Chapter 1

Princess Adora has a crush.

And it's not subtle.

Well, to everyone outside the bubble that is Princess Adora and the new knight Catra.

Knight Catra didn't grow up at the castle Grayskull. In fact, she only arrived a month ago after Princess Adora's father, King Randor returned, the magicat Knight in tow. The fact that she had literally tripped over her own two feet into the new knight's arms and the lingering stares they shared in that moment, made Princess Adora believe in love at first sight (or trip). The new knight, smiled wickedly at the blonde as she helped right herself before going back to attention as before the princess had fallen into her arms.

For some bizarre reason that neither of them (because they are complete oblivious), King Randor assigned the new knight as Princess Adora's personal bodyguard. When the king had told his daughter the news with a devious grin on his face, Adora had no words as her body heated up and a blush stayed on her face at the thought of having the new knight watching over her. Adora never had a personal bodyguard before and she had no idea how to act around one.

The new knight Catra accompanied the Princess everywhere and had took to guarding the princess when she slept from outside of her door. For the first three days at least anyways. The first night, the new knight rushed in when the Princess had nightmares and the movement from the bedroom alerted the magicat, her excellent hearing picking up the sounds of distress from inside the bedroom. She bursts into the room ready to fight whoever was attacking only to find the princess in not much else but her nightgown, looking at her with wide eyes and heavy breaths as she sat up in bed. Catra made her way around the room, checking every nook and cranny until she got to the bed and saw blue eyes staring at her in amusement. Catra scoffed and left the room without a word said.

The second night, Adora had woke up screaming. Another nightmare. Once again the magicat burst through the door, only to find the princess once again staring at her with those blue eyes, breathing heavily as the magicat searched around the room again. And when the magicat was done, another amused look on the blondes face at her knight as the magicat scoffs again, rolling her eyes this time and leaving the room without a word said… again.

On the third night, Princess Adora had a little too much to drink with her friends Princess Glimmer and Sir Bow, the knight carrying the stumbling blonde back to her room, the Princess unable to walk on her own with the very little alcohol she had consumed. As soon as her knight had brought the princess back to her room, she had turn around quickly when Adora decided she needed to get changed into her night gown right there and then. The knight waited patiently until she heard the sound of the princess crawling under the blankets and a light snore taking place not long after. Catra sighs, shaking her head at how ridiculous all of this was. She had left Halfmoon, her home, her family and her life to be here. Her mother had said to go, as it'd be a good adventure. Let her spread her wings or some other bullshit. Essentially, she's there out of duty to her mother, her mother who thinks she could use some socialising or something instead of being a faceless soldier at home. It was only by chance that the King of the famous Castle Grayskull had chosen her to come back with him and his entourage made up of the Queen, their own personal guards and a few assistants.

Back to the third night… once Catra had checked the princess was actually asleep and in bed, she turned off the light and went to her nightly post outside her door. The magicat leant back against the door, closed her eyes and sighed.
"Oof!" Catra lands on her back on the floor when the door she was leaning up against opens suddenly and she looks up at a very embarrassed and guilty looking princess. The magicat pushes herself off the floor quickly, glaring at the princess and grunts out, "What are you doing? You're supposed to be sleeping."

"Sorry…" Princess Adora apologises as she nervously bounces from one foot to the other, "I uh, didn't mean to do that… I mean, I didn't know you were leaning against the door…"
"It's fine, princess." Catra brushes herself off and then sees the princess not making any moves to head back to bed, "Bed, princess. Go. Now."
Adora shakes her head, biting her lip.
Catra sighs again, "What's wrong, Princess Adora?"
"You can just call me Adora." The Princess says in almost a whisper.
The knight eyes her suspiciously, but nods, "Catra." The magicat bows as she introduces herself, "I don't believe we had a formal introduction."
"No." Adora smiles wide as if she's been entrusted with the most precious gift of her knight's name, "Why do you sleep outside?"
"I don't understand." Catra replies.
The liquid courage Adora had consumed is starting to wane and she takes a deep breath, forcing herself to step forward and into the magicat's space, throwing her arms over her knight's shoulders and then resting her forehead on Catra's, looking deep into the eyes of the knight that has been assigned to protect her.
Adora's eyes narrow when she notices something she should have seen from the start, "Your eyes…"
Catra tries to look away as she feels her fur bristle and her tail puff up, unfortunately for the magicat, the princess is fast and cups Catra's face in her hands to keep their eyes locked, "I don't think…"
"Is this… inappropriate?" Adora asks softly, her eyes still fixed to the magicat's, "Can you sleep in here tonight?"
Catra body heats up with the question, "Uh, I don't think that would be a good idea."
Adora giggles, "I didn't mean it that way. I just meant you can sleep in my room instead of outside of it."
"I, don't understand." Catra repeats.
"Guard me from in here." Adora essentially orders her knight before shyly admitting, "I'd feel safer if you were inside here with me.”

That statement from Adora was genuine and earnest if Catra had ever heard that ever said to her before, that Adora felt safe with her. What choice did the knight have? Well, two really.

One – she could walk away and go back to her post outside
Or
Two – she could stay inside the room, Adora’s bedroom, where the princess feels safer.

So… being an unofficial knight of Grayskull, Knight Catra chooses option one. (ie. The brain.)
Catra of Halfmoon however, chooses number two (ie. The heart.)

The Halfmoonian spends the night in the Adora’s room.
She sleeps by the door the first night, curled up in a ball on top of the softest blanket she’s ever felt, a blanket gifted to her from Princess Adora herself and straight from Adora’s bed.

Not a week later, Adora is frustrated at her knight’s inaction. – she really thinks she’s being obvious. What with the longing looks. The extra attention. And the gentle touches whenever they get close. But the magicat seems… dense… unreceptive… annoyingly oblivious.

Catra is asleep by the door, her ears lie flat on her head, her tail curled around herself protectively as she is balled up on the soft blanket Adora had gifted her. Adora huffs. Not loud enough to wake the magicat or even cause an ear to flicker when the Princess decides to take things into her own hands again. She pulls the blankets off herself and gets off her bed, padding slowly towards her guarding magicat. Catra’s ear twitch at the movement as they follow the princess’ movements getting closer to her. She lets off a low warning growl and then ‘mrrps’ when the princess drops down onto the floor onto the blanket, right next to her, wrapping herself around the magicat’s back.
When Catra doesn’t outright tell her go away, Adora takes it as a win and wraps her arms tighter around her knight. She almost coos when Catra starts to purr as the magicat falls back asleep, the princess still wrapped around her back as she falls asleep as well soon after.

This becomes a nightly ritual for the pair for a good fortnight, until Princess Adora's back can't take sleeping curled up on the floor anymore. She finds herself alone in bed while she watches Catra get herself ready to sleep on the floor.
"You know… you can come up here on the bed… with me?" Adora mentions like a passing thought.
"I know." Catra replies but continues to push the blanket around.
"Catra!" Adora whines with a pout, "Come here! Please."
"Wow, a please from the princess." Catra smirks as she stops what she's doing and looks at Adora.
Adora gets off the bed and walks towards the magicat reaching out for her hand but not the full way, wanting to make sure Catra wants the same thing. She breathes out happily when Catra takes the offered hand and Adora leads her back to the bed, "My bed is a lot comfier."
"I'm sure it is." Catra replies as she stops at the edge of the bed, "I'll take the foot of the bed."
"No." Adora says, holding on tightly to Catra's hand.
"Adora." Catra warns lightly, "What do you want?"
Adora looks away, the blush on her face spreading as Catra holds onto the princess hand waiting for an answer.
As always, Adora is better with actions than words as she pulls Catra's hand that's still in hers to rest on her waist as Adora's other hand cups Catra's cheek, the magicat instinctively leans into Adora's warm hand, a low purr emitting. Adora's eye flick from Catra's eyes to her lips and she notices the magicat smile, a fang poking through her lip, knowing what Adora is thinking.
"Fuck it." Adora leans in and presses her lips onto Catra's. The magicat grins into the kiss as Adora's eyes open briefly and then shut again when she feels Catra's lips moving against hers, deepening the kiss. When they part, Adora leans her forehead onto Catra's, "Wow…"
Catra laughs at Adora's reaction, "I don't think this is what your father had in mind when he assigned me to look after you."

“I don’t care.” Adora shrugs as she leans into kiss Catra again, “You’re still my knight and I trust you to look after me.”
The Princess pulls her knight onto the bed, Catra pulling the sheets over the pair as they continue to make out. At some point when their faces are sore from kissing, Catra moves behind Adora, wrapping her arms around her Princess and whispers, “I got you, Adora.”
“Safe.” Is all Adora says as she yawns.

The next day when they enter the dining room, Adora sits down as Catra stands behind as usual. That is until Adora tugs Catra down into the empty chair next to her with a grin that says, “You belong next to me, not behind me.”
Catra rolls her eyes at the princess but doesn’t get up.
The King eyes the pair and then looks to his wife, nudging her, “See, I told you I was right about this. They'll be married in no time!”
“Shush darling. Let them move at their own pace.” The Queen nudges back playfully as both Catra and Adora pretend badly at hiding what is plain to see.

I challenge you

Part 2 - Adora wants to prove she can look after herself... by challenging her knight.

Why not a part 2... right?
I had this rolling in my brain today while I was travelling... so I typed it up.
Enjoy!

“You want to challenge me?” Catra asks with an amused look on her face as she pauses eating her breakfast, “With swords?”
Adora nods, a grin on her face, “Yes. I’ll prove to you that I don’t need you to protect me. But you don’t need to use a sword. You can use your weapon of choice.”
Catra shakes her head with a grin of her own on her face, “I know you don’t need me to protect you, princess.” Adora narrows her eyes at the magicat as Catra continues, “It’s my duty to protect you. There’s a difference.”
“I don’t need protecting.” Adora repeats and rolls her eyes, “Besides, I can beat you one on one.”
“Sure, princess.” Catra brushes the challenge off as she continues to consume her breakfast as Adora huffs at her.
“You don’t believe me?” The blonde crosses her arms in front of her chest and pouts a little.
“I didn’t say that either.” Catra replies with a sigh.
“Then accept my challenge.” Adora reasons.
“Fine. What are the stakes?” Catra asks as she pushes her empty plate forward and leans back into her chair.
Adora thinks for a moment before replying, “I challenge that I can beat you in my dress and you in full armour. Winner gets to be big spoon.”

Catra laughs at the absurdity of the stakes, "Princess. If you want to be big spoon, you just have to say so. You don't need to get us both hot and sweaty to do that. Especially if we aren't even going to do anything in the bedroom except from sleep."
Adora stands up, smirking as she crosses over to stand behind Catra, wrapping her arms around the magicat's shoulders from the back and whispering into her ear, "Who said we wouldn't be getting hot and sweaty in the bedroom?"
Catra laughs even harder, "Adora. Quit playing."
"What makes you think I'm playing?" This time Adora actually pouts.
The magicat turns around in her seat so she can look up at her princess and then slowly gets up from her chair, stepping around it whilst staying wrapped in Adora's arms as she leans her forehead onto the blonde's, "You know I'm serious about you, right?"
Adora nods.
"Good. Fine. I'll take up your stupid challenge." Catra sighs before pressing her lips softly on Adora's.
The blonde smiles into the kiss as she wraps her knight into her even tighter, "When?"
"I have to go with the King on a diplomatic mission today and tomorrow." Catra replies, "So… the day after that?"
"Do you have to go?" Adora looks innocently into Catra's eyes, "I thought you were supposed to be my knight…?"
"I am your knight, princess." Catra says softly, "But I am also a knight for this kingdom. And as you probably are aware, your father is head honcho. So… what he says goes."
Adora pouts and Catra presses her lips onto hers again, the blonde sighs, "When do you leave?"
"Your father will come and get me after breakfast…" Catra starts and then the door to the mess hall opens suddenly and both the king and queen come through.
"Ah, Adora and knight Catra, good morning!" Her father greets the pair with a big grin on his face seeing the two of them so close.
"Father." Adora greets back, "Mother."
"Good morning, Adora." The queen smiles, "Come on, get dressed. We have a lot to do today." She nods to Catra, "As do you, knight Catra."

"Yes, my queen." Catra untangles herself from Adora and her pouting lips and bows, "I should…" she looks to Adora and nods, "I should get ready."
The queen nods as the king puts his hands on his hips, "Bring something warm. We are going to the Kingdom of Snows."
"Yes, my king." Catra bows again.
King Randor looks between the pair and smirks, "You've got half an hour."
And just as quickly as they entered, the king and queen both exit.
"Well, I guess I better go get ready." Catra turns to Adora.
"Yes. I guess I should too." Adora sighs as she pulls Catra back into her with a grin, "Doesn't mean you can't kiss me a few more times before then…"
Smiling a toothy grin, Catra replies, "Of course. Anything the princess desires."

Catra returns as promised the day after, a little bloody and bruised.
"Oh my stars! What happened to you?!" Adora rushes to her knight, concern all over her face as she coddles the magicat, "Where are you hurt?!"
Catra smiles at her princess, "Your father decided it would be fun to challenge the Kingdom of Snow's guards to some fisty cuffs… after he had a few too many rounds of ale…"
Adora frowns a little, "I'm going to have words with my father!"
"Woah!" Catra pulls Adora back from rushing out the door, "Don't worry about that. Your mother will give him a good 'talking' to. Trust me."
Adora huffs, still angry, "Did you have a few too many ales as well?"
"Me?" Catra points to herself as Adora nods, "No. This is the result of me pulling him out of the eighth 'challenge' and then having to take his place when he decided to 'tag me in'."
Adora huffs once more, "You fought?"
"I had to." Catra shrugs, "You father ordered me to… even after a few ales, a drunken king's order is still the king's order."

Adora takes Catra's face into her hands and looks the magicat in the eyes, trying to search for any lies but finds none before then inspecting her knight's face for injuries, "Where are you hurt?"
The question is asked a lot softer now that the princess knows the story and Catra leans her forehead onto her princess', "I got a few cuts and bruises, some lucky shots really…"
Adora rolls her eyes, "Just tell me where."
Catra takes Adora's hands and presses it gently to the bruises on her body that the blonde can't see, "Couple of bruises on my back from a chair and a sore rib from a deflected punch. The rest you can kind of see already on my face and…" Catra holds up her haphazardly wrapped fists, "well, you can see my hands could do with a little bit of love…"
Adora sighs, "Come on, we need to get you cleaned up."
Catra follows Adora into the bathroom and the princess dutifully fixes her up.
As they lay in bed together later, Adora turns over, "We don't need to spar tomorrow. You're clearly hurt…"
"No way, princess." Catra replies, still lying on her back, "I heal fast. I'll be good tomorrow."
"Are you sure?" Adora wraps an arm around Catra's stomach.
"Yeah. I'm sure."

The pair stand in the empty training room. Catra had made sure to have it cleared out so that her and Adora could spar in private, as per the princess' request. She didn't want prying eyes watching her and her technique, she liked having the element of surprise if she ever needed to fight.
"So… a sword for you?" Catra asks as she adjusts to the clunky armour she has to don for this challenge, "Ugh, I hate this Etherian crap for armour…"
Adora laughs as she adjusts her dress, limbering up, "Yes. I've got my sword. What about you?"
Catra tosses the helmet away, "I'm not wearing that."
"Yes, you have to. It's part of the full armour." Adora chuckles as Catra just glares at the offending article of armour, "That. That was the agreement."

“Adora. I’ve never worn a helmet in my life and there’s no way I’m starting now.” Catra argues, “Besides, those things aren’t suited to my head or my ears.”
Adora rolls her eyes, “Fine. If you don’t have to wear the helmet, then I get to do this.” Adora rips the sleeves off the dress, freeing her arms, “Much better.”
Catra’s eyes stare at the princess’ now exposed arms and grins, “Yeah… much better…”
“Ahem.” Adora interrupts Catra’s staring, “Weapon?”
“Oh, right.” Catra’s eyes flick up to Adora’s, not even ashamed of her staring as she just raises her hands, “I don’t need a weapon. I’ve got these.” Her claws come out to show Adora before retracting them again, “Good?”
Rolling her eyes at the magicat, Adora nods, “Fine. But don’t cry at me when I accidently cut your hands…”
“What are the rules?” Catra asks as she tries to find somewhere for her tail to go before grunting and cutting a hole in the metal wide enough for it, “Much better.”
Adora laughs, “Yeah, I don’t think Etherian armour is made for magicats.”
“You think?” Catra sarcastically adds, shaking out her arms, “So… rules?”
“First one to give, loses.” Adora replies.
“Uh, okay…” Catra replies unsurely, “So, if you say you surrender then it’s over?”
“Pretty much.” Adora answers with a non-committal shrug, “Ready?”
“Hang on.” Catra raises her hand as she smooths down her short mane, “Okay. I’m good now.”
“Right.” Adora says as she raises her sword and gets into an attacking stance, “Let’s do this!”
Catra sighs but nods as they begin.

Adora begins attacking strong, slashing and jabbing towards the magicat who’s movements are disjointed in the clunky armour, trying to avoid every strike from the princess. The blonde makes contact with the armour a few times as the sword clanks on the metal, eventually Catra has to rip off most of the dented armour as she continues to strategically strike at the princess.

"You can't keep getting rid of the armour, Catra!" Adora groans as Catra rips off the dented leg piece of metal Adora's struck hard with her sword, "That's not fair?"
"You never mentioned I wasn't allowed to remove defective gear." Catra reasons as she deftly moves out of the way of another strike while throwing off the dented piece of metal, "Besides, if I had to wear all this into the battle and it got damaged, I would be taking it off anyways. Lest it hinders me further."
"You're going to get hurt if you take all of it off." Adora scoffs at her knight, "I don't want to hurt you for real."
"You aren't. Trust me." Catra replies as she slashes her claws along Adora's back.
"Ha! Missed!" Adora taunts as she spins around and strikes again, hitting the armour on Catra's chest hard, the princess if panting hard as she pulls back when Catra quickly moves to her side and slashes her claws at her again, seemingly missing again, "You haven't landed a single blow on me! While you're down to just the armour on your chest."
Catra shrugs nonchalantly, "That's okay."
"You're not going to win." Adora replies a little irritated, "This is supposed to be a challenge."
"I didn't forget that, princess." Catra smirks, "I'm winning in my own way."
"How? By letting me dent all your armour?" Adora scoffs as she hits the armour on Catra's chest again as the magicat slashes somewhere along Adora's waist with her claws, "You haven't even landed a hit on me. You're not even trying, are you?"
"On the contrary…" Catra replies with a mischievous grin on her face, "And in case you haven't noticed, you haven't made me surrender yet, either."
That seems to fire up the blonde as she moves with more intent, slashing wildly at the magicat as Catra laughs, evading and avoiding each and every one of them until Adora trips the knight up. Catra's falls, the clunky armour on her shoulders hurts her more than if she wasn't wearing it as Adora points her sword into Catra's throat.

“Do you give?” Adora is breathing heavily as she pushes the sword a little more towards the knight’s throat.
Catra looks up from where she is, the sword very close to the skin on her throat and she laughs.
“What’s so funny?” Adora asks surprised that her knight is laughing when she’s clearly won.
Catra shakes her head and moves slightly back from point of the sword and then says, “My victory.”
Adora looks at the magicat perplexed, “Uh, what victory? Did you miss the part where I’ve got my sword at your throat? I won.”
“Mm… up for debate.” Catra pushes the sword to the side and gets up before Adora can attack again quickly slashing her claws to the princess’ back.
“Wha…” Is all Adora can say before the princess’ is left in her smalls. Her dress completely falls apart with the final slash from the magicat. Her eyes go wide as she stands in the middle of the training room, half naked and in front of her knight, quickly trying to cover up herself and glaring at the magicat, “Hey! That’s not fair!”
“Surrender princess.” Catra says confidently, “Or you can walk out of here in less than your smalls…”
Adora glares at her knight one more time, “Like you could do that.”
Catra raises an eyebrow at her princess, a smirk on her face, “Princess. You didn’t even realise I had practically slashed your dress to shreds the whole time. What makes you think I couldn’t get rid of the rest of it… quickly…”
“You wouldn’t…”
“I would.” Catra grins and Adora knows she’s right, she could and there would be nothing Adora could do about it, “Or you can surrender and I will give you my cloak to wear back to your room.”
Adora thinks about it for a moment, “And if I don’t?”
“Hm… I don’t think your parents would be happy with me if you were to walk around the castle naked, princess…” Catra replies, “But then again… I wouldn’t mind testing that theory…”
Adora’s face heats up as she looks down at herself and reluctantly surrenders, “Fine. You win. I surrender.” Catra grins wider as she takes the sword from Adora, sheathing it and throwing it over her shoulder, “Your cloak?”

Catra looks Adora up and down with a grin on her face, before turning around and picking up her cloak and wrapping her princess in it, “Come on, let’s get back to your room. I could use a shower.”
Adora sighs, “Yeah, me too.”
“Hey Adora?” Catra asks just before she goes to open the door to exit the training room.
“Hm?”
“Are we going to get hot and sweaty in your bedroom tonight?” Catra asks with a grin, “Because if that’s the case… I think the shower can wait until after…”

“Hey Adora.” Catra greets as she walks into the blonde’s bedroom, a festively wrapped box in her hands, “You’ve got a package.”
“Oh, who is it from?” Adora asks as Catra flips the package around trying to find the sender.
“Uh… It’s from a Princess Entrapta from Dryll.” Catra replies as she reads the card, “There’s a note attached to it too.”
Catra hands the box over to Adora so she can open the note, “What’s it say?”
“Patience, princess.” Catra scolds playfully as she takes the paper out of the envelope as Adora looks over the box, the magicat knight clears her throat and begins to read, “To Adora, as per the data collected from our brief conversation, I believe this is something you and your knight will enjoy. E.” Catra flips the paper over, “Huh. There’s more writing at the back.”
Adora looks up from the box in her hands trying to remember what conversation she had with Entrapta, “What does it say?”
“You may want to lock the door before using it.” Catra reads, “Huh. That makes zero sense.” The knight looks to the princess, “Any idea what’s inside?”
Adora shakes her head, “Nope. No idea. I don’t even remember what we even talked about.”
“Are you going to open it?” Catra asks as she looks at the box in Adora’s hands, “From all accounts and all the times I’ve met her, she’s kind of… unpredictable.”

Adora snorts back a laugh, “She is. But she’s and really smart and really eccentric.”
“Yeah.” Catra agrees with a grin, “She nearly fell off the balcony railing at your friends get together in Bright Moon, I pulled her back just before she lost her balance. She thanked me with tiny cupcakes…”
Adora starts to laugh, “That’s Entratpa. Thank you for saving her though.”
Catra shrugs, “Eh, part of the job I guess.”
And just as Catra says that, the King and Queen appear in the open doorway of Adora’s bedroom. King Randor smirking at the pair while the Queen smiles at them in greeting.
“Knight Catra.” The king greets, “Did you gift my daughter something?” he says as he eyes the box in Adora’s hands, waggling his eyebrows at them in amusement.
“No, my King.” Catra replies with a sigh, “This is a gift from the Princess of Dryll.”
“Oh, Princess Entrapta!” Queen Marlena lights up with a wider grin, “She makes the most…interesting things.”
Adora looks at her mother with intrigue, “Like, what kind of interesting things?”
Marlena chuckles and looks to Randor, the King quickly looks away, acting nonchalantly as his wife shakes her head at his unwillingness to answer the question, she instead turns her attention to Catra, the knight who seems very confused by the whole situation, “Knight Catra.”
“Yes, my Queen.”
“Promise me, whatever is in that box will not be used until you sought our blessings. Which I shouldn’t need to remind you, you will have, as long as you seek us out first.” The queen’s tone turns serious in warning, the magicat shuffles uncomfortable as she adds, “Promise me, our knight.”
“Yeah. Yes. Sorry, yes my Queen. I will. I promise.” Catra stutters through her answer, not really sure what she’s agreeing to exactly but for her Queen, for the kingdom, she’d give her life, so a promise of this nature seemed out of place as the knight clears her throat, “I promise, my Queen.”
“Good.” The Queen claps her hands together, happy that the knight has agreed as she turns to her husband and the King, "Come on. We have things to do, dear."

"Yes, love." King Randor replies sweetly to his wife, before turning back to Adora and looking at the box with a smirk, "Oh, Adora?"
"Yes, father?"
"My advice to you." He grins widely as he looks between Adora and her knight, "Open anything you receive from Entrapta in private."
And with that, him and the Queen are out the door and down the hall.
"Your folks are weird." Catra shakes her head with a roll of the eyes.
"That's treacherous, my dear knight." Adora raises an eyebrow at the magicat, "You do not want strangers to hear you speak ill of the king and queen."
"Fuck off, Adora." Catra scoffs as Adora grabs her knight by the lapels of her jacket, pulling her in for a kiss, making the magicat 'mmrrp' in surprise, and as Adora releases her, Catra looks at the Princess confused, "What was that for?"
"I am the princess. I am allowed to kiss you." Adora states plainly as Catra wraps her arms around the blonde's waist, "Besides, you are my personal knight."
"That kind of seems like an abuse of power." Catra jests, "I could totally report you to my boss."
The mischievous grin on Catra's face has Adora rolling her eyes, "I'm allowed to kiss you. Because you allow me to."
"I guess that's true." Catra presses another kiss onto Adora's lips, "Now… let's get that box open and see what that Dryll Princess has gifted you."
"Okay." Adora smiles back, "Shut the door?"
"Sure, Princess." Catra nods, releasing Adora and walking towards the open door, "Should I also lock it?"
"No. I don't think that will be necessary." Adora waves Catra off, "Come over once you've shut the door."
Catra shuts the door, locking it for good measure despite what Adora thinks, there have been too many times when someone from staff 'accidentally' walk in on them while they are trying to have some sort of privacy.

“Ready?” Adora asks.
“Yeah. Crack her open.” Catra sits down on the bed next to Adora, “What has your dear friend, Entrapta sent you.”
“Geez, you’re so eager!” Adora giggles as she stars to open up the wrapping paper, “I like how colourful this paper is.”
“Uh huh.” Catra replies, her eyes completely focused on Adora’s hands.
Once the wrapping paper is off, the flips the box open and her jaw drops, Catra looks over and bursts out laughing.
“Oh, my stars!” Adora blushes profusely as she quickly shoves the box into Catra’s lap, “Why would she send something like this?!”
Catra’s laughing subsides as she pulls out the contents of the box, “Is this a strap on?”
“…yes?”
“What exactly were you and Entratpa talking about the last time you guys met, princess?” Catra drawls, the paraphernalia being inspected in her hands, “We haven’t done more than a lot of kissing and some heavy petting…”
“Catra!” Adora whines, “Can you stop playing with it?!”
“What? Why?” Catra grins at Adora.
Adora reaches over and grabs the sex toy and the box, shoving it back in, her face still beet red as she stuffs it under her blankets, “Why would she send this?! We never even spoke about… well, any of that at all!”
“What did you talk about? Because you must have said something for her to send this…” Catra asks, the grin on her face just won’t go away, “Something must have given her the idea to make and send you something like this. I mean, the letter did say, it would be something you and your knight would enjoy. And I’m assuming that knight would be me…”
“Of course it’s you.” Adora quickly cuts Catra off as she thinks back to her conversation with Entratpa and then something clicks in her brain, “Oh no…”
“What? What is it?”
Adora groans into her hands, “I told her that… well, she asked if we were together…” the blonde starts as Catra waits patiently, “I told her that we were and that we had only just kissed and it was… amazing…” Adora doesn’t bother looking at the magicat preening, “Shut up!”

“I didn’t say anything!” Catra protests with a chuckle.
“That was it. I just said we kissed!” Adora almost shouts, “I don’t know where she got the idea we were… you know?”
“Having sex?”
Adora nods, her face still hot in her hands.
“Adora.” Catra pulls the princess’s hands off her face, shifting so she’s now kneeling in front of Adora, “I told you. We don’t have to do anything until you want to.”
“I know.” Adora sighs looking deep into Catra’s eyes, “I know.”
Catra smiles softly back, her ears flickering a little when she recalls something, “I wonder what your mother meant by ‘Entrapta sends interesting things’?”
“Ugh! I don’t want to think about that…” Adora groans once again and then sits back quickly when Catra gets up and starts to walk towards the door, “Hey! Where are you going?”
“To talk to your folks.” Catra grins, “Be right back. I love you, princess.”
“I love you too, my knight.” Adora replies as she smiles right back to Catra, “Don’t take too long.”
“Eager much?” Catra laughs as Adora throws a pillow at her, “Okay! Okay! I’m going.”

“What did they say?” Adora asks as Catra pushes her back onto the bed, crawling over the blonde on the bed with a predatory grin, “What did you talk about?”
Catra’s grin turns soft as she presses a kiss on her princess’ lips before tugging the blonde back up and onto her feet, the knight dropping down to one knee, bowing down to her princess as she would in greeting.
“Get up, knight. I told you, you don’t need to bow to me anymore.” Adora rolls her eyes, looking down at Catra.
Catra grins one more time, pulling out a small box of her own, “Marry me, princess.”
“Wha… are you… are you serious?” Adora asks.
Catra nods, her hands shaking as she opens up the small box revealing a silver ring with a crescent moon, “I know it’s not much… but it's… my mother gave me this, she told me it would belong to the love of my life one day."

Adora just stares in complete surprise, unable to come up with any words.
Catra swallows loudly, "Look… I get it. You probably don't want to marry a knight… or a magicat…"
"Yes."
"Huh?" Catra looks up confused.
"Yes. I want to marry you." Adora finally gets out, "Yes. Yes Yes!"
The grin on Adora's face is wide as the realisation that Adora has actually accepted her proposal hits her, "Really?"
"Yes!" Adora repeats again, "Come here!"
Catra gets up quickly, Adora enveloping her in her arms as they kiss passionately for what seems like hours. When they finally part, Catra slips the ring onto her love's finger and grins.
"Is this what you were talking to my parents about?" Adora asks as she holds up the ring on her finger.
"Yeah. Plus, I wanted to know what 'interesting' thing Entratpa sent them." Catra replies, "Trust me. You do not want to know…"
Adora grimaces a little, "If it's anything like what she's sent me, do not tell me."
Catra doesn't answer, instead pressing her lips back on Adora's lips for more kisses.
Eventually, Catra walks Adora back to the bed, the blonde sitting on the bed, her hands all over Catra as the magicat smirks in the kiss as she pushes Adora onto her back, the blonde makes a noise of discomfort as Catra pulls back, "What's wrong?"
"Nothing." Adora replies quickly, readjusting her position on the bed, her hands moving around the blankets when she remembers what's hiding under her blankets, pulling the box out she narrows her eyes at Catra, "Is this why you spoke to my parents? Just so we would have sex?"
"Adora." Catra sighs, "I spoke to your parents because one, your mother scares the crap out of me and two, I maintain that we only move forward when you are ready. I'm not going to pressure you into anything. If you want to wait until we are married, then, so be it."
"You'd be willing to wait that long?" Adora raises an eyebrow at her knight.

"I'd wait forever and a day if that's what it took, princess." Catra replies, "Just merely having you with me in any shape or form, let alone loving me, is enough for me. I'm sated. Besides, if it gets too much, I have my ways of… blowing off steam…"
"Catra!" Adora blushes.
"Adora!" Catra throws right back, "I'm not sure where your mind went to, when I said blow off steam, I mean I exhaust myself by training or sparring. I don't have private quarters, princess."
Adora rolls her eyes, "That's because you sleep in here with me."
"Exactly."
"Ugh, you are so annoying." Adora throws back, sticking her tongue out at Catra, "Now lock the door so we can get this over with."
"Wait. Really?" Catra asks surprised, "You make it sound like it's a chore."
"Catra. I love you." Adora simply says, "If you want to do this, then I do too."
"Mmm… I'm not really feeling it tonight, princess." Catra honestly says, "I kind of just want to spoon you tonight, knowing that I have the rest of my life to spend with you."
Adora lets out a breath and relaxes, a smile on her face as she pulls Catra in for another kiss, "Okay. I can do that."
After a few more kisses and "I love you's", Catra gets up to lock the door, turn off the lights and return to sleep with her future wife.

Over the next few days, the King and Queen keep sharing knowing glances towards Adora and her knight, despite them not having sex yet. The ring on Adora's finger was big news in the kingdom and soon they were swept up in marriage preparations, the King decided to take Knight Catra with him for a few more diplomatic excursions and as a way to give both Adora and Catra a break from the constant spotlight around the kingdom.
Adora kept a fairly low profile anyway, so she didn't have to be out in public much as her mother took care of most matters as head of state while the King was away. Her friends, Princess Glimmer and Sir Bow did arrive and keep her company, helping with proceedings and everything leading up to the big day.

The big day comes and goes without a hitch, except for the getting hitched part where they did marry.
There's laughter. There's cheers. There are even a few teary eyes, but all in all, it goes by in a blur of faces and bright lights as the pair finally make it back to Adora's bedroom.

"How fitting." Catra says as Adora takes off the magicat's tie, dropping it to the floor.
"What do you mean by that?" Adora asks as she pushes the jacket off Catra's shoulders before starting on the buttons of the shirt underneath.
"That we'd end up back in your bedroom." Catra grins as she watches Adora's nimble fingers work her shirt off, exposing her bare chest, a loud gulp is all she musters up when her wife's fingers swirl around the fur on her chest, "Are you sure?"
"Catra. We're married. I think I am more than ready." Adora gropes her new wife's body as Catra grins, rubbing her cheek over the blonde, scent marking Adora as hers, "Don't you?"
"Yeah." Catra presses a kiss to Adora's neck, "I do."
"You already said that before…" Adora tries to joke but it comes out breathless as Catra continues to press kisses on the blonde's neck, "Mm… why does that feel so good?"
"I can think of other places that my lips might make you feel good…" Catra suggestively whispers into another kiss into Adora's neck, "Want me to show you?"
"Mmhm…" Adora bites her bottom lip as, the sound of a zip brings her back a little as she realises Catra has unzipped her dress and is slowly pushing the straps down, baring her shoulders before she feels her hair cascade around her face as Catra releases the blonde's hair, "…Catra…"
"Yes, princess…?" Catra moves to give attention to the new exposed skin on Adora's shoulders.

"…fuck… keep going." Adora runs her hands through Catra's hair.
"Can I take this off?" Catra asks, tugging at Adora's dress, "It's really beautiful and all… but, I think what's underneath is absolutely perfect…"
Adora shoves the rest of the dress down, stepping out of it as her hands go to Catra's pants as the magicat's mouth goes to the skin above the blonde's breasts, the skin coloured bra and underwear still covering what's left of Adora's modesty. The princess grunts a little in frustration as she can't seem to unbutton Catra's pants.
"Here. Let me." Catra pauses her kisses, letting go of her wife and undoing the button herself and then chuckling when Adora eagerly pushes them down her legs, "Better?"
"Much." Adora huffs as she looks down at Catra, "You… uh, you don't wear anything under your clothes?"
"Nope. Too constricting." Catra replies as her lips go back onto Adora's, slicing through the rest of Adora's smalls with her claw, "Hope you weren't too attached to these…"
"Awe…" Adora faux pouts, "What if I wanted to keep them to pass down to our kids?"
"Gross." Catra scrunches up her nose before raising her eyebrows at the blonde, "Also… kids?"
"Uh… yeah?" Adora replies shyly, "I mean we haven't really talked about it…"
"Hm… guess that'll be an interesting endeavour…" Catra replies, "I'm not opposed to it…"
Adora giggles, "I don't even know how that's going to even work. It's not like we can accidentally get pregnant."
Catra chuckles into Adora's neck, "That's a good thing for you, miss 'I'm a planner'."
"Shut up!" Adora snorts out a laugh before that's quickly replaced with a low whine as Catra lips kisses the princess from her ear, down her neck and to just under her collarbones, "Mm… bed?"
"I'll take the foot." Catra jests as Adora rolls her eyes at her knight, "Actually, I think I'll just take you tonight."
That sends a shiver through Adora's body as she leans into Catra, "Bed."
Catra's hands move down Adora's body, hooking under her thighs and lifting her wife up into her arms, carrying her to the bed whilst Adora presses kisses across the magicat's face. Catra stops just in front of the bed, "I saw Entrapta talking to you before the ceremony…"

"Mmhm…?"
"You looked a little… flushed talking to her…" Catra gently lowers Adora down onto the bed, rubbing her cheek against the blonde's, "What were you 2 talking about to get you so… flustered…?"
"Ah… mmm… Nothing…" Adora moans as Catra's hands move over her breasts, gently kneading them, "…why?"
"Lying to me on our wedding night, princess?" Catra drawls with a grin as her hands stop kneading and instead move to gently pinch and roll Adora's nipples, making the blonde writhe a little under her, "Tell me the truth, Adora… Or I might just leave you begging…"
"Catra!" Adora whines when Catra stops her ministrations and begins to move off her, "Wait!" Adora wraps her arms and legs around her knight, "Fine. I'll tell you."
"I'm all ears." Catra grins as she presses a few kisses on Adora's neck, the blonde sighs happily at the feeling of the magicat's touch on her again, "Well?"
"She was… mmm… asking about the package… mmm… ah… she sent a while back…" Adora breathlessly replies, "Asked if we… we… ah…"
Catra's lips move down Adora's body, her mouth hovering over the blonde's nipple as she breathes over it, "Keep going. Don't mind me…"
Adora slams her eyes shut, trying to finish her train of thought as she tries not to let the feeling of Catra's warm breath over her breast distract her, "She asked if we used it yet… mmm… fuck…"
"What did you tell her?" Catra asks she sucks in Adora's nipple into her mouth and starts to roll her tongue over it, Adora squirming under her as the blonde's arms wrap the magicat tighter in her arms, "Hm?"
Adora moans quietly as Catra works over her breasts, paying attention to one and then the other and just as the magicat flicks her tongue over one of her nipples, Adora whines again, "I told her… mmm… we haven't…"
"Do you want to?" Catra asks releasing Adora's nipples with a slightly wet pop.

Adora nods with her eyes closed, letting herself feel Catra work her over, "Have you… have you done this before?"
Catra pauses.
"Is that a problem, princess?" Catra eventually replies, moving up Adora's body one more time, she presses a kiss on the blonde's lips and then looks deep into Adora's eyes, "Hey… I love you. I married you. You are my princess, my world and I'm never letting you go."
"I love you too." Adora's eyes open, staring lovingly into Catra's, "I'm never letting you go either."
Adora surges forward and locks lips with her wife, moaning into the kiss as Catra can't help but grin into it, the blonde's hands all over the magicat, before settling around Catra's shoulders.
As Catra pulls back slightly from the kiss, she grins down, "So… how may I service my princess?"
Adora blushes hard, not knowing how answer it, "Just keep kissing me?"
"Of course." Catra leans back in to fulfil her wife's request.
"Mmm…" Adora smiles into the kiss, "…more…"
Catra obliges and gives her more kisses, her hands now running up and down the expanse of Adora's body under her and between kisses she whispers "I love you" and "You are so perfect" into the blonde's skin.
"Fuck me… Catra…" Adora whispers out breathlessly, bucking her hips up at the magicat above her, "I love you too."
"Yeah?"
Adora nods back, hiding her face into the crook of Catra's neck, "I'm ready."
"Okay." Catra breathes out into Adora's hair, "Tell me if you need to stop, okay?
"Okay." Adora confirms as Catra kisses her on the side of the temple before moving down her body, "Just… just go slow?"
"Gentle…" Catra whispers into Adora's stomach as she presses another kiss to it, spreading the blonde's thighs apart so she can settle better between the blonde's legs, "You're so beautiful, princess…"
"…Catra…" Adora breathes out, her fingers rest on top of Catra's hands as the magicat presses more kisses along Adora's stomach and then the top of her thighs, "Mm…"

Catra moves her arms under those thighs, kissing the inside of Adora's thighs as the blonde's hands move up and over her head, blue-grey eyes watch Catra from above in a daze. The magicat grins and winks back to her wife, Adora giggles at the act and then whines loudly when she feels Catra's tongue on her, licking up her wetness between her folds. Adora's whole body wants to curl in on itself with the sensation of Catra's tongue.
"Is that okay?" Catra asks, leaning her cheek on Adora's thigh while waiting for an answer.
"Mmhm…" Adora nods, squeezing her eyes shut, "Keep going?"
"Yes, your majesty." Catra grins, Adora rolls her eyes at the title before her eyes are rolling back in her head as Catra starts up again.
"…fuck…" Adora whines, her legs tensing and untensing with every lick from her magicat, "Feels… mmm… good…"
The praise has Catra purring into Adora's pussy, the vibration making Adora twitch and brings a smile to Catra's face, "You taste so good, princess…"
Adora's so close that those words don't even register to make her blush, instead she finds herself grinding against Catra's tongue, making noises she didn't even she could make. The vibration from Catra's purr and the magicat's magic tongue has Adora writhing underneath, unable to go anywhere thanks to Catra's hold on her thighs.
"…Mmm… fuck… I'm…" Adora gets out in short bursts, before Adora moans loudly as her orgasms arrives suddenly, her body curling forward and then to the side as Catra continues to eat her out, "F-fuck!... mmm… C-Catra!"
With one final lick, Catra comes up and kisses Adora hard on the lips, the blonde's legs wrapping tightly around the magicat's waist as she tries to kiss Catra back, her muscles still twitching as she grinds out the last of her orgasm until she finally lets out a long breath and flops back down.
"So…?" Catra grins down at Adora, pecking a quick kiss onto her nose.
"Mmm…" Adora smiles dreamily at Catra, "Wow…"

Catra can't help but feel pride at making Adora feel so good, but there's one more thing she wants to try. She looks around the room and then back to Adora, "Where's the package gone?"
"I hid it." Adora replies.
"Care to share where?" Catra asks, "I can go clean it first. Give you some time to… recover."
Adora closes her eyes, the smile still on her face, "It's in the bottom drawer of my desk."
Catra nods as Adora slowly releases her and once Catra is out, the magicat can't help but smirk at her handywork. Adora is spreadeagled on the bed, still breathing heavily, an arm over her forehead as she recovers. Catra finds the package and takes it into the bathroom.

"Catra?" Adora calls out from where she's still lying down on the bed, "Catra?"
"In here!" Catra calls back, "I'm nearly done, princess."
"Okay." The blonde shifts around, trying to get away from the damp spots on the bed, "Can you grab a towel?"
"Sure."
Catra comes back out of the bathroom, a towel wrapped around her lower half as she saunters back to the bed, "This towel good?"
Adora nods and then furrows her eyes at Catra, "Where's the package?"
Catra smirks, whipping the towel off and throwing it at Adora, "Right here."
The towel has landed perfectly on Adora's face and as the blonde is about to scold her wife her mouth gapes, looking at the 'package' now worn perfectly around Catra's hips as she looks up at Catra's face, the smirk still plastered on the knight's face, "Uh… that's…"
Catra pounces onto Adora, kissing her messily before pulling back, "Want me to put the towel down so it's not so cold?"
"Huh?"
"The towel, Adora." Catra repeats.
"Oh, right. Yes, please." Adora replies as she gets her bearings back, she rolls further away from the damp spot as Catra lays the towel down, patting it once she's done, "Thank you."

"Of course." Catra replies as Adora rolls back onto the towel, her golden blonde hair halo'd around her, she's an absolute vision and Catra has to shake herself out of staring for too long, "Fuck Adora… you are so fucking beautiful…"
"You are too." Adora smiles that smile so genuinely.
Before Adora can get anything else out, Catra is back down between Adora's legs, continuing from where she had left off when they were interrupted by Adora's orgasm, this time though, Adora feels Catra's tongue inside of her.
"Oh my stars!" Adora almost screams as she slams her head back down into the pillow, "Fuck!"
Catra chuckles into Adora's pussy, pressing her tongue further in a steady pace, Adora moaning above her, "Amazing…" Catra mutters under her breath as her hands run up and down Adora's thighs.
Adora is moaning and whining constantly now, the feeling of Catra's tongue inside of her new, she feels her inner walls twitching with each plunge of the magicat's long tongue, "Catra…"
"Hm?"
"Mmm…" Adora just moans again, unable to come up with anything else to say.
When Catra feels Adora's body starting to tense up again she slows down and Adora whines in displeasure, "Shh…" Catra comes up, her arms boxing the blonde in as she pays attention to her wife's neck now, "I want to be inside you."
Breathing heavily, Adora moans as she drags Catra's hand down her body and in between her legs, grinding on it, "I want you inside me too…"
Catra sheathes her claws as she circles Adora's entrance with one finger, Adora's legs part further as her hips buck up, trying to get Catra inside of her, "You're so wet…"
"…Please…" Adora whines and then her breath hitches when Catra finally slides her finger inside, "Oh my stars…"
"Are you okay?" Catra asks softly, voice full of concern. That concern is quickly quelled when Adora nods her head, "Want me to move?"
Another nod.
Catra slowly starts to slide her finger in and mostly out of Adora, the blonde's breathing quickening with every plunge and pull back, "F-fuck…"

"Want another?"
Adora nods again as she closes her eyes at the sensation of Catra's finger inside of her.
Catra pulls her finger out completely and Adora whines again and then a gasp takes its place when Catra slowly stretches out Adora with a second finger.
"Mmm… fuck…" Adora moans, "Wait… wait…"
Catra stills, her 2 fingers inside as Adora adjusts to the new stretch, "Are you okay? Do you want me to stop?"
Adora quickly shakes her head, "No… just, hang on… mmm…"
Catra starts to press kisses along Adora's shoulder as she waits, "Take all the time you need."
"Mmm…" Catra can feel Adora's inner walls tightening around her fingers and then the blonde does a test grind before nodding, "Okay…"
"I'll go slow." Catra whispers into Adora's ear, slowly sliding her fingers out to the tips before pushing them back in, she does it a few times, Adora moaning with each motion, "Still okay?"
"…yes…" Adora breathes out, "…more… mmm… ah… more…"
Catra nods and then speeds up her motions, the wet noises of her fingers sliding in and out of Adora echo off the walls before it's replaced by Adora's moans and whines getting louder as she starts building up to another orgasm.
"…fuck!" Adora cries out suddenly as the blonde holds Catra's wrist still, clamping her legs together and breathing heavily. Catra can feel her inner walls fluttering around her fingers as the blonde holds her hand in place between her legs, "Mmm…" and then she yelps when Catra curls her fingers, "Oh fuck! Catra!"
"Yes, princess?" Catra smirks, curling her fingers again as Adora whines and twitches wildly, "Too much?"
Adora nods quickly, unable to breathe fully.
Catra wraps her free arm around her wife, pulling them closer despite her other arm being trapped between Adora's legs for the time being.

“Do you want to use Entrapta’s gift?” Catra asks once they are lying next to each other on their backs, Adora’s body has finally stopped twitching and she’s able to relax her muscles again.
“Mmm… I don’t know if I can take another round…” Adora rolls onto her side and smiles at Catra, “I might be all fucked out.”
Catra chuckles, preening a little at the blissed out look on her wife’s face, “I think you can go one more round, hot stuff.”
“Mm…” Adora runs her fingers over Catra’s arm, “What about you? Have can I service you?”
Catra laughs, “I’m not sure if you had a good look at this gift Entrapta sent.” The magicat points down to the strap on still on her hips, unused, “It’s been designed so the user, ie. me, will get off when you get off.”
“Oh really?” Adora’s eyebrows shoot up.
“Yes. And by the way it’s been made, she definitely knew I’d be the one wearing it.” Catra points out.
“How do you know that?” Adora narrows her eyes at the strap on.
“There were instructions inside the box that were specifically for me.” Catra grins, “I had a look around in the box and there wasn’t any for humans.”
“That makes no sense. I’m sure I could use it on you.” Adora rolls her eyes, “How hard can it be?”
“Nope. Maybe she’ll make one up for you later on.” Catra shrugs as Adora reaches her hand out and grabs the strap, the feeling of Adora’s hand on the strap has Catra shuddering, “…fuck…”
“Wait, you can feel that?” Catra nods, biting her bottom lip trying not to moan, “Interesting…” A smirk comes across Adora’s face at being able to make Catra feel good as she starts to pump her hand up and down on Catra’s length. The magicat doing her best to keep her hips still as she closes her eyes and grits her teeth.
“Feel good?” Adora asks innocently.
“Fuck, yeah.” Catra groans out arching her back and pushing the strap towards Adora, “You keep doing that and I’m not going to be able to keep it in…”
“I don’t want you to keep in it.” Adora leans into Catra’s ear, pressing a soft kiss on it as her hand movements speed up, “I just want to make you feel as good as you’ve made me feel so far.”
“You keep doing that… mmm… and I’m done for…” Catra warns breathlessly as Adora speeds up even more, “F-fuck!”

As Catra opens her eyes and sees the smug look on Adora’s face, some primal instinct in her has her growling, pushing the blonde onto her back forcefully, making the blonde yelp in surprise as the magicat positions herself between her wife’s legs, kissing her hard and making Adora moan pathetically into it.
Catra’s lips move from Adora’s to the blonde’s neck, sucking hard at the skin, nipping and licking as she teases the blonde more. Adora’s hips grind against Catra’s stomach, trying to move down further to feel the strap between her legs, but Catra is having none of that.
The magicat smirks down at Adora, admiring the emerging red marks along Adora’s neck. But it’s not enough for Catra as she moves further down the princess’ body, sucking hard on Adora’s nipple. The blonde hisses and moans, her hips bucking as she tries to quell the heat in between her legs.
“…Catra… please…” Adora whimpers around Catra’s tongue flicking her nipple in the magicat’s mouth, “Mmm… please…”
“Please?” the word is muffled around Adora’s breast, Catra gives it one last suckle before letting it go and grinning up at Adora’s dark and hungry eyes, the can’t help but smirk down at the woman looking so dishevelled and desperate for her, “Hi.”
“Hi.” Adora replies with a dopey grin.
Catra grinds down roughly and Adora gasps, her eyes shutting almost immediately as the magicat presses another kiss on Adora’s lips, “You want it now?”
“Mmhm… yes… please Catra…” Adora breathes out nodding, wrapping her legs around Catra’s waist and bucking her hips up, “Catra…” this time it comes out more like a whine.
Catra takes the strap in her hand, readjusting her body as Adora’s legs drop back down to the bed, Adora’s takes a deep breath in as she feels Catra rubbing the strap against her slick entrance, “Ready?”
“Yes…” Adora answers even more breathlessly, relaxing her body as Catra lines herself up against Adora and slowly pushes in, “Sss… mmm…”
“Are you okay?” Catra whispers as she kisses Adora’s forehead, trying to ease off the furrowing of her brows as Adora’s hands go to Catra's hips and brings her in closer. A low moan is released with every bit of the strap entering the blonde.

"F-fuck.." Adora breathes out, her mouth morphs in an "Oh" as Catra finally bottoms out, their hips flush against each other as the blonde finally breathes out, "Mm… fuck…"
Catra leans in and kisses Adora's parted lips, the blonde's eyes snap open as she kisses back, when they part for air, the magicat looks deep into Adora's eyes, the magicat shivers, "Fuck… I can feel everything, princess…"
"Me too…" Adora replies softly.
"I… I don't know how long I can…" Catra starts as she pulls back a little before sliding back in, their hips coming together again, the sensation of Entrapta's invention has Catra's eyes rolling back a little and moaning through gritted teeth, "F-fuck… you feel so good…"
"…Catra…" Adora whines, "Mm…"
The knight takes in a steadying breath before she starts to move, "Fuck Adora…" the magicat going slow as Adora's fingers dig into her back, "Are you… are you okay?"
"Mmhm…" The blonde nods, her eyes slammed shut as she lets Catra take the lead, "Ah… Catra… keep… keep going… feels good… mmm…"
The positive reinforcement has Catra's ego boosted as she speeds up her movement with more confidence, taking in every sound and feeling from her wife under her as she tries to hold off her own climax until she can make sure Adora gets there first.
The sounds of their flesh slapping together with every thrust resonates within the walls of the bedroom, mixed with the wet sounds and the desperate whines and moans from Adora has Catra's eyes blown out wide, her eyes watching the blonde's breasts bouncing up and down with every thrust, her blonde hair sweaty and strands stuck to the side of her face as the blonde's mouth finds Catra's shoulder and bites down.
Catra lets off a howl at Adora sinking her teeth into her shoulder as her inner walls clench tighter around the strap, making it harder and harder for Catra to continue her movements.
Something inside of her fires up and her fangs come out and her pupils dilate, the next thing she knows, she's sunk her teeth into the side of Adora's neck, the blonde moans loudly, arching up as she climaxes, the blonde's own teeth biting down harder in Catra's shoulder as her fingers dig further into the magicat's back as Catra's own movements become sloppy until she muffles a growl out as she cums as well.

Once the aftershocks start rolling through the both of them, Catra slumps down onto Adora, the blonde releases her bite on Catra's shoulder almost at the same time as Catra starts to lick the bite on Adora's neck.
"Wow." Is all Adora can say as she smiles when Catra starts to rub her cheek against her and Adora giggles before she realises that Catra is still inside of her, she gasps and moans a little when Catra moves to scent mark her other cheek, "Mm… fuck…"
Catra presses kisses along Adora's cheeks after scent marking it before slowly pulling the strap out, the pair both moaning at the movement until Catra is completely out, taking off the strap and dropping it on the bed next to her as she rolls off Adora and onto her back.
"Did you…" Adora starts as she turns over to face her knight.
"Hm?" Catra asks taking in deep breathes.
"Did you cum in me?" Adora asks with a blush.
Catra turns her head and looks at her wife, "Honestly? I'm not sure. Did you feel anything?"
Adora thinks for a moment before answering, "I'm not sure either. I could barely remember my own name…"
Catra rolls onto her side to face the blonde, leaning in close enough to kiss her wife, "Remind me to send Entrapta a thank you card."

If there's one thing, people around the kingdom will say about Catra, it's that she'll tell you what she thinks, no matter if it hurts or not. But if you asked the Princess Adora, on her thoughts on Catra when she's not performing her knight duties, she will tell you that the magicat is the softest, loyalist and most loving being you'll ever meet.
But if Adora told anyone that, the magicat would deny it vehemently. She's got a reputation to uphold after all.
However, in the private quarters of the princess' room, Adora will always ask her to say something sweet. And the magicat cannot resist telling the princess the sweetest things in the world.

"Catra?" Adora calls from bed as she watches her magicat spouse get ready for her knight duties, "Come back to bed."
"You know, I can't, princess." Catra turns around to face her mate, "You are extremely tempting… but you know I can't fudge my duties today."
"Father won't care." Adora says with a sly grin as she peels back the blanket a little to reveal the cleavage through her nightgown, "Are you sure you don't want to come back to this nice, warm… bed?"
Catra growls back, more in frustration that she really can't go back to bed than anything else, she prowls back towards the bed and Adora's eyes lights up, the magicat leans in and presses a kiss on the blonde's lips, "The Queen will literally kill me if I don't show up today."

"My mother would not kill you." Adora tries to pull her knight back down into bed with her, only for the magicat to pull her princess up and out of bed and straight into her arms as she stares in Catra's eyes, "I however might kill you if you leave this bed."
"Hm." Catra hums with a smirk, "Well… if you plan to kill me with kisses…" Adora giggles, "I think I would be more than happy to take that punishment as opposed to an actual death sentence from the Queen of this kingdom."
"You're really going to pick her over me? That's not very sweet of you." Adora pouts.
"Adora. Princess." Catra presses a soft kiss on the blonde's cheek, "I love you."
"Mm…"
"My one." Another kiss on the other cheek.
"Mm…"
"My only." A kiss to her forehead.
"Mm…"
"My… princess." Catra presses her lips against Adora's, "When you are queen… you can have me whenever you want."
"Promise?" Adora leans her forehead on Catra's.
"Of course I promise." Catra chuckles, "You are my world, princess."
"Hm… you're mine too." Adora whispers before the pair are startled apart.
"Are you both decent?!" Queen Marlena bursts through Adora's bedroom door, a hand covering her eyes, "I don't want to see my daughter and her knight in any compromising positions."
Despite the warning, there's a small smile on the queen's lips as Adora quickly grabs her robe and throws it on, "We're decent mom."
Catra chuckles under her breath as she straightens to attention in front of the matriarch, "We're decent, my queen."
"Good." Queen Marlena claps her hands together before turning to her daughter, "Adora, is my knight ready? Or are you two still exchanging words of love to each other?"
Catra tries to school a growl, a low murmur coming out as Adora giggles from behind, wrapping her arms around the magicat, "Didn't you know, mother? Catra is the sweetest person in the world?"

Catra feels her body heat up with the offhanded compliment as she stays still in Adora's arms as the blonde presses kisses to her ears.
"Enough, you two." The queen rolls her eyes at the pair, "Knight Catra, are you ready?
"Yes, my queen." Catra replies with a small bow.
"Good." Queen Marlena gestures for the knight to join her and when they get to the door, she turns back to Adora who is still pouting after her knight, "And yes, I do know how sweet knight Catra really is."
Adora giggles as she watches her magicat suppress a groan as they walk off and away, Catra shutting the door behind her, before quickly opening it again and popping her head in, "I love you, my princess."
When the door shuts again, Adora groans and flops back into bed, a smile on her face as she looks at the time and lets herself fall back asleep, not needing to be up for another few hours. It's not exactly unusual for Catra to be called upon for certain royal duties but after getting married, she thought that it would mean that Catra would solely be her knight. But alas, Catra had proven to be so much more to her parents, the kingdom and the princess herself.

"Ah, Adora! There you are!" Her father calls out to her, "Do you know where your mother went with your knight?"
"Uh, no…?" Adora quirks an eyebrow at him, "Wait, what do you mean? You don't know where they went?"
"I'm sure it's something important." King Randor waves his hand around, brushing aside the thought, "But… you wouldn't happen to know when they'll be back, would you?"
"No." Adora frowns this time, "Catra didn't tell me. I thought it was just an errand."
"So did I." He sighs, "Your mother took her horse."
"Oh." Adora goes towards the window and looks down to the stables, “Catra’s horse is gone too.”

“Makes sense.” The king shrugs, “Now, come on. We have guests to meet.”
“Okay.” Adora nods and follows her father to meet the delegates from the other kingdoms, “Shouldn’t mom be here as well?”
“Oh, you know she hates these things.” King Randow laughs.
“Why am I here then?” Adora looks to her father who’s walking next to her jovially, “I don’t usually attend these things.”
“Well, as my daughter and the princess and future ruler of this kingdom...” He starts, “And you’ll need to get used to meeting people from all walks of life. We can’t keep you sheltered forever.”
“I am not sheltered.” Adora huffs out in protest, “Besides I have friends with people in other kingdoms.”
“Bright Moon aside?”
“Well… there’s… Perfuma! And, and… Mermista.” Adora tries to argue, and her father just laughs, “What? It’s true. They are my friends!”
“I’m not disputing that.” He pats her on the shoulder and she huffs again, “I’m sure they are your friends. But that doesn’t mean that’s it. You need to see more, meet more people.”
“Uh, yeah? That’s what I’ve been saying!” Adora grumbles, “Catra and I haven’t even got to enjoy our honeymoon yet.”
“Oh? Is that right?” Her father raises an eyebrow at his offspring, “That’s not how I remember it.”
“You guys totally crashed our honeymoon.” Adora groans out, “You pulled Catra back for ‘official duties’ just because you need ‘protection’ after accidentally offending her people.”
“It’s lucky you married her.” Adora narrows her eyes at father a little angrily as he adds, “For me, anyways. Aren’t you glad we brought her back here?”
“Literally one thing.” Adora pokes her father in the arm, “And you were lucky.”
“No, Adora. You got lucky.” He says with a cheesy grin, waggling his eyebrows playfully and Adora groans into her hands while he starts to laugh, “I knew you’d like her!”
“I love her.” Adora corrects him before sighing, “Mom better have her back soon.”
“I agree. This was her turn.” He grumbles as he nods to the guards manning the door to the meeting room, turning back to Adora, “She only got out of this one with the promise of dessert.”

“What happened to your diet?” Adora asks knowingly, “Have you been cheating?”
“Of course not, my dear daughter.” He replies, holding his hand to his heart pretending that her words hurt, “How you could say such a thing?”
“Oh, stars…” Adora mumbles to herself before putting on a smile as they enter the meeting room.

Adora’s in bed, a book in her hand when she hears her bedroom door open. The blonde looks up and sees her knight slipping in and getting undressed and ready for bed.
“Hey, Adora.” Catra says as she slides into bed, wrapping her arms around her princess and purring happily.
“Hi.” Adora smiles down at her magicat, “You got back late.”
“You have no idea how awkward the entire trip was.” Catra groans into Adora’s stomach as she lays her head in the blonde’s lap, ears flopping over the pages of the book Adora’s reading.
“Awe, poor baby.” Adora laughs at how cute Catra is when she’s grumbly, “What happened?”
“Uh, please don’t mention babies.” Catra says, her words muffled into Adora’s skin, “Why are your parents so fucking weird?”
Adora laughs a little more, her body shaking making Catra rub her cheek against the blonde, “Are they really that bad?”
The magicat starts to purr when Adora runs her fingers over the magicat’s mane and then starts to scratch around Catra’s ears, “Mm… that feels good. And yes, it was the most awkward day with your mother in my life.”
“What happened, baby?” Adora leans down and presses a kiss to Catra’s ear.
“Do you really want to know?” Catra turns her head so she’s facing the blonde who just nods back, “Okay.”
“Hang on.” Adora says quickly, “Let me just put my book away and turn off the lights so we can get more comfortable.”
Catra groans, “But I’m already comfortable.”
“Stop your whining, I’m not comfortable.” Adora pouts playfully to Catra.

Catra sighs dramatically, “Fine.” And then proceeds to get up to turn off the lights while Adora puts her book away and lies back down in bed, the magicat going back into her spot in Adora’s warm arms and sighs contently.
“So, tell me what you were doing today?” Adora resumes petting the magicat.
“Well, I can now say I’ve met with too many… sorcerers today.” Catra retells, “Your mother really wants grandchildren is all I’m going to say.”
Adora stills her petting before giggling nervously, “She… uh, she knows that it’s not exactly possible for that to happen… uh… naturally, right?”
“Yes. She does.” Catra nods, scenting Adora in the process, “That’s what all these… meetings were about.”
“Uh…”
“Yeah. I know” Catra chuckles, “We ended up at Entrapta’s place after a while.”
“Why?”
“Because Entrapta is the smartest dumb person I know.” Catra replies.
Adora snorts out a laugh, “What does that even mean?”
“You know what that means.” Catra laughs as well, “Anyway, long story short, there’s no magic in the world that will make me impregnate you. And your father loves Traps tiny snacks or whatever.”
“Well… that explains my father’s dessert comment.” Adora says under her breath before remembering something, “Actually…”
Adora’s fingers resume petting the magicat, a light purr filling the air, “A few delegates from Half Moon were here today…”
“Oh, yeah?”
“Yes.” Adora nods, “Anyways, I was talking to them, well, actually they were talking to me.”
“And?”
“And… it turns out… that…” Adora starts to stumble over her words a little as Catra pushes herself up so she’s face to face with the blonde, even though Adora can barely see her and the blonde clears her throat, “That your kind can… uh…”

“What are you trying to say, princess?”
“That… you could… uh… possibly…” Adora feels herself getting flustered at the direction of the conversation.
“Are you trying to say…?” Catra narrows her eyes, watching as Adora closes hers.
Adora takes a deep breath in before getting out in one go, “You could actually… you know…baby?”
“You can’t be serious, princess.” Catra says in surprise, “How exactly could that even happen?”
“Well.” Another deep breath, “According to your people, magicat’s are… what’s the word…?”
“I have no idea.” Catra says flatly.
“Anyways, there’s a possibility that your body will… change…?” Adora says the last word with a squeak, “Not that I’d care that if you changed or whatever. I mean, I’d still love you no matter what. And there’s nothing that would…”
“Adora.” Catra presses her forehead against the blonde’s, “I love you too. No matter what.”
Adora nods, “Well, I’m just saying that if things change… down there… I would still love you.”
“Well, nothings changed down there as far as I’m concerned.” The magicat rolls her eyes before grabbing Adora’s hand and guiding it down between her legs, “See.”
“Mm…” Adora hums, not removing her hand, “Feeling frisky tonight?”
Just as Catra is about to answer, she yawns, stretching out her tired muscles, “Mm…”
Adora starts to press kiss along Catra’s jaw and down her neck, a light purr rumbling from Catra’s chest as Adora continues to kiss her magicat. That is until she feels Catra’s body sag and a heavy and slow breathing, as Adora comes back up a little surprised.
“Catra.” She whispers, the magicat nuzzling deeper into Adora’s body, “Catra?”
Adora sighs, pressing a soft kiss on the magicat’s head before wrapping Catra up tightly in her arms, “I love you, my knight.”
“Mm… love you too, princess.” Catra mumbles sleepily, “Make babies later… sleep first…”

Happy to take other request if you like my writing style... but depends on how motivated I am to think and write stuff.
