Your Love Is Electrifying

by HighQualityBrainRot

Summary

While helping search for a missing memento, Glimmer finds out that her best friend has some very shocking sexual proclivities. Catra is more than happy to elaborate, to Glimmer (and Adora's) distress.

[Guess I'm not done with the NSFW stuff. Just a short, comedic scene]

very dangerous do not try electric play with military grade stun equipment at home

The safeword is banana

"We've been looking for it all day, Sparkles. What makes you think you'll do any better?"

"Ooh! What about this closet?" Adora shot a terrified glance at Catra. Catra smirked. She knew just what was in that closet. "You have all sorts of neat gadgets in here!" Entrapta said, picking up a very curiously shaped pink device with her hair.

Glimmer immediately blinked over and put it back where it belonged. "Uh, Entrapta? Might not want to touch any of that stuff." But a terrifying artifact in plain sight immediately made her into a hypocrite. "Uh... Adora? Please tell me this isn't what I think it is." Consumed with horror, she picked up the stun baton laying on top of the cabinet of curiousities.

"Uh, ha ha, well..." Adora scratched the back of her head.

"We grew up in the Horde, Sparkles." Catra said, with more than a hint of smugness. "When your baseline is 'Beaten until you can't stand when you talk back', anything less just doesn't have the same kick." Her tone turned to bragging. "I have to admit though, if I knew Adora was this much of a freak, I could've given her a few more shocks at Thaymor and she would have begged me to take her back to the Horde and make her my-"

"Okay! Too much info on our love life, Catra!"

"Aah! No! Tell me more!" Entrapta said, taking out a notepad. "The psychological interplay of physical pain with emotional and sexual release is fascinating!"

"Well, first you have to hurt her feelings. Like, get really nast-mmf!" Adora's hand clamped over her mouth, hard, to Catra's annoyance.

"THAT WAS NICE! I'M GLAD YOU'RE BOTH HERE BUT WE NEED TO GO NOW" Adora said, with surprising evenness and an equally surprising and discordantly loud tone, like a robot who had had their volume turned up ten levels. Glimmer offered no resistance. Entrapta tried throwing a few more questions Catra's way. Both were hardly out the door when Adora slammed it shut and locked it behind them.

Adora leaned her hands against the closed door and sighed. She put an ear against the door until she was certain Glimmer had blinked the two of them far, far away. "Hey, Adora." Catra's voice, low and sinister, rumbled from behind her. "Haven't I told you never to try and shut me up?" Adora's eyes went wide as she felt the cold prongs of the stun baton press against her back, and her body tensed in instinctive dread of the oncoming voltage. It didn't fail to deliver. Tens of thousands of volts shot through her body, her limbs becoming paths to pain. Her bloodstream became a river of electricity, and her muscles seized and spasmed. Her vision went white, and she fought the flood of stimulation with every ounce of her being. It didn't matter. No amount of will could stem the tide coursing through her body. It forced itself on her, seizing her physical form and bending it to the laws of nature, as dictated by Catra. She dropped to the floor like a sack of potatoes, her teeth tingling and her body sluggish and unresponsive.

Adora struggled up on her elbows, grunting in pain. Her voice was weak with the shock; hurting, frail, vulnerable. "... why do you... always..." She lifted her head, hair drooping over her face, blue eyes dazed and adoring as she looked up at Catra. "... know what I need...?"

"Because you're all mine, dummy." She kissed her head, and reached down to slip under the elastic of her pants. Catra took her hand away in surprise almost as soon as she felt how weak and quivering her body was. "What, did you cum already? You make this too easy, Princess."

"H... higher... put it on the highest..." she murmured.

"I don't know what's worse. That you enjoy this so much..." Catra grinned, a fierce hunger filling her eyes as the stun baton flickered back to life. "... or that I do."

Catra cleared her throat. It was unusual for her to bring a motion to the table. Usually, she preferred to forcefully argue her ideas in private. "The Brightmoon guards really shouldn't be using lethal weapons, especially in a time of peace. It's time to think about a change in equipment." she said, with clear and even tone. She paused. "Then, the old Horde armories have huge stockpiles of unused stun batons..."

"No." Glimmer said.

"But-"

"No. Veto. Queen's prerogative. Absolutely not. No." Glimmer could see the evil lurking below Catra's calm façade.

"Glimmer, she has a point." Bow said evenly.

Catra's smile was all fangs and mischief. "Yeah, Sparkles, I have a point."

"Uh, well... hah hah..." Adora scratched the back of her head. "... you know, someone could get, uh... accidentally ... hurt. Maybe it's better if we go with the stun-"

"One more word and I tell everyone at the war table!" Glimmer leaned in and hissed to Adora. She made a little 'eep' sound and clammed up.

"C'mon, Sparkles." Catra purred, "What's the worst that could happen?"

Glimmer didn't want to even think about it.

End Notes

Idont actually think engaging/enjpying this level of edgeplay is very likely for their characters but after seeing this gif Ihad to make a story about it X
