Horde Control (2/2)

by Cory_Ross_Gave_Up

Summary

Part 2.

Blitz has shown the Horde what they fear the most: hope.

But he's only just begun.

He needs to give the Denizens throughout the Galaxy enough hope to turn against the Horde, V.I.L.E., and Exterminators.

Read as he continues his fight against the Evil Horde, gaining alliances of his own, and showing Horde Prime he's not a force to be reckoned with.

Back In Action

Chapter Notes

Recap:

Blitz has successfully managed to kill the Heads of V.I.L.E., but that was just phase 1.

He now sleeps in a coma, after being injured by Doctor Bellum and her robot suit.

But his rest is coming to an end.

Blitz was in a bed in the Armada 2.0 Infirmary, unconscious.

His arm and leg were perfectly healed, the concussion had seceded.

He was shirtless, there were a couple of wires attached into his arm and chest.

He stirred in his sleep.

~~Flashback~~

"You don't get it do you. Before all this, before the Horde, before the Irkens, before the War, back home, Man, you were the Evil Hordes."

That was too much for Blitz as he shoved C.M. into the wall.

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz began groaning in his sleep, startling the Irken Medical Personal, who rushed to his aid.

~~Flashback~~

Coach Brunt's arm smashed through the wall, grabbing Blitz by the throat as she pulled him into her office, and threw him through her desk.

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz was beginning to toss and turn, tugging against the wires, as the Medical Personal tried to keep him still.

~~Flashback~~

Blitz was forced on his knees, in front of Horde Prime.

"SUCK IT!!!"

Blitz quickly elbowed the Exterminator behind him in the crotch, causing him to drop his spear.

Blitz grabbed it and shoved it into Horde Prime's favorite piece.

Blitz fell backwards as Horde Prime screamed in agony.

~~End of Flashback~~

Blitz opened his eyes with a huge inhale, causing the Medical Personal to jump back in fear.

Blitz then ripped the wires out of his arms and chest, sat up, continuing to breathe heavily.

One the Medical Personal ran to find Stolas, while the other stayed with Blitz.

Barely a minute later, Stolas, Octavia, and Loona ran into the room, straight to Blitz, and hugged him as they wept in joy.

Blitz was startled, but returned the hug.

After a few minutes, they broke the hug and Blitz had questions.

"How the fuck did I survive that?"

Stolas answered.

"My powers came back to me. I ripped her apart to save you before she killed you."

Blitz sighed, before kissing Stolas's cheek in gratitude, then standing off the bed.

It was only then, that Blitz realized his arm and leg weren't broken anymore.

Stolas saw the confusion in Blitz's eyes as he explained why.

"When you were out cold, I used one of the only spells I remembered. A healing spell. I thankfully managed to fix your arm and leg, seemingly overnight, which startled the Medical Personal on board."

Blitz chuckled, before looking Stolas in his eyes.

"I guess you really want to have sex again, huh?"

Stolas giggled slightly, while Loona and Octavia looked disgusted, causing Blitz and Stolas to stop discussing it forward.

Blitz stretched his arms and let out a yawn.

"How long have I been out."

"Approximately a week."

Blitz sighed in relief.

"At least it wasn't 14 years this time."

The Medical Personnel ran over and handed Blitz and T-Shirt with his own Wanted Poster printed on it.

"Ha! I'm on a shirt. Okay, let's get back to work."

Blitz was about to walk out of the room, but Loona grabbed his arm and kept him back.

"No, we have our own base. Let's let everyone else handle it as we live our lives, taking the last people who matter and letting the rest rot."

Blitz looked at Loona, baffled.

"Loona, you've gotta be joking. I can't leave everyone to the mercy of those Horde Assholes."

"Dad, no."

"Loona, we have to-."

"I can't lose you again!"

Blitz froze, then so did Stolas and Octavia.

Loona's, on wobbly legs, fell to her knees, pulling Blitz into a hug, crying into his shoulder.

"I thought you weren't going to make it. That fuckin Bellum broke your fuckin arm and your fuckin leg and she... and she... almost... FUCK!"

Loona held Blitz tighter and sobbed harder, shaking uncomfortably.

Blitz extended a hand behind Loona and rubbed her back soothingly, halting Loona's ferocious shaking.

"Loona, I'm sorry. I know I got a little... A lot roughed up. But I'm fine, now. We can't let the Horde keep power. They'll eventually find us again. Sure, we can get all Survivors of Horde Prime's constant purging, but we still need to get rid of him. And until that happens, Horde Prime will be afraid of me."

"But I love you too much, Dad."

Blitz sighed, lifted the poor Hellhound's head up, and kissed her forehead.

"I love you too, Sweetie. But this isn't something I wanna do. It's something I have to do. I know you understand. You're incredibly smart. And like your Uncle Zim always says...?"

Loona giggled.

"Smart always wins."

Blitz smiled.

"That's right, Sweetie. That's right."

Blitz helped Loona to her feet.

"Now, I'm going to go talk to Zim and Chief. I want you and Loona to go find something fun to do together."

Loona nodded.

"Good thing a couple of Resistance Members stole a shit ton of TV's and movies from one of the contraband buildings on Earth." Octavia chimed in, before walking over, grabbing her Sister's hand, and leading the both of them out.

Blitz walked over to Stolas, taking his hand, and leading the both of them out.

As they walked down the hallway of the Armada 2.0, the Resistance Members all looked at Blitz in amazement.

"It's him, he's awake."

"It's Rodeo Blitzo himself."

"Stolas really is dating him."

"He just refuses to die, huh? Horde Prime should've given up already."

Stolas led Blitz to their new room, now decked out with paintings and pictures of horses, as well as a TV and a bed.

Every room had a table instantly installed, on theirs there were books about Pirates and Horses.

Blitz let go of Stolas's hand and was about to leave, before Stolas grabbed his shoulder.

"You're leaving already? Shouldn't you rest up first? Maybe cuddle a bit?"

Blitz turned around, had Stolas get on his knees, then kissed his cheek.

"Thanks for looking after our Girls, Babe. But you know I have to take immediate action. After I learn what we're up against, then we can cuddle... and maybe fuck?"

Stolas giggled adorably, making Blitz giggle as well.

"I'd like that, Blitzy."

Blitz kissed him again, this time on the forehead, before smiling.

"I'll be back this time."

Stolas smiled softly, warmly, with trust.

"I know, Blitzy. I know you will."

Blitz left the room, with a tingly sensation in his heart, happy to have someone to return to.

A Resistance Member was about to walk by him, but Blitz grabbed the Irken's shoulder and stopped him, causing the Irken to salute Blitz and stand up straight.

"Rodeo Blitzo! How may I be of some service?"

"The "o" is silent for everyone, except Stolas. I need to find Zim. Where is he?"

The Irken sighed and answered.

"I don't know where Invader Zim is, but you should check in his room. It's located down the hallway and to the left."

The Irken then look side to side, before leaning in and whispering to Blitz.

"But do I really, really have to take orders from that Defect who removed his own PAK? He's a disappointment."

Blitz grabbed the Irken by the throat in an instant, choking him, and catching the gaze of everyone else in the hallway.

Blitz cleared his throat and spoke calmly

"Zim has fought for the Resistance for 12 years, and, throughout the Horde War, 4 years prior. So, yes. He's your higher up. Do you understand, Punk?"

The Irken was gasping for air and nodded, causing Blitz to release his hold, then the Irken fell to his knees, gasping for air.

"Thanks for informing me where Zim was."

Blitz walked off, everyone went back to their business, and the Irken cussed at himself for making Rodeo Blitzo angry.

Zim was in his room, GIR was sitting on the table, waving his legs back and forth adorably.

Zim was sitting on his bed, rummaging through C.M.'s box.

Blitz entered the room, making Zim pull his gaze away and towards Blitz, before he ran to him, pulling him into a hug.

"Damn, Blitz, I thought you actually died this time!"

Blitz returned the hug, laughing.

"Don't worry about me. Death keeps me on hold. I gotta see this through."

The two broke the hug, then Zim started rummaging through the box again.

Blitz saw the walkman on the table, next to GIR, with a cassette on top.

Blitz picked it up and read the title.

'C.M.'s My Crooked, LSD Dreams.'

Blitz chuckled a bit.

"C.M. made songs, huh? How are they."

When Zim heard C.M.'s name and grew bitter.

"Wouldn't fuckin know. Can't find the damn headphones in C.M.'s box. With all these posters, journals, movies, this envelope, and other cassettes, they're fucking buried."

Blitz instantly noticed Zim's anger and wanted to help.

"Hey, easy. I'm sure they're there somewhere. I take it that's C.M.'s box?"

"Yeah, I know who's box it is, Blitz. I'm not a fuckin idiot. Yes, I killed two Tallests, caused Horrible Painful Overload Day 1 and 2, and got exiled. And now I can't find some fuckin headphones, FUCK!!!"

Zim stood up in rage, before realizing that the headphones were under the bed, then grabbing them, sitting down in embarrassment.

Blitz looked at his Friend sympathetically, before grabbing the walkman and the cassette, putting the cassette in the walkman, then handing it to Zim.

"Thanks, Blitz." Zim sighed as he took the walkman.

Blitz sighed, before smiling.

"C.M. could sure play a guitar, huh?"

Zim chuckled with a sob.

"He always liked singing about rainbows after a rainstorm or about redemption."

Blitz nodded.

"I'll leave you alone for now. But do you know where Chief might be?"

Zim sighed with a slight smile, thinking about his Friend.

"She might be in the Cafeteria."

Zim put the headphones on, then pushed play on the walkman.

Blitz left, then GIR jumped off the table, onto the bed, then started rubbing Zim's shoulder, causing Zim to smile at GIR.

~~Timeskip~~

Chief was in the Cafeteria, getting breakfast, almost choking on her food when she saw Blitz walk up to her.

Chief grew happy to see Blitz was okay.

"Oh, my God, I'm so happy you're alive."

Blitz sat down at the table.

"Now that I'm back, let's continue our little... Revolution."

Chief nodded.

"Good. There's a lot more information we've learned recently. But first, go get some breakfast. You must be hungry."

Blitz nodded and got up to get breakfast.

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was eating breakfast, when one of his associates walked in.

"Did you find Blitz?"

The Associate grew fearful, but answered.

"Not yet, but we believe we need to change the Heads of V.I.L.E."

Horde Prime stood up angrily, before grabbing his Associate by the throat.

"No new changes until Rodeo Blitzo is my Personal Slave until he's fuckin dead. Or he'll just slaughter the New Heads and I gotta keep choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing and choosing."

The Associate gulped with the only air he had, before speaking.

"Maybe V.I.L.E. can choose, since they have proven a useful Ally."

Horde tightened his grip.

"Listen. What-fucking-ever your fucking name fucking is."

"It's Bradley."

"Shut the fuck up. My decisions are final. Oh, and, Retard?"

Bradley nodded in Horde Prime's grip.

"In no fucking way do you decide or anyone else decides who becomes V.I.L.E. Heads. I decide who becomes V.I.L.E. Heads. Got it?"

Bradley nodded.

"Good."

Horde Prime then broke Bradley's neck, before speaking to himself.

"My darling, darling, sexy Blitz. I will find you. And when I find you, you will make me feel fucking happy to own your ass."

The Next Level

After Breakfast, Blitz walked around to get everyone into a meeting.

Carmen hugged him.

Catra smiled.

Player fell out of his seat.

Millie and Moxxie hugged Blitz, crying into his shoulder.

And the only one left to get was Zim.

Zim was hearing the last song on the cassette, which was an extended version of "Right These Wrongs," giving him flashbacks to hearing C.M. die causing him to scream with rage and remove the headphones.

Zim looked back in the box, before grabbing the envelope, which was sealed.

He wondered what was in it to begin with.

He ripped the top open and couldn't believe what he saw: Acid Tablets.

C.M. must've forgotten about them when he tried to get clean.

Zim, despite GIR shaking his head, pulled one out and put it on his tongue.

Zim began to feel the effects, before putting the envelope back in the box, just as Blitz walked in, causing Zim to stand up.

"Yes, Sir, Blitz?"

Blitz was confused, but went with it.

Zim and Blitz went to the Meeting Room.

Chief began to talk.

"We have now found the location of many fellow Resistance Groups. One such group is located in a bunker, located in the outskirts of California. Inside are Succubus, Shape shifters, and former V.I.L.E. Operatives, who we can use to gain more information about V.I.L.E., still operating with the loss of the V.I.L.E. Faculty. But they're getting weaker. And our bounties are getting higher."

"So, what's the plan, Boss?" Asked Blitz, before Zim startling giggling.

"Yeah, what the plan-plan, Boss Lady, Man? I got so 'Eat It' and more of C.M.'s songs to get back to."

Zim dissolved into giggles.

Everyone was confused but continued on.

"We head over there and pick them up. They won't be expecting us, so, Blitz, use manners and don't startled them."

"Why not just call and say we're friendly?" Carmen asked.

Player answered for Chief.

"They're communication systems are down. I've tried to contact them in the past, but we could never breach through."

Blitz sighed before looking up.

"I guess I'm going to California. As long as it's not LA."

Zim stepped up.

"Let's, as that Cannibalistic Psychiatrist would say, fly, fly, fly. Damn, I feel good right now!"

Chief stepped up.

"Actually, someone else should drive. You seem a little weird at the moment."

Zim scoffed before limping out of the room.

Chief turned to Carmen.

"I learned Zim has taught you how to fly?"

Carmen nodded.

"Good. Blitz, until Zim feels better, Carmen will be your Pilot. Now let's hup to, People."

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz still wore his T-shirt, but was also wearing Black Cargo Pants, Black Combat Boots, a Shoulder Holster with a revolver, and Black Sleeveless gloves.

Carmen was flying the ship to Earth, before calling over her shoulder, gaining Blitz's attention.

"Maybe when the war is over, I can visit my last name, huh, huh?"

Blitz chuckled a bit at her bad joke.

"Carmen, when this is over... I... I wanna marry Stolas."

Carmen was surprised, but didn't jump out of her seat.

"Hey, I ship it. And I hope you can fly it."

Blitz smiled and nodded, before grabbing his rifle, readying himself as they were about to land in a few minutes.

~~Timeskip~~

Carmen landed the ship next to an abandoned building on the outskirts of town, then opening the backdoor.

Blitz turned to Carmen, who handed him back his Nokia 3310, he then put it in his pocket.

"How indestructible is this thing?"

"I have to fly off for protocol. Call me when you need me to evacuate everyone."

Blitz nodded, before getting off the ship.

Carmen closed the door and flew off.

Blitz turned to the abandoned building and went inside.

It had completely gone to shit, but Blitz had to keep looking.

Blitz decided to first remove the carpet, then, to his delight, he saw a trapdoor.

He opened it and found a ladder.

He went down the long ladder, finding a big metal door, before trying to open it.

He knocked as it immediately opened.

Blitz was then met with three people holding two rifles and a pistol at him.

One Incubus and Two Humans.

"Just who the fuck are you, Scarred Guy?" The Succubus asked.

One of the Humans was in his early twenties, wore Blue Jeans, Black Skate Shoes, a Red T-Shirt, a Black Hoodie, a Hat with a Pine Tree, there was a pistol holster in his belt, he was 5'10", had Blue Eyes, and Curly Brown Hair.

Blitz dropped the rifle and raised his hands up.

"Stay calm. I can assure you, that I am not a Horde Soldier."

Dipper came closer, pointing the pistol closer to his face, sideways with one hand.

"What was that? Did you say you were an Evil Horde Soldier Pig, Man?"

Blitz shook his head.

"No, no, no, I am not a Horde Soldier. I'm not a Horde Soldier. I'm an Imp. See?"

"Yeah, Man, but so is Cash Buckzo, but he the Don King Sellout for Imps. Ain't that right, Homeboy Graham?"

Crackle sighed.

"Yes, "Homeboy" Dipper."

Blitz spoke up.

"I'm Blitz. The Guy on the news. Horde Prime hates me more than any of you."

Dipper scoffed.

"Or maybe you a Shape Shifter sent by the Horde Pigs or the V-I-L-E-S-O-B's to capture us and sent us to the same cellblock that OJ Simpson belongs in. But fuck that, Man, I'm like the Man from Mars, if you try to run, I got a gun, so I'll shoot you dead, but won't eat that ugly ass head. Am I right? Am I right? I know I'm right."

Blitz sighed.

"Oh, fuck this."

Blitz grabbed Dipper's wrist, pulled him closer to, ripped the gun from his hand, knocked him to his knees, out him in a headlock, then pushed the pistol into Dipper's forehead, startling Crackle and Ace.

"Let me say this again. I'm not a fuckin Horde Soldier."

"Enough of that shit!"

Everyone turned to see the Boss enter with her arms crossed, who Blitz couldn't believe to see again.

Verosika Mayday.

"Now, Blitzo, you hand us back our Pinetree, or I'll jam my foot so far us your ass, you'll never sit again."

Blitz sighed and released Dipper, who was gasping for air, before Ace and Crackle pulled him to his knees.

Blitz shook his head.

"Verosika. Long time no see."

Verosika didn't reply as she walked over to Dipper, making sure he was alright.

"Dipper, this guy actually is Rodeo Blitzo. I don't think a Shape Shifter would come and catch us yet."

Dipper nodded, before his eyes went wide, he started smiling, and cheering.

"Holy-fuckin-shit, Man! I almost got killed by Rodeo fuckin Blitz, Man! That's so cool!!!"

Ace, Crackle, and Verosika chuckled, before Verosika turned to face Blitz.

"What're you doing here? Come back after all these years?"

Blitz sighed, before mimicking Dipper.

"Naw, "Homie," I'm here to save "y'all." We've been trying to make contact with your Group for a while. We're going to start a Revolution to liberate the World."

Verosika chuckled and looked at the other three.

"Ace, take this Asshole inside, give him some coffee. We gotta talk."

They all made their way into the next room, before Blitz grabbed Dipper by the shoulder and handed him back his pistol, before Dipper holstered it.

Dipper's excitement grew, as he walked to a group with more Succubus and Incubus, as well as a couple V.I.L.E. Defects.

"I almost got killed by Rodeo Blitzo, the Dude himself. It was far out, Man, I saw my life flashing and shit."

The people at the table faked interest to not hurt Dipper's feelings.

"Okay, that's amazing, Dipper." Tigress chuckled.

Most everyone else watched in awe as Blitz entered the bunker.

The Bunker was covered in posters, had couches, tables, and a Ping Pong Table, as well as a few TV's.

Verosika sat down on one of the couches, motioning for Blitz to sit across from her.

Blitz did so, before Ace handed him a cup of coffee.

Verosika crossed her arms, before looking at Dipper with a smile.

"Hey, Dipper, do you think you can go back to the next room and watch the security cameras?"

Dipper jumped up and nodded.

"Sure thang, Homegirl Verosika. That's how we raise the roof up in this bitch."

Dipper walked into the next room, closing the door behind him.

Blitz looked at Verosika with an annoyed face.

"That Guy's kinda cringe."

Verosika shrugged.

"We still love hanging out with him. He's a nice Guy when you get to know him. He's, say, like a little Brother to most of us."

Blitz shrugged, before setting his coffee on a nearby table and leaning forward, crossing his arms.

"Okay, but how the fuck are you in the Resistance? I thought you'd sell out."

Verosika chuckled before leaning back.

"We were considered Terrorists because we tried to find legal ways to remove our Friend from Prison. He didn't kill those people. He played a great last song before he died though. I just... wish we could've seen him again."

Blitz sighed, before looking at Verosika with empathy.

"Verosika, I'm sorry. I know before the war I stole your car and all that, but we need to forget that. If we want any hope for the Horde to die, we need to free everyone."

Verosika chuckled bitterly.

"Well, what can we do afterwards? Just, unkill the dead? Tell Imp Slaves to just pretend they weren't whipped and raped? Tell Irkens to destroy the Galaxy again? Get your head out of your ass, Blitzo."

"Forget the past atrocities. Focus on the bright future. If we're united, we will win."

"What, with the power of friendship, we can just sing all our worries away? Our Friend tried to sing, he's dead."

"United to fight, Verosika, united to fight. See, all of us, even the people they currently purge, outnumber the Horde. If we work together, we take away the Horde's true weapon: hope. Hope to the Irkens is... it's-!"

"Superman's Kryptonite? Dipper talks about movies a lot when he's not talking about conspiracy theories."

"Yes. Now you're getting it. I've seen Friends die in front of my eyes. We need to work together, and yes, some might die, but we can't lose sight of the finish line until we win. It's only a matter of time until-!"

Dipper ran back into the room.

"They're here! The fuckin Horde Pigs are here!"

Everyone got up in worry.

"How much?" Verosika asked.

"I dunno, Man. Four dozen Pigs, six dozen Pigs? We gotta move or they gonna dissect us all!"

Verosika looked at everyone else.

"Alright, People, Irkens, and Demons, let's move it, let's move it!"

Everyone grabbed what they could.

Blitz got up alongside Verosika.

"You got an escape route?"

Verosika nodded.

"El Topo dug it, big enough for all of us."

"Okay, get your people out of here. Carmen'll pick them up."

Blitz pulled out his phone and called Carmen, informing her to come back to the location after Verosika's crew were back at the Armada 2.0.

Dipper was also ordering people around, with his backpack on his back.

"Okay, Man, go, go. Grab your shit and let's move."

El Topo removed the bookshelf covering the tunnel and everyone ran through.

Blitz handed Verosika his phone.

"Call Carmen, tell her your location."

"You gonna be okay?"

"Yeah, I'm fine. Just get your people to safety."

After everyone else was through, Verosika Dipper ran into the tunnel to escape.

Blitz moved the bookshelf to cover the tunnel again.

Blitz grabbed a rifle that was on the ping pong table and readied himself, just as a few Horde Soldiers ran into the room.

Blitz shot all dead.

"Come and... come and fuckin get me, you... Evil Horde Soldier Pigs!"

More Horde Soldiers were still on the ladder, before Blitz shot them dead.

Blitz then ran out of the room, up to the ladder, and climbed up.

All Horde Soldiers trying to return down, were shot by Blitz.

Blitz climbed up to the top and jumped out.

He shot all the Horde Soldiers in the room dead, but he saw there were dozens more outside.

He grabbed the axe attached to his back.

"Come on, ya fuckin Pussies!"

"Holy shit! It's Rodeo Blitz!"

"Damn right, Biatches!"

Some Horde Soldiers ran, but the others tried to fight.

Blitz killed Horde Soldiers by shooting them, decapitation, or even making them shoot each other by accident.

After a few minutes, all Horde Soldiers were dead.

Blitz then sat down, before sighing.

"Now to wait for my ride. Kinda regret giving C.M.'s phone to Verosika, cause now I can't try to beat his high score in Snake while I wait."

Triple Threat

As Blitz was sitting down, he didn't notice that someone else was walking towards the abandoned building until she came into view.

Blitz stood up and pulled his pistol, pointing it at the Hispanic Women.

She had a Black Eye Patch, a Grey Tank Top, Black Cargo Pants, Black Boots, and Utility Belt with a few knives.

Her name was Vaggie.

What really made Blitz nervous were the various tattoos and scars on her arms and neck.

Tattoos that Exterminators would have, as well as Horde Symbols tattooed in black ink.

Vaggie put her arms above her head and gulped, before talking.

"I understand that my physical appearance may be unsettling." She spoke. "But I can assure you that my ties to the Horde and my rank as an Exterminator were severed for a couple of years now."

"How many years?"

"Four now."

"And those tattoos of rank and stature, why aren't they removed?"

"It's hard to find people willing to laser f Fugitives, but I when I get the chance, they will be removed."

Blitz motioned for her to come over with his pistol, which she did.

Blitz examined her from head to toe.

"Why are you here?"

"I was hoping there was a Resistance Group I could join. I want to fight the Horde just as much as anyone else."

Blitz lowered the pistol, but didn't back down.

"You just missed them. Carmen picked them up and took them to the Armada 2.0."

Vaggie sighed in relief.

"Buena. I thought the Horde Hijos de Perra purged them all. You have to take me with you. I can give you Military Secrets. Things only a Former Exterminator would know."

Blitz looked at the ground, then back to Vaggie.

He obviously didn't trust the Young Woman.

A Former Exterminator amongst Irkens, Imps, Hellhounds, the Mentally Ill, Succubi, and Gay people?

It should surely end in a disaster.

But then he thought of Adora.

How she gave her life to save said "Deviants" that she was raised to hate.

Blitz sighed to himself and holstered his pistol.

Vaggie sighed, relieved.

"Carmen will arrive in a moment. You can show your worth. But if you betray us, I'll kill you myself."

Vaggie shrugged.

"Bastante justa."

Just then, Carmen arrived with the ship, opening the backdoor.

Blitz and Vaggie entered and Carmen flew the ship off.

Carmen instantly noticed Vaggie.

"Who's this person?" She asked. "I thought I already picked up everyone else."

"Late Enlistee. Originally from the Exterminators."

Carmen was instantly surprised and Vaggie was instantly insulted.

"Mr. Blitz, I'm not an Exterminator anymore."

"Sorry, just gotta get it out in the open, Exterminator."

"I have a name! It's Vaggie!"

Blitz shrugged.

"Show me what you are before I name you."

~~Timeskip~~

When they arrived, they saw Verosika in the Cafeteria, still telling her crew what's what.

"Okay, everyone, go find an empty room and make yourselves comfortable. But don't start any shit. Everyone, move out."

With that, everyone went to find a room to bunk down in.

Zim was also in the room, standing beside Verosika, looking dizzy.

"Woah~. V-E-R...-O-S-eye-sick-... I love your music! My Guy, C.M., couldn't stop talking about you."

Verosika looked into Zim's eyes and sighed.

"Been going through his shit, huh? Yeah, I knew him. Great guy. Gonna make Horde Prime bleed for what he did to him!"

Dipper was also still there, looking amazed upon seeing Zim.

"Wow! The OG Man from Mars himself, Z-I- to the M. Is it true you robbed Homeboys of their organs, Man?"

Zim stood in front of Dipper and examined him, before chucking.

"You also saw the future, Man?"

Dipper's eyes grew amazed, before he also chuckled.

"Great to another Traveler between the world's, Man! I mean, O-M-God, we in space, with the Aliens, and the cosmos, and the meteorites, all in the Armada. Man, this is a great trip."

Verosika sighed.

"Dipper, you've only tried weed, which is hardly a trip. Please, go find yourself a room and study your conspiracy theories."

Dipper nodded, before running to find a room for himself.

Blitz also noticed his Boyfriend was there.

Stolas swept Blitz off his feet and started kissing his face.

"Damn, Blitzy, just woke up and already saved three dozen people."

Blitz chuckled and kissed Stolas.

"Damn right, Babe."

Verosika looked at them both in amazement, unable to speak.

Zim then mumbled.

"Just as C.M. wrote into his journal, "Verosika is my friend and I hope we can make music together if there's freedom again.""

Everyone snapped out of their thoughts and turned to the High Irken.

Stolas spoke up as he set Blitz down.

"C-C.M.'s journal?"

"Oh, yeah~. In his things, he had a journal. It has pictures of bad trips he took, songs, a few spells, entries, names, addresses, oh, and his real name."

"Do you have it on you?"

Zim pulled out the small, Black Leather Journal from his Hoodie Pocket.

"This is MY~ new FAVORITE~ book, MAN~."

Stolas snatched it from Zim and instantly started reading it, before scoffing slightly.

"Recipes for drugs. I'm keeping this."

"But it's mine~."

Zim sobbed slightly, before limping away.

Verosika looked at Zim, absolutely confused.

"Is he high?"

Blitz shrugged.

"He couldn't be. No acid or weed to be found anywhere. Plus, Stolas took all the drugs from C.M., so that's a no. He must just be drunk."

It was only then, that the others noticed Vaggie, instantly reading her tattoos.

"What the fuck is this!?" Verosika exclaimed. "Some kind of joke?"

Blitz shrugged.

Vaggie spoke up.

"I know that my physical appearance may be unsettling-."

"Shut the fuck up." Loona interrupted, entering the room. "Dad, what are you thinking? This is an Exterminator!"

Blitz was about to answer her question, before Vaggie spoke for herself.

"I'm not an Exterminator. Not anymore. I haven't been one for four years."

Verosika walked up to Vaggie, getting into her face.

"You better not sell us out. I tried trusting a Former Exterminator once, he killed half my guys."

Blitz stepped up.

"Everyone, calm the fuck down. Adora was also in the Horde before she saved us."

"Adora was always one of us." Loona said.

"But not everyone thought so at first. We can at least give this Exterminator the benefit of the doubt. If she betrays us, I'll kill her myself. Now calm down."

Vaggie shook a bit.

"I'm not going to fuckin betray you."

"I'm just saying. Now. Can we go to the Meeting Room and discuss our next course of action? People are still dying."

Verosika nodded.

Then, Blitz led the way to the Meeting Room to discuss their plan.

Vaggie was even allowed to go.

~~Timeskip~~

As soon as they were all there, as well as Dipper Pines, they began discussing the threat.

Player brought up the picture on the screen.

"This is the Triple Threat. The new Kings of Hell after Luci was killed."

Blitz spoke up.

"So, how about we squeeze them into one place and kill the shit out of them?"

"Naw, naw, that won't work. That won't work. They all have too much pride to be seen together nowadays. Besides, they're always in Hell. We have no ways of entrance."

"How about Stolas? He can teleport me and a few others there."

Stolas sighed.

"It won't work. If I teleport us, our location will be traced. Any unwelcomed entrance into Hell, will ruin our hideout."

Verosika spoke up.

"Dipper, head back to Gravity Falls. Meet Blitz at the Mystery Shack."

Dipper instantly was overjoyed.

"Wait, wait, you saying I gets to return to my hometown? Radical!"

Verosika turned to Blitz.

"There's a portal under the Mystery Shack and it'll take you straight to Hell. You might wanna get some rest."

Blitz shrugged.

"I always wanted to return home."

Dipper was immediately sent out to Gravity Falls for the next mission.

Carmen drove him.

After dinner, Blitz entered his and Stolas's room.

Stolas was sitting on the bed, reading C.M.'s journal, absolutely astonished.

"I don't believe it. I just don't believe it."

Blitz was confused, before walking over to his Boyfriend.

"Are you okay, Babe? You seem to be a bit anxious over the book-."

Stolas stood up, still looking at the book with a smile on his face.

"They're a Genius! Absolute Scholar! Thanks, C.M., you were always my favorite when it came to Nieces and Nephews! I hope you're resting in peace."

Blitz was even more confused, but didn't back down.

"Hun, are you oka-?"

"C.M. gave us another thing to work with to fight against the Horde! In his journal, amongst all the self hatred sentences, the nightmare inducing drawings he did when high, and the song lyrics, there are spells and symbols that he remembered and wrote down from the Grimoire!"

Blitz was confused.

"Wait, a Grimoire? You mean that one book you used to have? What happened to it or how come you can't use the spells you memorized. And how the fuck did C.M. read your Grimoire!?"

Stolas's smile faded away and he looked down upset, causing Blitz to feel bad.

"After the Horde took over, all Royals were rounded up to be purged or imprisoned. I had the Grimoire and all our other possessions taken away from me then destroyed or sold. I was a fool and I didn't memorize enough spells from my Grimoire. But at least I still had my Daughter, breathing and alive. And Charlie... they..."

Stolas sat back down, on the verge of tears.

Blitz sat down, pulling Stolas into a hug, rubbing the back of his feathery head.

Stolas sniffled a bit, before Blitz spoke up.

"Stolas, what happened to your Niece 200 years ago wasn't your fault. And what happened to C.M. wasn't your fault. And while I don't know how you know C.M., I won't judge you having a Pseudo, Human Nephew. You can't put blame on yourself for the atrocities of others. We can never undo the tragedies and the atrocities, but we try to make sure they never happen again. When we free the Universe, we can find the Exterminators who killed C.M. and Charlie, then we'll castrate those fuckers."

Stolas nodded into Blitz's shoulder, then returned the hug.

After a few minutes, Stolas pulled away from Blitz and smiled, especially when Blitz reached over to wipe the tears from his face.

"Thanks, Blitzy. I'm the luckiest Owl in the world to at least of found you and to have our two lovely Daughters."

Blitz smiled and put a hand on his Boyfriend's shoulder.

"We'll make sure they'll be free and, in our golden years, we'll walk them down Wedding Aisles if we're lucky."

Stolas kissed Blitz on the forehead before continuing what he was saying.

"And, as I was saying, with the help of our beloved C.M., we can use the spells and symbols written inside to fight the Horde."

Blitz smiled wider.

"That's great, Babe! Soon we'll erase those fuckers from the face of all planets."

Stolas's smile then faded away, which caused Blitz to grow slightly worried.

"However, there comes a great price. One that I don't want you to pay in order to use them."

Blitz looked at the ground, before looking Stolas in the eye.

"What's the price? Sacrifice? My soul? An arm or leg? Jury duty?"

Stolas shook his head, much to Blitz's relief.

"The spells will have to be scarred or inked into the User's flesh to reap the full benefits of the magic."

With that, Blitz was confused.

"Wait, will the use of the magic hurt me?"

Stolas shook his head.

"Will it pull on my soul."

Stolas shook his head.

"Will it blind me?"

"No, it'll just be permanently on your body, probably on your arm. But I don't want to make the decision to permanently change your appearance."

With that, Blitz started cackling and patting Stolas on the shoulder.

"Stolas, Sweetie, Love of my Afterlife, Babe, you had my heart racing a mile. I don't care if it changes my appearance slightly. If it doesn't hurt me, it's fine, anything to be as powerful as the tall, beautiful Owl that I sleep with every night."

Stolas blushed, covering his smiling face with his hand, before Blitz gently grabbed Stolas's wrist and pulled it away so he could his face.

"Blitzy, I'm not that tall or beautiful."

Blitz then grabbed both of Stolas's shoulders and gently pinned him to the bed, making Stolas blush harder.

"Of course, you'll have to pay for saying that, as well as making me nervous for a minute. But there's only one way to punish you that I can think of."

Blitz shot his hands under Stolas's shirt and started tickling his feathery stomach.

Stolas laughed as hard as he could.

"BLIHIHIHIHITZ, NOHOHOHOHO!"

"Too late, Dear. I'm enjoying the view."

After a couple of minutes, Blitz stopped tickling Stolas and helped him sit back up.

Stolas mumbled under his breath and crossed his arms.

"Blitz, you're so mean."

Blitz chuckled and kissed Stolas on his cheek.

"But you love me. Now, about those powers."

Stolas chuckled, wiping away the fake smile, before opening the journal again.

Stolas looked at Blitz with a serious expression.

"Are you sure about this Blitz? These are permanent tattoos."

Blitz took of his shirt, making Stolas blush harder, before he spoke.

"Stolas, I'm already covered in something permanent. If it's scarred, I can't read it, so black ink should work for now."

Stolas nodded, grabbed Blitz's right arm gently, and started reading off the spells written in the journal.

The room started growing blue.

Blitz shut his eyes due to the brightness, but as soon as it faded, he felt a slight burning on his forearm.

He opened his eyes and Stolas started reciting a healing spell he remembered, which healed the tattoo instantly.

Blitz stared at the ink and was amazed.

"What do the symbols mean?"

"The top of the forearm is actually where the easy spells are. The others keep the magic from harming the User, as well as give you the opportunity to steal powers from others after you kill them or find them dead. So, when you kill the Triple Threat, you can reap their powers too."

Blitz nodded, examining the tattoo thoroughly, then touching one of the glyphs, causing fire to engulf Stolas, but it luckily didn't harm Stolas in the slightest.

Blitz felt instantly guilty, but Stolas kissed his forehead to keep him happy.

Stolas also kissed Blitz's shoulder.

"I know you don't like the scars, but I don't mind them in the slightest. Because the beautiful Imp I fell in love with is the one wearing them."

Blitz smiled and cupped Stolas's face.

Stolas blushed, before shooting his hands into Blitz's sides and tickling him, causing him to laugh loudly.

Stolas kept tickling him and grew and mischievous grin as he pinned Blitz to be bed this time.

"But this is payback for before, as well as the fire incident. Oh, plus you need to awaken bright and early, so let's wear you out so you fall asleep faster."

"IHIHIHIHI'M SOHOHOHOHORRY! NOHOHOHOHO!"

"Well, "Rodeo" Blitz, I'm not. But you deserve a break from the guns and bombs. Just smile and laugh for now, because until you fall asleep, you're mine!"

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was eating his dinner in the Pride Ring of Hell, before a new Assistant entered and ran towards him.

"Sir! The Sterilization and the Euthanasia of the Mentally Ill in Heaven has been carried out, but many are on the run, the ones still alive are imprisoned and will be sold as Slaves after the Sterilization."

Horde Prime nodded.

"Good. I was too generous. Letting those fuckin Retards live in Heaven, care free, while I work so hard. None of them had the common courtesy to send the good looking Retards to give me blow jobs."

"And Mr. Vox still is unresponsive to the recent news."

"Yeah, yeah, whatever. Let the Old Faggot be, he still has his uses."

The Assistant was confused.

"Sir, you're 8,000 years old. Older than Mr. Vox. In fact, your secret feelings towards Blitz, who's much younger than you, might be seen as pedophilia."

"Yeah, yeah, I don't care. I'm Horde Prime. I can do what I want. I can fuck whomever I want, even without my dick. I can whatever I fuckin want. You know what, you know the Lust Ring, where we dump Prisoners, Undesirables, Retards, Faggots, and other worthless fuckers after the Lust Ring had protests against our rule so we outlawed people entering or exiting?"

"Yes, Sir. Oddly specific, but, yes, Sir."

"Order a full purge of that place. Slaughter them all. Maybe not today or tomorrow, but soon. But keep it a secret until after we cleanse the pests of my Holy Rule."

Gravity Falls

Zim was in his room, with all the Acid Tablets on the table.

He was shaking uncomfortably.

GIR was out of the room, so he couldn't help.

Zim wanted to pick one tablet up, but he didn't want to at the same time.

Unable to control himself, he picked one up and put it on his tongue.

~~Meanwhile~~

Carmen was flying the ship right above the forest in Gravity Falls.

Stolas was sitting in the cargo pit with Blitz, who was still getting used to his new tattoo.

"So the one glyph in the middle gives me complete invisibility?"

"That's right, Blitz. But you you'll have to hold your breath while holding your arm. So, every now and then, find a place to breathe, then go back to being invisible."

Blitz nodded, before pointing at another glyph.

"What does this one do?"

"It creates glowing orbs from your arm. It can light up dark areas, if say, the Horde turned off the lights."

Blitz nodded and smiled.

"So, where am I meeting Dipper at?"

"In a building called the Mystery Shack. Owned by Stanford Pines. Don't worry, he's on our side. He's a Con Artist, but I heard he's alright."

"We're reaching a clear landing zone in an empty part of the forest. I can't fly to town." Carmen called from the driver's seat.

Stolas gave a thumbs up and turned back to Blitz.

"Remember, if anything goes wrong-."

Blitz grabbed Stolas's shoulder and pulled him into a kiss, cutting Stolas off completely, before he pulled away from the blushing Owl Prince.

"You worry too much, Babe."

Just then, Carmen landed the ship and opened the door.

Blitz looked at Stolas with a serious expression.

"Take care of our girls while I'm gone."

Stolas smiled.

"Always, Blitzy."

Blitz smiled and kissed Stolas again, before walking out of the ship.

Carmen then flew the ship back to the Armada.

Blitz walked through the woods, towards the Town.

He heard stories that said the woods were full of monsters of all kinds, but he didn't see any.

He figured either the stories were bullshit or the Horde purged them too.

That was the thing with the Horde, they always targeted people who were just minding their own business.

When he saw the backs of buildings, he crouched and walked up to the building, pressing his back against the wall.

He stealthily slid over to the corner and looked over.

He was in Gravity Falls, which was hosting a Parade on this day to celebrate Horde Prime.

He quickly held his arm where the glyph was, turning him invisible as he held in his breath and walked around the building into the town.

He finally got to see how Civilians would be living in the Horde's rule.

They were wearing Shirts praising either V.I.L.E. or the Horde like they would a baseball game.

Blitz walked down the streets.

Obviously, being the Man who castrated Prime and slayed the Heads of V.I.L.E., his Wanted Poster was on every lamppost and building wall.

He overheard conversations as he kept walking.

"Hey, Auntie! The Horde approved my Marriage License! I can get married to Anna tomorrow!"

"That's great, Ben! I'll be happy to help pay for the Wedding. Oh, and tell your Father that the Northwests are putting some hardworking Slaves up for auction this Wednesday."

Blitz wanted to scoff, but he had to keep his breath in.

As Blitz strode down the street, he saw a poster for a new movie by the Horde.

'The Martyrs Of V.I.L.E.: The Victims of Rodeo Blitzo.' It read.

Blitz held back a chuckle.

If he could, he'd kill all of them again.

He continued down the streets and saw a poster with his own Father's face, which instantly pissed him off.

It read "The Good Imp" with the description "New memoir about the life of Cash Buckzo before he was brutally slaughtered by the treacherous, treacherous Blitz. Be like Buckzo, Imps, he's the Role model for you. And may he be the reminder that a father shouldn't be judged for their awful son." below the picture.

Blitz still was able to hold his breath, but the sight of the poster made him tremble with rage.

He shook his head and wandered down the street again, hoping for signs to point out the Mystery Shack.

Blitz stopped when he saw a crowd of Civilians cheering a parade of at least two hundred Horde Soldiers, who were marching down the street while armed.

Blitz snuck between the crowd of Civilians and spotted another poster, which sent chills through his bones.

It was a poster from the Horde, demanding all Homosexual, Mentally Ill, and Handicapped Citizens be purged, completed with a skull and crossbones.

Blitz tried to get his mind back on track, when he saw another poster right besides it, reading that Heaven had sterilized, euthanized, and enslaved the Mentally Ill Angels because of Horde Prime's orders on November 16, 2022.

Barely two days ago.

Blitz grew saddened and furious.

Thousands of people, who managed to follow the rules or found a way to redemption, slaughtered and enslaved, by the same people who promised to keep them safe, because of something they couldn't control.

He didn't particularly mind death, but he could tell was something was fucked up.

This was 150% that something.

Blitz walked away quickly, feeling guilt in his stomach.

He rounded the corner and turned to the next street, wishing he hadn't.

Blitz then saw a sight that almost made him vomit as he froze in place, in the middle of that road, too afraid to breathe.

It was C.M.

C.M.'s corpse, in the attire Blitz had seen him with when he was still talking to him, was being hung from a lamppost by the neck, with a sign on the ground reading "The genuine Retard who played a treacherous song against the glorious Horde Prime", next to C.M.'s broken guitar.

The corpse had to be in this town of all places?

Covered in dried up blood?

C.M. had obviously decomposed over the week of his death, making Blitz feel sick, distraught, and furious all at the same time as his blood somehow boiled as it froze.

Just then, a couple of on-duty Cops, the Sheriff and Deputy, grabbed a couple of rocks and threw them at C.M.'s corpse, laughing as the rocks bounced off.

Deputy Durland cackled as he turned to the Sheriff.

"Only good thing a Retard is good for, huh, Blubs?"

Sheriff Blubs laughed loudly, gaining the attention of Civilians and a couple of V.I.L.E. Guards.

Blitz wanted to pull out his knife and castrate the two, but he didn't have enough ammo for all the Horde Soldiers, and he was too vital to the Resistance to die too soon.

The Sheriff called out to the crowd.

"Grab whatever shit you want, Ladies and Gentlemen, the Retard is there for a laugh."

The crowd got excited as they started pointing and laughing at the corpse of C.M., some threw beer cans at the corpse too.

Blitz took everything in him to not freak out, but when the comments came, he could hardly contain himself.

"Useless Retard!" Nate shouted.

"Why don't you come back to life to start singing and dancing for us! 🎶 Pay five bucks to see the dancing Freak, 🎶 🎶 Only five bucks to see the dancing Freak! 🎶 "

"I hope your Mama sterilized you from birth so you don't have Sub-Human, Retarded Babies!"

The loud laughter of the crowd and the insults were too much for Blitz as he forced his way out of there, even bumping into a couple of the people who were confused at the invisible force.

Blitz walked into a nearby alley, luckily empty with a huge trashcan and a dead end for him to hide.

Blitz fell to his knees and threw up, gasping for air between each time it came out.

He lost invisibility.

After it was done, he started punching the brick wall, bloodying his hand and putting a dent in the wall.

Blitz then pressed his head against the wall and started sobbing.

The atmosphere, the posters, the people, it was all too much for him.

Cruelty, discrimination, and slavery seemed to be welcomed in polite society.

Maybe liberation was too late, because the people seemed happy as fuck.

"Oh my God." Came a voice that made Blitz tense up.

It was Robbie Valentino, who was currently wearing Black Suit Pants, Black Dress Shoes, a White Button Up Shirt, a Green Suit Vest, and a Black Tie, before he knelt down besides Blitz.

"You're Rodeo Blitzo. God, Man, it's a pleasure to make your acquaintance."

Blitz was still catching his breath, causing Robbie to look at him in sympathy as he instantly understood.

"Lemme guess, you saw how the atmosphere has changed since you've awoke from your coma? Yeah, I'm sorry it's pretty tense. But despite how we talk, we're all secretly rooting for ya."

Blitz scoffed.

"C.M. Those Fuckers are desecrating C.M.!"

Robbie sighed, sympathetically.

"Yeah, I was the one who shouted all that "dancing Freak" shit. Look, I'm sorry about that. But the Citizens have to make it seem like we agree with that fucker. There are cameras in most places. If we look disgusted, we tend to "disappear" from sight. We have to shout "Hail Fish Hitler" but we feel dead inside and we feel ashamed. Some people have fully given in, but fuck them. We secretly crave for the world to be brighter again. And don't let Blubs's behavior fool you, he actually helped two dozen Mentally Ill People hide and he and Deputy Durland are both gay. I beg of you, please don't let out fake behavior fool you. We want to fight to. But we're too afraid at the moment. We need you. We need you to show us how."

Blitz wiped away a few tears and nodded, before speaking.

"I gotta find the Mystery Shack. Point it out."

Robbie pointed to the direction.

"Just walk straight over there and you'll come across it. Well, I gotta go. But don't worry. I'm with you all the way. We all are."

With that, Robbie got up and walked away.

Blitz took a few more breaths to prepare himself before he got up, turned invisible, held his breath, then walked to the direction of the Mystery Shack.

Mystery Shack

Blitz thankfully managed to walk through the forest, so he could breathe.

After he passed through, he finally came to the cabin in the woods with the title "Mystery Shack" with the 's' fallen off.

This had to be the rendezvous for him and Dipper.

Blitz inhaled, touched the glyph on his forearm, then turned invisible.

He made his way across the lawn and onto the porch, then through the door.

The bell rang and the Cashier took notice, looking up from her magazine.

"Hello? Is anyone there?"

Blitz didn't know if he could trust the redhead, but he kept quiet just in case.

Just then, a Force Captain walked into the shop, startling the only other customers inside, causing them to exit the shop "out of respect."

The Force Captain walked over to the cash register.

"Ms. Corduroy. Have you seen any retarded activity, other than the bullshit sold?"

Wendy laughed and answered.

"No, Force Captain Trigger. We seem to be entirely Retard-free due to the glorious Horde keeping us safe."

Force Captain Trigger chuckled, obviously observing Wendy's chest.

"Good. Because we need to make sure everything goes perfect for our festival, praising the glorious Horde Prime for cleansing us of the Retards, the Faggots, the Handicapped, the Princesses, and, of course, the filthy Imps. Are you going to watch the premiere of The Martyrs of V.I.L.E. tonight?"

"Yes, Force Captain Trigger, it always makes me sad when high ranking officials are killed by Imps."

Blitz couldn't take anymore and scoffed.

But that was a mistake, as he instantly lost invisibility.

Wendy and Trigger looked at Blitz in shock.

Trigger reached for his pistol.

"It's you! You filthy, Retard loving, Terroristic, Faggot Imp!"

Just as Trigger grabbed his pistol, Wendy pulled out the pistol she kept under the cash register and shot Trigger dead in the head.

Blitz was taken in shock, before Trigger fell to the ground, dead.

"Mr. Blitz, shut the fucking door and say we're closed!" Wendy ordered, shutting the blinds. "Before anymore goddamn Horde Soldiers look at my fuckin chest!"

Blitz nodded, before shutting the door, locking it, and turning the sign to "closed."

Blitz turned back to Wendy, who grabbed the dead Trigger, dragged him over to the vending machine, typed the code in, opened the door, then threw his body down.

Wendy turned back to Blitz.

"Mr. Blitz, go to the attic! Dipper is waiting for you there."

Blitz nodded.

"Ye-yes. Thank you, Ma'am."

Blitz quickly ran into the living room and looked for the staircase, defending up it quickly.

When he got to the attic door, he knocked.

Dipper instantly opened the door, grabbed Blitz by his shirt collar, pulling him in, before throwing him against the wall, then pointing his pistol at him.

Blitz was startled to say the least.

"Not that I don't trust you, Mr. Blitz, but how can I tell you're the real Blitz and not some shape shifter? Tell me the password Verosika gave you."

Blitz was confused.

"Verosika didn't give me a password."

Dipper pulled the hammer of the pistol down.

"I knew it! Now shed your disguise and show me your Basilisk face, you shape shifting, magic sucking Mother Fucker!"

Blitz scoffed.

"Dipper Pines, lower down your pistol, or I'm gonna break both your arms and shove your head up your own ass."

Dipper was silent for a few seconds, before laughing and lowering his pistol.

"I knew it was you, Rodeo Blitzo. Come in, sit down. Nice ink, by the way, Man. I can dig that. Though I think it makes you a busted ass poser to me."

Blitz rolled his eyes, before walking into the attic and spotting the board on the wall.

"What is all this shit?"

Dipper looked at the board, then back to Blitz with a smile.

"This is only the entrance to the rabbit hole, Alice. But don't worry, Toto, we ain't in Kansas no more."

Blitz was confused, before sitting down on the bed.

"All answers in the Universe need a question, a thesis, and solution. I found it all against the real threat."

"You mean the Horde?"

Dipper laughed at Blitz like he was daft, before continuing.

"Naw, naw, Man. Horde Prime, to the manipulating regiment, is only a mere, spoiled child. A means to an end. You think we're the only ones? Naw, naw, it's all true, Man. The moon landing being faked, lizard people being real, the Illuminati. They only fell out of power when the Horde took over, covering the media as they saw fit. The true First Ones of Etheria, Man! Hallelujah, what a trip! Boogie Woogie Woogie Wu!"

Blitz sighed, before standing up.

"Look, before we get you back on your meds, I came here for that portal you got here."

Dipper smiled.

"Yes, yes, all in due time. As long as my Uncles are here. They saved me and my Sister from the Horde, ya know. Mabel got that ADHD, I got that OCD. Our parents was gonna sell us to them Horde Assholes! Eff that, Man. Fuck those guys! I managed to join the Mayday Crew, despite what Grunkle Stan said."

Dipper then walked towards the door and opened it.

"Shall we go?"

Blitz nodded and the two left.

~~Timeskip~~

The two walked into the basement of the Mystery Shack, where six other individuals were.

Stanley, Stanford, Soos, Dib, Gaz, and Mabel.

Blitz instantly noticed the huge portal.

Dipper started introducing everybody.

"Blitz, those are my Uncles. Stanford and Ford. Ford has six fingers, so he's also hiding. Stanford managed to get the portal to work, saving him from the Demon Dimension. Grunkles, meet Blitz.

Blitz shook both their hands.

"It's an honor to meet you, Mr. Blitz." Ford said.

"Great to see someone standing up against those fuckers." Stanford said.

"And, standing at 5'11", this is Dib. Former Enemy of Zim, before the Horde. Afterwards, he and Zim gained a mutual understanding with each other."

Dib sighed.

"Look, Demon, this truck is only temporary until we kick out those Horde Soldiers!"

Blitz shrugged.

Dipper introduced Gaz.

She was wearing Black Boots, Black Pants, and a Grey Hoodie, with her dyed hair.

"This is Gaz. Don't let her height of 5'3" fool ya. She's a Brawler, a Rebel, Hardcore, and a hell of a Guitarist. Ain't that right, Gaz?"

"I don't like to strum my own Guitar, except literally."

Dipper then looked at Soos.

"Oh. And how could I forget the greatest Handyman in all the Universe? Blitz, this is Soos, short for Jesús. Sure, he acts dimwitted sometimes, but he's also one of the smartest. Of course, we hide him away, because he also has some mental health issues that the Horde hates."

Soos saluted Blitz with a happy smile.

Dipper then looked at his Sister, before the two of them hugged.

Mabel was wearing one of the sweaters she knitted.

"This here is my twin." Dipper said, before breaking the hug. "She's awesome. She knits, she does arts and crafts, and she makes everyone happy. So show her some respect. And that's my family and three Friends. You already met Wendy."

Blitz nodded, before looking at Ford.

"You have some great people here. You should join us, we could always use more good people."

Stanford stepped forward.

"Listen, Blitz, we trust you. But we feel safer here. We'll stay."

Blitz shrugged.

"Everyone has their own opinions. But I also hear you have the portal. We could use it."

Ford looked at the big portal, before handing Blitz a wristwatch.

Blitz was confused, before Dib explained.

"The big portal doesn't work anymore. We were lucky to have gotten away with using it the first time. So we transferred it to wristwatch size."

Blitz was impressed, before wrapping the watch around his wrist.

"So does this take me where I want?"

"Not necessarily." Ford Answered. "You need to put inputs, sometimes codes, but usually everywhere."

Blitz nodded.

"Will all codes stay in?"

Ford nodded, causing Blitz to pullout his phone and call Chief.

"Chief, I need to know the code of teleportation for the Armada. Just trust me. Okay, so, 07291966? Yes, thank you. You'll see why in a minute."

Blitz hung up then typed the code into the watch, causing a portal to the Armada 2.0 to open up, startling everyone inside.

"Everyone who wants to join the Armada is welcomed, just saying."

Dib, Dipper, and Gaz grabbed their stuff then walked through, but not before Dipper hugged his family.

Blitz closed the portal, then turned back to Stanley, Stanford, Soos, and Mabel.

"Thanks for the watch. Just know, the Armada, if you change your mind, is always welcoming everyone. Except the Horde."

Ford stepped forward.

"We appreciate that. But we'll stay here. We'll do whatever we can from our end. Now, go kill that Vox. For some reason, his location in Hell needs no code. He's easy picking."

Blitz smiled and nodded, before typing in the location for Vox's Company, opening a portal, which he walked through.

Vox

Blitz opened the portal, straight to the top floor of Vox's Company Building.

He looked out the window, right to Hell.

It looked even shittier than usual.

The billboards had slandered Imp Culture by turning Imps into nothing but Slaves or sellouts.

Blitz looked at the huge billboards, feeling sick to his stomach upon being exposed to the toxic atmosphere.

Sure, Hell was dangerous and toxic before, but now the Horde ruined every redeeming quality about it.

Charlie Morningstar might've actually convinced people to join her Redemption program if she was still alive.

Blitz shook his head and had to focus on the mission.

Blitz pulled the axe from his back and walked down the hallway, looking for Vox's Office.

An Exterminator walked out of the bathroom, only for Blitz to cut his head clean off.

Blitz almost passed by a break room, where three Exterminators were watching 666 News.

"And, Denizens of Hell, People of Prime, the sale of Succubus and Hellhounds have been skyrocketing as of late. In other news, Rodeo Blitzo is still at large. Will anyone bring in this psychotic murderer? Oh, but on the positive side of things, R Kelly released his new Album: "Don't Get Pissy With Me, Little Girl" and OJ Simpson got his third Heisman trophy. The Juice plans to release a book: "Slashing The Competition" this Fall. Now let's get back to Jeffery, who's about to cook Mr. Rogers Beef."

Blitz pulled out a grenade and threw it into the room with the unsuspecting Exterminators, walking away as it blew up.

Surprisingly, no other Exterminator investigated the explosion.

Thoughts ran through Blitz's mind, wondering how Vox would fight him before he cut the TV from his shoulders.

Blitz rounded the corner and saw the door leading to Vox's Office.

He readied his axe and kicked the door open, ready to fight.

Vox was sitting with his back turned to Blitz, slumping in his chair, holding a fresh bottle of whiskey.

"It's about time. Don't worry. I called off the Exterminators, said the explosion was just the microwave but we fixed it."

Vox spun the chair around, facing Blitz, motioning to the chair across the desk from himself.

Blitz was confused, but walked over to the desk, ready to fight.

Vox smirked.

"Sit down, Mr. Blitz. I ain't going anywhere."

Blitz sat down, but still held onto his axe.

Vox reached into his desk, startling Blitz, before Vox pulled out two drinking glasses.

He placed one for himself, the other for Blitz.

Blitz was even more confused, before Vox poured the whiskey into his glass, then into Blitz's.

Vox set the whiskey bottle on the desk, grabbing his glass and downing it.

Blitz lowered his guard a bit, before people picking up his glass and downing it quickly, setting it back on the desk.

"If this is your way of throwing a sneak attack or getting me drunk, just know, I ain't a damn lightweight."

Vox chuckled a bit, before grabbing the whiskey bottle and pouring more whiskey into his glass, then into Blitz.

"I think that's the problem with Assassins. They think everyone is trying to lower their guards to jump them. Always on edge. I know what it says on those bigoted, bullshit posters outside my Office, and I know the kinda films we make, but we ain't living in a glorious Horde Controlled World. We are living in a Dictatorship."

Blitz scoffed.

"No shit, Sherlock."

Vox chuckled, before coughing a bit, then regaining his composure.

"I know you're here to kill me. This whiskey isn't a way to lower your guard."

"Is it to get me drunk?"

"It's a reward. For putting me out of my misery."

Blitz was taken aback.

Was Vox serious?

There was no way.

"My only last request, is a little bit of drinking company, before you cut my head off and drain my powers. But tomorrow, you'll have to get ready."

Blitz was confused, before grabbing his glass and downing it in one gulp, setting it back on the desk.

"Ready for what?"

Vox sighed, grabbed the bottle and poured more into Blitz's glass.

"I'll give you the paperwork with information in a minute. But for the next couple minutes, just relax."

Blitz was startled, but took the glass and started drinking, slowly this time.

Vox continued, taking another sip of his whiskey.

"I hate Valentino. Sure, his influence saved me, but I'm nothing but a means to an end with him. He helped legalize Slavery in Hell, helped bring back the Extermination, and he legalized pedophilia. Now, I'm stuck, up here, and he won't let me go."

Blitz was moved, but tried not to relate to Vox.

"Velvet. She was a good person once, believe it or not. But Valentino corrupted her fuckin mind. Now she can't be brought back."

Vox started sobbing and drinking again.

"Valentino forced me into the Slave Game, the Propaganda Movies, the Propaganda Video Games, the Propaganda Music, and my Company allows the shipment of thousands to be exterminated."

Blitz, in that moment, felt the dreadful case of realization.

Vox wasn't just messing around.

He was remorseful for his past mistakes.

"Like Charlie Morningstar said, before she was purged, "Everyone can be redeemed of anything if they just try." but I can't. My only redemption would be allowing myself to die. And I recognize your tattoos. You'll take my powers. Good. Use them wisely and don't let them use you."

Vox grabbed the bottle and poured more whiskey for himself and Blitz.

"I respect you for killing the V.I.L.E. Assholes, that cunt Stella, that bastard and, unfortunately, your Father, Buckzo. And when you castrated that fuckin Horde Prime? Magical. I know you can liberate the world, but I won't be around to see it."

Vox finished the last of his whiskey, before pulling out important paperwork from his desk and handing it to Blitz, before he sat up straight.

"Please. Just do it quickly."

Blitz looked at Vox, then the paperwork, then the axe, then back to Vox again.

Blitz nodded, before putting the paperwork in his Black Backpack, then walking behind Vox, readying the axe.

Vox inhaled and exhaled, ready for his punishment.

"Mr. Vox. Consider this your freedom from this awful world. Maybe, in another timeline, things could've been different."

Blitz, with a heavy heart, pulled the axe back, then swiped it forward, cutting Vox's TV off his neck.

Vox's headless corpse fell to the ground, dead, while Blitz grabbed the decapitated TV.

Blitz didn't know what to do for the spell, but his tattoo began glowing, then, all the electricity from Vox went into him.

Blitz screamed in pain, but after a few seconds, the pain succeeded.

Blitz set the TV on the ground, before pointing his hand at the chair in the room and forcing forward.

Electricity shot from his hand, setting the chair ablaze.

Blitz looked at his hands as the electricity went away at will.

Blitz took some deep breaths, before he inputted on his watch, opening a portal to the Armada 2.0.

Blitz walked through, closing the portal behind him.

Chief was in the room he entered, startled.

Blitz pulled the paperwork from his backpack then handed it to her.

"I need a break for today."

Blitz then walked back to his and Stolas's room, unable to describe his current feelings.

The Lust Ring

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

Blitz entered his room to find Stolas was asleep on the bed.

Blitz smiled and lied down besides his Boyfriend, resting his head on Stolas's fluffy chest, before closing his eyes and drifting off.

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz was awoken when there was a loud blare throughout the Armada 2.0.

It woke up both him and Stolas.

"Blitz, in the Meeting Room. Immediately!"

Blitz and Stolas stirred themselves awake and stood up.

"Come on, Blitzy. Let's see what Chief wants."

The two made their way over to the Meeting Room.

~~Timeskip~~

Chief and Verosika were frantic, looking at everyone who entered the Meeting Room.

"It's fuckin happening. My nightmares are coming true."

Blitz was confused.

"What's happening?"

Verosika answered.

"The Lust Ring. After the war, the Lust Ring refused to give in, so the Exterminators banned exiting and entering, as well as dumping hundreds of "undesirables" there while the places fall apart. Now, for no goddamn reason, they're going to purge that entire town! This afternoon! They've done it before!"

Blitz shook his head.

"We gotta stop them. There's people of value in there!"

Zim, meanwhile, stepped on the table they were discussing on.

"Maybe, the Alien Overlords of Irk spoke into their brains and told them to."

Dipper nodded.

"Yeah, seems like the manipulating regiment has returned!"

Chief sighed.

"You two crazy Kids need to quiet down about this conspiracy bullshit. Now, Blitz, the people have learned about this, so a huge number of them are finding whatever weapons they need to fight. But others have isolated themselves in Ozzie's. Crackle, Bow, Tigress, Dipper, Zim, Carmen, and Le Chévre will assist you with gathering all survivors to board our Armada. We might get overcrowded, but we have to!"

Blitz nodded.

"How much longer do we have?"

"Approximately ten more minutes till noon. Gather your weapons quickly, quickly!"

The eight of them grabbed rifles and pistols from the table.

"Why aren't we simply teleporting all the way to Ozzie's?" Le Chévre asked.

"Asmodeus banned all teleportation just in case to prevent an ambush. He's the Leader of the Lust Ring Resistance. We tried radioing him, but we couldn't communicate."

Vaggie stepped forward.

"I can assist in the evacuation of innocents."

Loona scoffed.

"By "evacuation," do mean extermination? Fuck off!"

Everyone gathered in pairs.

Crackle had Blitz.

Tigress had Le Chévre.

Zim had Carmen.

Bow had Dipper.

Millie and Moxxie also tagged along.

Blitz opened the portal into the Lust Ring and all eight of them ran through, Blitz closed the portal behind them.

Blitz looked at the others.

"Everyone go find the people. We gotta get everyone out of here. The Lust Ring is counting on us."

Everyone nodded and went to find the others.

Zim, while running in his direction with Carmen, he stayed behind her, set his rifle on the ground, and picked up a rock off the ground, before whispering to it.

"Hey, Little Guy, it's dangerous out here, we gotta get to Ozzie's. We gotta go."

Zim caught up to Carmen.

Crackle stayed with Blitz and the two ventured into their direction to find people.

The streets were mostly empty, so the people they usually saw were people who died due to the shitty living conditions.

Former businesses were crushed, restaurants were decayed, and the bank was burning, but when they saw a living soul, they told them to make their way to Ozzie's.

After a minute, the Extermination began.

The Exterminators came from the sky and landed in the Lust Ring.

One of the civilians got out of his hiding place, pointed at the Exterminator and screamed.

"They're here-ACK!"

He was cut off and so was his head by an Exterminator.

~~Meanwhile~~

Tigress and Le Chévre fired their rifles at the Exterminators, killing a few.

"Exterminate this!" Tigress shouted.

Then, both of them were killed from a barrage of spears.

~~Meanwhile~~

Millie and Moxxie were back to back, shooting dead every Exterminator they could.

Moxxie pulled a knife out of his jacket, throwing it at an Exterminator, tossing it into her head and killing her instantly.

Millie was proud of her Husband.

"Yee-fuckin-haw!"

~~Back with Blitz~~

Blitz started firing at the Exterminators, but he noticed Crackle wasn't.

"Crackle, what are you doing? Fire, Boy!"

Crackle threw his rifle to the side and raised his hands above his head.

"I have Rodeo Blitzo and I sold out my crew! I want the money!"

Blitz was instantly pissed.

"Crackle, you fuckin traitor!"

Crackle wasn't getting through to them.

"I'm the one who sold them out-ACK!"

Crackle had a spear enter through his face and he fell to the ground, dead.

Blitz killed threw more Exterminators before his gun was out.

He tossed it to the side and pulled out his axe, ready to fight.

One Exterminator tried to grab him, but Blitz cut his head clean off.

Blitz grabbed a spear off the ground and threw it at the Exterminators, killing two at once, instantly.

Blitz pulled out his pistol and shot four dead in the head, while sprinting to find Ozzie's.

He saw dozens of dead Hell denizens on the ground, spears impaled through them.

'Poor Bastards.' Blitz thought. 'I can never undo your trajedy, but I can make the Exterminators pay!'

Blitz killed at least two dozen more Exterminators before he found Ozzie's.

Asmodeus himself was standing at his doorway, firing at the Exterminators with a huge pistol, allowing more Citizens to run into his restaurant.

"I might be the last Prince of Hell's Seven Deadly Sins, but you mother fuckers are the worst kind of Sinners! The kind that hides behind righteousness! While allowing for genocide, rape, and atrocities!"

Blitz killed the last four Exterminators currently in the streets, before Asmodeus whistled, while impressed.

"It's Rodeo Blitzo. The Imp with a fine ass, I might say. Hell, what brings you down here in the Lust Ring, other than saving our flawless, sexual bodies?"

"I'm here to start a revolution, Mr. Asmodeus. We need your help."

Asmodeus smirked.

"Do ya now? Well, come inside. But actually don't come, because we're almost out of cleaning supplies for that."

Asmodeus led Blitz right inside, while others held the Exterminators off.

Blitz saw a few dozen people.

"These here is the last remaining safe haven for gay sex, marijuana, and rock music in Hell. And we also welcome the Mentally Challenged, Handicapped, Irkens, and Fallen Angels where no one else would."

Fizzaroli walked over, instantly sneering at Blitz.

"Look who survived."

Blitz sighed.

"Hey, Fizz."

Asmodeus chuckled.

"You know my Boyfriend, Rodeo Blitzo?"

"Yeah, former best friend and ex-boyfriend. I had a fucked up childhood. But, Fizz, let's argue about this later."

"Well, Rodeo Blitzo, let ol' Ozzie introduce ya to my Zoo, huh?"

Asmodeus pointed to Niffty, who was cleaning the dusty tables.

"That little Darling is Niffty. Sufferers from OCD, but that's what makes her so good at cleaning."

Husk, from his table lifted his head.

"Ozz, keep it down, will ya? I'm trying to sleep off this hangover."

"And that little Kitten is former Lieutenant of the United States Marine Corps during WW2 and the Vietnam War, Husker! Don't let that old soak fool ya, he's crucial."

Asmodeus then motioned over to the Radio Demon himself, who was drinking right besides Husk.

"And that Old Boy is Alastor, the Radio Demon. Cannibal, Necrophile, and Murderer, but even he has his redeeming qualities."

Henroin was loading his pistol.

"That's Henroin. Former Mob Boss. He uses his connections to get up information on the inside and we can save our Friends."

Angel Dust and Cherri Bomb were holding the Exterminators off from the window, laughing as they killed the Exterminators.

"And that's Mr. Angel Dust and that's Ms. Cherri Bomb. Two proud, chaotic, Anarchists who want to tell Horde Prime to go fuck himself. Lemme tell ya, if those Horde Sons of Bitches enter, we'll ice them all, going out in a blaze of glory! Hail Sweet Lucifer, rest in peace, Brother!"

Blitz smiled.

"You got a lot of good people. And good people are what we need right now."

Just then, a Six foot tall Blonde, with Red Eyes, a muscular figure, an Angelic Halo, Angel Wings, White Slip-on Slippers, White Hospital Pants, and a White T-Shirt walked over to Asmodeus, Fizzaroli, and Blitz.

Blitz couldn't believe his eyes.

"Mr. Iglehart, I hear loud noises, Man! Are we gonna die!?"

Asmodeus chuckled.

"C.M., despite that being a dumb name from your original cute name, you know that I'm Uncle Ozzie. But don't worry, we ain't gonna die. We got our friend here."

C.M. looked at Blitz, while Blitz could barely contain himself as he pulled C.M. into a huge hug, panting hysterical and letting out some lose sobs.

Fizzaroli pulled Blitz off of C.M. and got in between them.

"Don't touch our Nephew, Blitz. Besides he's suffering from Amnesia because of the Horde."

Blitz was startled.

C.M. then hugged Fizzaroli.

"Thanks, Mr. Brightman. But I know this guy."

C.M. broke the hug and walked towards Blitz.

Blitz smiled, thinking C.M. remembered him.

"He's Arlo Dittman! I'm a huge Fan, Man!"

"I'm not Arlo Dittman."

C.M. then felt like a jerk.

"Sorry, Mr. Rogers. I'll just stop saying your characters out loud."

Blitz was even more confused, but he had to know.

"How are you alive? You died!"

"Well, I was originally supposed to stay dead, but for shock value and comic relief, I was written back in as an Amnesiac Angel with a Halo and wings instead of my bowtie and guitar, which I totally forgot about, despite recalling past events every now and then."

Blitz was absolutely confused, not understanding a word of that, before Asmodeus bud in.

"Due to trauma, he gained Dissociative Amnesia. So he's just confused."

Blitz shrugged, accepting that as an answer.

C.M. then replied.

"Thanks for helping explain it, Genie. It's hard enough to explain that to Cathy because she's always screaming."

Blitz was confused again.

"I don't get it."

"He has ADHD!" Fizz shouted.

Blitz was startled, before nodding.

"Sorry. But it's still surprising, C.M. I mean, I'm sorry you got Amnesia, but you're alive! Who could've seen this coming!"

"Well, Man, other than Cory, HazbinHotelFan16, the Angels who brought me to the Mentally Ill Hospital in Heaven, and everyone making their debut in 'The Lust Ring' who saved me from the Sterilization and the Euthanasia, nobody possibly would've known I was still alive and kicking. Also, Blame, where'd you get the ink?"

Blitz and the others were once again confused, but Blitz could answer the last question.

"Your Uncle Stolas gave it me after reading your journal."

Now C.M. was confused.

"Listen, Sam, I remember that I'm an Accountant, a Barber, and a Psychiatrist, because I remember having those skills but I don't remember being an Author. If I am, I hope it was a best seller!"

Blitz sighed, unable to know what to do.

Asmodeus got two chairs ready, then he and Blitz sat down for a discussion.

Fizzaroli took C.M. by the hand and led him away from the discussion to temporarily focus on Gameboy Games for his DS.

Asmodeus started talking.

"Now, Rodeo Blitzo, I respect your ambitions. But there's nothing that can be done. The Universe is in the shitter, so we might as well give up."

Blitz scoffed.

"Really? You're about to be killed and this is what you believe right now?"

"You want to save the world, but there's no world anymore. Only the Assholes now."

Blitz grew more impatient.

"You know what, maybe if your friends got their asses in gear, we could've beat the Horde. But you all claim to be saving people, but all your doing right now is drinking and waiting for death."

Asmodeus's voice boomed louder.

"We saved our Nephew and Friend! Mine and Fizz's Nephew, everyone else's Friend! He wasn't always an Angel. No, he was a Demon, but he found a way to be human. Hell, he wasn't always a he! But Heaven wasn't save anymore. Here, read this!"

Asmodeus pulled out C.M.'s medical diagnosis that they managed to get from Heaven and handed it to Blitz, who examined it thoroughly.

"That's what C.M. stands for? I mean, without his mask he's a 10, but he's full of even more surprises. He's also incredibly decorated as a Veteran. Wait, without the "t" at the end of his last name, his name reminds me of-!"

"Oh, yeah, it's them! But maybe now it means nothing because my Nephew has amnesia from the Horde assholes! Look at those mental health issues! Only ADHD he was born with, the rest came from the Human Realm and the Horde taking over. I was lucky to learn they were alive. But when I heard they were going to start purging the Mentally Ill of Heaven, I wasn't going to let them take them away from me again! We actually lost two people, Arackniss and Pentious! But they were just happy to save their friend! The only good thing about Amnesia, is you get a second chance and a clean slate! But can people really be free. Human kind did that to him! He was fuckin raped in prison! He was kidnapped from his home! I'm surprised I haven't gone crazy with the fact that he's a Man all of a sudden! They never wanted to be! They wanted to open up a Hotel, no more! Now we're lucky if we can restore his faith in humanity as a whole! Don't you get it? Humanity has had their chance!"

Blitz stood up, knocking the chair down.

"Then give them a second chance! Isn't that what C.M. used to believe in before the Horde fucked him up? Now y'all are just gonna let yourselves die? Let C.M. die? I say if you want to die, fuck it, fine! But at least let me take C.M. to live! What's your answer? Die or fight? You stupid Chicken!!!"

Asmodeus stood up, towering over Blitz.

Blitz didn't even flinch.

Asmodeus then smiled.

"Congratulations, Mr. Blitz. This is actually what I wanted to hear. Open up that portal. We saving the world!"

Blitz smiled, stood up, before opening the portal to the Armada.

Fizzaroli led C.M. through, while everyone else, except Asmodeus, Cherri, and Blitz, ran through.

Cherri spoke.

"I'm staying until the rest of those who survived the purge make it through."

Blitz smiled and nodded in respect.

Just then, Carmen and Zim, with at least a dozen Survivors, ran through the door, as Carmen motioned for everyone, Zim included, to enter the portal.

Millie and Moxxie ran through with two dozen more Survivors, leading them through the portal, then exiting the Lust Ring themselves.

Cherri, Carmen, Blitz, and Asmodeus held off the Exterminators with lead while waiting for more Survivors.

Bow and Dipper ran inside with seven Survivors, who ran into the portal.

Dipper stayed at the door, firing at the Exterminators while everyone else went through the portal.

Blitz was the last one to answer, before looking back at Dipper.

"Dipper, hurry!"

Dipper turned around.

"Holy shit! It's fuckin loco out there, Man!"

Just then, an Exterminator ran behind Dipper and shoved his spear through Dipper's chest.

"DIPPER!" Blitz shouted in distress.

Dipper coughed out blood, before closing his eyes and losing consciousness, slipping into death, spending his only life.

Blitz has to quickly close the portal before the Exterminators entered.

Blitz panted heavily.

He saved the Citizens of the Lust Ring, he got C.M. back, but it was obvious by now, everything came with a price.

Uneasiness

Blitz closed the portal from the Lust Ring, panting for dear life.

He just saw Dipper Pines get killed.

When he turned around, he saw that the Survivors of the purge were relieved they made it out.

The Resistance Fighters that were already on the ship gave them blankets and helped them to where they could sleep.

After most people were gone, Blitz, Zim, Millie, Moxxie, C.M., Asmodeus, Fizz, Carmen, and Bow were still in the Hallway they arrived in.

Bow, Zim, Millie, Moxxie, and Carmen tried to keep close to C.M., but Fizz and Asmodeus hid him behind them.

"Stay away from our Nephew." Fizz barked.

Carmen spoke up.

"It looks like C.M., but it can't be!"

Fizz scoffed.

"Don't you see the fuckin Halo, Dumbass!?"

Zim was tripping when he fell to his knees and bellowed as loud as he could.

"THE ALIENS IN POWER OF US ALL BROKE THE MATRIX AND GLITCHED OUR AMIGO BACK HERE! WE COULD GET GLITCHED OUT! FUCK! FUCK! FUCK! THEY'RE NOT GOING TO STEAL MY IRKEN BRAIN!"

Everyone looked at him confused, before Moxxie walked over to Zim and slapped him across the face, before screaming at him.

"We're not in the fuckin Matrix! Yes, C.M. is alive! He's an Angel, I'm a Demon, you're an Irken! Who is in charge of us!? Ourselves!"

C.M. spoke up.

"Come on now, Richard, there's no reason to be arguing with yourself. Sure, he's losing it, but he is going through shit. My knowledge in Psychiatry tells me that, or the fact the other you is probably high."

Just then, Stolas, Verosika, Chief, Dib, and Loona walked over.

Verosika looked around, before questioning.

"Where's Dipper and the rest?"

Blitz answered with a heavy heart.

"Dipper was killed in front of me, I assume Tigress and Le Chévre are killed or captured, Crackle sold you out at your old location."

Verosika was instantly taken aback, covering her mouth to keep from crying, before she noticed C.M.

She felt her legs wobble as she walked towards him.

Fizz tried to block her way, but she walked right past him.

Verosika pulled C.M., who was only a couple inches less tall than her, into a hug, crying into his shoulder.

"Oh... I... I thought I lost you. Charlie!"

C.M. was confused and looked at everyone else in confusion.

Stolas looked into C.M.'s eyes.

He couldn't believe his own, but there he was.

But Stolas could tell he also wasn't there.

"It's not him. I mean, it's him, but he doesn't remember us."

Fizz tried to put his hand on Verosika's shoulder, but she shook him off.

"We saved him from Heaven when they sterilized and euthanized. We're just lucky we were able to get him out of there."

Verosika pulled away from C.M., still keeping her hands on his shoulders, tears forming in her eyes.

"No, no, no! It is him! He has to remember me! Right, Charlie? It's me, Verosika! I tried to free you from that prison, remember?"

C.M. was still confused.

Vaggie then walked over to the group, confused, before Verosika walked away from C.M., filled with anger, as she slapped Vaggie across the face as hard as she could, knocking Vaggie to the ground.

Everyone else was shocked.

"This is the fault of your people, Exterminator! You did this to him! You better stay away from him! All your kind know how to do is kill. And you'll probably want to kill Charlie because he's Mentally Ill, and Heaven isn't safe for him anymore."

Vaggie got on her knees, covering her face with her hand.

"I'm not an Exterminator." Vaggie coughed.

Verosika scoffed.

"Yeah, that's what you'll say before you sell us out and kill our Charlie, huh?"

Verosika flashed a look to her Friend.

"Charlie, stay away from this Bitch. She'll purge you if given the chance. Look what her people have done to you!"

Distraught, Verosika walked away.

Bow spoke up.

"Maybe it's not C.M. Maybe he was cloned in Heaven, because how could he be alive after holy metal penetrated him. That's why he can't remember us."

C.M. spoke up, sick of people talking about him like he was a mere Child.

"Look, Mr. Scribner, as the sentence above states, I'm sick of people talking about me like I'm a mere Child. I'm not a Clone! Yes, my mind is a blank slate, minus the knowledge, talents, and Military Skills I've accumulated. I'm a Doctor! And why is everyone treating me like I'm a Child to be taken care of?"

Loona stepped up.

She was angry, because the C.M. she knew was gone and he was only physically there.

"You're absolutely right, Dr. C.M. Why would the Exterminators take the time to Clone the very Retard they killed?"

C.M. was taken aback with distress at that statement.

Stolas was startled and tried to grab Loona's shoulder, but Loona was too angry to see reason, she forgot who she was.

"Maybe this is why you told me your Parents hated you. BECAUSE YOU CAME OUT WRONG!!! MAYBE YOU SHOULD'VE BEEN FUCKIN EUTHANIZED!!!"

After saying that, Loona took some deep breaths, but the last minute already occurred.

C.M. blinked a few tears away, breathing with a shaky breath.

Loona finally had control of herself, but the damage had already been done.

Loona stepped forward a bit, deciding to use C.M.'s real name.

"Charlie, I'm-."

But C.M. turned around and ran away, covering his eyes as tears came out.

Fizz chased after his Nephew and Asmodeus tailed after them both.

Loona fell to her knees in guilt.

"I... I didn't mean it!"

Blitz shook his head at his own Daughter.

"Maybe this is why the people don't wanna band together to kill the Horde Assholes. Because they hate each other."

Everyone, except Loona, Zim, and Vaggie, left the Hallway, some to find C.M.

Vaggie got up and walked over to Loona.

"I can be a shoulder to cry on if you'd like."

Loona scoffed.

"Really? I'm a Hellhound! Don't Exterminators hate us!?"

Vaggie sighed, before sitting next to Loona.

"Yes, Exterminators do."

Vaggie then wrapped her arms around Loona and scratched her behind the head, helping her calm down as Loona cried in regret.

Zim looked at his hands.

"Maybe this is what the Alien Transmissions I've been receiving mean. People are too cruel and only a select few can show compassion. I... I gotta go level this out, Man."

Zim then left the two in the Hallway, following where the "Transmissions" told him to go.

Easing the Tension

Eventually, night set in.

C.M. was found and Asmodeus managed to calm him down.

Stolas, however, demanded time with C.M.

Stolas was currently tucking C.M. into bed in a spare room they were able to hold for him.

C.M. was sighing as Stolas put the covers over him.

"Mr. Pinkham, I don't need to be tucked in. I know what Emira said, but I'm an Adult. I know I was sad and ran away, but I ain't a Retard!"

Stolas looked at C.M., upset.

"Charlie, do you honestly think we consider you as the R-word? How does wanting love and affection from your family count as being an R-word?"

C.M. sighed to himself.

"I might not remember much, Mr. Pinkham, but when I arrived to Heaven, I was actually treated nicely, but then, a couple days later, the Exterminators barged in a wanted to kill us, and the Doctors and Nurses just... let them. I didn't choose to get ADHD or Amnesia. Why does everyone hate me?"

Stolas leaned in and kissed C.M.'s forehead.

"We don't hate you, Charlie . Loona didn't mean what she said. It was just a lot to take in too soon. You... aren't who she knew."

C.M. sniffled, before Stolas used his thumb to wipe away the tears from his face.

"Charlie, can I tell you a story?"

C.M. pondered for a minute, before nodding.

Stolas smiled, before telling him.

"When I was an Owlet, my Father took me to the Circus for my birthday. He was a Cunt, sorry for my language. He barely loved me. He had me engaged to that bitch Stella. But there was one good thing he did. He introduced me to Blitz. Blitz was still a young Imp at the Circus. Nobody laughed at his jokes, but me. My Father noticed and arranged a playdate for my birthday. Blitz's Father told Blitz to rob from me, I wasn't stupid, but I pretended I was because we had so much fancy stuff, and I helped him rob the place. We sat under a tree and discussed our futures. We didn't see each other for years, so many long, cold years."

C.M. looked at Stolas sympathetically, before the Owl Prince looked at him with a smile.

"But even though other Goetia were assholes, Lucifer met me at a party and we became good Friends. He was one of my… only two friends. And years later, Stella gave birth to my beautiful Daughter, Octavia. You met her this evening at Dinner. It felt wonderful to be a Dad. Stella treated us both terribly, but I raised her and I love her. Then, only eight years later, Luci and Lilith gave birth to their Baby Girl. Charlotte Morningstar. I held her carefully in my arms, like how I held Via, and I knew right then and there that I was a proud Father and a proud Uncle. 17 years later, she told us all her plan of redemption. Most of us, my foolish self included, laughed at her. But barely a year later, when she had just turned 18, those Exterminators took her away from us. Via and I were saddened, then furious to find out Stella helped orchestrate it. Then the Horde took control, stripping me of my palace and possessions, but I at least had my Daughter. But I had to raise her in that cold, treacherous cell."

"I… I'm sorry for what happened to your Niece."

Stolas smiled at C.M. before kissing his forehead.

"You haven't anything to be sorry for, Charlie. And a week ago, I reunited with Blitz as he freed us. He didn't remember me at first, but I am happy he found out. Now I can say he's my Boyfriend. And I have a Family, consisting of five in total, who are all beautiful and talented."

Stolas ruffled C.M.'s hair, before standing up and preparing to leave, before C.M. called out.

"Is there going to be tension because I am an Angel and you're a Demon?"

Stolas gave him a warm, calming smile.

"Of course not, Charlie. Good night. Have pleasant dreams."

C.M. smiled and closed his eyes, drifting off.

Stolas turned off the light and left the room.

Blitz was leaning on the wall outside the door, looking at Stolas with a teasing smile.

"So, Handsome, you're bragging about being my Boyfriend, huh?"

Stolas smiled.

"I could say the same thing about you, Blitzy."

Blitz smiled before the two made their way to their own room.

Blitz took off his shirt and lied down next to Stolas, who instantly wrapped his arms around him.

"How is it you were asleep for 14 years and yet are so compact, Blitzy?"

Blitz scoffed out a chuckle.

"Don't know. But you enjoy it."

Stolas giggled under his breath, before the two fell asleep, embracing each other's warmth.

~~Meanwhile~~

Horde Prime was drinking Vodka in his castle on Irk, when his Assistant walked in.

"Is it done?"

"Horde Prime, we managed to slay most of them, but dozens managed to escape."

Horde Prime scoffed and threw the bottle of Vodka at his Assistant.

The glass got into the Assistant's eyes and he was permanently blind, screaming in pain.

Horde Prime got up off his throne, walked over to the Assistant, then stomped on his head, crushing it beneath his boot.

"Blitz. Why are you always trying to make me cum!? I'm already horny!!!"

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz awoke that morning and rubbed his eyes.

Stolas had already gotten up and presumably got breakfast with the Girls.

Blitz sat up, put his shirt on, then walked out into the Hallway.

He made his way to the Cafeteria when he passed the Recreational Center.

He peered inside and saw C.M. was sitting on the couch, playing on his DS.

Vaggie was already in the room too, when she popped right besides C.M., startling him.

C.M. was obviously afraid, especially after what Verosika said.

Vaggie spoke.

"Mr. C.M. I know my appearance might be unsettling. But my ties to the Horde or the Exterminators have been gone for four years now. I know I've done unforgivable things, unspeakable things, but that's not who I am anymore. I just want to lessen the tension. Everyone thinks I'm a threat and I don't need that from you too."

C.M. spoke up.

"Why? Because you think I'm a Re-?"

"Because I was another person, an equal, to treat me like a Person."

C.M. nodded, feeling remorseful for what he assumed of Vaggie beforehand.

Vaggie noticed C.M.'s DS.

"What game are you playing?"

"Mario Bros, Man. You want to try?"

Vaggie smiled and nodded, before C.M. handed her the DS, then started playing.

Blitz smiled from the doorway.

Just then, Octavia walked into the room, infuriated.

"Get away from him!"

Octavia walked over to the two, then scooped up C.M. in her arms, snatching the DS from Vaggie.

"Haven't you hurt him enough?"

Octavia then walked away with C.M. in her arms, walking past Blitz.

Blitz looked at the infuriated Octavia, then the saddened Vaggie, knowing tensions were still high.

Blitz decided to pay Verosika a visit.

Verosika was sitting on her bed, smoking a cigarette.

"Hey, Verosika. How've you been?"

"Dipper's last words. What were they?"

Verosika wasn't being bitter or nasty, rather she was just distraught.

Blitz sighed.

"He said "Holy shit! It's fuckin loco out there, Man!""

Verosika started chuckling with tears.

"Yeah, that's something he would say."

Verosika puffed on her cigarette, before growing bitter.

"That fuckin Crackle. That fuckin Traitor. Can't believe it was him."

Blitz stepped into the room, trying to calm Verosika down.

"Hey, hey, hey, we all make mistakes. The least we can do is try to learn from them. Dipper wouldn't want us to give in. He's just lucky he didn't learn it was Crackle."

Verosika nodded and put out her cigarette.

"That Vaggie Girl? I owe her an apology. I know I do. I shouldn't have lost my cool like that."

"We all gotta start treating Vaggie a little better. We can't act better than the Horde, then discriminate here."

Verosika nodded.

Just then, Chief appeared at the doorway.

"Blitz, Verosika. Meeting room in five. It's about Velvet. We found the bitch and she's next."

Velvet

They all met in the meeting room.

Loona walked over to C.M., who was frightened by her presence since she shouted at him.

"Hey, C.M., I owe you an apology. What I said wasn't nice and I'm sorry."

C.M. nodded, but stepped back from Loona, right next to Vaggie.

"Yeah, apology accepted. Thank you."

Loona sighed and looked at the table, feeling remorseful.

Zim wasn't in the room, nobody saw him since yesterday, but they had too much to worry about.

Chief spoke up.

"Now, we finally managed to locate Velvet. Due to qualifications, she moved her ass over to Wrath into the big Mansion she has down there. Our main concern is to eradicate her this morning."

Just then, Stolas entered the room.

"I'm back, Everyone!"

Blitz was confused.

"Hun, where have you been?"

Stolas smiled and shrugged.

"Just doing some things that had to be done."

Chief knew and nodded, before turning back to Blitz.

"After we exterminate that bitch, we have to kill Deerie. She's been helping the Horde for years. She has an interview with 666 News tomorrow. If we crash her interview, the Revolution can begin."

Gaz stepped forward and continued the plan.

"Me, Carm, Fizz, and Husk are going to sing them all a song to help inspire the people. Me and Carm will play base, Fizz plays drums, and Husk sings. We'll inspire so everyone so quickly, we'll all be free by tomorrow."

Blitz nodded, before asking a question.

"What about Valentino? I want to kill that fucker too."

Chief answered.

"Don't worry about that. Just follow the plan, all shall be revealed in due time."

Blitz sighed, but nodded reluctantly.

Chief continued.

"By Noon tomorrow, the Horde will realize that they fucked with the wrong people."

Blitz smiled and crossed his arms.

"So, when do we start. I want my Girls to be happy by next year."

Player answered.

"I hacked into their systems, but our window is closing. Within five minutes, it'll be closed forever. So we should probably start now."

Blitz nodded before Loona handed him his axe and he looked at the others, before typing the coordinates on his watch.

A portal opened up and Blitz walked through, closing the portal behind him.

He was inside of a Janitor closet, before he kicked the door down.

The Exterminators in the Hallway were startled, before trying to attack, only for Blitz to shoot them in the head with his pistol.

About a dozen Exterminators rounded the corner, but Blitz pointed his hand at them and shot electricity through them, killing them within seconds.

Blitz started panting, since the usage of his powers took a toll on his stamina.

After catching his breath, he ran down the Hallway.

A couple Exterminators tried to attack him, but he sliced their heads off.

After at least a dozen more Exterminators felt the pain they dispensed to others, Blitz made it to Velvet's Office.

He was debating in his mind what kind of powers Velvet had, when just then, the door opened itself.

"Welcome, Mr. Blitz."

The room was dark, but Blitz had night vision so he was ready.

When he entered he couldn't see Velvet, before he looked on top of a bookshelf, seeing her standing atop it.

Velvet had a huge bag of potions ready to throw them.

Blitz was confused.

"Wait, your powers are just potion making?"

Velvet laughed.

"Of the most evil kind, Mr. Blitz."

Velvet threw a potion at Blitz, before he dodged it, and where he was standing, fire grew.

Velvet chuckled, forgetting Imps were fireproof, before throwing an explosive potion at Blitz.

Blitz caught it in the air and threw it back.

Velvet couldn't get out of the way, so the blast radius threw her off the bookshelf and into a glass case, glass impaled through her skin as she sat there in agony, bleeding out.

Blitz walked over to her, aiming his pistol, ready to shoot.

Velvet reached into her pocket and pulled out a pack of cigarettes, pulling out one, placing it between her lips, but as she tried to ignite it, her lighter was dead.

Blitz lowered his pistol, because touching the glyph on his forearm to have a little bit of fire appear, moving his arm towards Velvet.

Velvet lighted her cigarette and started smoking it.

Blitz watched on, allowing her one last request.

As Velvet smoked, she also spoke.

"I never wanted this life. Valentino ruined my mind and I couldn't get out. He put me on a high shelf and I had to stay there. Now, like Vox, I'm going to be remembered as a monster, despite not wanting to kill anyone."

Blitz returned the conversation.

"You stood by and watched thousands die. That's almost as bad as committing the atrocities yourself."

Velvet started chuckling before dissolving into sobbing.

"Why did it have to happen this way? I never wanted this. I couldn't do anything for anyone. Sure, I'm evil and I hung out with that piece of shit, Valentino, but I had standards, until Horde Prime took them away... I guess this is my final mistake, messing with you."

Blitz felt sorry for Velvet, before he spoke.

"When I was a kid, my Father also forced me to do terrible things in his name. Some of us aren't given a fair chance. And when we free the world, I promise you and Vox will be given the name of victims."

Velvet shook her head.

"Vox can be a victim. But I want to be completely forgotten about. If you write a book, please, please, please don't mention me. I did fucked up things. I... I just want to fade into obscurity. Please."

Blitz gave Velvet a sympathetic smile, before standing up.

Blitz readied his pistol pointing at Velvet's head.

Velvet didn't cry, beg, or plead, she only nodded.

"Ms. Velvet. I give you mercy."

Blitz, with a heavy heart, pulled the trigger.

Blitz didn't look back at the corpse, he only typed in the coordinates home into his watch, then returned home.

As soon as he entered, he saw everyone else was frantic.

Carmen ran over to him.

"Blitz, Zim is missing! We thought maybe he had just overslept, but nobody knows where he is."

Blitz looked around the room.

"FUCK!" He exclaimed to himself.

~~Timeskip~~

After looking for twenty minutes, Blitz looked in one of the ships they had.

Zim was curled on the floor, hugging his legs.

Blitz stepped inside.

"Zim? Are you okay? Come on, man, we gotta go, we're gonna start a Revolution."

Zim didn't turn to look at Blitz, he only spoke lightly.

"Zim? Oh, right, the Defect. Hated by his own kind. Nothing but a disappointment they told him. One day, the Tallests tricked Zim to go to Earth for a secret mission, but it was all Bullshit. He was just banished. Then that was it. That was that."

Blitz was worried.

"Look, Zim, you're not talking sense. Come on, we'll get you to Entrapta, she'll fix you all up. Come on now."

Blitz stepped forward to Zim, but Zim pulled out a pistol, pointing it at his own temple.

Blitz was startled, but tried to help.

"No, no, no, no, Zim. Come on, Man. We need you. You're our Friend and we love you."

Zim didn't respond to that, but he continued.

"Zim saw patterns. The only ones that the Alien overlords allowed."

As he spoke, he stood up and continued.

"His vision wasn't pure enough, so the Manipulating Regiment blocked out his chances. Nothing matters anymore, Man!"

Blitz used Zim's mumbling to tackle him down and pull the pistol from his hand.

Zim was fighting back for the pistol, so Blitz had to punch Zim to render him safe.

Blitz looked at Zim and sighed.

"Oh, shit."

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz brought Zim to the medical center, where Entrapta checked him out.

"What's wrong with him, Entrapta?"

"Clearly he had too many substances which narrowed his vision and mind. This occurs a lot where I'm from."

Just then Zim came to, but he looked like he made more sense.

"Oh, fuck, Man. I didn't do anything stupid right?"

Blitz sighed.

"You did something really stupid, but I managed to save you. I know you weren't thinking, but what the FUCK were you thinking?"

Zim sighed.

"I tried some of C.M.'s acid. There was a secret stash. I heard transmissions."

Blitz sighed, before grabbing Zim's arm.

"Zim, don't you ever forget who you are ever again, Man. I know the Tallests were assholes, but that does not define who you are."

Zim sighed and nodded.

"Yeah, I think I needed that."

Blitz smiled, before Verosika entered the room.

"It's time, Guys. In one more hour, Deerie comes on. Let's free our home!"

666 News

They all arrived in the Meeting Room.

Chief spoke.

"Now, Everyone, we're finally gonna do it. I guarantee it! We show the people they don't have to take this bullshit anymore and they join our cause!"

Vaggie spoke up.

"May I have a word?"

Vaggie was certain she was going to get yelled at, but to her surprise, Verosika spoke up.

"What's on your mind, Vaggs?"

Vaggie was surprised by this sudden calmness, but she spoke up.

"Maybe me and a couple of others, after we cause our Revolution, can go to the remaining Exterminators, to finally get them on our side. We'll cause what Horde Prime destroyed: peace."

Verosika nodded.

"Well, alright. But after the interview, others can lower their forces. Exterminators hate those that betray them. But don't worry, you're welcome aboard. You're a great member of this team."

"And, Vaggie. I'm sorry for how we've been treating you. We were wrong to take it out on you. You aren't an Exterminator, you're one of us! By discriminating against you, we show we're no better than the fuckin Horde."

Blitz walked over to Vaggie and pulled her into a hug.

Vaggie smiled, finally feeling welcome.

C.M. spoke up.

"So, Ms. Vee, after Brandon kills Mama Vivzie, we essentially just hope everyone gains the balls to fight?"

Verosika smiled.

"That's right, Charlie."

C.M. sighed.

"Well, it's more believable than other things. Like how Catra, Dib, Gaz, Mermista are aboard, but the story seems to completely ignore them. But okay."

Everyone was confused, but nodded.

Blitz spoke up.

"So, let's go and finally free the Universe of these Horde Assholes! We'll finally be free."

"Well, at least until the sequel, Horde Control: The Manipulating Regiment." C.M. chimed in.

~~Timeskip~~

Katie Killjoy was hosting the News once again, branding a fake smile.

"Alright, beloved People of Prime, next up is proud Horde Ally, Deerie from Heaven."

Deerie appeared on stage, gaining applause, before sitting down.

"So, Ms. Deerie, you've apparently killed your millionth Mentally ill person. Would you care to comment?"

Deerie laughed and spoke up.

"Of course, Ms. Killjoy, of course. And it's true! I've happily helped rid the world of these retarded pests for years. And now, nobody, not even the Imp terrorist, can stop our glorious Horde Prime's holy rule."

Just then a portal opened up, Blitz jumped out, shooting all Guards with electricity.

Deerie got up, before Loona walked out of the portal, holding a pistol to Deerie's head.

Stolas, Zim, Chief, Verosika, Millie, Moxxie, Gaz, Husk, Fizzaroli Alastor, Asmodeus, C.M., Carmen, and Catra walked through the portal and into the studio.

Moxxie ran over to lock the door of the studio.

Blitz was about to shoot Deerie, but Stolas put his hand on his shoulder, signaling that he wanted to deal with Deerie.

Stolas was holding a duffel bag that started to reek.

Deerie was instantly nervous, especially when the duffel bag was placed on the desk.

"Prince Stolas, this is certainly a pleasant surprise. I don't know what I did to warrant a visit such as this."

Stolas wasn't his normal, happy self.

Stolas unzipped the bag, startling the Audience.

There were decapitated heads inside.

Stolas pulled out three Exterminator heads, placing them on the desk, making Deerie grow sick.

"Sorry, but I thought Duvall, Frollo, and Turpan wanted to be known. The men who killed Charlie Morningstar after all."

Deerie gulped.

"I-!"

Stolas pulled out another man's head, throwing it at Deerie's hooves.

"And you know Walter Weinstein I trust? He sure was the right company, huh?"

Stolas reached into the bag and pulled out the head of Valentino, with its eyes gouged out.

Blitz was surprised.

He felt a heavy erection looking at Stolas at that moment.

"Oh, and who could ignore the infamous Valentino?"

Stolas tossed the head to the side, before Deerie stuttered.

"I... I know these gentlemen, but only because business. Nothing formal or personal, Mr. Goetia."

Stolas crossed his arms.

"Yet you were happily in cahoots with Stella, as I read documents of your affairs from the early 1800's. You helped with getting rid of the Princess. My Niece!"

Deerie jumped back, before talking nervously.

"What happened to your Niece was just the circle of life. Heaven vs Hell. Black and white. I didn't want to kill her. In fact, she survived, lived atop, then changed her gender. He's alive."

Stolas motioned over to the confused C.M.

Everyone who recognized him instantly felt hatred for the Horde.

Deerie was startled and grew angry upon seeing C.M.

"You fucking Retard! I'll kill you myself you Fa-!!!"

Deerie caught herself before Stolas narrowed his eyes at her.

Deerie gulped.

"You have acquired quite a networth. How much was it, Husk?"

"Bitch has $45 Billion and the real estate to your Palace, Your Highness."

"Thank you, Husk."

Stolas then stared murderously at Deerie.

"And right now, you are going into that closet and you will fill out your banking information so that my Family may be provided for, as well as forfeited us back our house. Though I'm not emotional about the house or money, you should write quickly, because there are rats that eat Deers in that closet, so you'll need to write it quickly if you want out."

Deerie felt a chill run down her spine.

"I-!!!"

"Once you finish that payment, you can deal with the next consequence of your stupidity. As stated, I'm not emotional about the house or money. But I am emotional that your Exterminators laid their hands and killed my Charlie, giving him Amnesia."

Deerie looked at C.M. for sympathy, but C.M. has none for Deerie.

Stolas then yelled, startling Deerie.

"MY CHARLIE HAS AMNESIA! Octavia doesn't want revenge for being raised in a cell, but she too wants revenge for her Cousin. But no amount of money can pay for that, Deerie. No, for that..."

Alastor walked over with a knife.

"I want a pound of deer flesh."

Deerie felt fear arise.

"D-deer flesh?"

"I don't care where, as long as it's a pound. But if you don't have the GUTS to deal with it yourself, Alastor will help. But he is a cannibal, so you better choose the right part of your anatomy."

"But I-!!!"

Alastor grabbed Deerie and dragged her to the closet.

"Let's go, Deer."

Deerie screamed in fear as the door shut behind them both.

Stolas smiled, before turning to Blitz, who nodded his approval.

"Wow, Stolas. That's fucked up... I loved it!"

"Well, well. Look at you fuckin Traitors. You're just sitting back, enjoying yourselves as Horde Prime is killing you, forced to be laughing. Laughing at the bullshit. Laughing till you die! Well, it ends tonight."

Millie stepped up.

"Fuck yeah it ends tonight. Everyone of the Universe, we are the free people of the Resistance, asking you to become one of us!"

Chief spoke.

"These Horde Scum are lying. They're threatening, torturing, killing. They beat you into submission."

"They beat you!"

"They ruined our freedom." Catra stated. "Making us their Slaves."

Verosika spoke again.

"Did you forget? They brought this war to our homes! Then they beat us!"

Loona stepped forward with C.M.

"They murdered us!" Loona said, before pointing at C.M. "They executed us!"

Carmen stepped up.

"But we outnumber them! We can take them down if we work together!"

"That's right!"

"Amen to that!"

Blitz finally spoke.

"They're gonna learn that they fucked with the wrong people. Tonight, let's make them burn. Tonight, you are one of us!"

Zim pumped his arms in the air, still suffering from withdrawals.

"Enough of these fuckin Horde Stink bags! I want you to take to the streets! Show them that the former Invaders of Irk will never surrender!"

Zim then coughed a bit and walked away from the camera.

C.M. looked at Stolas.

"Wait, I'm the Princess of Hell?"

Stolas smiled at C.M. and nodded.

Blitz then took Stolas's hand, grabbing his attention.

"Stolas. When this is all over, I need to ask you one question... Will you marry me?"

Stolas blushed immensely, before scooping up Blitz and kissing him relentlessly on his face.

Blitz has his answer.

And that night, the people of the Universe grew pissed.

They hated the Horde too.

Now it was time.

Time to not take it.

Gaz, Carmen, Fizzaroli, and Husk grabbed their instruments, before playing the song "We're Not Gonna Take It."

We're Not Gonna Take It

Chapter End Notes

I'm going on a break for a couple of months.

Don't worry, I'll be back soon.

Aftermath

That night, riots occurred.

Resistance Fighters fell by the hundreds.

But the Horde Soldier fell by the thousands.

And by the next day, the Universe was finally rid of Prime's Reign.

~~Gravity Falls~~

Sheriff Blubs and Deputy Durland walked over to the lamppost that still hung C.M.'s decaying corpse.

There was a small crowd under it.

Sheriff Blubs pulled out his revolver and shot the rope holding him up.

The crowd caught the corpse before it hit the ground, one of the them holding the broken guitar.

Sheriff Blubs spoke, taking off his hat in respect, Deputy Durland doing the same.

"Take him over to the cemetery. Get an Oak Coffin and bury him with his guitar. Treat the corpse carefully. He's a War Hero."

The crowd carried C.M.'s corpse towards the cemetery.

Many of the stores were looted and burning, but the cemetery was still there.

The nearby Citizens either knelt down or took off their hats to respect the Fallen Hero.

~~Pentagram City~~

The last Exterminator was shot dead in the middle of the street.

The buildings were on fire, cars were flipped over, and dead Exterminators filled the streets.

Husk set his shotgun down, before looking at the others surrounding him.

"Put them all in a pile. Burn them. They're tainting our streets with their presence alone."

Just then, a portal to Heaven opened up, startling the crowd as they readied for battle.

But the only Exterminator who came out was the corpse of one.

A few Angels walked through the portal.

"Need more wood for that fire? We got plenty."

Husk was hesitant at first, but smiled.

"Why not? The more dead Exterminators there are, the better."

~~Fright Zone~~

Catra made her way into the Main Deck of the Fright Zone.

The Fright Zone was now basically burnt to the ground.

Hundreds of remaining Horde Soldiers, Horde Trainees, and Civilians were crowded there, stopping at the sight of Catra.

In fear, they were about to salute, but Catra put her hand in the air to stop them.

"No, no. Never do that again."

A Horde Trainee, no older than 8 years old, stepped up.

"What is Bright Moon like?"

Catra looked down at the Kid and smiled.

"It was beautiful... before the war."

A Force Captain stepped up.

"How will we arrive there? We can't stay here, the filthy Princesses destroyed it."

Catra sighed, but replied.

"In peace. In love. Equally."

The Force Captain stepped up more.

"But we can't. They'll kill us instantly!"

Just then, Zim ran into the room, up to Catra.

The crowd gasped in fear of Zim.

"We have a form of transportation ready for them. Are the Refugees ready to go?"

Catra looked at Zim with a smile.

"Get it ready. We'll head out soon to Bright Moon. Just gotta get them ready."

"Don't be too long now."

"Aye aye, Zim."

Zim nodded and ran back out to tell Carmen to get the ship ready.

The Force Captain was baffled, before speaking.

"Are you aware you just took an order from an Irken?"

Catra sighed.

"Looks like we have a long way to go."

~~New York~~

Blitz walked through the streets of New York.

Not a Horde or V.I.L.E. Operative in sight.

He couldn't believe it.

They did it.

The Universe... was free.

Chief, Stolas, Loona, and Verosika walked alongside him.

Chief spoke up.

"It's gonna take a minute to build this place back up after the riots. But it should be fun to see Horde Soldiers burning."

Loona continued.

"So Everyone in the Fright Zone gets to live?"

"Some will be prosecuted. But we'll do it fairly. Equally. If we hold ourselves to their standards, we're no better. We only slaughtered the fuckers so we could get freedom again. Now that we have it again, we have to do it better. Be stronger than before. Smarter than before."

Just then, there was the sound of dozens walking down the street.

Wearing V.I.L.E. Outfits.

The group was about to attack, but stopped when they say they weren't even Operatives yet.

They were just Children.

Only a few were Operatives, but they seemed more worried about getting the few dozen Children away from the rummage.

They were covered in soot, some had cuts on their faces.

They were singing a cadence.

Not a Military Cadence.

The Operatives sang, the Children sang the next verse.

" 🎶 Who lives in a pineapple under the sea 🎶 "

" 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 "

They were emotionless or crying as they sing.

" 🎶 Absorbant and yellow and porous is he. 🎶 "

" 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 "

" 🎶 If nautical nonsense be something you wish. 🎶 "

" 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 "

" 🎶 Then drop on the deck and flop like a fish. 🎶 "

The Operatives and Children sang together.

" 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶
🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶
🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶
🎶 SpongeBob SquarePants. 🎶 "

They walked walked right past the group, still singing that last first.

Loona sighed, looking at the V.I.L.E. Students with empathy.

"Innocence is already gone here. It makes you wonder if it exists or it's just a state of mind we think we have until we learn the truth."

Just then, Octavia opened up a portal, running through frantically.

"Dad, Father! It's Charlie! They've snapped."

Blitz and Stolas looked at each other, before the group ran through the portal.

They ran to the Cafeteria.

C.M. had Moxxie in a chokehold and had a straight razor to his neck.

Millie was being held back, freaking out hysterically.

There was a crowd, so Blitz and Stolas had to push there way through.

"Stay the fuck back! I'm gonna do it! I'm gonna kill him! I have to!"

Blitz and Stolas were confused but stayed calm so C.M. would stay calm.

Stolas spoke gently.

"Charlie, what are you doing? There's literally no need for this."

"Shut the fuck up, Pinkham! I'm doing this!"

Moxxie was gasping desperately for air.

C.M. pressed the neck so close to his neck, it started dripping blood.

Stolas stood his ground.

"Charlie, what happened?"

C.M. spoke with a cracking voice.

"First degree murder. That's the only way they'll take me back now. I can't be out there on my own."

"You're not alone. We're here with you."

"Bullshit! I might have Amnesia but I read my own story in Heaven. Apparently you all admitted to treating me like shit before! You guys are just going to abandon me. I'm nothing to you but a means to an end!"

"Charlie, what do you hope to accomplish from this?"

C.M. couldn't answer, he only pressed the blade deeper into Moxxie's neck.

Stolas snapped slightly.

"Satandamn it, Charlie. Look at Moxxie's neck. He's bleeding. We both know you don't want hurt him, he's your friend. And Charlie Morningstar(t) is a kind person."

C.M. looked at the ground, still clutching the blade.

"I'm a Marine and a Gunslinger, born a Demon. Trained to kill."

"Charlie, you're not that person anymore. You're a Princess. Now look at his neck."

C.M. stayed silent.

Stolas snapped.

"LOOK AT HIM!"

C.M. was startled, before looking at Moxxie's neck, seeing the blood.

He started crying before letting Moxxie go, allowing him to fall to the ground and crawling into his wife's arms.

C.M. stood there sobbing, still clutching the straight razor.

Blitz carefully walked over and pulled the razor out of C.M.'s hand, before C.M. fell to his knees, covering his face with his hands to sob.

Cherri, Vaggie, and Angel knelt down by C.M. to hug him.

Vaggie spoke up.

"C.M., it's okay."

Moxxie snapped.

"Are you shitting me? He tried to kill me!"

Blitz snapped back.

"Well, why'd you tick him off anyway!?"

"I didn't! I just said he was going to be free again and he went crazy!"

Blitz looked down and sighed, before looking at the crowd.

"Everyone except Stolas, Moxxie, Chief, my Daughters, and Millie, leave the fucking room!"

Everyone disbursed.

Vaggie and Cherri helped C.M. to his feet, leading him out of the room, while Angel rubbed circles on his back.

Moxxie stood up.

"What the fuck was that!? That Son of a Bitch almost killed me!!!"

Loona spoke up.

"I thought you knew what happened."

"Maybe the amnesia made him crazier than expected! Why would he try to kill me AFTER we finally won the battle!?!"

Stolas snapped again.

"Be quiet, Guys. You don't understand the seriousness of the situation. Charlie didn't lose their marbles, they just... grew desperate."

Moxxie scoffed.

"Desperate for what? His right to kill an Imp?"

"Moxxie, C.M. doesn't have prejudice. It's something else."

"Charlie hasn't had real freedom since 1998. In that prison, in that old Resistance Hideout, in that Mental Asylum, and the Armada, Charlie was a valued person. An Educated Person. A War Hero. But in Hell they're considered nothing. Just another Mentally Ill Bisexual with tattoos."

"But they're Royalty."

"They were disrespected while heir to the throne. Nobody cared about their status. They were in prison. They became used to boundaries, dependant on boundaries. The same thing in the Hideout. And the Amnesia made it worse. Now boundaries are all they know."

"I think you might be talking out of your ass, Your Highness. Who doesn't want freedom?"

"Think about it. Charlie only watched movies from before the war on VHS. Shit a Prisoner could watch if they paid enough money. Their phone is a Nokia 3310. Now it's a different world out there than what they're used to. They probably couldn't get a Library Card if they wanted, not with the new technology. And besides which, the footprint that the Horde left... tensions are still high."

Stolas looked down at the ground, closing his eyes, filled with guilt.

"Maybe we revealed the truth to him and the whole world too soon."

Blitz walked over to Stolas, grabbing his Fiance by the hand.

"It's not your fault, Stolas. But we have bigger problems to worry about. We have to kill Horde Prime. No way is that fucker getting away with what he did."

Stolas looked at Blitz and nodded.

Chief stepped up.

"Alright, Blitz. This'll be the last mission we need. Are you ready for this?"

Blitz looked at Stolas with a confident smile, kissed the back of his hand, then looked at Chief with with determination in his eyes.

"Let's do this. Horde Prime will pay for what he's done."

The Last Dance Of Horde Prime

A Horde Soldier who survived the riots, was captured and dragged through the cafeteria by Cherri and Husk, before being thrown at the ground in front of Blitz and Chief.

Blitz pulled out C.M.'s old straight razor, one that had skulls engraved on the handle.

"Take off that fucking helmet and get on your fucking knees."

The Horde Soldier looked confused.

"But I-"

"TAKE OFF THAT FUCKING HELMET AND GET ON YOUR FUCKING KNEES OR YOU WON'T PISS AGAIN!"

The Horde Soldier nodded, removed his helmet, set it on the ground gently, and got onto his knees.

Blitz unfolded C.M.'s razor and walked closer to the Horde Soldier, kicking the helmet to the other side of the room.

"How do we teleport to Horde Prime's ship? I know magic is blocked, so we can only teleport there using the authorized code. What is it?"

The Horde Soldier gulped.

"That's classified information. I haven't the authority to-AAAAAAH!"

Instead of letting him finish, Blitz grabbed the top of the Horde Soldier's head, and cut him across the cheek with the razor.

The Horde Soldier sobbed and half his cheek with his hands while it bled profusely.

"Do you have the authority now or will it cost an ear or eye?"

"No, NO! I'll tell! I'LL TELL!"

Blitz let go of the Horde Soldier's head and the Horde Soldier slumped to the ground.

"What's the code, Bitch?"

"The authorized code is... FUCK!!! The authorized code is 04161952!"

Blitz smiled and nodded.

"Thank you for the answer."

The Horde Soldier panted, thinking it was over, before Blitz pulled out a pistol and shot him in the head, killing him.

"You are dark, Man." Chief said with a whistle.

Blitz looked at Chief with a smile.

"It's finally time."

~~Timeskip~~

Blitz typed in the password into his watch as it beeped, ready for teleportation.

Stolas, Loona, Zim, Octavia, Chief, Player, Verosika, Bow, Glimmer, Millie, Moxxie, Entrapta, and C.M. were in the Cafeteria along with Blitz.

Blitz gave his Daughters a kiss on the forehead.

Loona spoke.

"Dad, you better come home alive... Or I'm gonna kill you."

Blitz laughed.

"Don't worry, Loony, I'll be home by dinner. I'm thinking pizza and ice cream tonight."

Chief stepped up.

"Last mission, Blitz. Then it's an honorable discharge and the Galactic Congregational Medal of Honor for you."

Blitz saluted Chief for the last time.

Millie and Moxxie stepped forward.

Blitz, I'm not gonna lie." Millie stated. "I never thought we'd get this far when we first met you, but look at us now."

Blitz smiled and turned to Moxxie, who seemed too nervous as he crossed his arms.

"Just don't die, Sir."

Blitz patted Millie and Moxxie on the head.

Zim was next.

"Blitz, are you sure you don't want any backup? I can help you kill that fish!"

Blitz put his hand on Zim's shoulder.

"I wanna do this. This is personal and I want to savor Horde Prime dying, but I gotta do it alone."

Verosika then walked over.

"Do it for Dipper."

Blitz nodded respectfully.

"I promise."

Everyone stepped back as Blitz opened up a portal to Horde Prime's Main Ship.

The one that he cowardly fled to.

C.M. then stepped up.

"Yeah, Charlie? Make it quick I'm going."

"So am I."

Before Blitz could do anything, C.M. tackled him through the portal, despite everyone else's protests as the portal closed behind them.

They landed in an empty hallway.

Blitz grunted in pain as C.M. landed atop him, causing him to drop his axe.

C.M. reached into Blitz's front pocket and pulled out his straight razor.

C.M. then stood up.

"Charlie, what are you-?"

"Sorry, Mr. Blitz. But Horde Prime took my memories, he took my soul. He did this to me. It's time to join the fight."

"Charlie, before you lost your memories, I know I said you should step up. I take it back, you're not built for it!"

"This Marine Corps Tattoo says otherwise."

"You're not that Guy anymore, you're a Princess!"

C.M. chose not to listen as he turned heel and ran down the hallway to find Horde Prime.

Blitz stood up, grabbing his axe, before running after C.M.

He kept following the turns, but he couldn't see C.M.

It wasn't long before he came to a room that was blocked by a Green Laser Force Field.

"Well, well, well." Said a voice that made Blitz freeze. "Darling, you found me."

Blitz turned to see Horde Prime was sitting on his own throne, besides a portal.

Blitz readied his axe.

"Horde Prime, you sunuva Bitch! Did you think I'd let you get away with all of this?"

Blitz then saw that the last Horde Soldiers and Clones were all dead, lying on the ground.

Horde Prime could sense Blitz's chagrin.

"Ah, they were fuckin useless. These Fags and Retards couldn't stand being attacked by stupider Fags and Retards. Killed them myself. But I'm ready to offer a deal."

Horde Prime stood up and walked over to Blitz, the only thing separating the two being the Force Field.

"Join me. With that portal, we can become a Power Couple. You'd serve as my second in command and my side piece. Let's go to another dimension. We got lots of planning to do in order to top all the shit I did to this universe. How I purged the Retards, Sterilized the Faggots, or enslaved the Hellhounds. Poor little Charlie Morningstart, huh? Being cursed to be a Retard and a Faggot. No wonder his parents hated him."

Blitz grew angry, before noticing that C.M. snuck into the room through a vent, before unfolding his razor.

Horde Prime didn't notice.

"So are you really going to stay a Servant to a punch of Retards? We can go to another dimension and finally have a place cleansed of all the Subspecies."

C.M. walked behind Horde Prime.

"Cleanse this, Tyrant Asshole!"

Horde Prime was shocked before turned around, only to have C.M. slash the left side of his face with the razor, cutting open his left eye, permanently blinding him on that side as he screamed in agony.

Horde Prime stumbled back, only to end up getting his back burned by the Laser Force Field, causing him to scream louder.

C.M. slashed his razor across the air, cutting Horde Prime's right cheek, causing him to scream again, before punching C.M. across the face, causing C.M. to yelp and fall to the ground.

"FUCKING RETARD!"

C.M. slashed his razor across Horde Prime's ankle while down, causing Horde Prime to trip and fall to the ground.

C.M. was about to get up, but Horde Prime was already on top of him, straddling his waist.

C.M. slashed across Horde Prime's nose, his right ear, and his chin, causing Horde Prime to scream in agony, before he grabbed the arm C.M. was holding the razor in, breaking it in a fit on rage, making Charlie drop the razor.

Blitz flinched at the sound of broken bones.

C.M. screamed in pure agony, causing Blitz to grow distraught.

Horde Prime grabbed C.M. by the throat and stood up, holding C.M. in the air as he walked over to the portal, C.M. was sobbing because of his broken arm.

Blitz tried hacking into the room by hitting his axe into the control panel.

Horde Prime started typing into the portal, before it opened.

"I heard this dimension is dangerous. Have fun, Faggot!"

Horde Prime threw C.M. into the portal, into an unknown dimension, before turning it off.

Blitz froze, both distraught and filled with rage.

"NOOOO! BASTARD! C.M.! C.M.!"

Finally, the control panel gave in, and the Force Field was off.

Horde Prime turned to Blitz with a smile.

"So, are you accepting my offer-AAAAH!"

Blitz threw the axe into Horde Prime's shoulder with as much force as he could, breathing heavily to fuel his rage.

Blitz gave Horde Prime no chance to assess the situation, before sprinting over to him, pulling out a knife, and plunging it into his side, stabbing multiple times.

Horde Prime fell to the ground in agony, before Blitz grabbed the handle of his axe, and ripped it out of Horde Prime's shoulder, causing him to scream.

Realizing Blitz wasn't going to accept his offer, Horde Prime decided to reason with him in fear.

"Blitz, if I die, everyone else dies."

Blitz scoffed, not paying attention.

"This is for Adora!"

Horde Prime tried to cover his face, but the axe cut off his right hand, causing him to scream in pain.

"This is for Shadowsan!"

Blitz swiped the axe again and cut off Horde Prime's right forearm, making Horde Prime cry loudly.

"For Chase!"

Blitz cut off the rest of the right arm from the shoulder.

"Dipper Pines!"

"For Vox!"

He cut off the left forearm.

"Velvet!"

He cut of the rest of the left arm.

Horde Prime fell complete on his back, back Blitz wasn't done.

"For Barbie Wire!"

"For Sea Hawk!"

Blitz cut off the left shin.

Horde Prime sobbed out in pain as his blood pooled on the floor.

"For Scorpia!"

Blitz cut off the rest of the left leg, before switching to the right.

"For Charlie!"

Blitz cut off the right foot.

"For Hell's Royalty!"

Blitz cut off the right shin.

"And this is for everyone else you killed, you piece of shit."

Blitz cut off the rest of Horde Prime's right leg, causing Horde Prime to cry loudly with a few loose sobs and some coughs.

"Stop it, Blitz, I can't take it anymore. Ow, shit. I'M FEELING LIKE SHIT RIGHT NOW!"

Blitz stood over Horde Prime, wielding the axe with both arms and a tight grip.

"That's the way you should feel, fuckin cunt."

"WAIT!!!" Horde Prime bellowed with a beg. "Wait! Wait! There's a monitor strapped to my heart beat! We put big bombs inside all of the planets we took over so they'd explode if I was ever assassinated! If you kill me, they go off!"

Blitz scoffed.

"Sounds like the desperation of a piece of shit who wants to buy himself more time. I'm not falling for it."

"BLITZ, WAIT!!!"

"And this is for me."

"NO!!!"

Blitz raised the axe over his head and decapitated Horde Prime.

As his head left his body, Blitz felt so much joy and relief, before the red lights started flashing.

"You have activated the bombs. Detonation shall begin." Said the Computer.

"What? No. NO!!! NO!!!"

Blitz looked out the window as saw one planet at a time start to explode.

~~In Etheria~~

Catra looked at the sky at the detonating planets, before the ground at her feet started shaking and exploding with a high explosion, killing everyone in the planet.

~~In Heaven~~

The bomb went off, killing all Angels with a powerful explosion, capable of eradicating even them.

~~In Hell~~

All Demons in Hell burned in a flame that was too powerful for even them to live through.

~~On Earth~~

The Earth exploded into pieces, killing everyone with either flames or debris.

~~On Irk~~

The Irkens were blown apart as the ground and sky were detonated with fire and explosive that was too powerful for even their strongest of technology.

~~Aboard Horde Prime's Ship~~

Blitz could do nothing more except look at the planets as they exploded.

A Universe he tried to free, was being destroyed in front of him.

And despite not planting the bombs, he ended up detonating them.

With the only survivors being aboard the Armada.

And Blitz could blame nobody but himself and his blind rage.
