Working Late

by dzmatron

Summary

Catra's working late. She's about to go home. But then she has a last minute request from one of her colleagues.

Not like she was going to head home to her girlfriend or anything!

And then at the photocopier... the plot thickens.

Notes

See the end of the work for notes

Catra groaned as her email notification dinged. She was on the verge of logging off and heading out, but clearly the Office Gods had a sick sense of humour. She ran a hand through her dark hair, then pulled it into a messy ponytail as she read through the latest nuisance.

It had already been a long week and her job wasn't exactly the easiest - she was on the rungs of the corporate ladder; high enough for decent pay, but low enough for plenty of work to get delegated her way. Honestly, the job wasn't terrible. The hours were, for the MOST part, great. And there were some pretty damn good in-office perks. But that didn't stop some weeks being an absolute drag.

Like every job it had its pitfalls. Like the chance of getting ad hoc tasks: normally from one of the consultants - usually around producing some new presentation slide deck; or checking the servers; or trying to wrangle enough consultants into a meeting to make something resembling a decision.

Or, like had just happened - being asked to photocopy about 100 pages of a new client pitch. She squinted at the sender name and snorted.

Of course Adora would wait until the last minute on a Friday before sending things out. The woman was organised but sometimes left simple things right to the last minute. Like forgetting that the document production team, who normally handled mass paperwork, left early on a Friday.

So, naturally, Catra was her go to. Which meant she had probably forgotten something else as well.

With a mumbled curse Catra fired the document to the printer, then swiped her access card from the desk. She was in the middle of an open plan setup and it looked like she was the last one out. It hadn't exactly been a busy day - a lot of the company was work-from-home still. And the CEO was very pro-employee (Another perk) so it was usually a relatively quiet place to be, except on team days when it became an unbearable cacophony of socialising and random doughnuts for the staff.

Catra paused and looked at her laptop - she was tempted to pack it up, along with her jacket, and just scoot straight out once she'd dropped the docs in Adora's in-tray. But she had a sneaking suspicion that she'd have a follow up, or something equally scatterbrained. With a sigh, she trudged away from the desk towards the alcove that held the printer. Each floor had one: a sort of stationary and office supply pit-stop. Skirted around the partition and then groaned. A piece of A4 stated that the printer was "Out of Ink."

She pondered the brief irony of the last job the printer probably did was to inform everyone if it's busted-ness, then rolled her shoulders and headed towards the only other printer on the floor - the one in the executive suite.

It wasn't in an office - it was in a small cupboard in between a couple of board rooms and was usually only used for last-minute document runs for client meetings (Everyone loves a handout. What better way to do a presentation on advising on positive climate action than by printing off fifteen booklets!)

She rocked slightly as she walked, happy to be mobile at least. One problem, currently, was that sitting down for long periods was getting uncomfortable. She'd gone for a set of tight slacks and that wasn't helping either. But she'd felt she wanted to be more femme today and dammit if she wasn't going to try . After years of wearing baggy clothes and hiding her makeup palettes, she was embracing her chance to be *her*self.

The door clicked open and Catra sighed happily as she powered the machine on - full ink levels, no paper shortage. She tapped her ID and keyed up the job, then grunted as she noticed it was a good hundred pages long. Likely ten individual presentations - she'd check before she dumped them on Adora's desk. And then she'd be having words with the woman.

She watched, bored, as the machine thrummed to life. The pages began to shunt out fairly rapidly. She scooped the first ten pages up and began to sort them, but was interrupted when the door behind her clicked open. She began to turn before a voice said:

"Burning the midnight oil, hmmm?"

Catra stiffened, confused. Her eyes had caught the first page of the presentation and her eyes furrowed. It read "Don't turn around."

In fact every page said "Don't turn around."

She was confused, but she managed to get out a "Hey, Adora? Like, you made me do this so…"

"Oh Catra. I doubt I could make you do anything." Adora's voice was laced with a smug sort of cockiness that Catra only really heard from her during board meetings.

Or…

She swallowed.

Behind her, she felt movement and heard the lock of the door click. Adora hummed to herself, "You know, your performance review is coming up soon. Do you think it'll be… red or green in the review section?"

Catra inhaled a shallow breath. She slowly placed the print out on top of the still-thrumming printer. Her fingers dug into the beige plastic and she coughed before she spoke, "Uh. I reckon green is a good colour."

"Good to know. We value feedback here. Be sure to let me know if performance dips towards the red, hmmm? And on that, it's good to see you being so diligent."

"Well, I do have some upward feedb-" Catra's voice stuttered as she felt Adora suddenly press herself up against her back. The other woman's breath ghosted over Catra's ear as Adora spoke.

"I'm sure you do. But before we get to that... I have some input I'd like to give you."

Catra was torn between smirking and licking her lips. She coughed, "Uh I mean, isn't... now a bad time, I have"…

"Do you have somewhere to be?" Murmured Adora, "Girlfriend waiting at home for you? I'm sure she'd want you to succeed. And I know you'd do anything to succeed, Catra. I'm here to help with that."

Catra kept staring ahead, at the notice board above the printer. She swallowed as she felt Adora's hand slide across her stomach, over the top of her blouse. Fingertips trailed to the hem of her pants where they deftly toyed with the button there. Catra whimpered as she felt something press against the cleft of her ass, "...A..Adora"…

"I want to make sure it's green across the board for you, Catra," Adora's voice was sultry, but it held something else: A barely-there question, "I'm all about... team satisfaction."

Catra nodded briefly and bit her lip, "I'm all about... green."

With a flick, her pants were unbuttoned. Adora's other hand swept under Catra's blouse and the brunette gasped as the other woman groped and pulled greedily at her pert breasts. She shivered as Adora licked her ear, then suckled at her earlobe. The other woman made a satisfied noise as her questing hand delved into Catra's pants.

"There she is... I think someone wants to come out to play..."

Catra's knees nearly buckled as Adora's questing hand found her dick, tucked up in her thong. With a huff, Adora moved both her hands to shove Catra's pants down, but only to her middle thigh. Catra felt exposed, leaning on the printer, which still whirred away before the pair. With a happy hum, Adora molded herself back against Catra, then pulled the brunettes length free of the thong, before she wrapped her hand around the warm length. Catra groaned and shivered again as Adora began to make languorous strokes along its length. Adora's tongue dragged its way up Catra's neck and the brunette tilted her head to one side, "..Ado-ra.." her voice was cracked and she flushed with embarrassment - exposed in a stationary cupboard while being jacked off.

"Hmmm..no, this wont do," Adora huffed. She pulled back, her hand releasing Catra's dick, which made the brunette whimper in disappointment and shame. A firm push made Catra bend over the machine and then she groaned as she felt Adora's hands slide down the back of her blouse to grip the cheeks of her ass. Her groan became a gutteral whine as she then felt Adora part her ass cheeks, in order for her tongue to lap and trace around Catra's rosebud. The brunette's arms shot forwards and she gripped the far side of the printer as Adora ate her ass, liberally coating it with her spit. After a moment, Catra's groaning hitched up a notch as she felt first one finger, then another press against her rear. She groaned, then panted as she relaxed, allowing Adora to slip a pair of fingers inside. Adora's other hand reached between Catra's legs and she began to pump away at the woman's cock, alternating movements to match the rhythm of her thrusting fingers.

Catra whined and bit her lip, laying her cheek against the vibrating cover of the printer, the vibrations sending thrums of tantalising sensation through her covered nipples. Her legs quivered as Adora methodically brought her closer to the edge. She heard Adora speaking, hearing the words but almost in an abstract way, "Such a good girl. Look at you, office ice queen. Imagine what everyone would think if they saw you getting fucked in the stationary closet. Such a good little girl, working for that raise."

Catra tried to lift her head, but the hand on her dick slid back to cup her small balls and squeezed gently. That made Catra convulse and her dick twitched with the beginning of an orgasm. Adora's fingers stilled and she squeezed the base of Catra's dick, hard enough to forestall the release, which made Catra hunch over with a whimpered groan of disappointment. Adora rose and leaned over Catra, pressing herself against her as she withdrew her fingers, the sudden lose drawing out a confused sob from the brunette, "Pl..please"…

"Oh, Catra. No no..we have to escalate things now, you see. I need you to..take on some more. Really gonna have to pile it on."

The snort that escaped Catra was a little rude but she bit her lip to stifle it. Adora huffed, then bit Catra's shoulder. The brunette yelped, then yelped again as Adora swatted her ass, "Wh!"..

"Therell be time for your feedback at the end ba… Catra. I really need to drive this point home though." Catra shivered as she heard the squirt of something and then felt the cool smear of lube across her asshole. Her mouth was suddenly dry and her eyes were wide.

Surely not?

Then she felt something push against her back-door. Adora's hands massaged at her lower back as she leaned forwards and whispered, "Remember, to be good at taking feedback, you need to be open, relaxed and willing..hmmm?"

She felt Adora kick at her feet and Catra widened her stance as much as she could, considering her pants acted as a set of fabric shackles. She licked her lips as she relaxed as best she could. She heard the lube squirt again. The shadow of movement behind her told her Adora was applying the lubricant to something, the went, sloppy noises heightening her anticipation and slight worry.

Then her thoughts became very focused as the sensation of pressure built. It was cold, but not unpleasantly so;thick, but not anything she wasnt used to. She felt the dildo slide home and she let out a long, deep groan-cum-growl as Adora bottomed out. The other woman's thighs slapped against the back of Catra's.

The brunette tried to draw a breath but couldnt - she felt so full. Adora laid her weight against Catra, pushing her against the printer that was, somehow still running. In some strange sense of duality she glanced at the readout and saw that it was now pushing out ONE THOUSAND documents.

Part of her wanted to object, but then one of Adora's hands slid up her arm to clasp Catra's hand. A voice whispered in her ear: "Ready?"

Catra managed to blink, then squeaked out a "Y essss"…

After that, it was hard to hold a thought as Adora pulled back and thrust forward - not hard, but firm. Her tempo started off rhythmic, but slow, each thrust rocking Catra against the printer. Her dick flopped about and slapped at the plastic, leaving smears of precum across the beige surface. Catra held on as Adora gripped her hand. A lazy smile split the brunette's face as she hummed with lazy satisfaction. Her dick throbbed and Adora was sucking at her neck. Her brain was a haze of happy submission. She groaned happily as Adora gripped her hip and used that as a handle to maximize maximise the thrusts, which began to increase in tempo. Adora's other hand slid back up Catras arm to her throat and squeezed gently . Catra gurgled happily, then moaned as Adora moved her other hand under her blouse to tweak at her nipples.

Catra was lifted a little as Adora straightened and she gasped. Her feet left the floor to dangled just above the carpet. Her only support was the printer itself and she yelped in high pitched squeaks of pleasure as Adora pummeled her. Catra's legs kicked and spasmed slightly with every thrust, unable to gain purchase - she wasnt a static lover by any means. Sher wrapped her legs around Adora's, before she kicked out to the sides as best she could, the pants making any movement difficult.

Adora's grip on her throat tightened and she pulled Catra up, until the woman was basically flush with Adora's slightly hunched front.

It was quite the reminder of how much taller Adora was. And how much stronger Adora was. Catra was a doll in her hands, it felt like: impaled on Adora's cock, exposed to the world;Catra' s dick flopped and rocked with every thrust;her tits jggled under the blouse. Or they did, until Adora yanked the blouse open. Buttons pinged across the floor, but Adora ignored it and tweaked and pulled at Cata's chest. The brunette giggled a little, before the sound was driven from her lungs by another thrust. Adora hooked her arms under Catra's thighs and lifted her legs, then clasped her hands behind Catra's head, holding her in some full-Nelson move. She bounced Catra on the dildo, the sound of squelching sex and the groans and grunts of the two women filling the small space. Catra whimpered as her hands flailed, looking for something to hold onto. Her eyes rolled up into her head as she finally grasped Adora's head, then turned her own to face the woman. Their lips met in a clash of teeth and tongue. It was a messy make out and Catra's vision was going dark at the edges with the impending orgasm barreling its way down the line. Her balls tightened and her ass clenched more with each thrust. She caught a glimpse of Adora's blonde hair, clingy with sweat, but then groaned as Adora dropped Catra's legs and bent her back over the printer. Her groan became a choked sob as Adora's now-free hand grasped at Catra's dick and began to stroke and squeeze it gently , coaxing her along.

"Puhpihpleaseple..ple..ple," Catra babbled, her hands reaching over her shoulder to just hold on to Adora' s head, "Ffu… fuck mefuck me good.please.. Please."

"God.girl.so hard for me, such a good girl. So beautiful. So tight. So fucking tight," Adora grunted. She bit at Catra' s shoulder again, marking her, sucking at the skin, "God, baby , god. It hits so right"…

Catra managed a smirk at the little slip, but it was short lived as Adora forced her down against the printer with a single hand in the small of Catra's back. The thrusting picked up speed and Catra's groan turned into a keening hiss as her legs spasmed and she released.

Adora's stroking of Catra's dick sped up too, coaxing and pulling more and more out of the brunette as Catra spurted ropes of cum against the side of the printer. It was almost painful and she hunched over with the spasms, choking out a joyful sob of release.

Behind her, Adora panted and laid a gentle kiss to the back of Catra's neck. She spoke softly, "So..green?"

Catra hummed happily, "SO..so green, babe," she turned her head and took in Adora's face for the first time that evening. The blonde had a dorky grin on her beautiful face, though the corners of her eyes were crinkled with a little bit of worry. Catra lazily reached up to brush a strand of sweaty hair away from the woman's face, "You were fuckin' amazing. Sneaky plan..did you put the out of order sign on the other printer?"

Adora laughed and shook her head, "Actually .. No. I was going to catch you there."…

The brunette's eyes bulged, "But that's, like..way too open! What if..." she saw Adora waggle her eyebrows, "You don't care, do you?"

The blonde's grin widened and she laid a kiss on Catra's cheek, "You'd have loved it. Maybe...next time?"

Catra laughed and then groaned with delightful satisfaction as the movement made her very aware of the dildo in her ass. She wiggled and let out what, if she'd been a cat, would have definitely been a purr, "I plead the fifth."

"So..this was good, just as you imagined?" Adora asked, a note of hope and uncertainty in her voice, the smug cockiness absent momentarily. Catra let out a contented sigh.

"So fucking good, babe. Thank you," she smiled up at Adora, "I wasn't expecting you to bring something from home though"…

"Well, I was wearing the harness all day… and under this dress… almost noticeable. Glimmer nearly caught me in the bathroom checking the straps."

Catra snorted, as she took in the red, strappy dress. Adora wore a long sleeved blouse under the dress as well, which looked pretty damp from the exertion. And it just helped to enhance Adora's impressive physique, "And you didn't use a stall?"

"I did! But… maybe I forgot to lock it? ANYWAY…" Adora shook her head and blushed, "Hold still baby…" she gripped Catra's hips and began to gently pull out. The brunette shuddered as the dildo left her ass and then squeaked as her cock spasmed again. Adora cupped Catra's dick and squeezed it gently, massaging out a second smaller release, which made Catra sag against the printer.

Catra giggled, "We need to… you know…" Adora hummed then drew her fingers up to her face to regard the small amount of stringy cum hanging from them. Then with a wicked grin she licked them clean. Catra stared and then swallowed, "We need… need to get home. Now."

"Well, first things first." Adora reached over and pressed Cancel on the printer. The machine rumbled, then fell silent. Adora's blue eyes met Catra's, "I think you did very well on your performance review."

They maintained eye contact before they both burst out into giggles. Catra snorted, "How you managed to say that shit… I have no idea."

"Practice. In an entirely banal setting of course. Though I did feel… weirdly creepy." Adora winced, "So… next time maybe we cut the roleplay and just… fuck?"

Catra hummed, "I dunno. Maybe you can try seducing the helpless intern under your desk next time?" She flashed a grin and waggled her eyebrows, before she turned and began to use the clearly-fake presentation to mop up her release. Adora chuckled behind her, then squatted down to help, "And DAMN nicely done with the whole presentation - I didn't even bother reading it..."

"Thank you and... you're a good girl," Adora purred. Catra groaned and tried to snark, but Adora's fingers scraped over her scalp and Catra could only hum in contentment, "Now, let's get this cleared. Then, home."

A moment later, with the now-sticky paperwork firmly in the "burn bin" and Catra's clothing dignity mostly restored. The brunette grumbled as she held her blouse closed over the black bra underneath, "Seriously?"

"What? I was, y'know, in character? The boss who doesn't give a..."

"Adora, you just railed me over a printer. Say the F word. You said it during."

"Oh! Context!" Adora huffed, "And you have a jacket, and it's not like it'll be on long enough when we get home.

"Confident are we?" Catra huffed and tried for a glare, but it was damn hard to be annoyed with Adora. Harder still to be mock annoyed. Especially when she just wanted to drop to her knees and worship between the blonde's legs at that precise moment. And Adora was giving her a look that meant she knew that.

Honestly, Adora was insufferable at times. Poorly timed emails, constant flirting in the office and now the very real reality that Catra would be getting off in the morning, during the day and the evening.

She grinned up at Adora. Her girlfriend. The girl who went out of her way to give Catra what she wanted, needed, craved. The one who really really cared about her. The blonde quirked an eyebrow, "Whatcha thinking?"

“Oh, just about the perks of the job.”.

End Notes

Thank you for reading! My thanks to @illthekatea, @thetransgoddess and Sath for checking this one for me before posting!

I wanted to broaden and try my hand with a trans cute sexy scene. And hopefully I can start to now delve into having one or more trans characters in upcoming stories. Mostly I hadn't because I wasn't confident in getting the vibe / tone right or respectful. But after checking with people in the community and also running things by them, I hope I can get it, if not "right", then respectful and fun :)

Thank you for reading!
