She Ra's killing game

by dragonesswithabeehivelmao

Summary

Killing game on Etheria. Who will survive, who will die?

Chapter 1

???POV:
I woke up. I was asleep over the table. Wait! Did I miss my training? Oh shit! Wait hold on. Something is different about the room. It's more like a...kitchen. I stood up from the chair and left the kitchen. The place is different, it was nothing like in the frightzone. It's shiny, it's blue, it's...I don't know what those are hanging over the windows. I continue to walk around to where ever the hell am I. I cut the corner and found a door that opened slightly. I walked over it and open it then someone pounces on me.

I lay on the floor on my back with someone hissing at me. I look up to see a tanned woman with stripes, cat ears and her eyes are differently colored. "Uh...hi." I said with a blush. "Who are you?! Where are we?!" She asked aggressively. "I don't know. I am just as confused as you are." I said to her. I also noticed her blushing, she gets off of me. "I...do I know you...I mean..it feels like I know you from somewhere." Said the cat lady. Now that she mentioned it, it does feel like I know her from somewhere too. "Uh...I..I also feel like I know you too." I said to her. I can feel my cheeks burning and I can see her cheeks were blushing too. All of the sudden, we then feel the ground is shaking, it's getting more intense. I then heard something crashed behind me. I turn around and see something I never saw before.

A giant robot way bigger than us is towering over us. I felt someone grab my arm, the claws digs into my shirt. "Let's go!!" The cat woman drags me. We then start running together away from that thing. It's chasing after us. We kept running, hoping it would stop but it didn't. We kept cutting corners and running down the hallways. How long is that thing going to chase us? How much more do we need to run?! There was two massive doors in front of us. We quickly barge into it.

I look up to see....more people! "Woah! You girls alright?" Asked a dark skinned guy with abs. He extends his hand out to us. "I'm ok." I said to him. He lends out his hand to the cat woman, but she slaps it away. "Were you chased by that thing too?" Asked the sparkly girl. "W...we were." I said to her. "What were those things?" Asked a blonde girl with flowers all over her hair, her feminine voice wavered like she was scared. "I would like to call them exisals! These fascinating robots seem to represent some sort of animals, which they're likely piloted by someone!" The girl with really long purple pigtails shouts out excitedly. "Ugh! Is there anyone else here too?" Asked a woman with blue hair with her ponytail over her shoulder, she sounds really sarcastic. "Who care?! I want to punch these things till they tell us where we are!" A small girl with cold feeling has a hotheaded temper. "Enough. We should investigate to escape this horrendous environment." Said the alien. His ears are pointy, his eyes are red, he kinda creeps me out. "Yeah I tried. I couldn't find my way out." Said this muscular girl with dreadlocks. A tall lizard is making grunting noises as if he's trying to talk, wish I could understand what he's saying. "Uh...How did we even get here?" Asked this short, scrawny guy, he looks weak. We then heard the bells ring.

"Mike Check! Mike Check!!" I then heard a voice is so laid back and gleeful. "Wait, hold on! Let me bring this chair up higher!" We then look over to the podium and all of the sudden, someone pops out, or something. "Why, hello there! I am Monokuma, the headmaster of this academy!" Said the stuffed animal...well bear with half side white and half side black. "What do you want?" Asked the alien aggressively at him. "Oh calm down femboy! I'll tell you what I want but allow me to explain what this place is just to calm your saggy titties down!" Said Monokuma. Wait...did..did he say 'calm your saggy titties down.' "Welcome to Hope's Peak Academy! The best school ever exist in this world!" He shouts out joyfully. "School? What's that?" Asked the little girl with short blue hair. "Right. On Etheria you don't have schools. Argh! Whatever! You're still staying here anyway!" He shouts out annoyed. "Alright back to that femboy's questions!" At that moment that's when Monokuma said something that made me feel scared in a very long time.

"What I want from all of you is to play a game. The killing game." Monokuma said with a satisfied purr. "Killing game!!" Said the girl with flowers out loud in horror. The lizard guy is saying something, but I don't know what. "K..killing game?" A woman with Scorpia tail spoke up in horror. "Ooooo! Killing game! How do we play it?" Asked the girl with pigtails, is she not scared, what's with her. "Glad you asked nerdy princess. Basically the killing game is quite obviously, kill each other!" Monokuma spits out. "What!! You want us to kill each other!" A woman with long blue hair yells out. "Yes. A killer claims their first victim, the others jobs is to identify who the culprit is. The culprit is labelled as the blackened, the others are the spotless. If you identified who the blackened is correctly, they'll be executed. If you guess the blackened wrong, all of you but the blackened will be punished." Monokuma explained. "We will never kill anyone!" The sparkly girl shouts out. "Exactly! We will never kill anyone in here! We won't play your evil game!" The guy with abs said out loud. "Oh wow! I already can smell a lovely couple here." Said the green thing with pointy ears; I can't tell if it's a guy or a woman. "Aww that's too bad. Refuse to cooperate the killing game, will result in an instant execution." Monokuma then slams his fist onto the podium. All of the sudden somethings just burst out from behind Monokuma.

There are five..what did that girl with pigtails called them, 'Exisals'. Five exisals towering over us. Everyone but the girl with pigtails are terrified, petrified. I am too. "They won't hesitate to kill you if you refuse the game. I'll be nice, you will have 2 days time at the time when the killing game starts. Also we already got your rooms ready, get some rest, take a shit, eat and repeat. I said it a wrong way round, damn it. Whatever! Now, I hope you shit nuggets will play this 'fun' game. Tata for now!! Bye bye! See ya later!!" At that moment, Monokuma gave us the warning, he along with the exisals left.

Introductions

????POV:
Well after Monokuma's introduction, we were given these things 'monopads' or something. Also we were told with some rules. After we read the rules, we immediately went to our rooms because the rule is to get to your dorms at 10PM and the time was 9:55PM. If we don't follow the rules, we die. It was scary. Thank god I made it to my room. It's nice and clean and I got my punching bags here. Nice! I climb over onto my bed and I immediately went to sleep.

I woke up and went outside of my dorm. I went to the canteen and see the others. They're all eating their food especially that girl with purple pigtails, she's eating tiny food. She's weird. I then saw a girl with cat ears, I don't know why but I just go up to her and sat next to her. "What do you want?" She asked bluntly. "Just to talk to you. Uh..hi I'm Adora." I introduced myself to her.

Catra POV:
This person is...straight forward...how cute...no no no..I shouldn't trust her. She has her hand out to me, without thinking I shook it. The hell am I doing! "I'm Catra." I said my name to her. Why the hell did I tell her my name?!! "So um...what do you like doing?" Asked Adora. Shit. What do I say? "I uh...I like training my fighting skills." I said with my back straight. "Really! Me too!" Adora said with sparkles in her eyes. Is she blushing? Wait! I'm blushing! While we were talking a little then all of the sudden two people walks over to our table, they settle themselves down. "Hi. I hope you don't mind us sitting here." Said the sparkly girl.

"Thanks for letting us sit here. I'm Bow by the way. It's nice to meet you." He introduced himself. "I'm Catra." I told him my name and so did Adora. He grabs my hand and kisses it. I freaked out. I moved my hand away. "Sorry. I tend to do that when I meet someone." He said nervously. "I'm princess Glimmer." A princess....she called herself a princess. She extends her hand out to me and Adora. We shook it. "How are you girls?" Asked Bow.

"Well...feeling a bit nervous about this killing game...we never know who and when someone will be killed." Said Adora nervously. "I know what you mean. It's scary, but it doesn't mean that shouldn't be brave right? We have to be prepared from what's to happen." Said Glimmer courageously. She sounds so sure that we will escape this killing game. "I can try and teleport us all out of here." Said Glimmer in a whisper. Wait! Teleport us out...of here!! Is it possible?! I didn't know! "Should we try now?" Asked Glimmer. "Maybe later, I want to get to know other people first." Said Adora. Wow she seems really eager to know other people. Wait..hold on... why am I following her?

Adora POV:
I got Catra to follow me. It feels nice...why do I like having her around me? Anyway it doesn't matter, we're going to get to know other people. I walked up to this girl with flowers all over her blonde hair. "Hi, I'm Adora. It's nice to meet you." I introduced myself to her, this was awkward. "Oh hello. It is nice to meet you too. I am princess Perfuma. "Perfuma lifts her skirt up slightly and bows to us..is it a bow, I don't know. Never thought I would talk to a princess. "So um...what are you up to today?" I asked nervously. "Oh I am going to my garden and make my beautiful artistic masterpieces made of flowers. Would you like to see?" She asked happily and lovingly. "Maybe later." I said to her. "Ok. Feel free to come to my garden. Have a good day." She waves us bye. "Catra, what's wrong?" I asked her, she looks angry. "Nothing." She said bluntly. "Ok..if you say so. Let's talk to others." I said to her and grabbed her arm.

I walked up to this girl who is sarcastic. "Hi. How are you?" I asked her. "Ugh bored. I think I'm going for a swim, I want to 'kill' this boredom." She says sarcastically with a 'bored' grunt. She walks past us. "Wait! What's your name?" I demand. "Uh..what you don't know me? I'm Princess Mermista. I am the coolest around here, I know how to keep myself safe." She flips her hair. Mermista seems a bit overly confident about this situation. "You must be Adora and you must be Catra." Mermista points her finger at us one by one. I can see Catra is getting agitated.

"Anyway, I'm going. I am getting bored here." As that said she left the canteen. So sarcastic, damn.

We then walked up to those two girls; a girl that has a scorpion tail and a girl with purple long hair. "Hi. It's nice to meet you gir-" Before I would finish my sentence, the scorpion lady cut me off. "Kitty!" She then lifts Catra up and hugs her. "Get off of me! Let go of me!!" She struggles against her grip. "Sorry. I am quite a hugger." She said with a smile. I then freak out because the girl's pigtails are moving and they pinching Catra's ears. "Fascinating! You have features of a feline! Mainly a domestic cat among the felidae kingdom! Tell me! Do you have good hearing?! How's your sense of smell?!" She then continues to ask questions while she pulls out a pen and a notepad. Catra stutters, but that was interrupted by this scorpion woman. "Oh sorry. I didn't tell you who I am. I am Princess Scorpia." She then gives a tight hug too. Her hug is really tight, I am sure I am going to die from suffocation. "Heheh sorry. I tend to give people tight hugs whenever I am happy." Despite her deadly appearances, she seems really nice. "Hello! I am princess Entrapta! Do you like science? If so, what subjects do you like? Have you ever made a robot?! If so can I see it, can I examine it?" This girl excitedly firing questions about science stuff at me. "Uhh...n..no. I...I don't know what that is." She looks dumbfounded when I told her I don't know what science is. "That's ok! I can tell you so much about science! Like for example how the solid matter have their molecules in a fixed positions because they are packed closely together th-" Entrapta was then cut off by Scorpia pointing her pincers over to no where. "Look Entrapta over there! Isn't that a robot?" Scorpia smiles falsely at her. "A robot! Where!?" Entrapta then ran to no where. "You'll get used to her. I know she's like 'woah science psshhhh' but I promise you she has a good heart." Said Scorpia. I guess I can take her word for it, she sounds really sure.

Me and Catra walk over to this little girl. "Hi. How are you? You're not scared?" I asked her. She then forms icy gauntlets onto her fists. "Who said I was scared?" She said with an intimidating voice. She is quite feisty. "No one. I am Adora. This is Catra. Nice to meet you." I said to her. "I am princess Frosta. The strongest and powerful princess who will safe your butts!" She said so cheerfully. Just imagine if she did try to safe us. "Hey, you know I want to spar with someone. Are you two going to fight me? I am ready!" She is really feisty, she really wants to fight with someone. "Hehehe, maybe later." I then dragged Catra away from this girl. Catra was about to murder her wasn't she?

We then approached those three people; a girl with dreadlocks, a lizard and a wimpy kid. "Hey you guys! What's up?" I asked them. "Hey, sup. We..we were just talking." Said the girl with dreadlocks, she is quite serious. A lizard is grunting, but I couldn't tell what he is saying. "Uhh...Rogelio maybe it's best if you didn't bring this up." Said the wimpy kid. "Kyle, stop being a wuss." Said the muscly girl with an annoyed grunt. "I..I'm not a wuss." Said Kyle nervously. "Uh..I..I'm Adora." I extend my hand out to the girl. "Lonnie. Nice to meet you." She said serious. I shook Rogelio's hand and Kyle's hand; even his hand feels so feeble. How weak is he? "What are you looking at?" Catra asks Lonnie aggressively. "Hey! What's your problem?!" Lonnie asks angrily. "Ok ok! You two! Sorry about that. We're going to go." I said awkwardly. I dragged her away from them. "What the hell Catra?!" I asked angrily. "Did you see the way she looked at me?" asked Catra angrily. "Don't worry about it. She looks at everyone that way." I said to her to reassure her. She seems to have calm down.

We walk over to the two girls; they're really..uh..all over each other. Didn't they just met? Anyway I approached them with Catra next to me. "Hi. I'm Adora. This is Catra. Nice to meet you." I extend my hand out to them, they gladly shook it. "I am Netossa." One lady introduces herself. "I am Spinnerella." The other introduced too. "It is nice to meet you too. So...have any ideas how to get out of here?" Asked Netossa. "Uh..no." I said nervously. "Oh. We tried but we couldn't get out of the borders; it's too high up. It's also accompanied by electricity." Said Spinnerella. "Yeah I got shocked a few times." Said Netossa. "At least you're ok. How are your burns?" Asked Spinnerella worryingly. "I'm fine, don't worry about me. I'm tougher than I look." Netossa gives her a wink. If they can't escape, then I don't think anyone can. No. I shouldn't think that way. I am sure there is a way to escape.

After we met these two girls, we then saw Scorpia. "Hey Scorpia, uh..where's-" She then cuts me off as she focuses on Catra. She pins her to the wall. "Hey wildcat." What's with this sudden change of her personality?! This is seriously pissing me off. "Hey what's your deal?" Catra then pins Scorpia down to the ground. I then saw the glitches from Scorpia, she then turns into someone else. "Rude. Is that how you talk to people?" Asked a smug voiced person. "Who the fuck are you?" Asked Catra aggressively. "I am Double Trouble. So pleasant to meet you." Double Trouble then bows to us, almost apologetically. "You must be Catra and you must be Adora." How do they know us already? "Yes, we are." Before Catra could ask Double Trouble leaves immediately. "Ok I am going somewhere." They said simply without looking at us. There is something I don't like about them. Could it be possible that they could kill someone?

This last person. The one I don't feel comfortable with, but I shouldn't judge someone once I get to know them. "Uh..hi." He turns around. He is tall, he's towering over us. He scowls and scoffs. "I have no time for both of you." He said so bluntly at us. "Wait! At least tell us who you are?!" Asked Catra angrily. "I am lord Hordak. Soon you'll bow down to me." He then left. Well that didn't go too well. Well most importantly the whole day I got to know who everyone is. Catra didn't put too much effort, I wonder why. "Hey uh...why...why are you so hard on others?" I asked her. "Because we're stuck here and someone will kill us! Of course I should be paranoid! Wouldn't you?!" She asked angrily. Her ears are drooping down, so cute. "Y..yes but it doesn't mean we shouldn't get to know someone, let alone know their names." I said to her. She looks slightly convinced. "Whatever." She said simply. "Hey um...would you like to train with me in combat before 10PM? We only got few hours left." I suggested her. "Really!" She said happily with a blush. "Y..yeah sure whatever." Damn that sudden change of attitude.

Party

Glimmer POV:
I'm with Bow behind those giant walls. I try to teleport out, but I couldn't. It's like there's a really strong magic that prevents me from getting to the other side. "What's wrong?" Asked Bow. "I can't teleport out." I said to him in disbelief. "Wait! Hold on let me try!" I stepped out of his way. He shot his arrow to the wall and made an explosion. As the steam dies down, the wall remains untouched. What is this wall made out of? I look at Bow and we are anxious, really anxious, but we can't lose hope yet. Bow looks at his monopad and his eyes were wide. "Glimmer....we only got 11 hours left before the killing game ends!" He said with a voice crack. "It's ok, we got plenty of time." I said to him. "No you don't get it! If the time ends, we all are going to die!" He tells me with his voice crack. "We still got plenty of time to try and escape. Just let me try and-" I cut myself off by teleporting up to the wall. As I teleport up, something just punch me out and now I am falling. Luckily I teleport back to the ground. "I don't have enough energy to teleport." I pant heavily. "That's enough for now. Let's get you to recharge." He said reassuringly. We then left our mission.

As soon as we went back inside the academy, everyone was there, even Monokuma. "Hey guys, what's going on?" I asked loud and clear. "Nothing much, just Monokuma want us to have a party. I want to know why." said Frosta. Her hands are frozen in gauntlets with Perfuma holding her with her vines. "Frosta no! We are not allowed to hurt Monokuma!" Perfuma scolds her. "That's right. Lay a hand on me,I'll kill you." Said Monokuma. "Why do you want us to have a party?" Asked Catra with a hiss in her voice. "Just to give you guys a good time, just to waste your time before the killing game ends. You know what happens when the killing game ends from the timestamp, you all be dead. With a big capital D!" Monokuma threatens us. "Really!" Said Lonnie. "Really! Really! Now get your asses in there! Everything is already in place!" Monokuma then disappears with a puff of smoke.

This is not good, we have to listen to Monokuma's invitation and now everyone went to the party. We went to the party room. We stand behind the doors and we twisted the locks and open it. We are surprised at the sight. There are so much food; both big and small. There are so many cool decorations, just like expected from a party. Everyone walk in; some without thinking, some are careful. Everyone sat down and take a bite to eat.

I can't believe I let the food take control of me. It's so tasty. So good. Anyway apart from that, I am sat with Bow, Adora and Catra. We are talking about our hobbies, our likes and dislikes. I then saw Rogelio, Kyle and Lonnie leave the room. I wonder what they're up to. I then saw Hordak leave too. Something is going to happen. Definitely. I got up from my seat. "Where are you going?" Asked Bow. "I am going to follow these guys, something fishy is going on." I said to him. I then start to follow those four people.

As soon as I start to follow them, they split to three. Lonnie is going away from Rogelio and Kyle, and Hordak is going somewhere else too. This is tough, who should I go after....Lonnie. Lonnie something I shouldn't risk skipping. I then continue to follow her, watching where she's going. I kept following her, cutting through corners. I turn around another corner and she's gone. I am confused, what happened to her. I carefully look around then all of the sudden I was on the floor. I can't move my arms or stand up. "What are you up to princess?!" Lonnie asked me aggressively. Her knee is on my back and she pinned my wrists behind my back. "More importantly what are you up to?" I asked. "It's none of your business. Are you planning to kill me or something?" She asked. "No I wasn't! I wanted to know what you're up to?!" I asked with venom. "I am not telling you anything princess!" She hisses at me.

Adora POV:
Wow those food are so delicious. I never eaten something like this. I wish I could eat this everyday if I could. I saw Rogelio and Kyle come back to the party room. I didn't focus too much on them because I was busy eating those tasty ass food. "Seriously Adora, I think you should stop because you're going to get yourself sick." Catra warns me all laid back and stuff. "Nah I'll be fine." I brushed her off. I continue to munch away the food and I instantly regret it. Why didn't I take her word for it? "Yep you're...right. I...I need to go to the bathroom....now." I'm about to throw up until Catra quickly drags me out of my chair.

I never thought she would be so caring. She took me to the bathroom. She supports me while I was throwing up. She gave me water as if she knew what she was doing. "Oh you dummy. Told you not to eat that much." She scolds me. "It was tasty though." I smiled and laughed at her then threw up in the toilet again. "Oh you dummy." She said to me. I continue to throw up until something happened.

Mermista POV:
I was just eating something with Perfuma, Scorpia and Entrapta. We were talking about random things. Scorpia, I had no idea what she's talking about, and this geeky girl, absolutely got no idea what she's talking about; science and tech is something I can't understand shit. Perfuma well she talks about plants, she's alright with me. "Anyway I'm getting bored girls, I am going to head back to my room." I said to them. As soon as I stood up and about to leave the room, everything turns black. Everyone starts gasping and screaming. "Where are you guys?!" I recognize that voice. It's that wimpy kid Kyle. I then hear that lizard grunting. "Could someone turn the lights on?" Asked Perfuma. "Wish I could if I know where the light switch is." Said Bow. I look around and see pair of red eyes. I pounce at them. I heard them grunt. I pin them down. "I got someone!" I said out loud. "Hey wait!! I was going to turn the light on." I recognize that girl, it's Entrapta. The light then turns back on. I then realized I had Entrapta pinned to the floor. Her mask is over her face. "Why were you wearing that?" I asked annoyed. "To see the dark. I was about to turn the lights back on but I guess I don't need to." She smiles at me.

"What was that? What just happened?" I saw Lonnie running into the party room with Glimmer. I then saw Adora, she looks really sick, at least she got her girlfriend Catra to support her. "We had a blackout." Said Frosta. "A blackout?" Repeated Catra. "Yeah we couldn't see anything." Said Bow. "Wait..what's that?" Netossa points her finger at something. We all look at what she's pointing to. Spinnerella gasps in horror. I look over to see....blood....blood trails. We follow where the blood was leading to. We slowly follow it. The blood trails leads to the...kitchen. I open the doors and saw the sight I never thought I would see. Bunch of Etherian body parts is scattered across the kitchen. Hands in the pot filled soup, a leg beside the stove, and the head on the kitchen counter. "K...Kyle?" Lonnie then breaks out a scream. Rogelio also lets out quite terrifying shriek. Everyone behind me starts screaming. We then hear a bell ringing. "A body has been discovered. Once a body has been discovered, you must start investigating the crime that has been committed by the culprit. Now start investigating before the time runs out. Once the time runs out, you will finally head to the class trial. Puhuhuhu!" Monokuma then laughs at the end. The screen turns off.

First investigation

Mermista POV:
Investigating. Just like those Mer-novels I've read. This is going to be fun...well no actually not. This poor guy is brutally murdered. This is not something from the books, this is real. Ok I shouldn't be afraid now. We need to fight to stay alive from this killing game. Ok woman up Mermista!! You can do this! I look around the kitchen, damn Kyle's body parts are everywhere. I look back to the blood trails then follow it back. From what I could get is that he was in the party room. I look around the party room and ah ha! A clue! Well...evidence duh. Claw marks on the walls. Wait! One evidence is not enough. I keep looking around and try to see what else I could find, seems like I couldn't.

"Uh..Mermista. I found something in the storage room. I...I want you to come with me." Perfuma is quite scared, not me. I am after all Mermista, the princess of the seas. Anyway moving on. I accepted her request and followed her to the storage room. "Huh...the...the-" Then someone behind me finished the sentence for me. "The fuse blew up!" It was Entrapta and she pushes past me. "Seems like it was caused by someone with claws. Oh wait which explains the blackout. Hold on! Let me look around for anymore damage." Entrapta then moves things with her hair. Here's another evidence; claw marks on the fuse. "Huh that's weird. There's some kind of purple fluid underneath the wire here. I should take a sample to study." Said Entrapta. "Not now. We're investigating." I said to her. I then saw more of those purple stuff next to that metal plate, could it be possible someone accidentally cut themselves. I don't know maybe.

Bow POV:
I am with Glimmer, Adora and Catra. We are investigating for clues, but so far we didn't find anything yet. "Hey, why is there so many irons here?" Asked Netossa. I looked over to Netossa and Spinnerella. I walk over to them saw what they're talking about. There are seven irons connected to the circuits, but why though. I don't know whether it's important or not, but I am going to say it is. "Uh..these claw marks are not mine look." I see Catra comparing her claws to the claw marks on the wall, it is bigger than hers. Wait could it be...Hordak?

Mermista POV:
I went back to the kitchen with Perfuma and Entrapta. I saw Scorpia there. She crouching over something. "What are you doing?" I asked her. "Huh..oh look what I found." Scorpia picks something up with her pincers. "Wait that looks like a tooth!" Entrapta blurts it out. "A tooth?" Perfuma repeats. "Yes! Any carnivorous species have these sharp tooth, capable to maul their victims to death. This is so fascinating!" Entrapta said in glee. What is with her? Anyway, someone with sharp teeth and claws definitely killed Kyle. "So um...found any clues?" Asked Scorpia nervously. "Well we found claw marks on the fuse and some purple stuff." I said to her. "Purple...like some kind of juice or-" I cut her off. "I don't know. We can't waste anymore time now. We need to keep investigating who is responsible." I said to her. "Entrapta, what are you doing?!" Asked Perfuma to Entrapta. I look over and she is...touching the body parts with her hair. "Fascinating. Those bite marks are powerful, it could be enough to tear off a limb." Said Entrapta. "What?" I asked. "Those bite marks look." She then shows Kyle's severed arm up close to my face. Does she not care about Etherian's life? "Those are massive jaws. You can see those teeth marks are left on the arm." Said Entrapta as she points each teeth marks on the arm with her hair. Looks like we found another clue. I guess.

Glimmer POV:
No good. This is not good. We hardly got any evidence. I don't know about others. Did they find any evidence? I hope they did so we can survive this. Ok what are the evidences we have? Seven irons, massive claw marks on the walls. Those are two evidences we have. Wait, but we need alibis. Of course yes. I did see Lonnie with Kyle and Rogelio leave the party so did Hordak. Before I could finish a thought, the bells rang. The screen turns on and shows Monokuma with cocktail. "Alright, chumps times up!! Make way to the sexy Monokuma statue!! Puhuhuhu!" Monokuma laughs then the screen turns off.

First trial

No one's POV:
Everyone stood where the sexy Monokuma statue stands with a giant vase over his shoulder pouring an infinite amount of water from it to the fountain. "Ok so...what are we waiting for?" Asked Mermista. With that said, the platform around the fountain starts shaking then moves down with everyone on top of it. The platform acts as an elevator. They finally reached their new destination in the underground. They leave the elevator and goes inside which resembles a court room. As expected Monokuma was there. "Alright chumps, stand by your podiums with your names listed on them!" Monokuma points out. Everyone then stands by their podiums. One of the podiums has the portrait of Kyle with a big red cross on it. So it begins.

Frosta: Ok! Someone put your hand in the air if you're the one who killed Kyle!
Mermista: They won't pull their hand up if they killed someone.
Perfuma: Can I ask a question real quick please? What's with Kyle's picture?
Monokuma: I feel awful if he's left out just because they died. Friendship penetrates even death's barrier! First up is the case summary, let the trial begin!

(Nonstop debate begins)
Adora: Ok Kyle died right?
Catra: We all know that dummy.
Netossa: He died quite brutally too.
Spinnerella: And in the 'kitchen' too.
Mermista: No that's wrong!!
(Nonstop debate ends)

Mermista: Kyle did not die in the kitchen. Do you remember the blood trails that we saw?
Lonnie:Oh yeah, we all followed it too.
Bow: It was quite obvious don't you think?
Scorpia: He was still bleeding right. I mean, you can't make blood trails without blood right?

Double Trouble: Despite how feeble and weak he is, it's no surprising he would be the first victim.
Rogelio: (Lizard noises)
Lonnie: He said that Kyle must have been taken by surprise.
Catra: What's next? Since we got past on how Kyle got in the kitchen.
Glimmer: What's the murder weapon?
Entrapta: Interesting. This is starting to sound like a real trial.

(Nonstop debate begins)
Hordak: What was used to kill her?
Entrapta: Judging by those marks I saw on his arm. The 'murder weapon' I guess you could call it that way, was someone's jaws.
Perfuma: Wait! Are you saying that it was someone who has a taste for Etherian's flesh...'like a cannibal'?!!
Mermista: No that's not it!!
(Nonstop debate ends)

Mermista: No. According to Entrapta's speculation, she said the bites are caused by someone with sharp teeth.
Entrapta: Ah yes. I even got the tooth. Look!!
Scorpia: Oh shit! I forgot about that too. Sorry everyone. I found it stuck on the floorboard.
Catra: On the floorboard..like what? Like whatever it is just tries to bite on the floorboard.
Adora: Oh! Maybe there was a fight then. Actually...where does that get us?
Frosta: I am going to guess it's either Double Trouble, Hordak, Catra and Rogelio. They got sharp teeth!
Hordak: You have no proof that I am the culprit, you disobedient child. What evidence could there be if it was me?
Catra: You..bitch!! That tooth is not mine. I haven't lost any.
Double Trouble: I was with you lot at that time. Ugh, besides my fangs are quite small.
Rogelio: (Lizard grunts)
Lonnie: He said he didn't lose any teeth at that time.
Double Trouble, Hordak, Catra: I am not the culprit!!
Rogelio: (Lizard roar)

(Mass panic debate starts) (Everyone talk over one another)
Catra: There's no way that tooth belongs to me.
Lonnie: Where were you, Hordak?!
Hordak: I went to my room. Staying at the party was pointless.
Netossa: What if you're lying?! What if you went somewhere else?!
Rogelio: (Lizard grunts)
Lonnie: He said he has his teeth intact. There's no way it's his.
Double Trouble: That tooth is way too big for me. Look at my teeth. Blah!!
Perfuma: Ok please close your mouth! (startled)
Catra: Mine too! My teeth are 'too small' for that!
Mermista: I agree with that!
(Mass panic debate ends)

Mermista: To what Catra said is true. Her teeth are far too small. Double Trouble is a shape shifter. They most likely lied to us.
Double Trouble: Oh you imbecile. I can't transform any other forms now when the killing game started.
Glimmer: What?
Double Trouble: Don't believe me. Try it yourself.
Glimmer: (Tries to teleport, but nothing happens) Huh! I...I can't use my magic.
Mermista: I can't use mine either!
Frosta: Hey what the hell!
Monokuma: Oh I'm sorry. I must have forgot to tell you something. On the last 24 hours of starting the killing game, you cannot use your magic, it would have been unfair. Now all of you would have to kill each other magic-less!
Double Trouble: See! Told you I wasn't the culprit.
Mermista: Hold on we haven't decided that yet. Other than the tooth, who left the party room?
Glimmer: I saw Lonnie, Rogelio, Kyle then Hordak leave the room. I followed Lonnie before....she pins me down.
Lonnie: Yeah! What were you trying to do anyway?!
Glimmer: I thought you're going to kill someone!!
Lonnie: Seriously! I was going back to my room!
Glimmer: Why did you pin me down?!

Lonnie: Because I saw you following me! Shouldn't I be paranoid?!
Bow: Ok stop! Hordak, where did you go after you left the party?
Hordak: Fools! I told you I left to get to my room!
Spinnerella: What if you're lying?
Hordak: Any evidence?
Mermista: Wait! Hold on! Why do we keep thinking about the time at the party? Why not think about 'what' happened before the party?
Entrapta: Oh! I saw Hordak in his sanctum, before we're invited to the party!
Perfuma: What about way before?
Entrapta: Um...nope. I didn't see him then.
Scorpia: I saw Rogelio, Kyle and Lonnie from the laundry room. They had big piles of clothes.
Double Trouble: Really? Didn't you see anything strange?
Scorpia...now that you mention it, I did. I remember I saw something long from the pile of clothes. It was like...grey or something.
Entrapta: You mean the cords from any machines. How fascinating!
Bow: Wait! Hold on, Entrapta. We found seven irons in the party room. Could this cause something?
Entrapta: Hmm...well it can definitely could blow up the fuse and cause the heating in the room.
Catra: If it's that the case, then why did it cause a blackout?
Entrapta: If the main source of lighting is from the fuse, then the fuse could be faulty...or 'damaged'.
Mermista: I agree with that! We went to the storage room and we found a massive claw marks on the fuse.
Netossa: Wait! There was also claw marks on the walls in the party room.
Frosta: It pretty much links to those with claws. Hordak, Rogelio and Catra!! One of them are the culprits.
Catra: Idiot! It's not me. My claws cannot be that big.
Adora: That's true actually. Look (Lifts up her sleeve) Catra scratched me. Her claws are small. There's no way she can be the culprit.

Frosta: Ok then...it's either Hordak or Rogelio.
Rogelio: (Lizard roars and grunts)
Lonnie: He said that those are not his claw marks, it is nothing compared to his hand size.
Hordak: I cannot be the culprit. What could link me to it?
Mermista: A bit off topic here. Me, Entrapta and Perfuma found some kind of purple stuff underneath the wires or whatever its called.
Adora: Purple stuff..is it like juice or somet-
Entrapta: It could be blood!
Perfuma: Blood! (Terrified)
Entrapta: Not all of us have red blood cells, some of us are different species for example Catra is part feline, Hordak is also different, so is Rogelio and Double Trouble.
Mermista: How could there be blood?
Entrapta: From my examination, the blood was also on the metal plate and the corners around it are really sharp. An accidental touch on the corner will cut you till you bleed.
Catra: My blood is the same as yours. My blood is red.
Double Trouble: Want to see my blood? Here. (Bites themselves on their finger till it bleeds)
Entrapta: Oh! Your blood is blue! Fascinating! I must have a sample of it.
Netossa: I guess that leaves either Rogelio or Hordak.
Scorpia: Oh this is going to be a problem. We're kinda...I don't know..split down the middle.
Monokuma: Wait did you say split down the middle?!
Scorpia: Uh..yeah sir.
Monokuma: Great!! I've been waiting for this for so long!! This is a scrum debate. Where two groups can't agree to others' opinions, they then fight with their arguments.

Monokuma then pulls out a golden key and twists the lock. The podiums below lights up and levitates in the air.

First scrum debate

Red side are Hordak is the culprit.
Blue side are Rogelio is the culprit.

Players on red side are Rogelio, Lonnie, Catra, Adora, Glimmer, Bow, Spinnerella, Netossa, Frosta
Players on blue side are Hordak, Entrapta, Mermista, Scorpia, Double Trouble, Perfuma

(Scrum debate begins)
Glimmer: I suspect Hordak is the culprit.
Entrapta: If we see his blood, we might confirm it.
Frosta: Did you see his teeth? It's big!
Mermista: So is that lizard boy!
Rogelio: (Lizard roars)
Lonnie: He said the claw marks does not match his.
Scorpia: We don't know that the claw marks match Hordak's yet.
Adora: What if he caused the blackout?
Perfuma: There was seven irons in the party room, which could cause a blackout.
Catra: According to Entrapta, she said that the fuse controls the light.
Hordak: Entrapta said that the fuse was damaged. The damaged fuse won't stop working till it drains their power.
Bow: Hordak left the party room, he must be lying that he went back to his dorm.
Double Trouble: Rogelio also left the party room.
Spinnerella: It's impossible that Rogelio would ever kill Kyle, they're close friends.
Mermista: Regardless of that, close friends could also cause betrayal.
(Scrum debate ends)

Caught the culprit

No One's POV:
The podiums were brought back down to their positions.

Glimmer: So...who do we suspect?
Entrapta: I suspect Rogelio.
Frosta: Might explaining why?
Entrapta: Well I have my mask that could see through the dark. I..I did actually saw someone big before Mermista pounced on me.
Mermista: In fact I do remember you told me that. Your mask has a nightshift power. The fact that you're saying this now, the person you saw, how did they look?
Entrapta: Well the head..kinda resembles Rogelio only extra long spikes on the head, bigger body.
Catra: Huh...are you not mistaken it for Hordak?
Entrapta: Not at all. Look at Hordak, he doesn't have any spikes on him. Only Rogelio does.
Lonnie: Wait a minute! Why are you saying this now?
Entrapta: I forgot.
Lonnie: Seriously!
Rogelio: (Lizard grunts)
Lonnie: He's saying that he has no memories of what happened during black out...wait why didn't you tell me?!
Rogelio: (Lizard grunts)
Lonnie: You idiot! Why didn't you tell me what you were planni-
(Lonnie covers her mouth)
Rogelio: (Visible sweating)
Adora: Plan...what plan?
Rogelio and Lonnie: (Trembling)
Hordak: If we want to catch the culprit easier, here! (He scratches his face with his claw. Very light red flows down his cheek.)
Entrapta: Oh! Can I have a sample after?
Mermista: Rogelio! Tell us what were you planning?!
Rogelio: (Trembling more, sweating more)
Bow: Wait Entrapta! Could it possible that Rogelio could make himself bigger to...I don't know...murder someone?!!

Entrapta: Hmm...despite that he's related to a lizard, it is possible that he has other abilities such as regenerating their missing body parts. Ah ha! Even in darkness, they would lose control over themselves and become ruthless savages!!
Perfuma: So...we actually have our culprit.
Rogelio: (Visibly crying in fear)
Netossa: Wait! One more thing. Rogelio cut yourself or something and show us your blood.
Rogelio: (Trembling more) (Lizard blood gurgling shriek)
Lonnie: He said 'Nooooo!'
Spinnerella: Also the fact that Scorpia saw Rogelio with Lonnie and Kyle with pile of clothes with something hidden is most likely the irons.
Catra: So them three were working together to kill one of us.
Frosta: So did Rogelio...accidentally kill Kyle in the dark?
Mermista: That's it! According to Entrapta's account, he can lose control in the dark. He must have.
Monokuma: You only got five minutes left chumps! Figure out now or guess who the culprit is!
Bow: Ahh!! Wait!! We weren't aware that we have a timer!
Monokuma: Course not! It would just spoil it so I wouldn't find pleasure from your fears.
Mermista: Ok let me close this case!

Mermista:
Before Monokuma invited us to the party room, Scorpia saw the culprit, the victim and Lonnie in the laundry room because there was plenty of irons to take with them and hide them inside the pile of clothes. There's a good reason why they did that. They hidden the seven irons very well from us, that we only spotted it after the victim's murdered. After the plug in the irons into the circuits, they regrouped to us and pretend they didn't do anything wrong. Since the killing game had less time before we could all get executed, this got us all to the party room, making it easier for the culprit. The culprit asked Kyle to follow with him along with Lonnie, however Hordak wanted to leave the party room. Glimmer then follows after Lonnie instead because the group has split their ways. Kyle and the culprit were in the storage room and the culprit swipes his claws across the fuse to damage it. Accidentally, he scratched some part of his body, which caused him to bleed, which leads to our new evidence; purple blood. The culprit and Kyle went back in the party room. In few moments later, the lights went out because of the power surge caused by seven irons. In the dark, Entrapta puts her mask back on her face which has night vision. She looks around and saw the culprit. She then couldn't see who it was because I pounced on her when I thought she was the killer. She did manage to catch some details of the culprit. During the blackout, Kyle was then later dragged into the kitchen then was mauled to death. To the point that his body parts were flown across the kitchen. The culprit then regroups to us. After the blackout ends, we found the scratch marks on the walls, which is just as big as someone we expected, well after they went savage. The key evidences are the purple blood, the claw marks and Scorpia's account. Therefore overall the culprit is none other than Rogelio!

First execution

No one's POV:
The court room was silent. Everyone in shock and relieved at the same time after finding out the culprit.

Lonnie: Rogelio? Did...did you really....murder Kyle?
Rogelio:.....
Frosta: Well say something! Did you kill Kyle or not?!
Rogelio:.....
Monokuma: To make this easier, let's cast a voting time!!! Let's see if you make the right choice or the dreadfully wrong one!! Who is the blackened?!

The monopads pops up in front of the podiums and everyone must choose who the culprit is. The voting is finished. A casino machine with the LED lights spinning around till it hits on Rogelio's icon. The machine then shows winner.

Monokuma: CONGRATULAAAAAAAAATIONS!!!! Rogelio is Kyle's killer. All of you apart from Lonnie got it right.
Lonnie: I refuse to believe he's the killer!! There's no way. We made a promise that we would escape together!!
Rogelio: (Lizard noises)
Lonnie: Rogelio! Why...why did you murder your own buddy damn it?!! (Starts crying)
Rogelio: (Lizard sad grunts)
Monokuma: I'll translate that. He said 'I wasn't intended to kill Kyle. I was intending to kill someone else. I warned him about my savage side in the dark. I told him to stay away from me. I know my way to shut anyone up by biting their throats. I killed him instantly. I thought I could get away with what I done, but after murdering my greatest friend..I...I got nothing left to lose.'
Lonnie: Nothing left to lose!! What about me?! You haven't lost me yet haven't you?!!
Rogelio: (Lizard grunting noises)
Monokuma: I know but after I'm gone, that's when I know we won't stay in touch anymore.

Lonnie: Uh....!
Adora: Who were you trying to kill?
Rogelio: (Lizard noises)
Monokuma: Anyone I am near.
Netossa: To what I remember, you were close with Kyle.
Adora: Seems like you've miscalculated.
Rogelio: (Lizard noises)
Monokuma: It appears I have.
Spinnerella: Why did you want to kill someone?
Lonnie: We want to escape this hellhole. Me, Rogelio and Kyle came up with a plan to try and kill the mastermind. We thought about destroying the fuse and turn on seven irons to cause power surge. But..after Monokuma invited everyone to the party before the time expires, our plan failed. We then gave up on our plan. I wanted to head back to my room to think about something, Rogelio or Kyle never told me about their new plan. That's why...I never knew what either of them were up to.
Rogelio: (Lizard grunts)
Monokuma: I'm sorry that I didn't tell you. It's just that it was so risky, but it turns out I messed up my own plan and killed Kyle. You're a better leader than I am.
Lonnie: Rogelio...I...(continues to sob)
Monokuma: Ok I've waited long enough for this. According to the game, once you catch the blackened, they will have to take their punishments like champs.
Rogelio: (Lizard screech)
Lonnie: NOOOOO!!! WAIT GIVE US MORE TIME I BEG OF YOU!!!
Monokuma: Rogelio, the anthropomorphic lizard has been found guilty in mauling Kyle to death. Now IIIIIIIT'S PUNISHMENT TIIIIIIME!!!!!

Monokuma whacks his toy hammer on a big red button. A monitor displays 'Game Over' with pixelated Rogelio being dragged by pixelated Monokuma. The bottom says 'Rogelio has been found guilty, time for the punishment!'.

Rogelio looks around the courtroom, everyone staring at him until something wraps around his thick neck and pulls him. The doors behind him burst open then he was yanked out quickly. He then falls from the sky and lands on the sandy island; so hot, full of cacti, and no water. A screen then shows a title 'Wild west! Rogelio's execution!'. Rogelio stands on his feet until he saw something big and terrifying. A giant metallic lizard like robot comes charging at him. Rogelio screeches and runs. Rogelio is being chased by the giant metal lizard who's jaws were chomping up and down. Rogelio's speed got slower, his mana is draining. The robot bites off his tail, Rogelio screeches in fear. The robot then manages to grab Rogelio by his shirt with its jaws and throws him into the air. Rogelio screeches one last time before the robot's jaws claps shut onto his torso. The robot then shakes him like a vile dog. Rogelio's body is then ripped in half. Rogelio top half is still alive, he tries to crawl away while bleeding out. The robot pulls out a giant flamethrower then fires at Rogelio's severely injured body. Rogelio is then turned to ashes then to dust. His dust then flies off with the wind.

Everyone stood in horror, fear, shock, disgust after watching his execution on the giant video screen. "Rogelio." Lonnie then fell to her knees and screams and cries. Her tears falling to the floor. Her banging her fists on the floor like a gorilla. Her anger and despair is a music to Monokuma's ears.

Work and spend together

Adora POV:
I woke up immediately after a nightmare. I remember seeing Kyle's corpse in pieces and Rogelio being torn apart then burned. I got off the bed and went to the bathroom. I splash the cold water onto my face. Like usual, I would do my workouts before I go to canteen to eat something. I did 50 push-ups then left my dorm room. As I was walking down the hallway, someone around the corner pounce on me. I screamed. "Oh it's just you Adora." Said Catra with a snicker on her smile. She is sitting on top of me. "Catra! Why must you do that?" I asked her. "I was bored. Come on! I'm starving." Catra gets off of me, is she not going to help me up? Jackass. We then went to the canteen together.

We sat on the same table. I look around and poor Lonnie. She is sitting alone, she looks really depressed. Well..I can't blame her. She lost her two friends in one day. Scorpia walks up to her. "Hey um..would you like to spend time with m-" Before Scorpia could finish her question, Lonnie shouts at her. "No! Go away!!" The look on Scorpia's face, she does feel sorry for her. Scorpia took her word for it and went over to Perfuma. "Don't worry about it, Scorpia. She's just grieving her loss, I'm going gardening, wanna come along?" asked Perfuma. I then saw her drag Scorpia with her hands. Looks like they're going gardening. Never mind I think Scorpia changed her mind.

"Hey girls." I look over to see Glimmer and Bow walking over to us. They sat their seats on our table. "How are you two?" Asked Bow kindly. "I'm fine." Said Catra. "Well I'm good too. Had a little nightmare." I said nervously. "Is it about yesterday?" Asked Glimmer. "Yes. It's just...I thought the killing game was just a big joke or something, but it turns out it's all too real. So...who knows who's going to the next victim?" I said, a bit scared. I then felt Glimmer rests her hands on mine. "I promise you we'll get out of here somehow. We just need to work together." Said Glimmer encouragingly.

Catra POV:
Why the hell do they sound so sure? I hardly doubt that we could ever escape. We are all going to die. Besides I don't trust sparkles nor that archer guy at all. The fact that sparkles said that we need to work together is a load of BS. Did they forget what happened yesterday? Rogelio worked with Kyle and eventually he mauled him to death. Trusting anyone and working together is a terrible move. We need to be careful around us. Who knows what happens next? Anyway, I think there are few people I could try to talk to; Entrapta and Scorpia. They're gullible so I think I could try and talk to them. "Hey Catra, we're going outside. Wanna come?" Adora asks me. "N..no thanks. I'll catch you guys later." I said to her. "Alright. Your loss." Said Adora.

I then walk over to Entrapta and Scorpia. "Hey girls, what are you up to?" I asked them. "Oh hi Catra." I noticed Scorpia blush, why is she blushing? "Catra! This is fascinating! Look!" Entrapta then shows me some kind of computer. I don't understand what she's showing me. "The walls are filled with a very powerful magnetic field, which would explain why the elemental princesses couldn't use their magic." Said Entrapta. "Have you figured out how to take down those 'magnetic field' thing?" I asked confused. "Well...I have but it wouldn't be so easy because I need something called runestones and combine them together. That way it will destroy the walls around us." Said Entrapta excitedly. "Where do we find those things?" I asked her. "I don't know, but according to my readings they are found somewhere around this building." Said Entrapta. "Well...let's try to find them then." Said Scorpia. "Really! You'll help me find them!!" Entrapta said so joyfully that there's tear in her eyes. "I can help too." I said to them seriously then they grabbed me. They force me to dance with them, so not my thing.

Scorpia POV:
I can't believe I am hanging out with Catra. She is so cute...and...misunderstood. Anyway we were following Entrapta. I don't know if I am the only one who is freaked out by her hair like...how can she move them. I can't move my hair at all. Anyway we followed her to the library. She then splits her pigtails into strands and starts rustling around the room. "I am sure there could be some kind of secrets hiding in here." Said Entrapta maniacally. "Well...anything?" Asked Catra. "Nope. Hold on maybe here." Entrapta then moves to close to the bookshelf. "Ah ha!!" Entrapta then rustles her hair around the books in the shelf then she pulls an odd one out. The bookshelf moves on its own then behind it was a metal door. "Ah ha! Just as I thought I would find a secret passage here." Said Entrapta proudly. "Oh looks like it needs a keycard. Hold on maybe if I could just scan it and make a keycard of my own." Said Entrapta as she pulls out a tablet from her pocket. She takes a picture of it. "Ok, let's get back to my lab and start unlocking more mysteries." Said Entrapta proudly. Before we left the library, we put the books back onto the shelf and push the bookshelf back in place. We're planning to destroy the wall that the mastermind of this game created, let's hope we can do it. What am I saying? We 'can' do it!

Bow POV:
We went to the sauna and it is quite relaxing, but not for Adora. Has she ever been to a sauna before? Well first times is always better than second, I guess. Adora really can't handle the heat at all so we have to leave earlier. "Have you ever been in a sauna before?" Asked Glimmer. "No...it's...it's an absolute torture. Why would anyone go in there?" Asked Adora panting heavily from the heat. "It helps with your body. It cleans your skin and helps with your mind too." I said to her with a wide smile.

After leaving the sauna, I saw Frosta running. She looks like she got scared of something. "Hey Frosta, what's wr...ong?" I tried to ask her but she just ran past me. I have some bad feeling about this. "Why is she running?" Asked Glimmer. "Who knows? She's a little kid after all, kids run from nothing right? Am I right?" Asked Adora stupidly. "No...something is wrong. We should find out what." Said Glimmer. We then went to the opposite of Frosta's direction.

Mermista POV:
I am so bored. I just had a quick swim; hey at least I could still turn myself into a mermaid for some reason, I thought Monokuma said that we can't use magic now. Anyway I left the pool and left the swimming building or whatever, I then saw someone from afar coming from the vents. I couldn't make it out who though but I do see long hair...is it...Entrapta? What was she doing in the vents anyway? Something's fishy going on. No pun intended even though I am the funniest one here. Anyway I make my way to where Entrapta has been and around the corner I met up with Adora, Glimmer and Bow. "Oh hey Mermista, what are you doing here?" Asked Adora with a smile. "I saw Entrapta jump out of the vents. I wonder why though?" I said to them. "What vents?" Asked Adora. "Up there." I point my finger to the opened vents. "It's too high up for me, I won't be able to reach it." I said. "Only someone who could be athletic enough or someone tall enough." Said Glimmer. "Let's go inside the building. There's got to be something that Entrapta is hiding." I said with a hiss. There is something I don't like about her, and I already think it's because she's weird.

We then went inside the building. It was the shower buildings. There are five different shower stalls and apparently all of them are out of order. The big signs in each shower stalls says 'Sorry Out of order! No water!" My worst nightmare. "Maybe Entrapta was trying to fix the showers." Said Bow. "Let's keep looking I am sure there is something suspicious." I said to them. "Speaking of something suspicious. Do you see that?" Adora points underneath the shower wooden door. I look underneath, my eyes then widen in horror. "No no no no no!!" I said shocked. I tried opening the door, but it won't budge. I tried hard to push but it won't budge at all. I then kick the door opened. The sight something I did not want to see again.

Blood splattered everywhere. Baseball bat is close to the corpse. A lovely, peace loving woman I ever known is against the wall, her head bleeding. Perfuma is dead. Glimmer, Adora and Bow starts screaming behind me, making me scream. We then heard the bells ring. The monitor turns on. "A body has been discovered and it is none other than peace-loving hoe; Perfuma. Now everyone you know the drill. Start investigating!!! Puhuhuhu!!" Monokuma then laughs. The screen switches off.

Second investigation

Mermista POV:
Seems like we're doing this again. "Wait! Maybe we can save her right! Her head is still bleeding. Let's stop the bleeding and-" Bow said in panic and quickly. I stopped him. "We can't! Monokuma would not have announced if someone died. I'm afraid that Perfuma is..." I choked on my words. "No no no!" Bow then starts slamming his fists on the shower tiles. "Come on! Do this for her! We must start investigating and catch the culprit!" I tried to encourage him but he kept crying. "We'll give ourselves some time." Said Glimmer as she escorts Bow out of the building. Look like I am stuck with Adora. "Adora, look around if there's something...suspicious." I said to her. "Like the baseball bat." She points. "Yes. We already know the murder weapon. Now keep looking for something other than the bat that can be suspicious." I said to her, she nods. I don't think she knows what she's doing.

Adora POV:
Ok suspicious. What can be suspicious? I wondered and looked around, I don't see anything suspicious. I heard the doors opening. "Adora! Hey!" It was Catra. "Hey. Just uh..looking for...clues." I said awkwardly. To be honest, I have no idea what I am doing. "So Perfuma was the next victim?" Asked Entrapta behind Catra. "Wait! Where's Scorpia?" Catra asks her. "She's outside crying over her loss." Said Entrapta as she points the direction where Scorpia is. I looked over and see Scorpia hugging her knees and crying tremendously. She and Perfuma were close weren't they? Anyway I shouldn't think of that now, I must investigate. "Oh what's that?" Something caught Entrapta's view. She walks over to something. Turns out she's walking over to feet wash basin. "That's quite a footprint." Said Catra. "Yep. Quite ironic that the basin is used to wash your feet and yet someone didn't use it properly." Said Entrapta. I looked up and saw the window is open. I don't think I can reach it up there. "Hey girls look up there. That window is open. Can anyone reach it there?" I asked. "Entrapta move. Let me try to see if I can reach it." Catra pushes Entrapta out of her way. She then stands on the basin. "I am almost able to reach it. I can if I was taller." Said Catra. "Can you fit through it?" I asked. "I don't know I can't reach it." Said Catra. "Let me try." Said Entrapta excitedly. She then uses her hair to stretch up to the window and she manages to crawl through it. She then slips back inside. "Yep, you can." Entrapta smiles.

Glimmer POV:
Bow really is not at his best. Hearing the fact that Perfuma died did really struck him. I sat next to him, comforting him as best as I can. "We already lost two people, now we lost another one today." Bow grits his teeth in frustration. "We...we must catch the culprit. That's the only option we have." I said to him. And speaking of catching the culprit, I saw something. I stand up and walk over and it turns out I was right. "What is it?" Asked Bow. I point my gloved finger at it. "It's a smudge of blood." I said to him. I decided to follow where this blood is leading too. It leads to the garden. Perfuma's garden. There's blood on the flowers, on the grass and on the wooden bench. "Huh wait...there's blood here...but...we saw Perfuma in the other building...how...how did blood get here?" Asked Bow stuttering. "I don't know. I hope no one else got killed too." I said. We then start looking around for more clues. I then noticed something. A rope with blood on it as well as the blood stained knife too. "Hey Bow! I found a rope. Don't know if it could mean anything. I also found knife with blood on it too." I said to him. "In fact the rope could be because according to Monokuma file, Perfuma's cause of death is unknown." Bow then shows me the picture of Perfuma's silhouette with her head highlighted pink. Maybe a rope did has something to do with her.

Mermista POV:
I pinned Entrapta to the wall by her neck and she's pushing me back with her hair. "WHAT WERE YOU DOING IN THE VENTS?! TELL US NOW!!!" I yelled at her. "I was collecting some metal parts since there are a lot of it in there but the air vents are locked shut. Speaking of vents I should check." I then loosen my grip around her neck. She then stretches her hair up to the vents. "Huh. It is tightly shut, I can't even open it. Not only that, you can't even see anything through the vents either." Said Entrapta. I don't know if she's lying or not, but I am going to take her word for it before the trial.

Spinnerella POV:
Netossa seems so distant lately, but what. Why is she like this? "Netty?" I put my hand on her shoulder. "Sorry...it's...it's just..will we ever make it out alive?" She asked me. "Of course we'll make it out alive." I reassured her. I then pulled something from her hair. "Netty, you got a leave on you." I said with a giggle. She also lets out a giggle. "Come on. Let's start investigating." Said Netossa. Here's the Netossa I know, determined, willing to help others. While we're going outside, we then saw Double Trouble with Hordak. I wonder what they're talking about.

Catra POV:
I can see Mermista not trusting Entrapta whatsoever. I don't care about that. I can see Scorpia still outside crying, I walk over to her. I sit next to her. "Listen Scorpia, I know you lost Perfuma but right now we need your help to investigate who the killer was. Can you do that for her?" I tried to snap her out of it, but she is still crying to her knees. "Scorpia, Come on! Don't you want to help us..catch who killed Perfuma! Do it for her damn it!!" I tried to encourage her, but I think I seem to have got her moving. "You're right wildcat. I can't waste my time crying. I need to start getting serious." She stood on her feet, she stopped crying. Nevermind I was wrong, she starts crying again. I then pat her back, comforting her, at least I think I am. "Oh hey what's that?" Scorpia then stops crying again, what the fuck?! I looked over where she was going. To the bucket. Seriously. "I seen this bucket in the garden. What's it doing out here? I should put it back where it came from." Before Scorpia could do anything, I stopped her. "No. Leave it. It could come in handy later...I think." I said to her. She shrugs her shoulders with a smile. We then heard the bells ring. The monitors turn on around us. "Alrighty shitty nuggets!! You know the drill, make may to the sexy statue. I hope you did find out who the culprit is. Puhuhuhuhu!!" Monokuma laughs before the monitors switched off. I hate that stuffed animal, I wish I could kill him.

Second trial

No one's POV:
Everyone arrived by the trial grounds, stood by their chosen podiums. The frames of Rogelio and Kyle stood on their podiums with red crosses across their portraits. So it begins.

Scorpia: (Her hair covers her eyes, her eyes glow red) Who did it? Who killed Perfuma?
Catra: We're going to get into it now. Now what have we found?
Mermista: We found Perfuma in the shower stall.
Adora: Yeah and all of the shower stalls were locked as well.
Mermista: No they're just...blocked with something. If it is locked, we would have saw the broken lock.
Double Trouble: Is that so? What was the murder weapon?
Mermista: It was a 'baseball bat'. She was struck in the head.
Glimmer: You're wrong!!
Mermista: How am I wrong? You saw Perfuma's dead body.
Glimmer: Me and Bow went to her garden and we saw the knife covered in blood. It was laying by one of her plants.
Bow: We also found blood stained rope too.
Entrapta: Rope. In fact it all makes sense now.
Lonnie: What makes sense?
Entrapta: According to my autopsy, she had a massive bruising around her neck. She also has a stabbed wound in the head.
Mermista: So you're saying that she was strangled first then stabbed in the head.
Entrapta: Actually I'm not sure which order it went.
Adora: If she was stabbed in the head first then why would the culprit strangle her after?
Hordak: A stab in the head would kill the victim instantly, it wouldn't make sense to suffocate them with such a rope.
Frosta: What about the bat? It was covered in blood too wasn't it?
Scorpia: What if it's a 'decoy?'
Glimmer: (Slams her hands on the podium) I agree with that!
Catra: Agree with her what?
Glimmer: It could be a decoy because me and Bow saw the blood trails from the garden. I think Perfuma was dragged to the shower building.

Netossa: If that is the case then how come we didn't see the blood trails leading to the shower building?
Catra: It could have been washed off.
Spinnerella: How can it be washed off?
Catra: Scorpia found a bucket outside of the building.
Scorpia: Yeah I've seen this bucket in the cleaning room.
Bow: Where is this cleaning room?
Scorpia: It's not far, it's actually close to the shower building. If you come out of the shower building, you head forward then turn left then you turn right and-Catra: We'll get to that later.
Hordak: Who was nearby the shower building?
Mermista: I saw Entrapta escape the vents.
Entrapta: Huh me?
Mermista: Yes you!
Bow: We saw Frosta running past us.
Frosta: Hey! What are you trying to say?
Adora: We also saw Mermista too. She could be the culprit too right?
Mermista: Hey don't pin this on me!
Entrapta: I didn't really do anything particular in the vents.
Frosta: I am not the killer! I was running away from something else.
Mermista: I did go for a swim, but I never went to the shower building.

(At the same time)
Entrapta: I am not the culprit.
Frosta: I'm not the culprit!
Mermista: Ugh! I am not the culprit.

Mass panic debate starts:
(People talk over one another)
Entrapta: I went to the vents to collect some parts.
Netossa: What were you exactly collecting?
Entrapta: Some scrap metals that I torn out from rusty airvents.
Netossa: Is that your alibi?

Frosta: I was running away from something.
Catra: What did you see?
Frosta: I saw trails of blood!
Mermista: I was swimming in the pool.
Hordak: You went swimming to wash off the blood.
Mermista: No! I was bored.
Bow: Why in the air vents?
Entrapta: There's so much metals I can collect. Iron, copper, and even gold.
Adora: Blood trails? You're lying right?
Frosta: No I saw the 'blood trails' to the shower building.
Glimmer: (Slams her fists on the podium) I heard it!

Mass panic debate ends.

Glimmer: Frosta, you said you saw the blood trails to the shower building. Before we got here, we didn't see it. Are you saying the truth?
Frosta: Yes!
Bow: Why didn't you say anything?
Frosta: I panicked ok! I knew something was up! I didn't want to be next!
Adora: How come Mermista didn't see the blood trails?
Double Trouble: The swimming pool is behind the shower room. She would never have seen Frosta nor the bloody trails.
Bow: What about Entrapta? She could have killed Perfuma.
Entrapta: Huh! No, I didn't.
Hordak: Impossible you fool! By your judgement, the victim is soaked with her own blood. Entrapta would have got blood on her.
Catra: What if she 'washed' it off?
Glimmer: (Slams her fists on the podium) Impossible!
Catra: Why? It's not that far fetched.
Glimmer: No the shower waters were unavailable. No way Entrapta could have killed Perfuma.
Hordak: She was with me at the time.
Lonnie: Doing what? Spit it out!
Hordak: (Reveals his new armor from his cloak) She made me feel powerful. She created my new set of armor. Any of you discounts her, are utter fools!

Entrapta: (Smiles) Thanks. I like being friends with you too. (Makes Hordak blush)
Lonnie: Ugh! That's icky!
Double Trouble: When did the murder take place?
Bow: In the morning right?
Scorpia: No...it was in the afternoon right? I was with Perfuma this morning. She told me she's going to her garden.
Double Trouble: We have forgotten someone else's alibis! Netossa and Spinnerella's. (They sang)
Spinnerella and Netossa: (Same time) Us!
Double Trouble: You two kept quiet for a while. You haven't exactly spoke about your alibis. Tell us now.

(Everyone then looks at them)
Spinnerella: I...I was looking for Netty. She...she was distant with me.
Netossa: I wasn't. I was...listen Spinny...I...I was just...uh...nevermind that. I love you, no matter what situation.
Hordak: Enough with your sentiment! What's your alibi?
Netossa: I..I was in my room. I didn't feel like talking.
Glimmer: Ok we're getting a bit off track. Now we got their alibis.
Mermista: Hold on! We haven't figured out what kept the shower doors locked and...Entrapta couldn't even open the vents either. They were tightly shut.
Entrapta: Oh yes they are. Oh almost forgot. According to my observation of the doors' thresholds were actually glued.
Mermista: You serious! Why didn't you said to begin with?!
Entrapta: I thought everyone knew.
Adora: Wait! Glued?
Bow: I guess that explains why we couldn't open the shower doors.
Adora: But it doesn't explain the footprint on the basin.
Scorpia: Footprint on what?
Entrapta: We found a footprint on the basin. I am sure someone have managed to climb over to the opened window.

Adora: Only if someone is tall enough. Entrapta you said that only someone who is tall enough right?
Entrapta: Oh yeah I did say that, or someone who is athletic enough.

Glimmer: Who can be athletic enough?
Mermista: I can point out Double Trouble or Netossa. They are close enough as suspects.
Netossa: Me! I pointed out my alibi, I was in my room.
Double Trouble: Meow. What makes you think it's me?
Mermista: We haven't heard your alibi yet!
Bow: Right we forgot about yours! Where were you?
Double Trouble: Oh nothing, just performing alone.
Glimmer: That's a lie isn't it?
Lonnie: Wait a minute, what if Netossa is lying?
Netossa: What!
Spinnerella: No way! She's the most honest person I know.
Frosta: In the matter of fact, I think Netossa actually did it.
Entrapta: Judging by Double Trouble's physique and anatomy, I don't think they did it.
Adora: I did see Netossa with Spinnerella this morning, I don't think she did it.
Mermista: Double Trouble is lying about their alibi!
Catra: How the hell can Double Trouble even reach the window? There's no way they could jump that high.
Monokuma: Puhuhuhu! Sounds like there's a split down a middle like a banana peel. I've waited long enough for this.

Monokuma pulls out a golden key and twists the lock.

Second scrum debate

Red side is Double Trouble is the culprit.
Blue side is Netossa is the culprit.

Players on the red side are Adora, Glimmer, Bow, Mermista, Netossa, Spinnerella and Scorpia.
Players on the blue side are Frosta, Entrapta, Double Trouble, Hordak, Lonnie and Catra.

Glimmer: Double Trouble killed Perfuma.
Catra: We don't know if they did kill Perfuma, idiot.
Scorpia: They followed her to the garden and killed her.
Lonnie: How do we know if they followed her? Anyone else could have.
Adora: The footprints belongs to Double Trouble.
Entrapta: Incorrect. Their footprints are different because their foot anatomy is different.
Spinnerella: She's a very sweet and gentle person, she wouldn't kill anyone.
Double Trouble: Don't you know the sweet and gentle person can also commit crimes too?
Netossa: Frosta said she saw the blood trails!
Frosta: I did see the blood trails but it was washed off.
Mermista: There's no way Netossa could reach the window.
Hordak: You fool. Despite her height, it's possible she can reach it.
Glimmer: Netossa could not have created the bloody trails.
Double Trouble: How did she know about the bloody trails?

Everyone went silent. The podiums then went down slowly.

Heartbroken

Chapter Summary

Sorry it's not that good, it was hard to come up with this.

No body's POV:
Everyone are silent. Everyone in shock and sweating after what Double Trouble said.

Spinnerella: No not possible!! She must have guessed that there was a bloody trail!
Double Trouble: Not that. Glimmer pointed out there was bloody trails, but she never pointed out it was washed off. Netty over there asked "how come we didn't see the bloody trails leading to the shower building".
Netossa: Uh...uh....
Mermista: Hey you! What are you trying to say?!
Double Trouble: I am trying to say that she wasn't there was she?
Scorpia: Come to think of it. She...she wasn't there.
Catra: So...does that mean that...Netossa is the real culprit.
Spinnerella: (Slams her hands on the podium loudly) Not possible!!
Catra: Why?
Spinnerella: Because...if she did kill someone, wouldn't she have blood on her? There was no shower water available, it's impossible for her to wash off.
Scorpia: Wait! Lonnie went to gym, it's close to the shower room right?
Lonnie: Hey! Don't pin this on me!
Scorpia: No not that. It's just that you had pack of water bottles with you.
Lonnie: Oh that. I don't get it, what does this have to do with the blood?
Catra: To wash off the blood.
Netossa: Not possible!! You would need to use more than one water bottles to clear out the blood.
Double Trouble: Exactly. That's why I saw plenty of used water bottles in the trash outside of the building.

Netossa: What!
Glimmer: Wait hold on! Lonnie, where did you go after the gym?
Lonnie: Went back to my room cause there was no shower water available, so I decided to take a shower in my room instead.
Mermista: Did you go back to the gym later?
Lonnie: I did that's when I found out that the pack of water bottles is missing.
Hordak: Therefore this one is the killer! (He points his finger at Netossa)
Netossa: I am not the killer!! You don't have any clear evidences!!
Double Trouble: I think your girlfriend does.
Spinnerella: Huh?
Double Trouble: I saw you two talking and you pulled something out of her luxurious hair. It was a leaf right?
Spinnerella: Y...yeah. What does this have to do wi-
Double Trouble: She was in the garden. In Perfuma's garden, the trees have continuous falling leaves so therefore that is close to her.
Netossa: Uh...uh.....aaaaaaaarrrrrrrgggggghhhhhhh!!!!!!!!
Spinnerella: N...Netty?
Double Trouble: You see. She screams because she got caught.
Netossa: No!! No! It's not that!!
Adora: Wait! Hold on what about the footprint? If Netossa washed herself off with water bottles then there shouldn't be anything on her feet.
Entrapta: In fact, the footprint on the basin was in fact blackish red. The blood was oxidized.
Hordak: So she has forgotten to wash off the blood on her feet.
Netossa: Uh....gh...what about the bloody trails?! If I had my feet stained in blood, there should have been prints on the concrete!!
Entrapta: In fact no. Jumping out of the window leads to grass, so you cleaned your feet there.
Catra: You then filled the bucket with water from the storage room and washed off the bloody trails.
Netossa: Uh....
Double Trouble: I would like to close this case.

Double Trouble:
It all happen this morning where the culprit has began to plan her murder. She was with Spinnerella this morning and was planning her target; her target was Perfuma. The culprit excused herself to follow Perfuma to the garden. While following her, she went to the kitchen to take the kitchen knife as a murder weapon. She then went to the garden and struck Perfuma in the head with a knife. The rope was in the garden, that rope is for the barriers, Perfuma must have been trying to use it to create a fence. The culprit then strangles her corpse to confuse us. She then dragged Perfuma to the shower building, creating bloody trails from the garden onto the concrete. The culprit dragged the corpse to one of the empty shower stalls which neither of them had water available. The culprit rubs the blood onto Perfuma's head to confuse us further more, she then leaves it next to Perfuma. I am sure they brought their pair of clothes or just wore bathing suit then to kill Perfuma. They then washed themselves off with water bottles after Lonnie left the gym. They unfortunately forgot to wash the blood off their feet and left a footprint on the basin to jump up to the window to escape to avoid being seen by others. She then saw Frosta witnessing the bloody trails, to avoid others speculating it, she washed it off the bucket filled with water she had from the storage room. She of course did not have enough time to wash it all the bloody trails because others were there, she then made her escape. The only evidences we have is that she let her words slip during the class trial and the leaf on her head. So...what do you say Netossa. Do you give up?

Netossa:.....
Spinnerella: Why are you so quite?! Tell them you didn't please! Please tell me you didn't do it!!!
Netossa: Spinny.....I...I did.
Spinnerella:.....
Mermista: So it was you.
Scorpia: Why?! I thought we were friends!!!
Netossa:.....I...I..I had to.
Adora: What do you mean you had to?
Netossa: Monokuma showed me the video...I...I...I don't know what came over me...I just accept it.

Monokuma: Yep she's not lying. Here!

Monokuma then pulls out a massive tablet with his round hands and turns the video on.

Monokuma: Her motive to kill that flower trans woman was to be with her love of her life. She was promised if she killed this woman and win the killing game, she would be free with hurricane Spinnerella. Despite her strong personality, her weakness is her girlfriend. She's smart on the outside, but stupid on the inside.

Spinnerella: N...Netossa?
Netossa: It's true. I killed Perfuma because I was promised if I win, we would get out of here together.
Spinnerella:...Netty! No what's wrong with you?!! You know that was a lie! I could still die!! Why did you have to kill her?!!
Netossa: I...I don't know what I was thinking! I was just....scared!! I'm just...I don't know...I just wanted us two together!!!
Monokuma: Ok I had enough of this lovey dovey! IIIIIIIT'S PUNISHMENT TIIIIIIMEEEE!!!!
Spinnerella: WAIT!!! NNOOOOOOOOOOO!!!!

Monokuma hits the hammer on the big red button. The pixelated of Netossa is being dragged by Monokuma.

Second Execution

Chapter Summary

> Sorry that the second part of this story wasn't good. I didn't know how to come up with it. It's hard to come up with random kill, trials and things like that.

Netossa is in the forest, scared, sweating. A loud growl appears behind her, she turns around and sees a massive monster with two centipede like jaws. A screen then shows a white blue background with nets that says "Hunter's net, Netossa's execution". Netossa runs away from the monster who is chasing after her through the woods. Netossa gets her legs chomped by hidden bear traps, gets shot with the wire net in which tightens around her arm, causing it to bleed, she then accidentally set her foot onto one of hidden ropes and she is now upside down. She is hanging upside down by her feet, she struggles against it. The monster finally reaches up to and chomps its jaws down on her head. The monster then munches on the rest of her body.

Spinnerella screams at the footage, she cries on the floor. Everyone watched in horror.

Adora POV:
Netossa was the most honest person I know, even people who are honest can also be the killer. We can't even trust anyone here at all. We are all going to die.

Infected among us

Adora POV:
Only twelve people left. Only twelve. We lost Kyle, Rogelio, Perfuma, and now Netossa. It was really hard to hear Spinnerella's wails. It was hard to see her lose someone who she really loves. Netossa is really strong minded, I still find it hard to believe that she would fall for Monokuma's tricks. I woke up the usual, washing my face, but I've been splashing my face with cold water more this time. I had another nightmare. I had a nightmare about the people who already died, but they're some how alive, I can't explain it. I saw Kyle with his body parts detached from him and are levitating like they're still attached, Rogelio in grey skin and has a smoke coming from him, Perfuma with a bleeding head, and Netossa without a head and a wound on her ankle.

I went to canteen, not to eat but to meet up with Bow and Glimmer to hang out. Catra has been distant with me lately, I don't know why. There's one person who I did not see in the canteen and that is Spinnerella. I think it should be obvious, she lost her girlfriend. She watched her getting executed and not only that, her girlfriend killed Perfuma. I see Scorpia with Catra and Entrapta, I wonder what they're up to.

Entrapta POV:
I fizzled my hair around the prototype. "Well will it work?" Asked Catra. "One way to find out." I then start walking on my hair back to the library with Scorpia and Catra behind me. I move the bookshelf to uncover a secret door and used the keycard on it. It didn't work. "Huh. Looks like it didn't work." I said while looking at the keycard. "What do you mean it didn't work?!" Asked Catra, she looks angry, I think, I don't know. "It seems like the locking mechanism is a bit different, I think if I scan the lock, it could give me some kind of kind which could match to the keycard. Huh, whoever made this door, is so smart." I said with a glee. "There you are Entrapta. I need you to repair my armor." I looked over to see Hordak standing in the doorway. "Coming!" I said out loud, I was then stopped by Catra. "Where are you going?" She asked.

Her grip around my arm was tight, too tight. "I am going to Hordak's sanctum. I am just going to do a quick repair to his armor. No biggy." I said to her. "What about the door?!" She then grabs my shirt and pulls me close to her face. "Oh, we can do that later." I said to her with a smile. "Catra, don't worry about that. We can just hang out." Said Scorpia, she is so nice. Catra then lets go of me, I then go to Hordak's sanctum.

His sanctum is so beautiful, so many technologies I could play with. So...so many. Anyway enough of ecstasy, I tweaked Hordak's armor on his forearm as it was the most glitchy. "It's not perfect is it?" He asked. "Nope, but I don't want it to be." I said to him. "Why?" He asked. "Because perfection is boring you know. Imperfection makes scientific experimentation possible, imperfection is beautiful. Well at least to me." I said with a smile at him.

Hordak POV:
She...she is so beautiful. The spark ignited behind her. Why...why does she fascinate me so much? What...what is this feeling? This is not normal, isn't it? She made me stand on my feet with her what..hair. She re-tweaks parts of my armor to keep my body together. I feel powerful again and it's all thanks to this crystal in my chest. A crystal that she gave it to me as a gift. However there is a feeling that I cannot shake it off, it's a negative feeling. I feel feared for Entrapta's safety. She places her hand on mine and tweaks my armor on my shoulder. I squeeze gently on her hand. "You ok? My readings are showing that your stress is high." She said with concern. "I...I feel...fear." I said to her with a stutter, I didn't want to admit it. "About what?" She asked curiously. "I...I'm afraid...of losing a friend." I said, why does my heart beat fast. "Oh, don't worry I am sure they'll be alright. I am sure we are going to escape the killing game." She sounds so sure, how? I don't understand how she can be so hopeful in a situation like this. We already lost four people, who knows who's going to be next.

Glimmer POV:
We were just hanging around and we then heard a thud. We walk over to the sound and we saw Frosta laying on the floor, face down. "AHHH!!" Bow screamed. Adora ran over to Frosta and hears groaning noise. Adora picks her up and tries to help her stand on her feet, but Frosta then falls face first again. What's wrong with her? I ran over to her and picked her up. "What's wrong?" I asked her. The response I got was a muffled mumbles, can't she talk anymore or is she messing with us. "We have to get her to her room and let Entrapta take over." Said Bow. I felt her body temperature, it's for some reason really hot, is she having a fever? Is she sick?

We got Frosta to her room and I let Adora and Bow find Entrapta. I tried talking to Frosta, but she keeps mumbling and muffling. I can't understand her. It doesn't seem like a sore throat or a cold, what is it? Entrapta then walks in. "Hi Glimmer, hi Frosta!" She waves at us. Entrapta walks over to us with her tablet. She takes a picture of Frosta to get her readings and the results really shook me.

Entrapta POV:
Huh? She is more than sick. This is worse actually. "What is it? Tell us!" Bow demands. "She is suffering with MS." I said to them. "What does it mean?" Asked Adora. "She has multiple sclerosis. Therefore it affects her brain and spinal cord. However the only causes are from viruses, autoimmune disorders and even both genetic and environmental factors." I said to them. "She had a fever. Does it mean something?" Asked Glimmer. I look back at Frosta and took a picture of her again and got my readings. Turns out she's right, it did mean something. "Yes. According to my readings, it says that she is infected with Epstein-Barr virus. Don't worry I can keep us all immune from it." I said to them, cheerfully. "What about Frosta?" Asked Bow. "For Frosta..um..unfortunately, I can't help her because she was badly affected with multiple sclerosis, I can't treat her right now without any special equipment. I can get all of you vaccinated right now." I said to them as I got them escorted out of Frosta's room.

Bow POV:
Everyone including Spinnerella have been vaccinated against the

Epstein-Barr virus, thanks to Entrapta. Now I am planning on making a timetable of who is going to prepare the food and feed Frosta. "In the morning, it will be Entrapta, Scorpia and Catra, in the afternoon, it will be me, Glimmer and Adora, in the noon, it will be Spinnerella, Lonnie and Mermista." I said to them. "Ugh, who is going to feed her?" Mermista groans. "Either one of you in your time table. No excuse. Frosta is sick and she is paralyzed right now." I said to her. "What if one of us don't want to get sick?" Asked Lonnie. "You won't. You're vaccinated." Entrapta says happily. "What if one of us can't make it?" Asked Spinnerella sorrowfully. "Then I would substitute those who are available." I said to her. "Like Hordak and Double Trouble?" Said Glimmer. "No. Them two cannot be trusted." I said to her. "Why not Hordak? He's nice." Entrapta said to me. I grab her shoulders. "No, he cannot be trusted because look at him. He's evil." I said to her. "No no. He's not. He's misunderstood." Entrapta argues me back. "Anyway. Let's not fight about this now. What else can we do for Frosta?" Asked Scorpia. "Well I guess keeping her company right?" Asked Adora dumbly. "We can do that. Ok everyone, we don't have much time left before we go to our dorms." I said to everyone.

Cold

Adora POV:
Yesterday was so weird. Spinnerella is depressed, Catra is distant with me, Bow and Entrapta had an argument about Hordak and now Frosta is paralyzed. Yesterday, me, Entrapta and Glimmer kept Frosta company. Entrapta made her some kind of headset on her and places an ipad in front of her so she can talk to us from her mind, I think that's how it goes. I don't know, I don't understand science like Entrapta does.

Anyway as I stepped out of my dorm, after training in the morning, I saw Mermista leaning onto the railing. I walk up to her. "Hey Mermista what's up?" I asked her. "Ugh! The tornado girl is not in her room. I looked everywhere for her, but she's nowhere to be found. Like I know her girlfriend is dead, but we're stuck in this killing game and...unless she went to kill Frosta." Said Mermista as her eyes flash. "W..what...uh...speaking of which I'm going to see Frosta right now." I said before I left Mermista. "Uh..bye I guess." Said Mermista behind my back.

I met up with Glimmer and Bow. We then went to Frosta's room together and to our relieve, especially for me, she's ok. We were feeding her like she's a baby, but she can't move her arms at all so we have to. We had good laughs and chat before we left. I see Lonnie. "Hey Lonnie!!" I waved at her. "Sup?" She asked with her arms crossed around her chest. "Nothing. Just fed Frosta. How about you?" I asked. "Trying to find Spinnerella, but she is nowhere around." Said Lonnie. "Huh? You can't find her too." I said in shock. "Yeah. What? Didn't that fish woman find her too?" She asked. "N..no not at all. She said she couldn't find her at all. She said she checked her room but found nothing." I said to her. I am feeling nervous about this because something is not right about this. "That figures. I'm going outside to find the depressed fatass. Maybe she'll be there." She said bluntly. What did I expect from her, she's always blunt and aggressive after she lost her two friends.

Catra POV:
Why is it that I walk all the way back to room, the hallway feels colder everytime. It was never this cold. I can't even smell where this coldness is coming from because obviously it's cold as hell. I cover myself in blankets in my room. I still shiver under the coldness. Wait! What if the coldness is coming from one of the rooms? I got off my bed and made way out. I walk past each rooms until I stopped at one of them, Spinnerella's door. I knocked on it hard and three times, no answer. What the hell!

Mermista POV:
I got the food ready with the girl and her weird hair. The tornado girl, Spinnerella or whatever is not here. Something doesn't seem right apart from her being depressed. I stopped thinking about until we got to Frosta's room. We were feeding her pasta. She was also talking to us with her ipad without typing anything on her fingers. Freaky. We were telling jokes and she said 'hahaha'. She can't even laugh at all, she can't move at all, she can't do anything now. This is going to be a pain in the ass to look after her.

"Lonnie? Aren't you coming?" I asked her. "Yeah yeah hold on. Let me get the fucking plates." Lonnie is always rude, she talks so aggressively. Can't she calm down at least? Anyway, we did our job feeding our 'little baby Frosta', now we can go back to our rooms. After I went back to my room, I couldn't help but to think where the hell is Spinnerella. It's not like her to skip through something that is important. I have a bad feeling about this.

Scorpia POV:
I'm in Entrapta's laboratory. She plays her hair fingers on her tablet, I wonder what she's reading. The lab door then opens. "Hey girls, do you know where Spinnerella is?" Asked Lonnie. "N..no. Why?" I asked confused. "Because she is nowhere around." She said. "You also noticed too?" Lonnie looks behind and it's Catra. "Yeah what of it?" Asked Lonnie. "I went to her door because it was so fucking cold!" Catra says with a groan, I guess she is really annoyed about it. "Cold. What do you mean cold?" Asked Lonnie. "I mean cold. Outside of her room is so damn cold!" Said Catra. "Maybe she is sick." I said. "No impossible because I vaccinated all of us but Frosta. It should keep us protected from the virus." Said Entrapta with a smile. I don't think she understands how serious this situation is, or at least any situations. She's quite insensitive to her surroundings. "Let's go to her door and see what you're talking about." Lonnie said to Catra angrily. Why is Lonnie always like that? Is she still angry of what happened to her friends?

"Lonnie was right. I can feel the cold atmosphere outside of the door." Said Entrapta as she moves her hair underneath the doorway. I knock on the door three times. "Spinnerella. It's me Scorpia, and Catra, and Entrapt and Lonnie. Can we come in?" I asked, but she didn't reply. I knocked again and again, still nothing. Catra drags her face down with her hands angrily. "Enough of this!" Catra then uses her shoulder to burst through the door. We then saw the sight we never expected to see.

A cold mist dies down before us. A round figure frozen in front of us, so stiff, and not moving. Spinnerella is frozen to death right in front of us. I couldn't help but scream out in horror. The bell rang and the screens turns on. "A body has been discovered! Make way to Spinnerella's room. Don't forget to defrost the meat. Puhuhuhu!" Monokuma laughs and the screens turns off.

Disastrous third investigation

Glimmer POV:
I quickly ran to Spinnerella's room with the others. We then saw her corpse. Her corpse is like an ice block, so stiff. I looked at the monopad. "Cause of death frozen to death. Time of death unknown." I read out loud. "Huh. According to my readings, she has necrosis. Her body is filled with dying cells. What's strange is that she is not bleeding because her finger is cut off." Said Entrapta as she scans the corpse. "Not bleeding. Wait! Her finger is cut off!" Said Bow in shock. "Yeah look." Entrapta uses her hair to lift up the corpse's arm and you can hear the ice cracking. She's right, the finger is severed. "What could cause her to freeze?" Asked Adora. "Well nitrogen liquid. Look." Entrapta points her hair to the very cold tank beside the freezer. Wait the freezer!

I look over to the freezer, it's colder than I expected. "Entrapta, do you think Spinnerella could fit through there?" Asked Adora. Entrapta measures Spinnerella then to the freezer. "Well if you bend her knees, I can guarantee you that she can fit inside it at 100%." Said Entrapta with a smile. What's with her? Is she a psychopath? Can't she see what we're dealing here? Anyway we already got few clues now; the severed finger, the freezer and the nitrogen tank.

Catra POV:
No smell. Shouldn't her corpse stink? There's seriously no smell. I look around, trying to find more clues. I was about to leave the room until I saw Double Trouble walking towards me. "Hi kitty." Are they flirting with me or something. "What is it?" I asked. "Meow. 'Chill' out." They make a pun. "What do you want?" I asked them again. "I just found another clue, kitty. Here." They then hand me over a bag that says dry ice. "What do you want me to do with this?!" I asked angrily. "Relax. It's a clue." Said Double Trouble. "A clue?" I repeated again. "Yeah a clue. Let's investigate together shall we?" They then wrap their arms around mine. I guess I'll be going with them.

Mermista POV:
I saw a dry blood on the bed. Could it mean anything? I think it does right? I keep looking around but I can't find anymore clues. I then heard another scream, it was Glimmer. I ran towards her scream and it leads to....Frosta's room.

I walk in and saw Frosta bleeding from her mouth, her nose and eyes. The bell rang again and the screens turns on "A body has been discovered and it is none of other than the little shit, Frosta. Now investigate her room and Spinnerella's room at same time. I'll be nice this time. You only got two hours to investigate the crime. Good luck chumps!" Monokuma finished his sentence and the screens turns off. You got to be kidding me. Two people were killed today; Frosta and Spinnerella. Ok, I need to get my head focused. It's time to be serious like I always have.

I heard footsteps running. I look out of the door and saw Entrapta with the others. I immediately grab her by one of her pigtails, she screams slightly. "Well do your thing geek princess." Said Mermista. "What thing?" She asked. "To look at her dead body." I scowled at her. "Oh that. Ok." She said. Seriously doesn't she care about Frosta or Spinnerella. What the hell is wrong with her?! She's making me furious. "According to my readings, she died from poison." Said Entrapta. "P...poison." I said in shock. "Yeah. She was poisoned with lethal x10 poison, which came from the chemical labs." Said Entrapta. "Chemical labs. I shall investigate it." Said Hordak. This freaky weirdo left the room. Thank god, I don't like him not one bit. "Huh what's this?" I heard Entrapta ask herself. I look over to see she's lifting her hand. "Huh. She's also losing a finger." Said Entrapta. "What!" Scorpia screeches out in shock.

"What! She's also losing a finger." Said Adora. "Yeah. Her finger is still bleeding. I wonder why her's is bleeding while Spinnerella's isn't." Said Entrapta. "What reason could it be when those girls fingers cut off?" Asked Lonnie. "We don't know yet. Come on, we don't have much time to waste." Said Bow. Half of the group have left the room. It's just me, Entrapta, and Scorpia. Great two unfortunate people at my side.

Hordak POV:
Interesting. Entrapta was correct. The x10 poison bottle is missing from its place. Someone had took it. I twist the knob and it opens. It should be closed, in laboratory, it's forbidden to leave anything opened, all according to the Monokuma's rule. I wonder. How did the culprit bring the nitrogen tank into the princess of hurricane's room. It's far from here to there. When did they have the time to do it? Something is amiss in this investigation. I can't lay my finger on it.

Double Trouble POV:
"Meow look." I called Catra here. I point my finger at the icy wall, the poor thing doesn't get it, so I had to explain it. "The princess carved something. It says something like 101111." I said to her. "Huh! What is it suppose to mean?" Asked Catra. "Not sure yet. Maybe it's a code for something." I said to her. "What if it's a dying message?" Said Catra. "Meow darling. You're smarter than I thought." I said to her. "Is that suppose to be an insult?" She hissed at me. "No. Take it as a compliment." I said to her, she blushes slightly. How cute. "Look at the settings. It says instant freeze, but the instant freeze doesn't exactly freeze anything instantly." I said to her, hinting something. "You're trying to say that at the instant freeze setting, it just makes the temperature colder." Said Catra. "Bingo." I said to her. Looks like we got a few evidences.

Entrapta POV:
I am looking through Frosta's ipad and there are some texts that I find odd. It first says "I can't breathe. I can't breathe." Then it says. "Hahaha just kidding". The x10 poison can kill you in few minutes, there's noway she would survive. I don't get what's going on here. I do know that Frosta was poisoned, but why would she joke about it after that. I don't get it. Anyway, I was dragged by Adora back to Spinnerella's room. "Entrapta, can you take a look at the freezer please?" Asked Bow. I can't say no to that, technology is a wonderful thing.

Adora POV:
Seriously. After I come to this room where Catra was in, she immediately walked out. What the hell is wrong with her? Why doesn't she want to talk to me? What went wrong between us?! "Huh. Strange. Someone bashed the fuse out of the freezer." Said Entrapta. "Bashed out. What do you mean?" Asked Glimmer. "I mean that without the fuse, the freezer won't work. Look the fuse is not properly in place." Entrapta then shows us the fuse. The fuse is hanging on its side. Entrapta pushes it back in and the freezer turns on. "Went Entrapta hold on. You moved the freezer of its place. Let me try something." Said Bow. He pull the fuse out of its position to turn off the freezer then he pushes it back to the wall and the freezer turns itself on. "Huh. It's working." Said Glimmer. "Wow. Hanging off the fuse like that to put it back in place to the wall. That is so smart!" Entrapta squeals. The bell then rang. "Alrighty chumps!! Make way to the trial grounds puhuhuhuh!!" Monokuma laughs in the screens. Well looks like we're going to have to go now.

Third trial

No one's POV:
Everyone arrived at the trial grounds. The frames with red crosses of Netossa, Spinnerella and Frosta now stood by their podiums. Everyone stood at their chosen podiums. Class trial begins.

Hordak: So today it was two birds one stone.
Bow: Maybe not. Maybe there's two blackends.
Glimmer: We can't be sure yet. What was Spinnerella's time of death?
Adora: I looked at the monopad. It says unknown.
Catra: What about Frosta's time of death?
Adora: It says unknown too.
Hordak: We cannot predict the specificity of the time. What about the causes of their deaths?
Entrapta: According to my readings, Spinnerella died from being frozen to death, which her corpse experienced necrosis. Frosta's cause of death was poison.
Lonnie: Poison? How did Frosta get poisoned?
Scorpia: Is it possible that someone 'fed her poison'?
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I agree with that.
Glimmer: Agree with what?
Adora: Frosta is paralyzed remember. She couldn't move so we have to feed her food. Someone had put poison in the food.
Bow: If that is the case, when did they add the poison?
Scorpia: Hey you got the timetable right? You put us in groups.
Bow: Right of course.
(Bow pulls out a large sheet of paper with drawing of others in each time)

Double Trouble: Oh you didn't draw me. How rude.
Bow: Nevermind that. Ok in the morning, Entrapta, Catra and Scorpia were in charge of feeding Frosta. In the afternoon, it was me, Glimmer and Adora. In the noon, it was Lonnie, Mermista and Spinnerella.
Mermista: Spinnerella wasn't with us yesterday. In fact, we never even seen her yesterday at all after we started feeding Frosta.

Hordak: Could it be possible that she has perished then?
Catra: She could have. I mean when I was on my way to my room, I felt the hallways really 'cold'.
Bow: Cold. So does this mean that she was dead yesterday.
Entrapta: It is possible because there was a 'liquid nitrogen tank' next to the freezer, which could freeze you instantly.
Catra: No that's wrong.
Entrapta: Huh. Why is it wrong?
Catra: Me and Double Trouble saw the freezer's settings were turned on instant freeze.
Scorpia: Wouldn't it take forever to freeze a body though?
Catra: Exactly. I'm sure that's what the killer did.
Bow: Why was there a nitrogen tank in her room?
Catra: It's to throw us off.
Entrapta: Actually now that I rethink this. If the killer did use the nitrogen tank on the freezer then there should have been more ice, and there would ice all over the room.
Lonnie: If she did frozen to death, how can that fatass get inside the freezer anyway?
Adora: If you bend her knees, she'll fit right in well.

Scorpia: Sorry going to change topic. What about Frosta? When did she get poisoned?
Mermista: She was alive after me and Lonnie fed her pasta.
Hordak: So the culprit could either be you or that one. (He points at Lonnie)
Lonnie: ME! Why am I the culprit?!
Mermista: I am not the culprit too!
Bow: Catra said that the hallway was cold. I think she could also be the culprit.
Catra: Don't thrust the suspicion onto me, you asshole!!!

(At same time)
Catra: I'm not the culprit!
Mermista: No way I'm the culprit!
Lonnie: I'm not the fucking culprit!

(Mass panic debate starts) (Everyone talking over one another)
Mermista: I didn't kill anyone!

Hordak: Prove it.
Mermista: I was with Lonnie and we went to feed Frosta. She was alive then.
Scorpia: You must have fed her poison.
Mermista: I didn't take the poison.
Catra: How can I be the culprit in this?
Double Trouble: You did say you felt the hallways cold as if you did kill Spinnerella.
Catra: How does that tell you that I'm the culprit?!
Bow: What food did you feed to Frosta?
Lonnie: We fed her 'pasta and jelly'.
Glimmer: Are you sure you didn't 'slip poison' in the food?
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I heard it!
(Mass panic debate ends)

Adora: The closest culprit I can only think of is Mermista and Lonnie. Frosta possibly died after they feed her.
Mermista: I'm telling you! She was alive after we feed her something.
Entrapta: The fact that you either fed her x10 poison. She was dead few minutes later.
Lonnie: Couldn't Frosta just 'scream out' or some shit like that?!
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) No that's wrong.
Lonnie: What's wrong?
Adora: Frosta was mute after she was infected with a disease.
Lonnie: As if I would know that.
Glimmer: The time that Frosta died around was somewhere in the noon right?
Catra: The fact that Mermista kept saying that Frosta was alive in the noon, so it's possible at around that time.
Bow: Wait. What about Spinnerella? We haven't covered through what time she died yet.
Catra: She could have died yesterday.
Hordak: Freezing a body takes a long time. Higher chance she has died yesterday.
Lonnie: What about the Entrapta's vaccines from yesterday?! She could have killed Spinnerella and Frosta!
Bow: She didn't vaccinated Frosta. She vaccinated all of us but Frosta, we would have all had the same effect.

Scorpia: I don't exactly know. I'm just going to guess it was this morning that Spinnerella died.
Adora: I think Spinnerella died today instead of yesterday.
Glimmer: We found her body today. I think she did die today.
Monokuma: Oh ho! I know what that sounds like. Another debate!!

Monokuma twists the gold lock and the podiums levitates.

Third scrum debate

Nobody's POV:
Red side is Spinnerella died in the morning.
Blue side is Spinnerella died yesterday.

The players on the red side are Scorpia, Mermista, Lonnie, Bow, Adora
The players on the blue side are Entrapta, Hordak, Glimmer, Catra, Double Trouble

Scorpia: Could it be possible that Spinnerella died this morning instead?
Entrapta: It's not possible that her body would develop necrosis within several hours.
Mermista: We've seen Spinnerella yesterday before we went back to our dorms.
Glimmer: Someone must have followed her yesterday before we went to our dorms.
Bow: Her whole room was really cold, there was even a cold mist everywhere.
Entrapta: It's possible that the cold mist is caused by other factors.
Lonnie: Catra said that she felt the coldness in the hallway.
Catra: I did say that it was cold in the hallway, but it was in the afternoon.
Adora: The culprit must have brought the tank after they killed Spinnerella this morning.
Hordak: Impossible because there is no any other obvious external wounds.
Bow: When did the culprit even brought the tank to Spinnerella's room?
Double Trouble: It's possible that the culprit brought the tank yesterday during the night.
Lonnie: We already solved Frosta's time of death, can we just move on who the culprit is?
Glimmer: Not yet. There's still another mystery we haven't solved yet.

Any regrets?

No one's POV:
The podiums went back down slowly. The trial begins again.

Catra: Hey Sparkles, you said there was another mystery we haven't solved. What is it?
Glimmer: The fingers.
Lonnie: What?
Glimmer: Both Frosta's and Spinnerella's fingers were missing.
Entrapta: Now that you mention it. Spinnerella's finger was not bleeding but Frosta's was.
Adora: Can it be possible that her bleeding will slow down after she was frozen?
Entrapta: No. If you cut open the body, they will bleed. 'Something else' was used to slow down the bleeding.
Double Trouble: I like to take it over from here. (Pulls out a shriveled bag of dry ice) I found this from the trash can that wasn't too far from Spinnerella's dorm. So Entrapta, could it be possible that the culprit used this?
Entrapta: In fact....that could actually slow down the bleeding.
Lonnie: Wait hold on a minute, what about the dry blood on the bed? How can you explain that?
Hordak: Her finger was severed after she was frozen, but the better question is, why does the culprit need the finger?
Bow: Actually that is a good question. Frosta and Spinnerella's fingers were severed but for what reason?
Mermista: I think I know. To get into their dorms.
Scorpia: Huh what?
Mermista: We have to get inside our dorms using the fingerprints or whatever or use the E-pad.
Adora: But losing an E-pad is against the rules isn't it?
Double Trouble: It is, but the victims didn't lose their E-pad, the culprit stole it.
Catra: Why does the culprit need the fingers though?
Entrapta: The E-pad will unlock from owner's fingerprints. If they didn't log in to their E-pads, then they wouldn't get any updates and it is against the rules right?

Lonnie: Are you saying that the culprit cut their fingers off just to login to the E-pad, but for what reason?
Entrapta: To get inside the room if your fingerprint doesn't work.
Scorpia: Oh yeah. I don't really have fingers, but I have pincers. I struggle all the time to get into my room because the thing doesn't detect my 'finger'prints. I have to always use my E-pad to get in.
Hordak: So now we have our reason why the culprit have their fingers.
Double Trouble: Yeah but now we have to figure out what this means. (Pulls out a picture) 101111.
Scorpia: Huh. What's with random numbers?
Catra: Spinnerella carved out her dying message in the freezer. It does say 101111.
Entrapta: Oh is it a code?
Glimmer: Why would she right down the code as a dying message?
Bow: Most importantly, where did she get the code?
Hordak: You fools don't see it. Take the image upside down.
Double Trouble(Flips the picture upside down)
Scorpia: Huh. It spells like L...O..L..L. and another two L's.
Hordak: No. Double N. You can see her fingernail carved slightly to create an N.
Mermista: Wait so that means the culprit is.....Lonnie.
Lonnie: What! I am not the culprit.
Hordak: If you're not, explain why is there your name?
Lonnie: I'm sure that's a coincidence.
Glimmer: It cannot be a coincidence if Spinnerella wrote that on her last breathe.
Lonnie: If...if I was the culprit, what other evidences are there?! (Nonstop debate begins)
Lonnie: Well what other evidences do you have?!
Bow: The freezer's fuse was hanging out of its position, but can be activated if placed against the wall.
Lonnie: What does this have to do with me?
Catra: Your name is carved in the freezer.
Lonnie: It could be just a coincidence!

Mermista: Yeah a coincidence where the victim was killed by the culprit.
Lonnie: If Spinnerella was alive, she would have got out of the freezer! No problem!!
Glimmer: You can't open the freezer from the inside!
Lonnie: It could be Entrapta! She vaccinated us against the virus! 'Against the MS'!
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I heard that!

(Nonstop debate ends)
Lonnie: Heard what?
Adora: How did you know what MS is?
Lonnie: I...I heard you talk about MS while we're vaccinated.
Entrapta: Huh. None of us ever mentioned MS, not even me. I only mentioned the virus.
Mermista: Well tell us then! How did you know?!
Lonnie: It's....it's just a logical guess.
Hordak: Judging by your intelligence, you would never know what it was.
Lonnie: Shut your ass up!!
Entrapta: I checked Frosta's ipad. She wrote her message that says "I can't breathe. I can't breathe." Then it says "Hahaha just kidding."
Glimmer: I know her sense of humor and she would never ever joke anything about that. She's more mature than expected.
Scorpia: Wait so does this mean that...Lonnie is our closest culprit.
Catra: She's not only our closest culprit, she 'is' the culprit.
Lonnie:.....wait hold on! How did I even kill Spinnerella then? I can't just stuff her in the freezer 'without her struggling'.
Entrapta: Actually you can. (Smiles)
Lonnie: Can what?
Entrapta: You can actually stuff her in the freezer without any struggles. I almost forgot to mention. According to my autopsy, she was shocked at the back of her neck, mostly by a stun baton.
Lonnie:....you sly whore!!!
Mermista: Entrapta what the fuck!! Couldn't you mention that sooner?!

Entrapta: Are you...mad at me?
Mermista: Are you realizing that just now?! Yeah I'm mad. You don't care about anyone who died, you just smile after someone dies. What are you?! A psychopath?!!
Hordak: Enough, you insulate wrench!!! How dare you discount on her mistake?!
Entrapta: No Hordak, it's alright. I....I'm not good at people....I am good at tech...I thought if I could help you catch the killer, you would see that I care...but I guess...I messed that up still. (Tears in her eyes)
Adora: Entrapta.
Scorpia:.....

(Everyone apart from Double Trouble and Catra feel sorry for Entrapta. Glimmer then shakes her head off)
Glimmer: We'll get to that later. Right now. We're going to have to talk about Spinnerella. A stun baton....only either Catra and Lonnie who owns them.
Bow: I guess we got enough evidences that Lonnie is the culprit.
Adora: I guess I can finish off the argument.

(Closing argument begins) (Adora's talks)
It all started after me, Bow and Glimmer saw Frosta on the floor. Glimmer picked her up and felt her body was hot. We then taken her back to her room and got Entrapta to check up on her. According to Entrapta's account, Frosta had suffered the MS, which caused her to be mute and paralyzed. Entrapta suggested us to be vaccinated against the virus. While we were vaccinating, Entrapta mentioned to others that Frosta is paralyzed and mute, making it easier for the culprit to kill Frosta for later. Bow has planned a timetable for us to feed Frosta. Before we all went to sleep, the culprit followed Spinnerella to her room and stunned her with their stun baton, knocking her out. While she was knocked out, the culprit severed her finger and stole her E-pad, so they could get back to her room. They then stuff her into the freezer overnight and bashed the fuse out slightly from the back to confuse us on how the freezer has worked. They set the freezer mode to instant freeze to freeze Spinnerella to death overnight.

Little did they know that Spinnerella had used her all the strength she had to carve out the killer's name with her fingernail.

In the morning, the culprit had to act quickly. They then went to Spinnerella's room and pulled out her body from the freezer then placed her on the bed. They then opened up the dry ice to slow down the bleeding from her finger. They quickly left her room to make way to the lab to get the poison; a lethal poison. Before it's theirs and Mermista's turn to give food to Frosta, the culprit slipped the poison into the food, probably each of the food they prepared. Mermista was not aware because the culprit is the one who prepared the food according to Bow's timetable. They then went together to feed Frosta some food. After they finished feeding her, they were leaving. Despite the fact that Frosta is mute and paralyzed, she started to die from the poison. Mermista again was not aware that the culprit stole Frosta's E-pad. After they were done feeding, the culprit went back to Frosta's room to get her finger. I'm not sure what they were planning next, because at that time we discovered Spinnerella's body. The main evidences we have is the culprit's name carved on the freezer and letting their words slip during here in this trial. It could only no one but you Lonnie!! You're the culprit behind those murders!!

The monopad immediately pops up in front of everyone.
Monokuma: Now everyone. You know the drill, your time ran out after that 'closing argument'. IIIIIIT'S VOTING TIIIIIIME!!!!

The voting has been finished. A casino machine then shows a pixelated icon of Lonnie and a cheering noise and applauds were heard. The voting was correct.

No one's POV:
Monokuma: Well good job everyone! The culprit was none other than Lonnie herself. She did kill two birds with one stone. Pretty impressive I have to say!

Everyone are silent especially Lonnie.

Adora: Do you have any regrets?
Lonnie: (Sighs deeply)....I do....I wish I could have killed Entrapta first.
Entrapta: Uh!!! (Her eyes went wide. She felt that struck in her heart.)
Glimmer: Have you given up?
Lonnie: Isn't obvious fatty? Of course I've given up. I would have gotten away easily if that nerd could have kept her mouth shut.
Entrapta: (Her face is hidden behind her fringe, frowning)
Double Trouble: Oh regardless of that darling. You still would have been caught.
Catra: Why did you kill them Lonnie?
Lonnie: I wanted to get out of here. I wanted to get out of this hellhole that's what. I lost both of my friends, isn't that enough for me to suffer?!!
Everyone remained silent.
Lonnie: I had enough waiting Monokuma. FUCKING EXECUTE ME ALREAAAAAAAAAAADYYYYY!!!!!
Monokuma: Ok ok no need to scream at me.

Lonnie screamed to the top of her lungs at Monokuma before her time came.

Third execution

No one's POV:
Monokuma whacks the toy hammer on the red button and the pixelated screen appeared. The pixelated Monokuma drags the pixelated Lonnie away.

The environment starts building itself. The hexagonal pillars starts standing in their positions. The hexagonal platforms starts moving randomly like elevators. A title screen of the execution appears and says "Lazer tag, Lonnie's execution."

The bunch of monokumas appeared in soldier like armor with lazer guns. They start shooting at Lonnie. Lonnie runs and dodges from their lazers. She got hit by a few, she got burns on her body. She hops on one platform to another, to avoid their lazers. It was a biggest mistake because when she reached the top, she was in a very open area where it was completely surrounded by Monokumas. They then fire their lazers at her, hurting and burning her skin. One lazer shot past her arm and it came off. Lonnie screams in agony until she lost her other arm from the lazer. Another lazer hit her knee cap, and she lost her leg. The other lazer shot her other knee cap, and she lost her other leg. She is now nothing but a crawling limbless killer. One Monokuma stood on her torso then finished her off with a single shot in the head, her head completely exploded. Her brain flew out and landed on the platform, where this platform drops below with the brain falling into pure darkness.

Another body discovery!!!

Chapter Summary

Short one sorry!!

Glimmer POV:
This is bad. This is really bad. We're now down with only nine people left in this hell, in this killing game. The image of seeing Lonnie's brain will never get out of my head ever. Not even the other horrible things I've witnessed; Kyle torn apart, Perfuma's corpse, Spinnerella dead in her room. What else is there for me to suffer through? We're all being taken down one by one. We never know who's going to be next. I'm afraid that I could be next.

Scorpia POV:
I'm with Entrapta, working on the keycard for that door. Catra just left us alone. Why...why is so mean to us? We're doing the best as we can but she just...belittles us. I guess...she's really is a bad friend. Speaking of bad, I've been getting these headings more often than before, I don't know what it means. I want to ask Entrapta about it. "Hey Entrapta...um..I-" She then cut me off with a yell. "I've done it. Let's go and try it now!" She said so excitedly. Well she is Entrapta, she loves science, but I know she has a good heart. I then follow her to the library. As we're walking in the hallways, I heard someone calling out my name. I turn to see Mermista. "I need a hand here. I know you're strong enough to help me." She said out loud. "Entrapta, I'm going to catch you later." I said to her before I parted ways.

"Um so...what do you need help with?" I asked her. "What are you two planning?" She asked so sternly and coldly to me. "Huh?" I'm mostly confused by her sudden change of attitude, doesn't she need any help. "Don't play dumb with me. What are you and Entrapta doing?" She gets closer to my face so aggressively. "Well...Entrapta made a keycard for the secret passage door and...well...we're trying to find the mastermind behind the killing game." I explained to her. "Who's idea was it?" She asked.

"C...Catra." I said. "Where is she now?" She asked. I shrugged my shoulders because I definitely do not know where she is. Mermista has her eyes wide. "Oh shit!" She then sprints off. I hope she's not thinking, what I'm thinking.

Mermista POV:
I should not let my guard down. I should find Catra. She could be killing someone right now or she could be getting killed by someone. I don't know. I should try to find Catra. We're not in a good situation right now, everyone is almost dead. I don't want to die here and I won't not now and not today! I look around random rooms; she's not in any of them. I keep running around until I heard her voice. She's in Adora's room, I wonder what they're doing. I then heard an 'ow', I immediately open the door. Catra is on top of Adora. Adora's face has got a scratch. I want to pounce on Catra but Adora stops me. "Mermista no! She was just-" She held me back at my waist from beating up Catra. "Mermista stop! You know if you hit me, you'll be executed you know that!!" Catra reminded me of no physical hits rule. I calm down and Adora lets go of me. "You'll be executed if you do hit her." Adora warns me. I huff and puff, that anger is still in me. "Were you following me?" Asked Catra. "No. I was just..ugh! I thought you're going to kill someone!" I groan at her. "What! You serious!" Catra yells back at me.

Bow POV:
I'm with Glimmer by the canteen. We can't give up hope yet, I know we could get out of here. If we could just destroy that wall, wait! I got an idea, I should ask Entrapta. "Glimmer, let's go to Entrapta's lab!" I exclaimed. "Entrapta's lab. Why?" She asked me with a confused look. "I think she can create me an arrow which could possibly take down that wall, and we can use our magic to escape." I said to her. "Well...I got nothing else to do so I guess." Glimmer said quite sadly, I don't blame her. We already have very less people left. Anyway, we didn't waste anytime, we got up and left the canteen.

We're standing outside her lab now. I knocked on the lab door three times and got no response. I knocked three times again and got no response. "Is...she's...she never leaves the lab right?" Glimmer asks with sweats coming out from her forehead. "She can't be." I said feeling nervous myself. I grab the between the gap of the doors and with all my might, I open them apart. No one's here.

We walk in and look around, nothing. No Entrapta, and no one else but us.....or so we thought. We here something dripping. The drips echoes in the quiet lab. I look around the see where that dripping is coming from then I saw it. A small puddle of red liquid; blood. I look up and I couldn't help but scream. Scorpia is hanged by her tail upside down, her throat is sliced open. Me and Glimmer screamed in unison.

Adora POV:
A monokuma announcement began, the monitors switches on. "Ladies and gentlemen. A body has been discovered!! It is none other than Scorpia. Make way to Entrapta's lab! Puhuhuhu!!" Monokuma then laughed before the monitors turns off. I look over to Catra. Her eyes wide in shock, the tears begging to fall. I also felt my heart beating fast. Can't believe that Scorpia was the next victim.

Dramatic Fourth investigation

Adora POV:
I got inside Entrapta's lab with Mermista and Catra behind me. I saw Bow and Glimmer lowering Scorpia down by spinning the lever near the wall. I ran over to see the state of her. It seems like she has a cut across her throat, not only that her knees were also badly cut. I look around to see the state of the lab, it's like there's been a fight in here. "Could Entrapta possibly have done this?" Asked Bow in shock. "She could have because Scorpia died here. Also where the hell is the geek princess?" Asked Mermista angrily. "She's right. Entrapta is not here." Said Glimmer. Hordak then walks into the lab. He looks around then his eyes shifts to a more worried look. "Where's Entrapta?" He asked kinda softly. "We don't know. Wait! Where's Double Trouble?" Asked Catra as she realized we're missing another person. "I don't know where that fool has gone." Said Hordak with a hiss. He then looks around and picks up the clean sword. "This sword...it was in the case." Hordak then turns around and runs out of the lab. "Hey! Not so fast!" Catra then chases after him.

Hordak POV:
I ran to the architecture room and it turns out, I was right. The case was smashed in pieces. Someone stole the sword. It cannot be Entrapta, it's impossible. She would never do such a thing. "Hey Hordak! What are you looking at?" I turn around to Catra behind me. She then saw the smashed case. "Oh. Looks like we got a clue. "Keep searching around the building. There should be more evidence to who the culprit could be." I commanded her. I heard her hiss behind me. Insulate brat.

Catra POV:
I went back to the lab with Adora waiting for me. "I...I should have stayed with Scorpia...maybe even help her and Entrapta on that darn secret door!" I couldn't help but spill few tears from my eyes. Adora has her arms around me, is she...hugging me. It feels nice. I couldn't help but purr. It feels so nice. "Wait! Secret door? Do you think Entrapta is there?" Asked Adora. I widen my eyes.

"She must be." I then ran with Adora behind me. Entrapta better not be a culprit or dead.

I arrived at the library and I don't see anything suspicious. The library secret door wasn't touched at all. I look around and I saw something laying on the ground; a keycard. I picked it up and moved the library bookshelf to reveal a secret door. I swipe the card, it didn't work. "Entrapta was here." I said to Adora. "She was!...then...where is she now?" Asked Adora. "I don't know." I said while I shrugged my shoulders. I look around until Adora calls me. She's outside the doorway of the library. I walk up to her. "What?" I asked, she then points her finger at something; blood. "I think Entrapta was attacked too or..maybe Entrapta attacked someone." Said Adora. "That can't be. No way Entrapta would do something like this." I said angrily because it cannot be true. I then saw the massive scratches on the wall and a destroyed vase. "Or..maybe there's been a fight here too." I said to Adora. "If that's the case then where does this blood leads us to?" Asked Adora. We then follow the spots of blood. The spots of blood actually leads us back to the laboratory.

Adora POV:
"Hey girls, you're back." Said Glimmer. "Yeah. We followed the blood and it leads to back here." Said Catra. "Speaking of 'back', Scorpia has a massive wound on her back." Bow then shows us her back. He's right, it's a massive wound. "Have you found any evidence?" Asked Mermista. "Well we found Entrapta's keycard, but no Entrapta." I said to her. "I was with Hordak for a short while and he found a broken case in the architecture room." Said Catra. "We also found a broken vase and the scratches on the wall." I said to her. "Well the main problem is, where the fuck is Entrapta?" Mermista shouts angrily. She's really frustrated with Entrapta being missing. "You know what! I'm going to find that geek princess, whether she pisses me off or not." Mermista growls. She walks past us and leaves the lab.

Mermista POV:
I meandered around the god forsaken school and no Entrapta or that lizard person. The only thing I haven't looked over was the storage room, well duh, she's a geek princess, she loves tech. Around the corner of the hallway, I bumped into Hordak. "Watch where you're going you fool!" He snarls at me, of course I snarl back. "You watch where you're going, you freak!" I yelled at him. He leans forward and hisses at me. This bastard. "Have you found any evidence?" He asked. "I have. Did you find Entrapta?" I asked. He holds his chest where the crystal is. "No. I haven't." He said quite softly, I guess he does have a soft side for Entrapta. Freaky. "Where were you going?" He asked. I hate his red eyes. "I was going to the storage room, where Entrapta would be because you know, she's a tech genius." I said to him. He then runs. "Hey!" I then start chasing after him.

He bursts open the storage door and looks around. "Entrapta! Entrapta!" He calls out to her, like damn, love her much. I look around, while this poor alien guy calls out to his girlfriend. There's something weird underneath the boxes, it's like there's a hole. I moved the boxes away and it turns out I was right, there is a hole. I look over and I gasped. I heard heavy footsteps behind me, he pushes me aside. He crouches down then screams "Entrapta!"

We see Entrapta laying on the ground on her stomach. "Basement! She's in the basement!" Hordak panicked. He then ran again. I follow after him. He punches each doors, I swear one of them are going to be ripped off soon. Anyway, we got to the basement as best as we could. The basement is huge, it's like a maze. We definitely could get lost in here easily. "The storage room was to the north east. The direction of the basement was south. This way!" Hordak then sprints. Geez give me a break with the running already. I should have hit the gym, damn it!

Hordak POV:
She's got to be around here. I know she is. I cut every corner and calculating the directions. There she is. I run to her. There's pool of blood around her head. I quickly picked her up. "Entrapta?" I swipe away her hair away from her face. Her head is bleeding. She's unconscious, hopefully. "Is she alive?" Asked the sea princess. I place my ear to her chest. Heart is still beating. "She's alive. She's alive." I held Entrapta closely to me. I was so afraid that I would lose her. "You! Get the first aid kit there!" I point my finger at the hanging green box. The princess ran to it to retrieve it. She then came back quickly. She opened up the box immediately. I took out the bandages and wrapped it around Entrapta's head to stop the bleeding. Never have I felt this close to anyone before, nearly losing someone is painful. I saw another wound on her arm. I grabbed another bandage and wrap it around the wound. She was also attacked by the culprit.

Mermista POV:
I watched how Hordak getting so 'lovey dovey' with Entrapta. I saw a scratch on her arm, was she also attacked or was it from the fall? I don't know yet, but once she wakes up, she'll tell us. Hordak picks her up in a bridal style. What the hell is with his Romeo persona now? We got some few clues, which would make Entrapta a clue herself. Anyway while we were walking back to the way we came to the basement, we hear something hanging. We look around. "Did you hear that?" Asked Hordak. "Yeah. Where is it coming from?" I said. All of the sudden, something fell and was hanging in front of us. It turns out it wasn't something, it was someone. I screamed and fell back, but Hordak just stood like it was nothing. Double Trouble is hanged by the neck.

No time

Chapter Summary

> Sorry again for short chapter. It's hard to come up with investigation parts.

Mermista POV:
Monokuma comes up on the screens. "Another body has been discovered. It is none other than Double Trouble. The non binary lizard is dead in the basement. I'll give you an extra time for the investigation. Good luck to you all! Puhuhuhuhu!!!" Monokuma as always laughs before the screens turns off. I can see Double Trouble's eyes are 'bloodshot' like their blood is blue. Speaking of blood, I can see blood coming from their mouth. It cannot be from the hanging by the neck. "We need Entrapta to help us with the autopsy." Said Hordak. I snatched Entrapta from Hordak and I start slapping her. "Geek princess! Wake the fuck up!!" I kept slapping her to wake up. "You fool! What are you doing?!" Hordak then lifts me up off the ground, his grip around my wrist was really tight, it hurts. "My cheeks." I heard a soft painful voice. I look down to see Entrapta is awake. She slowly sits up. "What happened?" She asked faintly. Hordak puts me down. "Entrapta?" Hordak crouches down before Entrapta. "Hi Hordak." Entrapta smiles at him. She turns her head to the right and saw the corpse, she screamed shortly after.

Entrapta POV:
They're dead. My head hurts. My arm hurts. I then heard footsteps coming to the basement. I then saw Catra with tears in her eyes. She breaks down crying. She slams her fists on the ground. Adora comforts her. "Entrapta, can you tell examine the corpse?" Asked Hordak. "Sure." I replied. I use my hair to untie Double Trouble from the neck and lower them down. I then begin my examination. I pulled out my tablet and scanned the body. "According to my readings, Double Trouble has suffered asphyxiation." I told the others. I then hear something moving above us and it turns out it was Mermista. "Looks like someone hanged Double Trouble up here." She said. I then move up with the help of my hair. The rope was tied to a broken floorboard.

Adora POV:
Looks like we're going to spread out. I went with Catra to the storage room. We look around then we found the hole. Did Double Trouble crawl themselves down to that hole? If so then who else could have followed them in the hole? I went down the hole and look around. I then saw a broken floorboard, I think this is where the culprit hanged them, I thought. I didn't want to say it out loud, because of the state Catra is in.

Anyway I came back to the basement. I see Entrapta is still examining Double Trouble's corpse. "Find anything?" I asked. "I have in fact. There's bruises on the back, harsh bruises. A sprain by the ankle too." Said Entrapta. She's right, Double Trouble has massive bruises on their back. Maybe they were fighting against with someone; the culprit. Before we could continue to investigate, the screens turns on. "Alright chums! It's time for the class trial. Let's see if you caught the culprit, or will you make a dreadfully wrong one. Puhuhuh!" Monokuma laughed before the screens turns off. We're all froze in place.
"Class....trial....already...but...but..." Glimmer stutters in nervousness. "Don't worry. I am sure we can catch the culprit. Right guys?" Bow then looks at us one by one as he comforts Glimmer. "We...I don't know." Even Mermista doesn't feel sure. We didn't gather much evidences. We didn't gather much clues. This is it. We're all done for.

Fourth class trial

Chapter Summary

Trigger + Spoiler warning: Suicide mentions

Adora POV:
I couldn't help but sweat. We're all are, even Entrapta and Hordak. The elevator doors opened, we as usual stood by our chosen podiums. We looked at the frames of those we lost; friends, enemies, acquaintances. Now there's only seven people left. This is not good. This is really bad, we're all getting taken down by one in a day now. The class trial then begins.

No one's POV:

Catra: Where do we begin?
Hordak: I suggest we begin on how did Scorpia die?
Entrapta: He's right because Scorpia died in my lab.
Mermista: Exactly! You could be the culprit!
Entrapta: Me!
Adora: Hold on Mermista! She might not be the culprit.
Mermista: Why's that?
Hordak: She was also attacked by the culprit judging by her wound on her arm.
Entrapta: Now that you mention it. I was attacked by someone.
Glimmer: Who was it?
Entrapta: I don't know. They were wearing an armor and their face is too dark to see. They look like normal human also.
Mermista: Couldn't you have told us then you idiot!!?
Hordak: Silence you!! In the architecture room, not only was the sword case destroyed, but I also noticed the ancient Horde armor also disappeared.
Catra: Horde armor?
Bow: Right. I remember when I went there before, the horde armor was around the corner.
Mermista: Where is the horde armor now?!
Glimmer: We don't know. We never saw it again.

Adora: Hordak mentioned about the sword case. Shall we talk about the sword?
Glimmer: The 'sword is the murder weapon' that was used to kill Scorpia.
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) No that's wrong!
Glimmer: Huh? Why not? It's not that far fetched.
Adora: No when we arrived at the crime scene. The sword was clean.
Mermista: The killer must have washed it off with something.
Entrapta: Actually that sword is easily stain able, so washing it off so clean would be impossible.
Catra: Hell! I'm going with my gut. What if it was a 'knife instead of a sword?
Glimmer: (Slams her hands on the podium) I can agree with that!
Glimmer: In the morning, I went to the kitchen to get something to eat. I noticed a kitchen knife was missing from its place.
Bow: So could the kitchen knife be a murder weapon then?
Entrapta: It could be if I had time to check up on Scorpia. What injuries did she have?
Catra: She was hanged upside down by her feet. She had a massive wound on her back and cuts on her knees.
Entrapta: Hanged upside down? With what?
Bow: A hook.
Entrapta: A...hook...oh! I get what you mean now. You're talking about the lift. I use the lift to lift heavy objects that my hair couldn't. In fact before I went to the library, Mermista wanted to talk to Scorpia.
Mermista: Huh! What?!
Hordak: I see. She might be the culprit.
Mermista: Hey now! What the fuck! How did this turn on me?!
Glimmer: What about Catra? She treated Scorpia so badly too. She could possibly be the killer!
Catra: Seriously! What about Entrapta?! She wasn't there when we found Scorpia's body!
Entrapta: I wasn't there. I was chased by the culprit.

(In unison)
Catra: No way I'm the culprit.

Entrapta: I cannot be the culprit.
Mermista: I'm not a fucking culprit!

(Mass Panic Debate starts)(Everyone starts talking over one another)
Catra: I was with Adora this whole time.
Glimmer: Why were you with her?
Catra: Just to talk. You got a problem with that!
Bow: What's your alibi?
Entrapta: I was chased by someone in armor then all of the sudden I fell through the hole and I blacked out.
Mermista: I was talking to Scorpia about what she's planning right then we mentioned about Catra, I thought she went to kill someone.
Catra: Seriously! Why would I kill someone?!
Hordak: Did you see where Scorpia been first?
Mermista: Well she was with Entrapta to the library. After I spoke to her, 'she stood back.'
Adora:(Slams her hands on the podium) I heard it!
(Mass panic debate ends)

Adora: By Mermista's account, Scorpia stood back after they were talking.
Mermista: Yeah she never followed me or anything. She just stayed where she was.
Hordak: Hold on! She can still be the culprit.
Adora: Why?
Hordak: She could possibly be lying. She must have been chasing Entrapta from the library to the storage room.
Adora: But it's not possible for Mermista to get to our room so quickly however. I remember the time she burst through my door was at 3:35PM.
Mermista: Oh right! I met Scorpia 10 minutes earlier.
Hordak: Still possible! She ran from the library to the storage room to attack Entrapta.
Adora: Do you know how far the storage room actually is? It takes longer to get to it.
Entrapta: According to my readings, running to the library room to the storage room would only take 20 minutes.

Glimmer: So Mermista is not the culprit?
Mermista: I'm not! Geez! Don't you get math!?
Bow: Ok if Mermista is not the culprit, where else can we start?
Catra: Maybe we should start with Entrapta.
Entrapta: Huh me?
Catra: Yes you! When you were attacked by the culprit, why did you decided to run to the storage room?
Entrapta: I thought I could hide there since there's lots of machines stored, lots of ventilation I can hide but the culprit was way too fast for me. The next thing I knew that I fell in the hole.
Hordak: If what she's saying is true then why was Double Trouble in the basement?

Glimmer: Maybe it's because they're the 'culprit'.
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) No that's wrong!
Glimmer: Why? What other reason could it possibly be that they're following Entrapta?!
Adora: Remember that Double Trouble was also a victim, they were killed by the culprit too. Remember the bruises on their back.
Glimmer: I do but where do these bruises come from?
Catra: Maybe they were attacked by the same culprit.
Adora: Judging the other evidences that we have now; the broken vase, scratch marks on the walls, drops of blood on the floor.
Mermista: Double Trouble must have had a fight with the culprit.
Entrapta: Or maybe, I don't know if it's right or not, but what if Double Trouble was 'fighting Scorpia?'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I agree with that.

Adora: There were scratches on Scorpia's back as well as the cuts. Those claw marks could possibly be from them or from Catra, but we know that Catra was with me this whole time, she cannot be the culprit.
Bow: Wait! Are you saying that Scorpia and Double Trouble were fighting each other?
Hordak: Knowing how careful Scorpia is, a broken vase is part of a big evidence. She would not break the vase on purpose.
Entrapta: If there was a fight with the kitchen knife then why is there a need for the sword?

Adora: Double Trouble must taken the sword from the architecture room.
Catra: That's wrong idiot!!
Adora: C..Catra?
Catra: If Double Trouble took the knife, then it shouldn't be a problem to take down Scorpia, there's really no reason to take the sword.
Adora: What do you think the sword could be?
Catra: I don't know. Could be a decoy or..something!
Hordak: Or maybe our crux of this argument was wrong.
Mermista: Mind telling us why?
Hordak: What if Double Trouble wasn't the one who took the knife, but was Scorpia?
Catra: S...Scorpia would never do that!
Hordak: Don't let innocence blind you, you fool. Scorpia can also be both the victim and a culprit.
Mermista: Do you have any alibi to know that Scorpia did take the kitchen knife?!
Entrapta: In fact, Scorpia did tell me she was in the canteen.
Mermista: Couldn't you tell us sooner?!
Entrapta: Sorry.
Bow: The canteen...that's closer to the kitchen. What about Double Trouble?
Catra: Shit....how did I not see this coming?
Adora: C...Catra...what are you talking about?
Catra: I spoke with Double Trouble yesterday and the last thing they ever said to me was "I'll be the coat on the hanger."
Glimmer: 'Coat on the hanger.' I...is that their last words to you?!
Catra: I guess...so.
Entrapta: What does it mean by that? I'm bad at metaphors.
Bow: Suicide!
Catra: What! No it cannot be! There's no way that Double Trouble would do something like this!
Adora: Judging by the alibis, Double Trouble must have committed suicide.
Mermista: That selfish bastard did not commit suicide because what reason is there to do that?!
Hordak: They must have been on a brink of death, so they chose the unthinkable.

Glimmer: That could explain whole lot of sense of their corpse hanging by the floorboard.
Entrapta: I think it was more like an accident. There was a broken floorboard with the rope.
Monokuma: Ohhohoho!!! Looks like you suckers are split down the middle. I know what that sounds like! A scrum debate!!!!

Monokuma pulls out a golden key and twists the lock. The podiums where seven people stand along with the pictures of those who died are lifted up in the air.

Fourth scrum debate

The red side are Double Trouble did not commit suicide.
The blue side are Double Trouble did commit suicide.

The players on the red side are Entrapta, Catra and Mermista.
The players on the blue side are Hordak, Bow, Adora and Glimmer.

Entrapta: It could have been an accident.
Adora: It wouldn't explain why the rope was there in an 'accident'.
Catra: Double Trouble is not that gullible to do something like this.
Hordak: They are more than capable to hide their gullible side.
Mermista: Double Trouble is nothing but a selfish bastard!
Glimmer: Selfish or not, they're more than capable to commit suicide!
Entrapta: What if they were attacked by the culprit instead?
Adora: We would have seen other external injuries from the culprit.
Catra: What! Are you saying the main culprit is Double Trouble?!
Bow: We can't say for sure they're the culprit, we can't rule it out yet.
Mermista: That bastard must have been chased by the culprit!
Hordak: False. They are more than capable in escaping the culprit's grasp.
Entrapta: We seem to solve the mystery of Double Trouble's death, can't we just vote now?
Bow: Not yet. There's still another mystery to solve.

No execution! How boring!

No ones POV:
The podiums came down slowly. Everyone remained silent until Bow spoke.

Bow: The only mystery we haven't uncovered was who was the one in the horde armor?
Catra: Uh....
Bow: Entrapta, remember back when you were attacked. How did they look like?
Entrapta: Well...um....they're taller than me....6 feet at least.
Mermista: Is it the same as Scorpia's or what?
Entrapta: Well..I can't say for sure...but now that I think about it. I think it was Double Trouble who was attacking me. I....I could have sword....I saw a 'green tail.'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) That's it!
Entrapta: That's it? For what?
Adora: You were attacked by Double Trouble.
Glimmer: Which could also explain why they were in the ceiling of the basement.
Catra: Wait! Hold on! We're not done yet! How did Scorpia get to the lab then? She's massive! 'I doubt Double Trouble could carry her there!'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) No you're wrong!
Catra: Huh?
Adora: Double Trouble is surprisingly strong, do you remember at the party incident, they can lift up a really heavy box that I cannot.
Catra: W...what!
Mermista: Hey um..I know I did not bring that up before but I saw like hands prints and foot prints on the wall where there was a broken vase and stuff..does...does that mean anything?
Bow: It does! Only Double Trouble could do that.
Glimmer: So have we come to the conclusion then? We already got enough puzzle pieces right.
Adora: I guess so. Let's end this case.

(Closing argument starts with Adora finishing it)
It all took place when Scorpia was with Entrapta, talking about their secret plan to crack open the hidden secret door. Scorpia told Entrapta she's going to the canteen, but what she intentionally was trying to do was take a knife and claim her first victim herself. Scorpia herself took the kitchen knife from its place and went back to Entrapta's lab. It was at the same time that the culprit went to the architecture room to steal the horde armor and the sword to kill Scorpia.

Entrapta and Scorpia agreed to head their way to the library to unlock the secret door behind the shelf. That is when they Scorpia was stopped by Mermista because she wanted to talk to her. Without them knowing, the culprit has been watching them from afar. The culprit was very sneaky, that's their specialty. After Mermista assumed Catra will go on a killing rampage, Scorpia was attacked from behind. They have been fighting and have been damaging their surroundings. The culprit managed to hit Scorpia via her knees to stop her moving, her back and on a fatal blow; her throat. The culprit then dragged her corpse to Entrapta's lab to assume that the murder took place in there, just so they could pin our suspicion on Entrapta. The culprit then struck the hook onto Scorpia's tail and lifted her up, making her hang upside down.

The culprit then wanted to claim their another victim; Entrapta. Entrapta tried to open the secret door but was failed. Luckily Entrapta had the time to react to the culprit attacking her. Of course, she left behind her keycard. She then ran away scared from the culprit. Entrapta ran to the storage room to hide, unknowingly she accidentally fallen into a hole. Entrapta then lands on the ground, she accidentally hit her head on the ground, causing her head to bleed, which knocked her out cold. The culprit must have thought they have finally carried out their task, now they decided to move onto their final task. It was a really drastic one.

They went inside the same hole that Entrapta fell through. The culprit took the rope and died around a lose floorboard. They removed their armor and unfortunately we did not find it whatsoever, the culprit was very sly and careful. They then wrapped the rope around their neck and jumped off the floorboard. They hung themselves for unknown reason. Luckily Entrapta was alive and gave us plenty of evidences who was responsible. Now we know that the culprit was none other than Double Trouble.

(Closing argument ends)

Catra:.....so....that's actually the end of the case....that idiot....really....(sniffs) (wipes tears away) Let's just vote this shit already.
Monokuma: Vote already. Alright chums. This was boring as hell; no proper drama, no proper actions, no creativity. However if you vote correctly, all of you will live but the blackened will get punished if all you vote wrong, you all but the blackened will get punished!
Catra: Yeah we already know that! Get on with it already!!
Monokuma: Already pussy calm down!

The monopads then appear in front of everyone. One by one selected who the blackened was. The votes are in. The casino machine spins and it lands on Double Trouble's pixelated icon. A loud of applause and cheering was heard. They got it right.

Monokuma: Ugh! No blackened, no execution because they killed themselves instead. How lame! Also Catra voting yourself as the blackened was noble but stupid. I'll let that slide. Oh also here! (Monokuma throws a letter at Catra) I'm surprised how you did not find it, read it out loud will you!

Catra: (Clears throat) 'Dear Catra, I know what I am going to do is unforgivable but I am tired of living like this. You might not believe me but, I've lost it. I've lost my mind. I don't want to hurt you because I love you as my friend. However I might kill some people then myself. I'm killing them because I am saving them. That's why other blackeneds killed their victims, they're saving them from this hell. I know I deceived you, I know I left you, but know this, you have those around you who care so deeply about you even if you don't see it. Don't fall for despair like I did, it makes you crazy. Survive this for me darling. I hope I'll see you in the other side of this hell.'

No one's POV:
Catra's tears starts staining the letter, she grits her teeth in anger and grieve. "Fucking...moron." Catra wipes her nose and tears away with her hand. Adora comes next to her and pulls her into a hug, comforting her.

"Well as much as I like to watch this sentiment. I suggest get your lazy asses to bed now. This day was terrible, no fun, just boredom." Monokuma leaves with mumbles and growls in frustration.

Blood in the where!!

Catra POV:
What's the point? What's the point on caring anymore? What's the point of living anymore? Why am I still alive, just to watch my friends die. Why am I still living....right...that's what...I want to be perfect...I want to be respected. I'm always wronged. Right. I don't need to trust anyone anymore, look what happened two of my friends went crazy and it hurt like a bitch. I need to stop caring about others. I want to live. I want to live!

I lay on my bed, hugging the blanket. I...I..I don't know...am I still crying? How do I feel now? I don't know. I don't know anymore. I feel numb.

Glimmer POV:
I couldn't help but feel so on edge not even Bow's comfort could calm me down. "We're down to only seven people left! We're all getting taken down one by one. Scorpia the most kindest and caring person had lost it and tried to kill Double Trouble. She must have also tried to kill Mermista too or Entrapta!" I said loudly at Bow. "I....I can't blame her...because she...this killing game is hell...it can make you go crazy. Double Trouble themselves had lost it and we've always thought they're strong minded turns out we were wrong!" Bow shouts back at me. "What are you trying to say?! Are you trying to tell me that you are more than capable to kill me or Adora or even Entrapta?!!" I yelled back at him. "Yes!! We all are!! We're all losing it!! We're all going crazy!! Who knows who's going to snap next?!!" Bow yells at me again. I couldn't help but start crying. "We're all doomed....it's the end for all of us...it's the end isn't it?" I choke on my sobs until I felt Bow wrapping his arms around me. "No...there's still hope left for us to survive this. I know there is." Bow strokes his hand down on my hair. "We should head back to our dorms. It's nearly past midnight." Said Bow. Before he leaves he kissed my forehead goodnight.

As I was walking back to my dorm, I am feeling very paranoid, I am looking around, being on guard because you never know who will attack you. I continue to look back and forth till I reach to my room. I immediately close the door behind me. I wash my face and I look at myself in the mirror. "We must survive." I said to myself, trying to encourage myself to continue living. I then lay on my bed and closed my eyes, then went to sleep.

Adora POV:
New morning, new day. I went to the canteen to have breakfast. No one is here but me, it feels quite lonely. I can't keep my guard down because I might get attacked too. I then saw Catra. "Catra hi!" I waved. "Hey. Eating by yourself?" She then walks over to me. "Yeah. I was bored." I said to her. "Huh mood." She chuckles slightly. "Where are these chuckle fucks?" She asked. "Uh who?" I asked confused on who she is referring to. "Sparkles and the Bow guy." Said Catra. "Oh yeah. I have no idea." I said to her because it's true, I don't know where they are. "What about Entrapta and Hordak, oh and Mermista?" I asked her. "I was with Entrapta few minutes ago, she's with Hordak now, working on how to get our magic back. Mermista. I don't know where she is." Said Catra. I grab her shoulders. "We need to find her now!" I then dragged Catra with me.

We start looking for Mermista, trying to think where she'll be. "Hey um..doesn't that water princess swim in pools or something?" Asked Catra. "Catra you genius! Yeah she could be there! Let's go!" I had sparkles in my eyes, I am feeling determined to find Mermista. I hope she won't end up as the next victim. We're outside of the school now, our feet submerged in the sand, leaving footprints. We then got inside the building where there is a big swimming pool. We went to the pool area and we saw Mermista jumping in the air like a dolphin performing tricks. "Ah!! What are you guys doing here?! I'm trying to have fun here!" Mermista yells at us. "Ask her. It was her idea." Catra points it at me. "Yeah it was. I thought you were killed." I said. "Listen I am tough as a rock, no one will kill me. I can handle things on my own." Said Mermista. "Uh...still though. Anyone could try and kill you." I said to her back. "And still, I can defend myself." Said Mermista as she leans back on the side of the pool. She is so stubborn and overly confident of herself. Narcissist. "Ugh! Fine! Do what you want?" I then left with an annoyed groan. "You're starting to sound like her." Said Catra with a smirk. "Shut up." I said to her. She giggles behind me.

Bow POV:
Me and Glimmer walk into Entrapta's lab. She was also with Hordak too. "Entrapta, we need your help. Can...can you break down the magical barrier so we can have our magic back?" I asked. "I could but we don't have a keycard to hack behind the barrier door. The main source of the magic barrier is behind that door. That's why I am trying so hard to hack the door." Said Entrapta. While Glimmer was looking around, she accidentally spills water. She grabs the towel and was about to wipe until Entrapta stops her by using her hair. "Wait! That's acid! You'll burn yourself!" Entrapta scolds her gently. "This is a sulfuric acid. It's a really strong acid with high amount of H+ ions." Entrapta starts rambling on and on about the acid now. "Ok I get it. I didn't know it was acid." Said Glimmer. "It's ok, just a little warning." Entrapta claps her hands with a smile. "What else are we suppose to look out for?" I asked. "Well my lab contains lot of chemicals that must be handled with great precautions for example ethanol is irritant if inhaled or ingested, alkaline could burn your skin, acid can burn your skin, combining nitrogen with-" Asking her was a bad idea because she's now rambling non stop about chemistry. Me and my big mouth. I got 'are you kidding me' glare from Glimmer. I look at Hordak, he doesn't seem to mind her rambling at all.

Glimmer POV:
We have been listening to Entrapta for three hours!! Why the hell did I stay back with Bow? Just to listen her explaining how chemicals work! Darn, why didn't I make her stop talking for few minutes? It's evening now. We're all in the canteen eating our lunch. We're all together talking about random things. We all seem hopeless apart from Entrapta, she keeps rambling on about chemistry. For the love of....when is she going to shut up about it?! "Oh sorry. I've been talking to much. I'll...I'll shut up now."

Said Entrapta. "Thank you!!" I yelled out then I got a nudge from Bow. "Glimmer!" He scolds me. "Sorry." I said quietly.

"Entrapta, how come the keycard didn't work?" Asked Catra. "When I first used the keycard it was incorrect, as I took a look at the code, it changed. The keycards I made had an exact code, but it turns out each hours pass by, the code changes. I can't really...hack the door." Said Entrapta sounding a bit blankly. "What! So we were just messing our time trying to open the door!" Catra yells. "Sorry...I thought I could crack open the door, but-" Hordak places his hand on her shoulder. "You need to rest. We'll figure out how to crack the code." Hordak reassures her. "Yeah, he's right. You are a genius." Adora comforts her. "She's right geek princess. You are a nerd." Mermista smiles lightly and sarcastically. "Keep trying. We can't give up hope." Said Bow encouragingly. Entrapta smiles sweetly and has a bit of tears in her eyes, why is she crying slightly? I am being an asshole right now. What is wrong with me?

Nothing happened this time but it doesn't mean it won't happen tomorrow. I am in my room, writing my diary. I read through my diary and I've written each victims and culprits. I wrote my thoughts and feelings. Most of my diary dates were just mainly bad things, there's hardly any good things. Even the amount of times I've spent with Adora and Bow, the bad things still manages to out weight the good. During the trials, we keep accusing one another even those who you suppose to trust. We can't trust anyone here at all, not even your friends. I wrote down a big phrase on the page 'don't trust anyone!!!' I then went to sleep.

Bow POV:
Like usual, I meet up with Glimmer and she is not as talkative this time. I try not to talk much too. She's been like this since this morning, she's quiet, did she do something? I hope not. Anyway it's afternoon, I thought of something to cheer her up. We should go swimming in the pool. "Hey Glimmer, would you like to go swimming? It'll be relaxing, the sounds of water flowing echoing in your ears, the echoes in the room, the water touching your skin." I said to her. "I guess." Said Glimmer. "Come on. It's the only thing we haven't ever done before." I said to her, grabbing her hand. "Haven't done what?" I turn around to see Adora. "Oh hey. We're going swimming. Would you like to join?" I asked her. "Swimming?...uh...yeah I guess I could I mean I don't have anything to do and...a lot has been on my mind lately." Said Adora. "Great! Let's go." I said to them. We then went together.

Adora POV:
We went outside of the Hope's Peak academy. Our feet once again submerged in the sand. "Do you think Mermista will be there?" Asked Bow. "I'm sure she is because she often goes to the pool when she's bored." Said Glimmer. "I hope she won't mind that we'll join in." I said. "As long as no one pisses in the pool, do you remember last time when Double Trouble pissed in the pool, Mermista was so grossed out and furious. You know she can turn into a mermaid." Said Glimmer. "Yeah...wait! She can smell pee in the pool when she's a mermaid. I wonder how." Said Bow. "I don't know how too. Only Entrapta knows." I said to him.

Me and Glimmer went to the women's changing room while Bow went to men's changing room. We got our swimming clothes on. We then wait outside for Bow where the two changing rooms connect to the hallway. "Is it just me or...the pool smells more than usual?" I asked as I started to sniff that weird smell. "Now that you mention it, that smell is stronger than last time." Said Glimmer. "Hey ladies." Bow then came out of the changing room in his swimming trunks. "Well lets take a dip." Said Glimmer. We then start making ourselves down the hallway. The smell gets stronger and stronger. "Eww...why is that smell...so strong?" Glimmer held her nose, closing off the smell. I also held my nose, it really stinks so badly, it smells like moldy eggs. As we came to the end of the hallway, we saw something that we decided not to swim anymore.

We saw Mermista laying next to the pool, her skin is badly burned, torn and bloody. The pool is completely covered in red like blood in the water. I couldn't help but scream at the sight. All three of us screamed as we saw Mermista's dead body. The body announcement has begun. "A body has been discovered and it is none other than Princess Mermista. Make way to the swimming pool and start your investigation. You only have one hour." The body discovery announcement has ended.

Fifth investigation

Adora POV:
We couldn't take our eyes off of Mermista's corpse. We just couldn't. We then heard footsteps and the others came in. Catra, Hordak and Entrapta came and saw the body. "It can't be." Said Entrapta sounding distraught. "We just lost two people yesterday now we lost another one!! Are you kidding me?!" Catra screams out frustrated. Hordak sniffs out the smell. "That smell...it's sulfur." He said. "What?" I asked. "A chemical with sulfur atoms can create such odious smell." Said Hordak as he walks over to Mermista's corpse. "Judging by her cause of death. It was lack of blood. Her skin is badly burned...from sulfuric acid." Said Hordak. "Sulfuric acid. Are you sure?" Asked Entrapta. "I am sure. Bring your pH scale." instructed Hordak. "Okie dokie." Entrapta then quickly ran out of the swimming pool.

"Sulfuric acid? Huh....wait how did she not know it was dangerous?" Asked Glimmer in disbelief. "She wouldn't know because you can never tell the difference between acid and water. Acid cannot produce odor without reacting anything." Said Hordak in seriousness. "Gross...I think I am going to-" Glimmer then ran to the garbage can and throws up. I then continue to look around. I went to the pool's valve room with Catra. "It looks like someone replaced this nasty stuff with even more nasty stuff." Said Catra as she covers her nose. She is referring to something that makes the pool smell of...what...chlorine or something. I then smell close to the thing that gives a smell, she's right someone replaced it with I guess a murder weapon.

Hordak POV:
I continue to inspect the princess. I examine her face, it is badly burned, her hair is dissolved slightly. Her arm was nearly dissolved to the bone. How unfortunate. "Hordak I got it!" I saw Entrapta showing me the blue litmus paper and the pH scale. She dips the paper and the device slightly. The blue litmus paper turned red. "It's very acidic. Let's see what he pH tell us." Said Entrapta as she awaits the reading. "I got it and it's really high!! It was a sulfuric acid, but it's a 'concentrated' sulfuric acid." Said Entrapta.

Bow POV:
Sulfuric acid. I thought again with Glimmer. "We need to check on Entrapta's lab." I said with my eyes wide. She agreed. We then quickly got out of the building and rush to the lab. "Bow wait!! Did you notice the footprints? Look!" Glimmer points at the footprints. Wait! Neither of us have got here before so...wait! Hold on! Did...did we just solve the case now?" I asked. "Let's not think ahead of ourselves here, let's make sure." Said Glimmer. We then continue to run back to the lab. There is a shortcut to the lab; the exit fire door. Actually that's also a clue.

We then got to Entrapta's lab and looked around. "Found it!" Glimmer then carefully picks up a bottle that would contain the acid. "It's empty." Said Glimmer. "Do..do you think Entrapta might have used it?" I asked. "She might have because she's the only one who is careful when it comes to chemicals." Said Glimmer. I also noticed Entrapta's device that helped most of our investigations is destroyed. "We nearly forgot about the chemical storage room. Let's go whilst we still have time." I dragged Glimmer out of the lab quickly.

We got to the storage room. We look for the shelves that would contain acid and it turns out one of them was stolen. "Looks like someone did take the acid to the pool." Said Glimmer. "Yes but how?" I asked. "With a key. Didn't you see it? Entrapta has it." Said Glimmer. "Looks like...the evidences lead very closely to her." I said in disbelief.

Adora POV:
Only five minutes left till the investigation ends. We don't have much time left. I hope the others have clear evidences. "Adora look!" I look other to Catra. "Mermista written something here, but it's smudged." Said Catra. I ran over to see what it says. She's right it is really smudged. I can make out what it says slightly. "E...p.." I read out. "Wait! Is that suppose to be her dying message?" I asked. "I guess so. Did we finally figure it our already?" Asked Catra in shock. "I guess." The bell then rang. "Alrighty then! Time for the class trial!! Puhuhuhuh!!" Monokuma always laughs at the end of his sentence.

Fifth is the Easiest Class trial

No one's POV:
All remaining survivors stands by their podiums. They looked at Mermista's frame with a massive red cross, standing on the frame feeling like she is still here but she's not. The class trial begins.

Bow: Ok what was the cause of death?
Entrapta: Highly concentrated sulfuric acid. It can cause severe burns to the point if you don't wash it off as soon as possible.
Glimmer: If that is the case then why didn't Mermista get out of the water as soon as she starts to burn?
Catra: Maybe she saw it too late.
Hordak: Or she was stunned by the culprit.
Bow: Maybe she was 'poisoned because she's a mermaid.'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I heard it!

Adora: By Glimmer's and Bow's account, they said that Mermista can smell anything in the water. Mermista must have been poisoned.
Entrapta: Of course. Mermista can turn into a mermaid, which therefore means she can change her lower half to a different anatomy. Her blood regulation possibly changes too since she cannot process hydrogen sulfite.
Hordak: According to the monopad, it says her cause of death was unknown. Therefore the burns and lack of blood wasn't the actual cause of death. It was sulfur poisoning.
Catra: Where did the 'sulfur' even come from?
Bow: It came from the chemical storage, which was then was in Entrapta's lab, empty.
Entrapta: Huh? In my lab? Wait! 'I didn't use the sulfuric acid at all!'
Glimmer: (Slams her hands on the podium) You should have kept your mouth shut!
Entrapta: W..I didn't use the acid.
Glimmer: Yesterday you stopped me from getting burned from 'sulfuric acid'. You did have the acid.
Entrapta: But I didn't use it today at all.

Hordak: Hold on!! Are you accusing Entrapta as the culprit now?!
Glimmer: The sulfuric acid is something that she knows. Only her!
Hordak: You fool! I could be the culprit too!!
Entrapta: H..Hordak? Wait..wh..what about Adora..she..she didn't see Mermista as a friend or anything like that. She could have done it!
Adora: What!! Why are you suspecting me now?!

(In unison)
Adora: I'm not the culprit!
Entrapta: I cannot be the culprit!
Hordak: I could be the culprit!

(Mass panic debate starts)(Everyone talk over one another)
Adora: Do you have any evidence that I killed Mermista?
Entrapta: No..but..but you don't have an alibi.
Hordak: I can be the culprit. Suspect me instead!
Bow: You're saying that as Entrapta's defence.
Hordak: You fool! I could still possibly be the culprit!
Catra: You are very smart when it comes to science. You're most likely be the culprit.
Entrapta: But I didn't use the acid! 'I was outside next to the pool building because I saw a magnificent tech.'
Glimmer: I heard it!!
(Mass panic debate ends)

Glimmer: Entrapta, you said you were outside next to the pool building...all because tech!
Entrapta: um...yeah. Look! It's a motherboard. It can carry so much data and so much information! (Smiles innocently)
Bow: During the investigation, we found Entrapta's device she often used to help our investigation, it was destroyed.
Catra: She must have destroyed it so she wouldn't have to use it.
Entrapta: What!! It was destroyed!
Adora: Entrapta? You would know it was destroyed wouldn't you?
Entrapta: N..no! I didn't know it was destroyed.
Hordak: You fools! How do you accuse her as the villain!! Someone is trying to frame her!! She did not know who destroyed her device!!

Bow: What's your alibi?
Hordak: Well...yesterday I was with her in the lab...today I was in my sanctum this time. I am telling you she cannot be the culprit!
Glimmer: You're defending her because you love her! We all know that!
Hordak: True. What about you? What is your alibi?
Glimmer: I was with Bow and Adora, we decided to go swimming that is when we found the body.
Hordak: One of you must be the culprit!
Catra: How? Me and Adora went to the water valve room, we saw the 'thing' is replaced the one that contained the acid.
Adora: Yeah the 'thing' that is suppose to smell like 'chlorine' was replaced with the acid.
Entrapta: Also judging by Mermista's body, it was badly burned, so she must have been burned well before you three arrived to the building.
Hordak: Now you mention it, her time of death was 'this morning'.
Catra; Her time of death was this morning...I...I went to Entrapta's lab...and she wasn't there.
Entrapta: Huh...I..I was in the..uh....uh (sweats profusely)
Adora: Entrapta, where were you?
Entrapta: I...I...I was in the chemical storage room.
Glimmer: Looks like we caught our culprit. You dug your own grave to easily.
Hordak: Wait! We're split in the middle. She cannot be the culprit!! Monokuma, this will count as a debate!
Monokuma: Well...ignoring the math here. I see why not! Scrum debate is my favorite part anyway.

Monokuma pulls out a golden key and twists the lock in front of him. The podiums then rises up in the air. The scrum debate begins.

Fifth Scrum Debate

The red side is Entrapta is not the culprit.
The blue side is Entrapta is the culprit.

The players on the red side are Entrapta and Hordak.
The players on the blue side are Catra, Adora, Bow and Glimmer.

Hordak: She did not kill Mermista.
Glimmer: There are plenty of evidences that she did kill Mermista.
Entrapta: I did not go to the building.
Catra: You said you were 'outside' of the building.
Hordak: She is being framed here, don't you realize that!
Adora: We have a lot of evidences leading to her. You should realize that.
Hordak: Are you sure someone else could have knowledge of chemistry?!
Bow: No none of us ,apart from you two, are not smart enough to understand chemistry.
Entrapta: I am not the killer! Please believe me!!
Glimmer: Entrapta can be the killer here!
Hordak: Why won't any of you trust her?!
Catra: Because there is evidences linked to her. For fuck sake, how many times do we need to tell you that we have evidences?!!

The scrum debate ends.

Ending this once and for all!!

The podiums came down to their positions. Entrapta crying uncontrollably.

Entrapta: I didn't do it.I didn't do it.I didn't do it.I didn't do it.I didn't do it!I didn't do it!I didn't do it!!
Hordak: Entrapta.
Entrapta: Why won't any of you believe me? It wasn't me.
Glimmer: Hold on. The footprints...the fire door exit is not too far from the pool building too.
Bow: The footprints...in fact...Entrapta show us your shoe.
Glimmer: Those...lines on the footprint...it's yours!
Entrapta: No! It's not!! It wasn't me!! I am telling you!! Please believe me!!
Hordak: Hold on a second!! What about Catra's footprints?! We haven't heard her alibi yet!
Bow: She doesn't wear shoes, she's unlikely be the culprit.
Catra: I was in my room sleeping. Do we have any other evidences?
Adora: Yes, Mermista's dying message.
Bow: Her dying message is what?
Adora: It was really smudged but few letters I can figure out was 'E and P'.
Glimmer: The only one who has an E at the start of their name is Entrapta.
Entrapta: It's not me!! I am not the killer!!
Catra: Her name is the only thing I could think of.
Bow: Does this mean we solved the trial now?
Adora: I guess so. Let's go through the case right now.

(Closing argument, Adora talks through it)
It all started in the morning where Mermista went swimming in the building that has a massive pool. The culprit took the pool as an advantage to kill Mermista. They took the acid; a sulfuric acid as a murder weapon. They must have snuck into the water valve because, even though we didn't mention it, through the vents. The culprit then replaced something that has chlorine for the pool, they replaced it with the acid. Mermista then starts to burn and she wasn't aware of it until she got poisoned by sulfur. Mermista's body starts to burn badly and bleed. She jumped out of the pool, but she knew she wouldn't live for long so she wrote a dying message as she saw the culprit. Mermista wrote the name in blood which is really smudged, the only letters that is really recognizable was E and P. The culprit was not careful or cunning in their crime. Now in the trial with us, they accidentally slipped up their real alibi. They made this obvious that the crime was caused by them. There are so many evidences that is linked directly to them because they are smart when it comes to science. We know for certain that culprit is her. Entrapta, you are Mermista's killer.

(Closing argument ends)
Entrapta: (Crying in her sobs)...I...I did...not kill...her!!!
Hordak: What is this tomfoolery!! She did not kill her!!!
Catra: Looks like it's time to vote now.
Entrapta: No...no!! We're all going to die if you do this!!
Adora: I'm sorry Entrapta. We have to do this. Monokuma we're ready.
Monokuma: Hmm...the trial ended really quickly...very well then. Time to cast your votes, suckers!!
Entrapta: PLEASE NOOOOOOOOO!!!!!!
The monopads then pops up in front of everyone. They cast their votes, feeling confident who the culprit is.

The casino like machine spins around the remaining survivors. The machine's spin starts to slow down and lands onto Entrapta's icon. The loud alarm sounds off loudly, a flickering red x mark on Entrapta's icon is shown, the lights flicker red. The vote was incorrect.

Adora: Wait...what?!
Glimmer:...we....we...were wrong....
Bow:...Entrapta....was not...the culprit...
Horak:....who...who was the culprit?

Catra: Hahahaha! You guys are idiots, it was me. I'm the one who killed Mermista.

A motive

No one's POV:
After Catra revealed herself as the culprit after the incorrect votes, everyone has their eyes widen in horror. Their pupils shrunk. Heartbeats beating fast. Sweats falling so profusely.

Adora: C..Catra...you..you..n..no...how...how can it be you?
Bow: The evidences....they were all leading to Entrapta....how...how are you the culprit?!
Catra: I overheard you and Glimmer talking to Entrapta about the acid and what it can do. I took advantage of it. I knew if I used evidences something that only Entrapta is capable of, I would be off the hook. I can't believe it actually worked. Hahaha! You guys are bunch of idiots!! Hahaha Adora: You idiot!!! Don't you realize what you have done!!! You killed us!!! How could you!!! I thought you cared about us!!! I thought you cared about me!!!
Catra: Cared about you!! Why would I care about you when you didn't care about me!!!
Adora: What?
Catra: These past weeks, you've been distancing yourself from me ever since, I was never good enough for you. Neither of you respected me!! Neither of you acknowledged for what I am!!!
Entrapta:...C....Catra....I thought we were friends....
Catra:.....you....you never saw me as a friend!!!
Entrapta: I DID SEE YOU AS A FRIEND!!!
Catra:.....
Glimmer:....what's...what's going to happen to us?
Monokuma: Glad you asked!!

Everyone turn their attention to Monokuma.
Monokuma: Finally something I've been waiting for this for a long time. When you vote the spotless as the culprit, all the spotless apart from the blackened will be 'executed'.

Everyone froze, their eyes in horror and shock, sweats and tears dropping on the floor.

Hordak:....what was your motive, Catra?
Monokuma: I'll take over with that. You see Catra and Adora were great pals in the horde, but Catra was the most insignificant one out of the all other horde soldiers. No matter how hard she tried, Adora will always out best with anything. Catra's motive was to beat Adora. I am surprised that Adora's tiny mind and big head did not remember that they were in the horde together.
Adora: I.....I....I was with the horde....with Catra then.....
Monokuma: Catra only wanted to be praised, to be noticed how good she is at anything, to be valued. Right now in this trial, she has won the game.
Hordak: Why...why trying to frame Entrapta?! Tell me why!!!
Catra: She....she was seen...as something better than me...I couldn't stand it!!! She was way more useful than I am!!! She didn't put much effort as much as I did, yet she's still seen as something special!!! None of you ever wanted me near you!! None!! That's it's better for all of you to go to hell.
Adora: C...C..Catra.
Monokuma: Ok I've waited patiently long enough. IIIIIIIIT'S PUNISHMEEEEEEENT TIIIIIME!!!!

Fifth executions

No one's POV:
Monokuma whacks his big hammer on the red button. It shows the pixelated version of Monokuma dragging the pixelated versions of Adora, Bow, Entrapta, Hordak and Glimmer.

Everyone were sweating profusely. Chains were rattling around them. A chain clicked around Entrapta's neck and pulls her back to the shadows. Hordak tries to reach for her but only to get his neck chained and pulled back to the shadows too. Bow and Glimmer had their necks chained and pulled back into the shadows. Adora fell through the trap door that was beneath her. She reaches for the light above her that was quickly fading from her.

Catra sees five screens were turned on but all of them are in static. The first screen turns on, the rest remained in static.

Entrapta has her arms and legs restrained on the restraining table. Her head is pinned down on the table, her twintails were also pinned down. An execution appears that says:

Making a robot!
Entrapta's execution

Monokuma with a wielder mask and many scary equipment. He places down a blueprint paper next to him that shows the picture of Entrapta's full body and the lines on where to cut; her head, her mouth, her arms, her legs, her endings of her twintails and her eyes. There was also robotic limbs right next to the table too. Entrapta stares in horror as Monokuma picks up scissors. He grabs the endings of her hair and cuts off the tips in which of course was painful for her because they are very sensitive. Monokuma grabs her lower jaw and starts making incisions each side of her face. She screams in pain as he cuts her lower jaw by the joints. He removed her lower jaw, blood spills everywhere, her screams are muffled. Monokuma then starts cutting off her arms first then her legs after, till she became absolutely limbless. Entrapta's tears were spilling from her face as she continues to give out lots and lots of muffled jawless screams. Monokuma then stabs her eyes with scalpels and rips them out of her eye sockets. Her pretty magenta eyes were pulled out, spooling blood. Monokuma finishes her off by slicing her neck with a large knife; decapitating her. The light turns off.

Monokuma then turns the light back and plays with his remote. The corpse of Entrapta came to life and has prosthetic, robotic limbs, jaw and eyes installed. The endings of her hair has robotic hands installed. She's not alive, she's dead and is controlled like a puppet. Monokuma starts playing with his remote and he made the dead, robotic Entrapta dance. The Monokuma audience cheered and applaud for his creation.

The second screen now comes on. This time it's Hordak. He is strapped on the restraining table with a heart monitor besides him. The Monokuma doctor came from the darkness with a scalpel. An execution screen comes on that says:

Live surgery
Hordak's execution

Monokuma removes the sheet from Hordak's chest and immediately starts cutting him. Hordak screams in pain as he was being torn apart from his chest. Monokuma rips out his heart, his lungs, his bones and the tech that was placed inside him. Hordak watches as his organs were pulled out of his body until his eyes slowly closed shut. Monokuma then slaps the other fresh organs into his body and stitches Hordak back up. Hordak did not wake up. Monokuma uses defibrillator and starts shocking Hordak. He continues to shock him until he burns his body badly from so much electrocution. Monokuma then throws Hordak's corpse into the incinerator as he was seen as a defect.

The third screen came up and it's Glimmer. Glimmer has her wrists handcuffed, and is trapped inside the locked box. The liquid is not water but a flavored water. They're start flowing inside the box. An execution screen appears that says:

Abracadabra
Glimmer's execution

Glimmer tries to break through the handcuffs, but couldn't. She tries to teleport herself out of there, but couldn't because her magic is restrained. She looks around and tries to find a trap door, but couldn't. She is then completely submerged in water and starts drowning. Glimmer took her last breathe and is slowly collapsing on the floor of the box until a giant Monokuma pierces a straw into her body and starts sucking on the straw. He is sucking away the flavored water and her blood till she and the box becomes shriveled. The monokuma audiences applaud and cheered for him.

The fourth screen turns on and it shows Bow at the center of the arena. The execution screen title comes up and says:
Hunter's failure
Bow's execution

The monokuma archers appear around the arena and fires their arrows at Bow. Bow is getting shot back and forth, side to side. His body is covered in arrows. He is bleeding everywhere in his body. A giant Monokuma appears before him and shoots a giant arrow at Bow. The giant arrow pierces through his body, he coughs out blood. Another giant Monokuma appears behind Bow and he shoots his giant arrow with fire at the tip. The giant arrow pierces behind Bow and he has now combusted into flames.

The fifth and final screen appears. Adora is tied up, her limbs are completely tied up. she is sitting on the chair. Monokuma is teaching her things from the horde while she is being moved back by the escalator beneath her. Behind her is a crushing piston. An execution screen appears that says:
Final training
Adora's execution

Adora tried to break free from her restraints while the piston hitting on each impact grows louder and louder. She knows it's all over. She closes her eyes shut, ready to die, but the piston never struck her from above. The machine's screen says 'Error!! Execution failed!" The machine malfunctions. Adora looks up as the piston nearly squashed her to death, but the escalator continues to work. She is then thrown backwards with a chair. She is falling head first. At the end, there's a grinder. Before Adora falls into the grinder, the screen appears that says 'CAT-DOS has stopped working! A problem has caused the program to stop working correctly! CAT-DOS will close the program and notify you if a solution is available.'

Still No one's POV:
"I did not want to end this too soon. Not especially the She-Ra. I want to see her suffer. I want to continue to make her suffer. Now it's time to change the program. Let's start things over." A masculine voice echoes in the shadows. A giant figure looks over many massive screens. His four green glowing eyes wander around. "As much as I wanted to destroy you brother, but making you suffer is much more pleasant." A pure white finger presses the button. All of the screens immediately shuts off. Leaving everything in darkness.

New start

Chapter Summary

Sorry for short chapter. I didn't know how to begin.

Adora POV:
Where am I? I woke up with heavy eyes. Wait! Was I asleep in the class? I looked around and I am in a classroom. I saw my drool on my table desk. I am really confused because wasn't I going to die. I stood up from my chair and left the class. I look both ways then I turn to the left. The flashes of memories flash before my eyes. "Catra!" I growled. I remember how she was the culprit all along and got us all killed apart from me. That selfish pussy!!

I walk around, trying to find my way out of this place, until I heard someone humming. I hear someone sawing and I hear the metal clanking. There's a door that is slightly opened. I take a peak and I see Entrapta making the robots. These robots look like our friends; I can see the robot versions of Scorpia, Hordak, me, Frosta, Glimmer. All the robots she made look like us except she is missing one more and that is Catra. I walk inside slowly. "E...Entrapta." I called out to her. She turns around, sitting on her hair, she has her mask over her face. "Can I help you?" She asked. "Entrapta...where...where are we?" I asked her. "Oh, we're in this amazing school. They let me have my own laboratory. Oh, hold on I am just finishing up making one more robot." Said Entrapta as I see sparks flying. "Here we go." Said Entrapta as she lets the robot sit up. I look at the robot and it looks like Catra. "Oh, how did you know my name? Sorry I don't remember who you are." Said Entrapta with an apologetic smile. "Entrapta, it's me, Adora." I said to her in disbelief. "We're friends...right?" I hope I can convince her.

Entrapta POV:
"We're friends...right?" She asked me. I lift up my mask. I suddenly have flashes of memories rush through my head and it wasn't pleasant. I backed away and I hit my back against my most recent creation. I look at it then another strike of flashbacks hit me. I remember how badly that the magicat treated me, I remember how badly she betrayed me, I remember how I...I feel sick. I covered my mouth with my gloved hands. I ran to the trash and I threw up. "I wish I didn't have to remember that." I said to Adora. "I wish I didn't have to remember how they tore my apart a...mph!" I thew up again. I never felt this impacted by a horrific event before in my life, it was not pleasant. I start to have this memories with Catra echoing in my head once more. I couldn't help but ball my fists in my hair and punch the robot that looks like Catra. I ripped off the robots head and threw it to the wall; I smashed it into pieces. I sit down with my hands on my face, covering it.

I look at Adora. She looks...scared...or worried....I don't know. "What do you remember?" I asked her. "I...I remember before I nearly got crushed by the machine, the machine just...failed. I then fell into the grinder but...the thing is...I didn't actually feel it happen. That's what I remember. Next thing I knew is that I woke up in the classroom." Said Adora. "Fascinating. Adora grabs my shoulder. "Entrapta, have you seen anyone here?" She asked me. "Oh yes, there's Hordak, Mermista, Bow, Glimmer." I said to her. "Good. We need to regroup and try to track down the mastermind." She said. "The mastermind? Oh...you mean Horde Prime; our headmaster." I said to her. "What!!" She stepped back, in shock, I think.

Error

Adora POV:
No this can't be happening. Horde Prime, the headmaster of the school. He's the mastermind behind this killing game. I was walking with Entrapta around the school. She continues to ramble on and on about the school, about tech and especially Hordak, who she is telling me that he is somewhat related to him. I don't think I should trust Hordak if he's related to Horde Prime. I worry about it later, I need to ask about the others since she did say that Mermista is around. "Hey um...Entrapta, is Perfuma, Frosta, Netossa or even Spinnerella...are...are they around?" I asked her unsure on how to phrase it. She stops at her tracks, I accidentally bumped slightly to her hair. She's not turning around to face me. "Let's just say that they're not here with us anymore after what they did." Entrapta says in a deep voice, she sounds disturbed by it. "Wait! What do you mean what they did?" I asked her. She did not answer me. "Perfuma..what did she d-" She then covers my mouth with her hair. She is shuddering, she crosses her arms across her chest, her hands gripping on each of her arms. I can hear her teeth gritting and she is visibly shuddering. "Do not ask me that question again!" She blurts it out with a hiss. I wonder what did happen.

We continue to walk around and then we saw Bow and Glimmer. They then see us. "Adora!" They said at the same time, then they ran towards me. We fell to the ground, hugging. Hold on! "You guys remember me!" I said surprised yet happily. "Of course we do! We thought you were dead!" Bow cried. "I thought you guys died too!" I also cried. We then wiped away our tears. "How come you guys remember me, but not Entrapta?" I asked, pointing my thumb at her. "Huh..you don't remember her?" Asked Glimmer. "No. I never met her before." Said Entrapta with a smile. "Where were you in the school?" Asked Bow. "How do I put it? I first woke up in the kitchen. The killing game has started, then we were about to get executed because we got the wrong culprit turns out to be Catra, then I woke up in the classroom." I said as short as possible. They stared at me with their eyes wide. "C...Catra...." Glimmer blurts it out. "What?" I asked confused. "She's Horde Prime's assistant. Also what...the killing game?" Bow then asked me looking so confused. "Yeah. We're in a killing game!" I said to him. "No...we're in school. There is no 'killing' game here." Said Bow. I then hear Entrapta screaming. We look to her, she is curled up into a ball.

"NO MORE NO MORE NO MORE NO MORE PLEASE!!!" Entrapta has tears pouring down her eyes, I never seen her like this before. I never seen her this scared, this panicked. "Entrapta, it's ok. It's ok. Everyone is still alive. No one is dead yet." Glimmer tries to comfort her. "WE'RE GOING TO DIE SOON!! SOMEONE IS GOING TO KILL US!!! I'M GOING TO DIE!!!" Entrapta screams out. "Entrapta!" I then recognize that voice. I look over to the voice and it's Hordak, but he looks different. He's pure white and his eyes are green. He grabs Entrapta's gloved hands. "It's ok darling. It's ok. I'm here. I am here." He said to her in a soothing voice, eventually Entrapta calms down a bit. Hordak then picks her up in bridal style. What the hell was that all about?

"What happened?" I asked so confused on her reaction. "Ever since these...past tragic events....people have lost it. Perfuma killed Scorpia, Rogelio ate Lonnie and Kyle, Spinnerella and Netossa killed Frosta. Those who have killed others were executed by horde prime. Entrapta acted out like that because of trauma. She badly suffers with PTSD. If you mention anything about killing, she'll start to panic." Bow explained to me. Seriously, Perfuma killing Scorpia is not possible...Spinnerella and Netossa killing Frosta....it just can't be. "Did she have another panic attack or something?" I heard a sarcastic voice. I turned around to see Mermista with an eye patch over her eye.

"Who are you?" She asked bluntly to me with her arms across her chest. "Mermista! You....you don't remember me." I said to her. "No. Who are you?" She asked me again. "It's me Adora. How come you don't remember me?" I asked. "Because I don't." She responded sarcastically. She always have this sass and sarcasm, so like her. "What...what happened to your eye?" I asked her. She just scoffs then left, rude. I wonder what happened. I want to know what happened because none of this is making any sense. I want answers. "Adora, let's hang out and we'll talk about what has been happening." Said Glimmer.

Mermista POV:
Who was that girl? How the hell does she know my name? Anyways, I am here with the geek princess and this freaky alien dude. Entrapta took her medicines; the medicines to calm down her anxiety or whatever. Once she calms down, she turns to me. "Mermista, how's your eye?" She asked me. "Oh I don't know, I can't see from it." I said to her. She uses her hair to remove an eyepatch from my face. "I have finished making you a prosthetic eye if you need it." She said to me. I look to myself in the mirror. My eye was burned off from the acid, it hurts. It hurt a lot. A flashback hits me; blood, blood dripping down my face, tingling, burning sensation, that darn....magicat!! My flashback ends.

Adora POV:
I was just hanging out with Bow and Glimmer until my vision went to static for few seconds. What the hell was that? I asked myself. All the sudden, things starts to change. Everything around me starts to change; I am suddenly next to Entrapta and Perfuma...no Mermista and Lonnie...no Scorpia...what the hell is going on!!! Everything went black only I'm on the spotlight, but where is the light coming from. "Hey Adora." I recognize that voice, I turn around to see Catra in a white clothing and her eyes are green. "C....Catra." I said in mixture of disbelief, anger and disappointment until the static clouds my eyes again. She disappeared. The world starts to crumble and the static clouds my vision again then suddenly I am back on class trial grounds. "Hello Adora, nice to see you." I look around then saw someone I never met in person, but only heard off. He is holding Monokuma by his head with his clawed hand. His four eyes look at me like hot knives. "Horde...Prime." I said out loud. He clicked his fingers then suddenly the clones that look like Hordak start appearing by the podiums. Glimmer, Entrapta, Mermista, Bow and Catra then appeared. "Huh where are we?" Asked Glimmer.

What is going on?!!!!!

Final class trial

Chapter Summary

This is so hard to come up with.

No one's POV:
Confusion. Turmoil. Who died? No one knows. Was there any investigation? No. Everyone is nervous. They're here with Horde Prime. This is the final class trial once and for all.

Adora: Who...who was murdered?
Horde Prime: Ah, it wasn't murder. It was genocide.
Bow: G..genocide? Is..is this the point of the class trial?
Horde Prime: The point of this trial is...who is the one who manipulated the genocide massacre?
Glimmer: Manipulated?
Horde Prime: My fellow students were killed and executed, but what is the reason for such massacre?
Adora:...what?
Clone: Princess Perfuma and Princess Scorpia were engaged until Perfuma terminated her.
Adora:....it...it can't be...
Clone: Spinerella and Netossa killed Frosta together.
Clone: Rogelio devoured Kyle and Lonnie.
Catra: Adora not around in the school.
Adora:....huh....what?....I was.
Horde Prime: Is that so? Explain to us. Where were you?
Adora: I..I was in the school...in a killing game. I saw my friends die and executed. I was about to be executed because our voting was wrong.
Horde Prime: Is that so? Explain to us, to me. How are you here if you were about to be executed?
Adora:....I....I don't know.

Adora then has flashes in her eyes. She then looks around and sees what appears to be a forest. She walks around confused then saw a bright light, a silhouette. She stares at it in awe. A silhouette has a sword, golden armor, golden hair, the eyes were shining blue, the face is bright as light. "Who...who are you?" Asked Adora. The silhouette turns to her then closes its eyes, a bright light engulfs everything.

Adora opens up her eyes and rubs them. She's back in class trial.

Adora: A glitch.
Glimmer: Huh...glitch?
Adora: There was a glitch in our world. Everything is not making any sense because it's a glitch. Entrapta is mindfully stronger than she is now, she never had PTSD. Mermista never lost an eye from acid burn. Entrapta and Mermista would remember me, if Glimmer and Bow remembers me. This is all a glitch.
Horde Prime: A glitch you say? Do you have 'any evidence that there's any glitches now?'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) I have plenty of proof!
Catra: So Adora, what's your proof?
Adora: Monokuma.
Bow: Huh? I don't get it, what about Monokuma?
Adora: The white and black colors are wrong way around. The smiling part is white instead of black.
Entrapta: Now that you mention it, you're right. The monokuma that we know has its colors switched other way around. The smiling part was black instead.
Glimmer: So that's...part of a glitch?
Adora: Yes.
Clone: What's your other evidence?
Adora: Catra.
Catra:....
Adora: She's another evidence. Before we were about to get executed, she was the blackened. Before I was taken to the execution, I saw her eyes were....just green like she's been possessed.
Bow: What!!
Mermista: What are you trying to say?!
Adora: I'm saying that...the real Catra that I know would never kill anyone even if her past is horrible!

Entrapta: Her past?
Horde Prime: Her past, mind explaining about her past.

(Discussion starts)
Adora: We were kids in the horde. We were trained to become fighters, become soldiers. She was listed as the weakest and low ranked because of the figure called Shadow Weaver.
Glimmer: S..Shadow Weaver?
Adora: She was used to be called light spinner, but is now called Shadow Weaver. She did a forbidden spell, she used a forbidden magic that caused destruction. She became corrupted.
Mermista: Corrupted? What do you mean by that?
Adora: She's corrupted because of her thirst for power. She abused her power on Catra, torturing her mind.
Entrapta: Oh I get what you're saying now. You're saying that Catra 'was corrupted.'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) Wrong!
(Discussion ends)
Adora: She was fighting her corruption instead.
Glimmer: Fighting her corruption!
Horde Prime: Despair.

Everyone then turn to Horde Prime.

Horde Prime: They had fallen into despair. They lost all their hope and turn to despair and corruption. Just like what happened to the others; Spinnerella and Netossa murdering Frosta, Perfuma killing Scorpia. Love is part of processing the despair. Power and manipulation is the energy for despair.
Adora: Love as....part of processing the despair?
Mermista: When you love someone, you 'hurt them.'
Adora: (Slams her hands on the table) You're wrong!!

Adora: I saw how Hordak taken Entrapta into care. That's love. That's compassion. He gives her 'hope'!
Horde Prime: Hope. Tell me, Adora. What is hope and how can it defeat the despair?
Adora: Hope is the lining of the silver cloud. If you feel like there's no way out of anything, there's always hope. Hope will always kill despair.

Clone: Why did Rogelio devour Lonnie and Kyle?
Clone: Why did 'Scorpia kill Perfuma'?
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) Caught you red handed!!

Horde Prime looks at one of the clones and snarls. He clicks his fingers and one clone exploded into bits. The green blood was spilled across the courtroom, catching everyone off guard. Horde Prime wipes away the green blood off of his face.

Horde Prime: Explain what he said.
Adora: (Wipes the green blood off of her) We've just mentioned that Perfuma killed Scorpia, not the other way around. We're still trapped in a glitch.
Catra: It could be a mistake on that clone.
Adora: No it wasn't. It was a glitch. Horde Prime, the mastermind of the killing game miscalculated one of his clones. Perfuma, Scorpia, the others weren't real!
Horde Prime: (Claps his hands, applauding her) You're right. They weren't real, but...are you real?
Adora:....what....
Horde Prime: Are any of them real?
Entrapta:....
Bow:.....
Mermista:....
Glimmer:.....
Catra:.....
Horde Prime: Neither of you were real. You're right. I did miscalculate on one of my clones. I am the mastermind of this killing game, I can create, destroy, rearrange anything I like. I can even create characters such as yourselves as much as I like.
Entrapta:...you...you created us?
Hordak: (In control of Horde Prime) Yes my dear. He is our god of this simulation. He created us for his own entertainment.
Mermista:....so...is meeting with Sea Hawk...also a lie?
Horde Prime: Oh you poor thing. You don't realize that it is. Do you remember who burned your eye? Do you remember how much pain you've felt?
Mermista: I....I....I don't remember.

Horde Prime: Of course you don't. I am the 'mastermind'. All of your minds belong to me by my will.
Adora: (Slams her hands on the podium) That's wrong!!

Horde Prime: Contradicting me, aren't we?
Adora: If you are the mastermind then.... how are you here?
Horde Prime: Pardon?
Adora: You claim that you created us, then...who created you?
Horde Prime:.....
Adora: Someone else created you.
Bow: What are you getting at, Adora?
Adora: If this game is a simulation and Horde Prime is part of it, then...whoever created 'this' story is 'the author of this killing game'.
Horde Prime: Impossible!! I am the god, I'm the one who created this killing game!!
Adora: No you didn't. The author did. They created you as the mastermind and us as participants.
Horde Prime: (Clicks his fingers drastically causing all the clones to explode into green blood and flesh) Impossible!! Impossible!!!
Catra:....
Horde Prime: Hehehe! No matter, despair will win!!
Adora: No!! Despair will fall!! It will fall you hear me!!

After Adora yells at Horde Prime, the unfamiliar energy starts engulfing her. The energy is rainbow color. Adora then grew taller, more bulky and muscular, her hair grew longer. The energy dies down. She has formed into a different appearance. A she-ra.

She-Ra: With the power of hope, despair will fall!!

Final blow

No one's POV:
Everyone stared at the new sight of Adora. No. She-Ra. A symbol of hope.

Horde Prime: Hehehehe. You can pull any trick you like, but it'll only delay the new age of despair.
She Ra: (Slams her fists on the podium) Wrong! It's not the despair that'll take place! It's hope!!

After she slammed her fists, it sent shock waves across the court room. The green electricity sparked behind Catra's neck. The court room eventually starts glitching.

Horde Prime: Prove to me then. What hope is there to save your so called 'friends'?
She Ra: (Turns to Mermista) Mermista, even though you lost your home and your kingdom, but you never lost your people, your family, not even Sea Hawk. You two worked together and looked out for each other when things got tough. Do you want to see him again or not?!
Mermista: Seahawk?

Memories starts flashing before her eyes. "Sea...Hawk." She said faintly until the static glitches covers her eyepatch then her eye she once lost has formed back into its place and the burned scars glitched away.

Mermista: Hell yeah! Not because I want to see him. (Blushes lightly)
Horde Prime: What!!
She Ra: Bow, Glimmer! You two looked out for me. You two are the best friends I ever had. You two always found hope. You guys always see the silver lining in every cloud! Are you two going to give up now, or are you going to keep going?!
Bow: Yeah! You're right. We've always got each other's backs.

Glimmer: I am the Queen of Bright Moon! It is my duty to give hope to others!! I won't back down!

She Ra then turns to Entrapta, who is shaken; in fear, anxiety, stress, nervousness.
She Ra: Entrapta! Do you remember how much you loved science?! How much you've loved tech? Are you going to cower in fear instead of facing something you love or are you going to continue doing things what you love?!
Entrapta: Tech where!! What does it look like?! Tell me everything!!

The static glitches engulfs her for a second. She is just the same as she was, but mentally different.

Horde Prime: Contrary on her knowledgeable intellect, her social intelligence is just below 0 IQ!!
She Ra: Hordak! You seek for perfection, then learned what imperfection is. You were taught that imperfections is better than perfections. You felt proper emotions, you felt friendship, you felt free, you felt love! Don't you remember how much you love Entrapta! If so, prove it to me!!
Hordak: Love....Entrapta?

Hordak was then also engulfed with static and is reverted back to his red, blue and black color scheme.

Hordak: Entrapta!
Entrapta: Hordak!

The two humanoid species; a human; an Etherian and the alien ran into each other's arms. Without hesitation, they shared a kiss.

Mermista: Eww that's gross!

Yep their love is back and so is Mermista's blunt demeanor.

Horde Prime: What! Hordak! I command you to step away from that creature!!

Hordak: I, Lord Hordak, will defy your will!
Horde Prime:....Grrr....

She Ra leaves her podium and goes over to Catra. She wraps her arms around her and hugs her.

She Ra: Catra....I forgive you.

The chip behind Catra's neck then shattered into many pieces. The sounds of clinks and clanks echoes the court room.

Horde Prime: Impossible!!!

Catra has fainted in She Ra's hands. She Ra then carries her to Bow and Glimmer. "Keep her protected." Said She Ra. She then made her way back to the podium.
Horde Prime: I know what we could do since we're split in argument. How about the last scrum debate?! (Growls then laughs maniacally)

The two podiums rose in the air and this is definitely the last scrum debate.
She Ra's side is hope.
Horde Prime's side is despair.

Horde Prime: It's game over! You lost!
She Ra: If I lost, if we lost, we wouldn't be here now!
Horde Prime: You have no control of the universe. Your life is soon at the end.
She Ra: Nor do you. Our life will never end because there are plenty of authors out there will write fictions about us; both good and bad.
Horde Prime: The result has already been reached! What more can you do?! Hehehe!
She Ra: Together we can change the result! We have the power to do it!
Horde Prime: All of you are only being tortured for entertainment!!
She Ra: True..but so are you. We are in this together.

Horde Prime:.....
She Ra:.....
Horde Prime: I'm...being tortured for entertainment....hehehe....hahahahaha.....so be it.

The podiums then let down to the ground. There was silence. Horde Prime has his head down, smiling, all his four eyes closed. He then starts chuckling, it was so sinister. It's no surprise.

Horde Prime: Well....I'll let the author decide my fate.
She Ra: Horde Prime....thank you for participating this fiction. (Smiles brightly and her eyes closed)
Horde Prime:....he..hehe...I guess so.

Horde Prime puts down Monokuma from his hand. He placed him on his throne.

Horde Prime: Monokuma...I want you to execute me.
Monokuma: (Distraught) Master! If you die, I'll die!
Horde Prime: Exactly, but we don't belong together. I think it's time to go our separate ways. You need to get back to your world. I'll be taken part to another fiction written by another author.
Monokuma:...master....
Horde Prime: Do not hesitate! Press the button! Let our suffering come to an end. Do what your master tells you!
Monkuma:.....(sighs deeply)....ok then...it's the end of me in this fiction...it's...punishment time.

Monokuma sadly pulls out a toy hammer then gently whacks on top of the button.

The pixelated version of Horde Prime and Monokuma appears on screen. They then walked together out of the screen.

Horde Prime is sitting on his knees while the environment starts building around him. The environment is a mixture of different culprits' executions. Horde Prime is strapped down on the examination table then starts getting cut with a scalpel. His jaw is cut, his two green eyes were removed, but he did not let out any sound, he seems like he's enjoying his execution.

Now different environment, an arena. He's being shot by burning arrows. Each arrows hit onto his skin. He continues to smile and smile after each hit. Now in the different environment, he was stabbed from the back by a large straw. In different environment, he's being shot with lasers. In another different environment, he's now on the chair with Monokuma on his lap. The piston smashes behind him. The sounds grow louder and louder. Horde Prime then waves at the fourth wall before he got crushed with Monokuma.

Horde Prime has been executed by his own demand. Thanks to the author's writing.

Ending

Chapter Summary

> Well this is the final chapter of this story. Near the end is so hard to come up with. Lol. I hope you enjoyed it, even though it was kinda crap.

No one's POV:
Catra opens up her eyes slowly then looks around. She gasps loudly then pants. "What the! Where am I?!!" She asked aggressively and panicked. "We're free." Said Glimmer with her tears forming in her eyes. "We're....free....FROM HORDE PRIME!!!" Catra then grips on Glimmer. "Yeah!! We're free from this killing game!!" Bow pounces on Glimmer and Catra, squeezing them in a hug. "Not yet." Said She Ra, as she approaches them. "What do you mean? Horde Prime, the mastermind, hello, he's dead." Said Mermista sarcastically. "He is, but not the killing game. Not this school. I think I know how. Entrapta where is the sword?" She Ra asked her. "Oh, it's in the mueseum!" Said Entrapta happily.

The glass pane was smashed and the sword was taken. Now outside, the group wait patiently for She Ra to do what she's planning to do. The sword glows in rainbow energy, then lifted up in the air then stabs the grassy ground. The rainbow energy created a circular shock wave, which spreads around the school, the area, everywhere. The school, the Hope's peak academy, the killing game has finally been destroyed. Not only that, the magical barrier has been destroyed too. The sky however has the static effects like a broken TV. She Ra then disappears and now Adora is back.

"What's that?" Asked Catra. "It's a new dimension to go to another fan made fiction." Said Adora. "A...Adora...w...will you be there for me?" Asked Catra shyly. Adora then gently places her forehead on hers. "Always, regardless what universe, what fiction, I will always be by your side." Said Adora. "Wait! Hold on! If that thing takes us to another fiction, then...does this mean we'll see the others?" Asked Mermista. "Correct. Another fiction, another universe could mean you will meet the familiar faces again. This could mean that I could fall in love with Entrapta all over again." Said Hordak as he looks down on the shorter woman. "Oh you!" Entrapta wraps her hair around him in a hug. "I don't see this as a bad thing. In fact, there will be more adventures, more stories, more things that we never got the chance to experience. I could experience this with Glimmer all over again too." Bow then clasps on Glimmer's hands tightly.

This is it. The ending of this story. The group are ready to travel to another dimension together. Adora and Catra hold hands. Glimmer and Bow hold hands. Hordak holding Entrapta in a bridal style. Mermista has her arms crossed across her chest, smiling, feeling determined. "Let's see where the fiction will now take us." Said Adora. The group then walk towards the static. They went through, it was like a portal. They then disappeared, but they're not gone. They're alive, they're out there somewhere.

Author: I might write a new fiction about them soon, but who knows....should I keep torturing them?
