Horde Control (1/2)

by Cory_Ross_Gave_Up

Summary

In 2010, The Horde managed to take complete control of Etheria and made its way to find other planets to conquer.

Gaining alliances, they took over Earth and various other planets, forcing anyone they see into submission.

Horde Prime managed to take over Heaven and Hell.

The Exterminators are able to roam Hell freely.

Etheria's Princesses have been enslaved.

Hell's Royalty has been slain.

Rebellions, riots, protests, ended within minutes.

They're stealing the freedom of the majority.

It seems nobody can stand up to them.

Until now.

Heavily based on Wolfenstein.

Brand New Day

It's too late.

There's nowhere to run.

Horde Prime took over Etheria and sought to destroy all who opposed him in his quest to conquer the Galaxy.

His Allies, V.I.L.E., helped him in his conquest.

Horde Prime was able to dethrone God and Lucifer, making him King of Heaven and Hell.

Billions are enslaved.

Millions were purged.

Thousands are dying.

Exterminators can roam Hell freely.

V.I.L.E. is changing History.

The Horde is stealing our future.

And the one Hero who can stop them, is named Blitz.

The Last of Hope

~~Flashback~~

Young Blitzo was shoved against a wall by his father, before wincing in pain.

"Blitz, you fuckin Faggot!" Buckzo was screaming furiously at his own son.

Blitz's stunts had performed weak compared to Fizzaroli, who was the Circus's main go.

"If you can't seem to make me money," Buckzo raised his hand above his head, ready to slap Blitz.

"Dad, wait!" Blitz had tears of sadness and fear in his eyes.

~~End of Flashback ~~

Blitz was shaken awake by his Commanding Officer: Chase Devineaux.

"Rise up, Imp, we've got a fish to fry. Quite literally."

Blitz was panting heavily, before looking outside of the spaceship.

They had arrived.

It was 2008.

The Horde was attacking Earth and trying to takeover the entire Galaxy.

They managed to get Exterminators to turn on God and they attacked Humans along with Imps.

At the moment, Hell was yet to be attacked, but Lucifer sent his Demons to Earth in order to help the Humans keep Earth free from the Horde.

But the Horde had managed to ally itself with V.I.L.E.

V.I.L.E. used its power to keep Earth's fighting forces at bay.

They were Traitors.

"Lieutenant Devineaux, Zim thinks this might dangerous."

That was their Pilot: Zim.

Zim was an Exile Irken, but he found his new refuge on Earth, and he didn't want to lose his new home.

Blitz's Unit had three other members.

But they three strangers to Blitz.

Blitz only knew Devineaux and Zim because the three had previously fought in a couple of battles together.

When they landed, they all grabbed rifles and walked out quietly.

"Now, listen, Men." Ordered Chase. "These weapons, Irken Technology given to us from Zim, shouldn't run out of ammo, but don't get cocky. They have bigger weaponry that we can't get our hands on."

With a gesture of his hand, Chase led his men into the Fright Zone.

~~Timeskip~~

The six of them had little to no trouble sneaking their way into Horde Prime's base, but Blitz couldn't stand not killing anyone of their enemies.

The six had to crawl in the air ducts to avoid being seen.

Chase put his hand in the air at one point when a couple of V.I.L.E. Guards were walking down the Hallway, before stopping.

"Merde." Chase breathed aloud, but only the other five could hear.

Just then, a man in robes walked into the Hallway and stopped infront of the Guards.

The man was clearly from Earth.

The Man then spoke Japanese.

"チームは彼女を安全な場所に移動しましたか?"

"はい、あなたの娘は無事です."

"良い。この魚は信用できないし、他の魚も信用できない。"

Then, all three of them walked away, before Chase breathed a sigh of relief, and the six of them crawled their way out of the vents.

When they reached an end, the all crawled out and continued their way to find Prime.

Just then, when everything was going well, they made a wrong turn, and pumped into a whole Platoon of Horde Soldiers.

Gun went blazing.

Chase managed to headshot six of them.

Zim blew up four of their heads.

But Blitz managed to mow down twenty of them.

The other three were promptly slaughtered within seconds.

After shooting who they could, they were running down the Hallway to their destination.

He had to know they were coming now.

And he would probably send all he could at them.

When the three remaining reached the door to where Horde Prime's throne was, Chase barked orders before strapping C4 on the door.

"Don't fuck up, Boys. We only got one hope at this."

The three took cover while the door exploded, before sprinting in.

The Throne Room was empty.

Before the three knew what to do, the room was filled with robots.

They fired at them, but their best weapons proved to be useless.

~~Timeskip~~

The three of them were shirtless and forced onto their knees by the Robots, when Horde Prime Himself walked in.

Horde Prime Looked up and down at the three.

"Look at whom the Earth Military sent to kill me." Horde Prime's laugh bounced across the room. "You know, when my Clone made his own Army, I thought it would be funny to take it over and turn him into nothing but another General."

Zim pulled against the robots who had his wrists and looked at Prime with fury in his eyes.

"Horde Prime, if you think your Horde can hold Zim, you better improve or your head will be on Zim's wall."

Horde Prime looked at Zim, not believing him.

"I shouldn't be surprised." Horde Smirked. "Zim: the infamous Defect. You were banned, right? Took yourself years to learn? Don't worry, your people will be wiped off the face of the Galaxy pretty soon."

Horde Prime then turned around and started laughing.

Blitz was pissed at Prime for insulting his friend.

"Hey, Fish Face, how about you go home and fuck your Mama?"

Horde Prime flinched before turning around and barking and Blitz.

"You miserable, ungrateful, shitty Imp! Don't you know you I am! I'm the leader of the Galactic Horde! I'm stronger than you! I'm perfect! Your kind is nothing but a joke! And I bet Lucifer is still bitching about losing his Daughter to Exterminators? But that two centuries ago! You should see the perfection in me when compared to that Clown!!!"

Horde Prime then looked at Chase.

"And are you the Leader of these Faggots?"

Chase remained calm when replying.

"You don't scare me. If you kill us, you will only make us Martyrs."

Horde Prime looked at Blitz and smiled.

"Tell you what, Imp. If you want to feel important, before I kill you, and enslave your kind, help me choose who gets to die."

Blitz was taken aback in fear and was disturbed.

Horde Prime barked again.

"Come on, Imp! The Human or the Irken? COME ON!"

"Zim volunteers!" Zim shouted.

Horde Prime then looked at Zim, amused.

"So you want to be a Martyr and volunteer? Fuck that! Robots, kill the Human."

"NO! NO! NO!" Blitz and Zim screamed at the top of their lungs.

Chase was forced on his stomach, before looking at Zim and Blitz, giving his last words.

"Blitz, Zim. You have to keep fighting."

Then, what Zim and Blitz saw, was absolutely terrifying, it would haunt them both for the rest of their lives.

After it was done, Horde Prime laughed.

"I hope you freaks enjoy dying. But you're not worth me watching it."

To that, Horde Prime left the room, leaving his Robots the kill Zim and Blitz.

But Blitz suddenly remembered the little bit of C4 he still had in his pocket.

When the Robot let go of his arm to cut his head off, Blitz pulled out the C4, placed it on the ground and set it off.

The shear force of it managed to send all of them back, and the Robots let go of the two.

They used that common to get up, grab their guns, and run out of the room in attempt to kill Horde Prime.

But Horde Prime was out of the Fright Zone when they got outside.

The two had to run to their ship and had to retreat.

Zim was working on the controls to fly.

Blitz was barking at him in fear with desperation.

"Come on, Man, fly, fly, fly!"

When the ship lifted off the ground they only flew for so long when an Enemy Ship flew in and shot their fuel tank.

The ship was about to explode.

"SHIT! SHIT! SHIT!"

They grabbed Parachutes and jumped out of the plane.

They both managed to open their Parachutes, but Blitz was close to the ship when it exploded, and part of his body caught fire.

Imps were normally fireproof, but Irken Ships had the capacity to burn them if they exploded.

Blitz chute was damaged and he fell down fast.

Zim screamed in fear as his last Friend fell in the night.

Blitz fell into a stream and hit his head upon impact.

He was alive but he was placed into a coma.

~~Timeskip~~

Upon washing up on shore, Blitz was thankfully found by a couple of Etherian Resistance Members, who took him back to their base while he healed.

But it would be over a decade before he was able to wake up.

Waking Up in a Different World

~~Flashback~~

Young Blitz had found a young Hellhound, before taking him to his Mother.

"Mommy! Mommy! Look what I found!" Blitz held the Hellhound to show his mother. "He's so cute! Can we keep him? Can we keep him?"

Before Blitz's Mother could talk, Buckzo came in and shoved her aside.

Buckzo was as drunk as ever.

"You found this little shit? Good. I'll skin him for a coat. Give him!"

Blitz's Mother tried to get between them, whilst Blitz tried to put the Hellhound behind his back.

"Buck, wait, I-!"

Buckzo cut off his wife with a hard slap, knocking her out cold.

"MAMA!"

Without thinking, Blitz dropped the Hellhound and ran to his Mother.

Buckzo didn't pay Blitz any attention as he grabbed the Hellhound and took him to the backyard.

The Hellhound cried and begged.

"Please, Sir! I just want my Mama!"

Blitz then heard the sound of a gunshot.

One that rang in his ears forever.

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz stirred as his eyes went open slowly.

He didn't know where he was, but he could tell he was in a bed.

The people in the room were frantic as it seemed many people were breaking in.

In a flash, dozens of Horde Soldiers came in and started shooting the people in the room.

Some were put in cuffs, then shot, most were just killed.

One walked over to the bed he was in.

"Looky here. An Imp."

The Horde Soldier was about to fire, when Blitz suddenly stood.

In a swift motion, Blitz kicked the Soldier in the crotch, ripped the gun from his hands, and mowed the Soldier down.

"Horde Scum." Blitz growled so hard, spit came from his mouth.

The other Soldiers shot at him, but he grabbed the now dead Soldier and used him as a Human Shield.

From behind his shield, he fired at all the Soldiers in the room.

Within seconds, they were all dead.

His gun was then out of ammo.

He dropped it and picked up another one.

Blitz ran outside to find the building he was in had a cloak that the Horde had broken through.

He had to get out of there and fast, but didn't know where to go.

Just then, there was a radio sound from inside.

Blitz ran right back in and answered.

"Guys, get out of there! The Horde found you." Came the southern sounding voice.

Blitz answered.

"Sorry, but it's a little too late for warnings."

"You!? Are a fuckin Horde Soldier? You won't get me or my Husband!"

"Listen, Lady, I just awoke from a very nasty feeling sleep, so I recommend you tell how to get the fuck out of here!"

"Wait, you're not a Horde Soldier?"

Blitz grew furious at being called such a thing.

"Bitch, I'm an Imp! The last time I checked, that Fish Fucker hated Imps. Listen, I killed all them. But they're likely going to send over re-enforcements."

"Okay, okay! We're hiding out in the Whispering Woods. Go straight behind the house your in for a couple of miles and you'll find a blinking red dot in a bush. Go down."

"Wait, that's not-."

Just then the radio went static and broke.

"FUCK! Okay. I gotta find that place."

Blitz went behind the house and ran straight into the Whispering Woods.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz had walked for an hour in the woods forward but couldn't find the hiding place.

Did she fuck with him?

When Blitz thought all hope was lost, he saw a blinking red dot and ran right towards it.

Then, in an instant, he was caught in a makeshift net.

Two smaller Imps then came out of the bushes, both brandishing rifles made in Hell.

Millie and Moxxie.

Moxxie spoke up.

"Sorry, Sir, we just wanted to make sure you were actually not in the Horde."

"Yeah, yeah, all's good. Now get me out of this fucker!"

Millie nodded before pulling out a knife and cutting the rope to free Blitz.

Blitz fell to the ground almost comically, before standing up and dusting himself off.

"Okay, look, I have precious time for this bullshit. We need to get to back to your base and contact my Unit."

Millie and Moxxie we're confused at first, before realization hit them hard.

Millie spoke first.

"Look, Mr..."

Blitz scoffed.

"Blitz."

"Mr. Blitz." Millie nodded. "Let's go to Razz's place. It's the only way to explain."

~~Timeskip~~

The three arrived at Razz's cabin and were sitting down at a table.

Millie started talking.

"The year is 2022."

Blitz was confused.

"2022?"

"You've been with the Etherian Resistance Base for 14 years."

"Shit! I gotta call Chief, get me back into fighting."

"No, no, no!" Said Razz. "No more fighting."

"What!?" Blitz thought it was blasphemy.

"The War is over."

Blitz looked at everyone like they were shitting him.

"No way it's over. Look at all this Horde walking around."

"They won!"

Blitz looked at the table like the world of hope melted behind him, before looking up.

"What about Hell? No way everyone is going to just give up sinning."

"They killed the King." Moxxie stated sadly. "It belongs to the Exterminators now. Only a couple Imps are on top and few Sinners. Everyone else is enslaved, oppressed, or being purged."

Blitz looked at the ground, realizing most of what he used to love was gone.

Blitz then raised his head, still filled with hope.

"Then I'll join this Resistance. We have to get going! Where's the rest of you?"

"We're all that's left." Moxxie looked at the table sadly. "Everyone else is dead or captured."

Blitz refused to give up.

"Then we'll get those who are captured. Where are they being held?"

Millie and Moxxie looked at each other before turning back to Blitz and Millie answered.

"They're located in the Stronghold they built in the Crimson Waste."

"What kind of people are held there?"

"The captured Princesses, what's left of the Royal Family, Irkens, Horde Defectors, and even a few Imps."

"Well, then we have to save them."

"We've tried before. But none of the men sent returned. They were slaughtered."

"Well, I've been gone for too long. We'll go in and free them. We'll start a revolution."

"Okay, but you're going to need some new clothes. I have some just in case. But there's a hundred percent chance we'll be slaughtered."

"Just walk it off."

Entering The Compound

"Here, Young Imp. I've got some clothes that should fit you."

Blitz and Razz were in another room of the cabin, whilst Razz was finding clothes Blitz could wear.

Blitz looked at himself in the mirror on the wall.

Horrified when he saw his face half covered with the White Burn Mark.

But Blitz knew he had to keep fighting.

They took too much from him.

His years, his home.

He would drop as many as he could before going down himself.

"Aaah, these should do."

Razz handed Blitz a pair of Black Pants, Black pants, a Button Up Shirt, and a Long, Black Trenchcoat.

"Just get changed and you three go start a revolution."

Blitz was surprised.

"Wait, you're not fighting with us?"

Razz looked at the ground and shook her head sadly.

"My home is here. I need to stay here and keep the last evidence of Mara's memory going."

Blitz was slightly annoyed.

"Look, Lady, I know you're upset with some past mistakes or something, but you can't just roll over and quit."

Razz looked Blitz with regret in her eyes.

"I already failed Mara."

Blitz saw the pure sadness in her eyes.

Eyes of a Broken Woman.

Blitz sighed.

"Okay. I'm sorry. But do what you can from your side of the tracks."

Razz nodded.

Razz then left, leaving Blitz to get changed.

~~Flashback~~

"Dad, I'm sorry. But I can't create better-ACK!!!"

Young Blitz was silenced when Buckzo slapped him across the face.

"Listen here, Tiny Shit. Do it for your old man! Your best needs to get better! This is an Unfair World! Imp has to hate the None-Imp to survive. Fizz is the son I never had. I only had a Little Faggot!"

Buckzo was about to slap Blitz again.

~~End of Flashback~~

Millie and Moxxie were getting the weapons ready.

Loading the rifles, sharpening the knives and axes, as well as readying the grenades.

Blitz then walked into the room, wearing his new Duds.

Millie whistled, impressed.

"You look awesome!"

"Yeah, I came her to look good and kill the Horde. But I haven't killed a Horde Soldier in about an hour."

Blitz then started picking up a couple of the weapons, placing them inside of his coat.

"Now, not saying that I don't trust you or anything, but I haven't learned your names yet."

"Oh I'm Moxxie and this my Wife: Millie."

Blitz then looked at Moxxie suspiciously.

Moxxie was confused now.

"Sir, why are you looking at me?" Moxxie asked, feeling annoyed.

"You sound like my old Comrade, Zim. Same sounding voice and everything."

Moxxie was even more confused.

"I'm sorry, but I don't have the slightest idea who that is. And maybe we should ask you some questions. After all, even though we've known you been alive for a couple of years, we don't know who you are."

Blitz was baffled.

"Well, I don't think I'd cut it out working for the Horde. Don't they purge the Imp Community now?"

"Well, a few have been able to get some kind of respect and power."

Blitz was getting even more pissed off now.

"Those fucking Sellouts! Every last one of them is a goddamn Traitor!"

Blitz paced around the room angrily, before resting his head on the wall.

"We've gotta start the Revolution if we want any hope." Blitz breathed out.

Millie scoffed.

"Well, Blitz, we've been doing all we could to avoid the chains holding the majority of Imps. We've done all we could do to start this Revolution for years. But Sinners and Humans? They've given up. You wanna know who runs Hell after Luci was killed? Valentino, Vox, and Velvet!"

"And Exterminators police the streets." Moxxie chimed in.

"Thanks, Sweetie." Millie gave Moxxie a warm smile, before turning back to Blitz. "And how many people do you think are willing to risk it all?"

Blitz stepped away from the wall and walked over to Millie and Moxxie confidently.

"We've gotta show them that it's possible." Blitz informed Millie with confidence. "We'll free our Resistance Brothers at the Horde Prison and then we'll send all those Horde Soldiers twenty feet under."

"Okay, well, that's hope." Millie said impressed. "But hope is a dangerous thing these days."

"Hope is only dangerous for the enemy. If you aren't afraid of them, they lose half of their potential leverage."

"Well... let's get going, now, huh?" Millie proclaimed with a chuckle.

Millie and Moxxie gave Razz a hug, Blitz shook her hand and thanked her, then the three of them gathered their things to leave the cabin.

~~Timeskip~~

For the next couple days, Blitz, Millie, and Moxxie walked through the Crimson Waste.

The Crimson Waste was dangerous enough.

Filled with Giant Snakes, Giant Spiders, and a few Cutthroats, but the Compound where the Prisoners were being held was even more dangerous.

When they arrived, they weren't too surprised to see that the Compound had Heavy Security.

There was a V.I.L.E. Guard at the Front Gate.

The three of them hid behind a nearby rock.

"How do you think we should sneak past the Guard?" Moxxie questioned. "We'll need his clearance after the door opens."

Blitz rolled his eyes and grabbed an axe, before walking towards the Guard.

Millie and Moxxie ducked, while Millie grew furious.

"Blitz, what are you doing?" Millie barked quietly. "Get back here, now!"

Blitz walked up to the Guard, who was startled upon seeing an armed Imp.

"This is a restricted area!" The Guard barked and raised his weapon. "Put the weapon down and-ACK!"

Blitz interrupted the Guard with a scoff and a swipe of his axe, while he cut the Guard's head clean off.

Blitz then grabbed his decapitated head and placed the eyes by the gate's scanner.

The Machine processed the Guard's eye and beeped.

"Clearance accepted." The Machine sounded off. "Enter."

The gate then opened.

Blitz dropped the Guard's head, turned to Millie and Moxxie, before gesturing them to enter.

Millie and Moxxie were impressed.

Millie looked at Moxxie and smiled, before running to enter with Blitz.

Moxxie sighed quietly. "Didn't have to show off like that."

Moxxie then ran in with them.

Escaping The Compound

Blitz, Millie, and Moxxie snuck down the Hallway, being careful not to attract too much attention.

After less than a minute of walking, the three came to the end of the current hallway.

The directions were right, left, or straight on.

"Millie, take left. Moxxie, take right. I'll go straight on. If you find the Prisoners, free them, we'll meet each other in the Prison Garage."

"Sir, does your pistol have a silencer on?"

Blitz pulled out his pistol, and sure enough, there was a silencer.

Blitz cocked his pistol and readied his axe.

"Don't worry, Mox." Blitz assured with a wave of dismissal. "I can handle myself. You two stay out of trouble until we meet again. Leave the trouble to me."

"Maybe we should stay out of trouble entirely?" Moxxie tried to suggest.

"What was that?" Blitz answered, pretending to be oblivious. "I should kill every Horde Soldier I can?"

"No, Sir, what I meant was maybe we should stay cautionary and-." Moxxie tried to say, before Blitz covered his mouth.

"Okay, let's split up, now, Moxxiferus." Suggested Blitz.

Moxxie scoffed in annoyance.

"Not even remotely my name."

"Okay, Moxxiferus Rex III Esquire." Blitz got in one last tease, making Moxxie groan in annoyance.

The three then went their way, looking for a source to find the Prisoners.

'Friends, if you are here, I promise I'll free you.' Blitz thought to himself.

Blitz walked down his Hallway, before hearing someone enter the Hallway from a room in the side.

Blitz shot her in the head, killing her instantly.

Blitz then continued walking until he came across a Break Room.

He looked through the doorway, seeing five Horde Soldiers and Three V.I.L.E. Guards in the room, having lunch.

Blitz smirked before walking in the room, startling the eight of them.

"Which of you Ladies and Gentlemen know where I can happen to find the Captured Resistance Fighters?" Blitz said with a calm demeanor.

The Horde Soldiers and the V.I.L.E. Guards picked up tasers and charged at Blitz.

Blitz chuckled as he shot the first V.I.L.E. Guard in the dick, causing him to fall on the side, screaming in agony.

Blitz then swiped his axe, cutting off both a Horde Soldier's and an V.I.L.E. Guard's head at the same time.

One of the Horde Soldiers managed to show Blitz on his back, but he sat up and shot her in the face, dead.

Blitz then rolled back to his feet, before swiping his axe, this time cutting both of a Horde Soldier's legs off, causing him to fall to the ground.

Another Horde Soldier tried to taze Blitz, but Blitz grabbed her arm, shoved her entire arm into the Break Room sink with the taser still on, then he turned on the sink and moved his hand away as the Horde Soldier was electrocuted to death.

Blitz then grabbed one of the other Horde Soldiers and smashed his entire face into the counter hard enough to break his helmet and tear open the front of his face, destroying his brain in the process, before Blitz let him fall to the ground.

The last Horde Soldier pulled out a rifle and was about to shoot Blitz, but Blitz, in a swift motion, used his axe to cut the Horde Soldier vertically in half.

After he was through, Blitz turned to the last two people alive: the dickless V.I.L.E. Guard and the Horde Soldier who couldn't walk anymore.

"Now, Gentlemen," Blitz stated before pointing his pistol at them before shouting. "The Resistance Fighters, where are they?"

The Horde Soldier without legs was breathing heavily before answering.

"Take a right turn down the Hallway, go straight down, it's the last room on the right. That's where you'll find the Defectors and other Resistance."

Blitz sighed happily. "See? Was that so hard?"

Blitz then laughed, before bowing at them.

"I bid you adieu." Blitz laughed before walking out of the Break Room.

The V.I.L.E. Guard and the Horde Soldier looked at the Break Room, now covered in the body parts of their former Colleagues.

The Horde Soldier looked at the V.I.L.E. Guard and crossed his arms.

"This is coming out of YOUR pay." The Horde Soldier said angrily.

The V.I.L.E. Guard then started crying into his hands.

Meanwhile, Blitz followed the directions, and sure enough, he found the room where they kept the Prisoners.

But in order to enter the room, there needed to be a fingerprint scan.

Blitz had an idea.

Blitz whistled, trying to get a Soldier's attention.

Then the door to the Prisoners opened and a Horde Soldier walked out.

"What the fu-ACK!" The Horde Soldier tried to get out before Blitz cut his head off and entered the room.

And Blitz saw a few people in the cells.

Presumably all the Resistance Fighters and Defectors that were left.

All Prisoners were wearing Orange Jumpsuits.

Then, a certain young man noticed Blitz entering the room, before he stood up and walked over to the glass door of his cell.

"Oh...my... gosh." The young man inhaled. "WE'RE FREE! THEY'VE COME TO SAVE US!"

Then, a certain feline woman walked over to the glass door of her cell and looked at Blitz from head to toe.

"I thought he'd be taller." Catra laughed.

The Prisoners consisted of Catra, Kyle, Sea Hawk, Lonnie, and Rogelio.

"Come on, Catra, he's our savior." Bow insisted from his cell right next to Catra, before looking at Blitz. "Thanks for coming to save us, Mr..."

Blitz sighed.

"I'm Blitz."

"Well, thank you, Mr. Blitz. I'm Bow. Before I was captured I was a great Archer."

Blitz looked impressed.

"An Archer? Well, that's cool. We need more talented people. After I free you guys, where are the Princesses?"

"Glimmer, Perfuma, Mermista are in the next cell room. Scorpia too, because she was in the Horde but she defected. There's also a couple of others that I don't know. That place houses people even more dangerous to the Horde. But there's an even bigger problem."

Blitz looked skeptical.

"What's the problem?"

"Only a Force Captain can open up our cells."

Blitz started pacing around angrily.

He didn't know that part.

Blitz then looked at Bow.

"Are there any here?" Blitz asked desperately.

"If there is one, you'll need them alive. Along with the fingerprints, the locks are voice activated. If I was you, I would look in the Force Captain Break Room. It's down the next Hall to the right."

Blitz nodded, before looking at the door.

"Okay." Blitz said with a nod, before looking at Bow. "I'll be back. Stay safe."

Blitz then ran out of the room, but stopped to pick up the dead Horde Soldier's rifle.

Blitz followed the directions and arrived at the Force Captain Break Room.

When he peered inside, he saw that the Horde Solders were surrounding a Blond Woman in a Force Captain Uniform.

Blitz guessed that they found the bodies.

"Force Captain Adora, by protocol, we have to take you out of here." One of the Horde Solders informed her.

"She's not going anywhere." Blitz informed the Horde Solders as he entered and readied his rifle.

Before the Horde Solders could ready their rifles, Blitz shot most of them dead.

Then, another Horde Soldier shoved into him, making him drop the rifle, but Blitz pulled out his axe and cut the Horde Soldier's arm off, leaving him to bleed out.

Blitz then pulled out his pistol and pointed it at Adora.

"You're coming with me." Blitz growled while looking her in the eyes.

Adora raised her hands in surrender.

"L-look, I'm not a Force Captain." Adora pleaded with a shaky breath. "If I wanted to, I could've killed you. But I'm not evil. I don't want Shadow Weaver mad at me!"

Blitz scoffed, before grabbing her arm and began dragging her back to the Prisoner Room.

As soon as Blitz got to the room, he saw that Millie and Moxxie managed to find the location too.

Millie was covered in blood.

Millie and Moxxie saw Blitz enter.

"So, you've got the Horde Soldier needed." Millie said with a nod of approval.

Catra then looked at Adora angrily.

"So how does it feel to be in the Horde, now, Adora?" Catra growled at her.

Kyle, Lonnie, and Rogelio also looked at Adora with murderous intent.

"I'm not truly in The Horde anymore, Catra." Adora pleaded. "I hate Shadow Weaver. Especially after what she did to you guys."

Blitz shoved Adora to the ground, right next to the control panel.

"Free them, Bitch, we don't have much time." Blitz shouted, before guarding the door.

Adora stood up on wobbling legs, walked over to the control panel, put her hand on the screen and spoke.

"Force Captain Adora, orders are to open the cells. Code: 10281992."

The machine beeped.

"Clearance accepted." The Machine sounded off. "Cell doors opening."

The cells all opened and everyone walked out.

Catra walked over to Adora and grabbed her by the arm, before dragging her over to the next cell room.

They all followed.

Catra shoved Adora over to the control panel to open the door into the maximum security cell room.

Adora was hesitant.

Blitz put his pistol to the back of her head.

"Open it." Blitz ordered coldly.

Adora started sobbing.

"Shadow Weaver is going to kill me." Adora sobbed and started wiping the tears off her face.

"Well, if you don't open the door, we'll kill you." Millie threatened, readying her gun towards Adora.

Adora cried harder, before putting her hand on the screen and speaking into the Machine.

"Force Captain Adora, orders are to open the door. Code: 08031988."

The Machine beeped.

"Clearance accepted." The Machine sounded. "The door is opening."

The door opened.

"Come on, it's open!" Kyle cried out before running in.

In a split second, the three V.I.L.E. Guards in the room shot Kyle dead.

"KYLE!!!" Lonnie cried in devastation.

Blitz grabbed Millie's rifle and shot all three Guards in the head.

Everyone ran into the room before anyone else came.

Sea Hawk, Bow, and Rogelio grabbed the three rifles that the dead Guards dropped.

Perfuma, Glimmer, Scorpia, and Mermista were excited upon seeing their friends coming to save them.

Rogelio, Catra, Lonnie, and Adora looked at their departed friend Kyle in devastation.

Blitz shoved Adora into the room quite roughly.

Blitz looked around and saw a switch.

'Open All The Cells.' Read the Sign over it.

"Well, that's convenient." Moxxie shrugged.

Catra ran over and pulled the switch and the cells opened.

Everyone poured out of their cells quickly.

Sea Hawk saw Mermista and ran over to hug her.

"Mermista! I haven't seen you in a-ACK!"

Sea Hawk was caught off when Mermista kicked him in the crotch.

"Yeah, it's good to see you too, Sea Hawk." Mermista scoffed.

Blitz was considering blasting Adora away, as in his mind she had outlived her usefulness, before someone got his attention.

"Holy fuck! Blitz, you're alive!"

Blitz thought he was hearing things before turning around and seeing it was true.

It was Zim.

Last time Blitz had seen Zim, he was 3ft tall, now he was at least 5'8" and had a couple more scars on his arms and face.

Blitz ignored everyone else and walked over to his friend, pulling him into a hug.

"Oh, thank Satan, I thought you were dead." Blitz cried into Zim's shoulder.

"I did too. Glad to see after over a decade."

After they broke the hug, someone else pulled Blitz's attention.

"Do my eyes deceive me? Is it actually you? Blitzo!" Cried out a happy voice.

Blitz was suddenly lifted a few feet in the air and was being hugged by a certain 11 foot tall Owl.

Blitz was beyond confused... and struggling to breathe until Stolas lessened his hug.

"Oh, Blitzo, I haven't seen you in years. How have you been?"

Millie and Moxxie started laughing.

"Didn't tell us you had a boyfriend." Moxxie laughed at the top of his lungs.

Blitz pushed his hand against Stolas's smiling face and tried to struggle free.

"I don't! I don't know this Owl!"

Stolas then set Blitz on the ground, his smile never leaving his face.

"It's me, Blitzo! It's Stolas! Remember? We met each when we were kids. We played Pirates and had a conversation under a tree."

Blitz stood up and dusted himself off.

"I'm sorry, but... I don't recall the interaction." Blitz admitted. "And the "o" is silent."

Stolas looked saddened, but kept his hope up.

"Well... I could never forget you." Said Stolas, before smiling slightly and pulling another owl over to him.

Octavia sighed slightly in embarrassment.

"Blitz, this is my Daughter, Octavia." Stolas introduced, smiling.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Blitz, but my dad is... "Out there."" Said Octavia. "He just just wants some comfort after my Mother sold us out and got a deal. That Bitch!"

Stolas hugged Octavia, trying to calm her down, but Octavia persisted.

"Stella hired the Exterminators who killed Charlie." Octavia growled under her breath. "My Cousin through friendship!"

Stolas rubbed the back of Octavia's head and calmed her down slightly.

"Octavia. Octavia, it's okay. It's not your fault." Stolas insisted, while comforting his Daughter.

Stolas then looked at Blitz with a warm smile.

"It's just... I'm happy to see you again, Blitz."

Just then, they realized there was someone who hadn't left their cell yet.

Zim was about to go to see why, but Blitz put his hand on Zim's shoulder, held him back, and went himself.

He found out that a tall, female Hellhound, who looked barely in her 20's was still in her cell, hugging her knees.

"Hey, excuse me?" Blitz talked softly. "What are you still doing here? We're here to save you."

"Fuck off, Bitch." Loona retorted under her breath. "I can't leave."

Blitz was baffled, but refused to leave her.

Blitz walked calmly over to Loona and held out his hand.

Loona looked at it and then to Blitz.

"I'm Blitz. What's your name?" Blitz asked with a warm smile.

Loona took his hand and stood up, sniffling.

"Loona."

Blitz calmly led Loona out of her cell.

"Loona? That sounds like such a cute name."

Blitz walked Loona to the rest of the group.

Adora tried to crawl away, but Glimmer got in her way and kicked her to the ground.

"Where are you going, Horde Soldier?" Glimmer growled at Adora.

"I...I can't stay here. Shadow Weaver will kill me."

Millie walked over and pulled out a knife.

"What makes you think WE won't." Millie questioned, before grabbing Adora's hair.

"No!" Exclaimed Catra, stopping Millie. "You can't!"

"And why's that?" Mermista questioned, getting in Catra's face.

Catra felt a drop of sweat roll down her forehead, before answering.

"We don't know the layout or where the ships are. Plus, a Force Captain Hostage will help us in the long run."

Blitz looked at Millie and nodded.

Millie sighed loudly, before letting go of Adora's hair.

Blitz handed Loona's hand over to Moxxie, leaving to interrogate Adora, while Loona started to crush Moxxie's hand.

Blitz grabbed Adora's hair, got in her face, pulled out a knife, and put the blade against her throat.

"Where's the spaceships?" Blitz demanded with a growl. "One that can fit all of us."

Adora felt her breath tremble, before she started crying.

Stolas sighed slightly.

He knew Blitz had a soft side, but his personal prejudice against Horde Soldiers blocked his empathy.

Stolas kissed his Daughter on her forehead before stepping over and putting his hand on Blitz's shoulder.

"Blitz, let me handle this." Stolas suggested with a smile.

Blitz shrugged and stepped aside.

Blitz offered Stolas the knife but Stolas smiled and shook his head, before getting down on one knee, then grabbed Adora by her shoulders, gently.

Adora rarely felt this kind of gentleness.

"Young lady, it's time for us to leave." Stolas said, his tone stern but gentle. "But we're unable to do that without a ship. I could've teleported us out, but the ration bars given to us as food were laced with a substance that numbs our powers for hours."

Adora looked up.

"I can't let fuckin Shadow Weaver beat me again." Adora started quietly, before raising her voice. "I can't fuckin let Shadow Weaver beat me again! I CAN'T LET SHADOW WEAVER FUCKING BEAT ME AGAIN!!!"

Stolas helped calm Adora down with a hug, causing Adora to be stunned, while Stolas rubbed her back with the palm of his hand gently.

Shadow Weaver, her mother figure, never hugged her.

Stolas asked again.

"Where are the ships?"

Adora sniffled, but answered.

"They're on the roof, third floor, the stairs are to the right, all the way down the hall, make a left, we find the staircase that leads us right to them. But they're guarded heavily."

Stolas turned to Blitz and nodded.

Blitz clapped his hands.

"Alright, Gang, those with weapons to the front, everyone else stay in the back."

Catra took Adora from Stolas, pulled out the handcuffs that she looted from one of the Guards, and cuffed her, keeping her and herself to the back as they all left the room.

While walking down the hall, they saw a dozen or so Horde Soldiers and three V.I.L.E. Guards running at them.

Millie, Moxxie, Blitz, Rogelio, Bow, and Sea Hawk fires their weapons at them, killing all the Guards.

And throughout their entire way, they killed all the Guards and Soldiers who stood between them and freedom.

When they arrived at the stairs, Blitz took the lead and ran up to make sure they had a clear passage.

After making sure that the coast was clear, they were met with the door to the ships.

Rogelio opened the door and ran through, only to be blasted away by dozens of Horde Soldiers.

"ROGELIO, NO!!!" Lonnie cried out in devastation.

"Fuck." Blitz muttered to himself, before remembering that they had grenades.

Blitz pulled the ones he had on him and threw them outside, managing to blow up half of the Horde Soldiers.

While the other Soldiers were taken aback in surprise, Blitz, Millie and Moxxie took that time to shoot those who remained.

The group then ran to the ship that was big enough for all of them.

It thankfully had the back open and they all fled inside, while Catra dragged Adora in.

Zim ran to start the ship.

Before starting it, Zim pulled out the transponder, opened a window, and threw it out, before closing the window.

After everyone sat down, the door was closed and they started to fly.

No Horde Soldiers came to shoot them, because most of them were dead.

Zim flew the ship into space, with the course set to Earth.

Zim set it to autopilot before the Irken leaned back and breathed out in relief.

After a few minutes of silence, Blitz stood up and clapped his hands.

"So, I bet you're all wondering why I freed you all. It wasn't for no reason."

Scorpia raised her hand.

"Is it because we were enemies to the Horde?" She suggested.

"Why, yes. Good answer. But it's only half of the answer. We're going to start a revolution!"

Everyone else looked at each other either in surprise or like Blitz was daft.

Glimmer was the first to speak up about that.

"So let me get this straight. You want us to fight for the freedom of people who left us to rot in a Prison? Some of us for most of our lives."

Blitz took a moment and shrugged.

"Pretty much. I mean, we need to stop the Horde before it's too late."

"Too late?" Mermista started, bitterly. "Too late? It's too late to save Frosta, she died at three years old. It's too late for all Etherian Queens, who were executed."

"Most of Hell's Royalty is dead." Octavia reminded Blitz.

"There's no more FBI, ATF, D.H.O.R.K.S. CIA, ACME, Swollen Eyeball Network, or NSA." Loona brought up shyly.

"Irk is completely enslaved." Zim said from the Driver Seat. "And the Tallests are dead."

"They sterilize the homosexuals and the mentally ill." Lonnie scoffed loudly.

"How do you plan on undoing that?" Glimmer demanded, skeptically.

Blitz looked at the ground sadly, before looking at all of them.

"We can't undo the tragedies. But we can try to stop them from continuing and make those responsible pay."

Blitz then looked at Glimmer in the eyes.

"If we all just give up, surrender, roll over and die, they will officially win! Hope. Hope is their true enemy. Even if we die while fighting, we only truly lose if the future generations run out of hope."

Everyone then looked at each other.

Blitz continued.

"So are we gonna let hope die and do nothing? Fuck that! We gotta fight the powers that are if we want a real chance."

Blitz then looked at where Zim was.

"Where should we go?"

"Don't worry. I know a place." Zim assured Blitz.

~~Meanwhile~~

At this point, Horde Prime had heard of the Prison Outbreak and was losing his cool in his throne room.

Dozens of his own men were on the ground with their necks snapped.

Horde Prime currently had another Horde Soldier's head in his hands and was ready to break his neck.

Before he could, his Second in Command, his Lovers, Shadow Weaver entered.

"My Lord, it seems that they took my Adora as a Hostage." Shadow Weaver stated, not showing any signs of worry.

Shadow Weaver didn't even seem to mind the dead Soldiers on the ground.

Horde Prime looked at Shadow Weaver with anger.

"Who broke them out?" Horde Prime growled under his breath.

"Our Witnesses and Security Cameras show it was an Imp. The same one who escaped from you 14 years ago." Shadow Weaver responded.

Horde Prime shouted in anger and crushed the head of the Soldier trapped in his hands.

"FUCK! I SHOULD'VE KILLED THAT FUCKIN IMP! NOW HE'S BACK! HOW DARE HE TRY TO LEAD A REVOLUTION AGAINST ME!? ME! I'M THE RULER OF ALL THE GALAXY!"

Horde Prime stomped over to his throne and sat down.

Shadow Weaver walked over to him and put her hands on his shoulders.

"My Love, My Lord, don't let this ungrateful Imp anger you." Shadow Weaver whispered into his ear seductively. "You're the strongest being in all existence. That Bitch Angella was nothing to you."

Horde Prime grew filled with lust upon the praise Shadow Weaver gave him.

Shadow Weaver put her hand on his lap and started rubbing seductively, causing Horde Prime to shake uncontrollably.

"I see you are enjoying this." Shadow Weaver stated, amused.

Safe Haven

~~Flashback~~

Young Blitz was grabbed by the throat and lifted up in the air.

"The stole the shit from the Goetias WITH the little Retarded Goetia!?" Buckzo barked at his Son furiously.

"B-b-but he didn't expect a thi-!!!"

Buckzo threw Young Blitz across the room.

"Boy, I thought you proved your worth when you brought me the Hellhound, but you keep FUCKING UP!!!"

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz was shaken awake by the shoulder gently from Moxxie.

"Sir, the Alien Guy said we've arrived."

Blitz sat up and rubbed his eyes.

"Okay, Everyone, the ship is landing." Zim spoke into the speaker of the ship.

The ship then landed gently on an Island.

Everyone got off the ship.

Blitz then was taken aback by the building they saw.

V.I.L.E. Academy.

Zim was about to go inside, but Blitz grabbed his shoulder.

"Zim, what the fuck, Man? What the fuck are we doing at our enemy's front door?"

Zim rolled his eyes.

"Just come on." Zim sighed drastically.

Blitz was hesitant, but he walked alongside Zim.

The rest followed.

Blitz noticed how everything seemed quiet.

As soon as they entered, Zim motioned for them to follow him to the underground of the facility.

As soon as they were underground, everyone was taken aback by surprise.

The remaining Resistance.

The entire lower level of the facility had Anti-V.I.L.E. and Anti-Horde posters everywhere.

Blitz looked around in disbelief, before Stolas stepped forward.

"How is this possible?" Stolas exclaimed. "We are in V.I.L.E. Academy itself."

Zim chuckled.

"They left this place as soon as they took over the world. They took all the hard drives and anything else they consider valuable, but they left this place here. They wouldn't believe it if they thought the last of us were nesting where they used to live."

Blitz was amazed.

"It's good to know V.I.L.E. is still really, really stupid."

Just then, a familiar woman walked over.

Blitz couldn't believe his eyes.

"Well, well, well, we've been hearing news about someone causing chaos for the Horde. Should've known it was you from the start, Old Friend."

Blitz stepped forward and pulled Chief in a hug.

"Chief, it is so good to see familiar faces that survived the fuckin Horde."

Blitz then let go of Chief and looked at her with a smile.

Chief smiled back.

"It's also great to know you saved Zim from the clutches of the Horde."

Blitz shrugged, switching his smile to a smirk.

"Well, it hasn't been all marshmallows and chocolate. I was burned and fell into a 14 year coma. You?"

Chief scoffed with a smirk, before answering.

"I lost my Agency and am now on V.I.L.E.'s Most Wanted List, my Agents are now either dead or their Servants, oh, and we don't have the good kind of coffee here."

"Woke up to almost being killed, in a world I don't know, and I'm having flashbacks to my shitty, shitty Dad." Blitz retorted with a smirk.

Chief sighed happily and crossed her arms.

"God, I've missed you, Blitz."

Just then, a pale six foot tall Blonde with Black Pants, Black Skate Shoes, a White Button Up T-Shirt, a Red Button Up Vest, a Black Bowtie, eyes of Red Irises, Black Nail Polish, a Correction Officer's Belt with a Revolver in the Holster, a Black Digital Watch, a Black Loop Earing on his left ear, Black Eyeliner, A Pants Chain, a

Correction Officer's Badge on the left side of his Vest, and a Black Fabric Mask covering the lower half of his face came running toward them.

"Zim, Zim, my Man!" The Young Man exclaimed excitedly.

Zim held his arms wide open and caught his friend in his arms, embracing him with a hug.

"C.M., it's great to see you, Man." Zim exclaimed happily. "Glad the place is still standing."

Zim and C.M. broke the hug after a minute and C.M. then noticed Blitz in front of the crowd of new people.

"Woah, Holy Shit!" C.M. Exclaimed, walking towards Blitz. "You're him, ain't you? I've tapped into the V.I.L.E. frequencies and you fit the description of the Imp causing them all the carnage."

Blitz looked at C.M., noticing the Prison Tattoos on his forearms.

Blitz shrugged, then extending his hand.

"It's Blitz. Nice to meet you."

C.M. took it and shook his hand firmly.

C.M. then noticed Stolas, who smiled at C.M., causing him to jump back in surprise.

Everyone was shocked at his sudden reaction, before Zim got between C.M. and Stolas.

"Sorry, but my friend here gets nervous when discussing Hell's Royalty and also seems to hold a grudge against them. Don't worry, I'll handle it." Zim explained, before wrapping an arm around C.M. and leading him away from the group, calmly.

Chief then looked at everyone else.

"Make yourselves at home. Some of you might have to share a room, but we have plenty. And we have working showers as well as washing machines and dryers.

Chief then noticed Adora, still in handcuffs, before scoffing at her.

"Take that Horde Soldier over to one of the cells here. We won't kill her, but she's not going to be walking around happily."

Catra was about to walk Adora away, before Chief raised a hand to temporarily stop her, then Chief got in Adora's face.

"Sooner or later, you'll see that the Horde and V.I.L.E. are not your friends." Chief then stopped out of the way, allowing Catra to take Adora away. "I can't believe it. A Horde Soldier as my Prisoner once again."

Adora called behind her desperately, but Catra still dragged her until they found the cells.

"No, no! I'm not a Horde Soldier! I hate those people!" Adora tried calling desperately.

Chief looked back to Blitz.

"Now, Blitz, we need to talk."

Glimmer stepped up, along with Bow.

"We're coming too." Glimmer announced.

Stolas stepped up as well.

Chief shrugged.

"Just don't interfere in what we're going to discuss." Chief informed them with a stern expression.

With that, they all walked with Chief.

After a couple of minutes and walking a few flights of stairs, they wounded up in Professor Maelstrom's former Office.

Waiting there were the other Councilmen of that Resistance Groups.

Player: The Hacker.

Entrapta: Who built new machinery to help their war effort.

Shadowsan: The most famous of the Defectors.

And Gir: Not one of the Councilmen, but was just waiting for Zim.

Glimmer and Bow ran towards Entrapta.

"Entrapta!? Oh my goodness! You're alive!?"

Entrapta smiled nervously.

"Yes?"

Blitz then recognized Shadowsan as one of the former members of V.I.L.E. Faculty, before tackling him to the ground and putting both hands on his neck.

Blitz wasn't yet aware that Shadowsan was on their side.

Chief put her hand on Blitz's shoulder and pulled him off of Shadowsan.

"Blitz. Blitz, no! This is Shadowsan! He used to be V.I.L.E. but now he's with us!"

Blitz took in a few breaths and stood up off of Shadowsan, before noticing someone was pointing a rifle at him.

It was a Redheaded Hispanic girl who seemed to be in her early 20's, wearing a Black T-Shirt, a Red Jacket, Black Pants, Red Skate Shoes, and a Golden Triangle Necklace.

Shadowsan stood up and looked at her sternly.

"Carmen, put down the rifle. I'm alright."

Carmen nodded and set the rifle on the floor, before running over and hugging her Father Figure.

Shadowsan returned the hug, then looked at Blitz.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Blitz, but it happens a lot. And I apologize for my Daughter. She gets really nervous around new people."

Blitz looked at Carmen with sympathy and nodded.

Zim then walked in the room, Wearing Dark Purple Skate Shoes, a Dark Purple Hoodie, and Black Pants.

Gir cried out with joy as he ran into Zim's arms.

"MASSAH! AH MISSED YOU SO MUCH!!!"

Zim chuckled nervously and hugged Gir.

"Gir, you don't have to call me Master anymore. And I've only been good a few months."

Entrapta then ran over to Blitz and started to examine him.

"Oh, hi, are you Blitz? It's nice to meet you, I'm Entrapta! How did you get those scars? Tell me everything!"

Player then clapped his hands, grabbing everyone's attention.

"Listen, I know we're all happy about being free, but we've got bigger problems."

Shadowsan nodded and broke the hug, before looking at Carmen.

"Carmen, go talk to C.M. We're about to discuss business matters. Besides, I know you are still trying to learn how to play Guitar."

Carmen smiled, nodded, and ran over to find C.M.

Blitz looked at Player, ready to laugh.

"Really, Chief? You're hiring kids?"

Chief sighed.

"When the whole Galaxy is against you, you need to find who you can. Besides, Player is the best Hacker in the world."

Blitz looked at Player skeptically.

"I'll believe it when I see it."

"Enough, we have more important things." Chief snapped, before tapping her hand on the desk that held a series of computers and monitors.

Player typed into his keyboard and the faces of V.I.L.E Academy were on the screens.

"Zim called me on your way here and said you were planning a Revolution. But first, we need to liberate Earth from V.I.L.E. Ironically, they should be the easiest to get rid of. But we don't know their locations yet."

Blitz stepped forward and looked at the screens.

"When you get the locations, I'll assassinate all of these traitorous Bastards. When do I start?"

Chief looked at Blitz, admiring his enthusiasm.

"Well, we'll keep you posted. But for now, get some rest. You've earned it. We just wanted you to know who your targets were."

Blitz nodded and walked out to find where to call his room.

Stolas followed and walked beside him.

"So, Blitz, it's so great to see you again. And now we're on a paradise island together. Isn't this wonderful?"

"We're only here until we liberate Earth and use it as a base to liberate the rest of the galaxy."

Stolas then looked at his hands, while fidgeting with them, before raising his head and looking at Blitz.

"Wanna bunk together? I mean you'd make a great roommate. And last time I checked, we've got so much in common."

Blitz scoffed and looked away.

"If I say "yes," will you let me sleep?"

Stolas's expression became filled with joy.

~~Timeskip~~

Stolas and Blitz found an empty room with two beds and claimed it.

That night, when they were getting ready for bed, Stolas was nervous, but had a request.

"Maybe we can share a bed? I used to cuddle Via at night when she couldn't sleep in that cold cell. So I've gotten quite used to sleeping in a bed... for warmth."

Blitz sighed, annoyed.

"I've slept alone in a bed, in a coma, for 14 years. I don't need a cuddle buddy."

"Can we do it?!?" Stolas blurted out, before it was too late, then covered his mouth, ashamed at himself.

Blitz turned around and looked at Stolas, completely baffled.

Stolas then tried to explain himself.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I don't know what came over me. It's just approximately a couple of decades since I... Let's just forget about the whole thing, okay? Okay!!!"

Stolas then looked at Blitz with eyes of desperation.

Desperation for forgiveness.

Blitz looked at Stolas, then to his bed, then back to Stolas.

He wanted to say something else, but a part of his body that controlled most of his wanted to say something different.

"Okay, sure." Blitz sighed, annoyed, wondering why he said yes. "But just this once!"

Stolas's eyes went wide and for a moment, he looked like his dream came true.

That night, while the rocket went flying, Blitz couldn't deny that being close to Stolas felt... nice.

Not just because the train went into the tunnel, but like the room and the atmosphere was filled with... love, affection, and compassion that seemed to have been denied to him for far too long.

How To Find Evil

Blitz was awoken by a furry hand on his shoulder, shaking him awake.

Blitz stirred as his eyes opened slightly, before noticing Loona was standing there and he sat up, fully awake.

"Loona, what are you doing in here?" Blitz exclaimed with urgency in his shocked voice.

Blitz was thankful that there was a blanket covering his and Stolas's lower bodies.

"I-I was looking for you last night. I ended up falling asleep by the Jail Cells, before Adora screamed at me, waking me up."

Blitz sighed, yawned, and rubbed his eyes.

He then noticed that Loona was wearing Black Jeans that were ripped at the knees so bad that they became shorts, a Black Hoodie that was also ripped up, and Black Sleeveless Gloves.

Her hair also was more Gothic than how it looked before.

"Uhm...wear did you get those clothes?"

"I got them from C.M.'s dresser. They were a little too small, so I used my claws to rip them up so they could fit me. C.M. found out, but instead of getting mad, he gifted me with the gloves and he cut my hair for me."

Blitz smiled.

"Well, that was nice of him. And I don't mean to sound rude, but what are you in here for?"

"I... I wanted to see if we could get breakfast together. I... just wanted to thank you for not leaving me."

Blitz nodded warmly.

"Of course. Just let me get dressed first."

"Okay." Loona responded.

After a few moments of silence, Loona was still standing there.

"But... that requires you to..."

"Oh, right. I'm sorry." Loona replied before running out of the room.

Blitz got dressed, before looking at Stolas.

Blitz sighed to himself, leaned in, and kissed the sleeping Goetia on the forehead.

Blitz then ran out of the room and saw Loona waiting for him by the door.

Loona and Blitz walked into the cafeteria and grabbed some breakfast.

They sat down at a table together and started eating.

Loona was about to eat her second spoonful of eggs, before setting her spoon down, and sighing.

"Thank you."

Blitz was pulled out of his thoughts and looked at Loona, confused.

"You're welcome, Loona. I mean, I wasn't just going to leave you there. You deserve a shot at life and a purpose too."

Loona looked at Blitz with distress in her eyes.

"That's not what the Hellhound Orphanage believed before they abused me and said I wouldn't amount to anything in Horde Prime's "perfect" world."

Blitz put down his spoon and reached his hand across, before holding Loona's hand.

"I'm sorry you had to go through all of that. But it's alright now. You're safe."

Loona started to sob.

"Hellhounds are never safe!"

Blitz flinched slightly, but refused to pull his hand away.

Loona grabbed Blitz's hand with both of hers and held it close to her forehead as she sat there crying.

"The Exterminators killed my parents in front of me. They took me to the Hellhound Orphanage as nothing more than a Pet. If you think Imps have it worse, Hellhounds, even before the Horde won, were skinned alive, enslaved, or treated like fourth class citizens."

Blitz reached his other hand across the table and started wiping away Loona's tears from her face.

"How did you end up at the Horde Prison?"

Loona sniffled, before nodding and answering.

"I clawed out the Caretaker's throat. He was a fuckin pedophile. And I refused to surrender, even when the Horde Soldiers and the Exterminators came in. Reportedly I killed 20 of them before they pinned me down and threw me in that cold, filthy prison cell. I was lucky, because most people would've been killed on the spot, but either they wanted it to be a long, slow payback or they wanted to show Horde Prime's bullshit mercy. I was there for eight years before you saved me."

Blitz felt hurt at what she went through.

Yet, there were parts of the story that he could relate to.

Blitz let go temporarily of Loona's hands, causing her to be confused, before he got up, walked to her side of the table, and pulled her into a hug.

Loona's eyes went wide, before she started sobbing again, and pulled Blitz in for a tighter hug.

"Loona, I won't let you see anything like that again. I'm going to keep you safe. When we liberate the world, you'll see and you'll know that you'll have a bright future."

Loona sobbed into Blitz's shoulder and nodded.

After a few minutes, Bow ran towards them, interrupting the hug.

"I'm sorry, Guys, but I have to interrupt your heartwarming, cute, adorable, wholesome, fluffy, sweet-."

"Okay, please let us know what you were going to say." Blitz interrupted, before he and Loona broke the hug.

Bow was wearing a Red Hoodie, Blue Jeans, a White T-Shirt with a Heart, and White Sneakers.

"Right, so that one Lady asked me to find you. They're interrogating the Horde Soldier."

Blitz sighed.

"Alright." Blitz turned to Loona with a warm smile. "Loona, I've gotta go and handle this, but we can continue this discussion, later."

Loona nodded, before smiling shyly.

"Okay."

Blitz then then walked with Bow to Professor Maelstrom's Old Office.

Blitz looked at the clothes Bow was wearing, before speaking.

"Did you get those from C.M.'s room too?"

"What? These? No, I ravaged them from the big closet they keep spare clothes in."

Blitz's focus returned to walking, before he asked a personal question.

"Why did you join the Resistance?"

Bow didn't hesitate to answer.

"When I was a kid, they killed both of my Dads in front of me. The Horde tried to breed me into a Horde Soldier, but I already knew how to use a bow, so I found one and killed a few of them. They threw me into the Defector Portion of the Prison. I'll never forgive the Horde for that."

Blitz nodded in respect.

After a few more seconds, they arrived and Blitz opened the door.

He heard Adora screaming as they entered.

They saw that Glimmer was holding Adora's arm against the table while Chief was hitting Adora's hand with a hammer.

"You gonna talk now, Horde Soldier? You still got nine more!"

"I'M NOT A HORDE SOLDIER! I DON'T KNOW THE LOCATION OF THE V.I.L.E. FACULTY! MY HAND HURTS."

"It's gonna get worse before it gets better, Horde Soldier!" Glimmer barked at Adora.

"Woah, woah, woah." Blitz pulled them out of their thoughts as he walked over. "Are we trying to interrogate her or kill her?"

Chief set the hammer down and Glimmer let go of Adora's arm.

Adora pulled her hand free and held it to her chest as she cried in pain.

"This Horde Scum isn't telling us where the V.I.L.E. Faculty is." Glimmer scoffed.

"And she can't if she bleeds out to death."

"Why are you worrying? Yesterday you were seconds away from blowing her head off."

"Well... maybe I think we might need her for a while longer."

Blitz walked over and extended his hand to Adora, who winced upon the action.

Blitz looked at Adora sympathetically.

He didn't see it before, but he saw something else when Adora was afraid.

He saw a small, fragile Child, hiding in a corner, trying to avoid another beating.

Blitz softened his tone.

"Adora, let me see your hand."

Adora looked at Blitz in surprise, as he was the only person to call her by her name since she arrived.

Adora slowly gave Blitz her hand, wincing in pain as he examined her broken finger.

"Hold on to something."

Adora didn't know what he meant, before Blitz relocated her broken finger in place and she screamed bloody murder.

Adora pulled away her hand and started panting in pain.

Blitz softly put his hand on Adora's shoulder.

"Adora, you're going to have to tell us where we can find the V.I.L.E. Faculty."

"I don't fuckin know where they are."

Blitz kept his cool.

"Okay, very well. Do you know WHO we could find that might now their current locations?"

Adora hesitated.

These were the people who kept her captured trying to go after the people who kept her as a Horde Slave.

Either way, she felt trapped.

"If I tell you... she will kill me."

"No she won't." Blitz promised. "Who is she."

Adora whispered the answer, but the room was so quiet that everyone could hear it.

"Stella Goetia. She's staying at the Buckzo Family Hotel in New York City."

Blitz flinched for two reasons.

"Stella Goetia? And... Buckzo?"

"Y-yes. Stella Goetia: the one who sold out Stolas and her own Daughter. She's the face of what happens when you give into the Horde. And Buckzo: most likely the only Imp who sold out other Imp locations and his Hellhound Neighbors. He was awarded handsomely."

Blitz grew angry, before grabbing Adora by the arm and dragging her out of the room.

The others followed.

Adora could feel her own heart pounding against her throat and she started sobbing.

"Oh shit! Oh shit! I knew it. I knew it! You're going to kill me!"

Blitz found Zim in the Hallway and stopped dragging Adora.

"Blitz, what the fu-!?"

"Zim, we're going to the Big Apple to find the Buckzo Family Hotel. And we're dropping Adora off on the way."

"Wait, what?" Adora exclaimed.

"I'm not gonna kill you, so because you've helped us, we're letting you go. But don't tell anyone where you were!"

"No, no! You can't do that!"

"Why not? I thought you wanted to be free."

"If I return, I'm more fucked than you could ever be!"

"So?" Glimmer scoffed.

"So I am one of you now!" Adora stated firmly.

"What!?" Glimmer exclaimed.

"I'll clean, I'll cook. Just don't abandon me like that! If they know I was captured, they'd kill me!"

"And how's that our problem, Horde Soldier?"

"Hold on, hold on." Chief interrupted and stood between them. "The thought of having a Horde Soldier obeying my every whim? It's perfect."

"But she'll stab us in the back any chance she gets."

"Now, we'll wait and see." Blitz said. "She hasn't proved not useful yet.

Adora was grateful.

"Thank you! Thank you! You will not regret this!"

Chief sighed.

"Already regretting this now."

Adora was about to remove her Horde Badge, but Glimmer grabbed her wrist to stop her.

"Keep that on. You can take it off when you've proven yourself, Horde Soldier.

Blitz turned to Zim.

"We still need to go to the Hotel. We get to kill a Traitor AND learn the locations."

Zim nodded.

"Alright." Zim turned to Chief. "Chief, ask C.M. to look after Gir while I'm gone."

Stella

Zim was piloting a smaller spaceship that the Resistance had managed to remove the tracking devices from.

They were landing on top of the Buckzo Family Hotel.

Blitz decided to bring Bow with him.

Millie and Moxxie were tough, but Bow was stealthy, and Blitz knew that they needed to be stealthy.

As soon as the ship landed, Bow and Blitz got out through the opened backdoor.

Bow had his bow and arrows.

Blitz had his pistol with a silencer and his axe.

Two V.I.L.E. Guards ran to the roof to see who had landed.

When they saw who, they pulled out pistols and aimed them at the two.

"Criminals! Put down your weap-ACK!"

Blitz cut him off as he threw the axe into his head.

The other Guard was about to fire, when Bow shot an arrow through her head.

Blitz walked up to them, grabbed their weapons and threw him onto the ship.

"We need more weapons. Bow, are you sure you don't want a pistol?"

Bow nodded.

"Positive."

Blitz pulled his axe out of the V.I.L.E. Guards head.

The two then descended down the staircase until they saw the door that led into the hallway.

Blitz calmly opened it, before noticing a camera and then shooting it.

The silencer quieted the shot, but a few of the Horde Soldiers rounded the corners.

Blitz shot the first one in the head, before jumping out and shooting two more.

Bow jumped out and fired an arrow into a V.I.L.E. Guard's eye, then shooting an arrow in an Exterminator's chest.

Blitz scoffed at the Exterminator.

"Looks like Stella had all three of the Evil Hordes to keep her safe at my Dad's Hotel."

Bow looked at Blitz, totally stunned.

"Buckzo is your Dad?" Bow asked, absolutely astounded.

"Unfortunately. But I hated the Fucker. I inherited most of my good shit from my Mother."

Bow nodded, feeling sympathy for Blitz.

"But there's no time to cry for me. We have an Owl to kill."

Blitz then started walking, motioning for Bow to follow.

When they turned the corner, they saw one Exterminator, frozen with fear.

Blitz chuckled at her, before walking up to her and pointing his pistol at her face.

"Spear."

The Exterminator handed him her spear.

"Stella's room?"

The Exterminator gulped, before answering.

"Third floor. Room C-23. Please kill her."

Blitz looked at Bow, looking like he respected the Exterminator.

Blitz then motioned her off.

"Run."

The Exterminator nodded and flew away.

Bow and Blitz then walked down the hallway, before a dozen Horde Soldiers and a dozen V.I.L.E. Guards rounded the corner.

Bow pulled out some arrows and shot three Horde Soldiers through the head.

Blitz swiped his axe and shot his pistol, cutting off their heads and shooting their brains.

One Horde Soldier tried to grab Bow, but Bow grabbed the Horde Soldier by his head and smashed him into the glass fire extinguisher case, leaving him to bleed out.

The last few Horde Soldiers and the two V.I.L.E. Guards charged at them.

Blitz picked up one of the Dead Soldier's rifles and mowed them down.

"Shit!" Bow muttered. "She has to know we're coming, now!"

The two sprinted down the hallway until they found the elevator.

A Force Captain quickly turned the corner, but before he could do anything, Blitz shot him in the head.

When they turned the corner, they saw the elevator and ran into it.

Blitz quickly pressed the third floor button.

The elevator went down to the third floor.

Once the door opened, Bow and Blitz ran out of and readied their weapons, but, surprisingly, nobody was there.

Blitz turned to Bow.

"Coast is clear, let's move."

The walked down the hallway.

Blitz shot the cameras that they saw.

They passed a lot of rooms.

C-20.

C-21.

C-22.

And finally, C-23.

Bow and Blitz readied their weapons again, before they both kicked the door.

The door broke down, revealing Stella having intercourse with her Imp Butler.

Stella was too filled with lust to notice them, but the Imp Butler realized they were there and pulled himself away from Stella.

Stella finally noticed that Bow and Blitz we're there, before screaming in fear.

"No! Don't kill me! All I did was sell out Charlotte Morningstar! She was a retard! And, yes, I also sold out Andrealphus, but he was secretly a faggot!"

Blitz matched over to Stella and put his pistol against her skull.

"Where is the current location of the V.I.L.E. Faculty?"

Stella shook in fear, before pointing at the table in the room.

There was a hard drive with the V.I.L.E. Logo.

Blitz walked towards it, picked it up, and looked back towards Stella.

"It has everything in there. Their locations, their hiding spots if the locations are compromised, future plans, and codes. I was supposed to deliver it tomorrow, before meeting with Buckzo for a business meeting. I hate filthy, fuckin Imps."

Blitz looked at the Imp Butler and scoffed at the hypocrisy.

Blitz then looked at the hard drive in his hand and back to Stella.

"Well, that was easy."

Stella looked around the room, gulped, and looked at Blitz, filled with fear.

"So, what happens now?"

"Now?" Blitz chuckled. "That's it."

Blitz pointed the gun back towards Stella and she started crying loudly as she put her hands in front of her.

"Oh, shit! No! No! Please, Imp, don't!"

"Why? You've helped others feel this pain."

"Wait-!!!"

Blitz interrupted her by shooting her in the head, looking at her coldly as she slumped back, dead.

Blitz then turned to face the Imp Butler.

"I suggest you run to your freedom."

The Imp Butler nodded, before getting out of bed and running out of the room.

But his new found freedom was short-lived as a sudden sound of rifle fire cut through the air and caused the poor Imp to fall to the ground dead.

"Shit!" Bow exclaimed, before readying his bow. "How the fuck are we going to get out of here?"

Blitz looked at the fire extinguisher that was visible from the doorframe.

Blitz readied his pistol towards the door, before turning to face Bow.

"Hold on."

A few Horde Soldiers ran into view and Blitz shot the pistol, hitting the extinguisher, causing it to explode.

There was a deafening sound in the air as the Horde Soldiers were blown to pieces.

Bow and Blitz used that distraction to run out of the room.

From the looks of it, those were the only Horde Soldiers who were there at the moment, but if they didn't run, there'd be more.

Blitz turned to see the Dead Imp Butler, with his eyes wide open, before feeling sympathy in his heart, as he got down on one knee.

"I'm sorry, Sir. I can't undo your tragedy. But I can promise to make those responsible pay for it. Maybe in another timeline, things might've been better for you."

Blitz reached forward and closed the Dead Imp's eyelids.

Blitz then stood up and looked towards Bow.

"Go, run!"

Bow and Blitz sprinted back to the elevator, pressing the button back to the top floor.

Once the elevator took them back, they ran back to the top of the building.

The spaceship was thankfully still there.

Bow and Blitz ran inside.

Zim looked at them from the front of the ship.

"What that fuck happened in there?"

"Now time to explain, Man, drive!"

Zim nodded, before closing the backdoor and the ship went off.

Blitz saw from the window that dozens of Horde Soldiers were running into the building to investigate the disturbance.

Blitz was pissed.

His father was still alive.

And he was still following the same hypocrisy that he claimed to hate.

~~Timeskip~~

After a few hours, they landed back on the island.

As soon as they exited the ship and went inside, Chief was waiting for them.

"You were supposed to be stealthy. But it was loud enough to be heard from Zim's home. What the FUCK happened?"

Blitz handed her the hard drive, causing Chief to change her expression for anger to happiness.

"Met some sharp turns, but at least now we can find the Traitors."

Chief nodded and sighed in relief.

"At least it was a victory. God, how I've missed saying that. Player will study the code. Take the night off, you've earned it."

Blitz nodded, saluted Chief, and walked away.

Blitz was walking back down the hallway to the underground of the facility, when he saw a huge closet door was open.

He peered into the room.

It had posters for movies, bands, Che Guevara, and and an America Flag, flipped upside down.

The shelf had movies in VHS and DVD, CD's of music that was now banned in Horde Prime's world, and a few beer bottles on the empty shelves.

There was a bed in the corner of the room and a shelf in the next corner.

The dresser had a TV connected to a VCR and a DVD player.

There was a marijuana plant growing under an LED Lamp on the dresser too.

Blitz walked over to the neatly tucked bed and saw there was a Black Electric Guitar on top.

Blitz picked up the guitar, before noticing a one eyed Cat was awoken from atop the pillow and she hissed at Blitz.

Just then the light turned on, startling Blitz.

"Don't be touching either of my Baby Girls without permission, now, Blitzo." C.M. walked in, chuckling. "You just stick to the guns and killing the Evil Horde."

Blitz respectfully put the guitar back on the bed, before turning to face C.M.

"What about you? Why don't you use that gun at your side and join the fight? And the "o" is silent."

C.M. chuckled.

"What fight? Your fight? Man, I used to take my orders from the Man. The U.S. Mother Fuckin Government Man. That was a true trip. USMC, Man, I fought in a war, but they were not happy about my return."

Blitz looked at C.M., confused.

"When I returned home, they accused me of murder. Threw me in a Private Prison. Never did it."

C.M. started pacing around his room, before looking at Blitz with his eyebrows raised.

"The Man abandoned me, leaving me to rot, and the Warden was all too happy to see me..." C.M. dropped to both knees to prove a point. "Kneel down and start sucking his dick, threatening to kill me if I didn't."

C.M. stood back up.

"Had to steal myself this Smith & Wesson Model 686, 357 Magnum, 6-Shot, 4-inch Revolver from a Guard and blast my way out there. Would've spent my whole life giving reach arounds to Corrupt Officials if I didn't."

Blitz walked over and put his hand on C.M.'s shoulder.

"That has nothing to do with me." Blitz insisted. "That's not the team I fought for."

C.M. scoffed and wiped away Blitz's hand.

"Really?" C.M. questioned. "When I was little, I wanted to go with my Mother to the Mall, but she kept insisting one of her friends kept dropping me on my head because I have fuckin ADHD. Another time I wanted to go to my Cousin's Birthday Party, but the invitation says "Dogs and Faggots Ain't Allowed." Courtesy of my Aunt."

Blitz looked at C.M. with sympathy.

In that world, being homosexual or mentally ill was bad, but C.M. was both.

"You a Badass? Well, five foot tall, scar covered, Assassin Badass that you are, you were still a fuckin member of that system."

C.M. sighed.

"You don't get it do you. Before all this, before the Horde, before the Irkens, before the War, back home, Man, you were the Evil Hordes."

That was too much for Blitz as he shoved C.M. into the wall.

"Be careful with what you call me!"

C.M. didn't even flinch.

"Typical. Violence. It was always the universal language, wasn't it? Can't you see? We're all just Brothers and Sisters, now, ain't we?"

Blitz let go of C.M., realizing he was right.

Blitz was about to walk out.

"Hey, Blitz?" C.M. called out, getting Blitz's attention, before he motioned towards his cat. "You wanna meet KeeKee?"

After a few minutes, Blitz was sitting on C.M.'s bed, petting KeeKee, causing her to purr, before C.M. opened a drawer, pulled something out, closed it, then grabbed his guitar.

C.M. walked over to Blitz.

"Open."

Blitz was confused, but opened his mouth as C.M. put an Acid Tablet on his tongue.

C.M. then turned around, pulled his mask up, and put an Acid Tablet on his own tongue, then put the mask back down.

"Is... that was I think it is?"

"I learned some chemistry behind bars."

C.M. then grabbed some headphones, connected them to his guitar, and put the headphones on Blitz.

C.M. then started playing his guitar.

Blitz started feeling the effects.

Blitz was on a trip nobody else was talking.

C.M. played the guitar angelically, but produced a sound that was as alluring as a Succubus.

Blitz saw a rainbow that he alone was riding and felt that the rainbow was inside of him.

At that moment, he was at the feet of one of God's Descendants.

Blitz stirred until he was back to the world of consciousness.

He was rolled to his side and the pillow to the bed was placed under his back to keep him from sleeping on it.

Blitz saw C.M. was sitting on the foot of the bed, tuning away at his guitar with his headphones on.

Blitz sat up and C.M. noticed, but he still played his guitar.

"How was the trip?"

Blitz rubbed his eyes, as his head felt like shit.

"It was... trippy."

C.M. laughed.

"I guess I made a good batch in Doctor Bellum's Old Lab, huh? I saw my favorite Cartoon Characters. Though you fell asleep on your back, that's never a good sign when high. You could've puked and your Revolution would've been over as you died in your sleep."

Blitz sat up and stretched, groaning tiredly as he did so, before turning back to C.M.

"Why do you do that to yourself?"

C.M. shrugged.

"Like the rush."

Blitz rubbed his neck and heard his stomach growl.

"I see you got munchies." C.M. chuckled. "You shouldn't skip dinner, Man."

Blitz rubbed his empty stomach and nodded.

"Well, thanks for the trip, C.M. But I'll skip next time. Had too much drugs in my College years."

"Yeah, not everyone is built for the trip. A Guy I knew had one dose and I swear, Man, he wouldn't shut up for days about seeing Wonderland."

Blitz nodded and patted C.M. on his shoulder.

"Keep up the music."

After making that comment, Blitz walked out of the room and looked for the Cafeteria.

Blitz walked down the Hallway with a yawn, before passing Zim's Room.

He saw that Zim's Room had a few Sci-fi movie posters along his wall.

There was a desk across from his bed, and a dresser in the corner of the room.

On top of the Desk, there was a Game Slave on his dresser.

Zim's bed was in the corner next to the door and GIR was on it, kicking his legs happily.

There was a Flat Screen TV that was connected to a DVD Player on the dresser.

There was also a shelf right next to his dresser, with DVD's

Blitz saw Zim was in his room shirtless and his eyes instantly noticed that his PAK was gone.

Blitz almost tripped as he stopped at Zim's Doorway.

"Holy Shit! Your PAK is gone!"

Zim sighed, before putting a Black T-Shirt on.

"Well, good morning to you too, I was just on my way to breakfast, would you like some too?" Zim remarked with sarcasm in his voice.

Blitz walked in Zim's Room and started questioning him frantically.

"What happened to it!? You said you can't live without your PAK! How long has it been good!?"

"Blitz, calm down. It's been gone for 10 years. Entrapta helped me remove it."

Zim went back to grabbing his hoodie, when Blitz grabbed his arm.

"But, Zim, there was nothing wrong with your PAK, was there? I'm not saying that I don't like your choice, I'm just... confused. I've been good for 14 years, I need to know things."

Zim sighed and motioned for Blitz to sit down.

"After we lost the War, Irkens were systematically returned to Irk, even the Exiles and Defects like me, to be enslaved or purged. Horde Prime killed those fucks The Tallests and took over Irk. Some of us had to run to avoid that shit. I was one of them. The first few years were bullshit hard, but I managed as soon as I found the island with Chief. But soon, Horde Prime learned he could track down the Runaways with the trackers they put in our PAKS. When Chief got wind of this, I had two choices: remove PAK or leave. Luckily, we managed to save Entrapta from being sterilized for her autism. She's also really good with technology. She managed to remove the PAK and we flew it 30 miles away. Apparently, an Irken can live without their PAK if all of the technology implanted in them that keeps them dependant on the PAK is removed. They didn't find the Island. I was caught a few months ago and brought to that Horde Prison when I tried to hijack a truck full of weapons to use against the Horde."

Zim finished his story and sat down on his desk.

"What's it like to be free from the PAK?"

Zim sighed, before looking at his hands.

"Apparently all the "brain damage" caused by the PAK were internal. The PAK was malfunctioning, but my brain has been the way it was since I was born. I have, what Humans call, ADD. The PAK only had weapon advantages to me. So... just physically different at times."

Zim then trembled at old memories.

"The Irkens treated me like shit. Said I wasn't good enough! But I was good at what they trained me to do. But now? I'm one of the only Irkens that is technically free. It...took a while for me to stop talking in third person, but I can do it better now."

GIR jumped off the bed and ran towards Zim, hugging his leg.

"Ah luv you, Massah! You perfect in my eyes!"

Zim snickered before picking up GIR off the ground and holding the Little Robot like a puppy.

"I love you too, GIR. But, please, I insist, call me "Zim." Not "Massah.""

Blitz had to bring something else up.

"C.M. said has ADHD and was in prison. You two seem to be Friends."

Zim nodded, still hugging GIR.

"He escaped that Prison and was on the run for a few days before I found him and brought him here to safety. He wanted me to call him by his initials. And the Horde might be tough, but despite these fuckin Anti-Autism or Anti-ADHD propaganda ads they show, me, C.M., and Entrapta aren't stupid, we're smart, and smart always wins over tough."

Blitz smiled, before standing up and giving Zim a fist bump and a high-five.

"Damn right, Zim." Blitz agreed, before putting his hand on Zim's shoulder. "And I love you Zim. You're my Brother-in-Arms."

Zim nodded and pulled Blitz into a hug, before breaking it and looking into Blitz's eyes.

"We ARE going to kill all Horde Soldiers, right? Every last one?"

Blitz chuckled.

"Won't rest until their blood is on the ground."

Just then, Adora walked into the room, gaining Blitz and Zim's attention.

Adora stood with her arms folded behind her back.

"Commander Chief has requested that I take care of everyone's laundry and tidy up their rooms for them. Are my services needed?"

Zim scoffed.

"Yeah, so you can go through all our stuff, learn our plans, and report back to your Mommy, Shadow Weaver. Right, Horde Soldier?"

Adora gulped, before answering.

"Invader Zim, I promise you that my current loyalty is only to this Platoon."

"Yeah, "current." Blitz, why did you let this Force Captain into our Safe Haven?"

Blitz didn't answer and instead turned to Adora.

"I'm going on a mission soon. Go ask Stolas if there's anything you should clean. We share the same room."

Adora nodded, before running to find Stolas.

Blitz turned back to Zim.

"So, you want to join me and Loona for breakfast?"

Zim shook his head.

"I actually already ate. I think yawn I probably need to catch up with more sleep."

Blitz nodded, watching as Zim lied down, still cuddling GIR, and drifting off to sleep.

Blitz left to find Loona in the Cafeteria.

As soon as he entered the Cafeteria, he heard a loud yelling in the air.

He turned to see Octavia, Stolas, and Loona were all sitting at a table together.

Octavia was the one yelling as she got up and walked away from the table.

Everyone stood out of her way.

Stolas tried to reach up to stop her, but Octavia was already walking up to Blitz.

"Blitz! You killed my Mother!!!"

Blitz's legs were shaking and he was pretty sure Octavia was going to rip him to pieces.

"Look, Octavia, I'm sorry! But she-!!"

Octavia then stood before Blitz, sobbing heavily.

"She's fuckin dead."

"Okay, I know you pissed, but-UH!"

Octavia fell onto her knees and pulled Blitz into a hug, sobbing into his shoulder.

"Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!"

Blitz was confused, but returned the hug.

"Octavia, I... killed your Mother."

Octavia sniffled and nodded.

Stolas and Loona got up from the table, walked over to them, and each put a hand on Octavia's back.

"Stella was a fuckin cunt. She's my Mother, but not my Mommy! She abused me as a kid, sold us out to the Horde, and she..."

Octavia broke into more tears before pulling her head off of Blitz's shoulder and looking him in the eyes, both hands on each of his shoulders.

"Charlie was a good person. Stella paid the Exterminators to kill her, but Charlie just wanted to make peace. And the last conversation I had with her was on the phone, telling her I didn't want to talk to her. Stella wrote a fuckin book about it, making Charlie out to be a Whiny, Spoiled Brat. But it's not true. She also killed Uncle Andrealphus! Sure he was a narcissist, but he tried to save me and Dad before Stella sold him out! Fuck her!!!"

Blitz used one hand to cup Octavia's face.

"Octavia, the same thing happened to me. My Dad hit me and said I was a disappointment. He also sold out people and he got a Mulit-Billion Dollar Industry. So believe me, I too want my Dad to fuckin pay for siding with the Horde. But what happened to Charlie and your Uncle? It wasn't your fault. I couldn't undo her tragedy and I can't undo his, but I made Stella pay. That's all I could do. That's all any of us can do right now."

Octavia sniffled and nodded.

Blitz smiled as he helped Octavia stand up, as the three walked her back to the table and helped her sit back down.

Blitz then quickly got some food and sat with them.

"I'm glad Loona found you two."

Stolas smiled and replied.

"She was asking us if we saw you because she saw us together. So I invited her to sit with us. You seem to find a way to sneak into people's hearts."

Loona then blushed and covered her face.

"No, I don't view him as a Dad!"

Stolas chuckled.

"Never said you did."

Loona blushed harder and then the other three chuckled, even Octavia was starting to cheer up.

"Well, Loona, I'm flattered." Blitz said as he started eating.

Just then, Adora ran up to Stolas and stood up like a Soldier.

"Prince Stolas Goetia, Captain Blitz has asked that I see it if my services are necessary to you."

Stolas put his hand on Adora's shoulder.

"It's okay, Adora, ease up. This isn't a Horde Base."

Adora stood in a normal stance, though shakingly, afraid she was going to get hit.

"Are my services necessary?"

"Adora, when's the last time you ate?" Stolas asked, ignoring her question completely.

"Back at the Compound, Prince Stolas Goetia." Adora said with a shaking voice.

"Adora, I guess the only service I need of you is that you go get something to eat."

Adora looked where the food was and then back to Stolas.

"It's okay. We're not the Horde."

Adora nodded and walked to get some food.

Loona scoffed.

"Why are you being so nice to the fuckin Force Captain who was a High Ranking Officer at the Compound?"

Stolas looked at Loona with empathy.

"For the same reason we're nice to you, Loona. That Girl isn't evil. She was just raised by a terrible, terrible Woman."

Just then, Millie ran over to them.

"Blitz, the Chief wants you. And Prince Stolas too! She says it's important."

Blitz sighed, before grabbing his plate and standing up.

Stolas stood up too, before looking at Loona and Octavia.

"You two should try and become friends." Stolas suggested. "You two have a lot in common."

Blitz and Stolas followed Moxxie, leaving Loona and Octavia to socialize.

Blitz finished his food on the way there.

When they entered Professor Maelstrom's Old Office, Player had finally analyzed the V.I.L.E. Hard Drive.

Chief, Shadowsan, Millie, Glimmer, Entrapta, and a sleepy Zim were also there.

"Couch Brunt is in Austin, Texas at the V.I.L.E. Stronghold. Professor Maelstrom is at the New V.I.L.E. Academy in New York City. Countess Cleo is in her personal mansion on Beverly Hills. And Doctor Bellum is on Irk."

Blitz scoffed.

"Only one is off planet? That'll be easy. Why haven't they found a fifth Head to V.I.L.E.?"

Shadowsan answered.

"After I left, they decided four was good enough. Less people to betray them."

Just then, C.M. walked into the room and up to Chief.

"Hey, Chief, you asked to see me?"

"Yes, give me a joint. The fact we're actually heading in the right direction once again makes me feel overly excited yet overly stressed. I need something for the nerves.

C.M. pulled out a bag of joints he kept in his Front Shirt Pocket behind his vest, pulled out a joint, and handed it to Chief.

As Chief put it in her mouth, C.M. took out a Zippo Lighter and lit it up for her.

Chief puffed it in, then exhaled the smoke.

C.M. was about to light a joint for himself, but right as pulled up his mask and put one between his lips, Stolas pulled the joint out to engulf it in flames, then snatched the lighter out of C.M.'s hands.

C.M. put the mask back down and looked at Stolas angrily.

"Hey, Asshole, what the actual fuck!?"

"Your Dad wouldn't want you to be puffing!"

"I'm a Grown Man!"

Stolas took the bag away from C.M.'s hands and gave it to Chief.

"Here, Chief, you keep the rest."

C.M. scoffed.

Stolas then turned back to face C.M. in the eyes.

"I'd know those eyes anywhere, "C.M."" Stolas answered, with a slight, warm smile at the edge of his face. "But even though marijuana isn't necessarily bad, I know it's not actually for you."

C.M. looked at Stolas, absolutely astounded, before looking at the others, visibly shaking.

"Well, later, Guys."

C.M. was about to leave, before Stolas grabbed his shoulder and held him back.

"Give me that gun."

C.M. looked at Stolas, absolutely confused.

"Naw, Man, I need this. I didn't run out of that Prison and grab it just to lose it."

"Blitzy could use it to take out more Soldiers. Besides, I don't like seeing you with weapons. Please relinquish it now."

C.M. sighed before pulling out his revolver and handing it over to Stolas.

Stolas handed it to Blitz and let go of C.M.'s shoulder.

C.M. was heading out of the room, but Stolas called out for him.

"And stay off that acid!"

As soon as C.M. left the room, Blitz looked back to Stolas, questionably.

Zim chuckled.

"You're trying to get C.M. off his acid? That Man absolutely loves his drugs. Learned the chemistry to make them and everything."

Stolas shrugged.

"They deserve better than the syringe."

Blitz nodded, before looking at the lighter in Stolas's hands.

"I actually might need that too."

Stolas handed Blitz the lighter.

Blitz put the revolver and the lighter in his jacket pockets.

"Anywho, we're going after Brunt first." Chief announced. "She provides V.I.L.E. Operatives muscle. Without her, worse diet, better our chances."

"Okay, I'll start flying." Zim responded.

"No, at the Stronghold in Texas, they shoot any unannounced ship on sight. Classic Texas. So we'll need Stolas to get Millie, Moxxie, and Blitz inside quietly... until they cause all their necessary chaos."

Stolas nodded, before readying his hands and looking at everyone else.

"Stand back, I haven't done this in years."

They all stood back.

Stolas then opened a portal into a closet at the Stronghold.

"Why not take us all the way to Brunt?" Millie asked.

"Sneak attack." Chief responded. "Besides, the offices, from what we read on the hard drive, don't allow the use of magic within a hundred feet of them because of Exterminator Blessings. However, everywhere else in the Stronghold isn't magic proof."

Player handed Blitz a beeper.

"Click it when you're done so we can open a portal to bring you back."

Millie, Moxxie, and Blitz nodded, grabbed some rifles and axes off of the table, then walked through the portal, before Stolas closed it behind them.

Millie opened the door to see that there was a security camera in the hallway, but no one else.

Millie pulled out her pistol with a silencer and shot the camera, before the three snuck into the hallway.

When they crept the corner, they saw that there were two V.I.L.E. Guards with their backs turned to them, unarmed.

"Damn, Man, Brunt has been working us too hard lately."

"I think she just misses her Daughter too much. Boo-fuckin-hoo."

"And did you hear that an Imp is now trying to liberate the world?"

"Yeah, Bellum will cut him up just like she did a lot of the Irkens."

Blitz pulled out his pistol with a silencer and shot one dead, while pulling another deeper into the hallway and shoving him against the wall, putting the pistol to his throat.

"Where the fuck do I disable the alarms?"

"The Control Room. That's where you'll find our power source. Disable that, the whole building loses power. It's two floors down, being guarded by Dash Haber and Paper Star. But you'll never stand a chance!"

Blitz let him go, stepped back, then shot the Guard in the crotch, causing him to scream and hold his wounded area.

"You'll never stand a chance fucking ever again with no balls!"

With that, the three ran down the hallway to find the elevator.

They came across three more V.I.L.E. Guards, who would've fired or hit the alarm, but Blitz, Millie, and Moxxie shot them dead quietly and kept running.

Millie made sure to fire and hit at every camera they came across.

When they found the elevator, Paper Star came across, chanting a creepy nursery rhyme, before gazing at the three and smiling.

"🎶 Three Imps looking for the Boss. 🎶 "

Paper Star then pulled out some paper and folded it into shurikens.

Moxxie chuckled.

"What? Are you trying to give up paperc-AAH!"

Moxxie was silenced when one of the Paper Shurikens was thrown into his left eye, rendering him permanently blind in that eye.

Moxxie fell to the ground, holding his bleeding left eye and crying to himself.

"MOXXIE!!!" Millie exclaimed as she ran to him and held her Husband in her lap. "Blitz, kill that Bitch!!!"

Blitz nodded and fired his pistol at Paper Star, but she avoided death by throwing the Paper Shurikens at the bullets.

After his last shot, Blitz ran out of ammo in his pistol, before sighing, dropping his gun, then pulling out his axe and charged at Paper Star.

Paper Star threw more Paper Shurikens at Blitz, but he kept swiping his axe, cutting the Paper Shurikens as they flew at him.

"A trained Assassin too, huh? No matter. Muscle and skill is useless to V.I.L.E."

Paper Star reached into her holdster to grab more Paper, but Blitz had caught up to her at that point and cut her entire arm off.

Paper Star fell to the ground, holding the stub that used to have her arm, and screamed in agony as blood came out of the stub quickly.

Blitz scoffed.

"Should've jumped out of the way or fought instead of giving some half-ass Villainy Dialogue."

Paper Star reached her only hand towards Blitz like she was begging for mercy.

"P-please! I-I've only killed three dozen people! You killed more! I'll defect! I hate the Horde! They take all the credit!"

Blitz put the blade of the axe to Paper Star's throat.

"Naw, naw, don't be begging for your own life! At least show some bravery!"

Paper Star started crying and begging with her eyes.

Blitz knew he couldn't trust her if she was only willing to defect if her life was at stake as he cut her head clean off, then ran back over to Millie and Moxxie.

Millie pulled out the Paper Shuriken from Moxxie's eye, but it took his eye along with it.

Millie ripped the bottom of her shirt and used the fabric to wrap it around Moxxie's head to keep from bleeding.

"Are you still okay to fight? If not, we can call them and let you retrea-!"

Moxxie cut him off as he stood up, helped Millie up, and pulled out his rifle.

"Fuck retreating. These Mother Fuckers took my Family, my Wife's Family, my life, and now my eye from me and her. We're not leaving until everyone in this fuckin Hellhole is dead and ripped apart!"

Blitz smiled and nodded.

"I'm glad to be on the same side as you. Now, let's do this!"

The three picked up their rifles and went into the elevator, making sure to shoot the camera as they descended two floors down.

When the elevator opened, they saw Dash Harber leaning against the wall.

"Bout time you got the coff-."

Dash stopped talking when he saw the three step out and stood in a battle stance.

"So, you managed to beat that Bitch, huh? Well, you-!!"

Moxxie shot an entire magazine into Dash, killing him instantly, and continued shooting Dash until his ammo, ran out, before he ran to the corpse and started beating it with the rifle.

Millie ran over and pulled Moxxie away from the corpse.

"Hun, I know you're more professional than this."

Moxxie nodded and reloaded, feeling embarrassed.

"We gotta hurry!" Blitz said. "They had to hear that!"

Blitz ran to the Control Room, luckily right across from the elevator, and shot the generator.

The main lights turned off and the red lights turned on as power throughout the Stronghold was out.

"Now, let's purge this fuckin place!"

The three walked through the staircase, unable to use the elevator, before reaching the main floor.

The Guards walked around, confused, unable to see as the windows were blocked.

Blitz, Millie, and Moxxie shot them dead.

When Guards came running after them, using the darkness to their advantage, Blitz, Millie, and Moxxie had no trouble killing the guards who charged at them by the dozen.

Blowing or cutting their heads off.

Drilling their chests with lead.

Smashing them against walls hard enough to crack open their skulls.

And even snapping their necks and arms.

It wasn't long until the three were covered in blood.

When they got to what they assumed was Coach Brunt's Office, Blitz turned to face the other two.

"Now, this Bitch is big, literally, so I don't want any fuck ups when we kill her. Oka-AY!?"

Coach Brunt's arm smashed through the wall, grabbing Blitz by the throat as she pulled him into her office, and threw him through her desk.

Blitz dropped his gun.

"So, you came here to kill me? I'll Break every bone in your body, you'll tell me where Black Sheep is, then I'll make a coat from your skin!"

Millie and Moxxie tried to get into the office, but Brunt picked up a vending machine and covered the door so the two couldn't get in.

"After I kill you, I'll kill those Midgets!"

Brunt stopped over to Blitz, picked him up by the head, and threw him face first into the wall.

"You think you're tough!? You think you're fuckin tough!? I'll beat the facts straight into you!"

Coach Brunt threw Blitz across the room, into a shelf of dumbbells.

Blitz picked up a 40lb and threw it at her head, which hit her right between her eyes, cracking her skull from under her skin.

"OW! YOU FUCKING, FUCKING FUCKER! I'LL FUCKING, FUCKING KILL YOU! OW!"

Blitz remembered he still has C.M.'s pistol and shot at Brunt, it hit her leg, causing her to fall onto the ground, screaming in pain.

Blitz rose to his feet and walked over to her.

She was about to get up, but he stomped his boot into her throat, causing her to cough blood as he raised the pistol to her head.

"You betrayed your planet. You betrayed your country. You betrayed your people. You're a fuckin slaver. You deserve worse than this. Consider this mercy."

Couch Brunt coughed more blood as she spoke.

"If you kill me, you're never going to get a moment's rest. V.I.L.E. will hunt you to the ends of the Universe."

Blitz shrugged.

"Bring them on. Just bring plenty of body bags."

Blitz then shot Coach Brunt in the head.

Millie and Moxxie finally managed to get into the room and were amazed upon seeing Blitz had managed to kill Brunt singlehandedly.

Blitz didn't gloat about it as he turned to face them.

"Let's torch this fucker up!"

Millie and Moxxie nodded, before the three ran out of the room.

They found the weapons closet, grabbed all the explosives they could, then laid them out across the building, before clicking the beeper.

When Stolas opened the portal, the three ran through.

Right before it closed completely, Blitz clicked the detonator.

The building exploded and the force sent Blitz flying backwards slightly, but the portal closed before he got injured seriously.

Blitz turned back to see they were in Countess Cleo's Old Room turned into a Recreational room with couches, a TV, and a pool table.

Stolas was sitting on a couch, with C.M.'s head on his shoulder, sleeping as Stolas strokes his Blonde Hair gently to help him sleep.

Blitz saw C.M. still has his mask on.

"Why does he have his mask on when he's sleeping? And why'd you put his head on your shoulder?"

Stolas chuckled softly, as of to not wake up C.M.

"They want to hide their adorable face, so I'll allow it. And after I made it so they aren't getting high of those substances, they got a little angsty because I guess they've been getting high rather than sleeping, so I sung them my lullaby: You Will Be Okay and the Dear dozed off."

Stolas looked at Blitz's clothing in disgust.

"Blitzy! You've ruined your beautiful look! Go get a shower and clean your clothes."

Blitz shrugged and nodded, before looking at Moxxie.

"Mox, go get an eye patch. I'm sorry you lost an eye."

Moxxie shrugged.

"I've got two eyes. Satan blessed me with a spare just in case."

Entrapta was in the room and she jumped up excitedly.

"I can give you a Robotic Eye! It'll only take a few hours!"

Moxxie looked at Entrapta, baffled.

"You can?"

Millie and Moxxie followed Entrapta out of the room and into Doctor Bellum's Old Lab.

Stolas picked up C.M. and stood up.

"I'll go out them in bed, and I'll take away those infernal drugs they've been putting into their system. Don't let their healthy looking body fool you. They need help."

Blitz looked at Stolas, confused.

"I knew you were a Dad and had Fatherly Instincts, but damn. You really care about people, huh?"

Stolas gave C.M. a kiss on their forehead.

"If you could recognize these eyes, so would you. Either way, go get cleaned up."

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was in his Throne Room in Bright Moon, when Shadow Weaver came in.

"My Lord, My Love, he's struck again. He killed Stella then just today, he killed Coach Brunt."

Horde Prime scoffed.

"That Owl Bitch and that Fat Fuck I couldn't care less about. But how dare he defy me!? I am going to kill all the Imps to show a message!"

"My Lord, My Love, none of our Associates would want to lose their Slaves."

Horde Prime groaned, annoyed.

"Like I give a fuck what they think, I'm the King!!!"

Shadow Weaver walked behind Horde Prime and started rubbing his shoulders.

"My Love, don't show weakness by ending our Free Labor. Show strength and only kill that Imp who defys you. Better yet, offer them a deal. They live if they kneel at your feet, giving up their Friends, then he becomes your number one Slave."

Horde Prime smiled to himself.

"You're right. Show strength, not weakness. If I can make my worse Enemy kneel before me, nobody will fuck with me again. Then I'll kill the rest of those Faggots as a justifiable execution."

Meeting With Prime

Blitz got out of the shower with clean clothes before walking down the hallway.

He saw Sea Hawk was trying to flirt with Mermista, but failed at every turn.

"Come on, Mermista, I promise I can be your Knight in shining armor!"

"Sea Hawk, you're a great guy. But you're not... MY guy. You're a friend, but you're not a Knight in shining armor."

"Mermista, please, just give me one chance. I promise to take you out on a beautiful date. A nice dinner, a walk down the beach, and we can cuddle afterwards."

Mermista sighed to herself loudly.

"Sea Hawk, I'm flattered. Truly. But the answer is no."

Sea Hawk looked at the ground, disappointedly, before nodding and walking away defeated.

Mermista then realized Blitz was standing there.

"Oh, hey, Blitz."

"Morning... Mermista was it? What's up with you and... Uh... Sea Hawk?"

"We were childhood friends. He had the biggest crush on me, he still does."

Blitz pondered, before speaking.

"I think I had a childhood friend who had a crush on me. I don't remember who, exactly. Oh, well. Good afternoon, Mermista."

Mermista nodded and Blitz continued down the hallway.

Blitz walked into the Cafeteria to get Lunch.

He saw Adora was eating Lunch at a table, by herself.

Glimmer passed by her table with a scoff, pulling Adora's gaze away from eating at towards Glimmer.

"Oh, Hello, Princess Glimmer of Bright Moon. Lovely weather today?"

"Yeah, yeah, fuckin nice weather, Horde Soldier."

Adora looked at the table, feeling guilty, before looking back to Glimmer with a shy smile.

"Do you and Archer Bow want to do something together later?"

"Yeah, we're going to read books later."

"No, no, I mean... do you want to hangout... with me?"

Glimmer looked at Adora with anger in her eyes, furious that she'd suggest such a thing.

"Are you fuckin crazy, Horde Soldier?"

"M-my name is Adora."

"What-fucking-ever! Don't you think I know of your atrocities? I looked at some pictures of you and your Mother! The Purging of Imp City? The Destruction of the Irken Armada? The Enslavement of Bright Moon? The Executions of Etheria's, Heaven's, and Hell's Royalty?"

"S-stop. I didn't partake in any of those things. I was just right besides Shadow Weaver. What could I have done? I was still a Little Girl!"

"No, no you weren't. Nice Force Captain Badge. You were bred to kill!"

"Bu-but nobody will let me take it off or change my uniform!"

"Because you and that Horde Uniform? You belong in it. You will die in it! You're nothing more than a Bigoted, Murderous, Evil Horde Soldier."

Glimmer then walked away angrily.

Adora looked at her food and started crying as she continued to eat.

Blitz looked at her with empathy before leaving to get some food.

When he got it, he sat in the table Adora was sitting in, causing her to look in surprise, Blitz nodded back to her and started eating, so did Adora.

Everyone else looked at Blitz, an Imp who had killed many Horde Soldiers at that point, who was now eating with someone who had on a Force Captain Badge.

After both were done, Adora took both trays.

"Thank you for eating with me, Captain Blitz. I'll take care of the dishes."

Blitz smiled.

"Please call me Blitz."

"Okay then... Blitz. Normally I have to say a Person's title of occupation."

"Well, you don't have to for me, Adora."

Adora smiled and walked away to take care of the dishes.

Blitz got up himself and went into the Recreational Room, sitting down into a couch and turning on the TV.

They ironically had cable.

The current shows were just bullshit propaganda made by V.I.L.E. to praise the Horde, Exterminators, and themselves.

One ad was join the Horde, one was Pray to Exterminate, and another was a children's cartoon about Horde Prime being a Hero.

It was cut off when the News came on

"Hello, Denizens of our Beloved Horde! I'm Katie Killjoy."

"And I'm Tom Trench."

Blitz could see the forced smiles on their faces clear as crystal.

"Current reports indicate that a Murderous Imp, now nicknamed "Rodeo Blitzo" has been causing numerous Terrorist Acts against our Beloved Horde."

"Our Lord, Horde Prime, reaching out to everyone through TV, hopes this message reaches the Terrorist Imp: Tonight at 10:45 PM, Horde Prime invites Rodeo Blitzo to dinner at this location to make a deal."

The location to the meetup was shown on the screen, before flashing back to Katie and Tom.

"Thank you Horde Prime and good day."

The News cut back to what was on prior.

Blitz shifted in his seat.

Horde Prime wanted to meet up with him!?

It had to be a trap.

"It's a trap." Said Carmen, who Blitz didn't even hear enter the room.

"Lucifer! You scared the shit out of me... Uh..."

"Carmen. And you killed Coach Brunt. You was my Mother Figure."

Blitz was shooken when he heard that.

"I... uh..."

"It's okay. I know the truth about her. I couldn't believe it that V.I.L.E. was evil. They raised me."

Blitz was baffled.

"Dad snuck me out of here during the War, raised me in the shadows, and we didn't come back here until the Faculty abandoned this location. Dad taught me how fight, how to shoot, how to pickpocket. C.M. is teaching me guitar."

Blitz chuckled to himself.

"That Boy can really play base."

"He says it gets his mind off of his past. I'm 21, I'm not stupid. I know what he went through. If we liberate the Universe, Private Prisons can never return."

Blitz nodded.

"And are you aware of C.M.'s... "trips?""

"His "trips to Wonderland down the Rabbit Hole?" Yes. Dad told me to stay far away from drugs. He saved me, so I always listen to him in matters like that."

Blitz stood up and walked closer to Carmen.

"Why don't you pick up a gun and fight? You said Shadowsan trained you?"

"Dad won't let me. He wants to keep me safe. After Uncle Hideo was killed in a barage of gunfire after he snuck us away from the Horde, he said I'm all that he has left. His Only Daughter."

Blitz nodded in understanding.

"Don't worry. You aren't going to be drafted if you or your Dad don't think it's right just yet."

Blitz couldn't believe what he saw the last couple of days.

Fathers who care about their Kids.

He never knew that feeling of his Father loving him.

Just then, Glimmer teleported into the room, grabbed Blitz, and they both teleported into Professor Maelstrom's Old Office.

Everyone was already there.

Blitz fell to his knees and started breathing.

"A little warning next time before teleporting me."

Chief walked up and helped Blitz to his feet.

"We saw the broadcast."

Blitz shrugged.

"I know, but it's a trap."

"Well, I-."

"I'll do it."

Chief was taken aback.

"Wait, what?"

"If it's a trap, I'll shoot."

Chief nodded.

"Good. Good, good. So, you'll see him and try to get as much out him as possible. Learn of possible weaknesses."

Blitz nodded.

"Sure. It should be easy."

Chief turned to Stolas.

"Prince Stolas, please help Mr. Blitz here find some decent attire. This is going to be important."

Blitz was confused as he looked at the clock.

"But it's only 3:56 PM."

"Yeah, but it'll take a while to find a suit in our clothing closet. As well as, putting it on."

Blitz got an idea.

"What about that C.M.? He had a bowtie. He might have a suit!"

Chief shrugged.

"Go ask him. However, he might still be a little cranky after you two took him marijuana."

~~Timeskip~~

C.M. was sitting on his bed, practicing his guitar having just recently woken up.

He had put his main clothes back on and made his bed.

He already has his mask on.

C.M. was feeling a little jittery after not having a drug in a few hours.

There was a knock on the door.

C.M. looked toward the door.

"You may enter, it's not locked."

Stolas and Blitz entered.

C.M. sighed, set his guitar gently on the bed, then stood up.

"So, what are you gonna take from me this time?"

Blitz and Stolas looked at each other, then back to C.M.

"Excuse me?" Blitz questioned.

"Are you gonna steal my fuckin TV, my fuckin Cat, my fuckin bed this time? Well, fuck off if that's what you're here for."

Blitz was confused.

"Normally you seem to be a Chill Dude."

"I'm normally high as FUCK! Yes, I'm acting weird now, but it's not because my fuckin ADHD! It's because I'm used to drugs and feel a little jittery! But I don't do steroids or cigarettes, because they steal away my sellable figure."

Stolas put his hand on Blitz's shoulder.

"Blitzy, I'll handle it."

Blitz nodded and stepped back as Stolas stepped forward.

C.M. nodded, filled with fake optimism.

"So, are you give me back my drugs or my fuckin piece? I want my six shooter!"

Stolas sighed and spoke gently.

"C.M., as you now like to be called, I might've overestimated your ability to sober up quickly. But I'll help you."

C.M., through his mask, had a face of pure anger.

"Back in the Prison, I was FORCED to get addicted. Been smokin up since 1999. I want my drugs."

"No, you don't. You know that. You're not just tough, you're smart. You and I both know that."

"You know that? You know that!? I was sold as a Prison Prostitute from 1999 to 2014 when I escaped, with my six shooter. Have you been forced to fuck or someone you don't know dies? I have!"

"Please, just take a deep breath."

"I took deep. Also took small. I sucked, I swallowed, and I reached around! I wanted to die! GODDAMN IT!!!"

C.M. turned towards a wall and slammed his forehead into it, before resting his head against it.

Stolas quickly ran over, pulled C.M. away from the wall, knelt down, and hugged him, resting his head against his shoulder.

C.M. started crying before hugging Stolas as hard as he could.

Stolas rubbed the back of C.M.'s head and tried to calm him down.

After a couple of minutes, Stolas then broke the hug, a hand still on C.M.'s shoulder, the other hand moving aside C.M.'s bangs, then kissing his bruised forehead, before looking him in the eyes.

"C.M., I'm going to remove your mask. I need to see your face again. And tucking you in earlier and removing it wasn't the same. Okay?"

C.M. nodded, then Stolas called over his shoulder.

"Blitzy, please turn and face the wall."

Blitz nodded, then turned around, and looked at the Marilyn Manson Poster behind him.

Stolas removed the mask from C.M.'s face.

C.M.'s eyeliner was a little bit ruined because of the tears.

Stolas licked his thumb then rubbed the eyeliner off C.M.'s face too.

Stolas looked at C.M.'s face, smiling warmly.

"That's better. You still have your Mother's and Father's face. Even after the... "changes," you still look young and beautiful after all these years. I'm sorry for what you went through. But I promise I'm going to help you get over this drug addiction. Because I love you. And you should've known better than hiding behind a mask but still showing those eyes if you were hiding from us. I'm not going to hurt you. And I want you to feel better. You're not a Junkie, you're not a Prostitute. You're simply... in need of more love. Do you understand?"

C.M. nodded.

"Good. But for why we're here. C.M., we need a tuxedo. We were hoping you might have one."

C.M. nodded, tears still in his eyes as Stolas wiped them away for him.

"It's the bottom right drawer. Black Suit pants, Black Suit Jacket. Just use one of my White Button-Up T-Shirts and Black Bowties, located in the drawer above it."

Stolas nodded.

"Thanks, C.M."

Stolas put the mask back on C.M., then called over his shoulder.

"Blitzy, you can look."

Blitz turned back around, before walking towards the drawers and pulling out what he needed.

But some of the clothes were too big.

"You can cut them. I got myself a straight razor in the top right drawer of the dresser."

Stolas got up, walked over to the dresser, opened the drawer, and took the razor, putting it in his pocket.

"Like I said, "no weapons." Not until you're cured of depression."

C.M. sighed but nodded.

Stolas walked back over and cupped C.M.'s face.

"When this is over, you can come home again. We'll do great things together."

C.M. nodded.

Stolas ruffled C.M.'s hair, before Stolas left with Blitz to prepare the suit.

C.M. sat down on his bed, grabbed his guitar to practice again, but this time, he was smiling to himself under the mask.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz put on the suit with the help of Stolas.

Stolas and Blitz were in a closet to keep former V.I.L.E. Staff from recognizing the location.

Stolas was trying the the bowtie.

"Remember, this will be televised. If you manage to kill him, people will be motivated to fight back."

Blitz nodded.

"He'll be heavily armed and won't fight fair, but you of all people can manage to fight back. Those strong arms of ours held 11 foot tall me down pretty good the first night here."

Blitz blushed heavily.

"Stolas, come on~."

Stolas giggled, before getting serious.

"If you can't kill him, at least shame him. If he bleeds, we can kill him."

Blitz scoffed slightly.

"We all bleed. Gods included."

Stolas was about to make a portal, before looking Blitz in the eyes.

Blitz smiled.

"I'll be back. Don't worry."

Stolas looked at Blitz with a confident smile.

Stolas then opened the portal, Blitz ran in, then Stolas closed the portal behind him.

Blitz saw the island was abandoned, but saw a light in the not too far distance.

Blitz walked towards it, remember I he had C.M.'s pistol on him.

When he arrived, he came to a table with fancy foods and drinks.

Across towards the end, was Horde Prime himself, smiling.

The Man who killed Devineaux.

The Man who enslaved the Irkens.

The Man who purges Imps.

The Man who killed all the Royalty.

The Man who killed the Family Members of his Friends.

Blitz then saw a V.I.L.E. Duo operating a camera and boom mic.

Exterminators were surrounding the table.

Before Blitz could walk towards the table, a V.I.L.E. Agent walked forward with a metal detector.

"We need to check for weapons."

Blitz's heart beat in his throat.

He spread his arms and legs as the metal detector beeped in him.

When it beeped heavily, the V.I.L.E. Agent reached into Blitz's pocket.

"That'll be $25." Blitz scoffed.

The V.I.L.E. Agent pulled out the revolver from Blitz's pocket.

The Exterminators raised their spears.

Horde Prime stopped them with a raise of his hand.

"Before we kill you, why did you have that?"

"I feel naked with a weapon." Blitz said, looking at Horde Prime with anger.

Horde Prime laughed.

"Oh we still have ours." The Exterminators raised their spears above their heads. "We'll protect you."

Blitz continued to glare at him.

"Sit down." Horde Prime instructed.

Blitz walked towards the table and sat down.

And Exterminator walked towards the table, cut some turkey up, then put it on Blitz's plate, before pouring some mead in Blitz's glass.

Another Exterminator was doing the same thing for Horde Prime.

Horde Prime ate instantly.

"So, come now, Mr. Blitz." Horde Prime said while eating. "Clearly we can reason together. It'd be nothing short of madness were you, a brave, skilled Imp Assassin, to parish. All for a few Retards and some Faggots. There is a lot the Horde can do with you."

Blitz shrugged, before starting to eat too, his gaze never leaving Horde Prime.

"Haven't you noticed I can do a lot with your Soldiers as well. One actually became our Prisoner and, tell Shadow Weaver, her Daughter's all right."

Horde Prime temporarily stopped eating, before laughed loudly.

"You are truly a remarkable Imp. I killed your Lieutenant, put you in a 14 year sleep, and enslaved your people, yet you still maintain your sense of humor in front of armed Exterminators, while in the presence of the New God. Come now, imagine what horrible fate awaits your Resistance, when I would gladly kill any of my own people for a victory."

"And I would die for anyone if mine."

"An Imp of bravery. How rare. Except maybe for those two Midgets you have, no other Imp is fighting. Neither is your Daddy: Mr. Buckzo."

Blitz flinched at that name, before grabbing his glass of mead and drinking it in one gulp, before looking at Horde Prime.

"So why the fuck am I here?"

"Language, Kids are watching. And simple. To kneel before me. To put away your arms and give in. Swear your allegiance to me: the True King and God."

Blitz chuckled, getting arise out of Horde Prime, who stood up and walked over to Blitz.

Blitz didn't even shake in his presence.

"You know, Prime, if you kill me, it'll only show weakness. Yet, at the same time, if you let me go, soon your Men will fear me more than your executions."

Horde Prime went behind Blitz, put his hands on Blitz's shoulders, and spoke.

Blitz straightened up, feeling pissed off inside.

"It's not the sword or the gun they fear. It is my Divine Power. But I am kind. I will make you the Universe's Favorite Imp. You will have thousands of Concubines to yourself. I can make you worth trillions. Your Father and your Rivals, will kneel at your feet. If you will but kneel at mine and surrender your troops. And I heard you love Horses. I will give you millions of Horses. If you become my Number One Slave, serving only to me."

Blitz thought about it and didn't have to think long before making a decision.

"You are Divine as much as you are kind. An offer only a Madman could refuse... but..."

Blitz shook Horde Prime's hands off his shoulders.

"Slaughtering those Men of yours made me quite too tired to kneel. Thanks for the food. You pick up the bill."

Horde Prime sighed loudly, before walking back to his end of the table, but instead of sitting down, he threw the table to the side.

Everyone, except Blitz, was afraid.

"Stand the fuck up!"

Blitz shrugged, before walking over to Horde Prime, stopping only a few feet away.

"Get on your fucking knees."

Blitz was confused.

"GET ON YOUR FUCKING KNEES, IMP!"

An Exterminator grabbed Blitz but the shoulder and made him fall to both knees.

Blitz sighed.

"So I guess this is my kneeling?"

"Fuck no. You had your chance. Know you're going to please me to make it up to me."

Blitz was confused, before realizing what Horde Prime meant.

Horde Prime walked towards Blitz and stopped right in front of him.

An Exterminator put his spear to the back of Blitz's head.

"Pull them down and suck it."

Blitz was now scared at this point.

"There are Children watching!"

Horde Prime laughed.

"I don't give a fuck. I'm God. Now pull down my fucking pants and SUCK IT!"

Blitz was shaking, then the Exterminator put the tip of his spear against Blitz's head, making him freeze in place.

"So I do this and we're good?"

Horde Prime laughed.

"Fuck no. I'll probably still kill you. But maybe if you show some serious skills. You will have a future. How can I treat Imps as equal? You're lucky just to touch my pants. Now suck it, Bitch."

Blitz looked for a way out of it.

"Suck it."

Blitz felt the spear.

"Suck it!"

Blitz had one shot at this.

"SUCK IT!!!"

Blitz quickly elbowed the Exterminator behind him in the crotch, causing him to drop his spear.

Blitz grabbed it and shoved it into Horde Prime's favorite piece.

Blitz fell backwards as Horde Prime screamed in agony.

Exterminators were shaken from what they saw.

Horde Prime grabbed the spear and ripped it out of him, only causing him to bleed more, as his Glowing Green Blood fell onto the Beach Sand.

Horde Prime put a hand against him wounded area and stepped back.

"YOU FUCKING, FUCKING FUCKER! KILL HIM! KILL HIM! KILL HIM! OW! FUCK!"

The Exterminators readied their spears.

But just then, Blitz glew red and disappeared in a flash.

Horde Prime screamed from agony and rage, before turning towards the camera.

"TURN IT OFF!"

The Cameraman turned off the camera, but Horde Prime was still deprived of his dignity in front of the whole world.

"FIND HIM! KILL HIM! MOUNT HIS HEAD ON MY WALL! OOOOW! FUCK!"

~~Meanwhile~~

Blitz landed on the floor of the Recreational Room.

Stolas picked him up and started crying into his shoulder.

"I'm sorry! I tried to get you out sooner! But the spell took too long! Please forgive me!"

Blitz pulled himself out of Stolas's hug.

Blitz started pacing the room.

Everyone from outside ran into the Recreational Room.

"Holy shit, Man!" C.M. exclaimed. "You cut his dick off!"

"Are you okay!?" Loona asked frantically.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry!!!" Chief apologized profusely.

Blitz then stopped pacing the room and started laughing loudly.

Everyone was confused, but chuckled slightly too.

"Holy fuckin Hell!" Blitz exclaimed "I just permanently castrated that fucker. On Live, International Television."

Everyone, know understanding, laughed loudly too.

"Well, I guess, they see how weak he truly is." Zim laughed.

"But we can't get too comfortable yet." Blitz said. "We'll still need to kill the other three V.I.L.E. Heads. We need to find out where they are now, because they probably moved by now."

"No need." Said Chief. "We have their back up locations too in anything goes chaotic. We can still continue on as normal. But I think Prime will be pretty pissed."

"IF he is able to piss." C.M. chimed in.

Everyone else laughed harder.

Blitz Remembers/Horde Prime's Delusion

Blitz went to bed that night, cuddling besides Stolas.

Blitz didn't know why, but he had a kind of... special connection to the Owl Prince.

Like, it wasn't just because Stolas was fluffy or because Stolas was a simp for him and him alone.

It felt... like Stolas actually liked him and would care for him if Blitz broke his legs, like Stolas would definitely make him soup before cuddling up with him.

Blitz's internal emotions were burning in his heart and he didn't know how to control them.

He didn't want to be by Stolas at first, but now he would annihilate anyone if they do so much as call Stolas a loser.

Blitz had his arms wrapped around Stolas, Stolas had his arms wrapped around Blitz.

Stolas was now sleeping, letting out adorable Owl Noises, making Blitz blush as his face rested against Stolas's fluffy chest.

Blitz closed his eyes and sleep overcame him.

~~Flashback~~

Buckzo had kicked open the door to their small house.

He had already wasted all the gold and jewelry they stole from the Goetias to buy booze so he could drink his pain of never having much money.

Blitz, Barbed Wire, and their Mother were playing together in the Living Room and were startled when Buckzo kicked open the door, before he stomped over to Blitz, still drunk, and slapped him across the face.

Barbed Wire tried to run over to help Blitz, but Buckzo slapped her in the face hard enough to knock her unconscious.

Blitz's Mom tried to get up to help her Babies.

"Buckzo! What are you doing!?!"

"This little Faggot wants to date the Owl Prince we stole from. And he didn't steal enough!"

"Buckzo, that's bullshit! Even if Blitz did like him like that, you should stop hitting our Children!"

"I saw those Fags under that tree! They were talking and giggling like they wanted to get married! And I am not going to be a laughing stock because my Son is gay for that Prince Retard! If Lucifer and Lilith shit out a Baby, they'd kill it if it was a Retard or a Faggot! Like we should've done!"

"Buckzo, you're drunk!!! Stop!"

"You shut the fuck up! You goddamn Bitch! You think that because you raise our Children that you know what's best!?! You fuckin Whore!?!"

Buckzo punched her in the face, hard enough to knock her unconscious too.

Buckzo then looked at the frightened Blitz, who was shaking in the corner.

"Now, come here, Boy." Buckzo took off his belt and was prepared to beat Blitz.

~~End of Flashback~~

Stolas shook Blitz awake.

He was crying and screaming in his in sleep.

When Blitz fully woke up, he started crying, Stolas pulled him into a hug.

"Blitz? Blitz, it's okay, it's okay."

Blitz sniffled a bit, before freezing.

Suddenly, it all made sense.

"It was you."

Stolas was confused.

"Blitz, I don't-."

"It was you!"

Blitz pulled Stolas into a bigger hug and cried in his chest.

Stolas instantly started caressing the back of Blitz's head.

"Blitz, I'm still confused."

"You're that Owl Prince I stole from! I remember it now. The Circus, the Pirate Game, Paimon, and your love of books. I can't believe I didn't recognize you."

Stolas's eyes went wide and he also started crying, returning the hug.

"Oh, Blitzy. I thought you'd never remember. But I thought you were crying about PTSD or Horse Prime attempting to... "claim" you."

Blitz sniffled, before looking up to see Stolas's eyes with a smile.

"Oh, I know it's fucked up, but I don't regret killing the Horde, V.I.L.E., or Exterminators at all. They deserve it. And, yes, I was scared at first, but I stripped Horde Prime of his ability to piss, so it went great."

Stolas chuckled through his tears, before Blitz rolled the Prince to his back.

Stolas blushed as Blitz put his hand on his face and breathed on his neck, then breathed in his ear.

"So, Prince, want round 2?"

Stolas smiled, before turning it into a wicked grin, then rolling Blitz on his back, then pinning his arms above his head.

Stolas spoke with authority that made Blitz blush.

"Actually, how about I be Player 1 this time?"

Blitz nodded as he blushed harder.

"Y-yes, Your Majesty, Your Greatness, ... My Beautiful, Beautiful Owl."

Stolas lost the grin, blushed a bit, then giggled.

"My, my, Rodeo Blitzo has a way with words."

Blitz laughed.

"The "o" is silent."

Stolas returned the grin.

"Not tonight."

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was in his Throne Room in the Morningstar Family Palace in Pentagram City.

Medics managed to stop the bleeding, but he lost his favorite piece.

Horde Prime paced around the Throne Room.

At his feet, laid three dozen dead Horde Soldiers that he killed to relieve stress.

The only thing worse than having to urinate in a tube, was that he was humiliated in front of the Whole Universe by an Imp.

Shadow weaver walked in, only Horde Prime looked at her and walked at her, fury in her eyes.

"You fuckin, fuckin Whore! It was all your fault!"

Shadow Weaver tried to calm him down.

"My Lord, My Love, I suggested peace. Clearly, the offer wasn't good enough."

"Not fuckin good enough!?! I'm Horde Prime! He's a stupid Imp! He disrespected me in front of EVERYONE!!! He took my DICK!!! I'm fuckin pissed off!"

"But you can't piss anymore."

Horde Prime screamed in rage, before stopping and pondering.

"Wait... maybe it wasn't a sign of hatred. It was love!!!"

Shadow Weaver was confused.

"What fuck are you talking about?"

Horde Prime started laughing.

"He cut my dick, so nobody else could have it. If he couldn't have it, nobody could. He refused to suck it, because he wanted to show me he was a Dom. That's why he wouldn't kneel. He lied for the satisfaction of everyone, but he never took his eyes off me. He loves me."

Shadow Weaver was even more confused.

"I think it's because he hated you that he didn't suck it. He wanted you to feel pain and humiliation. He didn't take his eyes off of you because you're his enemy."

Horde Prime was once again pissed off.

"Are you saying that I'm not smart enough to know the full extent of an Imp Brain!? I know just how stupid they are! But what this one has, isn't just stupidity, it's love. He wants me."

Shadow Weaver couldn't believe her ears.

"I'm your Lover!"

Horde Prime shook his head.

"Not anymore. I'm done with you. Know I want him now. So raise the bounty. $50 Million Dead, so nobody else can have him. $500 Million Alive, so only I can have him."

Shadow Weaver was pissed.

"Yeah, because you always get what you want! A Spoiled, Pampered King with his own Army! I'm smart! I kept this bullshit of yours going!"

Horde Prime didn't want to hear another word from her as he punched right through her head.

Blood covered the floor as he pulled his hand back.

Shadow Weaver's Corpse fell to the ground.

Horde Prime looked out of the window, onto Pentagram City.

"My Darling, Darling Blitz. All you had to do was ask. It hurt, but I felt your marking of love. You will be mine. Even though the Public can't know."

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

Blitz moaned as he awoke the next day.

He sat up and turned to see Stolas was still cuddled up besides him, making Owl Noises in his sleep.

Blitz smiled as he kissed Stolas's forehead.

Blitz wanted to cuddle some more, but his stomach rumbled.

He sighed and wiggled his way out of Stolas's arms to stand up.

He would cuddle him again later.

Blitz then got dressed and walked to the doorway, stopping midway to blow Stolas a kiss.

Blitz then closed the door behind him and walked down to the Cafeteria.

Blitz saw Scorpia, Mermista, Glimmer, and Bow sitting at a table together.

Adora was walking close by with a tray of food, catching Glimmer's attention.

Glimmer whistled, summoning Adora over, Adora stood there with her tray of wood.

"How can I be of assistance, Princess Glimmer?" Adora asked.

Glimmer slapped the tray of food out of Adora's hands and onto the ground.

"Eat off the floor, like the Horde Dog you are."

Adora walked away, crying, as Glimmer turned to face the others, while laughing.

However, Mermista, Scorpia, and Bow weren't laughing.

The three of them left the table and walked over to Adora, who was sitting at a table by herself, crying.

Bow, Scorpia, and Mermista sat down by Adora, much to her surprise.

Mermista helped Adora sit up and wiped away tears tears from her face.

Bow spoke first.

"Yes, you might be wearing that dreadful uniform, but if Blitz thinks you're a good person, we'll give you a chance. Glimmer was in the wrong, but she'll warm up to you eventually."

Glimmer, from her own table, stood up and walked out the door, past Blitz, angrily.

"Fuckin Horde Soldiers." Glimmer mumbled to herself.

Blitz tried to avoid the conflict, so he just went and grabbed some breakfast.

As he was eating, Loona and Octavia sat down at his table.

"Hey... Blitz." Loona greeted, feeling shy.

"Good morning, Loona, Octavia. How're you two doing today?"

Octavia cut straight to the point.

"You're fucking my Dad, aren't you."

Blitz started choking on his food, before Loona hit his back hard enough to help him cough out the food.

Blitz looked at Octavia like she was about to grow into a Dragon.

"W-well, I... we were just... Stolas wanted to... then I wanted to... it's more complicated than that."

Octavia shrugged.

"It's okay if you are. I just wanted to know. I mean, even if you're doing it with my Dad, you're not the worst person he shared the same bed with. Fuck Stella!!! Anywho, I don't want you to feel awkward, so I already give you my blessing. You seem like a great person and my Dad really, really loves you."

Blitz was confused, before letting out a sigh of relief.

"At least you're cool with it."

"Eh, better Rodeo Blitzo than Stella." Loona chimed in.

Blitz was now confused.

"Also, why is it "Rodeo?" Shouldn't it be "Circus Blitz?" I mean, I grew up in a Circus."

Loona shrugged.

"I dunno, Dad, maybe it's because the Horde is fuckin stupid."

Octavia, Blitz, and a few other people looked at Loona in shock.

Loona was confused, before Octavia mentioned it.

"You just called Blitz "Dad." You said "I dunno, Dad.""

Loona blushed.

"No, I said "I dunno, Man.""

Blitz chimed in.

"Do you see me as a Father Figure, Loona?"

"NO! If anything, I see you as a Bother Figure because you're always bothering me."

"Hey!" Adora said from the other table, standing up. "Show your Father some respect!"

"I didn't call him "Dad!""

Blitz chuckled.

"No, no, no, Loony, I take it as a compliment."

"It's not a big deal." Carmen, who nobody noticed, said. "I call Shadowsan "Dad" all the time. And he used to be my Teacher."

Loona got an idea.

"Guys, jump on that! Carmen's Teacher adopted her!"

"Already known." Scorpia chuckled. "But you called Blitz "Daddy.""

Loona scoffed.

"No, no, no, "Daddy" is not on the list."

"But you did call him "Dad," Loona." Mermista said.

Loona sighed.

"Now, you shut up. You've been lying about your feeling with Sea Hawk for a while now."

"Okay, I lied when I said I didn't have feelings for him. But the "Dad" thing? That happened!"

Loona decided to use that as leverage as she jumped up.

"Ah ha!" She exclaimed. "Mermista said she loved Sea Hawk! It was a trap, thought of from my Genius Hellhound Mind."

Mermista rolled her eyes.

"I believe you." Blitz said.

"Thanks."

"Daughter."

Loona blushed and moaned in annoyance.

"Do you want to talk about it later over a... shooting lesson in the Shooting Range."

Loona smiled slightly with a bigger blush.

"I'd like that."

A few minutes later, they got done eating, and Blitz stood up, gathering Octavia and Loona's trays.

Blitz ruffled Loona's hair with a free hand.

"Don't worry, Loona, we can shoot glass bottles together later, Sweetie."

Blitz then kissed Loona's forehead, before waking away.

Loona blushed and buried her face into her hands in embarrassment.

Octavia laughed, before putting her hand on her New Friend's shoulder.

"Since my Dad is banging your Dad, I guess we're Sisters now."

Loona blushed harder and moaned loudly to herself.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz the trays away then made his way into the Recreational Room.

He saw C.M. was sitting on one of the couches, watching the Wizard of Oz on DVD, while patting his knees, all jittery.

C.M. had on a fresh brand of eyeliner and still wore his mask.

C.M. saw Blitz enter and stood.

"There you are! Blitz, you're going to wanna hear this!"

Blitz saw C.M. was more shaking than usual.

"C.M., did you get enough sleep?"

"Sorry, I'm just going through withdrawals. I still bench though. Wanna see!? Oh, nevermind, I gotta tell you this."

"C.M., just breathe."

Blitz inhaled and exhaled with C.M. to help him calm down.

"Now, speak slowly and quietly."

C.M. nodded.

"They raised the price for on your head. $50 Million dead."

Blitz chuckled.

"Well, I feel flattered."

"And $500 Million alive."

Blitz was now confused.

"Why ten times more for alive?"

"I dunno. But Horde Prime really, really is pissed off after you, uh, well, um..."

"Cut his dick off?"

"Yes, that! Sorry, withdrawals. Either way, you should probably watch your back. Oh, well, later."

C.M. was about to sit down, but Blitz raised his hand and stopped him.

"Go get some coffee. That'll hopefully help."

"Coffee? Yes, coffee! Good idea."

C.M. then speed walked out of the Recreational Room, still looking jittery.

Blitz sat down and turned the TV from DVD Player to Live News.

666 News was on, like always.

And like always, Katie and Tom were fake smiling.

"Good morning, Horde Denizens. After a baffling show of cruelty from that Imp known as "Rodeo Blitzo," our Beautiful, Handsome, Godlike, Still-Big-Dick-Having Lord has raised the price of his bounty."

"That's right, Katie. $50 Million for just his head and $500 Million for his whole body. Wow, I bet Blitz wishes he could turn himself in for that kind of cash. But why is he wanted more alive than dead, Katie?"

"Because our Lord is kind and finds value in everyone. Traitors included!"

It then showed Blitz's Wanted Poster.

Blitz laughed, amused that they made an entire poster for him.

It then cut back to Katie and Tom.

"And in other news, Governor Amber Heard of California and Oscar winning Actress is releasing her new book: "Breaking A Few Fingers To Make A Fist." Look for it in stores."

Blitz then turned off the TV and got up.

If the Horde hated him now, just wait until he caused some real damage to them.

Blitz walked out of the Recreational Room and started for Chief.

He went into the room where they normally meet at, only to discover Player was the single person there, looking over the computers.

Blitz called out.

"Hey, Player, where's Chief at? I need to go over to next mission with her."

"Oh, she just went out to get some coffee. Just wait, she'll be here soon."

Blitz looked at the computer screen, seeing coding skills better than people triple Player's age.

Blitz had to ask.

"Player, how are you do good at hacking. I give it you, were what? Five or six when the Horde took over. I don't think you can just learn skills like this under their reign."

Player then snapped.

"Maybe you should stay out my fuckin business!"

Blitz was taken aback, before Player took some deep breaths.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Blitz. It's just... I don't like talking about it."

Blitz looked at Player with empathy.

"Player. How did a Child find his way over here with the Resistance?"

Player sighed.

"My Parents ran a Resistance Group in Canada. My Mother taught me hacking skills on the side with the best Hackers money could buy. But only a couple years ago, the Horde caught up with us. My Parents were shot in front of me, but the only thing I could do was run. I managed to take a laptop with me though. A few months after that, I was hacking into their systems, stealing money and creating fake ID's to get myself around. Chief found out about me and Zim picked me up from New Mexico, bringing me here. Chief might not like it, but she had no use me, a Child Hacker, to help bring the Horde down. But I'm not complaining. You handle the fighting, but leave the computers to me."

Blitz nodded, before someone else entered the room.

"Respect, Player!" C.M. cheered as he entered with two mugs of coffee. "You be the Max Martin, Blitz'll be the Backstreet Boys."

C.M. walked over to the two and handed Blitz a mug of coffee.

"Thought you might like some coffee too."

"Thanks, C.M."

Chief, Glimmer, Stolas, Shadowsan, and Carmen entered the room.

"Well, well, it's great to see everyone is here." Player announced. "Now there is a slight problem."

Blitz walked over to Stolas and gave him the coffee, Stolas happily accepted it.

Carmen looked at the screen.

"Shit!"

Shadowsan gasped and cleared his throat, startling Carmen.

"I-I mean crap!"

Shadowsan then smiled.

Chief looked at the screen too and sighed.

"Maelstrom has a magic barrier extending across the whole Academy. Blitz will have to go through a portal right in the Alleyway behind the Academy, where magic can be used, and sneak in through there."

"We could also goose chase V.I.L.E., saying Blitz is at the Empire State Building, while Millie and Moxxie are in it to shoot out with the Horde and V.I.L.E." Player suggested.

Blitz and Chief pondered together.

"That's an excellent idea! Security will be low because most of them will try to capture Blitz, not knowing that they just missed the chance to meet him."

"Yeah, let's do it!" Blitz cheered. "But I'll need a cellphone. Not just before I call, but also after so I can keep in communication, as well to call Zim so he can pick me up from the roof."

"Well, the only phones we have are stationary. Yes, they'd work to call the spaceships, but the only cellphones allowed in Prime's World are V-Phones, created by V.I.L.E. to keep a leash and track people, so they're not allowed here, and none of us were able to bring a cellphone from before that Prime can't track."

"I have one." C.M. said, before taking a ship of his coffee.

Everyone in the room looked at C.M. like he suddenly announced he was pregnant.

C.M. stopping drinking his coffee and looked at them, confused.

There was a moment of silence, before Carmen broke the silence.

"You have a V-Phone!?"

C.M. was more confused now, before realization hit him and he started laughing.

"No, I have a cellphone. You know, one that Horde Prime can't track me with."

Everyone let out a sigh of relief.

Stolas stepped up, confused.

"When I put you in your bed, I didn't see a phone."

"Oh, it was charging. I normally charge it under my bed with the power outlet under it."

Chief stepped forward.

"Do you have it now?"

C.M. nodded, before drinking more coffee.

"電話を見せてください。" Shadowsan ordered.

"Y-yeah, what he said." Blitz chimed in.

C.M. stopped drinking his coffee and sighed.

"He asked to see my phone. Alright, fine."

C.M. reached into his pocket and pulled out his Nokia 3310.

Blitz grabbed C.M.'s phone and started examining it.

"You use a Nokia 3310?" Chief asked.

C.M. shrugged.

"What's a Nokia 3310?" Glimmer asked.

C.M. answered.

"It was a pretty common phone in the Prison I was at. It's reliable, indestructible, there are games on it, (high score in Snake), and, for this Fucked Up World, untraceable when making calls."

"どうやって手に入れたの？" Shadowsan asked.

"When I was on the run, I found myself in a contraband room. Got my guitar, walkman, headphones, DS, and that Nokia 3310 from that room, all brand new and never used. Zim found me my TV, VCR, DVD Player, and all my posters, videogames, music cassettes, and movies when he went out there and came across them."

"What about your Cat?"

"I didn't find Keekee. Keekee found me on the run, before Zim."

Blitz finished examining the phone and nodded.

"This is the phone I need. I'm keeping it on me for now."

"No, you ain't!"

C.M. grabbed his phone from Blitz and put it back in his pocket.

"You already took my Six Shooter and now I have an empty holster. You took my joints and now I'm jittery. You took my acid and now I can't ride with rainbows. I'm keeping my phone."

Stolas sighed, handed Shadowsan his coffee, before kneeling down besides C.M., grabbing the coffee from his hands and handing it to Blitz.

Stolas placed his hands on C.M.'s shoulders.

"C.M., Blitz needs your phone. You won't get it back, but you will get, in return, is a world with a bright future for you. When this is over, you will have the Hotel you always dreamed of. And all it'll cost, is one phone. And even still, I know you'd eventually give Blitz the phone anyway. You wouldn't be as selfish as you see yourself these days. No, I know you're better than this. You know it. Now, please, relinquish the phone to Blitz."

C.M. sighed, pulled out his phone and handed it over to Blitz.

"But I'm not giving up my walkman or headphones, and I plan on holding onto my guitar until the day I die."

Stolas smiled, before standing up straight, putting his hand on C.M.'s shoulder, and leading the both of them out of the room.

"So, you have a walkman? What kind of songs do you love?"

""Weird Al" Yankovic. I love the song 'Eat It' and 'I Love Rocky Road'. They always make me happy when I'm down."

"That sounds so nice. And you have a guitar too? How about we go back to your room and you show me how well you can play base?"

"Okay, but it'll have to be through headphones, because even though we're technically safe, we need to be quiet or people will hear us."

Stolas opened the door, both of them walked out, and Stolas closed the door behind them.

Blitz looked at the phone and the coffee cup in his hands, and then back to the others.

"How the fuck does he do that?"

Everyone else shrugged.

~~Timeskip~~

Zim, Moxxie, and Millie were in the room now, Stolas came back real quick to open the portals.

Everyone was informed for what he plan was.

Blitz started giving orders.

"Zim, head over to a ship and start flying, but remain away from New York until I call."

"Yes, Sir!"

Zim ran out of the room to find one of the only ships they had.

"Millie, Moxxie, are you ready?"

Moxxie now had his robotic eye, with the ability to shoot lasers, as Entapta said.

"They took my eye, so I'll take their heads."

Blitz nodded at them and then to Stolas.

Stolas opened up a portal to the top floor to the Empire State Building inside of a closet.

Millie and Moxxie stepped inside with their rifles, ready to kill Horde Soldiers.

They turned around and nodded, making Stolas close the portal behind them.

Blitz then turned to Stolas, before grabbing his axe.

"Remember, when I'm gone, go listen to C.M., he can play a good guitar."

Stolas smiled, nodded, and opened the portal to the alley behind the Academy.

Blitz ran through and Stolas closed the portal.

Luckily, there were no cameras.

Blitz just had to wait a little bit.

A V.I.L.E. Guard walked right outside of the building to smoke before he turned turned to face Blitz.

They both froze, heaviness in the air.

The shaking Guard turned to see one of Blitz's Wanted Posters on the alley wall.

The V.I.L.E. Guard had a rifle.

Blitz looked him in the eyes and smirked.

The Guard set the gun on the ground and raised him arms about his head in fear.

Blitz motioned with his head towards the trashcan, the Guard nodded and ran inside the trashcan, shutting it behind him.

Blitz picked up the rifle with his free hand and wrapped it over his torso.

Blitz pulled out his phone and called the Horde.

"Hello, this is Blitz. I'm at the Empire State Building and I'm going to FUCK YOU UP!!!"

Blitz then hung up.

He waited for ten seconds.

Just then, there was a loud siren and all the Horde and V.I.L.E. Vehicles nearby drove to the Empire State Building.

Blitz smirked and walked inside.

All the V.I.L.E. Students were inside of their rooms, so the Hallway was empty.

Blitz saw that Two V.I.L.E. Guards turned the corner.

They froze, before raising their guns, but Blitz shot them both dead with his Silenced Pistol.

Blitz then walked down the Hallway, before seeing the map on the wall.

Professor Maelstrom's Office was on the top floor.

Blitz hoped there was an elevator.

Blitz then continued down the Hallway, when another Guard walked out of a room.

Blitz instantly swiped his axe in the air and cut off the Guard's head.

When Blitz turned the corner, he saw an elevator down the next hallway.

Blitz started walking down, when two Recruits jumped in the Hallway.

"Ha! If it isn't the infamous Rodeo Blitzo!? I'm Spinkick!"

"And I'm Flytrap!"

"We want that bounty, Impy Boy!"

Blitz shot them both in the head with his pistol, then stepped over their corpses.

"At least punch first next time in Hell."

Blitz managed to make it to the elevator with no issues.

He clicked the button to the top floor.

After a minute, he was there.

The Hallway had no more Guards and he walked down it until he saw a Double Door for Professor Maelstrom's Office.

He put his head against the door and listened in.

"Most of my Guards are on their way to capture Blitz Buckzo in the Empire State Building." Came Professor Maelstrom's voice from the other side.

"Good! Good! I want him alive!"

"However, it might have to be dead. I still don't get why you want him alive, I mean, he humiliated you in front of the Masses."

"You don't get it. But it hasn't even been our anniversary yet."

"But why would he go to the Empire State Building? There are no V.I.L.E. Heads there. He must just be a stupid Imp."

"Or maybe we were played for Fools."

Blitz walked into the Office.

Professor Maelstrom had his bad to him as he was facing a big screen with Horde Prime's face.

Horde Prime saw Blitz enter and smiled.

"My, my, if it isn't my Blitz. Miss me since our date last night?"

Professor Maelstrom turned around in fear, before standing up from the chair he was in.

Blitz grabbed the rifle off his back and pointed it at Maelstrom.

Maelstrom tried to run, but Blitz riddled him with bullets, like Swiss cheese.

Professor Maelstrom fell to the ground, panting in agony as he tried to crawl away, blood staining on his carpet.

Blitz marched right up to Maelstrom and kicked him onto his back.

Professor Maelstrom put his hands over his head, shaking frightfully.

"Nej, nej, snälla! Ha barmhärtighet! Jag betalar dig!"

Blitz scoffed and put his axe to Professor Maelstrom's neck.

"English, Mother Fucker! I can't understand you!"

Professor Maelstrom nodded and panted in fear of Blitz.

"I will pay you. Let me live. Please!"

Blitz started laughing.

"After everything you've done? Naw, naw, you've got this coming."

Horde Prime sighed happily from the screen.

"Oh, Blitz, you're trying to make me jealous aren't you? Just kill him already."

Professor Maelstrom looked at Horde Prime in fear, then back at Blitz.

Blitz cut off Professor Maelstrom's head with his axe.

Blitz was about to walk out of the room.

Horde Prime called after him.

"If you're going, at least call me."

Blitz stopped and looked over his shoulder.

"You're not my type."

"Oh~, playing hard to get, aren't we?"

"You'll never catch me, Bitch."

Blitz ran out of the room and looked for the stairs.

He pulled out his phone and called Zim.

"It's over! Get to the roof now!"

Blitz then called Stolas.

"Get Millie and Moxxie out of there, it's done!"

Blitz then put the phone in his pocket and ran to find the way to the roof.

After rounding the corner, he saw the door leading to the roof and ran right outside.

Zim landed the ship and opened the door.

Blitz ran into the ship, Zim closed the door, and they took off.

Blitz sat down and caught his breath.

What exactly did Horde Prime mean the way he was talking about anniversaries or Blitz making him jealous.

~~Timeskip~~

They arrived back home and landed the ship.

They both went inside and found a bunch of people applauding their return.

"Half of them are dead!" Mermista cheered.

"Horde Prime doesn't stand a chance!"

"Rodeo Blitzo! Rodeo Blitzo! Rodeo Blitzo!"

Blitz chuckled and bowed.

Millie and Moxxie walked to the group, then everyone applauded them.

"Moxxie, My Man!" Scorpia cheered.

"Y'all killed four dozen of them!"

"We're gonna win!"

Blitz smirked, but realized Stolas wasn't there, so he walked away to find him.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz walked into the Recreational Room to see C.M. was playing his guitar into the headphones Stolas was listening to.

Stolas saw Blitz enter and took off the headphones.

C.M. wasn't mad, he was happy to see Blitz had made it.

Stolas scooped Blitz in his arms and hugged him.

"Blitzy, you did it! You must've really made Maelstrom scream! You definitely make me scream."

Blitz chuckled, while C.M. shuddered at the thought.

"Um, maybe not say what you two do?"

Stolas looked at C.M. sympathetically and set Blitz down.

"I'm sorry, C.M."

Blitz grabbed Stolas's hand and Stolas turned to face him.

"Stolas, I don't want to hide it anymore. I love you and I want to officially call you... my Boyfriend."

Stolas froze, blushed, before squealing happily, then scooping up Blitz again and kissing his face.

"You didn't even have to ask."

Blitz smiled, held Stolas's face in his hands, then leaned in for a kiss, which Stolas shared with him, in each other's warm embrace.

C.M. got up, grabbed his guitar, then walked out, giving them some privacy.

Quality Time With Daddy

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

Blitz and Stolas continued kissing, before Stolas broke the kiss.

"Let's save some for tonight, Blitzy."

Blitz smiled.

Stolas then smiled at Blitz too.

Blitz then remembered something important.

"Oh, later, Babe. I just remembered I'm teaching Loona how to shoot!"

Blitz kissed the back of Stolas's hand and ran off to find Loona.

Stolas stood there with a big blush on his face, realizing Blitz called him "Babe."

Blitz walked down the hallway and saw Adora was walking down the hallway as well.

Adora smiled and waved.

Both were taken aback when Glimmer teleported into the hallway and grabbed Adora, throwing her as hard as she could into the wall.

Adora fell to the ground and Glimmer kicked her in the side a few times.

"Dirty, fuckin Horde Soldier! You might've tricked my friends, but you can't trick me!"

Adora tried to crawl away, but Glimmer grabbed her by the hair and was about to punch her in the face, before Blitz ran up to grab Glimmer's wrist, making her let Adora go.

Blitz shoved Glimmer to the side, then offered his hand to Adora, who took his as he helped her back to her feet.

Glimmer fell onto her back as she glared up at both of them.

Blitz looked down and scoffed.

"I wonder how many Horde or V.I.L.E. Defectors are too afraid to fight because of your hypocrisies."

Glimmer growled in anger as Blitz walked away with Adora.

The passed C.M.'s room and Blitz opened the door.

C.M. was playing his guitar as he looked towards them.

"C.M., Adora got kicked in the side by Glimmer, spend some time with her."

C.M. nodded and motioned for Adora to enter, before she sat down on the edge of his bed with him.

C.M. put the headphones on her and started playing his guitar to calm her down, as she breathed out calmly.

Blitz then had to ask.

"How're you so good at that?"

"Parents were rich, signed me up for a lot of Instrument Classes. After years and years of practice, anyone can master the skill."

Blitz then smiled and closed the door as he made his way to find Loona.

Blitz made his way to the Cafeteria, seeing Loona was sitting at a table with C.M.'s walkman, listening to music with spare headphones.

Blitz walked over to her and tapped on her shoulder.

Loona looked at him and took off the headphones, standing up to hug him.

"Is that C.M.'s walkman? I thought he said he was done giving things away."

"Oh, I'm just burrowing it. He let me. He even gave me his "Weird Al" Albums to listen to."

Loona broke the hug, before her tail wagged in excitement.

"Are you going to teach me how to shoot?"

Blitz smiled and nodded, making Loona squeak in excitement.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz took Loona to the former V.I.L.E. Meeting Room, which they now used to use glass bottles off the table.

Blitz had given Loona a rifle and she was aiming it at the table, while Blitz was behind her.

Loona was taking deep breaths, but felt safe because her Father Figure was there with her.

"Okay, Loony, once you have your target, try and pull the trigger."

Loona took a deep breath in, a deep breath out, as she pulled the trigger.

The bullet it the table, missing the bottle by a few inches to the right.

Loona thought Blitz was going to tell at her for making that mistake, but he actually clapped his hands.

"Good job, Sweetie, you almost hit it. Just aim a little more to the right."

Loona aimed more to the right right and pulled the trigger.

The bottle was shot into pieces, from her bullet.

Loona smiled, before aiming to the bottle right beside it and firing.

She hit it.

The next bottle, bullseye.

Loona then took her finger off the trigger, lowered the gun, and set it down on the ground, breathing heavily.

Blitz grabbed her hand and pulled her into a hug, causing her to blush.

"Good job, Sweetie! I'm so fuckin PROUD of you, Loony. All in one lesson. You're so smart!"

Loona started crying, tears of joy, before she pulled Blitz in for a tighter hug.

Blitz noticed her tears, reached a hand towards her face, and wiped the tears away.

"Hey, are okay, Loony? You did perfect."

"I-I... I love you, Dad!"

Blitz was taken aback, joy hitting him like a bucket of water, but he had to know.

"You aren't used to compliments, are you?"

Loona shook her head and broke the hug.

"Back at the Hellhound Pound, if you messed up, you were tased. If you perfected it the next time, no compliments, just "eh.""

Blitz looked at his Daughter with empathy.

"Loona, I know what that's like. My Father, Buckzo, never loved anything I did for him. He abused me, my Mom, and my Sister. At least in this fucked up, fucked up world, I have an excuse to kill a Bastard. But he had no justifications for what he did."

Loona looked at the ground, upset about hearing the news.

But Blitz reached his hand and cupped her face gently.

"Don't worry, Loona. As long as I'm around, nobody will harm you ever again. If they do, I'll flay them, castrate them, and keep them alive long enough to do 45 million pushups."

Loona giggled under her breath and hugged Blitz again.

"Thanks, Dad."

Blitz chuckled.

"Don't you mean "Thanks, Man?""

Loona chuckled.

"No, Dad."

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was drinking his glass of wine.

An Imp Slave was rubbing his shoulders, reciting the lines Horde Prime made.

"Oh, Horde Prime, I'm sorry for being a bad, bad Imp." The Imp Slave said, feeling dead inside. "Oh, but I'll rub you off just to make it up to you for my atrocities."

Horde Prime stood up angrily and threw his wine at the floor, shattering the glass.

"NO, NO, NO! You're saying it all wrong! I want to feel like you're submitting, not already enslaved, you stupid Imp!"

Horde Prime sat back down and the Imp Slave continued rubbing his shoulders.

"I'm sorry for not appreciating the luxuries you gave me. I'll happily cover myself in sticky, sticky oil and roll on the ground like a little, fuckin dog."

Horde Prime sighed.

"You're saying the lines right, but you don't sound like Blitz. Are you fuckin stupid? We've been at this for an hour."

The Imp Slave had enough and walked in front of Horde Prime.

"I'm not a fuckin Actor! It's not my fault you can't do shit right!"

Horde Prime started to lose it inside, anger growing on his face.

"How about "Oh~! Yes, Hordy Primy. I cut ya duck off, but I'm a good boy~. Sucky, sucky, sucky for me, cause you can't be sucky, sucky, suckied! You fuckin disappointment!" Is that more your fuckin tempo, HUH!?!"

Horde Prime stood up, but the Imp wasn't afraid of him.

Horde Prime felt something in him that he thought was a myth: fear.

Horde Prime called in a Guard.

"Kill this Imp outside."

The Guard dragged the Imp out, but he didn't lose his hope.

"Why? You only have power when we're afraid? Fuck you! Blitzo will free us!!!"

After they left, Horde Prime sat in his throne and started sobbing to himself.

If he lost the advantage of fear, hope would prevail, and he'd lose 12 years of universal power.

He had to find Blitz and make him submit to him, or the Horde would lose.

Chapter End Notes

I'm taking requests for what anyone wants to see in future chapters.

Countess Cleo

Blitz and Loona were walking down the hallway, when Bow ran up to them.

"Blitz! It's urgent! The Chief says she needs to see you immediately."

Blitz looked at Loona, before pulling her into a hug.

"Sorry, Loony. But I promise we can hang out together in the Recreational Room and watch TV tonight."

Loona smiled and nodded, before Blitz ran alongside Bow to Professor Maelstrom's Old Office.

Chief, Shadowsan, Glimmer, and Zim were looking at the screen furiously as Player typed away on the keyboard.

Chief noticed Blitz enter and marched up to him, not furious at him, but full of hysteria.

"Countess Cleo is heavily guarded! We can't break in!"

Blitz was baffled.

"What are you talking about? We managed to perfectly infiltrate Horde Bases before. What's a few more Guys?"

"They amped up Security tenfold. With Robots, Horde Soldiers, V.I.L.E. Guards, Exterminators, Cherubs, and Guard Dogs! It reaches out to thousands of Guards! You may be tough, but that's too much for you or whomever you bring with you."

Blitz sighed and rubbed his eyes with both of his hands.

"And, I'mma take a wild guess, we can't teleport or fly in?"

Chief sighed and shook her head.

Blitz sighed and buried his face into his hands, anger bubbling out of him.

Just then, Entrapta entered the room with a smile.

"Hey, Guys, I've got a brand new invention!"

Chief, feeling defeated, sighed and looked at Entrapta, too frustrated to bear a smile.

"Yes, Princess Entrapta? We'll see."

Entrapta had a watch and a biohazard dome, before walking to an empty table, opening the dome, pressing the button on the watch three times, then throwing it in the dome and closing it.

Everyone was watching, confused, before the watch emitted heavy fire, making them jump back in shock.

"Don't worry, the dome is fire resistant, inside and out. I made the watch explode with a small bit of electricity and a small dose of gasoline."

Blitz walked over to Entrapta and examined the still burning fire as it cooled down.

"How wide would it have went had it been outside of the dome?"

Entrapta chuckled and pondered.

"My best calculations would say... about a mile wide and sixty feet high."

Everyone looked at each other, completely baffled, before looking back at Entrapta like she was insane.

Chief had to know.

"Why would you make this?"

Entrapta shrugged with a smirk.

"Thought it could be a useful weapon for defeating the Horde. There's no force like a grenade, it's just like a torch, but with a lot more width."

Zim spoke up.

"Damn, Entrapta, if anything went wrong, hundreds of people would... could... Hey! I have an idea!"

Blitz knew what he was going to say and answered for him.

"I go in, let them take me to Countess Cleo themselves, then I set them ablaze."

Zim nodded and clapped his hands.

"You can't be serious." Shadowsan exclaimed. "You'd be killed!"

"On the contrary." Player said. "Imps aren't even slightly affected by Human Fire. So he could detonate the device, and he'd be perfectly fine. The only explosions that can kill Imps are from rockets and grenades, but only from the force. It was discovered in 2011 during the Imp City Enslavement by the Horde and Exterminators."

Chief sighed in relief, not from the news of the Imp City Enslavement, but from the fact that they could finish their mission.

Blitz turned to Entrapta.

"For the love of Satan, please tell us you have more."

Entrapta smiled and nodded, Blitz let out a sigh of relief.

"Man! First you give Moxxie a robotic eye, now you're the solution to our problem in our time of need."

Zim got up and walked over to Entrapta, giving her a fist bump, looking at Blitz with a smile.

"I told you, Man. The Horde is tough, but we got Entrapta. Entrapta is smart. And smart always wins."

Blitz chuckled.

"Zim, you and C.M. are also smart."

Zim laughed and fist bumped Blitz.

"Well, you can expect that from C.M. when he's a Psychiatrist. And before then, he already had a Bachelor's Degree in accounting when he graduated High School."

Everyone looked at Zim confused, except Entrapta, as it was new and sudden information to them.

Zim explained.

"Oh, his Rich Parents signed him up for a Dual Enrollment program. The Man had an Associates Degree as a Junior. He then later went on to get a DO Degree in Psychiatry."

Everyone then nodded, understanding what he meant.

Blitz clapped his hands together.

"Well, Ladies and Gentlemen, and let's go fuck up more of V.I.L.E.!"

~~Timeskip~~

Zim dropped Blitz off the very edge of Beverly Hills.

Blitz got off the ship and Zim flew off.

There were luckily no innocent civilians in Beverly Hills nowadays.

They all had been evicted, so that Force Captains and V.I.L.E. Officials could live their, with the only exception being Imp Slaves.

There was heavy security already at the edge and they raised their rifles at Blitz.

Both V.I.L.E. Guards.

"It's you. If I kill you, I still make $50 million. So don't test me."

Blitz shrugged.

"Take me to Countess Cleo."

The Guards scoffed.

"What? Like we're going to take you to your target? Fuck that."

Blitz stepped forward, the barrel of the rifle inches away from his face.

"I come unarmed. And if you think that you could pull one over on Countess Cleo, good luck. $500 million alive? Well, even if you collect, Cleo has Billions. You will pay."

The Guards looked at each other, then back at Blitz, who extended his arms.

"I have no weapons."

One Guard kept a rifle pointed at Blitz, while the other one patted his coat and pockets.

The only thing he could take out was the lighter and the Nokia 3310 that he got from C.M.

Luckily, the Guard was too stupid to realize Blitz had the watch on him.

The Guard laughed at the Nokia phone.

"You have a fuckin Nokia? What're you? A fuckin Retard?"

Blitz felt anger boil up inside of him at the Guard's insult of his friend, but kept his cool, knowing the Guard would be dead soon.

"I got it from my friend."

"What? Was your friend retarded? I thought we killed them all."

The Guards laughed, while Blitz kept his cool.

He could just use the watch, but he had to get to Cleo to guarantee she was dead.

The Guard put the phone and the lighter in his jacket pocket.

The Guards then grabbed Blitz's arms.

"Walk, Imp."

The Guards forcibly dragged Blitz past the gate.

Blitz couldn't believe it.

He was being taken straight to his target.

Many other Guards noticed Blitz was being dragged, they couldn't help but cheer and laugh at him.

Blitz saw Huge Robots.

The same ones that killed Chase Devineaux.

After a few minutes of "walking" in a parade of people laughing at him, they finally reached Countess Cleo's Mansion.

An Imp Slave opened the door and they all walked in.

He was taken straight to the Library and seated down, quite forcibly.

Countess Cleo was in the chair across, eating caviar and reading Charles Dickens.

Countess Cleo set the book down and looked straight at Blitz, crossing her legs, then folding her arms with a smirk.

"So, the infamous Rodeo Blitzo just happened to come straight to my doorstep, unarmed."

Blitz sighed, deciding he could be merciful enough to get Countess Cleo a last minute conversation.

"Actually, it was at the front gate."

Everyone, Countess Cleo included, looked at each other and laughed.

Countess Cleo turned back to Blitz.

"So, you can still keep your sense of humor? I like that. It shows bravery, so I can kill you and destroy your spirit."

Blitz rolled his eyes and leaned forward.

"I killed that big Bitch and that wannabe Vampire mother fucker. What makes you think you can hold me?"

The Guards laughed and pointed their weapons at Blitz.

Countess Cleo smiled and leaned forward.

"I have a Guest. I knew you had to come, so I invited someone. You'll love to see him."

Blitz was confused, until he saw who entered and he couldn't believe his eyes.

"Hello, Son. It's been a while."

~~Flashback~~

Buckzo broke into Blitz's room, knocking down the door with a kick.

Buckzo had a shotgun.

Blitz was on his bed before he got off and was pressed against the ceiling.

Buckzo pointed the barrel close to his face.

Blitz wet himself.

Buckzo laughed and lowered the shotgun.

"Boy, you really are a little Faggot. Nothing but a goddamn disappointment."

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz stared at his Father, who entered the room, brandishing a shotgun.

Buckzo walked over to the chair, right besides Countess Cleo, sat down, and looked at a nearby Exterminator.

"Go fetch me a goddamn drink."

Buckzo turned to face Blitz with a smile.

"Boy, real power ain't those bombs are the gun. It's the ability to get people who hate you to do your bidding. Then again, I do have myself this here shotgun."

Buckzo pointed the barrel towards Blitz and laughed.

Blitz wasn't afraid.

He wasn't an eight year old Boy anymore.

Even the Guards and Exterminators in the room looked at Buckzo with disturbed expressions.

Buckzo stopped aiming the gun and pulled out a cigar, lighting it up, putting it in his mouth, smoking.

Blitz kept his murderous glaze on Buckzo as he spoke up.

"How's the Circus, Dad?"

Buckzo laughed.

"Boy, I haven't been in a Circus for over a decade. I own a Multi-Million Dollar Business now. Guess Fizz wasn't as useful as I thought."

Blitz scoffed.

"So I take it you're not here to save me?"

Buckzo shook his head.

"You had your chance. You should've kneeled or sucked it. Now MY LAST NAME is on your dirty Wanted Poster. Two months back, even by Imp Standards, Buckzo was a name of renoun and respect. And, once again, you fucked it up!!! You Murderer."

Blitz sighed to himself, before continuing.

Countess Cleo looked between Buckzo and Blitz, realizing that maybe she went too far.

"It seems, once again, that you decided to sell out. Heard you sold out everyone along with you."

"Well, I had to get money. Opened myself up that once 5-Star Hotel, that you stained with blood. Years ago, everyone hated me, but now I'm well taken care of. And now, I can taxidermy every goddamn Hellhound I see."

Even the Exterminators in the room thought Buckzo was a little overboard.

Buckzo continued.

"All you had to do, to be taken care of, was just give into Horde Prime. But you humiliated him! Now my name is ruined! I would've kneeled down to you had you given in. Hell, I would've sucked your dick."

Everyone, even Countess Cleo, looked at Buckzo, absolutely disgusted.

They might have been evil and turned a blind eye to despicable acts, but even they thought Buckzo was slightly better.

How wrong they were.

But Buckzo wasn't done yet.

"You had to join the Army against the Horde. And you made your Mother worry."

Blitz sighed.

"How's Mom?"

"She's gone."

Blitz felt his heart hurt, but he kept his head up.

"What happened?"

"They took her. And Barbed Wire too."

Blitz, despite the Guards aiming weapons, stood up, filled with anger.

"What do you mean they mean they took them?"

The Guards kept their weapons pointed, but kept listening in.

Buckzo responded.

"They enslaved all other Imps. They also rounded up the Irkens, the Faggots, the Retards, the Succubus, the Hellhounds, the Old Feds, and the Royals. This Horde Prime's Universe now, you gotta kneel to him."

Blitz clenched his fist and stared down at Buckzo.

"You sold them as Slaves."

"So what!?! Your Mother kept telling me what's what and your Sister was another disappointment. They were both shot dead soon after."

Blitz trembled with anger.

"You Sunova Bitch!"

Buckzo stood up and pointed his shotgun at Blitz's head.

"Sit down. Horde Prime will be here after they purge the Isle of V.I.L.E.'s Old Location."

Blitz flinched.

"What?"

"They found out where your Queer Posse was and a few minutes ago they sent Platoon after Platoon. It was only a matter of time until they found them. Now the remaining Retards, Fags, and Hellhounds will be either Slaves or killed. I'll pay top dollar for another Hellhound to gut."

Blitz had enough.

"FUCK YOU!!!"

Blitz reached for the watch, pressed the button three times, and fire emitted into a mile long radius.

Countess Cleo and the Guards burned, screaming in agony as the flames engulfed them.

Buckzo and Blitz weren't affected.

Buckzo looked around and then back to Blitz.

"You goddamn-!"

Blitz grabbed Buckzo by the head and started smashing his face against the floor multiple times, hard.

"FUCK YOU! FUCK YOU! FUCK YOU!"

It was only a second later that Buckzo was dead.

Blitz took some deep breaths, before running to the Guard who had the Nokia phone in his coat and taking it back.

Blitz found that it still worked.

"It really is almost indestructible."

Blitz called Zim for an evacuation.

Blitz ran outside, Zim Landed.

Despite the heavy fire, the ship was fire resistant.

Blitz ran in through the open backdoor and Zim closed it.

"They found the location! I don't know how! Go, go, go!"

"Shit!" Zim exclaimed, before flying the ship as fast as he could back to the base.

Blitz called the base.

Player answered.

"Player, the Horde found our location!"

"I know! Me, Shadowsan, Carmen, Chief, and Millie are hiding in our meeting room with the door barricaded. We don't know where anyone else is. But we know that Scorpia, Perfuma, and Lonnie are dead. The rest are either dead, hiding, or captured. Hurry!"

Player hung up the phone.

Blitz turned to Zim.

"Another home the Horde ruined."

~~Meanwhile~~

Catra was hiding in the vents.

~~Meanwhile~~

Glimmer, Bow, and Mermista were hiding in a closet.

~~Meanwhile~~

C.M. was in his room with the door locked, packing as much of his stuff as possible, wrapping his guitar around his torso.

C.M. drank a potion he made for such events, feeling weird as the effects took control almost instantly, before pulling his mask back down.

C.M. turned to Keekee.

"Come on, come on, come on! We gotta go!"

Keekee turned into a key, C.M. grabbed her, put her in his front pocket, grabbed a box with his stuff, opened the door, and ran out into a thankfully empty hallway, running to find the others.

~~Meanwhile~~

Stolas was turning Horde Soldiers into stone with his eyes, until an Exterminator threw a spear into his shoulder, knocking him down and rendering him temporarily powerless.

Loona and Octavia were behind him, and the three raised their hands above their heads in surrender.

Exterminators dragged them outside, behind the base, and threw them into a prisoner ship, along Moxxie, Entrapta, and other Prisoners spared from lead or spears for the time being.

~~Meanwhile~~

Blitz and Zim landed on the shore in front of the base.

Blitz and Zim grabbed rifles from the ship and ran into the base.

They were going to save whomever they could and kill any Horde Soldier they saw.

Safe Haven Ravaged

A Horde Soldier opened the closet door to where Glimmer, Bow, and Mermista were.

The Horde released a gas into the air that rendered their powers useless.

And Bow was unable to grab his bow and arrows.

The Horde Soldier laughed and pointed his weapon at them.

"Three more to my list." He laughed to himself.

"Soldier, stand straight." Came a voice.

The three turned to see Adora march up to the Horde Soldier, causing the Horde Soldier to lower his gun and stand straight with a salute.

"Force Captain Adora! Glad you're okay."

Bow and Mermista looked at Adora with betrayal in their eyes, but Glimmer looked at Adora with anger.

"Once a Horde Soldier, always a Horde Soldier."

Adora looked at Glimmer and smirked, before looking at the Horde Soldier with a serious expression.

"Give me that rifle."

The Horde Soldier nodded and handed his rifle to Adora.

Bow, Mermista, and Glimmer looked at Adora with eyes of worry.

Adora examined the gun, nodded, then looked back at the Horde Soldier.

"Very nice."

The Horde Soldier saluted.

"I take care of my weapons, Force Captain."

Adora shrugged, before pointing the rifle at the Horde Soldier and firing upon him.

The Horde Soldier fell to the ground, dead.

Adora then turned back to Bow, Glimmer, and Mermista.

Bow and Mermista were excited, but Glimmer thought she was going to kill them.

Adora noticed Glimmer's expression and scoffed.

"What? Because of where I was born, I'm automatically a Bad Guy?"

Adora finally removed the Force Captain Badge and dropped it on the ground, before closing the door, hiding Bow, Glimmer, and Mermista.

Three Horde Soldiers rounded the corner, but Adora shot them dead.

"Come and fuckin get me, you fuckin Bigoted, Murderous, Evil Horde Soldiers!"

Adora ran down the hallway, killing all the Horde Soldiers she could.

~~Meanwhile~~

Blitz and Zim heard the gunfire as they entered.

They saw at least a dozen Horde Soldiers in the hallway, before they shot them dead.

They had to find the others.

They ran down the hallway together and looked for Professor Maelstrom's Old Office.

A Horde Soldier shoved Zim against the wall when they rounded the corner, assuming he was alone, before realizing Blitz was with him when he shot the Horde Soldier dead.

They turned all the corners, killing Horde Soldiers, Exterminators, and V.I.L.E. Operatives, spilling their blood on the floor.

When they rounded another corner, they saw an Exterminator had C.M. on his knees and was ready to execute him.

Blitz shot the Exterminator dead.

Zim ran over and helped C.M. to his feet.

C.M. picked up his box off the ground, before turning to Blitz.

"Shit, Man. The Evil Horde fuckin found us! I don't know."

Blitz shrugged.

"I guess Horde Prime realized that he had to find me by searching every inch of the Earth."

Just then, Adora rounded the corner, surprising everyone.

She weld two rifles and was covered in the blood of Horde Soldiers.

She was panting as she walked towards them.

"Damn, Blitz, I've wanted to kill Horde Soldiers my whole life."

Blitz, Zim, and C.M. looked at each other and nodded.

Just then, a Horde Soldier rounded the corner and riddled Adora with bullets.

Adora fell to the ground, then Catra jumped out of the vent, crying, as she tackled the Horde Soldier and started clawing him to pieces.

After she clawed his face, she got and walked back to Adora.

Zim held the dying Adora in his arms.

Adora was panting and coughing blood.

Catra fell to her knees and grabbed Adora's hand, tears steaming down her eyes.

Adora looked at Catra and smiled.

"Hey, Catra."

"Hey, Adora." Catra chuckled slightly through her tears.

Adora sighed, before coughing more blood.

"Catra, why did this have to happen?"

Catra shook her head and continued crying.

"I don't know, Adora."

"Why did I have to be a Horde Soldier?"

Blitz knelt down and held Adora's second hand, rubbing the back of it with his thumb.

"Adora, you were never a Horde Soldier. You were just a good person trapped in the wrong place."

Adora nodded, before crying more.

"I'm so cold."

Blitz couldn't help himself anymore and started crying.

Adora turned to face Catra again.

"Catra... I... I love..."

Catra listened with pleading eyes.

Adora exhaled, then stopped moving, her blue eyes never leaving Catra.

Catra trembled in devastation.

Zim reached forward and closed Adora's eyelids.

Blitz looked at Adora's cold, dead face, and saw her for what she was.

Young woman, who's light was extinguished by the Evil Horde.

But they couldn't stay for long, or they'd be dead.

Blitz helped Zim set Adora on the ground, then helped Zim stand up, the both of them still crying.

Catra was still in her knees, crying.

Blitz didn't know what to tell her.

His tone was gentle.

"Catra, I'm sorry. But we have to get going."

Catra shook her head.

"I want to stay with her."

Blitz looked at her with empathy.

He wasn't going to let Catra stay here and die.

"Adora wouldn't want you to stay and die. She'd want you to keep on fighting. If you die, the memories you share together die. I know I'm not good at feelings, but I know one thing: you're pissed. Take that anger and kill the fuckers who took OUR Adora away from us."

Catra looked at Blitz with an expression of anger, not at Blitz however, and tears in her eyes, before nodding.

Catra kissed Adora's dead forehead, before standing up and readying her claws.

Blitz turned to the other three.

"Let's go. We got more people to save."

They all left, but not before giving Adora a glance of devastation.

They made more turns.

Blitz and Zim shot the Horde Soldiers.

Catra clawed their faces off.

When they finally got to Professor Maelstrom's Old Office, they killed all the Exterminators outside of the Office.

As soon as they were clear, the office opened, then Chief, Player, Millie, Carmen, Shadowsan walked out of the Office.

Carmen and Player had bags ready.

"We gotta get out of here." Chief said.

Blitz nodded, before turning to Player.

"Where's everyone else?"

"I don't know." Player sighed. "If they're not decomposing, they're captured. The prison ship is behind the building."

Blitz saw that Loona, Octavia, and Stolas weren't there.

"We gotta go save them."

Shadowsan stepped up.

"We can't at the moment. As of now, they're alive. We need to get ourselves out of here first."

Blitz sighed and nodded.

He hoped his family was okay.

They all were about to make their way out of the building, Blitz guarded the front, Zim guarded the back.

C.M. stayed in the back, before stopping Zim and handing his box to him, pulling Keekee from his pocket and putting her in the box.

Zim was confused, before C.M. sighed.

"I'm not going."

Zim's eyes went wide and he looked at C.M. with devastation.

"C.M., we gotta leave or we'll die. You're my best friend!"

C.M. sighed and looked Zim in the eye.

"Look, Zim, I appreciate the offer and what you've done for me, but I've been running and hiding my whole life. So sick of the fuckin silence. When I'm gone, they'll remember me, because at this moment, right now, it's gonna be loud."

C.M. grabbed his guitar then ran into the Office, closing the door behind him and locked it.

Zim sighed, knowing C.M. made his choice.

Nobody else seemed to notice as they finally made their way out of the building.

They walked down the hallway, before Bow, Glimmer, and Mermista walked out of the closet and sighed.

"Glad it's you." Bow sighed.

"Get in the group, we're getting out of here." Chief ordered.

The three nodded and joined the group.

Zim handed Mermista C.M.'s box.

"Please hold this. I gotta keep guard."

Everyone then noticed C.M. wasn't there.

"Where's C.M.?" Blitz demanded.

"He's staying."

"Why!?"

Zim sighed and smiled.

"You'll see why in a moment."

"No, no, no! We have to go back and get him!"

Chief stepped up towards Blitz.

"If you do that, we will all be dead. Let C.M. have his moment."

~~Meanwhile~~

C.M. had blocked the Office door with furniture.

A few Exterminators started banging on the door, trying to get in.

C.M. ran over to the computers, connecting his guitar, and connecting headphones with a microphone into the system.

He started typing into the computer, hacking into every radio frequency in existence.

It was going to take a minute.

C.M. was happy Player taught him how to hack into the frequencies.

"OPEN THE DOOR, SUBHUMAN!"

C.M. called behind him.

"Y'all been chasing me for over 200 years, just give me one last minute, Man."

~~Meanwhile~~

The group continued down the hallway.

They heard a commotion from around the corner.

Blitz readied his rifle, then a Horse Soldier ran around the corner.

Blitz shot him dead.

The Horde Soldier was actually running from something.

GIR then rounded the corner, covered in blood.

“Ah just turned them all into cheese."

Zim was happy seeing GIR was alive.

"GIR, come here."

"Massah!" GIR shouted with joy, before the little robot ran over to Zim, who used an arm to scoop him up.

The group then continued, turning down the opposite corner GIR came from.

When they got into the middle of the hallway, they saw Sea Hawk's corpse.

A distressed Mermista screamed in devastation, but Glimmer dragged her with them.

From outside, the prison ship flew off, taking the Prisoners to Irk for Doctor Bellum.

They managed to get outside and saw that the ship was still there.

Most of them ran onto the ship, but Shadowsan stayed behind.

Blitz and Carmen, from the ship, looked back towards him.

Shadowsan looked at Blitz.

"I'm going to hold them off. Take care of my Daughter!"

"Dad!" Carmen called out, pleadingly.

Shadowsan looked at Carmen with an empathetic expression.

"I'm sorry, Carmen. You can do great things. I know it's hard for you, but I can't go with you. Not after all the crimes I've committed while in V.I.L.E."

"Dad, please!"

"Make me proud."

Carmen tried to get off the ship, but Blitz held her back, then Zim, from the driver's seat, closed the backdoor.

Carmen kicked and punched the door, crying and pleading.

Blitz let her go and turned to Zim.

"Turn on the radio! We need to know what the Horde is thinking."

Zim turned on the radio and the news was on.

"Well, reports have shown that the Horde has found where the rebels are." Came Katie Killjoy's voice.

From the ground, Shadowsan pulled out his Katana and readied himself for battle.

Horde Soldiers ran outside and tried to tackle him, but he cut their heads off.

He killed seven of them, before one of them shot him with their rifle.

He fell to the ground, looking at the sky.

Shadowsan wished Hideo was resting in peace and that hopefully they could meet in another life.

He closed his eyes and slipped into comfortable darkness, feeling happy that his Daughter was alright.

~~Meanwhile~~

C.M. was still typing on the computer.

It beeped.

He finally managed to hack into all radio frequencies in the Universe.

C.M. pushed the final button needed and put on the headphone with the microphone.

~~Meanwhile~~

"And it seems that they've captured or executed many of the-."

Everyone was confused as the radio was cut off, before a familiar voice was heard.

"Hello, People of Prime. Goddamn Traitors. If you recognize my voice, good job, Man. But I'm not here to say who I am. I'm here to discuss the worst thing in the Universe: The Evil Horde. I might not have been famous, but before I'm killed, I'm playing my song."

"OPEN THE DOOR, RETARD!!!" Was heard outside of the room."

Everyone, not just in the ship, but around the Universe, heard C.M. and listened.

~~Meanwhile~~

C.M. grabbed his guitar and faced the banging door.

He began playing it and singing.

"🎶 Help me help you out~ 🎶 , 🎶 I'm gonna need a little more~. 🎶 🎶 Sick of all your doubt 🎶 , 🎶 burn me to my core. 🎶 🎶 I'm trying to bail you out~ 🎶 , 🎶 you don't want help. 🎶 🎶 See you in Hell~. 🎶 "

Just then, the Exterminators managed to bust down the door.

"What is that!?" One of them exclaimed.

"One of the worst kinds of weapons!" Exclaimed another. "Slaughter him!"

One Exterminator shoved his spear into C.M.'s neck, another stabbed her spear through his chest, and another through his stomach.

C.M. coughed blood, making it leak through his mask.

"What a trip, Man." C.M. chuckled while coughing blood.

C.M. then fell down onto the ground, dead.

One Exterminator destroyed the computers, removing control over the radio frequencies.

~~Meanwhile~~

Blitz and the rest heard C.M. get slaughtered on live radio.

The whole Universe did.

666 News was back on.

Only Katie was speechless.

"Ju-just cut to commercial."

Zim turned the radio off, set the ship into autopilot, before bawling his eyes out.

Everyone looked down at the floor.

They lost their homes, their Friends, and didn't know where else to turn to.

Carmen was still hitting the door, when Catra got up and pulled her into a hug.

Carmen hugged her tightly as she cried into Catra's shoulder.

Blitz looked at the others.

"What are we going to do now?"

Glimmer scoffed and looked up to him.

"What do you mean? We lost our base! I say we hide somewhere and stop fuckin with Prime."

Millie stood up, walked over to Glimmer, and slapped her hard.

Glimmer looked at Millie with rage, before seeing how distressed Millie was.

"They took my Husband. We're not giving up!"

Zim looked back towards them, wiping away his tears.

"They're at Doctor Bellum's office on Irk."

Everyone looked at the crying Irken, before he continued.

"Last time I was captured, Doctor Bellum came to me, offering my freedom if I sold you out so she could experiment on you. I didn't take the fuckin offer. Our safest bet is to kill that fuckin Bitch."

Blitz nodded, before looking at everyone else.

"Let's not give up! That's what these fuckers want! Our dead aren't going to be seen as mistakes. They're Martyrs! Our Martyrs! They died for us. So we fight for them!"

Everyone looked at Blitz.

They didn't know why, but they were going to follow him.

"First, we get a new base, then we break out our Family. And then we shove a knife right up Horde Prime's fuckin BALLS!"

Everyone was devastated, but of them clapped for Blitz.

They now had even more reason to kill Horde Prime.

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was in his Throne Room in Heaven, when one of the Guards entered.

"Did you capture Blitzo?"

The Guard shook his head.

"Our men were burnt. Thousands just... Dead! Countess Cleo is dead too-."

"Yeah, yeah, yeah! Just tell me when you get Blitz."

The Guard gulped.

"Actually, Sir,...we found his body in the wreckage. His fuckin head, Man, it was splattered."

Horde Prime flinched.

"So he's dead?"

The Guard nodded.

"Yes, Sir. So I think we-."

"GET THE FUCK OUT!!!"

The Guard ran out of the room, not wanting to get killed too.

Horde Prime sighed to himself.

"Dammit, Blitz. We could've been... so good together. All you had to do, was love, honor, and obey. Oh, well. Now I'll kill your Resistance."

Armada 2.0

Blitz sat in the front seat, next to Zim, who was still crying over C.M.

"We need to find a new home and free our friends, my Family. But I thought of how we can do both. Are there any ships on Irk? A ship big enough to house, say, a couple hundred lost, desperate souls?"

Zim looked up, wiped his eyes, then stared at Blitz in realization.

"The Armada 2.0 is such a ship. It was made by the Horde three years ago from Irkrn Slaves and used remanence of First One's technology. The main ship is the Massive, but there are many smaller ships aboard, supposed to protect the Massive at all times, but Horde Soldiers used them as escape pods. It was made to be able to not be detected, not even by Prime himself."

Blitz was confused.

"In a world where that No-Dick Fucker is in charge, why is there construction for ships that can go under the radar?"

Zim chuckled bitterly.

"It was used to attack the last few areas that refused to roll over to Prime, before sending in hundreds of Soldiers to make the rest of the Civilians die or be Slaves. After they assumed they had all that was left, the Armada 2.0 has been left of Irk, gathering dust. Or waiting for US to steal it. But it's heavily Guarded by Horde Soldiers."

Blitz sighed, knowing he'd need some help, before turning to the others.

"We have a destination! We get a home and we free our friends!"

Everyone looked up at Blitz.

"But I'll still need people. A few people to help me lift our new home off the ground and to kill all Horde Soldiers."

Blitz looked around, but nobody volunteered, and Blitz refused to give up.

He knew they were with him, but they doubted themselves.

He had to break that doubt.

"You Princesses have powers. Use them against our oppressors! They may've given you bullshit that says you're not good enough, but dammit, you can fight!"

Mermista and Glimmer looked at each other, smiled, and nodded, knowing Blitz was right.

Mermista then set C.M's box in the empty seat next to her.

Blitz turned to Bow.

"Bow, you backed me up perfectly with nothing but arrows. Don't doubt the fact you can fight these Bastards again."

Bow smiled.

Blitz turned to Millie.

"If you aren't going to do it for yourself, do it for your Husband. He's still alive."

Millie stood up, ready to fight.

"Yee-fuckin-haw!"

Blitz smiled at her confidence, before turning to Chief with a straight face.

"They enslaved your Agency twice. Show them that they fucked with the wrong Woman."

Chief smiled and pulled out her pistol.

Blitz turned to Catra with a look of empathy.

"Did Adora die for nothing?"

Catra readied her claws and shook her head.

Blitz then looked at them all with a smile.

"Let's fuck these fuckers up together!!!"

Everyone got up, confidently, and cheered.

Blitz then turned to Player and Carmen.

"But you two, stay on the ship with Zim."

They were both confused, until Blitz explained.

"Player, you're too young and we have to unfuck what the Horde did. So you need to stay for a brighter future. Carmen, keep him company."

Player nodded reluctantly, then so did Carmen.

~~Timeskip~~

They made it to Irk.

As they were in the sky of Irk, they couldn't help but cringe at the Horde propaganda everywhere and the hundreds of Irkens in the streets who just took it.

Blitz looked back at Zim.

"I'm sorry this is what happened to your home, Zim."

Zim sighed and shrugged.

"Irkens themselves aren't clean from violence. Makes me wonder if Irkens, as a whole, can't be free."

Blitz looked at Zim with empathy.

"Don't think like that. Everyone deserves a second chance. Even Force Captains."

Zim sighed, before raising his head up.

"Let's get rid of this fuckin Horde."

Blitz smirked.

"That's more like it."

Zim landed the ship in landing zone, and two Horde Soldiers ran to it with rifles.

"We weren't expecting any shipments today."

Zim opened the door and Blitz pointed his pistol at the Horde Soldiers, causing them to drop their weapons in fear.

Blitz smirked, before asking.

"The Armada 2.0. Where is it?"

"Straight down the right of you."

"What kind of security?"

"Today, it's minimal outside, only three dozen guarding inside."

"What kind of artillery?"

"Ju-just tasers for today."

"Put a "Sir" on that."

"Just tasers for today, Sir."

"Naw, naw, like you said it before, Mother Fucker."

"Ju-just tasers for today, Sir."

"That's better."

Blitz then turned to Catra, who had just walked out.

"Your choice." Blitz chuckled.

The Soldiers shook while Catra equipped her claws.

"This is for Adora." Catra growled at them, before clawing their throats, killing both Horde Soldiers.

Chief, Glimmer, Mermista, Bow, and Millie got off the ship, before Zim flew off to keep Player and Carmen safe.

Blitz and the group snuck to where the Armada 2.0 was.

They slit the throats of every Horde Soldier in their way.

When they got to the Armada 2.0, they hid behind a nearby crate, looking over it.

There were only five Guards outside.

"Okay." Blitz said. "We sneak past them, silently kill the Guards inside, keep it there for a while, bring all the Prisoners aboard, then we fly off."

Bow was confused.

"Zim said there were ships aboard. Why not just fly it off, then bring one of the smaller ships back to pick up the Prisoners?"

Blitz pondered for a moment, before nodding.

"O-or that can work too. But we can't turn the rest on until Zim removes the transponders inside. Zim's ship can collect our friends and bring them aboard."

Everyone nodded.

"Should we sneak attack?" Chief asked.

Blitz chuckled.

"With a plan like that? We can go guns-a-blazin."

Everyone smiled, before jumping out and attacking the Guards.

They used the sudden shock of the Horde Soldiers to their advantage.

Glimmer teleported to a Soldier, kicked them in the crotch, and moved out of the way as Blitz shot him in the head.

Chief shot a Soldier straight through the head with her pistol.

Mermista sent a wave at a Horde Soldier, splashing him off the ground and into a wall, breaking all his bones.

Catra tackled a Horde Soldier, straddled his waist, and clawed his face into bloody ribbons.

The last Horde Soldier tried to run, but Bow shot him with a rifle.

Bow looked at the rifle in his arms and scoffed.

"Too easy. I miss my bow."

Blitz stood right besides Bow and pondered for a moment.

"Wait, your name's Bow, and you use a bow. Is that a coincidence or..."

"My Dad's wanted me to learn the skill, but to still be a Librarian, okay!?"

Blitz jumped back from the outburst.

Just then, a dozen Horde Soldiers ran out of the Armada 2.0 with tasers.

Blitz, Chief, and Bow shot them all dead, before everyone ran into the Armada 2.0.

All the Guards tried to fight them.

Blitz shot 12 dead in the head or chest.

Chief shot two dead in the head.

Bow shot three dead.

Mermista couldn't use her water powers to avoid ruining the Armada 2.0, but she shot five dead with a rifle.

Catra cut two Horde Soldier's throats, leaving them to bleed out.

After assuring all Horde Soldiers were dead, Blitz ran to the control panel and tried to fly.

"Shit! I can't fly this type of vehicle! I can't even drive a car without running down something!"

"Call Zim!" Bow shouted. "We can lose that old ship. There are plenty of ships and weapons here."

Blitz pulled out his phone and called Zim, informing him plans have changed.

~~Timeskip~~

Because all of the outside Guards were killed, nobody called for reinforcements.

Zim landed the ship and opened the backdoor close to the Armada 2.0.

Him, Carmen, and Player quickly ran out and went into the Armada 2.0.

Zim also brought C.M.'s box.

After everyone was there, Zim took control of the driving.

Everyone braced themselves and Zim started taking off.

A Guard from another Tower noticed and clicked a button, sending out a loud siren.

More Horde Soldiers ran to the scene and tried to shoot down the Armada 2.0, but it was futile as it had already flown into space.

The Rebellion now had a new base.

~~Timeskip~~

Everyone breathed out a sigh of relief, just as Zim set the course of the Armada 2.0 to fly in a straight line, then turned on autopilot.

Everyone got up and met in the ship's Cafeteria.

Chief spoke up.

"Okay, Everyone, find yourself a room. There are... Zim, how many rooms are there."

"About 350."

"350 rooms. So nobody complains about not having a room. And, Zim, how quickly can you get to work, removing the transponders from all the ship's before we turn them on?"

"Immediately!"

Zim ran off to get rid of all transponders.

Blitz was getting nervous.

"What about the Armada 2.0's transponder?"

"Oh, the Armada doesn't have one. Undetectable, remember?"

Blitz sighed in relief, before getting serious.

"But we still have the manner of freeing our friends, my Daughters, and my Boyfriend."

Chief gave Blitz a smile.

"We'll save them. I promise. Just wait for Zim to get rid of all transponders and you can free all the people."

Blitz inhaled, before looking out of a window.

"Security is going to be even tighter... good. More fuckin Horde Soldiers to kill."

~~Timeskip~~

After an hour, Zim removed the transponders and dumped them out through the airlock.

Zim ran up to Blitz.

"So, we can go now."

Blitz looked at Zim and nodded.

He'd already gotten what he needed for the Armada 2.0's weapons closet and was ready to save his Family.

Millie walked up to them with a rifle.

"I'm saving my Husband."

Blitz smirked at Millie.

"Let's go save our Families, Mills."

All three of them entered a ship, departed from the Armada 2.0, and began flying back to Irk.

Ready to kill Doctor Bellum and free the Prisoners.

Doctor Bellum

Zim landed the ship on the roof of Doctor Bellum's Prison, before turning to Millie and Blitz.

"Be careful."

Blitz smiled.

"Never are, but I manage."

Zim chuckled, before opening the backdoor.

Millie and Blitz ran out of the ship and Zim closed the backdoor.

Horde ships were in the air and Zim flew off to distract them, allowing them to chase him.

Blitz and Millie ran into the Prison from the top floor.

When they entered, they say five Horde Soldiers in the top hallway, armed with tasers.

Blitz shot two dead, Millie shot two dead.

The last one put his taser down and raised his shaking hands in surrender.

Blitz walked up to the Horde Soldier, rifle just a couple inches from his face.

"Where are all the Prisoners?"

"Th- there in the floor below. There are cells where we keep them."

"Where's Bellum?"

"The bottom floor, but that's the most guarded. If she catches you, she'll cut you open all steal your organs."

Blitz scoffed.

"Her old ass will have to catch me first."

Blitz was about to walk past the Horde Soldier, but he grabbed him by the shoulder and held him back.

"Shoot me. Horde Traitors get the worst punishments. I can't see that shit."

Blitz turned around, before pondering.

"Well, okay. But only because you've been so cooperative."

The Horde Soldier nodded, before Blitz shot him in the head, causing him to fall to the ground, dead.

Millie and Blitz then ran down the hallway to find the elevator.

Horde Soldiers kept turning the corner, before Millie or Blitz shot them down.

All were only armed with tasers.

"What's up with all the fuckin tasers?" Millie exclaimed, before mowing two more dead.

"My bounty is tenfold with me alive."

After killing at least a dozen more Horde Soldiers, they finally found an elevator.

They boarded it and clicked the button for the floor below.

It descended, beeped, and they both arrived to the holding cells.

When they got out of the elevator, they saw dozens of Irken Prisoners, at least a dozen Imp Prisoners, a few Humans, a few Hellhounds, a couple Succubus, and a few Sinners.

And, of course, Moxxie, Entrapta, Stolas, Loona, and Octavia.

They were all in orange jumpsuits.

The first one to notice was a Hellhound named Vortex, who stood up and cheered.

"It's him! Rodeo Blitz is here to save us!"

Everyone finally noticed, before standing up and cheering, but Stolas, Loona, and Octavia were still sitting, upset.

Blitz turned to Millie, who pushed the release button, and all the cells opened.

Moxxie walked out of his cell, then immediately ran to his wife, causing the two to hug and sob to each other.

The Prisoners flew out of their cells.

Stolas walked out with Loona and Octavia, but wasn't cheering as much, before he walked over to Blitz, fell onto his knees, pulled Blitz into a hug, and cried in his shoulder.

Blitz returned the hug and rubbed the back of Stolas's head.

"Shh, Babe, it's okay. I'm here."

Everyone, except Millie, Moxxie, Entrapta, Loona, and Octavia looked at them in surprise.

"Woah, I didn't know Rodeo Blitzo was gay. And for the former Goetia Prince too."

Loona answered for them.

"Bisexual and the "o" is silent."

Blitz lifted Stolas's head off of his shoulder, cupped both sides of his face, pressed his forehead against Stolas's, and looked him in the eyes.

"So, I take it you heard the radio, huh?"

Octavia answered, tears rolling down her face.

"The guy flying the ship turned on the radio and we heard the whole thing."

Stolas sniffled.

"They killed them. They killed C.M.! I...I..."

Stolas began sobbing again.

Blitz extended one hand to Stolas's back and rubbed circles.

"C.M. gave one final middle finger to Prime."

"I can't believe I lost them again."

Blitz was confused, but he didn't judge.

"Hey, hey. It's okay. I'm here. I'm here for you and Loona and Octavia. I wasn't going to let Prime take away my new family."

Stolas let out a few more sobs, before Blitz helped him stand up.

Blitz then turned to Loona and Octavia, before walking over and pulling them into a hug, to which they also had to get on their knees.

"Oh, my sweet Baby Girls. I'm glad you're still here and you're still save."

Loona chuckled with a sob.

"Dad, you're embarrassing me again."

Octavia then spoke.

"Not exactly save, but we're together, and that's all that matters."

After a few more seconds, they had to break the hug, then Loona and Octavia stood up.

Blitz pulled out his phone and called Zim.

"Zim, come back to get our people then drop them off at the Armada 2.0, but don't come back for me right away, just drop them off first."

Blitz then hung up.

The Irken Prisoners were confused.

"I-Invader Zim is alive!? I thought he was purged or a slave elsewhere."

Blitz snapped into the Female Irken's face.

"Either we all work together, or you can go back in your cell. Your choice, Cunt."

The Female Irken nodded and stayed quiet.

Blitz then turned to Millie.

"Take them to the roof for evacuation. I have to deal with Bellum."

Loona stepped forward.

"I'll come with you, Dad."

"No." Blitz suddenly snapped, making Loona jump back, before his tone softened again. "No. I can't lose you again. Stolas lost his powers temporarily, but he'll take care of you for now and if anything should happen to me."

Blitz turned to Stolas, holding his hand.

"Stolas, take care of our Baby Girls while I'm gone. Don't worry. I'll be home in time for dinner."

Stolas nodded with a saddened face.

There were two elevators, so everyone else went inside, leaving Blitz alone.

Loona called from the elevator before it closed with tears.

"Dad, you better not die, or I swear to Satan, I'll murder you."

The elevators closed, taking them both up.

Blitz smiled.

"I know, Sweetie. I know you will."

Blitz then became serious as he walked to the staircase, descending down the stairs.

Going down the stairs, Blitz saw many Horde Soldiers, whom he blew away with his rifle.

Blitz pulled out a knife and skit the throats of many.

Slash.

Shoot.

Punch.

Kick.

Slash.

Shoot.

Punch.

Kick.

Slash.

Shoot.

Punch.

Kick.

And it continued like that throughout the entire descent down until he got to the bottom floor.

He kicked down the door and ran into Doctor Bellum's lab, before his legs began to feel wobbly.

He saw Irkens, Imps, Hellhounds, Humans, and Succubus tied to metallic tables.

Too late to save, because they had their chests cut open, their ribs spread apart, and were missing their internal organs, some had their skin flayed off.

Blitz had saw and done fucked up things.

REALLY fucked up things.

But for fucked up things in his book, this took the number one spot.

A laugh came from behind him, causing him to turn around, only to get a taser straight into his chest, sending instant pain, causing him to fall down.

Before slipping into unconsciousness, he looked up and saw Bellum standing before him, holding a taser.

"So, the infamous Rodeo Blitzo is grossed out by me. I'm so flattered."

Blitz tried to get up, but he slowly slipped into unconsciousness.

~~In a Dream~~

Blitz opened his eyes and saw he was in a room that was completely white.

When he stood up, someone from the distance came into view.

His Mother.

Blitz couldn't hold back his tears.

He wanted to rush to her, but an invisible force kept him still.

"Hello, my little Blitz. You've grown so big."

Blitz started sobbing with joy.

"M-Mommy?"

She smiled.

"That's right, Sweetie."

Blitz took some deep breaths but couldn't hold his tears.

"Mom, I... I..."

His Mother laughed.

"Don't worry, Dear. I'm not angry with you."

"Bu-but Dad-!"

"Your Father was a terrible, terrible Person. I don't know how someone as perfect as you came from his balls. But worry not. I'm not angry with you. I'm proud of you."

Blitz sobbed, but formed a smile.

"Well, I have to go, now."

Blitz started crying.

"Mom, wait!"

His Mother smiled again.

"Take care of Stolas and your Daughters. I'm just angry I couldn't meet them. But I know you'll make me proud."

With that, Blitz came to.

~~End of Dream~~

Blitz stirred until he was awake.

He tried to get up, but he was strapped to a metallic table, shirtless, barefoot, and without any of his things.

He turned to see his clothes, aside from his pants, were in a pile on the floor, while his phone, his lighter, and his knife were on the table.

Bellum was typing into a computer as well as writing things down facts into a clipboard.

He saw a picture on Bellum's computer.

It was Shadowsan's Wanted Poster.

Blitz tried to break out of the table, but that only got the attention of Bellum, who pulled her head out of what she was doing, and walked over to him with a smile.

"Well, well, who'd have thought that Rodeo Blitzo, even after a 14 year coma was so ripped?"

Bellum ran her hand down Blitz's stomach, causing him to growl at her.

Bellum only laughed, before walking over to Blitz's belongings and picking up his phone.

"And who would've thought he had a Nokia 3310? What kind of retarded shit is this?"

Blitz lifted his head up to look at her, pure anger in his eyes.

"My Friend, who you killed, gave me that phone. Call him a Retard again, and you'll fuckin feel worse than everyone else you killed, you Bitch!"

Bellum laughed as she put the phone down and walked over to another table, picking up a scalpel, then walking back to Blitz.

She raised the scalpel over Blitz's head, only to laugh when she saw he wasn't afraid of her.

Bellum set the scalpel down on Blitz's stomach, before grabbing the side of his face.

"Aren't you a tough, little thing? You've been out for a couple of hours, yet you're still kicking, huh?"

Blitz growled.

"And you seem smart, even by Imp standards, so I can tell you something. I think the Horde employs Retards. Look at Shadowsan's Wanted Poster. It's spelled 'S-H-A-D-O-S-A-N,' instead of how it's supposed to be spelled 'S-H-A-D-O-W-S-A-N.' I think we should purge that entire office to prove a point."

Blitz only looked at Bellum with pure hatred, but she kept pushing it, leaning forward and whispering.

"And it's a shame you had to let all the Prisoners go. I could've made a nice rug out of that one Hellhound, named Loona."

Blitz had enough as he leaned his head up, biting Bellum's nose, biting it bloody off, causing her to drop the scalpel.

Bellum screamed in agony, before stumbling back, coincidentally hitting the release button for the table Blitz was in, unbinding him as he quickly stood up.

"YOU LITTLE BITCH!!!" Bellum hallowed in agony, before getting up and running out of the room.

Blitz got up, walked over to his stuff, put on his clothes, grabbed his phone, lighter, and knife, before running out of the room after Bellum

Bellum, due to the bloodloss, was slow in the hallway, but made it to her robot suit.

She got in it and waited for Blitz.

When he arrived, Bellum used the robotic suit to slap him across the room.

Blitz felt his arm break amongst the impact.

Bellum walked up to him in the suit.

"Aaah'm gunna distoy yoo. AAAAH! Mah nose."

Bellum picked Blitz up and threw him across the room, quite violently, causing him to break one of his legs and scream in agony.

"Yoo fakkin fakkin Emp! Yoo bit ma nose aff, but yoo woll pay!"

Bellum picked up Blitz again, and threw him so hard on the ground, he got a concussion and was knocked out.

Bellum raised her robot suit's foot and was about to crush Blitz.

"Biy, biy, Radyo Bretz."

Just then, Stolas appeared in a flash, in full demon form.

Bellum froze in fright.

Stolas could use his powers again as he slammed into Bellum, ripping her and her robotic suit apart, hearing her screams.

After Bellum was finally dead, Stolas worryingly walked over to the unconscious Blitz, and picked him up in his arms.

Stolas cried as he opened up a portal and walked back onto the Armada 2.0, closing the portal behind him.

Everyone aboard saw the injured Blitz as Stolas carried him.

Two Irkens experienced with Medical, took Blitz on a stretcher, and brought him to the infirmary of the Armada 2.0.

Loona, Octavia, and Stolas stood by Blitz's side as he made his recovery.

But no matter what happened to Blitz, he would waken soon.

Still filled with his burning hatred for the Horde, V.I.L.E., and Exterminators.

Horde Prime was sitting on his throne, drinking mead, and watching TV.

Another rebellion, it seemed.

"We estimate that Horde Casualties range in the thousands on this tragic day alone." Said Katie. "Whomever these Terrorists are, our Lord will stop them."

Horde Prime scoffed.

Of course he'd stop them.

He's Horde Prime, after all.

But his mind was just in the fact he couldn't make Blitz kneel or beg him.

The humiliation that day, all for nothing but a simple execution.

He wanted more with Blitz.

He sighed and drank more mead.

"And from what the witnesses say, it seems that the Leader of the Hijacking of the Horde Armada 2.0 was none other than Rodeo Blitzo, who came in and immediately started…."

Horde Prime blocked out all other sounds as he stood up, dropping his glass of mead.

"B-...B-Blitzo?"

Horde Prime smiled wide from ear to ear as his eyes narrowed and he looked outside through the window in his Throne Room.

"...Darling."
