then a surgeon will come and speak with you. You will be here overnight at least" The doctor stated

"Alright" Adora said sighing and shaking their head as the doctor stepped out

"I am sorry" Catra said tears running down her cheeks

"Hey no baby no. No reason to be sorry" Adora said slipping from the bed and pulling Catra out of her seat and into their arms

"But this is my fault" Catra whimpered

"No, this is far from your fault. None of this is your fault" Adora said holding her close

"But you were hurt because of me" Adora said softly

"And I would do it again and again. But I think our relaxing plans for this holiday week have changed" Adora said shaking their head

"I know, shit I should call and get my appointment changed for my dress" Catra said realizing

“No, you will still go. I will be fine by myself. Now once we are in a room, I think calling Glimmer would be smart and have her and Bow come get you and bring you home to get clothes and things like that. Have one of them drive the car home” Adora said softly

“I don't want to dress shop if you are in the hospital” Catra said shaking her head

“I want you to. This is nothing love, please?” Adora pushed

“Fine, but I am taking care of you again. No complaints when we are home” Catra said poking them in the chest

“I will try not to complain to much, now no more crying” Adora said wiping the tears from her soft fur

“I love you” Catra said leaning her head on their strong chest

“Adora? I am here to take you up” The nurse said after knocking

Adora nodded, the pain in their face was getting worse as the swelling continued. Soon they were being placed in a private room, the coming and goings of the nurses and soon the surgeon kept them on their toes. Adora had sent a message to Glimmer and soon her and Bow were there sitting and waiting. Catra watched as a new nurse walked in, before beckoning Adora to follow her. Catra watched as Adora took a deep breath before attempting to place a kiss on her head, but each time they would touch their nose and a groan of pain was heard. Catra finally kissed their not broken cheek before watching them walking behind the nurse.

“They will be okay” Glimmer said as they walked to tehri cars

“I know, but it just is hard. They are hurt because of me” Catra said her ears flattening against her head

“Yes they are but they would not have it any other way” Glimmer stated as they got into their car

“I know I just hate it” Catra said as Glimmer started driving

“I know you do. Now we are going home yes? Are you coming back?” Glimmer asked

“Yes, I just needed to get clothes for myself and Adora. Then I will be going dress shopping still tomorrow as per Adora” Catra said rolling her eyes

“I will come get you tomorrow for the appointment. And then let me know when you need to be brought home and I will come get you two as well” Glimmer said kindly

“Thank you” Catra said as she ran her hands along her tail calming herself

It took twenty minutes to get home and just as much for her to organized the items they needed before feeding Melog and once again rushing out of the house. She knew that Adora would be in surgery for a while but she needed and wanted to be there. Glimmer would not hear it, making sure to stop so that Catra could eat much to Catra’s annoyance and happiness. Two hours later she was finally returning to Adora’s room, the room was still empty and her heart sank. Plopping herself into the large chair she waited and waited, scrolling her phone until she heard the murmuring of others as the door opened as Adora was wheeled in.

“You are?” The nurse asked

“Their wife” Catra stated

“Alright. The surgeon will be in, in a little to chat with you” The nurse said as they pushed the bed into its spot

Catra watched as Adora breathed slowly, their nose was once again straight and there now sat a small bandage covering their cheek where the incision was. Adora was not awake but they looked as though they were not in pain which made Catra happy.

“Mrs.??..” The surgeon asked

“Catra Shera” Catra stated enjoying how Adora’s last name sounded against her name

“Adora did well. A small plate was place in their cheek, the bones are back in place and their nose and deviated septum are repaired. Nothing to over exert them for the next little while, the incision will scar but I made it as small as possible. I was told this was due to an assault, my documented findings will be available to the police when they arrive. If you need anything just ring the bell” The surgeon stated

“When can they leave?” Catra asked

“As long as the pain is manageable and no complications arrive, tomorrow evening” The surgeon stated as they walked out

Catra looked at Adora, running their hand along their forehead she pushed the blonde hair from their face. They looked like crap like this and would for a few days but in her heart she knew Adora did not care and would take much worse for her.

“You are staring” Adora said softly

“I am because of how handsome you are” Catra said perching herself on the bed

“And you are my beautiful kitty” Adora said softly

“How high are you right now?” Catra asked chuckling

“Very. Everything good?” Adora asked

“Everything is good. Close your eyes and relax” Catra said softly

“You need to come snuggle and purr. Purring heals” Adora said off in her own world as she drifted back to sleep

Catra shook her head, crawling under her arm she laid so her head rested over Adora's heart. She had also heard years before that cat purrs have a soothing and healing reaction to a body so she wondered if hers did as well. Either way this was what Adora wanted, taking a deep breath and closing her eyes she allowed her body to begin purring. The way Adora's body relaxed told her it was working as the strong arm that was around her shoulder moved and pulled her closer.

Chapter 21

Catra had fallen asleep on Adora's chest, they had been woken an hour later by a police officer knocking on their door. Adora woke first as they shook Catra gently until she was awake but she did not move from the bed but instead curled into Adora more and began purring once more. Adora's large strong hand ran up and down her back as she listen to Adora giving their statement about the attack before she began her story. The police officer stood nodding as he wrote each detail down, soon he was walking out with the information that was needed to have him charged with assault.

"How are you feeling?" Catra asked softly

"I am okay, my face hurts but I will be okay. I am a cyborg now" Adora chuckled

"You are an idiot, but I love you dearly" Catra said her purring slowing

"Does it tire you to purr?" Adora asked softly

"No why?" Catra countered

"Can you keep doing it? It calms me, I really hate staying the night in the hospital" Adora said softly

"When have you stayed over night?" Catra asked intrigued

"I am surprised you have never asked me why I do not get a period" Adora countered

"I didn't think about it. I only get one twice a year, right after my heat as you saw. But now that you say that, why do you not get one?" Catra asked confused

"When I hit around sixteen I started feeling sick, we thought it was because I was growing so fast and just stupid things like that.

Then I got sicker, we went to doctor after doctor but they told me it was just womanly things. They would not believe me or my parents until I finally found a doctor that believed I was actually sick" Adora said softly

"Adora" Catra said softly

"It is okay, you need to know this and I am sorry I have not told you already" Adora said softly

"I love you no matter what you tell me" Catra said her purring ramping up to help calm them

"The doctor I went to was a OBGYN, a few tests and she knew what it was. I was young so no other doctor expected me to have cancer of my reproductive organs. My parents and I made the decision to have them removed and to have the cancer treatments done. My parents were more upset about me loosing the organs then I was, I knew I was not fully female at that age already so to me it was not as upsetting. I was just happy to have it removed, I knew if I wanted children later in life then my partner would have to have them or we would adopt them. So yeah, that would be why I do not get my period. I technically should take estrogen but I prefer how my body is without it. My doctor says as long as my numbers stay in the proper rang then I am fine. I am sorry for not telling you" Adora said looking at Catra who looked back up at them

"That must have been so horrible to go through at so young of an age, I am sorry Adora. But I agree that what mattered was you staying alive, the organs can be taken to keep you alive. Is there a chance of cancer coming back?" Catra asked her purring hitching as she asked that "There is a chance, but it is low. I have the same chance as you to get it again, you are not upset that I did not tell you?" Adora asked

“Not at all, that is your story to tell not mine. So you needed to tell me when it was time, I take it that is why you hate being in the hospital overnight?” Catra countered

“Yup, spent a week in the hospital afterwards as there was a few minor complications. So many reminders of that time, it was one thing to be in and out for chest surgery. But the fact that I have to stay here tonight it brought back all those memories. You are staying tonight right?” Adora asked worried

“You know I am. I am not leaving your side until tomorrow morning when I have to go dress shopping. Then I will be back and you will be coming home. And I will be taking care of you, because I love you but I feel as though you can hardly see through those swollen eyes of yours” Catra chuckled gently

“Yes and no. I can see through my left eye a bit more then my right, but they did cut my right cheek open so makes sense” Adora said smiling before wincing

“I cannot believe he cracked your cheek. Please don't do something like that again, I cant loose you” Catra said her hands running along Adora’s clothed stomach

“You will never loose me, you are stuck with me baby. The scar on my neck means you are stuck with me” Adora said chuckling

“Why am I in love with an idiot?” Catra said shaking her head

“Because I am your idiot” Adora said bending to kiss the top of her head

“Ouch” Adora said as they hit their nose

“Be careful. No kisses for you for a while, we need to keep your face in one piece” Catra said shaking her head again

“To bad, I had so many plans for this week” Adora smirked

“I bet you did, I did to. Now how many pain are you in?” Catra asked

“A lot, why?” Adora countered

“Because of this” CAtra said sitting up and hitting the pain med button

“Oh, I forgot about that” Adora chuckled

“I know, and you will forget a large amount of things in a few minutes. I love you Adora, now close your eyes and sleep. I am not going anywhere, and I will lay on your chest and purr until I have fallen asleep” Catra said settling herself as Adora’s eyes slowly began to droop

“Love you my kitty, you are beautiful. My beautiful kitty, such a soft kitty” Adora said as the morphine soon hit

“And I love you my handsome warrior” Catra said watching as Adora faded into sleep

Catra hated leaving Adora, she knew she said she would go but the fact that she had to leave them made her nervous. But now she sat in a wedding dress shop with Glimmer, Perfuma and Scorpia as she ran her hands along her tail trying to calm her nervousness.

“Adora is fine, you need to calm down” Scorpia stated

“I know, it’s just hard. I don't like being away from them when they are in the hospital” Catra said shaking her head

“Now who is the bride?” The sales attendant asked

“I am” Catra said raising her hand

“Excellent, have you looked at any dresses yet?” The sales attendant asked

“No, this is the first time” Catra said still stroking her tail

“All right, now do you have any silhouettes that you like or have seen?” The shop attendants asked

“No, I am an open book. I just need a design that can have my tail out and about” Catra explained

“Alright, and your budget?” The shop attendant asked one last time

“I don’t have one” Catra said finding it odd but Adora had stated that she could spend as much as she wanted

The shop attendant nodded, be beckoning her to follow. Taking a deep breath she stood and followed her, dress after dress was placed in front of her but only three caught her eye. Soon she was walking out in the first, the women in front of her all gasped but something was not right about it. And then she was walking out in the second, the gasps were louder but she still felt as though it was not the right now. Finally she was stepping out in the last dress, the loud gasps and murmuring told her what she needed to know. She looked at herself in the large mirrors and she was in love.

“So?” Catra asked

“You look amazing, Adora is going to die” Glimmer said truthfully

“I love it, I think this is the one” Catra said running her hands along the dress

“Then it is the one” Scorpia stated

“How much?” Catra asked nervously

“Seventy-five hundred” The shop attendant stated

“Oh my wow” Catra choked out

“Adora did say spend how ever much you need to” Glimmer reminded her

“I will take it” Catra said softly

“Perfect. Let me begin your measurements and when are you needing it?” The shop attendant asked “July please” Catra said as the measuring began

“So?” Adora asked as Catra and Glimmer walked in

“I found one” Catra said softly

“Perfect, thank you for taking her Glim” Adora said as they sat in the bed

“Of course. Are you sure you are okay? Your face is rough” Glimmer stated

“I am sure. I have had much worse, all I need is Catra by my side and I will be okay” Adora stated as Catra propped herself on the bed

“And I am not going anywhere” Catra said placing a gentle kiss on their forehead

Chapter 22

“Adora sit down now” Catra snapped

“Don’t need to be an ass about it” Adora snapped back

“I am sorry, I should not have snapped. It is just hard when you have yet to sit down. You need to relax, you had surgery and had a metal plate put into your face” Catra said softly

“That gives you no right to snap at me” Adora countered

“I know, I just am scared. It is stupid, I am just going to leave you be” Catra said attempting to walk from the kitchen

“Catra, no please speak to me” Adora said catching her wrist and pulling her in against their chest

“No, it is stupid” Catra states shaking her head against their chest

“Nothing from your brilliant brain is stupid. Come on now” Adora said lifting her into their arms and walking them out of the kitchen towards the couch

“You shouldn’t be carrying me” Catra said trying to break their grip

“If you squirm you could hurt me, if you stay still I will be fine” Adora said truthfully

“I hate when you are right” Catra grumbled as they sat

“Now what is wrong?” Adora asked softly running their hands along her back

“It is stupid” Catra mumbled into their beck

“Nothing is stupid if it bothers you. Now what is bothering you?” Adora pushed gently

“You will not stop, you are hurt Adora. This was not a planned surgery and you were hurt because of me. I don’t want you straining yourself and hurting yourself more” Catra said tears running down her cheeks

“I understand your worry. I am okay though, I am in pain but it is manageable. I will not do something that will cause me more harm or hinder my recovery” Adora said softly feeling her tears soaking into their shirt

“I don’t want to loose you, I can’t loose you. Adora I do not know what I would do without you” Catra said her body shaking

“Shh, let it all out. I am not going anywhere, you have to deal with me for the rest of your life. I will always be there for you, through sickness and health. I will never do something to push myself to far and cause harm to myself, unless it is keeping you safe. Then I will do anything and everything to keep you safe” Adora said softly running their hands slowly under the back of her shirt and running their fingers slowly through their fur

“No more stupid chivalrous acts okay? I can’t keep seeing you like this, it hurts me to see you like this. I need you to stay relaxed please. You have a week to heal some before school starts again” Catra said her body finally beginning to calm from Adora’s touches

“I cannot promise no more chivalrous acts, but I will try my hardest not to do anything stupid okay? Now how about we both go and make dinner?” Adora asked gently

“Okay, but snuggles for a few more minutes” Catra countered

“Okay, on one condition. You purr” Adora countered

“You and my purring recently, but yes I can do that” Catra countered as she allowed her body to relax and begin purring as she wrapped her tail around Adora’s thigh

“Are you sure about this?” Catra asked as they slipped into the car

“I am sure. We need to look at venues” Adora said slipping into the passenger seat

“I know but you had a plate put into your face two days ago” Catra said her tail wrapping around Adora’s thigh the moment they sat down

“Catra, I am okay. Pain meds are good and I am healing. This place books out years in advanced, the fact that they had a opening for around when we want to get married is amazing. So we are seeing it” Adora stated running their hand along Catra’s tail

Catra sighed she always hated when Adora was right like this, this garden had been on her radar for years. As a young girl she remembered seeing an old magazine in her orphanage one day. The front cover was this beautiful garden in full bloom with a simple arch in the middle, from that moment she was obsessed. But it was not something she had ever expected to be able to do herself, but the moment Adora had proposed she knew where she wanted to get married. Catra had explained the garden she had in her mind and Adora knew exactly where she was talking about. And so they were on their way to that one place that had always held a place in her heart.

“Oh it is so nice” Catra said as they pulled up to the small house

“It is, the house is over three hundred years old. Some say it is haunted to” Adora chuckled

“Of course they do. I can’t believe this place is real, I always thought it was a place I would never see” Catra stated as they stepped from the car

“It is real my love, now come” Adora said extending their hand and stepping into the house

“Welcome, you must be Catra and Adora. My name is Sarah, oh my. Are you alright?” Sarah asked worried

“Yes I am fine. Little incident a few days ago, but I am fine” Adora said chuckling

“Very good. Now welcome to the Garden house, we are the premier wedding destination. The house is a little over three hundred years old, and was built by the first settlers. Now the house may be small but it has all the amenities that you need. What we are known for is our gardens, the first flowers were planted when the house was built. But it was not until fifty years ago that the previous owner planted the flowers we now know. Would you like to come and see the yard?” Sarah asked

“Please” Catra said excited as her tail thrashes behind her

Adora smiled down at their partner, she was beyond excited and Adora wanted to make sure that she got everything that she could ever want. The moment they stepped outside the loud gasp from Catra set this place in stone, the yard was massive with flowers decorating every inch. The large cherry blossom tree that stood behind the arch pulled everything together.

“We can accommodate up to a hundred guests. Once the ceremony is done we have the reception area next door” Sarah explained

“Does the reception area include food and drink?” Adora asked as Catra walked around looking at the flowers

“Yes, if you decide to take the date then we will send you a menu and you will be able to choose from either a buffet or plated” Sarah explained

“We will take it” Adora stated

“You do not need to speak with Catra?” Sarah asked

“Nope, I can tell by her face this is what she wants and nothing would change that. This venue is beautiful and is exactly what we want” Adora staed

“Then why do we not head inside and get the paperwork and deposit dealt with?” Sarah offered

“Catra, I am going inside for a few moments” Adora called out

“Okay” Catra said going from flower patch to flower patch

“She is in love” Sarah chuckled

“She is, she saw it in a magazine years ago and it stuck with her. I will make her dreams come true, and this is the place she wished for but never expected to get. So let us get this all dealt with” Adora said as they stepped into the office

Adora listened as Sarah began explaining the contract, the information was straight forward in regards to the rules and regulations of the building. Soon they were coming to the date as well as the decision Adora made to have the reception here as well. A menu was placed in front of them, before the contact was signed as the door to the office opened.

“Whatcha doing?” Catra asked

“Making your dream come true. Here is the menu, we will need to choose what we want to do but we have a few days to do it” Adora said handing the menu off

“You didn’t” Catra said her tail fluffing up in excitement

“I did. This is where we are getting married” Adora said softly trying not to smile to much as it hurt

“I love you” Catra said wrapping her arms around Adora’s shoulders

“I am very glad we had the cancellation that you two were willing to take. Not many couples can take a spot that is only four months away” Sarah said as they walked towards the front door

“Nothing about our relationship is slow. We have only been together since September. So fast is what we do” Adora explained

“Well good for you two. Now any questions call me or email me and I will get back to you. Good day to you both” Sarah said as she shook both their hands

“Are you happy?” Adora asked as they opened the door for Catra

“I am beyond happy. Thank you” Catra said as she slipped into the car

“I love you more the the world, and if this is the start of giving you the world then I will do it over and over again” Adora said as they slipped into the car

“You have already given me the world” Catra said softly as they began their way home

Chapter 23

“I will never get over how sexy you look like that” Catra said watching Adora putter around their backyard without a shirt on

“Well I am glad you like it so much. I feel as though I have lost muscle” Adora said shrugging as they walked to stand in front of Catra

“You have not. You won’t lose your muscle by missing a few days of lifting. You hardly lost any muscle after chest surgery, so not lifting for another few weeks while your face heals will be fine” Catra chuckled as she ran her hand along their chest

“I know it is healing. See” Adora said smiling widely as she winced

“You are such an idiot” Catra said shaking her head

“I am your idiot though” Adora chuckled

“Very true, but don’t smile that wide yet. Those stitches don’t need to be pulled” Catra explained shaking her head looking up at Adora

“I can’t want for my face to fully heal” Adora said truthfully

“And why is that?” Catra asked running her claws gently along their chest

“Because then I can have you sit on my face” Adora smirked looking down at her

“You are nasty, but I love it and you” Catra said going on her tip toes to place a kiss on their lips

Catra could hear the students murmuring across the hall as they began teaching for the day. This was the first time that the students had seen Adora's bruised and broken face, but Adora held the attention of all the students they dealt with so the murmuring soon ceased as class began. Catra looked around the room, Markus was no where to be seen and something inside of her calmed. The day went quickly as the students were all talking to each other about Adora's face as well as the absence of one of their classmates but no one dared interrupt her.

"Miss Horde?" A female student asked as the day came to an end

"Yes?" Catra asked surprised

"There is a rumor going around that has to do with you" The female student said nervously

"And what is that rumor?" Catra asked now intrigued

"That the reason that Markus is no longer here is because of you" The student said playing with her pen nervously

"Let me get this rumor straight okay. He is not here because his father made a bad decision when it came to me, and in that it ended up harming someone in the process. I do not know if he will be returning or not but only time will tell" Catra explained

"Is that what happened to Miss Shera's face? Did Markus's dad hit her?" Another student asked

"Yes he broke my nose and my cheek" Adora stated leaning against the doorframe

"Why?" Another student asked loudly

"Because he attacked someone I love dearly. Now the bell rang, off you go" Adora said in a tone that meant no arguing

"How was your day?" Catra asked watching the students walk out

"Good, a hundred questions about my face but nothing to bad. You?" Adora countered

“About the same actually. I got a lot of questions asking if I knew what happened to you and so on and so forth” Catra laughed

“Well that sounds about right. Principal Walker wanted to speak to us though. Come on my beautiful kitty” Adora said smirking that stupid smirk

Catra blushed at the comment, even after the months of being called that she still was embarrassed and giddy when she heard it. Falling into step with Adora she watched as students walked past smiling and greeting them as they walked, soon they were stepping into the large front office before Adora knocked on the door as it swung open allowing them access.

“Oh your face looks horrible” Principle Walker stated

“Could be worse” Adora said shrugging looking at their boss and the cop

“I believe you have already met detective Miles?” Principal Walker asked

“Yes he was the one who took our statements” Catra said watching them

“I have come to let you know he is being charged with assault on two counts as well as assault causing bodily harm” Detective Miles stated

“And Markus?” Adora asked

“He has been expelled” Principal Walker explained

“When is the trial?” Adora asked shaking their head

“That has not been figured out yet, I would get a lawyer however” Detective Miles explained

“Will do. They can contact you in regards to information?” Catra asked

“That is fine. Do you have any questions?” Detective Miles asked

“No, thank you for everything though” Adora said smiling gently

Catra listened as they continued to speak for another twenty minutes, there were moments she wanted to scream at her boss because of how she had shrugged her off when she told her about Markus and his attitude but she knew better then to do so. She felt Adora’s strong large hand slip onto her leg a small squeeze helped her calm her mind, ten more minutes and she was bidding them a goodbye as Adora led her from the room.

“You good?” Adora said as they walked back towards their classrooms

“Yeah just annoyed. If Principal Walker had listened to my issues with him then you wouldn’t have been hurt like you were” Catra said softly shaking her head

“Don’t think like that love, come on. Why don’t we go to the bookshop and then go have dinner?” Adora offered

“You are just trying to make be feel better” Catra said her ears twitching in amusement

“Is it working?” Adora asked pulling her into their classroom

“Maybe, is it a looking shop or a buying shop?” Catra asked her tail twitching mischievously

“Depends if you are a good kitty or not” Adora smiled flinching slightly as she did

“Adora! We are at work” Catra said blushing

“No one is around. So good or bad kitty?” Adora asked again taking a step forward and grabbing her and pulling her in

“I am a good kitty, but we can’t do anything even if we wanted to. You know that we tried and you scrunched your face up so much you had to take your emergency pain killers" Catra said shaking her head

"You ruin my fun" Adora said sighing

"I know I do, but I prefer my mate to not be in severe pain. So no fun for a little longer" Catra said placing a gentle kiss on Adora's lips

"I love and hate when you are right. Now go get your stuff, we are going book shopping" Adora said patting Catra's ass

Catra practically ran from Adora's classroom, she had a guilty pleasure and it was books. She was not able to buy many through university, but now Adora spoiled her constantly. She hated it when Adora would not let her buy her own books but she had learned to accept it. She still was not used to being spoiled and the way Adora spoiled her was beyond anything she could have ever imagined. She wondered what Adora would be like when they had children, she knew they would be loved and spoiled something she never was. She felt her heart clench and her breathing grow hard at the thought as she wrapped her arms around herself, her heart pounding as she pinned her hears against her head. The strong arms that wrapped around her shoulders pulling her into a strong warm chest.

"Breath love" Adora said softly

"There we go, what happened?" Adora asked softly as Catra slowly calmed down

"I was thinking about how you will spoil our kids when we have them. But then I thought about how they will know what it is like to be spoiled, and how I never knew what it was to be spoiled until you" Catra said shaking her head

"I will spoil you until the day I die, and I will spoil each and every child we have just as much. I want you to know what it is to be loved so much that you become someone's world. Because you are my world" Adora said truthfully

“And you are my world. I just want to do what is best for our kids when we have them” Catra said softly

“We will, they will be loved and shown right and wrong. Now let us go spoil ourselves, how does sushi sound for dinner?” Adora offered

“Yes please” Catra said her tail thrashing in excitement

“I am glad that sushi can make you that happy” Adora chuckled holding out the keys for Catra to take

“No you make me happy, sushi is just an added bonus” Catra smirked taking the keys from Adora's hand

Chapter 24

“Do I look okay?” Adora asked nervously

“You look incredibly handsome” Catra countered watching her partner closely

“Thank you, but what I mean is this okay for a trial?” Adora asked flattening a wrinkle in their shirt

“Yes baby, you look okay. More then okay” Catra said raising her hand to cup their cheek

“I am sorry, I am just incredibly nervous” Adora said leaning into the touch

“I know you are. It is hard to believe it has been a month since the attack” Catra said sighing as she gently ran her finger over the raised scar

“Catra, get out of your head. This was not your fault” Adora said gently

“I know, it is just hard to see it” Catra said softly

“I love you, and I will protect you every day of our lives. Now come on, we cannot be late” Adora said pulling her towards the door

The car ride was quiet, Adora held tight to Catra’s hand the whole drive. Catra felt her heart pounding in her chest the whole drive, she knew what they said in this trial would make the outcome change. Adora had been constantly speaking out loud during the past few days to remember everything that happened in that interaction perfectly.

“I love you” Adora said breaking her from her thoughts

“I love you to, are you ready?” Catra asked as they pulled into a spot

“I am. Come on love” Adora said stepping out of the car before grabbing her hand and pulling her into the court

Catra was not a fan of the courtroom, stepping inside it was to quiet and to clean for her liking. She could hear a pin drop from the back of the room with the silence that permeated the room. She watched as their lawyer stepped in taking a seat beside Adora as he began chatting away with them. Catra listened but did not speak as Adora’s hand reached over and took hers in their large hand, the one simple act always calmed her down. She understood soon why Adora had reached out as they did, Markus and his father walked in. Lionel as they learned his name to be walked in hands cuffed in front of him. Her heart pounded in her chest as she felt his eyes on them, the snarl of his lips made her sick to her stomach.

“You are okay, we are okay” Adora said softly

“All rise” The courtroom attendant called out

Catra felt Adora’s hand squeeze hers tighter as they stood, she watched as the judge walked in before sitting as those around them sat once more. Catra listened as the judge began to speak, twenty minutes later and she was being called up to the stand. Taking a deep breath she stood as she smoothed out each wrinkle as she made her way up. She knew what to expect but she was still worried, but the look from Adora calmed her. She began to speak, explaining the incident and how it began. She could feel Lionel watching her, his gaze making her uneasy as she spoke but she did as she always did. Her tail was sitting in her lap as she slowly ran her fingers through it before playing with her engagement ring. Ten minutes later she was being sent to sit back down once more, Adora was soon called up and they began explaining the incident from their view. Catra knew Adora was strong but as they sat up there she was proud of her mate, they spoke in a way that showed they would not allow what happened to be swept under the rug. Adora was soon sent back down as Lionel was called up, and the moment he sat she knew that it would not be good.

“The dyke put me in a choke hold” Lionel snarled

“Watch your language” The judge warned

“I am just calling them what they are” Lionel countered

“Once again that kind of language will not be allowed” The judge snapped

Catra tried not to laugh but it came out as she turned it into a cough, she knew he was an asshole and this showed it. He had no regard for the world around him, but instead just the world he lived in. She could see the judge getting more and more flustered as he continued to rant. Catra watched as the judge had enough as he was pulled from the stand and planted back in his seat with his lawyer.

The next hour passed as they were asked question after question between each lawyer as the judge listened. Catra was nervous, her tail began slipping back and forth. Without looking away from the judge she felt Adora reach out and grab a hold of it gently before placing it in their lap. Slowly petting it, she hated how much it calmed her to feel Adora’s hands on her tail but this was something she needed and had not realized.

“I have come to my decision” The judge stated

“Lionel Ranbit, you are being charged with Assault and assault causing bodily harm. You will be spending your next five years in jail, after that you will be on two years house arrest” The judge stated sternly

“Are you fucking kidding me?!” Lionel yelled

“Do not make me make it more. You are all free to leave, good day” The judge stated

“That was more then I expected” Catra said as Adora stood

“Agreed, come on let us get home love” Adora said softly

Catra nodded, reaching out for Adora’s hand as she was led from the courtroom.

“So what would you like to do?” Catra asked as they pushed their plate away

“You” Adora stated smirking

“Are you up to it?” Catra countered

“Oh I am, it has been a long month of you not letting me touch you again” Adora said standing and walking towards her

“And how do you want me?” Catra asked as she was yanked from her chair and into Adora’s arms

“You shall see. Melog buddy no” Adora said as he ran between their feet

“You will get attention soon” Catra said as she threaded her fingers through Adora’s hair

Adora chuckled as they managed to walk towards the stairs without accidently kicking Melog, making their way up the stairs with Catra still in their arms as Catra placed gentle kisses along each cheek before their nose and lips. Pushing the bedroom door open Adora, stepped in before kicking it closed before Melog could follow. Adora felt Catra let go of their shoulders for a moment, Adora took this chance to toss her down on the bed as she landed on her ass.

“I thought kitties always landed on their feet” Adora chuckled

“You are an idiot. But I love you” Catra said laughing loudly

“Good now strip” Adora said sternly

“Yes sir” Catra smirked her fangs showing as she did

Adora loved when Catra was like this, stripping slowly they watched Catra closely as she practically ripped her clothing from her body. Adora enjoyed how enthusiastic Catra was as they turned to grab the strap, looking at the range that sat lined up in the drawer they ran their finger along them until they came to the magicat cock. They had not used it since Catra’s heat and believed this was the best time to use it again. Grabbing Adora turned to find Catra laying there slowly running her hands along her stomach and breasts as she waited, her eyes growing wide at the strap in Adora’s hand.

“Is this one okay? If not we can use a different one” Adora offered gently

“I like that idea, but maybe a little lube though” Catra said blushing

“Of course my little kitty, as much as I would like to have my head between your legs my face is still a little too tender” Adora said softly

“I expected that love, get that cock in the strap and come feel how horny I am” Catra said running her fingers through her folds as she held up her dripping fingers

Adora groaned as they got the cock ready before grabbing the lube, coming to the bed they kneeled on the bed as Catra opened her legs allowing Adora between them. Adora could see how wet she was already as her fur was already matted down as her arousal dripped down onto the bed. Adora smiled as they ran a single finger through her drenched folds, the shudder and moan egged them on. Slipping a finger inside slowly, Adora watched as Catra’s eyes rolled back as she allowed her body to fully relax. It had been a long month for them both, slowly curling their finger, Adora watched as Catra’s tail began to twitch.

“You have to be patient, like a good horny kitty” Adora said lowly

“Adora” Catra whined

“Not my title right now” Adora said smirking

“Sir, please” Catra whined again

“Let me have my fun first” Adora said smirking

“Please sir, another then” Catra said rolling her hips

“That is better, see all you have to do is ask nicely?” Adora said slipping a second finger in

“Yes please yes” Catra moaned loudly as her tail thumped hard against the bed

“Can you take a third?” Adora asked gently confirming

“Yes sir” Catra said nodding

Adora nodded, slowly extracting their fingers before grabbing the bottle of lube. Catra had never taken three of their fingers, they knew they were not small fingers and three of their thick fingers were the size of the magicat cock. But Catra was in heat the last time she had taken something that big so being careful was what Adora would be. Drizzling lube on their fingers they tossed it back beside Catra’s leg as they slid their fingertips through her folds before slowly pushing in. Catra felt the pinch then the sting as Adora pushed in, wrapping her tail around Adora’s wrist tugged showing that it was okay to proceed. Soon all three fingers were deep inside of her, Adora watched her for a few moments waiting for her to level her breathing before beginning to move, curling their fingers each time they moved.

“If you keep that up I will cum, I want to cum with your cock in me sir” Catra said her tail tightening

Adora smiled down at Catra, leaning over her as their hand stilled and pulled out; Catra knew what Adora wanted. A soft kiss was soon placed on her lips, making sure not to hit their nose. They had made that mistake a few days before while getting to rough while kissing and Adora had to pull back from the pain. Each day it was getting better but it was still there and present in their life. Propping themselves up Adora grabbed the lube again and drizzled it along the cock, running their hand along it they wondered what it would feel like inside of themselves as a shiver went down their spine. Once more tossing the bottle off to the side Adora lined the cock up before slowly pushing inside, the stretch made Catra's toes curl but she loved it. Adora slowly slid in before bottoming out once more resting the knot at her entrance.

"How does that feel?" Adora asked gently running their hands along her legs

"Good, full. Fuck" Catra groaned as Adora moved

Adora smirked, wrapping their hands under Catra's legs before hoisting her knees onto their shoulders. Catra's eyes went wide at the change but the moment Adora moved and the cock hit even deeper she was in love. Adora soon was pushing her legs down towards her chest as they began moving. Catra felt every movement, Adora was pounding into her as her tail came and wrapped around their waist. Reaching up and pulling them down more, they were now forehead to forehead as Adora watched her eyes rolling back. Each thrust pushed the knot closer and closer to slipping in, the rubbing of her clit against the leather of the strap was pushing her over the edge.

"Please put it in" Catra managed to get out

"Are you sure?" Adora countered still thrusting hard

"Please sir, knot me" Catra screamed as her claws dug into Adora's shoulders drawing blood

Adora pulled back and thrust in hard, the knot popping into Catra. Catra felt the pain and stretch as the knot slipped in, Adora continued thrusting small amounts as Catra's orgasm hit her hard. Claws digging into Adora's shoulders once more as she felt herself squirt hard soaking the bed underneath them. Adora's thrusts slow even further until their hips still, breathing heavily Adora slowly moved. Attempting not to move the strap inside her, moving her legs from their shoulders Adora placed them down before slowly massaging Catra's hips trying to get rid of any pain from the position.

"Holy fuck" Catra moaned

"Did you like that position?" Adora asked nervously

"More then you know. Fuck" Catra chuckled

"Good, I enjoyed that. Do you want me to pull out?" Adora asked softly running their hands now along Catra's soft fur that covered her stomach

"Yes slowly, because I want you to come and sit on my face" Catra said watching Adora

"Are you sure?" Adora asked watching

"I am always sure, I have not tasted you in weeks. Now pull out and toss that strap on the floor for now and get your delicious body over my mouth" Catra said running a claw down Adora's chest and stomach as a red line formed

Adora shivered, Catra was getting more and more confident in leaving marks with her claws and this seemed like a moment where they were really wanting to do so. Slowly pulling out, as they watched Catra scrunch their face up from the pain before the knot popped out. Backing up Adora soon stood before pulling the strap off and tossing it on the floor, watching Catra move down the bed and into the right position made a rush of arousal drip down their legs. Climbing onto the bed and throwing their leg over Catra's head they felt Catra's hands come quickly to their thighs pulling them down as their claws dug into their skin.

"Fuck harder" Adora moaned

Catra chuckled, she had yet to even touch Adora's clit and they were already begging for something. Digging their claws in harder she pulled down as Adora was fully seated on her face as she ran her tongue along their clit slowly. The moan and sound of the headboard being gripped told her it was the right more. Slow steady movements of her tongue soon led to Adora moving their hips as though they were riding their face, taking their clit in her mouth she began to suck gently before running their rough tongue once more around the hard nub.

"I am going to cum already, fuck Catra" Adora groaned loudly as their free hand came into her hair

Catra did not stop, as she felt a drop of blood hit her forehead as Adora screamed. The shaking of their legs and body as well as the tightening hand in her hair told her that the orgasm was much needed. Slowly she began to pull off their clit until they were placing gentle licks to help them come down. Looking up she found Adora panting as they looked down at them a large stupid smile on their face.

"I love you" Adora said softly as they climbed off of Catra before laying beside her

"And I love you, that was needed" Catra said chuckling

"It was. No more will we wait that long" Adora groaned

"That means no more getting hurt" Catra said poking Adora in the chest

"I will try, but I will always protect my kitty" Adora said placing a gentle kiss on her nose

Chapter 25

“Do you think she will like it?” Adora asked as they stared at themselves in the suit

“She will love it. She loves you in anything you wear” Bow stated chuckling

“I know, but it just makes me nervous” Adora said as they played with the cuffs

“That you are getting married? Or that your magicat mate will not like the suit you pick?” Bow asked looking to Scorpia for help

“Catra will love whatever you wear. You are in a light gray suit, that is what you two decided on. And you have a white dress shirt and red vest and tie with a gold pocket square. You are exactly what she wanted” Scorpia stated shaking her head as well

“But will she not like it because it is to loose?” Adora asked now beginning to second guess what they are wearing

“Adora. Catra wants you in whatever makes you happy, she expects you to be in a men's suit. Because that is what you are comfortable in” Bow reminded them

“Oh, right yes” Adora said blushing at the stupidity of their worry

“There we go, there is the Adora who is brilliant and calm” Bow said laughing

“Thank you, both of you. Now let us get you two fit” Adora said smiling at their friends

“Hello Melog, is momma home? I bet she is finishing marking her papers, even though I told her to not do to much while I was gone” Adora said picking up their kitten

“I can hear you, you know” Catra said from the kitchen table

“I am surprised you are there and not at the coffee table” Adora said stepping into the kitchen with Melog in their arms

“I was, then your child there decided the papers were fun to play with. So he kept jumping up on the table so I finally said fuck it and moved to the kitchen table” Catra said her tail flicking back and forth

“Naughty kitty, that is not what good kitties do” Adora said holding out Melog as they spoke to them

“Can you not talk to him like that” Catra said blushing

“What? Why not? Oh... Are my words turning you on?” Adora asked understanding “Shut up! Maybe, you know what being called a naughty and bad kitty does to me” Catra said her ears pinning to her head

“I know, I just did not think that it would happen like this. I am sorry love” Adora said placing Melog down and moving to wrap their arms around Catra’s shoulders

“It is okay, how was your fitting?” Catra asked softly leaning back into Adora’s chest

“Good, I second guessed myself but Bow and Scorpia helped me through it” Adora said leaning down to place a kiss on the top of her head

“Why did you second guess yourself?” Catra asked worried

“I was in my head, I was worried that you wouldn’t want me in a men's suit but instead a women's and I just got in my head” Adora said shaking it

“I know you get in your head love, but never will I think of you as a women. You are not, you are non-binary and are more masc then femme. Never would I want you to wear women's clothes, that is not you. And if in time you wish to stop using female pronouns at school and just use they them and male pronouns if you really wanted. I would support you" Catra said leaning her head back to look at Adora

"I needed that, thank you" Adora said softly leaning down to place a kiss on her forehead

"Attention please" Principal walker called out

"There we go, how can we measure a year? By a second, a minute, by memories? A year has passed since the school year started, and what a year it has been. We sit here as students who will continue their education with us next year and for those who will be ending their journey with us to go on and become the leaders of tomorrow" Principal Walker stated

"I wish the very best to those who leave us tomorrow and for those who return I wish that you have a wonderful summer. But we have a few announcements to be said before you can return to your classrooms to finish your studies for the year" Principal Walker stated

Adora listened as the principal spoke, going over the end of year tasks for the students as well as any important information that needed to be known for the end of school. Soon they heard their name being called as principal Walker looked at them smiling.

"Adora here has an announcement that will impact your interactions with them next year" Principal Walker stated

"Thank you. I look out at your faces and I can tell you all wonder what I am going to tell you. No I am not leaving the school, and no I will not give you my work out routine" Adora said breaking the ice as the laughter filled the gym

“But what I am going to ask you is something that is important to me. I know some of you have heard when Miss. Horde speaks to me or about me, that she uses they them pronouns. I have always been non-binary, since the day I stepped into this school. But I feared asking for the proper pronouns, until I met Miss. Horde. So I ask you this for next year, when speaking of me please use they them pronouns. And I give you permission to use Mrs. Or Mr. Shera when addressing me or speaking of me” Adora said as the student body watched them as a student raised their hand

“Yes?” Adora asked

“Why Mrs.? You are not married” The student asked confused

“Ah that is my next announcement, I will be marrying in two weeks time. My name will be staying the same but Miss Horde will be Mrs. Shera when the new year starts” Adora said looking back to a blushing Catra

“How about a round of applause for our engaged couple. We will all do our very best about using your correct pronouns” Principal Walker stated as Adora came back to their seat

“You good?” Catra asked her hand coming to rest on Adora’s knee

“More then, that felt amazing” Adora said smiling

“Good because you are amazing” Catra said smiling as they went back to listening to their principal

“You are going to miss this” Adora said as they racked the bar

“I will, but unlike when we first met. I can look all I want, because you come home with me every night” Catra smirked allowing her fangs to be seen

“You could have looked when we first met but you were to nervous around me to do so” Adora said chuckling

“Well, you are fucking hot. And muscled and I didn’t know what to do around you when I first saw you” Catra said her ears flicking back and forth

“Well guess what, you can look and touch now” Adora said scooping her into their arms

“Adora!” Catra squealed as she wrapped her arms around Adora’s neck

“Did you know, that I could have been teaching at another high school? I was accepted to two schools to teach and I decided on this one” Adora said holding Catra in their arms

“I was thinking of moving out of the city but then I got the job here, and was only going to stay for a year or two. Until I was able to pay off my debts. Then I met you” Catra said softly

“I am glad our lives connected as they did, as though it was fate” Adora said sitting on the bench with Catra in their lap

“It was fate, from the moment I laid eyes on you. I knew it was fate controlling what was going on, from me knocking over Scorpia’s drink to finding you on the dance floor. To you marking me as your mate, it is fate and I would not change anything about it” Adora said so sweetly it made Catra’s heart pound in her chest

“I wouldn’t change anything either, I will keep it in fates hands. I love you” Catra said her tail wrapping around Adora’s waist

“And I love you my beautiful kitty. Now let us get ready for our last day of school, and then when we return we will be married. And then in a few years you will be round with our kits” Adora said smiling

“That is mean, we have to finish our day” Catra growled

“Keeps you on your toes for the day beautiful, because it is a beautiful thought that I cannot wait to see” Adora said pulling her down into a kiss

Chapter 26

“Adora” Catra called out

“Yes love?” Adora countered looking into their bedroom

“Are you ready? The cake tasting is in half an hour” Catra said her tail flicking back and forth

“I am, I have been waiting on you” Adora countered chuckling

“Oh, I was waiting on you. Why were you waiting for me?” Catra asked as she checked herself in the mirror one last time

“Because you showered, which means your fur takes forever to properly dry. And I know you conditioned it today as well” Adora said watching their mate closely

“You are always watching me aren’t you?” Catra said shaking her head as she slipped from the room

“We will be back, I know you want attention. We will be back I promise” Adora said talking to Melog

“We will stop and get you a new toy, I promise. I know we haven’t been home a lot in the past week” Catra said bending to scratch him behind the ears

“He just got a new toy yesterday” Adora said as they stepped from the house

“Yes but even when we were teaching we were home more then we have been in the past week” Catra said as they stepped into the car

“Fine, we will stop by the pet store on our way home” Adora said as they began their drive

“This one is chocolate with chocolate icing, this one is a vanilla cake with chocolate icing. This is red velvet with cream cheese icing, and this one here is a refreshing summer flavored cake. A vanilla cake with a peach jam spread inside with a peach icing” The baker explained

They both had a piece on their plate, taking a bite of each of the cakes they knew what one they preferred and from how Catra was moaning the moment she began breaking into the cake, her tail flicked back and forth slowly showing her love of the cakes and soon the one she wanted the most.

“What do you both think?” The baker asked

“I know what one I like the most, and I think I know which one Catra does as well” Adora said as they felt Catra’s tail wrap around their thigh

“I know which one I like the most” Catra said truthfully

“Then you go first” Adora said smiling

“I like the peach. No I love the peach cake, it is perfectly sweet but has that amazing fresh taste that I didn't realize I needed” Catra explained

“Perfect, that is the one I love as well” Adora smiled as they ran their hand along their tail

“Perfect. That cake is a first for us, we have done many fruit based flavors but never a peach one. You will be the first to have this cake” The baker explained

“Perfect. Now can we do this as cupcakes?” Catra asked

“That can easily be done. Then a small cake for you both to cut as well?” The baker asked

“Yes, a small round cake for us to cut then sixty cupcakes” Adora stated

“And the same date still?” The baker asked

“Yes ma’am” Adora agreed

“Perfect. We shall see you in a weeks time” The baker said smiling

“Adora?” Catra asked as they sat at a red light

“Yes?” Adora countered their hand resting on Catra’s thigh

“Not that I know of. We have the cake figured out, our attire is done, our decorations are sitting at home. Our maids of honor are dressed and have their speeches written. The DJ is paid, the food is picked, and we are on our way to the florist for one final check” Adora said rattling off what they had done

“I needed you to say that, thank you. I am sorry for being so nervous” Catra said taking Adora’s hand

“You are allowed to be, I am just as nervous. But I am not showing it. Everything will be okay, I promise. I love you and this is for us, so if something goes wrong then it does. But we will not allow that to upset us. Everything will work out” Adora said squeezing her hand

“I love you as well” Catra said her ears slowly moving

“These are to your liking?” The florist asked

“Yes, they are perfect” Catra said as she looked at the mock up of their settings

“Good I am glad, this one will not last until your wedding. So would you like to take it home?” The florist asked

“We would love that” Adora said as they signed the paperwork before grabbing the vase

“Nothing that is toxic to cats correct?” Catra asked worried

“Not planning on eating them are we love?” Adora said playfully

“No you lovable idiot. So that Melog doesn’t get poisoned” Catra said shaking her head as the florist giggled

“Nothing is toxic to cats” The florist stated after she stopped laughing

“Perfect. Thank you once again” Catra said now more comfortable

“Of course. I am pleased you chose us as your florists” The florist said smiling

“WE are glad to. Come now, off to the pet store” Adora said as they walked from the shop

Catra walked around the pet store, Adora had somehow fastened the vase into the back seat with the seatbelt when they had left. She had watched from the outside of the car trying not to laugh as her partner, her mate fiddled with something that she could have just held onto. Laughing to herself they walked from the cat section, they had not realized there was an adoption event going on in the pet store at that moment. Cages and kennels of dogs and cats of every age were spread around the store, each one needing a loving home. She knew they did not need another animal but they were now saying hello to each and every animal.

“Catra look at him” Adora said pulling her to a playpen with one last dog

“This is Swiftwind, she is four years old” The lady stated

“Why would someone get rid of a dog like her?” Adora asked softly bending down to pet the nervous dog

“She likes you, normally she doesn’t let random people pet her” The lady stated

“Adora here is amazing with animals” Catra said allowing the dog to smell her

“So what is her story?” Adora asked as Swiftwind smelled Catra’s hand and licked it gently

“She was surrendered to us, she is a golden retriever mixed with an Australian Shepard. We did not realize at the time that she was pregnant, but within a week we began noticing things. So we did an ultrasound and she had ten puppies forming inside her. All of her puppies have been adopted but very few people want a mother, she is a sweetie though. Once she warms up to you she just wants cuddles, she loves children and has been fostered in a home with a cat” The lady explained

“She is very sweet, we aren’t planning on getting a dog though” Adora said their voice telling the tale of how much it hurt them to say that

“That is okay, I am glad she warmed up to you. Have a wonderful rest of your day” The lady said her tone showing the disappointment

“She was very sweet” Catra said as they walked away

“She was” Adora said their voice catching

“You are in love” Catra stated as they slowly made their way up to the tills

“I am. It is okay, she will find a home. We have Melog already” Adora said their tone once more deceiving them

“Adora, tell me the truth. Do you want a dog?” Catra asked calmly as she stopped walking

“I would love a dog, I had a dog growing up. She passed when I was eighteen. She helped me through my hard times in the hospital” Adora explained

“Go get a cart” Catra stated

“Why? We have Melog’s toy” Adora said confused

“We are getting a dog, look at her. She was happy when we were there but as soon as we walked away she sulked. I can’t leave her. Just like you can’t” Catra said turning them to look at the sad looking dog who was crying slightly

“Catra, we can’t just get a dog” Adora said shaking their head

“We randomly got a cat. Come on” Catra said

Adora felt Catra’s hand slip into theirs as they were pulled back towards the play pen, the moment Swiftwind saw them coming back her crying stopped. And the moment they were standing at her play pen once more they watched as she stood her tail wagging quickly.

“How much is her adoption?” Catra asked

“Five hundred. She is spayed and is up to date on all of her shots as well as a clean bill of health” The lady said a knowing smile passing her face

“Is it only cash for adoption?” Adora asked

“Yes unfortunately, if it was in shelter we could do card” The lady stated

“I can hit a bank, there is one across the parking lot. If you want to start the forms” Catra offered

“Are you sure? This is your home as well” Adora asked again

“She deserves a home where she is loved, you gave me a home Adora so let us give her a home together. Hopefully Melog likes her” Catra said smiling as her fangs showed

“Go to the bank” Adora said trying to keep the excitement in their voice low

“Swiftwind this is your new home, there is a big backyard. And you have a brother, he may take a little to warm up to you” Adora said as they stepped into the house

Catra chuckled, it had taken her ten minutes to head to the bank and pull out the cash. In those ten minutes Adora had already filled out all the paperwork and had begun shopping, she was amazed how quickly Adora could drop another five hundred dollars. But the look on Swiftwind’s face when she realized she was going to a home was worth every dollar they spent. The moment they walked into the living room Melog looked up from the couch, stretching as they stood up they soon were moving towards Swiftwind. Adora held on tight but Melog sniffed her before rubbing himself between her legs, while Swiftwind seemed to careless about Melog. Taking the chance Adora reached down and let her off her leash. A moments hesitation and she was sniffing the house, while Melog followed closely.

“She looks at home” Adora said softly watching her

“She is, we are a home now. And in time there will be the pitter patter of little kits running around with her and Melog” Catra said leaning her head on their shoulder

“I like that idea, this is the future I always wanted” Adora said softly

“Me to” Catra said as they watched Swiftwind jump on the couch making herself at home

Chapter 27

Adora looked around the house, it was the morning of their wedding and they were nervous. They shouldn't be nervous like they were, they were technically married already under Magicat customs but under normal Etherian customs they were not married yet. Rubbing at the mark on the side of their neck they did not hear as Swifty walked into the kitchen before rubbing her snout along their leg. In the two weeks since they had gotten her, things had changed. She warmed up to everyone that came into the house, and her and Melog were inseparable now.

"Hey you, are you wanting breakfast?" Adora asked softly as Swifty barked in agreement

"Okay okay, let us get you fed" Adora said opening the pantry

"Are you having a conversation with our animals?" Catra asked as she stepped into the kitchen

"I am, how did you sleep love?" Adora asked placing a kiss on her forehead as they passed by

"I slept well. But waking to a cold bed isn't fun" Catra said shaking her head

"Sorry, I couldn't sleep. I am super nervous" Adora explained as they poured the food into the two separate dishes

"I know, me to. It was one thing to be mated by a bite but in a massive ceremony it is more nerve wracking" Catra said slipping her hand into Adora's

"I love you" Adora said softly

"I love you to. Now do you have everything? Your suit and shoes and everything?" Catra asked wrapping her arms around Adora's waist

“I do, do you have everything?” Adora countered

“I do, my dress is with Scorpia. Are you sure about this?” Catra asked softly burying her face in Adora’s chest

“More sure then anything I have ever done. You are my be all and end all. From now until we are dead, Catra you have been my mate since two months into our relationship. I knew you were the one the minute I saw you. So yes I am sure about this. Are you?” Adora asked softly holding her close

“I am sure, more sure then anything else in my life” Catra said her purr beginning as Adora held her close

“Stop pacing” Glimmer grumbled

“I am sorry, but I am just nervous” Adora said fixing their suit jacket again

“I know, but you have fixed your jacket about ten times in less then five minutes. Breath Dor” Glimmer stated

“Sorry. Do you think that going without a tie is smart?” Adora asked

“Yes, the white shirt with the red vest and light grey suit pants is perfect. It does not need a tie or a bow tie. Remember you two decided on that.” Glimmer asked

“I know but I am just nervous, but damn I do look good” Adora said looking at themselves in the mirror

“What if Adora doesn’t like this dress? Oh god, what if my tail looks horrible? Is my hair okay?” Catra said looking in the mirror

“You look amazing, and Adora will love it. And you love it. Your tail looks fine, a little fluffy because you are nervous but it looks good” Scorpia said shaking her head

“What if I mess up my vows?” Catra asked as she began petting her tail

“Then you mess them up and it will not matter, Adora loves you no matter what happens” Scorpia said softly

Adora stood at the end of the aisle beneath the slower arch that Catra wanted, surrounded by thousands of flowers that were perfectly bloomed. Adora looked around at their friends, it was at this moment they missed their parents. A moment they never got to see but Adora knew they were there with them. The justice of the peace stood waiting and watching as the music began, Adora took a deep breath before turning to watch as Catra walked down the aisle. Her tail was wrapped around her waist while the dress she wore was strapless allowing the beauty of her fur and stripes to be on show. It was corseted until her waist while it flared out but then draped down around her, Adora’s heart pounded in their chest. Their movement was slow but precise as they came to a stop in front of them, Adora could not help but smile like an idiot as they looked at her.

“We welcome these two souls who have found love. Two people who overcome all odds to show their love to the world. Now I stand here with these two souls, and I ask does anyone have a reason why they should not be married?” The justice asked

“No one? Good good. Now Catra you may begin with your vows” The justice said looking at Catra

“Less then a year ago I walked into the school and saw you for the first time. I did not know how to think or act when I was around you then it changed, you changed me. You showed me it was okay to be loved and showed me how to be loved. You allowed a mating bite only months into our relationship because you knew I was the one, Adora I give you my life. My love and my world, never will I falter. But instead I will rely on you my partner, I love you. Let us begin our life together" Catra said her tail flicking just a little

"Adora" The justice stated

"You walked into that gym and my heart almost broke out of my chest, your beauty and confidence. And then I heard you speak and I was done. I chased you and then fate intervened, knocking over your friends drink was the best thing that ever happened to me. I found you, and here we are. Through everything, I will support you as you support me. Through sickness and in health. I love you Catra, let us begin our life together fully" Adora said their hands shaking as they reached for Catra's hands

"Catra take this ring and repeat after me" The justice stated as she spoke

"I Catra Horde take you Adora Shera as my spouse, to cherish and to hold. Through sickness and in health, through everything the world throws at us. Take my ring and show the world our love" Catra repeated as she slipped Adora's ring on their finger

"Adora take this ring and repeat after me" The justice stated as she looked at Adora

"I Adora Shera take you Catra Horde as my wife, to cherish and to hold. Through sickness and in health, through everything the world throws at us. Take my ring and show the world our love" Adora repeated as they slipped the ring on Catra's finger

"I would like to pronounce you married. You may kiss your bride" The justice said looking at Adora

Adora smiled widely before pulling Catra into their arms, placing a firm but soft kiss on her lips. Pulling back Adora could see the smile that Catra wore. Standing back up Catra threaded her fingers through Adora's as they walked down the aisle together for the first time. Adora could not believe that went on without issue, soon they were standing in a side garden as picture after picture was taken.

“Alright, Adora can you pick Catra up?” The photographer asked

“Of course” Adora said chuckling as Catra screamed as she was picked up bridal style

“You look so beautiful” Adora said looking down at her

“And you are incredibly handsome. I am glad we went without the tie” Catra said wrapping her arms around Adora’s neck as the click of the camera was heard

“Me to. I cannot wait to get you out of this dress” Adora said lowly

“Oh yeah? How about I keep it on and you take me in the bridal suite right after pictures?” Catra said her tail wrapping around Adora's waist

“Oh I like that, fingers or tongue?” Adora asked

“Strap, I brought it” Catra whispered

“Perfect, all done!” The photographer called out as they turned to go back to the reception

Adora was stunned but couldn’t argue, putting Catra down quickly they felt her hand slip into theirs before they were being pulled into the house and into the bridal suite. Adora watched as Catra quickly looked through her bag before holding out their strap. Adora chuckled at their wife who hopped up onto a small writing desk while pulling her dress up.

“No underwear?” Adora asked stunned as they slipped their pants off

“Nope, now fuck me” Catra growled

Adora could not say no, Adora slipped the strap on quickly. Tightening the straps they stepped forward, swiping a finger through her drenched fold and with practiced hands the strap was slipping in. Adora knew they had to be quick as they grabbed a hold of Catra's hip as their other hand came to their clit. Hard quick thrusts were causing the table to move but they did not care, as Catra thrashed underneath them.

"Cum for me kitty" Adora commanded

"Fuck Adora" Carta groaned as Adora clamped the hand that was on their hip over their mouth

Adora looked down at Catra's wide eyes before the smile could be felt under their hand, then the fangs dug into their soft flesh. It was Adora's time to groan as they continued to thrust as they felt Catra begin to twitch, the soft circles on their clit became hard and moments later Catra was shaking with a muffled scream as her fangs bore into Adora's hand. Pulling their hand away Adora looked at Catra who just smiled, before pulling Adora's hand down to lick away the blood that had pooled.

"Adora? Catra? Are you in there?" Glimmer called through the door

"Yes? Just give us a moment, we were just relaxing" Adora called back

"Of course, they want you down in five minutes" Glimmer called back

"Will do" Adora called back as they quietly undid the straps

"Get me back tonight, can you stand?" Adora asked softly

"No? Yes?" Catra said standing on shaky legs

"You don't look to fucked" Adora said throwing the strap in the bag before pulling on their pants once more

“Good. Hey Dor?” Catra called out

“Yes?” Adora asked as the click of a belt buckle was heard

“I love you” Catra said softly

“I love you to. Now come on wife we have people waiting” Adora said placing a kiss on her nose before pulling her from the room

Chapter 28

“You sure you are good to watch him for three weeks?” Adora asked

“Yes, Melog is a sweet little monster. He will be fine” Glimmer said holding Melog up in the air

“I know, just nervous. First time we have left him” Adora said placing the bags of items down

“Go enjoy your honeymoon, you are married Dor! Go enjoy it!” Glimmer said pushing them from the house

Adora shook their head as they slipped into the car, the drive home was quick. Slipping into the house Adora found Catra on the floor scratching Swifty’s belly. The bags were packed and placed by the front door, so without a word Adora grabbed them and made their way back to the car. Tetris’s the bags and items that they needed into the car they walked back in finding Catra now searching for something.

“What are you missing?” Adora asked

“Swifty’s leash. Where did we put it?” Catra asked looking around

“Same place we always keep it love, hanging up” Adora said chuckling as they grabbed the leash

“Oh, sorry. I am just flustered. I don’t know where we are going and Melog is going to be with someone else for three weeks. Is Glimmer sure she is okay with it?” Catra asked her tail flicking with nervousness

“Yes she is fine with it love, and I promise you will love where we are going. Trust me please?” Adora said gently

“Okay. And the place we are going is okay with Swiftwind coming?” Catra asked

“Yes, I spoke with the owner personally. They are totally happy to have her there with us” Adora said gently

“Okay, then let us get our honeymoon started” Catra said nodding

Catra played with her rings as Adora drove, the drive was longer then she had expected but the scenery was breathtaking. She had only once gone this far out of the city, but the mountains that now surrounded them made the long drive worth it. She listened as Adora sung to every song that came on the radio as their hand reached over before coming to rest on her hand. A gentle squeeze and her nervousness was fading, she did not understand why she was so nervous but something about the unknown was getting to her. Soon the world faded to black before jerking awake as Adora pulled into a wooded driveway.

“Where are we?” Catra asked

“Our home for the next three weeks” Adora said as they came into a clearing Catra couldn’t help her gasp as she looked at the cabin, it wasn’t large but it looked updated. The moment they stepped from the Car Swiftwind was running around sniffing everywhere, Adora soon took her hand as they walked around looking to see what there was to offer. Stepping around the cabin she could see a large picture perfect lake surrounded by mountains still tipped with snow. A large firepit sat twenty feet from the cabin as they passed it and now stood on the dock where a small boat sat just waiting to be used.

“What do you think?” Adora asked nervously

“It is beautiful” Catra said softly watching a duck land on the water as it rippled slightly

“I thought this would be a good idea, we needed time to just be together. Just us, and to be in nature its amazing” Adora said moving to stand behind her as she was pulled against their chest

“Have you been here before?” Catra asked softly

“I have, many times. This cabin and the acres of land it sits on are owned by a family friend, I came here every summer with my parents for a week. Then the year I was diagnosed with Cancer, I had finished chemo two weeks before summer started. So we came here to relax for the whole summer to allow myself to recover” Adora said softly

“I love you” Catra said softly

“And I love you. Come let us take a look inside” Adora said their voice wavering at the memories

Catra could hear it in Adora’s voice, they needed to change the scenery so they could calm down. A whistle and Swifty was coming back to them, her wagging tail as she carried a large stick in her mouth made both of them chuckle. Stepping inside the cabin, Catra looked around finding a small kitchen and small table. Looking to her left she found the couch and coffee table, no TV in sight. Her tail wrapped around Adora’s leg as they walked further into the Cabin, two bedrooms both with large king sized beds. The one with the bay window that faced the lake was where they dropped their bags. Stepping back out into the main area she was shown the bathroom, the one place that did not look like a cabin. A large soaking tub and stand up shower with marble counters as well as a small window that allowed daylight to filter in.

“So...” Adora asked worried

“Amazing, so amazing. This is perfect” Catra said pulling her spouse down for a kiss

“How has it been almost three weeks already?” Adora asked softly as the fire crackled in front of them

“I don’t know, it has been the best three weeks though” Catra said handing Adora the stick with the marshmallow

“We can do this every year if you want” Adora offered before pulling the marshmallow off and feeding it to her

“Oh I would like that” Catra mumbled around the sticky sweet

“Good, a new tradition it is” Adora said as Catra grabbed their hand to lick their fingers clean

“Once we have kits can we bring them here as well?” Catra asked softly

“Yes love, I cannot wait for that” Adora said reaching over and pulling her from her seat and into their lap

“Whatcha doing?” Catra asked fixing how she was sitting so she now straddled Adora’s waist

“Holding my wife, and maybe practicing making those kits” Adora said winking

“Then take me to the bedroom Handsome, we have a lot of work to do” Catra said slipping her fingers into Adora’s loose hair as she ran her claws along their scalp

“Are you going to be a good kitty tonight?” Adora asked as they stood and began walking with Catra in their arms

“I am always your good kitty” Catra said softly nipping at Adora’s neck

“You are, now strap or fingers tonight?” Adora asked as they stepped into the cabin Swifty following close behind

“I want to ride you, I want to see your face” Catra said softly

“I can do that, but you have to do one thing for me” Adora said stepping into the bedroom and closing the door so Swifty could not come in “What is that?” Catra asked confused

“I want you to dig your claws into my chest. I want marks so deep that I have to put band aids on them” Adora asked standing in the middle of the room

“Are you sure? I can do a lot of damage” Catra asked nervously

“I am sure, no worse then your bite. You do not have to if you do not want to” Adora said truthfully

“No I do, I just wanted to make sure you were sure” Catra said softly as she wrapped her tail around Adora’s forearms

“As sure as I was the day I let you mark me as your mate” Adora said softly leaning over the bed to place Catra down

Catra blushed at the comment, she watched as Adora pulled back as they began to unbutton the button up shirt they wore. Allowing it to slide down their thick shoulders, Catra could not help but shiver at the sight in front of her. Since healing from surgery Adora had packed on more muscle, their chest was something of perfection with their pecs becoming more prominent every week. Realizing she was way over dressed she quickly began to shimmy out of the shorts she wore while yanking the tank top off. She had forgone wearing a bra while here as no one but Adora would see her and it allowed her to be ready for sex at any time.

“You are so beautiful” Adora said pulling the boxers off

“And you are fucking sexy. Have you noticed how much your pecs have grown?” Catra asked

“I have, I think if we got married even two weeks later my shirt wouldn’t have fit properly” Adora said chuckling as they grabbed the strap

“I wouldn’t complain, I do love the muscle you have my handsome sexy husband” Catra said testing the gender specific name today

“I like that today” Adora said softly

“Good to know, now which one did you choose?” Catra asked looking at the strap in Adora’s hand

“Oh that one” Catra said blushing

“Does my kitty not want this one?” Adora asked holding up the large strap

“Oh no I do. I just didn’t know you brought that one” Catra said rubbing her legs together

“Well we have only used it once before at home, and you really enjoyed it” Adora said sheepishly

“How can I not? It is ten inches long and five around. It fit as snuggly as your knot does. Mmm your knot” Catra said licking her lips

“Not until you go into heat again love” Adora said shaking their head as Catra pulled them down onto the bed

“Catra! Do you not want foreplay?” Adora asked confused as Catra straddled their hips

“I do but this is how I want it” Catra stated as she lined up the strap so she could rub against it

“You are a size queen” Adora said chuckling as Catra began to her hips

“I am, and I love every single size of your cock. Because it belongs to you my handsome man” Catra said softly as she could feel her arousal already dripping on the bed

Adora squirmed under her movements, the slow methodical movement of her hips always drove them insane. The practiced ease that Catra showed as she reached between them and lined the thick strap with her soaked core. A slowly decent was all it took for the claws to come out and begin to dig into Adora's chest. Adora gasped as Catra bottomed out, something with her anatomy allowed her to take the longest straps without issue while still being able to take fingers and feel the same. He claws dug in deeper as she began to move her hips, the feeling of her clit cubbing against the leather strap was already driving her insane. They had been having sex at least twice a day since getting to the cabin, and no matter how much they did it she wanted more.

"Touch me?" Adora groaned out

"Tail?" Catra countered

"Please" Adora moaned

Catra knew what Adora wanted, reaching her tail down she ran a soft pass of their clit before running it through their arousal before lipping inside. Adora was not expecting that, they had only tried it once before and they had loved it. The grasp of her thighs told Catra that Adora was enjoying the thrusting as she pulled her tail out once more. Going back to their clit the soft circles soon turned into hard fast motions. Adora's grip on her hips tightened as they began pounding into them. Lifting them with ease as Catra dug her claws in further, the stuttering of their hips told Catra they were close as she sped up as Adora screamed. Their body shook as they pulled her down on the cock before moving her hips so that their clit rubbed against the leather, that was all that Catra needed. A few more swipes and she was clenching around the strap, as her claws buried themself into Adora before she collapsed on top of them.

"Fucking hell, wow" Catra mumbled

"That was amazing" Adora agreed

“I never want to leave here” Catra said softly

“I know, me neither. I think we will need to practice more though” Adora said wiggling their eyebrows

“Deal, fuck you are really bleeding” Catra said worried

“It is fine, we will deal with it in a few minutes. Cuddles first” Adora said placing a kiss on her head as they held her tighter

Chapter 29

Five years later

“Are you sure?” Catra asked softly

“I am, are you?” Adora asked softly

“I am, I just worry that you will hate the child because they aren’t biologically yours” Catra said as she curled into Adora

“I could never hate our child. I knew years ago that a child would never be my genes but my wife's, and I am okay with that. Because to be a parent you do not need to be blood” Adora said softly

“It does also help that the donor looks like you just a male version” Catra stated

“I am glad we waited and were particular. No one will argue saying our child doesn’t look like a mix of both of us” Adora said kissing Catra lightly

“I love you” Catra said softly

“I love you to. Now sleep, school returns tomorrow” Adora said allowing sleep to take over

Catra had been hiding the symptoms, they had both been so excited when she went into heat at the beginning of November. Adora had dropped everything they were doing and ran to the sperm bank, returning with ten vials. They both didn’t know what to expect but as a month passed and then another they began to feel defeated. Then as though the world knew they were down it lifted her up, the puking began the day after they had sat down and talked about the next time. But here she was trying to puke as quietly as she could, she planned on telling Adora at dinner that night but what she had not heard was the door opening as a strong figure slipped behind her and began to rub her back.

“Did you eat something wrong?” Adora asked softly

“No, Adora what else would make me puke this early int he morning?” Catra asked softly

“I am not sure...Wait. Are you?” Adora asked their voice catching

“I am, I planned on telling you tonight. I guess magicats just take longer to show” Catra said softly as she flushed the toilet and looked at Adora’s smiling face

“We are having a baby” Adora said softly pulling Catra into their lap

“We are. We are having a baby” Catra said clinging to Adora as the tears of happiness began to run down her cheeks

“We have lots to do now! Oh names, Catra what are we going to name our kit?” Adora began

“I don’t know yet, but we will find a name for them. Oh they will be so loved” Catra said softly as Swifty slowly name her way into the room

“Were you keeping this secret from me to? Did you know momma was pregnant?” Adora asked as Swifty laid her head on Catra’s lap

“She seemed to know immediately, remember how she would not leave me be for a whole week? I think that is when it took hold, now every time I am puking she is there with me” Catra said petting her gently

“Why didn’t you tell me earlier?” Adora asked softly

“Because I was worried, I wanted to make sure it kept. I have taken ten tests and all say pregnant. I had a big plan to surprise you tonight at dinner. But I guess this is how you found out. I'm sorry it isn't as good as it should have been" Catra said burying her face in Adora's chest

"Oh Catra, you could have just thrown a test at me and said nothing and it would have been perfect. Because you are pregnant and we are having a baby. We are becoming the family that we both want, I am so happy. No more will you be sick alone, we go through this together my love" Adora said kissing the top of her head over and over

"I feel like a whale" Catra grumbled as she moved around the house

"You are beautiful" Adora countered

"A beautiful whale" Catra countered back

"You do not look like a whale, Catra you are eight and a half months pregnant. You are growing two little kits in your belly, I think you are beautiful" Adora said bending down and wrapping their arms under her ass and picking her up and placing her on the counter

"I know, but I feel ugly. My belly is massive, at least I am covered in fur so you can't see my stretch marks" Catra said shaking her head

"Hey now, don't get into your head baby. You a beautiful no matter what you look like. And those stretch marks you talk about make you even more beautiful because it means you created new life. Now how about I go out and get your favorite ice cream and we can sit and watch a movie?" Adora offered

"I would like that, can you get chocolate and chips as well?" Catra asked hopefully

"I get whatever you wish for my love, go put your feet up and snuggle with Swifty and Melog" Adora said helping her from the counter

“I sit down now Swifty won’t let you snuggle into me later” Catra said chuckling as she shuffled to the couch

“I know, her protectiveness of you has increased ten fold. She can’t wait to meet our kits. Now go relax, I will be back. Need you all rested for the baby shower tomorrow” Adora said placing a kiss on Catra’s head before slipping from the house

“How are you feeling momma?” The nurse asked

“Like a bloated whale, fuck” Catra grumbled as a contraction hit

“Is it time for me to come behind you?” Adora asked nervously

“If you do not come and hold me I will cut off your non existent penis” Catra grumbled as her tail flicked

“That isn’t a very scary threat” Adora chuckled as they slipped in behind her

“Oh” Catra said as she felt Adora’s strong arms wrap around her

“There we go, you calmed down quickly. Your heart was just racing but as soon Adora slipped in you calmed right down” The nurse stated as she watched the monitor

“Well what can I say? I am her stress ball” Adora joked

“And my idiot” Catra said shaking her head

“Fuck” Catra screamed digging her claws into Adora’s arm

“You are bleeding dear” The nurse said worried

“It is fine, I don’t even notice the claws anymore. If it makes he feel better then she can do it as much as she wanted” Adora said softly kissing the side of Catra’s head

Adora kept hold of Catra, reaching around so pull her harder against their chest. The contraction soon became one after another, the screams and thrashing of her tail were constant. Adora knew they would also be wearing new scars ones they would never complain about. The moment the screams of the first little kit pierced the room as the little kit was placed on her chest, Catra immediately grasped them before a kiss from Adora on the side of her head meant good job. Two minutes later one last contraction and push and there came the second kit. They had not planned on twins but sometimes with IVF multiples would happen, and she and Adora could not be happier. Adora soon slipped from behind Catra as the nurses began asking for signatures, returning a few minutes later they looked at the little male kit suckling away at Catra's breast. His fur was dark like Catra's with a a few lighter patches, while their female kit had blonde fur just like Adora's hair. Adora stared at her for a moment watcher her little tail going back and forth as she laid in a bassinet with her lip beginning to tremble.

"Oh do not cry my little one" Adora said softly reaching down to pick her up

"Trade?" Catra asked softly

"Come here little man" Adora said taking him from her arms before handing their daughter over

"You look amazing with two children in your arms" Catra said as their daughter latched

"As do you. Now are we still thinking the same names we decided on?" Adora asked softly

"Yes please. Little Fynn in your arms and little Mira here" Catra said running her finger along Mira's cheek

"Our family" Adora said rocking Fynn

"Our family, a family introduced me to six years ago" Catra said watching Adora blush

“A family I will protect with my life. Your momma and pappa love you both already so much” Adora said softly

“Is that the title you decided on?” Catra asked looking up at Adora

“It fits so much better then momma, or parent. I will be papa, if you are okay with that” Adora said coming to sit on her bedside

“Then papa welcome to our wonderful life now” Catra said her tail wrapping around Adora’s waist

Chapter 30

Five years after twins born

Catra watched the twins run around their backyard, it was their fifth birthday and they were obsessed with the puppy that ran around with them. Swifty had passed the year before, she had lived to thirteen and was loved to the very last moment. It was the hardest thing Adora had to do in years as they carried her to the car one last time while Catra and the twins watched from the window. But the little puppy that now ran around after the twins was healing a hole in their heart, the twins had been asking for over six months for a puppy as the had a missing piece in their heart. Adora finally gave in, they knew to was time to bring a new animal into their life. So there now ran a little mini Australian Sheppard all around the backyard.

"She loves it here" Catra said slipping beside Adora

"She does, and the twins decided her name name is princess. After She-ra and the princesses of power show they have been watching" Adora said chuckling

"Works well, that is not a bad name for a fluffy puppy like her" Catra said kissing their cheek

"Are you ready for all of our friends and our nieces and nephews?" Adora asked

"I am, are you?" Catra countered

"I am, lots of children hyped up on sugar. Always fun" Adora chuckled

"Papa?" Mira asked as she stopped in front of them

"Yes sweety?" Adora asked

"Fynn says I am funny looking" Mira said upset

“Why did he say that?” Adora asked pulling her into their lap

“He said that him and momma look like real magicat’s, because they have dark fur. And all pictures he has seen show a magicat with dark fur. Then I have blonde fur, so I look funny” Mira said burying her face against Adora’s chest

“Everyone has different hair and fur color, you are as much of a magicat as he is. He got momma’s dark fur, and you got my hair color. Now go tell him that he is stinky and mean. If he continues I will talk with him okay?” Adora said gently

“Thank you pappa” Mira said hugging Adora before running off

“You are taking me to bed tonight and pounding me into the bed” Catra said lowly

“Really now? Going to be my dirty kitty?” Adora asked smirking

“I am always your dirty kitty” Catra said wiggling her eyebrows as the doorbell rang

Ten years after twins birth

“Why are we going all the way out here to meet this person?” Catra asked confused

“I am not sure, they said to meet at the cabin. So this is where we are meeting. It is a nice night away from the twins” Adora said truthfully

“Yes it is, we don’t get many of those. Don’t get me wrong, I love our kits but just to have a night just me and you is lovely” Catra said placing her hand on Adora’s thigh

Adora smiled as they grabbed Catra’s hand and squeezed it, they had gotten a letter from a lawyer a week before stating they were to come to the lakeside cabin on this specific date. No other information or anything else, Adora found it odd as the people who owned it had passed away three months before. They had allowed them to stay every summer for a few weeks since their honeymoon, Adora had felt their heart drop knowing that they may never get to stay at the cabin after this again. Pulling into the gravel pathway they soon were stopping beside another car.

“You must be Adora and Catra, welcome” The lawyer stated

“Thank you, it is a lovely place isn’t it?” Adora said truthfully

“It is, and it is now yours” The lawyer stated

“Pardon me?” Catra said confused

“As you know the owners passed away three months before. They were childless and in their will they left the cabin and the surrounding land to you both. This means you have have inherited the cabin, the land it sits on as well as twenty acres, the boat dock and so on and so forth” The lawyer explained

“Wow okay, Catra? What do you think?” Adora asked

“I think it is perfect. The moment you brought me here I fell in love with it, I wished it was ours more times then I should have” Catra said her ears flattening

“Then it is ours. What paperwork do we need to sign?” Adora asked

“We shall step inside and begin?” The lawyer asked

“Lead the way” Adora said taking Catra’s hand

Fifteen years after twins were born

“Momma?” Mira asked

“Yes?” Catra countered lowering her book

“Can I ask you something? Fynn wanted to know to but he was to scared to ask” Mira stated

“Go get him and we will talk about it together. Do we need papa as well?” Catra asked

“It is about papa...” Mira stated

“Go get papa, we will not have a conversation about them without them” Catra stated

Catra watched as Mira nodded before slipping from the room, Mira and Fynn were complete opposites. Fynn was the quiet artistic one who loved to paint and play music, while his school marks were near perfect. His appearance was always well kept never a piece of fur out of line. Then there was Mira, she was the wild child, kind and compassionate but stood up for what she believed in. She was obsessed with the gym just like Adora, her fur was always clean and well kept but she did not care if it was out of line. Her long mane of hair slowly became shorter and shorter as she hit her teenage years. Adora and Catra had some ideas as to why but they allowed her to tell them on their own time.

“Everything okay?” Adora asked confused

“It is, our children have a question that Fynn was to nervous to ask so he sent Mira to ask” Catra said shaking her head

“Shift over love” Adora said as they picked her up and sat down before putting her back on their lap

“That was not shifting over” Catra said rolling her eyes

“It was to me” Adora said placing a kiss on the side of her head

“You two are cheesy” Fynn stated

“That is what happens when you are in love” Adora countered

“Oh okay” Fynn said nodding

“So what is it that you wanted to ask?” Catra said looking at Fynn

“I umm...” Fynn said nervously

“He wants to know why papa is called papa even though they are biologically female. And why does papa have those scars on their chest” Mira stated

“Mira!” Fynn said his ears flattening

“Fynn you are allowed to ask questions, we have never fully went into it but we have never kept thisaway from you two” Catra stated

“Can you tell us then momma?” Fynn asked hopefully

“I think papa should be the one to tell you okay? Listen and ask questions after” Catra stated

“Okay” Mira and Fynn stated together

“You know I do not like feminine terms, and that is why momma calls me her spouse or partner or mate. I am non-binary, I do not feel like I am either gender. I prefer neutral terms but in certain things I prefer male terms. So papa instead of parent or momma. Does that make sense?” Adora asked

“It does” Fynn said nodding his head

“I have the scars on my chest because to make myself more comfortable I have gender affirming surgery only a few months into knowing momma. It means I had my breasts removed so that I had a flat chest, it made me feel better about myself” Adora explained

“Oh okay, that makes sense. Why did you not tell us before?” Fynn asked

“Some things don’t need to be talked about until they come up, but I also needed you to be at a age that you would fully understand” Adora stated

“I understand. So does that mean if we loved anyone you both would be okay with it? If we were like you, you would be okay with it?” Mira asked nervously

“Yes, if you come out as a lesbian or gay. If you come out as non-binary or trans. We will love you. Because, love is what made this family. Love is what brought us together, love is never perfect. But love is what makes the world go round. We love you both no matter what, just like I love your mother with my whole heart” Adora said kissing Catra’s cheek

“I love you to, my handsome idiot. Your papa showed me love years ago, and will continue to show me love until the day we die. And we will show you both love no matter what” Catra said

Catra watched as the twins both came over and climbed onto the chair. They were big now but in a moment like this neither of them cared. Adora’s strong arms wrapped around their family, a family that started twenty-one years before. One they would never give up for anything, Catra looked at Adora as they placed a kiss on their forehead as she held onto those she so loved.
