Summary

Adora's waiting for her friends at a local bar in town when she gets hit on by someone that she isn't interested in. That is until a suave magicat interrupts and fluff ensues.

Perhaps more than fluff later on...

Notes

I can't just do one fic at a time... my brain doesn't like it. So tada! Here's another one!

I haven't decided if I wanna make this a slow burn or something more than fluff...
But your ideas and suggestions could sway me... haha
Definitely planning to keep this one light and with less... violence...

Anywho, enjoy!

Coincidence

Adora sits at a table in the lounge of the bar area, a drink in her hand as she scans the area for her friends when she catches the eye of a magicat staring over at her. She breaks the stare when the magicat does not. Looking away for as long as she can, which isn't very long, before she finds herself drawn back to the magicat.

This time the magicat isn't looking at her.

She's engaged in a lighthearted conversation with another blonde woman with flowers in her hair and a pink dress that looks more like a gown than something one would wear out. The other woman is also tanned and slender, as they continue to speak with smiles and the occasional laugh. At one point, the other blonde playfully slaps the magicat on the shoulder after something was said as the pair laugh at an inside joke.

Adora looks back at her drink and sighs, wondering where her friends are, she glances at the time and realizes that she should have known better, her friends are always… fashionably late. Especially now that they've gotten together, it's like the pair can't seem to keep their hands off other and seem to lose track of time, which understandable, but she wishes that she didn't agree to come out, feeling like the third wheel while they try to play wingman to her frankly non-existent love life.

Her thoughts are broken off when someone clears their throat, Adora looks up and sees a smartly dressed man, a tailor-made suit and a face that looks like it came straight out of a fashion magazine cover as he smiles down at her, "Is this seat taken?"

He gestures to the chair across from her and Adora shakes her head, "No. You can have it."

Without wasting a second, he puts his drink down on the small table between them, unbuttons his jacket and sits down, the same smile on his face as he leans forwards and picks his drink up once again, this time leaning back to sip it, feigning boredom as he does so.

Adora sips her drink as she leans back in her seat and continues to look for her friends when the man interrupts her thoughts for a second time, "I haven't seen you in here before."

Taken a little by surprise by the sudden start up of a conversation, Adora turns her head to look at him as she replies, "I don't usually come here."

He smiles wide, like he's found an opening, "Oh, is that so?"

Adora nods politely, hoping that will indicate the end of this conversation, unfortunately her friends are still no where to be seen and this man doesn't seem to be put off by her indifference as he pushes on.

"What's your name?" He asks, trying a different tact as he leans forward and sticks his hand out for a handshake, "Mine's Oliver."

Not wanting to be rude, Adora reaches over and shakes his hand, "Adora."

"It's nice to meet you, Adora." He says, holding onto her hand just a little longer than required, Adora gently pulling her hand free from his, "And may I ask what a lovely woman such as yourself is doing here all by herself tonight?"

Adora cringes slightly, "I'm waiting for my friends."

Oliver sits back and sips his drink once more, "That's nice. Me, on the other hand, I've had a long day and just needed to unwind."

Adora nods once again and lets her eyes wander around the room, thinking about whether she should just walk away from this conversation, instead she sighs, perhaps chatting wouldn't be so bad to pass the time until her friends arrive, "That's nice."

“Yeah.” He agrees cockily, “Been up since 4am this morning to hit the gym before work.”

Adora tries not to grimace as Oliver flexes a little, “Early.”

He shrugs like it’s no big deal, “I work in that big building across the road, I’m the floor manager of my sector.” Oliver brags, “Reckon I’m going to be promoted to senior manager by the end of the year.”

Adora nods again, “Okay.”

He flashes a fancy and expensive looking watch at Adora, pretending to look at the time and then takes another sip, “What are you into?”

“What do you mean?” Adora asks with a quirk of an eyebrow.

“Like hobbies. Or sports.” He shrugs as he clarifies, “I’m into lifting weights. Not really into cardio, ruins my gains.”

Adora doesn’t even chuckle at that, “Uh, nothing really. Just… hanging out with my friends.”

“Oh, come on.” Oliver rolls his eyes unbelievingly, “There’s got to be something you like to do when you’re not working.”

Adora shrugs.

“Do you like working out?” Oliver asks like he’s just got the best idea, “Because I can spot you in the gym or something. Or we can workout together.”

“Uh… no thanks. I’m good.” Adora politely declines.

Oliver nods and Adora thinks that he’s done. She watches him down the rest of his drink and thinks that he’ll get up and find someone else to chat up, but instead he leans forward and looks at the drink in Adora’s hand, “Can I get you another drink, Adora?”

Adora looks down at her drink, “Oh, no thank you.”

“What about if I buy you dinner?” He smirks like he’s being suave and before he can throw out the next line, someone else interrupts and Adora is about to lose her cool at this newcomer.

Only she doesn’t as she just stares wide eyed at who’s just walked over to her, a hand held out to her as the newcomer grins down at Adora, “Sorry, princess. I got held up with a friend. Are you ready to go?”

Oliver looks between the pair, “Wait…”

Adora quickly stands up after taking the magicat’s hand that she had seen from before and smiles, “That’s okay, babe.”

The magicat leans in closer and whispers into Adora’s ear, “Do you want to come with me over there to where my friends are?” and then presses a soft kiss on Adora’s cheek.

Adora turns her head, her eyes widen just a little more at the act before she nods.

As the magicat is about to pull Adora off and away, she turns around to the man, “Oh, sorry, I didn’t mean to interrupt your conversation with…?”

“It’s fine.” Adora quickly says before Oliver can say anything, “We were just chatting.”

The magicat grins at him, a threatening look on her face as she stares him down in a challenge, before turning back to Adora, “Okay. Come on then.”

The pair up and leave, the magicat leading Adora over to where the slender and tanned blonde woman is still standing and then notices another much larger scorpini woman next to her and realizes that they are probably a couple from the way the larger woman’s arm is wrapped around the slender woman’s waist.

“I can walk you out if you want.” The magicat offers, “Or you are more than welcome to hang out here with my friends and I for as long as you want.”

“Very welcome.” The slender blonde smiles warmly at Adora.

“Thank you.” Adora blushes at the offer, “My friends shouldn’t be too far away.”

“That’s cool.” The magicat says with a nod, “Did you want another drink?”

“Oh, I, I probably shouldn’t.” Adora replies with another blush, “I’m not too good with my alcohol.”

The magicat nods, turning to her friends, “What about you guys?”

“If you’re buying, Wildcat.” Scorpia replies with a grin, “We’ll take 2 of the same, please.”

“Sure thing guys.” The magicat laughs before she realizes something and turns to Adora, “My bad. These are my friends Perfuma and Scorpia. Entrapta is lurking around somewhere… and I’m Catra.”

Adora waves to them dorkily, “I’m Adora. It’s nice to meet all of you.”

Scorpia waves back just as enthusiastically before her eyes drop to Oliver chatting up another woman, “Was he bothering you, Adora?”

Adora shakes her head, “No. He’s harmless. I think, anyways.”

“Judging from the body language of that woman he’s talking to now, I think it might be time to have him removed.” Catra glares over at him and the way he’s leaning into this new woman’s space, “Scorp.”

“On it, Wildcat!” Scorpia presses a quick kiss to Perfuma’s cheek before calmly making her way over to Oliver, tapping him on the shoulder as the trio watches how it plays out.

Catra turns to Adora once Scorpia escorts Oliver out, “Well, now that the suit is gone, you can go back to whatever you were doing. You’ve got no obligation to hang out with me to keep up pretenses.”

“Oh.” Adora says taken aback, “Uh, okay.”

Catra turns back around as Adora reaches over and taps the magicat on the shoulder, “Hey, Adora?”

“Can I … hang out with you?” Adora asks nervously, biting her bottom lip waiting for an answer.

Catra drops her gaze, “You want to hang out with me?”

Adora nods.

“Uh, sure.” Catra shrugs nonchalantly, “You can hang out with me if you want.”

“Cool.” Adora grins so dorkily that it makes the magicat chuckle, “I mean, yeah, uh, whatever.”

“Sure.” Catra laughs once more before leaning back against the bar, “So, waiting for someone?”

“Not exactly.” Adora replies trying to be casual, “My friends are being… fashionably late as per usual.”

“Huh.” Catra nods, “Walk with me to the bar?”

“Okay.” Adora smiles as she follows the magicat to the bar.

Catra orders drinks for herself and her friends before turning to Adora, “What about you, Adora? My shout.”

“Oh, uh, no thanks.” Adora politely declines.

“I can get you anything.” Catra grins, “Soda. Water.” The magicat leans in like she’s telling Adora a secret, “I can even get you… sparkling water.”

The absurdity of that last one makes Adora lean back and laugh, “Really? You can?”

“I can get anything.” Catra repeats with a confident shrug, “So? Does the last one interest you?”

“Can you add a slice of lemon or lime to it?” Adora challenges.

“One of each?”

“You choose.”

Catra turns to the bar tender, “A sparkling water with a slice of lime as well.”

The bar tender nods and gets the drinks sorted as Catra grins at the blonde. Adora smiles back, pushing back a few stray hairs from her ponytail that have come loose behind her ear as Catra hands over her drink, “Thank you.”

“No problems.” Catra grabs the other three drinks and heads back to Perfuma, “Here you go.”

“Thanks Cat.” Perfuma smiles at the magicat, “Go on home once you’ve finished your drink, me and Scorp can finish up and close up tonight.”

“Are you sure?” Catra asks, her eyes and body starting to feel heavier with the prospect of an early night.

“Yes. You’ve been here since 5am. Go home.” Perfuma insists, “Scorpia and I have closed up enough times without you.”

“If you’re sure…”

"I'm sure. Go home, Cat." Perfuma insists, the magicat chugs her drink and places the empty glass on the table.

Catra nods, "Alright, twist my arm." She looks at Adora, "Will you be okay?"

"I should be." Adora replies as she once again scans the room for her friends, "I mean once my friends get here…"

Ding!

Adora pulls her phone out from her pocket and reads the message and then groans.

"What's wrong?" Catra asks as she waves over to Scorpia.

"My friends aren't coming." Adora breathes out annoyed, "They ditched me."

"Oh. That sucks." Catra says, "If you want, I'll buy you a real drink."

Adora chuckles a little sadly, shaking her head and taking a long swill of her drink, "No, I don't think that's a good idea. Think I'm going to call it a night and head home."

Catra smiles, "Yeah. That sounds like a pretty good idea."

"Hey Wildcat!" Scorpia comes back over and pats the magicat on the back, "Heading off?"

"Yeah, big gal." Catra nods, "Your missus is making me leave."

"I am." Perfuma confirms with a nod and crosses her arms over her chest, "Go home, Cat."

"I'm going!" Catra puts her hands up, "See you guys on Monday."

Scorpia pulls Catra in for a hug, “Take care. Text us when you get home!”

“Will do.” Catra grins, “Hey, where’s Traps?”

“Somewhere.” Perfuma looks around, “She texted me about checking through security footage and she’ll be there all night.”

“Great.” Catra nods not really sure what to do with that information before turning to Adora, “I’ll walk you out, Adora.”

“Oh, you don’t have to do that…” Adora starts.

“I insist.” Catra holds her hand out to the blonde, “Come on.”

“Okay.” Adora relents and takes Catra’s hand before turning to her new found friends, “It was nice to meet you guys.”

“You too!” Scorpia grins back, “Don’t be a stranger! Come back soon!”

“It was really nice to meet you too, Adora.” Perfuma smiles at the blonde, “Take care.”

“Thanks.” Adora nods and then lets Catra pull her to the exit.

“Do you need a ride home?” Catra asks as they stand outside in the cool air, “I can drive you home if you want.”

“You have a car?” Adora asks back.

“Yeah. It’s a bit of a junker, but it gets me from A to B.” Catra shrugs.

“Have you been drinking?” Adora looks at the magicat trying to discern it for herself.

“No. I don’t drink when I’m working.” Catra replies with a yawn, “Actually I’ve stopped drinking altogether as I realized it messes with my insides.”

“Oh.”

“Yeah, took me a while to figure out why I felt like absolute crap.” Catra laughs to herself, “And here I thought it was just a really bad case of hangover.”

“I don’t really drink much or at all.” Adora admits.

“Lightweight, huh?” Catra jests and laughs when Adora cutely pouts, “Sorry. I don’t really have a foot to stand on since I end up puking when I start drinking.”

Adora laughs at that, “Okay. Where’s your car?”

“Right there.” Catra points to her car parked right out the front of the venue, “Perk of starting at stupid o’clock.”

Adora laughs again, “Why exactly were you here so early?”

Catra walks Adora towards her car, manually unlocking the door with her key and then opening it up for the blonde, “In you go.”

“Thank you.” Adora gets in and pulls the seat belt across and buckles it in as Catra gets in next to her, “So? 5am?”

“Oh, yeah.” Catra puts the key into the ignition, “Deliveries. I was here to receive deliveries this morning.” The magicat pulls out her phone and puts it on the mount attached to the dash, “So, where to?”

Adora leans over and puts her address in, “It’s not too far, is it?”

“No, princess.” Catra replies with a slight roll of her eyes, “It’s actually where I’m headed too… wait…”

“What?”

“No, it’s ridiculous.” Catra shakes her head with a laugh.

“What is?” Adora asks not sure what is so funny.

“I think we live in the same building.” Catra replies with another shake of her head at the coincidence, “Crazy, right?”

Adora smiles, “Maybe. Kind of.”

“Well, in that case, I’m not going to need the maps.” Catra declares and pulls off onto the road, she turns to the blonde, “Can I ask what floor you’re on?”

“I’m on the top floor.” Adora replies, “And you?”

“You won’t believe this.” Catra barks out another laugh.

“Stars…” Adora laughs too, “You’re kidding, right?”

“No.” The magicat glances over at the blonde, “How have I not met you?”

“I only just moved in a week ago.” Adora admits, “I haven’t actually spent the night in my apartment yet.”

“Oh, why’s that?”

“I’ve never stayed anywhere by myself and this would be the first time.” Adora replies, “My stuff is moved in… but I haven’t actually stayed the night alone in my apartment.”

“Hm.” Catra nods, “Where have you been staying?”

“At my best friends.” Adora says, “Though… I don’t think they want me barge in on them tonight…”

“Fair enough.” Catra replies, “If you want, I can keep you company for a bit. Or you can come to my place for a bit.”

Adora bites her bottom lip before blurting out, “I’m not having sex with you.”

“Uh… okay.” Catra replies taken aback by that, “I wasn’t… uh…”

“Sorry…” Adora looks down at her hands in her lap, “It’s not that I don’t want to… it’s just…”

“Yeah… no, I got it. No sex.” Catra repeats, “I wasn’t… that wasn’t what…”

“It’s okay.” Adora grabs Catra’s hand that closest to her that’s gripping onto the shifter, “Can we… can we get to know each other first before jumping into bed?”

Catra gulps down and nods, “Whatever you want, Adora.”

“Thank you.” Adora relaxes back in her seat, “I would love your company tonight if you’re still offering it.”

“I am.” Catra nods her head.

“My place or yours?” Adora asks with a grin on her face, waggling her eyebrows in the process making the magicat laugh.

“You’re ridiculous.” Catra says through a fit of laughter, “And you’re going to make me crash if you don’t stop being so ridiculous.”

“I am not.” Adora pretends to pout.

“Sure you are.” Catra replies, “We can figure out who’s place once we get there. We just have to make it there first.”

Adora smiles back at the magicat when Catra turns her focus back to the road, “You’re cute.”

A light blush appears on Catra’s face, “No, I’m not.”

“Yeah, you are.” Adora continues to smile as the magicat growls lightly at her, and then she decides to push her luck when they come to a red light, the blonde leans over and presses her lips softly against Catra’s cheek, the magicat turning her head in question to the blonde who shrugs back, a dorky smile on her face as she says, “That makes us even.”

“For now.” Catra smirks over at the blonde.

“Oh, can you grab the remote for the gate out of the glove box?” Catra asks as they pull up to the building’s car park security gate, “I keep forgetting to get a new key chain for it after the last one broke.”

“Got it.” Adora says after she pulls the remote out and clicks the button, “I haven’t seen the garage before.”

“Do you have a car?” The magicat turns in once the gates open and then waits until they close again before driving further.

“No. I’ve got my license and all, but I just haven’t really had a need to drive.” Adora starts to explain, “Since I’m usually close enough to walk to where I need to go. Otherwise, I can grab public transport or a ride or something.”

Catra nods, “I don’t usually drive unless I have to.”

“Yeah?”

“Yeah.” The magicat confirms, “I drove this morning because it’s a bit sketchy walking to work at 4am in the morning.”

Adora nods, “I wouldn’t want to be doing that either. Not at that time, anyways.”

Catra parks up and turns off the engine, "I take it the spot next to mine is probably yours."

Adora shrugs and then spots the numbers on the ground, "Oh, yeah, you're right. How'd you know?"

The magicat unbuckles her seatbelt with a chuckle, "Because it's the only space without a car in it."

"Oh, right." Adora replies with a blush as she gets out of the car and closes the door, doing her best not to face palm herself in the process.

Catra goes around and locks her door after locking her own and then goes to reach for Adora's hand, before quickly retracting her hand awkwardly, "Sorry, I should have asked if I could touch you."

Adora rolls her eyes, the blonde grabs Catra's hand and interlaces her fingers with the magicat's, "You can hold my hand, Catra."

"Oh, right. Cool…" Catra nods nonchalantly making Adora giggle, "Okay, then. Shall we head upstairs?"

"We shall." Adora grins, "Lead the way."

"This way, princess." Catra grins back as she leads them to the elevator and pushes the button, "So, how much of this building have you seen?"

"Just the elevator, the lobby and my apartment. Why?" Adora turns her head to face Catra's.

"Just wondering. So… first time in the garage, huh?" Catra says hoping her hand isn't getting too sweaty in Adora's, "Also, you can let go of my hand if it starts to get gross…"

Adora laughs as she holds up their joined hands, "No. I think I'll hold on to this. Just in case, you know."

“In case of what?” Catra asks as the lift finally gets to their floor and the doors open.

Once they step in and Adora swipes her card on the reader and pushes the top floor, the blonde shoulder bumps the magicat playfully, “In case someone tries to hit on me again.”

Catra chuckles and admits, “It’s not the first time I’ve had to swoop in.” she watches as Adora sighs and then adds, “Though, I get why you get a lot of attention.”

“Is that so?” Adora quirks an eyebrow back at Catra, “Tell me, Cat. Why do I get so much attention?”

“It’s simple really.” Catra says while collecting her confidence, “You were the brightest light in the room.” Adora blushes as Catra continues on, “The brightest light in every room I bet. And something so bright… well, others always want to have some of that light to shine on them too.”

“You’re too much.” Adora rolls her eyes fondly, her blush deepening as she looks away from Catra, “And you’re so full of it. I am not the brightest light.”

“Yeah, you really are.” Catra doubles down, “And you know what that makes me?”

“What?”

“I’m the spark.” Catra grins.

“The spark?” Adora repeats confused as the elevator doors open up to the top floor and they step out.

“Yep, the spark.” Catra says, “I’m the spark that makes you burn so bright in any room I walk into.”

“Stars…” Adora laughs, “What a line…”

“I saw them, you know…” Catra adds as they stay in front of the now shut elevator doors, “I saw sparks. When I saw you from the bar earlier in the night, I saw sparks. And then, boom, the room lit up and I was practically blinded.”

Adora can’t stop smiling, “Catra, you don’t need to feed me lines.”

“I’m really not.” Catra says, “Maybe… one day you’ll see sparks around me too.”

“Maybe.” Adora replies with a hopeful look as she pulls out her keys, “Uh, thanks for taking me home.”

“My pleasure, Adora.” Catra replies as she takes out her keys too, “But it’s also my home too, so I really didn’t do anything special. Did you still want company tonight?”

Adora bites her bottom lip as she weighs up her options.

Option A: Go home into her apartment alone and be lonely.

Option B: Go to Catra’s apartment… if she lets her in…

Option C: Have Catra keep her company in her apartment and she can call the shots

Option D: Have Catra keep her company in the magicat’s apartment so she can escape back to her place if things take a turn for the worse…

“Adora?” Catra voice breaks through Adora’s thought.

“Hm?”

“You seem to have a lot to think about.” Catra notices and then pulls her phone out of her pocket, “How about we just exchange numbers and if you want company in the form of me coming over or vice versa, just text or call me? Heck, knock on my door if you'd like."

"Oh, yeah. That's a good idea." Adora smiles back as she pulls her phone out and unlocks it and holds it out to Catra.

They quickly exchange details, handing the devices back to one another as Catra nods, "Okay, well, I'm literally just across the hall from you if you need anything."

Adora looks at the magicat's door and then her own, "Oh, right. That's convenient."

Catra laughs as she heads to her door, sticking the key in and turning the lock over, "Yeah. It was nice meeting you tonight, Adora." The magicat pushes her door open and flicks on the light, "Feel free to knock on my door if you need anything."

"Thank you." Adora nods, "And yeah, same for you."

Catra smiles, reaching out for Adora's hand once again, this time more confidently, squeezing the blonde's hand before letting go, "Goodnight, Adora."

"See ya, Catra." Adora says as she disappears into her apartment and shuts the door.

Catra stares at the blonde's door for a few moments before chastising herself for being so forward and then steps into her own place.

Knock! Knock! Knock! Knock! KNOCK! KNOCK! KNOCK!

"What the fuck…?" Catra growls out as she forces her eyes open at the sounds of someone knocking loudly on her door as she throws on an old shirt and trudges over to the door, swinging it open, “What?! Oh…”

“Sorry…” Adora grimaces as she looks away sheepishly and that’s when Catra notices that it’s completely dark in the hallway, dressed in her pajamas that’s decorated with horses or unicorns or something. It’s too early or too late for Catra to make a joke about them as Adora kind of holds herself in front of the magicat.

“Uh, hey Adora?” Catra says as she leans against the door frame and runs a hand through her messy short bed hair, she can see the blonde searching for the magicat’s eyes, “What uh… what’s up?”

“The um… the power went out.” Adora points up to lights that are supposed to be on in the hallway.

Catra nods despite the blonde not being able to see, “I can see that.”

Adora snorts out a laugh at the irony, “You can see that it’s dark?”

The magicat rolls her eyes, “I can see in the dark better than your human eyes.”

“Not human.” Adora points to herself and then smugly says, “I’m a First One.”

“And what is a ‘first one.’?” Catra asks genuinely confused, “First what exactly.

“First One.” Adora repeats like Catra should know, “I’m like… from an ancient race.”

“Uh huh.” Catra nods and then realizes that they’re having a conversation in her doorway and clears her throat, “Do you want to come in, princess? I’m not really one for conversations in my doorway. Too many nosy people around if you know what I mean…”

“Oh.” Adora says a little in surprise as she tries to look up and down the hallway.

“Or we can go to your place.” Catra suggests with a yawn instead.

“You want to come to my place?” Adora asks with the same amount of surprise as before.

“Sure.” The magicat shrugs, “Unless you rather we just stay here in the hallway.”

Boom!

Adora shrieks at the sound of thunder, jumping on the spot and looking around like she might find the source of the noise in the building. Catra sees the scared look on her face and sighs, “Do you want to come in?”

“Yes.” Adora replies quickly, reaching out for the magicat. Catra obliges and grabs her hand and guides her inside her place, “Thanks. I’m not a huge fan of thunder and lightning…”

“Me neither.” Catra admits quietly and it brings a little smile to Adora’s face at having something in common, “Though, my dislike of them has more to do with the effect it has on my ears.”

“I’m usually okay if I’ve got something to distract me… but the power went out and well…” Adora laughs nervously, “Nothing to distract me…”

“I can distract you.” Catra says as she guides the blonde to her couch, “Sit. Did you lock up your place before you came knocking on my door?”

“Oh shoot!” Adora gets up again and then grimaces again, “I’m not really sure actually…”

“What do you mean, you’re not really sure?” Catra asks bemused.

“Well… I don’t have my keys on me…” Adora says after patting herself down, “So… I really hope I didn’t lock up my place… and… possibly lock myself out…”

Catra can’t help herself and laughs, “You’re such an idiot.”

“Hey!” Adora says with a pout.

Catra reaches out and grabs Adora’s hand again, “Come on then, we’ll go check.”

“Okay.” Adora squeezes the magicat’s hand in return.

Catra grabs her flashlight that’s on the counter and turns it on, “There we go, now you can see.”

“You’re prepared.” Adora’s eyes adjust to the light as she lets Catra lead them back to the door, “I should probably get one too.”

“I lived with Traps long enough to know I needed one if she was constantly fucking around with the power grid.” Catra shrugs as they head out of her apartment, the magicat pocketing her keys after pulling her door shut, shining the light onto Adora’s door, “Well? Locked or not?”

Adora takes a deep breath and then reaches out and pushes down on the handle, the door opens, and she visibly breathes out in relief, “Thank the stars…”

“Well, that’s good.” Catra nods with a yawn, “Are you going to be alright in there by yourself?”

“No.” Adora bites her bottom lip at the admission, “Can you… keep me company?”

“As long as you don’t complain about me falling asleep on top of you, then yes. I’d be more than happy to keep you company.”

Catra replies smacking her lips and staving off the sleep that's trying to pull her back into dreamland.

"That's fine." Adora grins as she pulls Catra inside, "I don't mind if you fall asleep. Maybe not on top of me… but still. Sleeping company is still company."

"If you say so." Catra replies with another yawn as she's led over to Adora's bedroom, "Hey, wait a minute, princess."

"Hm?"

"Why are you bringing me to your bedroom?" Catra asks feeling a little more awake, "I thought you said sex was off the table."

"Well, considering that you're probably going to fall asleep soon, I figured it'd be more comfortable in bed." Adora shrugs like it's no big deal, "Plus it's not like we're going to just… you know… start having sex."

"Sleep sex?"

"Stars no…" Adora breathes out, shaking her head with a giggle, "No sleep sex."

"Okay." Catra says as Adora lets the magicat's hand go to get in bed first, "Ladies first."

"Get in." Adora pats the empty spot on the bed next to her.

Catra shrugs and reaches down to pull her shirt off when she remembers she's not in her own room, "Hm… I guess I better keep my shirt on then, huh?"

"If you don't mind." Adora nods, "I can put the… oh, no I can't. There's no power for the fan."

"It's fine, princess." Catra flops onto Adora's bed and then nuzzles into the pillow and a low rumble of a purr emanates from the magicat's chest, "Smells nice… real nice."

“What smells nice?”

“You.” Catra closes her eyes and takes a deep breath in of Adora’s scent, “If I’m being too weird or whatever, just tell me to stop.”

“It’s fine.” Adora smiles as she reaches over for the flashlight still on in Catra’s hand and turning it off, “You’re really cute when you do that.”

Too tired to care, Catra flops onto her back and blinks her eyes open tiredly, “So, Adora. Not a fan of the suit guy earlier at the bar?”

“Stars no.” Adora shakes her head, “Definitely not.”

“Why not?” Catra moves her hands under her head, “Don’t like suits?”

Adora chuckles, “I like suits.”

“Just not that suit.” Catra surmises with a smirk.

“I liked you in your suit tonight.” Adora turns over in the direction of the magicat, “Very… handsome.”

“That’s a new one.” Catra smiles tiredly up at the blonde’s ceiling, “I don’t get handsome as a compliment much.”

“No?”

“No. Usually it’s devilishly rogue or that I clean up good for a magicat.” Catra laughs.

“Well, those too then.” Adora agrees, “Though I’m sure you look good no matter what.”

“Such a flatterer, you are, princess.” Catra turns her head to see the soft look on Adora’s face, “You’re the light of any room that you walk into. And right now, you’re absolutely blinding.”

“That’s because you’re the spark.” Adora throws back when she remembers the words Catra told her before they parted to their own places, “I wish I could see what you see in me.”

“I’m glad you can’t.” Catra grins as Adora furrows her brows, “Because we can’t both be sparks and if you could, then you’d have to believe your own hype.”

“Hey!” Adora snorts out a laugh as she shoves Catra, the magicat cackling at the action, “Thank you for keeping me company tonight.”

“And one day you’ll be able to sleep alone in your apartment.” Catra jests before her breath hitches when she feels Adora’s hand on her stomach, “What are you doing, princess?”

“Too much?” Adora asks recoiling slightly as Catra quickly places her hand over the top of Adora’s to keep it on her stomach, “Is this okay?”

“Yeah.” Catra breathes out.

“I hope I never have to sleep alone in my apartment.” Adora whispers.

“Thinking of bringing random people home to sleep with, are you?” Catra quirks an eyebrow at the blonde and it earns her another shove, the magicat laughs again, “Or is it just me you want to keep you company?”

“Just you.” Adora answers easily, even surprising herself a little at how easy that came out.

“Oh.”

“Too soon?”

“No.” Catra intertwines her fingers with Adora’s, “One step at a time, right?”

“And then?” Asks the magicat with a grin at getting another kiss from the blonde.

“And then…” Adora thinks before she answers, “Hopefully something more…”

“That sounds nice.” Catra nods again and yawns, “I’m going to rest my eyes for a minute…”

“You’re totally going to fall asleep, aren’t you?” Adora giggles out as she settles herself on next to Catra, her cheek slightly on the magicat’s shoulder.

“Nah, I’m not tired…” Catra replies completely unconvincingly as she yawns out at the same time, “I can stay awake for hours…”

“Sure, you can.” Adora smiles over as she feels the magicat’s body rigid and then hears Catra’s breathing slowing, taking deeper breathes, the blonde smiles, rubbing her cheek softly on the magicat’s shoulder, “Sleep. I want you to.”

“Mm…” Catra hums out in return and then she breathes out, “I’m right here…”

“I know.” Adora whispers back, “Sleeping company…”

“Your company… for as long as you want me.” Catra wraps an arm around Adora so the blonde can get closer to her, “What time do you want me out in the morning?”

“Hm?” Adora pushes her head up slightly, “I’ve got nothing tomorrow. Stay as long as you want.”

Catra grins, she rubs her cheek against Adora’s head before pressing her lips to it softly, “Then I’ll always stay…” the magicat yawns once more and Adora can feel the muscles in Catra’s body relax as the magicat adds, “For as long as you want me to.”

BOOM!

Adora squeezes her eyes shut tighter at the sound of lightning so close, wrapping herself around Catra's sleeping form next to her.

Catra murmurs something and Adora's turns her thoughts to that, happy for the distraction as she whispers, "Catra? Did you say something?"

"Mm… 's alright…" Catra mumbles as she tightens her hold around the blonde, "…safe."

Adora takes a calming breath in and out and nods, "I know…"

"Mm… here." Catra rubs her cheek against Adora's, a soothing purr fills the room, "I got you, princess…"

Adora nods once more. Her body relaxes despite the ongoing thunder outside until her eyelids feel heavy and she falls asleep in Catra's arms. Happy for the company and the distraction.

KNOCK KNOCK!

"Oof! Ow…" Catra grumbles after Adora rolls over, pulling the blanket from under the magicat and thus making Catra roll off the bed and onto the ground.

The magicat pushes herself up into a sitting position, wincing as she rubs the back of her head and then realizes that Adora is still asleep, if the sound of the blonde's light snoring gives it away.

KNOCK KNOCK!

"What the actual fuck?" Catra grumbles out as she shakes herself awake at the rude awakening, standing up and getting her bearings when that insistent knocking continues, not that Adora seems to be concerned or even aware of it. The magicat leans over and nudges the blonde, "Adora? Wake up. There's someone at your door."

"Mm… sleeping." Adora replies curling herself further into her blankets.

KNOCK KNOCK!

"Who the fuck is knocking at this hour?!" Catra grumbles to herself as she checks the time, "It's 7 in the fucking morning…"

Adora falls back asleep despite the noise as Catra sighs out, trudging over to her front door, reaching out for the door handle and then hesitating for a moment when she's startled by another round of knocking, making her growls as she swings the door open, "What?!"

"Ado… ah… hello…" A dark skinned man wearing a crop top with a heart in the middle says as he looks around and then back at the door number, "Is… is uh, Adora here?"

"Yeah. She's in bed." Catra replies rubbing her eyes and then scratching her stomach from under her shirt, "Who are you?"

"Oh…" For a second the man takes a second to process what Catra had just said before he remembers his manners, "Oh, right. Sorry, I'm Bow! Adora's best friend! Or, well one of Adora's best friends."

"Uh huh." Catra nods, "Why are you here at 7am, my dude?"

"Why are you?" Bow asks back.

"She wanted company." Catra shrugs as she stares at him, "So I kept her company. Why are you here?"

"We usually go for a run on Saturday mornings before we grab Glimmer and have brunch." Bow happily supplies and then tilts his head at the magicat, "Sorry… I didn't get your name?"

"Catra."

“Oh, yes. It’s really nice to meet you, Catra.” Bow smiles genuinely, “So… are you and Adora…? Did you…? Uh…”

Catra watches as Bow makes a few questionable hand gestures and then looks away sheepishly, rubbing the back of his neck as she holds back a chuckle, “Did we… what?”

“Uh…” He laughs nervously.

“She’s still in bed.” Catra replies, Bow looks up quickly, “She’s sleeping. Pushed me off the bed and I think I bumped the back of my head…”

“You… you slept in her bed?” Catra nods slowly and then he leans in and whispers, “Is… is she decent?”

“If you are asking if she’s clothed, then yes.” Catra crosses her arms over her chest, “And in those ridiculous horse pajamas, no less.”

“Alicorns.” Bow corrects.

“Whatever.” Catra turns around, leaving the door open, gesturing Bow to come inside, “I’ve got to grab my keys from her bedroom.”

“I might just wait here.” Bow announces as he stops in the middle of the room.

“Suit yourself.” Catra says as she pushes open Adora’s bedroom door and gets back into bed, turning over and rubbing her hand up and down the blonde’s arm who is now cuddled into her blankets as the magicat whispers, “Adora? Adora? Are you awake?”

“No.” Adora grumbles childishly, making Catra chuckle, “Mm sleeping…”

“Uh huh.” Catra rolls onto her back, “You’ve got your 7am run buddy waiting for you outside.”

“Hm?”

“Some dude called… Bow?” Catra closes her eyes as she relaxes back into bed.

“Mm…” Adora hums out before she realizes that her best friend is here and that wakes her up quick smart, “Bow!”

“Here!” He calls out from outside her bedroom.

Adora looks over at Catra and her eyes widen, “Catra?”

“That’s my name.” Catra replies with her eyes closed.

“You… you’re here.” Adora blurts out.

“Said I would.” Catra says before cracking one eye open, “I can go home if you want me to.”

“Oh, no. Stay. Please.” Adora says without a second thought.

“Whatever you want princess.” Catra grins closing both eyes once more, “Though, if you plan on having your boyfriend join us, then I’m out.”

“He’s not my boyfriend.” Adora rolls her eyes, “He’s one of my best friends.”

“Said something about running and glitter and lunch.” Catra surmises her conversation with Bow, “If you want to go running, I can head back to my place.”

“Glimmer.”

“Huh?”

“Her names Glimmer. Not glitter.” Adora corrects with a slight giggle, “And before you ask, no, she’s not my girlfriend. She’s my other best friend.”

“Okay.” Catra replies with a chuckle, “Wasn’t going to ask.”

“Stay?” Adora asks with a hopeful look on her face, not that Catra’s able to see if with her eyes closed, “I’ll just go talk to Bow.”

Catra nods, feeling the bed dip closer to her, and then she feels Adora’s warm lips on her cheek and her eyes open to see the smile on the blonde’s face, “What…?”

“Good morning.” Adora greets with a blush before hopping over and out of bed and almost runs out of the door, she sees Bow and smiles before it drops when she realizes that she’s supposed to go running with him, “I’m so sorry, Bow.”

“It’s fine, Adora.” Bow brushes off, “Heck, I’ve cancelled on you more times than you have me. Which… now that I think about it… this is the first time…”

“I feel really bad, Bow.” Adora looks down.

“Don’t be.” Bow puts his hand on her shoulder, “Call it even? Since we kind of… didn’t make it out last night…”

“Are you sure?” Adora asks still feeling guilty.

“Very sure.” Bow confirms with a winning and then relaxes his whole body, “Honestly, I’m glad we aren’t running this morning. Glim and I had a little too much to celebrate last night and my head is still thumping…”

Adora laughs, and then she sees the hickies on Bow’s neck, “Looks like you two had a very good night.”

Bow preens, not even a little embarrassed, “What about you? Did you get lucky last night too?”

“Nope!” Catra calls out from the bedroom, “Not even close!”

Adora flushes, “Nothing happened.”

Bow nods with a smile.

“I’m serious! Nothing happened!” Adora whisper shouts to him, “Catra kept me company. You know how I am with thunder and lightning… and then the power went out and I couldn’t…”

“Hey, it’s okay, Adora.” Bow squeezes Adora’s shoulder reassuringly, “I’m glad you found someone to keep you company last night. And next time, just call us if you want company.”

“You guys were busy. I didn’t want to interrupt you guys.” Adora says.

“We’re the Best Friend’s Squad!” Bow says, “And we are always there for each other. No matter what.”

Adora smiles as she lets herself be enveloped in Bow’s arms as he brings her in for a hug, “Thanks Bow.”

“No problems!” Bow beams, “Okay, I’m going to go home and sleep off this hangover. Shall we reschedule lunch for tomorrow?”

“Sure.” Adora smiles with a nod as she walks him out, “I’ll see you tomorrow.”

“Bye, Adora.” Bow nods back and then calls out over her shoulder, “Bye Catra! It was really nice meeting you!”

“See ya Arrows!” Catra calls back as Adora smiles and quickly shuts the door before he can ask anymore questions, the blonde leans her back against the door once it’s shut and breathes out. And then the magicat calls out, “Are you coming back to bed, princess? Or is my company no longer required?”

“Coming!” Adora calls back as she makes her way back.

“Are you hungry?” Adora asks as she rolls over and stares back at the magicat’s eyes looking at her, “I uh, I don’t have a lot of stuff. But I’ve got cereal and bread maybe?”

Catra huffs out a laugh and sits up, "I have a better idea."

"Where are you going?" Adora asks as she watches the magicat get up and off the bed, stretching out her limbs with a lazy yawn.

"Come on, princess." Catra holds out her hand, "I know you're hungry."

Adora narrows her eyes at the magicat and then puts her hand in Catra's, "Okay…"

Adora sits at Catra's dining table as the magicat cooks up breakfast for the pair, the blonde looks down at herself, still in her pajamas, "I think I might go get changed…"

"Why?"

"Because I'm still in my pajamas?" Adora asks right back confused, "Why is that really even a question?"

Catra laughs, "You look cute in those."

Adora blushes and grumbles out, "Shut up. I do not…"

The magicat places a plate of food on the table in front of the blonde, "Eat up, princess."

The blonde looks up at Catra, the magicat taking her seat across from Adora with her own plate and starts eating, "Thank you."

Catra shrugs, "It's fine, better than cereal or 'maybe' bread." The magicat laughs a little to herself, "Maybe… I can take you out for dinner?"

Adora stops just short of taking her first bite, looking at the magicat who continues to eat, the ears on her head twitching and flicking about, "Are you… are you asking me out?"

"…yes?"

A happy grin appears on Adora's face, "That's so cute."

Catra rolls her eyes, "It's cute that I'm trying to invite you out to dinner with me?"

"Yes." Adora smiles wider, "I don't usually get asked out."

"Yes, you do." Catra refutes, "Pretty sure that suit last night did."

"Gross." Adora sticks her tongue out, "Why is it only guys ask me out?"

"Are we seriously going to go through this again?" Catra asks with a raised eyebrow, "I'm not repeating the whole light and spark thing. Your ego and forehead are already big enough."

Adora nearly chokes as she snorts out a laugh, "Okay, okay… rude…"

"So… is that a yes?" Catra asks with a hopeful lilt in her voice.

Just as Adora is about to answer, Catra's phone rings. The blonde notices the magicat not moving to answer it and asks, "Are you going to get that?"

"It can wait." Catra replies as her phone finally stops ringing, "Your answer however…"

And just as Adora is about to answer again, Catra's phone goes off again, the blonde snickers, getting up from her seat and walks over to the magicat, leaning down and presses a kiss on Catra's cheek, "What do you think?"

"I don't really want to guess… I've been wrong before…" Catra admits as her phone continues to chime incessantly, "Ugh! Hang on."

Adora laughs, going back to her seat to finish her breakfast, "Take your time, Cat."

Catra rolls her eyes at the blonde as she gets up to answer the phone, "Traps. What's up?"

"Hey, Adora?" Catra says coming back to the kitchen/dining area, "I've got to go into work in a few hours."

"Oh, right." Adora nods, "I should probably get back to my place… shower or whatever…"

Catra smiles at the blonde, "Come by my work later?"

"Sure." Adora smiles back as she takes her now empty plate to the sink and quickly washes it up before looking over at Catra, "I'll do the dishes. Go get ready."

"It's fine, Adora." Catra comes over with her own empty plate, "I've got this. You're my guest in my home."

"But…" Adora starts to pout in protest.

"Nope. Get out of my kitchen, princess." Catra says sternly and then smirks, "I've got a few hours before I have to get to back to work, so… why don't you pick out a movie or a video game we can play?"

Adora sighs upon seeing the look on Catra's face that says don't argue with me, the blonde nods and heads over to the magicat's living area and starts to rifle through the titles of movies and games available. The blonde looks over at the magicat still washing up and smiles before going back to her task.

"Oh, man!" Catra grumbles as she loses to Adora again in a Street Fighter-esq game, "You have to be cheating or something, princess…"

Adora laughs, "Nah, I'm just really good with my fingers."

Catra quirks and eyebrow up at the blonde at the innuendo, "Yeah? And I'm good with my tongue. What's your point?"

Adora stutters out, her face turning red with a blush, "Uh… that's… that's… good to know…"

The magicat laughs out and then looks up at the time, "Fuck, I better get ready…"

Adora nods, exiting the game and then placing the controllers back in the case, "Okay. I think I'm going to head back to my place."

Catra gets up off the floor, pulling Adora up with her with a teasing look on her face, "Are you going to be alright all alone in your apartment for a little while?"

Adora shoves the magicat back playfully, "Yes. I'll be fine, Cat."

"Oh, hang on." Catra quickly moves to her bedroom while Adora stares after the magicat confused.

"Catra, what are you… oh…" Adora says as the magicat reappears holding out a key to the blonde, "What's this?"

"A key." Catra says.

"Uh huh…? For?"

"For my heart." Catra says simply before laughing out when Adora's eyes widen, "No, dummy. It's a key for my apartment."

"Uh… why are you giving me this?" Adora stares at the key still being held out to her.

Catra shrugs, "I feel like I can trust you with it."

"You literally met me last night." Adora rolls her eyes at the magicat, "You don't even know my last name."

“Don’t need to. I know your heart.” Catra replies, “Besides, sparks don’t lie.”

“I don’t know what that means.” Adora says confused.

“Just take the key, princess.” Catra nudges it closer to Adora, “It’d make be feel better if you had it instead of knocking on my door at stupid o’clock because of a little bit of thunder and lightning.”

Adora gingerly takes the key, “But… but I don’t have a spare key for you…”

“It’s fine, Adora.” Catra wipes her hand on her pants, “Okay, I’ve got to go get ready. Can you just lock the door when you head out?”

Nodding, Adora steps closer to the magicat and envelopes Catra in a hug, “Thank you. For last night and everything else.”

Catra wraps her arms around Adora’s waist and breathes out, “My pleasure, Adora.”

“I’ll see you later?”

“You better.” Catra grins.

As Adora starts to make her way to the door, she turns around, “Are you driving in tonight?”

“Uh…” Catra rubs the back of her head where the sore spot is still evident from her fall from Adora’s bed before answering, “Yeah, I think I might have to.”

“Okay.” Adora nods, “I’ll see you later, then. Bye Catra.”

“Bye Adora.” Catra smiles as she watches Adora lock the door before exiting and pulling the door shut.

“So… you slept with her?” Entrapta asks as they sit at the bar, Catra runs her fingers through her short hair, “But you saw it, right?”

“The sparks?” Catra asks, “Yeah, I saw them.”

“That’s good, right?” Entrapta asks as she takes a sip from her shot glass.

“I think so.” The magicat replies unsurely, “I asked her out to dinner but she didn’t exactly answer.”

“No?”

“Not really. And I really don’t want to get my hopes up just in case it happens again.” Catra admits defeatedly.

“What happened last time wasn’t meant to be.” Entrapta says as she taps on her tablet, “From my data, what happened the first time was due to adolescence and an increase in hormones. Magicat puberty is very interesting.”

“Ugh.” Catra slumps down onto the counter of the bar, “I really like her, Traps.”

Entrapta pats Catra on the back reassuringly, “From the information I’ve gathered, she likes you back just as much. And from the footage I went through from last night, I’d say she feels the same about you.”

“Thanks, Traps.” Catra grins as she sits upright a little more, “Oh, here she comes!”

Entrapta turns around and spots Adora, the blonde is dressed in a pair of grey slacks and a nice white button up shirt, “Well, what are you waiting for? Go and get her.”

“I will.” Catra says a little irritated, “Let me just… just finish my drink.”

Adora looks around and immediately spots Catra in her black suit with a red tie by the bar, a smile appears on her face as she starts to make her way towards the magicat when her view is obstructed by a monster of a woman. The blonde looks up and sees a large and muscular woman grinning down at her and Adora can't help but stutter under her presence, "Oh, uh… sorry, I was just… uh…"

"It's fine." The large woman smirks, flexing her muscles, knowing exactly what she's doing to the blonde, "I'm Roxy. And you are?"

"A-Adora." Adora replies with hearts in her eyes at this new person, "It's… It's nice to meet you."

"Likewise." Roxy replies as she steps aside so Adora can get around her, "Say, can I buy you a drink, Adora?"

"Uh… sure." Adora replies still a little dopey.

"No problems, Adora." Roxy grins, "Any requests?"

Adora shrugs, unable to think, before saying, "Whatever you're having?"

Roxy laughs, "Okay, I'll be right back."

Adora stays rooted to the spot as she watches Roxy walk away, not even noticing Catra coming towards her until the magicat is practically in front of her, "Oh, hey Catra."

"Adora." Catra greets back flatly, looking in the direction of the blonde's gaze and then sighs, "Can I get you a drink?"

"Uh…" Adora turns her head to the magicat, "No thanks."

"Okay." Catra nods, standing next to the blonde awkwardly, unable to draw Adora's attention away from the hulk of a woman getting 2 drinks at the bar, the magicat clears her throat, "So, about dinner…?"

“Huh? What?” Adora turns her attention back to Catra, “Did you say something?”

Catra shakes her head, “No. I didn’t say anything.”

“Oh, okay.” Adora says as her eyes go back to Roxy who is making her way back with 2 drinks.

“Here you go.” Roxy hands over a glass to the blonde, “Hope you like whisky and coke.”

“Thank you.” Adora smiles back as she takes a sip and suppresses a grimace at the taste, Roxy watches the blonde as she takes a sip as well.

Roxy eyes the magicat next to Adora, “Hello? Have we met?”

“I don’t think so.” Catra replies.

“Oh, okay.” Roxy says turning her attention back to Adora, “So, Adora. What brings you here? You definitely aren’t a regular.”

“Neither are you…” Catra mutters under her breath as she gently touches Adora’s elbow, “Have a good night, Adora. Let me know if you need a lift home or anything.”

Adora turns her head to Catra, “Wait, where are you going?”

“Traps and I still have stuff to work on.” Catra lies, holding back a wince once saying it, “Have a good night.”

And with that, Catra turns around and heads back towards Entrapta still seated at the bar as the blonde stares after her.

Roxy watches as well, “Who is that?”

“That’s… That’s Catra.” Adora replies as she feels a hand on her shoulder and looks up at Roxy, “She’s my friend. We live in the same building.”

The larger woman chuckles, “Just friends?”

"Yeah…?"

"Okay." Roxy shrugs, "I don't want to get in between girlfriends or anything."

"I only met her last night." Adora admits biting her bottom lip as she glances over at Catra slumped over the bar as her friend talks to her in great exaggeration, "She's really sweet."

Roxy turns around and looks at the magicat and chuckles, "Sweet doesn't get girls, does it?"

Adora stares back at the large woman and frowns, "What's that supposed to mean?"

"She's not exactly swimming in chicks, is she?" Roxy takes another glance over at Catra, "Oh well, so, not a girlfriend, huh?"

"Fuck, I knew it was too good to be true." Catra grumbles into her arms as Entrapta tries to make her feel better, "What was I even thinking? She's completely out of my league…"

"There, there." Entrapta pats Catra on the shoulder.

Roxy laughs, "So, there I was, in front of crowd, and everyone's cheering for me to knock this other girl out and take the win when all of a sudden she throws sand in my face and sucker punches me."

Adora chuckles half heartedly, it's been a while and Roxy has spent the entire time talking about herself, "That's… that's not nice."

"Not nice is one way to put it!" Roxy laughs out once more, "Good thing she was stupid enough to be so close to me that I managed to grab her and then floor her, before shoving a fistful of sand back into her face and making her eat a mouthful of it."

"Ha…" Adora tries to stay light despite how bored she is and then tries to think of a way to get out of this conversation, "I'm going to the bathroom."

"Oh, I'll come with." Roxy stands up with Adora.

"No!" Adora almost shouts out, "It's fine. I'll be right back."

"Nonsense." Roxy brushes the comment off, "I need to go too."

The look on Roxy face gives away her true intentions as Adora gulps down, really not wanting this to go further, "Uh, why don't you go first then?"

Roxy grins wider, "We can go together. No big deal."

Adora looks around, "It's… it's fine. I can stay so we can keep this table…"

"Fuck the table." Roxy replies uncaringly, "Actually, now that I think about fucking… the bathroom sounds pretty good right now…"

"Don't you fucking dare fuck in the bathroom." Catra steps in as she growls out the words angrily.

"And who the fuck are you? I can fuck whoever I want in the bathroom. It's none of your fucking business." Roxy stands up to her full height, towering over the magicat trying to intimidate her, "Walk away, friend."

"I'm not your friend, jackass." Catra growls back, not taking a step back.

"Do you know who I am?" Roxy glares down at the magicat, "Because if you don't get out of my way so me and my girl…"

"I'm not your girl." Adora scoffs out, "I just wanted to go to the bathroom."

Roxy smirks again and then looks at Catra, "See? We just want to use the bathroom."

"No. Get out, jackass." Catra hisses out to the hulk of a woman towering over her, "Be glad I'm not banning you for being such a sleazebag."

"How dare you speak to me like that." Roxy huffs out, "I'm going to have this place shut down so fast…"

"No, you're not." Catra crosses her arms over her chest, "Now, leave. I'm not going to tell you again."

"Or what?" Roxy challenges, lightly shoving Catra, "What are you going to do, kitty?"

"Don't touch me." Catra grits out, "Get out of here."

"No. I think I'm going to take Adora to the bathroom with me now." Roxy reaches out and wraps her fingers around Adora's wrists, tugging the blonde forward, "Hope your walls are thick."

Adora manages to shrug out of the large woman's grip as Catra shoves Roxy back and then gets her into an arm lock, the large woman yelps out in both surprise and a little pain as her arm is twisted behind her back, "Oh, did I forget to mention that I also double as security for this place? No? Also, my friend Traps has you on video and will send it out to every bar and venue that serves any type of alcohol to ban you if you don't leave now."

The threat seems to work as Catra shoves Roxy forward and towards the exit, standing back threateningly with her claws and teeth on show. The other woman sneers back, gives Catra the finger and finally leaves.

Catra breathes out in relief at having dealt with that, turning around and yelping in surprise at how close Adora is behind her,

“What the fuck, princess? Don’t sneak up on me!”

“Sorry!” Adora quickly apologizes and takes a step back, “I didn’t mean to scare you…”

“You didn’t scare me.” Catra tries to brush the lie off before she looks up at Adora, “Are you good?”

“Yes. Thank you, again.” Adora sheepishly says, “I thought last night was bad but that… was worse.”

Catra nods, “Look. If you’re into hulking huge women, I know one who’s not a jackass if you’re interested.”

“What?” Adora says perplexed at the offer, “Why would I…?”

“Huntara’s a good friend of mine and I’m pretty sure you two would get along.” Catra says, “She’d probably talk your ear off about body building or protein powders or her workout regime.”

“Why are you telling me this?” Adora asks furrowing her brows.

“I get it.” Catra shrugs, “You’re the light. I’m just not the spark. It’s fine. I’m not your type.”

“That…”

“Don’t worry, princess.” Catra shrugs again, “We can still be friends if you want.”

“Cat, no, wait…” Adora starts to say when Catra turns to walk away, the blonde reaching out, managing to wrap two fingers around the magicat’s wrist, “I don’t want to be friends.”

The statement makes Catra’s heart drop, of course she doesn’t want to be friends… her head thinks, why would someone, so bright as Adora even want to hang out with someone like her? It makes no sense…

Adora pulls Catra back a few steps, moving around so she can look the magicat in the eyes as Catra sighs, “That’s… yeah… I… okay, yeah…”

“No, you idiot.” Adora rolls her eyes, “I want to be your light and I need you to be my spark.”

“Say what?”

Adora giggles, “Ask me again.”

“Ask you what?” Catra crinkles her brows back as Adora smiles, waiting patiently for the magicat’s question.

“You know what. Ask me again.” Adora repeats.

“Uh…” Catra scratches behind her ear and then it finally comes to her, the magicat takes a deep breath in and turns to the blonde, “Adora, would you like to have dinner with me?”

“Yes!” Adora replies enthusiastically, pulling Catra in for a hug and then pressing her lips onto the magicat’s cheek, “Yes.”

“Fuck… you’re acting like I just proposed to you…” Catra blushes as Adora just beams back at her.

“Maybe later.” Adora replies and Catra’s jaw hits the floor, “Now, can we get dinner now? Because I am starving!”

Chapter End Notes

Yes! Dinner! and maybe a proposal down the track... maybe... haha

Thanks for reading, comments, kudos, bookmarks and subscribers!
I'm in the middle of writing the 3rd chapter of 'The Quest' and should have it out by the end of the weekend!
Not that you have to read that one... bit, just saying...

Is This A Date?

Chapter Summary

Catra brings Adora to the gym... at night.

“Hey Catra?” Adora says as they sit down at an outdoor picnic table across from the food trucks as they wait for their order to be ready, the magicat turns her head to see Adora looking at her with concern all over her face.

“Yeah?” Catra replies after clearing her throat.

“I want to apologise for before.” Adora bites her bottom lip and fidgets with the hem of her shirt, “I shouldn’t have agreed to that drink with… well, you know who…”

“It’s fine, Adora.” Catra replies with a sigh and then looks over at the blonde with a teasing grin, “Guess you like women that look like amazons or the she-hulk.”

“I do not.” Adora huffs before crossing her arms and pouting in denial.

“Uh huh.” Catra shakes her head with a small smile, “I think I should test that theory…”

“Yeah? Your theory is not going to work.” Adora denies again, “I was just being polite.”

“Sure, you were.” Catra drawls, “Though if that was true… You didn’t accept a drink from the suit last night…”

“That’s… that’s because I still had a drink!” Adora argues, “And… maybe I was a little… surprised.”

Catra hums, “I still want to test my theory…” the magicat grins widely at Adora, “And if I’m wrong, then I’ll owe you a favour. But. If I’m right…”

“What kind of favour?” Adora interrupts, “Also, what do you want if you’re right? Which you totally won’t be…”

“I want a kiss. A proper one.” Catra replies with a smirk, her tail flicking side to side happily at the thought, “On the lips. Maybe tongue.”

Adora’s face heats up at the thought of kissing Catra properly, a smile appears on her face as she daydreams for a moment until she feels something warm against her forehead. Looking up cross eyed at the finger on her forehead, she stares back at Catra with an unimpressed look, playfully swatting the magicat’s hand away, “Stop that!”

“You kind of zoned out there, princess.” Catra points out, “Just checking you weren’t brain damaged.”

“I did not zone out.” Adora rubs her forehead.

“You so did.” Catra grins, “What were you thinking about?”

“Nothing!” Adora blushes brighter, “Shut up.”

Catra starts to laugh, “I think I know what.”

Just before Adora can retort, their order is called and Catra gets up, “Hey! We’re not done yet!”

The blonde quickly follows Catra to help collect their food, the magicat just smiles back at Adora, handing the blonde the drinks as she grabs the food and then says, “Eat first. I’ll test my theory after dinner.”

“What are you doing?” Adora asks as they sit back down at the picnic table, this time across from one another, the blonde watching as the magicat pulls her phone out and taps on it a few times.

“Giving Huntara a heads up that we’re going to drop by later.” Catra replies before pocketing her phone again and smirking at the blonde, “Eat up.”

“You know, when you said you’d take me out for dinner, a food truck wasn’t what I was thinking.” Adora admits as she digs into freshly made burger and fries, “Not that I’m complaining…”

“Oh, this isn’t our dinner date, princess.” Catra replies, “This is just, dinner.”

The blonde quirks an eyebrow in questions, “It isn’t?”

“No.” Catra shakes her head, smiling back, “Definitely not. I like to make a good first date impression.”

“Well, this is already pretty impressive, if you ask me.” Adora mirrors Catra’s smile.

“Oof, talk about a low bar.” Catra jokes, earning herself a kick in the shin, “Ow!”

“You deserved it.” Adora says matter of factly, “Where are you taking me for our dinner date?”

“I’m not telling you.” Catra replies, “You’ll have to wait until then.”

“I hate waiting.” Adora bemoans, “Please! Just tell me!”

“Nope. Be patient, Adora.” Catra chastises with a grin, “And don’t think I don’t see you stealing my fries.”

Adora feigns innocence, “I don’t know what you’re talking about.” And then steals another one.

The following grin on the blonde's face has the magicat shaking her head, "You haven't even finished your own yet."

"Stolen fries are better." Adora declares as she swipes another one and pops it into her mouth and then smiles innocently back at the magicat, "Mmm… so good."

Catra swallows down hard upon hearing that sound from Adora, clearing her throat and then returning the favor, swiping one of Adora's fries and eating it before shrugging, "Tastes the same to me."

"Can I try your shake?" Adora asks eying the magicat's drink and then offers, "You can have some of mine."

"Go for it, princess." Catra picks the drink up and holds it out to Adora, the blonde taking it and grinning as she takes a sip, "Good?"

"Stars… it's so good!" Adora's eyes nearly roll back, "Darn, I should have got this one too."

"Have it. I'll have yours." Catra offers.

"Oh, no. I can't. This is yours, I just wanted a taste…" Adora holds it back out to Catra.

"Nah, it's yours now." Catra pushes it back towards Adora and then quickly swipes the blonde's drink and taking a long drink, "Ahh… so good."

Adora rolls her eyes good naturedly, taking another sip and then says, "Thank you."

"My pleasure, Adora." Catra smiles as they continue to eat their food in a comfortable silence.

“A gym. Why are we at a gym?” Adora asks as she follows Catra into the gym, grabbing onto the magicat’s hand as they enter.

“To test a theory.” Catra replies glancing over her shoulder as she heads towards the reception desk, the receptionist woman looks up with a warm smile, “Hey Kylie, Hunt around?”

“She’s working upper body tonight... She’s either at the benches or the free weights…” Kylie replies as she stands up from the desk and looks around inside the gym area, “Oh, over there. She’s at the racks.”

“Thanks.” Catra nods to Kylie, “Can we head in there for a few minutes?”

Kylie looks the magicat up and down, “You’re not going to work out in a suit again, are you?”

“Don’t think so.” Catra shrugs, “But if I do, uh, you know what, here. Scan away.”

The magicat holds her card out and Kylie scans the membership card, “Is your girlfriend going to work out too?”

“Adora?” Catra turns her head to the blonde and then back to Kylie, “I’m… I’m not sure. I’ve got a feeling that she’s going to want to challenge me or Hunt at some point tonight… She does look like the competitive type.”

Adora doesn’t even bother denying it, “Maybe. Is… is that okay?”

Kylie opens up a drawer and pulls out a card and holds it out to Adora, “Here, it’s a 5 day pass. Starting from today.”

“Oh, thank you.” Adora takes the card and smiles as she waves it Catra proudly, “Ha! Maybe when I plan the next date, we can do a gym session?”

“That’s not a date.” Catra points out as they walk into the gym area.

“It so is a date activity.” Adora argues, “A gym date. I’ll even spot you.”

“What makes you think I need a spot?” Catra replies with a challenging grin on her face, that quickly changes to annoyed when she hears someone laugh out at her statement, “Ugh, we’re not all built like trees, Hunt.”

A large purple skinned woman with a white ponytail and rippling muscles comes over and slaps Catra playfully on the shoulder while still laughing, “I’m not a tree, kid. But I’m as thick as one.”

“Yeah, in the head as well.” Catra rolls her eyes as she snarks out with a grin as Huntara just laughs a little more, “Anyway… Huntara, I want you to meet Adora. Adora, this is Huntara.”

Adora’s jaw drops upon seeing Huntara, a dopey look on her face as she zones out a little, before the magicat nudges the blonde and she comes back to the present, she turns to look at Catra with a confused look on her face before she notices the magicat smirking at her. The blonde huffs out, clearly caught, “Shut up.”

Huntara looks between the pair and crosses her arms over her chest, flexing her muscles in the process and smirking, “Awe, kid. Are you trying to set me up with another one of your friends? Because I already told you, I’m married.” She turns to Adora, “Sorry, blondie. I’m taken.”

“Uh…” Adora goes bright red, “I wasn’t… uh, I’m not… Catra…?”

“She’s with me.” Catra replies holding back a laugh, “And apparently she’s not interested in your type.”

“I’m not.” Adora whispers out to Catra and then clears her throat, turning to Huntara and not looking the muscle woman in the eye, “I mean, you know, because you’re like… taken. And I’m like… kind of with…” she turns to the magicat, “Are we like…?”

“Like what, princess?” Catra asks with a shit eating grin.

Adora faux glares at the magicat, “Catra!”

“Adora!” Catra mirrors with a chuckle.

“Are we like…” Adora waves her hand around exasperatedly, “You know…?”

“I do?” Catra plays on, before quickly giving the blonde some respite as she turns to Huntara, “She’s mine. Keep your grubby hands off her.”

“I am?” Adora asks dumbfounded before she straightens up and grins, turning to Huntara as well, “I am.”

“Good to know.” Huntara nods at the pair and then says to Catra, “Finally got your shit together, huh?”

The magicat shrugs, “What can I say?” Catra reaches out and takes Adora’s hand in hers, “I found the light that I spark.”

Huntara grins, slapping the magicat on the back, “Good. I was getting worried about you being stuck alone for all eternity.”

Catra squeezes Adora’s hand, “Had to wait for the right one.”

“Awe! You think I’m the one?!” Adora coos as she pulls Catra in for a hug.

The magicat blushes, leaning into the blonde’s body and breathing her in, “Yeah. I think so.”

Adora hums out happily as Huntara chuckles under her breath, the larger woman interrupting the pair, “Are you planning to workout or just show off your girl, kid?”

“Show off my girl.” Catra simply replies and the pair share a laugh, “My arms are dead anyways.”

“I didn’t see you in here today.” Huntara says trying to recall if she did or not, “When did you train?”

“I didn’t train here.” Catra says as Adora finally releases the magicat from the hug, “My arms hurt from unloading the truck this afternoon.”

“You know, you can always call me to help you out for stuff like that.” Huntara offers, “I’m always up for a few extra dollars.”

“You know why I can’t have you help me, Hunt.” Catra breathes out, “Scorp still feels threatened by you when you’re around Perfuma.”

“I don’t know why she’s still so jealous.” Huntara huffs out, “She’s got flower girl.”

Catra shrugs, “Well, she’d kill me if I brought you over to help me out. She still gets that twitchy eye thing anytime your name comes up in conversation.”

“Oh, you still talk about me?” Huntara asks genuinely surprised, “I’m flattered.”

“No. I don’t talk about you.” Catra says, “Flower girl loves to talk about her time with cacti and how she overcame it or something and your name always creeps up when it comes to pointy plant things.”

Huntara smiles to herself, “Ah, those were the days…”

“Please don’t fuck up her and Scorp’s relationship.” Catra pinches the bridge of her nose, “Stars knows it took them long enough to finally get together.”

The larger woman laughs, “Okay. You got it. I won’t help you unload the trucks.”

“Thanks.” Catra nods back and then turns to Adora, “Wanna get out of here, princess?”

“Yes.” Adora replies with a beaming smile, “Though, I think we should definitely come back for a workout date.”

“No.” Catra groans out while Huntara perks up in interest, the magicat growls at her, “Don’t. I’m not hurting myself again because of my stupid competitive streak.”

“Better not, blondie.” Huntara nudges the blonde, “The kid is a little crazy when she works out. It’s like all or nothing with her. She ended up challenging everyone to a squat competition. Fair to say, someone had to carry her home that night. And yes, that someone was me.”

Catra rolls her eyes at Huntara’s preening, “I beat you too.”

“I wasn’t trying, kid.” Huntara argues, “I’m not stupid enough to goad you into what I usually squat.”

Catra’s about to rip her jacket off to prove a point when Adora step between the pair, “Woah, no.”

The magicat tilts her head at the blonde in question as she shrugs her jacket back on, “No?”

“Come on, I owe you a kiss.” Adora declares biting her bottom lip, “Just… not here.”

“So… I won?” Catra asks with a sly grin.

“Yes. You won.” Adora replies quickly before grabbing Catra’s hand and waving to Huntara, “It was really nice to meet you!” and then the pair exit.

“Can you grab the remote out of the glove box please?” Catra asks as she pulls up to the building garage security gates, “I still haven’t got a keyring for it yet.”

The blonde nods and pulls the remote out and pushes the button to open up the doors, “Where do I get one of these?”

“You didn’t get one when you got your keys and swipe?” Catra asks as she drives forward.

Adora shakes her head, “No. It wasn’t in the envelope.”

“Call the building manager on Monday and they’ll sort something out for you.” The magicat says as she parks up and turns off the engine, “Are you planning to get a car?”

“No.” Adora replies as she unbuckles her seatbelt and pushes the door open, the magicat doing the same as they walk towards the elevator, “Do you think if I parked my push bike in my car spot, it’ll be alright?”

“I don’t see why it wouldn’t be.” Catra replies as the elevator dings and the doors open, the pair get in, “Though, you should still lock it up to something.”

“Oh.” Adora furrows her brows, “Maybe not then.”

“I can install an anchor point or something in the ground that you can chain your bike to if you want.” Catra offers, “It’ll be low enough that if or when you get a car, you’ll still be able to park over it without wrecking your vehicle.”

“You’d do that for me?” Adora asks softly, Catra nods and the blonde pulls her in for a hug, resting her chin on the magicat’s shoulder, “Even though I’m an idiot that can’t stop fawning over certain types of women?”

“Maybe I should get all muscley too.” Catra jests, “Then I can all of your attention all time.”

“No. I want to be the muscley one in this relationship.” Adora replies with a chuckle.

“Muscles don’t always mean strength though, princess.” Catra points out.

“Kind of does…”

“Strongmen and women would dispute that.” Catra replies with a grin, “Besides, I reckon I could get muscley.”

“Hm…” Adora hums out as the lift finally gets to their floor, “Maybe I need to see it to believe it…”

“Oh, game on!” Catra declares as she pulls the blonde out of the lift and then they stand in front of their apartment doors, “So… my place or… yours?”

“You pick.” Adora says as she pulls Catra in by the lapels of her suit jacket and presses their lips together in a soft kiss.

Catra hums out happily, wrapping her arms around Adora’s waist to bring her even closer as she deepens the kiss, reveling in the little whimper she gets out from the blonde. The magicat smiles and inadvertently ends the kiss, “Mm… that was…”

“Wow…” Adora finishes as her eyelids flutter back open and she rests her forehead against the magicat’s, and then repeats, “Wow…”

Catra chuckles as she places a chaste kiss on Adora’s lips, “So… do you want company tonight?”

“Definitely.” Adora grins as Catra walks them backwards towards Adora’s apartment, the blonde’s back presses against her door as Catra kisses the blonde once more, this time with a little more intent as her hands run up and down Adora’s sides, “…fuck…”

“Not tonight.” Catra whispers, “Too soon.”

Adora nods, “Um… keys…”

“Yes, you’ll need them to get into your place.” Catra teases, thought Adora just leans in for another kiss.

“Then don’t distract me.” Adora chastises playfully, finally managing to get the key in the lock and the door open, she grabs Catra’s hand and leads her inside, “Come on.”

Catra laughs as she's tugged inside and nearly trips, "Hang on, let me shut the door first."

Adora releases Catra's hand, the magicat walking back to shut and lock the door before following Adora into her bedroom. Adora looks up from where she's grabbing her pajamas, "Don't make fun of them."

"Wouldn't think of it." Catra grins as she looks at the horse pictures all over the blonde's sleeping clothes, "Oh, let me go grab my sleeping stuff. And maybe a toothbrush…"

"Don't take too long." Adora says as she grabs Catra and pulls her back in for another kiss, "I don't like being alone in my apartment when you're so close by."

"I'll be back in 15mins. Maybe less." Catra says softly as she leans her forehead onto Adora's, "You'll just have to let me back in when I knock."

Adora giggles, "Of course."

"Okay."

"Okay." Adora shoves the magicat back lightly, "Go. Quickly!"

"I'm going!" Catra laughs as she makes her way back to the door, Adora hot on her heels, the magicat turns around once she's exited the door, barely out of the blonde's doorway and pulls Adora in for a kiss, "I'll be back."

Adora nods as she watches Catra make her way into the apartment and shut the door. The blonde doing the same as she heads back to the bedroom to change.

Knock knock

Catra knocks on the door, her hand mid knock when Adora opens the door up and the magicat's eyes go wide while her jaw drops to the ground.

"Hey Catra…" Adora greets with a sultry look on her face as she smirks at the effect she has on the magicat, "Looks like you've got a type too."

Catra nods dumbly back at the blonde, "Uh huh… totally do."

Adora laughs, pulling Catra in by her baggy sleep shirt and slams the door shut behind them as she wraps her arms around the magicat, pushing them until Catra's back is against the door, the blonde's lips pressed against the magicat's in an intense and hurried kiss, "Mm… what took you so long?"

Catra grins, trying to look the blonde up and down, "It's a little revealing, isn't it? What if it wasn't me knocking?"

Adora blushes a little, "You don't like?"

The magicat pushes Adora back just enough to get a second look at the blonde's attire, "You know… when you said you were going to get into your pajamas… I was expecting a horse onesie or something… not… short shorts and a red lacy bra…"

Adora shrugs, "I could go and put my horse onesie on if that's what you prefer…"

"Don't you dare." Catra growls as she pulls Adora back in for another heated kiss, the blonde giggling into it, "What happened to no sex until we get to know each other better?"

"Who said we were going to have sex?" Adora quirks an eyebrow up at the magicat, "I'm just giving you a… taste of what's to come…"

"And… where else can I… taste?" Catra grins as she feels the blonde rubbing her thighs together.

"Just my lips…" Adora leans in and presses her lips on Catra's, "On my face…"

Catra laughs out as they continue to make out, the magicat moves her arms under Adora's thighs, lifting her up and walks her over to the bedroom, a yawn suppressed into the blonde's neck, "Sleep?"

"Sleep and cuddle?" Adora suggests.

"Of course." Catra nods with a chaste kiss on the blonde's cheek, "I'll be your sleeping company again… but…"

"But?"

"Please tell your friends not to wakes us up before 9am." Catra pleads and Adora laughs once more.

"I'll text them." Adora offers as Catra lowers them onto the bed, the blonde pulls the magicat into her arms, "Mm… goodnight Catra."

"Mmphf… night… princess…" Catra nods off into sleep.

Adora runs her hands through Catra's short hair as she pulls her just a little closer into her chest, sighing out happily as she closes her eyes too, falling into an equally peaceful sleep. Forgetting to let her friends know not to drop by earlier than 9am.

Chapter End Notes

Will they be rudely awakened in the morning?

I had this chapter mostly completed last night, before proofreading and completing it...
I'm on the road again, so... we'll see if I get any writing done on the road...

Thanks for reading, commenting, kudos, bookmarking and subscribing.

Will the next chapter the be final one?
I don't know... maybe? Maybe not... I haven't decided yet...

Date!

Adora and Catra get woken up... again...

KNOCK KNOCK!

"Oh, for fuck's sakes…" Catra grumbles when she's rudely awakened by the constant loud knocking on Adora's door as she turns over and buries her head under one of Adora's pillow, the blonde still sleeping soundly, the magicat mumbles under her breath, "Should have fucken stayed at my place last night…"

KNOCK KNOCK!

"Nope!" Catra pokes Adora a little, trying to wake the blonde up, "Adora. Adora! Wake up!"

"Quit it…" The blonde grumbles as she grabs onto Catra's hand and holds it against her chest, "Mm… it's too early…"

"Adora!" Catra whisper shouts, "What happened to not having your friends bang on the door so early in the morning?"

The blonde makes a sound like I don't know, as she wraps her arms around Catra, "Shh… sleeping time…"

"That's what I'm trying to do…" Catra grumbles as she nestles herself deeper into Adora's front, "Though whoever is still knocking better watch the fuck out when I get through with them…"

Adora grabs onto Catra, pulling the magicat closer to her chest to stop the her from getting out of bed, whispering out groggily, "Just ignore it. Maybe they'll go away…"

Being held in Adora's arms has the magicat melting a little as she gives in easily, "Fine."

The blonde grins into the back of Catra's short hair and then rubs her face against it, "Mm… you smell so nice…"

A purr inadvertently erupts from the magicat's chest as she tries to tamp it down, "You feel really nice."

Adora giggles when Catra nuzzles into her chest, "Your fur tickles…"

"I'll show you what really tickles…" Catra threatens lightly as she starts to really tickle Adora with her fingers, attacking the blonde's sides, making Adora squeal out with laughter as she tries to tickle Catra back, though with the way the magicat's got her positioned under her, it's to no avail.

"Stars! Stop! Stop! Catra!!!" Adora laughs out trying to grab at the magicat's hands to stop the onslaught of tickling, "Catra! Cat-Catra! St-Stop! Oh my… Stars!!!"

"Ahem!"

The pair both freeze at the unexpected and rude interruption, the magicat's ears twisting back towards the sound, Adora peeks around Catra who's still on top of her, the blonde's eyes widening at the surprising presence in her bedroom no less as she manages to squeak out a sheepish, “Hey Glimmer…” she looks to Catra, “Uh, Catra. This is Glimmer. My… my other best friend.” Adora eyes Glimmer, “Glim… this is Catra. My… my uh… neighbour…?”

“Neighbour?” Catra repats a little stunned, “I thought…”

Adora watches as Catra gets off of her and then subsequently off the bed, “Hey. What…?”

“I’m going home.” Catra declares a little gruffly as she grabs her keys from the bedside table, “See you around, neighbour.” she says as she heads out, but not before she pauses next to Glimmer, “Sparkles. Nice to meet you. I’m sure your dude is waiting outside too, isn’t he? Don’t answer that, I already know he is by the nonchalant whistling out there.”

“Cat! Wait!” Adora gets out of bed, ignoring the fact she’s still not exactly dressed, chasing after the magicat to her door, managing to slam it shut when the Catra starts to pull it open, “Stop! Please!”

“I’m going home Adora.” Catra repeats, “It’s obvious that I’ve read everything wrong if I’ve been downgraded down to… neighbour.”

“I didn’t…” Adora’s eyes widen in shock at her mistake, “No, wait. I didn’t mean it like that!”

“Then what did you mean?” Catra says crestfallen, looking away from Adora.

Exasperatedly, Adora sighs and leans her forehead against Catra’s, “Your more than just my neighbour. You’re… you’re… you’re so much more than that.”

“Sure.” Catra breathes out with a shake of her head, “So much more that what?”

Adora takes in a deep breath, closing her eyes for a moment, “I want to be more.”

“Uh huh.” Catra scoffs, “I don’t think I can keep taking all these… mixed signals. And I’ve already been headfucked more times than I can count. I just didn’t think you’d do the same thing.”

“I’m…” Adora starts and then frowns down at herself, groaning out frustratedly at herself as she grabs Catra by the shoulders, “No more mixed signals.”

“What is that supposed to… mmphf!” Catra’s words are cut off by Adora’s lips pressed hurriedly into hers, the blonde’s eyes shut tight as holds her position, her lips not moving just… there. Catra’s eyes stares at the blonde, the look on Adora’s face, even with her eyes closed portray hope as the magicat rolls her eyes and finally kisses the blonde back, reveling in the soft gasp from Adora as she holds back a smile before pulling back, “You’re such an idiot.”

“I am.” Adora nods, her forehead still against Catra’s, “Stay? Please?”

Catra moves her arms around Adora waist, bringing the blonde closer to her as Adora rests her head in the crook of Catra’s neck and sighs, “Only if you kiss me again without your friends staring at us.”

Adora giggles out at that, nodding her head as she breathes out, “Come back to my bedroom?”

“Can I carry you?” Catra suggests with a tease.

The blonde rolls her eyes, but nods again, yelping out when the magicat lifts her up into a bridal carry, she shivers a little at the feeling of Catra’s hands on her bare skin, Adora pats Catra on the shoulder for the magicat to stop for a moment, “Hang on.”

Catra stops next to Glimmer and Bow, Adora still in her arms.

“Can we meet you guys later at brunch?” Adora asks, wrapping her arms securely around Catra’s neck.

"Uh, sure buddy…" Bow replies looking away from the amount of skin on display from the blonde, "We'll… uh, let ourselves out."

"You owe us an explanation at brunch." Glimmer firmly says to her friend, "And, yes, it was nice to meet you, Catra."

"We?" Catra turns to Adora.

"Yes, we." Adora confirms, ignoring her friends momentarily, grinning out her response, "You're coming to brunch with me and my friends."

"Yeah, Catra." Glimmer taunts, "Love Adora. Love us. Get used to it."

"Awe! Love! I love Love!" Bow coos out as he grabs Glimmer's hand, "See you guys later!"

Once the door shuts, Catra stares at the blonde in her arms, "Love?"

"Ignore them." Adora blushes, "They… they're just…" the blonde laughs awkwardly, "It's not… uh… far from the truth… I guess…?"

Catra's eyes widen at that thought, "It… it isn't?"

Adora shakes her head, the blush going down her face and her neck to her collarbones, "You're my spark."

"And you're my light." Catra says almost automatically and then readjusts Adora in her arms and declares, "I'm still going to take you back to bed."

"Onwards!" Adora points and then laughs as Catra speeds up to Adora's bedroom, dropping the blonde down unceremoniously on the bed, "Hey! Not cool, Cat!"

The magicat pounces on top of the blonde and grins, "So… where were we before we were rudely interrupted?"

“I don’t know what you’re talking about…” Adora gasps when Catra pins her arms over the top of her head, “What are you…? Catra… don’t… you… Ah!”

Catra tickles the blonde once more, one hand pinning the blonde’s hands down while the other one attacks Adora’s sides and stomach, “So… are you still… just my neighbour? Princess?”

“Oh my stars! Catra!” Adora gets out between breaths and laughter, “No! I’m… I’m… yours!”

Catra stops her tickling, the last word has her shocked, “You’re… mine?”

Catching her breath, Adora nods, a smile on her face, “Well… only if you’ll have me.”

“I’d love to… have you, princess.” Catra smiles down as she presses her lips onto Adora’s.

“So… what’s stopping you?” The blonde challenges, quirking an eyebrow up at the magicat.

“I need you to be sure, Adora.” Catra releases her hold on Adora, “I need to know that my spark is for your light.”

“It is.” Adora cups Catra’s face and then sighs, “And I’m going to prove it.”

“Yeah?”

“Yes.” Adora declares before she groans out, “Just… can we keep kissing?”

Catra grins, “Of course, we can.”

The blonde pulls Catra back down in for another kiss before sighing out, “Come with me to brunch.”

Catra rolls her eyes, “I already said I would.”

Adora smiles wider and brighter, bringing Catra in for more kisses until it's time for them to get ready to go to brunch.

"My friends approve by the way." Adora nudges Catra's shoulder as they stand side by side in the lift after coming back from brunch with Bow and Glimmer, "They really like you."

Catra hums out a response, taking Adora's hand in hers.

"So… what are you doing tonight?" Adora asks squeezing the magicat's hand, turning to look at Catra for a response.

"Having dinner with you, hopefully." Catra replies as the door opens to their floor.

A soft smile appears on Adora's face as the magicat leads them out and towards the blonde's door, "Do you want to come in?"

Catra shakes her head, "I think a little time apart will do us good before dinner tonight."

"Oh yeah?" Adora quirks an eyebrow up at the magicat, "But… what if I don't want to be apart from you?"

Catra steps forward, forcing Adora to move backwards until she's up against her door, a smirk firmly on her face as she presses her lips on the blonde's for a less than PG rated kiss. Adora moans out softly as she feels the magicat's hands run up and down her sides.

Pulling back from the kiss, Catra's smirk back on her lips as she sees the effect she has on Adora as the blonde remains dazed with her eyes closed from the kiss. The magicat leans in, nipping at Adora's ear lightly, "Patience makes the heart grow fonder, princess…"

"But I've waited so long already, Catra…" Adora pouts, her eyes still shut, "I've waited my whole life for my spark…"

Catra chuckles, kissing the pout off Adora's lips, turning it into a smile as the magicat presses a few extra kisses along the blonde's cheeks and neck, growling as she pulls away, "I'll come pick you up at 6pm."

"Uh… do I need to wear anything…?" Adora starts to asks feeling a little dazed still as Catra chuckles.

"It'd be nice if you could wear something…" Catra looks Adora up and down seductively before finishing her sentence, "… comfortable."

And with that, Catra leans back in for one more kiss before backing up to her own door, the blonde huffing out dissatisfied, "Don't be late."

"I wouldn't dream of it, princess." Catra purrs back, "I'll see you at 6."

Knock Knock

"Coming!" Adora calls out as she hastily makes her way to the door, still struggling to put her left sock on as she finally makes it to the handle, "Who is it?"

"Catra."

"Oh, hang on." Adora unlocks the door and swings it open, a smile on her lips as she greets the magicat, "Hey, Catra."

"Hey, Adora." Catra replies, crossing her arms and leaning against the door whilst checking Adora's outfit out, "You look… wow."

Adora rolls her eyes, "You don't look too bad yourself."

“I know.” Catra replies with a chuckle, smoothing down her maroon suit and then running a hand through her hair, “I love the dress, princess. Didn’t think you were a ‘dress’ kind of woman.”

“Sometimes I am.” Adora bites her bottom lip at the way Catra is openly ogling her and then clears her throat, “Dinner?”

“Definitely.” Catra agrees and holds her hand out, “You coming?”

“Yes.” Adora takes the magicat’s hand with a soft smile before remembering, “Oh, let me put on my shoes.”

“You’re not seriously wearing sneakers with a dress like that, are you?” Catra jests, “Don’t you have like… heels? Or… I dunno… sandals?”

“I have boots…? Will that work?” Adora throws out and then looks around trying to find said footwear, “I don’t own heels, the ones I’ve borrowed really hurt my feet. Never really liked them.”

“Neither.” Catra nods, “But then again, I don’t generally wear shoes unless I need to.”

Adora looks down and realizes tat Catra is indeed, not wearing shoes, the magicat wiggling her toes teasingly, “Oh, hey! Why does it matter if I wear sneakers or not?”

“It doesn’t.” Catra grins, “Thought it’d show off your legs better with heels or something.”

“Nope. Sneakers it is.” Adora declares defiantly, putting the sneakers on her feet, “Guess you’ll have to deal with my fashion choices if you really love me.”

“Love?” Catra’s eyebrows raise to the roof.

Adora eyes widen at the slip up, “Uh, I mean… like…?” the blonde starts to feel herself heat up as she tries to backtrack before realizing that she really doesn’t want to, “You know what… no, not like. Love. You're going to deal with my fashion choices if you love me."

Catra grins, a slight chuckle leaving her lips, "Yes. I guess I will." The magicat holds her hand out once more, "Now, come on. Shake a leg so we can get dinner."

"Okay." Adora grins back, she's not going to ask if that means Catra loves her or not, not just yet anyways, but maybe later if things go well at dinner, "Where are you taking me?"

Catra just smiles back as they head to the lifts.

"Uh… okay…" Adora says as she takes in the place Catra has brought her for dinner, "Isn't this… like… an all night diner?"

"Sure is." Catra replies tugging Adora forwards, "Best pancakes and waffles in town."

"So… you're taking me for breakfast for dinner?" Adora asks once they're inside, standing by the sign that says; Please wait to be seated.

"Nothing better than brenner." Catra shrugs as a waitress leads them to a booth, handing the pair a menu each and then heading off to grab some water for them while they peruse the menu.

"Do you come here often?" Adora asks looking over the top of the menu and noticing the magicat not even opening hers, "What are you going to get?"

"Waffles." Catra replies, "With a double side of bacon and maybe an egg, sunny side up. Oh, and ice cream on top."

"Ice cream with bacon and eggs?" Adora quirks an eyebrow up at the magicat.

Catra nods and importantly adds, "With waffles."

“Huh.” Adora nods, putting her own menu down, “Make that two then.”

“You look really… wow.” Catra compliments her blonde date as they sit back with their milkshakes once their plates have been cleared, “Like… really wow.”

Adora rolls her eyes at the magicat as she sips her drink, “Do you always dress up to come to this diner?”

“I have on occasion come her in casual wear.” Catra replies, “But in answer to your question, yes. I’m usually here after work finishes if I haven’t had dinner or lunch or breakfast…”

“That… that kind of makes sense, but also… why are you missing so many meals?” Adora nods in understanding at first before her question, “Do you have to wear a suit for work?”

“No.” Catra replies with a grin, “It’s kind of like a thing for me, you know?”

Adora shakes her head, “Not really…”

“Okay.” Catra leans forward, getting closer to the blonde sitting across from her, “When I was growing up, I wore second hand clothes or hand me downs all my life. And it was never the good hand me downs either. Usually stuff that was stained, had rips or holes in them and generally made me smell pretty bad.”

“Okay…” Adora nods, gesturing Catra to continue.

The magicat sits back, “So, call it vain or whatever… but when I had enough money, I went out and bought a suit. And instantly, I felt better. Like… I wasn’t going to get looked down on because my clothes were torn or dirty.”

“I’m happy it makes you feel better about yourself, Cat.” Adora says genuinely, “And you look really handsome in any suit.”

"Thanks." Catra blushes a little at the compliment and then continues, "Also, it helps dressing up better when doing job interviews. My first job was as a doorperson. Literally opening doors for the residents of an uptown apartment."

The magicat chuckles at the memory while Adora props her head on her hand as she leans on it over the table, "My first job was at a supermarket. Stock filler."

"Someone's got to do it." Catra shrugs with a smile.

"How'd you get from doorperson to… where you are now?" Adora asks curiously, "What is your job anyways?"

"I'm just a runner." Catra replies, adding to Adora's confusion, "I get called in to help out as an extra pair of hands."

"You make it sound like you're a grunt, which you clearly aren't." Adora points out.

"Well, I can be a grunt when they need me to." Catra replies nonchalantly, "I've been working at that venue for nearly a decade now and know the place inside and out. Scorp and Traps have offered to hire me full time, but, I don't really want to have that much structure to my life."

"So… you're… casual?" Adora concludes unsurely.

"I'm there whenever they need me." Catra replies with another shrug and then grins mischievously, "So… weird 'shifts' will be something you'll have to get used to… and deal with… if you love me."

Adora narrows her eyes at the magicat, throwing her own words back at her, "Or… maybe I can talk to your friends and make sure they don't take advantage of your so called… good nature to be on call whenever required."

Catra laughs, "You make it sound like they do it all the time."

“Don’t they though?” Adora asks with a raised eyebrow, “I mean, you got a call the other day and literally agreed to go in within a few hours.”

The magicat nods, “That’s… true.”

“Not to mention doing that really long shift the first night I met you.” Adora adds.

“I volunteered to do it.” Catra shrugs out the answer, “But they also closed up, so it wasn’t a super-dooper long shift.”

The joke falls flat as Adora stares at the magicat with concern on her face, “I care about you, Catra.”

Catra nods waiting to see where this is going.

“I care about your well being.” Adora breathes out, “And… I know we aren’t… well, we kind of are dating… uh like… right now and all…”

“Uh huh.”

“Well as your… future… uh…” Adora waves her hand around trying to find the word she’s looking for.

“Wife? Mate? Light of my life?” Catra provides with a teasing grin, “Girlfriend?”

Adora nods, a blush on her cheeks at hearing all the synonyms thrown out by the magicat, “All of the above.”

“Okay.” Catra sits back with the same grin, “As my future… everything…?”

The blush on Adora’s face deepens more as she takes a moment to sip her drink and regroup and then goes for a different tact, “As my future long term… spark, I think I have a duty to make sure that you are looked after.”

“In what ways exactly, princess?” Catra smirks, “Are we talking… physically as well?”

“Stars… of course you’d go there.” Adora scolds lightly, kicking at Catra’s shin with her sneaker.

“Or are we talking mentally?” Catra asks instead, rubbing her shin.

“Yes. Your mental well being is important to me too.” Adora declares, “As well as the physical stuff too… later on that is. Actually, your physical well being is also very important to me. What were you saying to Huntara about unloading an entire truck alone?”

Catra feigns ignorance, “I don’t know what you’re talking about… and it wasn’t a whole truck.”

“Catra.” Adora sternly says and the magicat throws her head back exasperatedly, “You have to look after yourself too. And if that means I have to put my foot down… well, so be it.”

“You’d do that for me?” Catra asks as she flops her head back and see Adora nod her head sincerely, “Why?”

“Because… maybe I want to be selfish with you.” Adora admits, “Even if you don’t work ‘normal’ hours, you shouldn’t be burning yourself out at both ends of the candle. Physically or mentally.”

“Well… you could burn me out.” Catra jests, the blonde rolling her eyes once more with a smile, “But, okay. I’ll… I’ll reel it back a little. Okay?”

“Yeah?”

“Yeah.” Catra agrees, “Guess I’m going to have to start saying no, more often.”

“You could just have a chat to them. Set some time aside for yourself.” Adora suggests.

Catra gets up from her seat, much to the surprise of Adora and pulls out the chair next to her and sits down, pressing a kiss onto the blonde's cheek, "I knew you were trouble, princess." The ensuing laugh has the blonde relaxing next to the magicat as Catra wraps an arm around Adora, "I'm glad I met you, Adora."

"I'm glad I met you too." Adora smiles back.

"I'm going to have a chat to Scorp and Traps Monday." Catra says pulling out her phone and tapping it a few times before pocketing it once more, "They'll just have to deal with me not being there all the time."

And just before Adora can say anything, Catra's phone rings.

The blonde looks at the magicat when the ringing continues in her pocket, "Well? Are you going to answer that?"

"Nah, I'm on a date with a very beautiful woman right now." Catra reaches into her pocket and silences the device, "That can wait until…" Catra's phone rings again, the magicat sighing, pulling her phone from her pocket and seeing Scorpia's name pop up on the ID, "It's Scorp."

"Answer it." Adora says, "It might be important."

The magicat groans as she answers the phone, "Scorp. I'm on a date, you know…"

The resulting squeal in the background has Catra covering the speaker part of the phone, until she hears Scorpia say, "Oh, I bet she's on a date with Adora!"

Adora giggles as Catra puts the phone on speaker, looking around the fairly empty diner to make sure no one cares, "You're on speaker." The magicat tells her friend just in case she plans on saying anything embarrassing, "Why are you calling me on my date?"

"Oh! I've got Perfuma here with me too!" Scorpia beams.

“Hi Catra!” Perfuma greets with almost the same energy as Scorpia, “How’s the date going?”

“Better than fine.” Adora corrects and Catra just stares at the blonde a little stunned.

The magicat clears her throat, “Again, why are you calling me?”

“You texted me first, Wildcat.” Scorpia points out, “And you know how hard it is for me to text.”

“Yes. Yes, I do know.” Catra agrees.

“Anyways.” Scorpia gets back on track, “We’re happy that you’re going to take care of yourself more. I always feel so bad calling you for some of those shifts.”

“No. We need to use the staff we already have on hand.” Scorpia declares and then adds a little gruffly, “Even Huntara from time to time…”

“Oh, sweetie!” Perfuma says with such affection, “Are you sure?”

“Yes.” Scorpia breathes out, “I don’t know what it is about her that just…”

“We don’t need to call her if you aren’t comfortable with her.” Perfuma offers, “We can always hire more staff.”

“Or use Emily.” Catra provides happily knowing the resulting twitch she can definitely sense happening with Perfuma’s right eye, “Traps would love to… test her.”

“No. Absolutely not.” Perfuma shuts down that idea.

The magicat laughs out, “Okay, no Emily then.”

“I’m okay with Huntara.” Scopria declares, “Just as long as she doesn’t do that… weird flexing thing she always does when you’re around.”

“She doesn’t…” Perfuma starts.

Only for both Catra and Scorpia to simultaneously say, “She does.”

“Okay. Fine.” Perfuma gives in, “I’ll have a word to her about it.”

“Thank you.” Scorpia says and there the sound of a kiss, “Okay, Wildcat. That’s all. Enjoy your date! It was nice to talk to you too, Adora!”

“You too!” Adora replies with a smile.

“See ya, losers.” Catra says in lieu of a goodbye, “I’ll be in at 4pm on Monday.”

“Bye Catra!” Perfuma laughs, “We’ll see you Monday to chat more about shifts and so forth… not that you really need to do any shifts… just let us know when you want to work!”

“Sure.” Catra laughs as well, “Monday it is.”

“Bye!”

Catra turns back to Adora, “So…” a smirk comes across the magicat’s face, “Wanna go back to my place and see how… casual I can get?”

“Yes.” Adora replies happily, even pulling Catra up and to the register to pay.

Chapter End Notes

I've added a few more chapters... because yeah, this one is fun to write.
I guess my predictive chapter outlook at the start is just...

terrible.
And I end up writing more... oh well, your gain I guess... 🙃

“I’m so tired…” Catra grumbles as she pulls Adora closer into her chest from behind, “Why did we do that last night…?”

Adora giggles as she turns over in Catra’s arms, pressing a soft kiss on the magicat’s nose, “It was totally your idea, or don’t you remember?”

“Mm… I do remember.” Catra smiles as she leans in for a kiss on Adora’s lips, “Why did you even agree to that?”

Adora shrugs with a content smile on her lips and nestles herself under Catra’s chin and sighs, “I’ve been waiting so long to do that…”

“Me too.” Catra admits with a grin, “At least it wasn’t a cliffhanger, right?”

“Yeah. I hate when it’s a cliffhanger.” Adora nods with a giggle and then yawns, breathing out into Catra’s baggy shirt before wrapping her arms around the magicat, “I can’t believe we didn’t have sex.”

“Did you want to have sex?” Catra asks in amusement, breathing in Adora’s hair, ‘Because... we still have plenty of time for that…”

“No. Not feeling it.” Adora admits, “Is that bad?”

“No.” Catra laughs, “Definitely not bad.”

“Do you feel like it?” Adora looks up from her comfy spot in Catra’s chest, “Do you want to… have sex… with me?”

“Yes. Definitely.” Catra replies with a grin and then another yawn, “But I think that if we start right now, I might literally drown in between your legs, princess. Not that it would be a bad way to die...”

“Stars…” Adora laughs, “Please don’t die. And definitely don’t die… there. It’d be really embarrassing to explain to the medics when they arrive to resuscitate you…”

“It’s totally the dream though.” Catra replies with a laugh of her own and she sighs out, “What idiot wouldn’t want to drown and die between their lover’s legs? Especially if that lover happens to be a princess like yourself.”

“Stars…” Adora repeats and then realizes something, “Did you just call yourself an idiot?”

“Did I?” Catra feigns innocence.

“You did.” Adora smirks before laughing out and pulling Catra in for a kiss, “You’re an idiot.”

“So are you.” Catra says.

“For you? I totally am.” Adora presses her lips against Catra’s once more, “What time is it?”

“What time do you have to go?” Catra asks instead.

“I think I’m just going to call in sick today.” Adora declares and Catra chuckles, the blonde shrugs, “I barely take days off from work as it is. I’ll just call it a… mental health day.”

“Don’t you need a medical certificate in that case?” Catra asks as she rubs her thumb along Adora’s cheek, “It is a Monday, after all…”

“Nah, it should be fine.” Adora brushes Catra’s concerns off, “I won’t even call it a sick day. It’ll be a day they actually owe me that I’ve never taken.”

“OT?”

“Yeah, unpaid OT.” Adora corrects, “I don’t mind doing extra hours and they’ve been quite adamant that I take a day or a week off whenever.”

“Whenever? Really? Without notice?” Catra asks unbelievingly, “But then again… I guess I’m in the same boat.”

“Hm.” Adora hums as she buries herself back in Catra’s arms, “Well… what did you think?”

“Of?”

“Reacher. Season 3?” Adora asks huffing out a laugh.

“It was alright.” Catra replies into Adora’s hair, “Glad it was only 8 episodes and not more.”

“Mm.” Adora agrees with a slight nod into Catra’s chest, “I don’t think I could have stayed up if there was more than 8.”

“Me too.” Catra yawns, “So…”

“Hm?”

“So… if you’re not going to work today… what are you going to do then?” Catra asks.

“Stay here. With you. And sleep.” Adora answers in slow and sleepy breaths until her body gets heavy in Catra’s arms.

“Stay. With me. Sleep, princess.” Catra whispers back into Adora’s hair.

“Adora…” Catra whispers into Adora’s hair, “Adora?”

“Hm?” the blonde arouses tiredly.

“My arm is going numb.” Catra says with a chuckle.

“Oh, shit. Sorry.” Adora quickly gets off the magicat’s arm, sitting up and rubbing her eyes before realizing something, “Oh crap!”

Catra sits up just as suddenly as Adora bounds out of bed and searches for her phone, “What’s wrong?”

“I forgot to tell work I wasn’t coming in!” Adora quickly finds her phone and unlocks it before she starts to scroll through all the messages, she bites her bottom lip anxiously before sheepishly telling the magicat, “Um, I’m just going to make a quick call…”

“Go for it.” Catra flops back down on the bed, open and closing her fist on her numb limb to get feeling back into it.

Adora heads out of Catra’s bedroom, taps on her phone a few times and then brings it up to her ear. Catra gives the blonde some privacy and lays back down, covering her ears with her pillow.

“So? Did you get in trouble with your boss?” Catra asks as she swings her legs to the side of the bed when Adora reappears, “Do you still have a job?”

“Yes.” Adora smiles as she sits back down on the bed next to Catra and sighs, “They thought something was wrong and started calling up all my friends. I got a heap of missed calls and messages…” the blonde admits, biting her bottom lip in guilt.

“Geez, you really don’t take random days off, do you, princess?” Catra turns her head seemingly amused, “And I thought I was bad.”

“You are bad.” Adora replies and rolls her eyes dramatically before she leans her head on Catra’s shoulder and sighs again and then she breathes out, “They were really worried about me.”

“As would I if you suddenly went radio silent.” Catra says as she leans her cheek on the top of Adora’s head, “So… now that everyone knows that you aren’t dead, injured or kidnapped, what do you want to do today?”

Adora tilts her head up and smiles, “Would you really be worried about me, Cat?”

“Well, not right now because you’re right here.” The magicat rolls her eyes with a chuckle, “But, yeah. I would be worried if I couldn’t find you.”

The blonde slumps down, her head heavier on the magicat’s shoulder, “Ugh, now I feel even more guilty for not being reachable.”

“I’m sure they’ll understand.” Catra reassures, rubbing her cheek against the blonde’s hair.

“Yeah, everyone seems more relieved than angry.” Adora says feeling somewhat dismayed by that reaction, “I thought they’d be more… upset with me.”

“Which is why it’s way worse and they should totally be angry with me!” Adora whines.

“You’re such an idiot, Adora.” Catra shakes her head, “Quit being so hard on yourself. You’ve got a lot of good people around you that care about you and seem to really know you. So, when you act out of ordinary, I get why they were worried.” The magicat wraps an arm around the blonde and smiles to herself, “Have they made you promise to check in like every thirty minutes or something?”

Adora furrows her brows and looks at the magicat, “No.” she groans out, “Not… not every half hour...”

“Every Hour?”

“Shut up.” Adora pouts out, “Just if I plan to stay the night with you or vice versa…”

“Me, huh?” Catra quirk an eyebrow up at the blonde, “Are you implying this is my fault?”

“Yes. This is totally your fault. You’re a bad influence on me.” Adora replies with a playful smile.

“Stars…” Catra smiles, “And we haven’t even fucked yet.”

Adora laughs out, “Well…” the blonde stands up, “Let me brush my teeth first.”

“Wait, really?” Catra looks up at Adora in question.

“Maybe.” Adora leans down and presses a kiss on Catra’s lips, “I’ll be back.”

“Where are you going, princess?” Catra gets up quickly, wrapping her arms around Adora from behind and throwing them both back on the bed.

Adora yelps out as they both break out in laughter, “Catra!”

“Where. Are. You. Going?” Catra wraps herself around the blonde tighter, laughing, “I’ve got a spare toothbrush here with your name on it, princess.”

“You do?”

“Yes.” Catra replies with an eye roll.

“Oh.”

“Oh?”

Adora turns her head back so she can look at Catra, a smirk on her face, “You totally love me.”

“Totally.” Catra replies so quickly it’s almost reactively before shrugging to herself, “Yeah. Totally.”

Adora’s eyes widen at the admission, “Totally? Like… for real?”

“Sure. Why not?” Catra shrugs again.

“Oh, for fuck’s sakes…” Catra throws her head back dramatically before pressing her lips on Adora’s, “Fine. Yes. I do.”

“You do?”

“Yeah. I do.” Catra repeats.

“Okay, now it sounds like you’re marrying me. Again.” Adora laughs out.

“Well, if things go well, hopefully.” Catra replies with a lopsided grin, “I wouldn’t be opposed to calling you… my wife.”

Adora stops laughing, “Wait… you’re being serious?”

“I am, yeah, sure. Why not?” Catra says again and Adora groans out, “What?”

The blonde shuffles a little bit more Catra’s arms, enough that she’s turned enough to comfortably look at the magicat and repeats, “Are you being serious?”

“Yes.” Catra replies without missing a beat, “Why?”

Adora leans in and captures Catra’s lips in a long and slow kiss, smiling into it, “Then I look forward to doing more… with you.”

Catra tilts her head in confusion, “You’re not talking about sex, are you?”

Adora just smirks without answering, instead pressing lips back on Catra's again, "Okay, I'm going to go brush my teeth. I kind of want to kiss you more but I'm feeling a little self conscious… morning breath and all…"

"I'm not complaining." Catra replies with a soft smile as the blonde pouts playfully into the kiss, the magicat finally releasing her hold on Adora, "Alright. Pull my arm. Come on, I'll show you to your toothbrush."

Adora giggles, "Why, thank you."

"I've also got an assortment of toothpastes too." Catra says as she pulls the blonde up, "Your teeth are different from mine, so I've got you the type they show on tv."

"You really did think of everything, didn't you?" Adora grins out, "When did you even have the time to do this?"

"I think I'll keep my secrets, thank you very much." Catra replies cockily as she goes into the bathroom and retrieves the items, "Here, take your pick. I'm going to get us something to eat."

"Thank you." Adora kisses the magicat's cheek, "Once I've brushed my teeth, I'm going to give you such a kissing!"

"Can't wait, looking forward to it." Catra grins back, "Though… maybe let me brush mine as well first?"

"Sure." Adora nods, she raises her chosen toothbrush and toothpaste before realizing something, "Oh… I don't have anything for you when you come over."

"We literally live across the hall from each other, princess." Catra laughs, "It's really not a problem, Adora."

"I know that. But still." Adora bites her bottom lip in guilt, "I'll get you something too."

“No need. I’ll just bring over my spares. Okay?” Adora nods guiltily, “Besides finding magicat specific stuff is hard not to mention not the cheapest. If you don’t know where to go, you’re going to get ripped off. And I’m not letting that happen to you. It kind of sucked growing up and not knowing what I really needed, meant I had all types of problems ranging from teeth problems to itchy fur. But, I know better now and donate stuff to less fortunate magicats that can’t afford them.”

“You do?”

“Well, Entrapta makes sure a portion of my money goes to the ‘Needy magicat fund.’” Catra replies, “I wouldn’t even know where to start. And she invites herself over on the fifteenth every three months to go through my stuff… keeps me from hoarding, I guess.”

“That’s really cool.” Adora says, “Not the… uninvited bit, but yeah, the whole helping other people is really…” the blonde quirks and eyebrow trying to look lustful as she finishes her sentence, “… sexy.”

“That…” Catra pulls Adora up and into her chest, raising an eyebrow at the blonde as she continues, “…was really…” the magicat sniffs the blonde’s neck, pressing her lips softly on the same spot as she says, “Unsexy.”

“Hey!” Adora shoves Catra back with a laugh, “I am sexy.”

“Definitely.” Catra looks the blonde up and down, “Now go brush your teeth while I get us breakfast sorted.”

“Adora! Breakfast!” Catra calls out once she’s finished plating up some eggs and toast, the magicat peers around the corner to where the bathroom is to find the door wide open and no Adora in there. The magicat leaves the plates on the table in the kitchen as she goes to investigate, pushing open her closed bedroom door, “Adora…. Ah… woah…”

“Hey, Catra.” Adora grins at the magicat as she stands in front of the magicat’s bed, wearing only the magicat’s oversized tshirt, the collar falling completely off her shoulder as she walks, no sways her hips sexily towards the magicat, stopping just in front of Catra and placing her hands on the magicat’s hips, “I couldn’t find… my pants…”

The breathiness in Adora’s voice has the magicat grinning from ear to ear, “Fuck… I hope you never find them in here ever again…”

The blonde giggles at that, “Maybe I should borrow yours?”

“Stars no.” Catra replies pulling Adora’s up and over her shoulders before wrapping her own around the blonde’s waist, resting her forehead against Adora’s, “I think I’m going to have to hide all my pants from you… you know… just in case…”

Adora leans in and presses a soft kiss on Catra’s lips, “Did you want to brush your teeth first?”

“Did you want to eat first?” Catra returns with her eyes still closed from the kiss.

The blonde grins, leaning up to whisper into Catra’s furry ear, “You can go first. I’d love to know what you think of how I taste…”

A shiver runs up and down Catra’s spine upon hearing that, “Fuck… that is fucking hot, princess…”

“Mm…” Adora leans in against and kisses the magicat again, “Go brush your teeth. I’m going to get myself a little more… comfortable…”

“I really hope that means naked.” Catra replies hopefully, “Mm… I better go… brush my teeth…”

“Go on then. I’ll be right here… waiting for you.” Adora whispers, “Let’s see how many sparks you have in you…”

“Don’t worry, princess.” Catra grins, “I’m going to light you up… hard.”

Adora bites her bottom lip, holding back a moan as her eyes go darker, “Fuck… hurry up and brush your teeth already…”

Catra laughs, “Okay. I’ll be right back…” the magicat reluctantly releases her hold on the blonde before remembering once more, “Actually… there’s breakfast on the table if you’re hungry. It’s… it’s uh, getting cold.”

And as if on cue, Adora’s stomach growls out and the pair break out in a laugh, “Okay, maybe I am hungry after all.”

“Sounds like it.” Catra smiles, moving to hand to grab Adora’s, “Breakfast first. You second.”

“Oh, I need to go back to my apartment really quick.” Adora says as she finishes the last of her toast, “My phone is dying.”

“Need a charger?” Catra asks as she picks up both empty plates and goes to the sink to clean them, “You can borrow mine if you want. It’s next to the couch. Or there’s a wireless one in the bedroom.”

“I’ll use your wireless charger then. Also… I kind of want to get a change or clothes… or two.” Adora says.

“Ah, there it is…” Catra nods to herself with a chuckle, “That’s the real reason.”

“Or… you can come to my place for… you know…” Adora replies moving to stand next to the magicat at the sink to help.

“Would it make you more comfortable at your place?” Catra asks, “The sex, I mean.”

"Well… I haven't actually had sex in there." Adora admits, not that it's all that surprising to the magicat, "But I'd like to have at least a change of underwear and socks if we plan to do it here."

"The sex?"

Rolling her eyes, Adora confirms, "Yes. The sex."

Catra grins at hearing the blonde say the word, sex, "Well, do you want me to accompany you back to your place? I hear I'm pretty good company…"

"Yes. You totally are good company, especially when there's thunder and lightning." Adora smiles, "I've just got to find my keys first…"

Catra looks the blonde up and down, she's still just dressed in the magicat's baggy shirt and… not much else, "Are you planning on putting on pants? Do you need pants? Or shorts? A towel perhaps?"

Adora looks down at herself and realizes that she's still in not much, a giggle comes out as she smirks at the magicat, "I don't know… I guess it depends if I'm wearing anything else under this shirt or not…"

Catra stares at the oversized shirt like she's willing xray vision to grace her eyes, but alas no, instead she finds herself reaching out to touch the Adora's shirt, only for her hand to be slapped away, "Ow…"

"No peeking." Adora scolds lightly, "And yes, I am going to put something on. I'm not flashing the rest of this floor by accident."

"Oh… flashing, huh?" Catra quirks an eyebrow as she finishes washing up the last plate and puts it on the drying rack and then wipes her hands, "So, what's the plan, princess? My place or yours?"

The blonde smiles at the magicat, "I think… I want to come back here."

"Oh yeah?"

"Yes." Adora leans in and presses a kiss on the magicat's lips, "In case it's really bad and I have to run away and hide back in my apartment."

Catra just stares at the blonde, not really sure what to say, "Uh…"

The blonde leans back in for another kiss to elaborate, "I don't mean that you'd be bad… I meant… like me…"

"Why would you be bad?" Catra tilts her head and then thinks for a moment, "Has it not been good for you in the past or something?

"Just…" Adora slumps down, her head resting on Catra's shoulder, "I just… I don't have a lot of… experience…"

"Oh." Catra softly says, "So?"

"So?" Adora brings her head back up and off Catra's shoulder and looks into the magicat's eyes, "So… what if like… it's bad. Or I'm not good… or…"

"Adora." Catra stops the blonde's ramblings, "Look, we don't have to have sex if you're not ready to."

The blonde bites her bottom lip, looking at Catra sheepishly, "But… but you want to."

"It doesn't matter what I want, princess." Catra lifts the blonde's chin up with two fingers so they can see eye to eye, "It's what we want. This isn't a one way street. If you don't want to do something, then we won't do it."

"But… it's not fair on you." Adora whines out, shaking her head.

“You don’t owe me anything, princess.” Catra simply says, “If you want to just cuddle or just sleepover, that’s fine too. And if you want more… well, I won’t say no.”

Adora wraps her arms over Catra’s shoulders, resting her forehead on the magicat’s, “You really are my spark, aren’t you?”

Catra just smiles back as Adora leans in for another kiss, this one slower, pulling the magicat in as close as possible. The magicat lets herself be pulled in by Adora, her hands on the blonde’s waist as she moves down to the hem of the oversized shirt, playing with the hem, “So… what do you want, Adora?”

Without any hesitation, Adora replies simply, “You.”

Adora kisses Catra fervently, walking the magicat back into the bedroom until the magicat's knees hit the bed and she collapses back, the blonde in her arms as they continue to kiss. Catra's hands moving all around Adora's body, touching as much as she can over the oversized shirt, never dipping further than that much to the blonde's annoyance. Catra definitely is aware of what she's doing to Adora, grinning at the noises of frustration above her.

"What's wrong, princess?" Catra rasps out into Adora's ear as she moves her leg between the blonde's legs, eliciting the sound she's after when Adora's breath hitches and she rolls her hips down onto it, "Stay."

Adora breathes out into the kiss, a smile on her lips as she relaxes fully on top of Catra, wrapping her arms around the magicat and nuzzling into Catra's neck, "Always."

"Yeah?" Catra gently lifts Adora's head so she can see her face, "For real?"

"Yes." Adora smiles looking down at Catra's lips, quickly leaning in and capturing them in a soft kiss, "For real."

Catra grins wider as she pulls Adora back in for more kisses and then remembers something, "Wait…"

"What's wrong?" Adora pushes herself up with a worried look on her face, "Did I do something wrong?"

"Stars, no." Catra cups Adora's cheek with a soft smile on her face.

"Then…?"

“I haven’t brushed my teeth yet.” Catra says flatly and she watches as Adora’s face goes from worried to one of surprise mixed in with a roll of her eyes, the magicat can’t stop the cackle that comes out as Adora shoves her face into the pillow.

“Oh, you’re such an…” Adora starts to stay.

“Spark.” Catra finishes off Adora’s sentence with another grin.

“Yes. That.” Adora laughs, “I’m sorry, did you want to go brush your teeth first?”

Catra licks at her teeth, thinking for a moment before the blonde takes the option out of her hands by pulling the magicat up and back onto her feet, “Hey! I was still thinking!”

“Just go brush your teeth, Catra.” Adora says exasperatedly, “I’m just going to quickly go back to my place to grab a few things.”

“Or?”

“Or… we could start here.” Catra gestures around her room, Adora nods unsurely, “And then… finish over at your place…”

“Stars no.” Adora laughs as she pulls Catra into her for a hug, “I expect you to leave me boneless when we are done.”

“What are you doing?” Adora asks she steps back and watches the magicat continue her movements.

“Limbering up.” Catra replies with a wink, “If I’m going to leave you boneless, I’m going to need to warm up.”

“Uh huh.” Adora says with a raised eyebrow.

“It’s going to be a lot of trial and error, princess.” Catra declares, “And I am more than looking forward to figuring out how to make you feel… boneless.”

“I look forward to conquering you, Adora.” Catra simply says and leans in for another kiss, “Okay, I’m going to go brush my teeth.”

“I’ll be right back.” Adora says with her eyes still closed after the kiss.

“Don’t take too long.” Catra replies as she watches Adora bend over in front of her to pick up her pants and slip them on, the blonde smirking back at the magicat knowing that she was watching when she bent over.

Catra opens her front door, leaning on the door frame as she smiles at the view of Adora standing in front of her, still dressed in the oversized shirt and carrying a duffel bag of her things, “Hey, Adora.”

“Hey, Catra.”

“Come on in.” Catra steps aside and watches as the blonde walks inside, the magicat shutting the door and leans against it as she continues to eye Adora moving about her place, the same smile on her face.

Adora catches the look on Catra’s face as she drops her bag onto the couch, “Why are you looking at me like that?”

“Like what?” Catra asks back unmoving from leaning against her front door.

Catra tilts her head at the blonde before she answers, “I was just thinking…” the magicat starts and then turns her head away somewhat embarrassedly, “nothing.”

Adora purses her lips and walks over to the magicat, “It didn’t look like nothing.”

“It’s silly. Stupid really.” Catra says rubbing the back of her neck, “Just forget I said anything. It’s stupid.”

“What is?”

“I was just thinking about… how much light you’ve brought into my life.” Catra says timidly, “And… now I feel like a sap.”

“Nothing wrong with that.” Adora pulls Catra into her arms and presses her lips onto the magicat’s and kisses her intensely, “I am your light after all. I’d be failing if I didn’t brighten up your life, wouldn’t I?”

The comment has Catra’s ears perking up, her face lighting up as she looks into Adora’s eyes, “Well, I guess sparks do that, huh?”

“No. Not just any spark, Catra.” Adora says and then leans her forehead on Catra’s, “The right spark. And you are the right spark. The only spark for me.”

Just as Adora finishes talking, Catra moves her hands down Adora’s body until she picks up the blonde just under her thighs, making Adora yelp a little, the blonde wrapping her arms around Catra’s neck as the magicat smirks up, “Warn a girl before you do that.”

“What do you mean?” Adora asks as Catra stops in the middle of her apartment and quirks an eyebrow up at the blonde.

“Are you a bed kind of girl or a couch kind of girl?” Catra asks with that same smirk on her face, “Or maybe it’s the floor or the counter…”

“Catra!” Adora laughs out at those options, “What kind of girl do you think I am?”

“Floor it is.” Catra declares quickly and Adora shrieks and grips Catra tighter as the magicat leans forward a little, the magicat stops, “No? Not the floor?”

“Please no. Definitely not a floor girl…” Adora replies, “Bed?”

“Bed?” Catra repeats bringing them both back upright.

“Yes. Bed.” Adora repeats with a slight blush on her face, “I don’t want our first time on your floor…”

“It’d be a great story to tell though.” Catra jests as Adora just looks at her unimpressed, “Or not.”

“Or we could just not mention the first time… at all. To anyone. At all…” Adora says instead and squeezes her thighs around Catra’s waist, “Now… are we going to bed or what?”

“Whatever you want, Adora.” Catra grins and starts to make her way to her bedroom, “To the bedroom then, shall we?”

Adora smiles, leaning in and pressing her lips on Catra’s, giggling when the magicat mutters something, “What? Did you say something?”

The question is teasing as Catra growls lowly out, readjusting the blonde in her arms roughly as Adora yelps once more indignantly, “I’m going to drop you if you distract me, princess.”

“I’m not doing anything.” Adora teases once more, “Unless you don’t like me kissing you…”

“You know that’s not what I’m…” Catra begins and then faux glares at the blonde in her arms, “I’m taking you to my bed now.”

“Do it.” Adora challenges with a glint in her eye.

“I am.” Catra replies, “You’re distracting me.”

“Do you want me to… stop distracting you?” Adora asks with a little playful pout, “If you want… I could… just go home… take care of myself…”

“No.” Catra quickly says, “Stay.”

“Take me to bed, Catra.” Adora orders a little more possessively this time as she leans in for another kiss, stopping just shy of the magicat’s lips, “Light my fire, Spark.”

Catra growls and makes her way to the bedroom, stopping just short of her bed, “Adora?”

“Yeah?”

“I want to say this before I get too caught up in pheromones and lust and…” Catra starts to ramble while Adora looks at her quizzically, “Anyway, what I’m trying to say is…”

“I love you too.” Adora simply says, stunning the magicat silent. The look on the blonde’s face is nothing but bright, “I love you, my spark. My neighbour, my… Catra.”

Words cannot express the feelings in Catra’s chest as she surges forward and kisses Adora with as much passion as she can muster, “This is fucking crazy… I love you too.”

Adora’s eyes shine even brighter than Catra thought was possible, the blonde leans her forehead against Catra’s and breathes out, “I know.”

The magicat nods, “Well…we’re in my bedroom…”

“Good.” Adora smiles and looks down at the bed, “Now I’m really looking forward to having you conquer me.”

“You got it, princess.” Catra grins and captures Adora’s lips again in another scintillating kiss.

Catra gently lays Adora down on her bed, climbing on top and pressing her lips to Adora’s as they kiss slow, taking their time exploring each other. The blonde’s arms wrap around Catra’s back, pulling them so close it feels like they could merge into one. Catra grins into the kiss, a mixture of relief and elation flows through her veins, completely enamored in Adora’s kisses and the smell and sounds of what may come next.

“Mmm…” Adora moans out as Catra’s kisses move from her lips to her jaw and then her neck and she can’t but whimper out the magicat’s name breathlessly, “Catra….”

“Hm?” Catra continues her exploration of the blonde’s neck with kisses, licks and nips, “Is this okay?”

“Mmphf…” The blonde’s hands try to get purchase on Catra’s back as her hips move on their own, trying to get some kind of friction to where she needs it, “Mm… yes… more than okay… keep going…”

“You smell so good, Adora…” Catra whispers into Adora’s ear, licking her earlobe for good measure, “So good to eat…”

“Then…mm…. what are you w-waiting for?” Adora whimpers again when she hears Catra say that and she tries to say confidently but ends up suppressing a moan as she bites down on her bottom lip, her hands fisting into the back of Catra’s shirt, “Ah… oh… mm… fuck…”

Catra chuckles into the blonde’s skin, “We’re getting to that…”

Adora's eyes open and stare into Catra's, the magicat smiles back fondly, "We're still fully…" she looks down between the pair and says, "Clothed."

"Do you want to change that?" Catra asks licking up from Adora's collarbone to her ear, a chuckle on the end of the question as she nips on the blonde's ear slightly making Adora gasp.

Adora nods shyly, "Can you… mmm… can you turn the light off though?"

"Sure thing, princess." Catra leans in and presses a chaste kiss on Adora's lips and then laughs when she can't move, "Adora?"

"Hm?" the blonde looks up confused as to why Catra is still on top of her.

"You kind of need to unwrap yourself for me to do that." Catra says with a wide grin as Adora looks down between them again and realizes her arms and legs have completely engulfed the magicat, "Unless you want to make this a team thing and we turn the light off together."

"Oh." Adora unwraps herself from the magicat, not realizing she'd done it in the first place, "Uh, we can do it together if you want…"

Catra laughs again, pushing Adora further into the bed with another kiss before getting off just as quickly and making her way over to the light switch on the wall, "I think I can handle the light myself."

"Of course you can. I never doubted you about that." Adora smiles as the magicat turns off the light, "Come back to bed?"

"On my way." Catra replies and makes her way back to Adora.

"Hang on!" Adora sits up squinting at the magicat in the relative darkness of the bedroom, Catra stops where she stands and stares back questioning as Adora bites her bottom lip, "Can I…"

“Can you… what?” Catra asks with a tilt of her head when Adora doesn’t finish her sentence.

“Can I undress you?” Adora asks with a hopeful lilt in her voice as she watches and waits in anticipation for Catra’s answer.

After a few moments of silence pass, Catra finally answers with a grin in her voice as she says, “Only if I get to do the same to you…” And before Adora can quickly agree, the magicat adds, “With my teeth.”

“Wa-what?” Adora says surprised and somewhat turned on, “You’re… teeth?”

“You heard me, princess.” Catra gets back onto the bed, climbing back on top of the blonde and caging her under her arms, “You can undress me if I can do the same to you, using my teeth.”

Adora thinks about it and then smiles up, “You think you can undress me using only your teeth?”

“I can try.” Catra leans down and presses her lips against Adora’s in a soft kiss and says, “It’d be a fun challenge.”

“Uh huh.” Adora hums out and reaches down for the hem of Catra’s sleep shirt, toying with it in her fingers, “What do I get if you lose?”

“Oh, princess…” Catra looks down at where Adora’s hands are at and grins, “There aren’t going to be any losers in this bed. I plan to win and even if I don’t succeed with my plan… getting you naked is still a win to me.”

Catra laughs out, “Someone’s excited.”

“Take this off already.” The blonde whines out as she tries to pull Catra’s shirt up and off, “I want to feel you.”

“You are feeling me.” Catra points out with another chuckle and then moves enough so Adora can pull her shirt off, the magicat leans down and kisses the blonde once more and whispers into Adora’s ear, “My turn to light you up…”

Chapter End Notes

Well... suffice to say the last chapter is basically sex.
So... up to you guys if you want to hang out for that part or not.
Mm... better get my brain into that mode then, huh?

Thanks for reading, commenting, kudos, bookmarking and subscribing.

Also, sorry for leaving those of you hanging for this last chapter... but, you know my style after all... 😳

Adora pulls Catra all the way back down and buries her neck in the magicat's while she enjoys the Catra's bodyweight resting on top of her, the blonde sighs happily, her fingers petting through the magicat's fur as she nuzzles her cheek into the fine fur of Catra's neck.

"Are you okay there, Adora?" Catra asks, her words muffled into the blonde's neck as she takes a deep breath in and savors the scent there.

Adora nods, "Yeah. I just…"

"Just what?" Catra asks as she pushes herself up enough to look Adora in the eyes.

The blonde bites her bottom lip and then smiles brightly, "I just can't believe we're here right now."

"Oh." Catra tilts her head, "Would you prefer to go to your room instead?"

"No." Adora rolls her eyes, "Stop being an ass."

"Can't help it." Catra grins and then looks down at herself, "I think it's my turn to take an item of clothing off you… but… where to start?"

"Where do you want to start?" Adora asks biting her bottom lip again in anticipation.

Catra pretends to think, “I think we should make this even.” The magicat smirks, “Your shirt is coming off now.”

“Oh, is it now?” Adora quirks an eyebrow up at the magicat, “How are you doing to do that with your teeth exactly?”

“With great difficulties.” Catra replies with a chuckle, “Fuck using my teeth. I’m going to use my hands.”

Adora laughs, “What happened to using your teeth, big shot?”

“Takes too long. And I’m in a hurry.” Catra replies as she reaches for the bottom of Adora’s shirt, but since the blonde is laying down flat, she can’t tug it up or take it off, “Uh, a little help here, princess?”

Still laughing, Adora sits up and pulls the oversized tshirt up and off, revealing her bare chest, she sees Catra’s pupils dilate and any nervousness disappears as she finds herself feeling more confident, “See something you like?” Catra nods fervently, “So… what are you doing to do about it?”

Catra growls playfully and then pushes Adora back onto the bed, pressing her lips in an intense and heated kiss, relishing in the gasp from the blonde when her hands move to Adora’s breasts, cupping them and them letting her fingers gently run over those pert nipples.

“Mm…” Adora bucks her hips up, “Fuck…”

“I haven’t even done anything yet, princess.” Catra teases as she replaces one hand with her mouth, taking in Adora’s nipple and then sucking and licking it while the blonde pushes her chest up higher, trying to get more from the magicat. Catra pulls up slightly, slowing down considerably as she stares up at Adora while she lavishes the blonde’s nipple with her tongue, grinning up happily as she does so.

“Feels… feels good.” Adora breathes out as she relaxes herself back on the bed, the magicat switches to give her attention to the

"Like it?" Catra muffles out.

Adora nods rapidly, "I… I love it."

"Just wait until I fuck you with it…" Catra teases a little more, "Do you want that?"

"Yes…" Adora breathes out as she rubs her thighs together, "Fuck… I want to feel you too…"

"Not yet." Catra says sternly, "I want to make you feel good first. Boneless later on…"

"…Catra…" Adora moans out the magicat's name, "Get me naked already…"

"Yeah?" Catra asks still lavishing the blonde's nipples.

"Please…" Adora says almost like she's begging, "You promised…"

Catra chuckles at how needy is, "I don't believe I did such a thing."

"Catra!" Adora whines out and then pouts cutely, "Quit teasing…"

The magicat presses one more quick kiss on the nipple she'd just been sucking on, pushing herself up and then moves her hands down, her fingers dipping underneath the blonde's waistband of Adora's sweatpants, "Lift?"

Adora lifts her hips up and Catra slides the blonde's pants down, getting off the end of the bed to pull the garment off, dropping it onto floor before pouncing back on top of the blonde and licking and kissing from just below Adora's breasts and all the way down her body, stopping just above the waistband of Adora's panties. The blonde bucks her hips up, "You too. Take your pants off too."

“Sure, princess.” Catra sits back up again and starts to untie the string on her pants before Adora sits up abruptly, startling the magicat as she’s brought into another kiss from the blonde, feeling Adora’s fingers dipping below her waistband and then the blonde pulls back, staring into the magicat’s eyes with a glint of surprise in her eyes

“You’re… commando…” Adora whispers out surprised.

“Yep. Always am.” Catra replies with a smirk, “Why?”

Adora gulps down as she flips them over so Catra’s on her back, the blonde slowly takes the magicat’s pants off, dropping them onto the floor to join hers, Adora smirks down at the magicat, “I think I want to make you feel good first.”

“Go ahead, princess.” Catra grins, “I won’t say no.”

“Mm…” The blonde drops down between Catra’s legs, pressing kisses along the magicat’s inner thighs as she lets her hands roam up and down Catra’s sides, “Is this okay?”

“Yeah.” Catra replies running her fingers through Adora’s hair, pushing it back and out of her face, “There. Much better. Now I can see you.”

The blonde rolls her eyes before leaning in and finally tasting the magicat’s slick, “Mm..”

“F-fuck…” Catra shudders at the contact as she tense the muscles in her body for a moment before forcing herself to relax as she feels Adora’s tongue move up and down her slit, “Stars… Adora… that feels really good.”

“Mhm…” Adora hums out as she continues to lick the magicat up and down, shuffling just a little lower to get more comfortable as Catra let’s Adora’s hair go, moving them behind her head as she sighs out. Adora’s grey-blue eyes look up as she pulls back for a moment, her chin covered in Catra’s slick as she says, “Did I lose the spot?”

Catra chuckles, “No, idiot. I’m just getting comfortable. Go back to what you were doing.” She looks down at Adora who’s still paused, “Trust me, if it didn’t feel good I’d tell you.”

“Are you sure?” Adora asks and the magicat nods in confirmation, “Okay.”

The magicat groans out when the blonde gets back to work between her legs, “Fuck… yeah, keep going, princess…”

“Mmphf.” Adora breathes out as she quickens her movements before going higher and flicking and sucking the magicat’s clit, grinning to herself when she hears the magicat’s breath hitch.

“Stars… oh…” Catra starts to move her hips faster against Adora’s face, “Fuck… keep going…”

“Mm…” Adora moans as Catra essentially fucks her face.

After a few more harsh thrusts into Adora’s mouth, Catra’s orgasm hits her and she arches up, bucking Adora off as she growls out before flopping back onto the bed, trying to catch her breath. Eventually she looks down at the blonde who’s leaning on her thigh and staring up at her with an amused look on her face, “Fuck… I think I’m going to be boneless before I even get to fuck you…”

Adora smirks with a giggle, rubbing her face against Catra’s thigh and then pushing herself up, “I’m going to clean up a little bit.”

Catra just nods, unable to move yet, “Okay… don’t take too long…”

Adora grins and gives Catra’s calf a quick squeeze, “I’ll be right back.”

“Adora? What are you doing in there?” Catra asks from the bed, “You’ve been in there for ages!”

“Coming!” Adora calls out and opens the door, quickly skipping back to the bed and throwing the blankets over them and shivering, “Brr… it’s so cold!”

“Come here then. I’ll warm you up.” Catra replies opening her arms up, the blonde falling into them naturally as she rubs her skin against Catra’s, the magicat wrapping her up tightly as she hears the blonde hum out happily, “Better?”

“Yes. Thank you.” Adora replies from her happy spot on Catra’s chest, “Mm… I love the way you feel…”

“What took you so long?” Catra asks as she plays with Adora’s hair.

“I was just brushing my teeth.” Adora replies.

“It doesn’t take that long to brush your teeth, princess.” Catra points out, “What were you really doing?”

“Just cleaning up… down there.” Adora replies, her voice muffled into Catra’s chest.

“Ah…” Catra grins, pressing a kiss to the top of Adora’s head, “Well, once you get warmed up… let me get you dirty and then clean you up in my own way…”

“Mm…” Adora hums out happily, “Can’t wait…”

“Adora?” Catra whispers out after a few minutes of warming the blonde up in her arms and then feeling Adora’s body go heavier, “Adora?”

“Mm…” Adora hums out quietly as she readjusts a little in the magicat’s arms.

“Are you… are you sleeping?” Catra softly breathes out the question into Adora’s hair.

“Okay.” Catra whispers out with a small smile on her lips as she concedes, “Sleep, princess.”

“Mm…”

Adora wakes up, blinking her eyes open and smiling into her soft and furry pillow that seems to be vibrating under her. She looks up and sees Catra asleep as well, the blonde still in the magicat’s arms smiling as she takes in the sound and feel of Catra’s purr when she’s content.

The blonde then starts to let her fingers run up and down Catra’s stomach and up to her chest and then back down again, fluffing the fine fur up and then smoothing it back down again repeatedly, enamoured with the way it feels under her hand.

Her breath hitches when she feels Catra shift under her, the magicat’s hand tracing Adora’s skin from her back to her arms, her purr getting louder at the act.

“Are you awake?” Adora asks softly as she looks up at the magicat’s face.

“No.” Catra replies with her eyes closed.

“Yes, you are.” The blonde chuckles and rolls her eyes.

“No, you’re still dreaming...”

Adora laughs this time, coming up so she can press a kiss onto Catra’s lips, “Hi.”

“Hey, Adora.” Catra says with her eyes still shut, “What’s up?”

“I’m up.” Adora says and that brings a grin to Catra’s face, “What about you?”

“Mm… that’s a great idea, princess.” Catra smirks as Adora makes a confused noise as the magicat continues, “You stay up. I’ll go down… on you.”

“Wha- hey!” Adora yelps as Catra slides down Adora’s body and flips them over so the blonde is on her back, “Catra!”

“Shh… I’m busy.” Catra scolds playfully as she looks up at Adora with a mischievous glint in her eyes, “I’m trying to work here.”

“Uh…” Adora starts to say before she gasps out when Catra licks at her lip, “W-work? S-Should I be paying you?”

“Oh my stars… you’re such a dork!” Catra laughs out, “And no, do not pay me. Because that would make this into a weird kind of power dynamic and I already like the way it is now. Unless…”

“Unless?” The blonde bites her bottom lip as she watches the magicat grip her panties with her teeth and try to move them down her body, Adora lifts her hips up as Catra successfully takes off the final piece of clothing from the blonde, “…unless what?”

“Unless you want to pay me in… other sexy ways…” Catra says with Adora’s panties still held in her teeth.

“Stars… put them down.” Adora looks away with a blush.

“Why?” Catra replies but drops them anyways, “Eh, now… where was I?”

“I don’t know. Where were you?” Adora teases with a silly smile, “And here I thought you were good at this work.”

“Be sure to give me positive ratings afterwards.” Catra says and then laughs, “But, no really. Make sure you leave positive feedback, otherwise I won’t know if I did good or not.”

Adora chuckles, “You’re an idiot. And no, I’m not leaving you feedback… not publicly anyway.”

“Oh, what about… privately?” Catra says as she moves in between Adora’s legs, spreading them apart as she presses a few kisses on the blonde’s inner thighs, “I’m happy with… direct messaging…”

“Stars…” Adora gasps at the feeling of Catra’s lips on her thighs and then moving closer to where she wants her to be, “How about I just give you creative criticism as you go?”

The blonde’s breath hitches when Catra presses a kiss in the crease of the leg and her hip, “I’d prefer positive reinforcement…”

“Oh really…ah!” Adora bucks her hips when she feels Catra’s tongue tightly flick the blonde’s clit, “Fuck…mmm…”

“That’s pretty positive…” Catra laughs out into Adora’s lower lips before taking in a deep breath and sighing, “Mm… you smell so good. And you taste pretty good too.”

“Pretty good?” Adora quirks an eyebrow up at the magicat pretending to be offended, “Just… pretty good?”

“Ask me again when I’ve had a proper taste, princess.” Catra smirks up at the blonde, “I can’t really give an honest opinion without a proper taste.”

“Then… hurry up and taste me…” Adora demands breathlessly and then her eyes slam shut as soon as Catra finally licks her up in one loud and exaggerated slurp, just once, the blonde frowns back, “Catra! Stop teasing… oh fuck!”

Catra’s arm wrap around Adora’s legs, holding the blonde in place as she starts to work the blonde over with her tongue, starting off slow with long licks, really tasting Adora, “Mm… delectable.”

“Oh… mmm…” Adora moans out trying to buck her hips and failing, “Stars… yes…”

Catra grins into Adora's slick, plunging her tongue inside the blonde, "Is this okay?"

"Yes… yes… yes…" Adora repeats over and over again as she tries to get Catra's tongue deeper, "Keep going…"

The magicat nods, pushing Adora's legs up in the air as she moving herself up a little so she can get as deep as possibly with her tongue inside the blonde, "Mmphf… hold your legs for me…"

Adora's hands grip the bedsheets, too caught up in the way Catra is working her over until her eyes open and she looks down, confusion on her face when the magicat stops abruptly, 'What…?"

"Hold your legs for me, princess." Catra repeats with a little more force and then a sly smirk on her lips.

Adora gulps down as she realizes that Catra's got her hands under her thighs and her legs in the air, she looks at the magicat, "Uh…"

"I'm not going to tell you one more time, Adora." Catra pushes down on the blonde's legs a little more, "Come on. Indulge me."

Slowly Adora reaches up and grabs her ankles and then groans out as Catra goes back down on her, flicking her tongue against the blonde's clit, making her moan out, spreading her legs even wider as she rocks herself against the magicat's face, "Oh… oh… mm… ah…"

Feeling Adora getting closer to her orgasm, the magicat wraps her arms back around Adora's thighs and doubles down on eating the blonde out as the blonde's moans get louder and louder, her body arching up higher and higher until Catra can finally feel Adora tremble and whine out loudly, letting go of her legs and thrashing around in the magicat's grip.

"No… No more… stop…" Adora breathes out as she grits her teeth.

"Okay." Catra pulls back and grins back at the blonde, her face covered in Adora's slick, "So… how was it? Did it meet your expectations? Did you want to leave a review-woah!”

Adora warps her legs around Catra, pulling the magicat down into her for a messy kiss while she catches her breath, “Mm…”

“Taste good, right?” Catra asks with a grin.

“I think I prefer the way you taste.” Adora replies with a grin of her own.

“Yeah?” Catra licks her lips and then shakes her head, “No. You’re way wrong. You taste…” the magicat acts out a chef’s kiss and says, “Delectable. No wonder I’m your spark…”

“Why do you say that?” Adora asks with a smile as she relaxes back onto the bed, letting her arms fall away but her legs still wrapped around Catra’s waist.

“Because I’m lighting you on fire, baby.” Catra replies with smirk before breaking out and laughing at how cringe that was, “That was terrible. I understand if you want to take half a star off my performance for tonight. But!”

Adora quirks an eyebrow up, “But?”

“But!” Catra repeats, “I’m not done with you yet. You asked me to leave you boneless and that is exactly what I plan to do.”

“I’m pretty boneless now.” Adora admits with a giggle.

“Mm… I don’t think so.” Catra remarks as she wiggles her hips where Adora’s legs are still around, “I think I’m going to have to try harder.”

“Harder?”

“I think you’d like it harder.” Catra says casually, “Would you like it… harder?”

Adora looks away and blushes, “…maybe…”

Catra leans down, caging Adora in her arms, pressing her lips onto Adora's and kissing the blonde languidly, bucking her hips down onto Adora, "Mm… I think you've got more…"

The blonde shakes her head and smiles innocently, "I'm spent."

"Oh really?"

"Yes." Adora nods, biting her bottom lip as she grins.

"Are you sure?" Catra drops down to her elbows and plays with Adora's hair little, tilting her head to watch the blonde's face underneath, "We can stop and do something else."

Just as Catra is about to push herself up, Adora quickly wraps her arms back around the magicat's neck and pulls her back down for another kiss, this one hungrier as she whines into it when Catra bucks her hips again, "Mm… No. I want… more."

"More?"

Adora nods and stares into Catra's eyes, "Fuck me, Catra."

"I just did." Catra teases.

"Do it again." Adora demands, "Harder."

"Do you want my fingers or just my tongue, princess?" Catra asks as she buries her face into Adora's neck and nips and sucks at the skin she has access to.

"Either. Both." Adora breathes out heavily.

"Good answer." Catra gins and kisses the blonde on the lips, "But first… water break."

"Catra!" Adora whines out.

"So… no water?"

"Just fuck me already! Again!" Adora pouts out.

“Okay.” Catra grins, “Whatever my light wants.”

“Yes. Spark me, Catra. Make me brighter…” Adora’s starts to ramble as she releases her hold on the magicat’s body, dropping her legs back down to the bed, “Please…”

The magicat kisses her way down Adora’s body and then pauses, looking up at the blonde, “Wait… did you say ‘spank me’?”

“W-what?” Adora says with her mind still in a haze.

“Did you ask me to spank you, princess?” Catra repeats as she licks around one of Adora’s nipples.

“No… no spanking…” Adora arches her chest up to try to get Catra to suck on her nipple, “I said… spark me.”

“Oh. Okay.” Catra sucks in Adora’s pert nipple as the blonde whines out happily, “Not into spanking, huh?”

Adora shakes her head, “No… but…”

“But?” Catra grins into Adora’s chest, the blonde’s nipple still touching the magicat’s lips.

“But… I don’t mind you grabbing my ass… later…” Adora admits looking away and then her breath hitches when she feels Catra’s hands move down her body and under her thighs, “Cat…”

“I’m not doing anything…” Catra squeezes Adora’s thighs and then says, “You’re so fucking hot, Adora.”

“You too.” Adora smiles down at the magicat, “Now… get to work.”

“On making you boneless?” Catra asks knowingly as Adora giggles and nods, “Whatever you want, princess.”

“Catra… what are you…? Oh…” Catra rolls Adora to her side, spooning the blonde from behind as she presses kiss along Adora’s back while her hands cup the blonde’s breasts, gently squeezing as Adora pushes herself back into the magicat, whining in anticipation, "Mm… fuck…"

One of Catra's hands stay on the blonde's breast while the other one moves down her body, stopping on her hip, the thumb rubbing gentle circles around it as she hears a frustrated growl from Adora, the magicat chuckling when the blonde grabs her hand and pushes it in between her legs, "A little desperate there… aren't we, Adora…"

"Shut up and fuck me." Adora pushes herself back with a roll of her hips and then opening her legs up wider so Catra's hand can comfortably settle between them, "Mm… Catra…"

The magicat presses her lips against Adora's neck and then lets her fingers slowly slide up and down Adora's slit, making the blonde's breath hitch and then push back against Catra's body once more, the magicat whispering out into Adora's skin, "You're so wet, princess…"

"Mmhm…" Adora rocks her hips trying to get more friction and then gasps when she feels Catra's finger move up and down her slit, resting on her clit, "…fuck…"

The magicat doesn't say anything, instead moving back down to Adora's opening and gently dipping one finger inside, "Mm… warm…"

"More…" Adora breathes out as she turns her head to kiss the magicat on the lips.

Catra presses her lips against Adora's as she dips her finger in again, this time plunging it deeper into the blonde, the feeling of the blonde's walls throbbing against her finger has her sucking in the small moan from Adora as they continue to kiss.

"Fuck…" Adora breaks their kiss to say as the magicat quickly shifts so she can bring them back again for another kiss and this time, Adora moans out when the magicat starts to move her finger in and out of the blonde, "Yes… yes… fuck yes…"

“Want another one?” Catra asks resting her forehead against Adora’s.

The blonde bites her bottom lip and nods, “Just… go slow…”

“Of course.” Catra whispers back and adds, “Let me know if you need me to stop or anything…”

Adora nods as she opens her legs up a little wider so the magicat can situate her hand better and then grabs Catra’s other hand and places it on top of her breast, encouraging the magicat to grab and play with it, the grinning magicat happily complies, while with her other hand she gently uses two fingers and rubs them along Adora’s slit.

“Inside… please… inside…” Adora breathes out pleadingly as she tries move her body so the magicat’s fingers go where she wants them, “Catra…”

“Let me enjoy this…” Catra replies smiling with a kiss on Adora’s shoulder and then gives in to the blonde’s request, lining her fingers up before pushing them slowly inside, relishing in the way Adora’s breath hitches and the blonde pushes back against Catra’s body once more, “Fuck… you feel so amazing, princess…”

“Mm-fuck…” Adora whines out as she arches her body back as she feels Catra’s fingers filling her, letting out a satisfied hum when the magicat’s bottoms out at her knuckles, “Fuck… Catra…”

“Still good?” Catra asks into Adora’s ear, the blonde nods, “Ready?”

Another nod and Catra slowly pulls her fingers out and then slams them back in, “Oh, fuck! Stars… oh, oh, oh!”

The magicat buries her face into Adora’s neck as she speeds up her pace, plunging her fingers in and out of Adora as the blonde writhes and moans loudly in her front of her, “Fuck Adora… you’re so fucking beautiful…”

“Mm… fuck…” Adora whines out as she feels her body heat up, “Keep… k-keep going…”

“Don’t worry, princess…” Catra kisses the blonde’s neck, “I’ve got you.”

“Oh! Ah! Ah! Ah! Fuck…” Adora rocks her hips in time with Catra’s thrusts, working herself up closer and closer to her second orgasm, “Oh… mm….”

The magicat wraps her other arm around Adora’s chest, pulling her as close to her front as possible and then clamps her leg around Adora’s leg, keeping the blonde’s legs open as she continues to finger fuck the woman in her arms, “Good?”

“F-fuck… fucking amazing…” Adora breathes out while gritting her teeth, her fingers digging into the magicat’s arm around her chest, “Oh… mmm… ah, ah, ah, fuck… I’m… I’m close…”

Catra grins, feeling the inner walls hug her fingers a little tighter, knowing that Adora is almost there as she applies a little stimulation to the blonde’s clit, rubbing it in time with her thrusts until…

“FUCK! Oh my starsss! Mmm…ah… oh, oh FUCK!” Adora almost screams out, thrashing around once again, unable to close her legs thanks to Catra holding them open in her own, the magicat humping the leg in the process as her hold on Adora’s body tightens until the blonde is begging for her to stop, “S-stop… no… no more… I-I can’t…”

Catra stops her movements, her fingers still buried inside the blonde’s fluttering walls as Adora holds the magicat’s hand in place, “Should I pull out?”

Adora turns her head and pulls Catra in for a tired kiss, “No… not yet… oh!” she glares at the magicat for a moment, “No more…”

“Sorry, princess.” Catra whispers into Adora’s lips, “My forearm is just a little sore…”

“Mmm…” Adora grins, “Stay a little longer… just… stay still… please…”

“Okay.” Catra agrees.

After a few moments, the blonde releases her hand on the magicat’s arm, “Okay. You can have our hand back.”

Catra laughs as she watches the blonde’s face change when she does so, “Are you okay?”

“Sensitive…” Adora replies and then fully relaxes once Catra’s hand is removed, “Stars… that was…”

“An enlightening experience.” Catra finishes off Adora’s sentence with a laugh.

The blonde pulls Catra in for another kiss, “Well, only my spark would be able to light me up, right?”

“Very right.” Catra smiles back, “A spark that loves her light.”

Adora smiles back, “And I love my spark.”

Chapter End Notes

I initially started writing this when I was listening to some old Coldplay songs... and this one came up.
And... this fic has pretty much nothing to do with that song apart from the title... haha thanks for reading, commenting, kudos, subscribing and bookmarking.

I guess it was more than just... fluff after all. 😂😉😁🥰🥰
It's always nice to write cheesy fluff fics, I hoped you enjoyed this fic - I certainly enjoyed writing it.
So... win-win!
