Mercenary Contract - Blackmoor

by Modus_0perand1

Summary

A frightening voice filled the cockpit - it's a metallic voice, like what you'd imagine a mech would sound like if it could speak...

"Great Leader has died." It said, in peculiar inflection.

The words struck you in a way that confused you.

"Blackmoor must fall." Once more, those words...

"Here is your contract."

The words popped up on your mech-cockpit screen, a clicking following each line.

Mercenary Contract - Blackmoor

This Contract is made and entered into by and between the undersigned party ("The Contractor"), and the entity known as the "Etherian Concern". This contract is enacted in light of the passing of the party known as "Great Leader", also known by the names "Mara" and "She-ra", affirming the legitimacy of the terms and conditions contained herein.

The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that compensation for civilian targets is contingent upon adherence to the rules of engagement as specified in Section IV.

IV. Operational Parameters:

The Contractor shall act independently and autonomously, utilizing their unique set of skills and assets to accomplish the objectives without interference from any other parties.

The Contractor shall not disclose the details of this Contract to any unauthorized individuals or entities.

V. Confidentiality:

All details pertaining to this Contract, including the Contractor's identity, shall remain strictly confidential. Failure to uphold confidentiality may result in immediate termination of this agreement.

VI. Termination and Activation:

VII. Compensation and Funeral Arrangements:

The Contractor shall only be entitled to compensation upon successful completion of the Contract's objectives as outlined in Section II and VI. Further compensation will be provided upon completion of the contract, in accordance with the Contractor’s performance.

Upon the Contractor's completion of the Contract, payment will be provided. In the event of their unfortunate demise during the operation, funeral compensation in the form of 10,000 monetary units shall be provided by the Etherian Concern.

VIII. Extraction from Etheria:

Upon successful destruction of the marked targets, the Contractor shall locate and procure an orbital tug, employing any means deemed necessary by the Contractor and within compliance of the terms of the contract.
