Yoga and Yogurt

by PrincessLittleFawn

Summary

Catra tends to shut the world out and closes her eyes to the beautiful things around her. She gets a new job at yoga studio and she can't shut her eyes to a beautiful blonde who changes everything.

Notes

So I broke my laptop and never got to finish my other fanfic. But I randomly was eating frozen yogurt and got a random idea...and got on my phone and wrote this up quick.
Again English is not my first language. Go easy on me lol
Slight mention of drinking too.

See the end of the work for more notes

Open Your Eyes

Chapter Summary

> Catra learned if she just stopped to notice the world around her... magic could happen at any moment.

I have to believe it's worth it .

Catra was really trying to find a new job. She's been looking everywhere. So far no luck. The only thing she's good at is cleaning really well. She keeps her apartment clean unlike her roommate Entrapta.
Entrapta leaves all her "blueprints" and "data" laying around. The science projects. Entrapta works as an engineer at Prime Headquarters. One of the biggest electric companies in all of Etheria Heights. She's offered Catra a job there but Catra wanted nothing to do with anything involving Prime. Prime also owned the Foster Home she grew up in. Catra and her sister Alyson were bumped around the system so much.
After a couple of odd jobs they both were finally able to get out and found an apartment. Catra worked at a tattoo parlor for about 3 years until she couldn't afford both rent for the shop and rent for the apartment. Alyson found an apartment with her boyfriend. That's when Catra put an ad out for a roomate. When Entrapta moved in. Catra had one best friend but she didn't want too many more. Back to job searching. One morning Catra woke up to a loud knock on her door. Catra grunted, wiped the sleep from her eyes and opened her bedroom door.

"Scorpia it's 8am! What do you want?" Catra glared at Scorpia's happy smile .
Her best friend was the only person she has ever seen who could be this happy this early in the morning.
"Wildcat!!! So I met this girl. She is really really nice. And she's Super pretty as well. I really loved getting to know her she was one of the nicest people I have ever met. She's so positive and I absolutely adore her we've been going on a few dates so far it's actually really fun she’s really fun. Did I mention how positive she is?"

Catra got annoyed and yelled "Scorpia get to the point!!!"

Scorpia then took a breath
"Oh what I’m trying to say is that she just opened up a yoga studio last month. Shes renting it from a nice couple and she needs an assistant to help around the studio and to keep it clean. So I thought that you might be interested since you’ve been looking for work! "

Scorpia may be annoying sometimes to Catra however she really can come in handy and she's a really good friend.

"Oh um OK thanks I guess sorry for yelling it’s just really early in the morning. you could have texted all of this to me you do know that right? " Catra said calmly.
Scorpia smiled and said
"Oh I know but I want see your face when I told you the good news"

Catra was annoyed but also really grateful. Knowing that this means she may actually have a new job.
Catra did really well during her interview. Perfuma, the owner of the yoga studio was just as happy and talkative as Scorpia was so Catra could see how well thy went together. Perfuma gave Catra a tour of the yoga studio. She pretty much already had the job.

A lot of the job involved cleaning and keeping things neat which of course was something Catra was really good at. She didn't have to interact with any of the yoga students. Catra knew she wasn't a people person so the fact that she could ignore everyone made things a lot easier. Perfuma always offered Catra a free Yoga and meditation class at the end of her shift.

“Woah! I just started here. One thing at a time!”
Catra started working there on a Sunday and the rest of the week went by smoothly until Saturday came and then Catra's whole life was changed.

On Friday around 7pm, Catra was setting up for Perfuma's Free Friday Night Yoga Class. While she was setting up the yoga mats and putting the water bottles in the fridge she heard footsteps and the door bells * cling*and had no idea who could possibly want to get to the studio 30min so early.

"I'm sorry but we're not open yet … " Catra turned around and paused mid sentence.

Catra saw these beautiful icy blue eyes, flowing blonde hair up in ponytail and the silliest looking hair poof she's ever seen yet it was so cute. The girl looked fit. As if she did Yoga everyday. She had on a plain pink atheletic tank on with grey yoga capris on with white stripes. Catra has seen her fair share of beautiful women and hooked up with a few. But she's been alone for awhile. However no one could match the beauty of this woman. Catra started to twist her messy hair around her finger and looked down at her own feet. The girl approached Catra with a smile.

"Oh ummm Hi! I usually always come here early just to set up and relax before yoga" Catra raised an eyebrow and looked at her confused.

"Relax? Isn't that why you're doing yoga in the first place? Asked Catra

The blonde giggled and became a little red in the face.

"Of course, but I want time to relax alone amongst Perfuma's studio with all the beautiful plants."

Blondie was right the studio is pretty beautiful. She never really noticed all the flowers and plants around her. All the candles and wall murals of plants. Catra was always too busy cleaning and working and trying to get paid to notice. It took a beautiful person to point out the beauty of the yoga studio

“By the way. I’ve never seen you before today? Are you volunteering?” Asked the blonde.

“Oh. No. I just started working here. Gotta pay bills you know… and eat and stuff like that”

Catra looked down while she spoke. She felt her face turning red everytime she looked into the girls eyes.

“ Yeah true we all need to eat right haha! Well my name is Adora. Adora Greyskull. What’s yours?”

“Well that name fits you well”
Catra realized what she said out loud when Adora giggled.
“I mean…well….Catra… my name is Catra Manzana…” she finally lifted her head looked at her

Adora smiled and said
“I think that name fits you well too. Especially the cat part. I had a cat once with heterochromia as well. I think your eyes are beautiful”

Catra was shocked. Was this girl looking at her gold and blue mismatch eyes for long. They both looked at each other for what seemed like forever until Catra realized she stopped cleaning.
“Oh my God sorry I really need to finish work. I realized I took up some of your relaxing time."

Adora just giggled again…..that giggle made Catra want to just admire her more.

“Talking to you has been a bit relaxing honestly. If you’re not busy after the studio closes do you want to hangout later?” Adora asked.

Was adora asking her out on a date… Or was she just asking to hang out Catra had absolutely no idea but she wasn’t going to turn this down.

“Oh um sure”…. Catra finished setting up and said “ I don’t have really anything else better to do.”
The words came out faster than Catra wanted them to and realize what she said when she saw Adora's face go from excited to slightly disappointed.

“ Oh no… I meant I really would love to hangout. I usually don’t have much to do in the evenings except go home and hope my roomate hasn’t destroyed the apartment. Hahaha she’s an engineer”

Adora smiled again and said
“okay Catra can’t wait!” Adora said as she finished setting up her yoga mat

When the evening was over and Catra finished cleaning . Adora stayed behind waiting in the front of the building. She stood by the door wearing a short jean jacket vest over her shirt
They walked to a small pizza restaurant near the studio. Catra learned that they had a lot in common Adora was in the Foster system as well but she was adopted at a young age. They both loved art, they both ran track in high school. They both had tattoos. Adora had a sword on her upper arm. Catra showed her a couple of hers. Her bat tattoo was a bad drunk night she had. She regretted that one the most.

She found out that Adora was a softball coach. Catra was not even surprised looking at the shape Adora was in. She also learned that yoga kept her calm once a week. Catra was really enjoying getting to know her more.

After they both finished their pizza together. Catra realized how much fun she had with Adora and wasn’t ready for the night to be over. However she hoped Adora felt the same way. It was a Friday night . They had plenty of time.

“Hey Adora?” Catra said

“Yeah Catra?” Adora responded

“I’m having a lot of fun. I wanted to know if you like frozen yogurt? I know a place open until 11pm that has the best frozen yogurt I’ve ever had.”

Catra hoped Adora would say yes. However Adora’s answer was even better.

“Are you talking about Moonbean Yogurt?” Adora

“Yeah!!! You know about it?”

“Of course my best friend Glimmer, her family owns it! I love it there. The razzel dazzle yogurt is my favorite”

Catra smiled . She would always order yogurt and just go home. She never really ate inside. Also who was Glimmer? She wondered if Adora was talking about that sparkly girl who was always yelling back and fourth with the very tall owner.

“Well okay let’s go and sit and get some!”
Adora's face lit up. And she grabbed Catra by the hand and started pulling Catra in the direction of the yogurt shop. Causing Catra to feel shiver up her back. Her hand waa soft and warm. They walked into the purple and pink moon themed yogurt shop. Catra heard the same back and fourth yelling as she always heard.

“MOM I HAVE A DATE WITH BOW THIS SUNDAY. I NEED OFF!!”

“GLIMMAH! How many times have I told you to not raise your voice at me? You should have requested off like the rest do. I can’t give you special treatment and… GLIMMAHH! Don’t walk away from me. I’m not done talking to you….GLIMMAHH!

Adora found a seat and started laughing.
“Yeah that’s my best friend and her mom. Glimmer always forgets to plan ahead and tends to just make plans on the spot. “
Catra just rolled her eyes and said “well Sparkles should just learn to calm down. It’s not a big deal"

She looked over at Adora who also rolled her eyes when Catra said 'Sparkles”

Just then Catra heard the owner's voice right next to them.

“Oh Adora! It’s good to see you here again. Will you be having your regular ? And oh who’s this pretty young woman you’re with?”

Catra slid down in her seat feeling a little nervous. She’s never out with anyone. So this was new to her.

“Oh Hi Mrs Moonbean! Adora said in a happy voice. “This is Catra! She works at the yoga studio 2 blocks over”

Mrs. Moonbean looked at Catra and said
“Oh I’ve seen you here a lot. Normally you don’t stay or even come in here with anyone. It’s nice to see Adora was able to get you to sit down and enjoy the atmosphere."

Catra looked around. She never noticed how pretty the yogurt shop really was. There were purple moons and pink star decorations around. The tables were all half moon shaped and the walls had silver glitter on them. The windows were round and there were baby blue curtains. It was so pretty. Again Adora helped open her eyes to what was around her again.

Catra zoned out a bit and started looking at Adora again. Her icy blue eyes. Her soft skin. Her pretty lips. Catra imagined what it would be like to kiss them. Just once. But if they were just hanging out that wouldn’t be an option. Just in that moment.

“Catra…earth to Catra?” Adora said in a sing song voice.
“Oh I um sorry. I was just uhh…noticing how pretty you are….I mean how pretty this place is. Wait I mean you are pretty too..” Catra could feel her face grow warmer with each word she spoke

I mean… I just would like to get the “Exploding Strawberry Yogurt” she looked away from Adora and at Mrs. Moonbean to order out of pure embarrassment.

“okay love. And Adora your regular ?”

“yes please!” Adora said with this happy childlike voice.

Catra continued to stare at Adora's lips. Still imagining kissing her...until she noticed Adora staring back..

“Catra are you okay? You seem a bit nervous” Adora asked.

Nervous was just one of the emotions Catra was feeling. Also the fact that she had no idea if this was a date or not. Or if she made Adora uncomfortable. The fact that she was used to shutting the world out. She was used to ignoring what was around her to just focus on getting through each day. The fact that Adora was just so beautiful and so nice. It was just woderful being here with her. They just met but during their conversations it was like they have talked like this for years.

“Oh I’m okay. I’m just not used to going out this much” Catra said.

“oh okay. Haha I just wanted to make sure you’re okay and Oh look our yogurt is here!”

Catra looked up and saw the owner’s daughter with 2 cups of yogurt in her hand.

“Here you go. 2 yogurt…OH ADORA HIII”

She sat next to Adora and hugged her tightly.

“Hey Glimmer!! This is Catra. Catra this is Glimmer my best friend !” Adora said happily.

“Sparkles who yells a lot. Cool got it”

They both looked at Catra a little annoyed.

“umm sorry thanks Glitter” Catra said.

Adora then laughed. “well you at least got the G right this time” The pink haired girl then said

“Ok well let me get back to trying to convince my mom to let me have off. Kyle got to have off to go on his date with Rogelio. So I should be able to as well!” Glimmer ranted

“Well to be fair….Kyle does ask 2 weeks in advance.” Adora said. Catra just loved how logical Adora was. Glimmer just frowned and said
"Blegh . Kyle also tends to drop everything . Everyone else is perfect to my mom..she acts like she’s the queen of this place.

Catra chimed in “I mean… she is the owner”

Glimmer then said “okay whatever. See you later Adora. Love you. Bye. And you… you better be nice to her"!
Catra just smirked.

Adora laughed, hugged Glimmer and kept eating her froyo.
Catra and Adora continued their conversations from earlier. Learning that they both loved art museums, Marvel comics and cosplaying.

"You cosplay as.... what!?" Catra laughed

“Disney Princesses… ..umm I just have a thing for dressing as Princesses” Adora said spooning her last bit of frozen yogurt into her mouth.

Catra thought the idea of Adora dressed as a princess was absolutely well..adorable.

“That’s cute actually. Yeah I have a thing for being super villains. I also like to dress as Cat Noir from Miraculous Ladybug show.”

Catra has never told anyone that.

Adora smiled that beautiful smile and her eyes lit up. “Oh my God. I don’t tell people this but that’s my favorite TV show!! I have got to see your cosplay!”

Catra didn’t feel nervous anymore. As they left, Adora said her good nights to everyone she knew at the shop and they walked out of the Yogurt shop together….holding hands.

Catra wanted more time with Adora. So she asked
“Do you need a ride home Adora? My car is just parked outside the Perfuma's yoga studio still.”

Adora shook her head yes and they walked still holding hands back to Catra’s car. Finally letting go in order to get into the passenger side “Woah your car is spotless and hmmm it smells like lemongrass and applesauce. I guess your last name fits you well too” Adora said as she looked around the car.

Catra blushed.
“Honestly you’re probably smelling my hair products.” My sister has me using all these natural products”

Adora then said “oh that’s awesome. That’s probably why you have such long thick pretty hair and oh You probably need my address”

Catra nodded her head and smiled at the thought of Adora liking the smell of her hair and Adora gave her the address.
She only lived 10 minutes from the studio. Adora showed her some of the landmarks as they drive past them. One of the biggest trees in town, a beautiful lake nearby. Catra has been past this area so many times and she just never noticed. They pulled up in front of Adora’s house. It was beautiful. Even in the dark she could see how big it was.

“Wow! You live here?” Catra said with her jaw dropped afterwards.

“Honestly I rent a room. The homeowners Netossa and Spinerella are the kindest people they both are always going over who’s turn it is to clean but I love them...they actually are also the landlords of the Yoga Studio. They usually bring me by and wait for me to go in. Super overprotective. ...but umm ….would you want to walk me to the door?”

Catra remembered seeing 2 people outside the studio today who she never noticed before. Catra then smiled, said yes and started walking Adora to her front porch of the large house Seeing her in the light again put an even bigger smile on her.

“Adora turned to face her and said. I had so much fun tonight Catra. I know we just met but I felt like we’ve been closer for much longer.”

Adora moved closer to Catra who was feeling so much panic inside but in a omg what do I do next' sort of way…that type.

Catra then said “I honestly feel the same way. You’re so much fun to be around”

Adora then pulled out her phone, unlocked it and said “Catra here put your number in my phone.”

Catra was pretty confused but also happy.
“You want my number? Really?”

Adora giggled again and said “Of course silly! How else am I going to ask for a second date?”

A second date! So this was an official date. Catra's freckles couldn’t hide the warmth of her own face even in the dark. Catra didn’t say anything and just put her number in Adora's phone.

Adora then said “I hope you stay on Saturdays for Perfuma’s Friday Yoga classes.

Catra felt like she now has more of a reason to go. Perfuma was trying to convince her. So now she’s convinced.
“yeah I think I will Princess ….Well umm this was really fun” Catra said as she started to turn away and was about to step down the stairs.

Adora just them grabbed her by the wrist.
Catra spun back around
“ummm what’s wrong” asked Catra
Adora grabbed her other and pulled her really close to her.
Catra felt every hair on her body rise. She could smell Adora's light vanilla perfume.
“Catra. I really like you and I guess I um just wanted to know if..um…..can I kiss you?” Adora asked.
Catra almost wanted to cry. It’s what she wanted almost all night. She couldn’t believe Adora asked.
Catra then said “oh my God…. Yes please” as if she was a child being offered some sweet candy.
They closed the space between them and Adora's lips felt like soft clouds. Catra then put her arms around Adora's shoulders and kissed her with a little more passion and Adora put er arms around Catra’s waist. Neither of them seemed to want to pull away. Finally Catra realized she wanted to breathe and she slowly broke apart. However in that moment if her last breath involved kissing Adora she would have died happy on the spot. Adora seemed happy too

“I was totally afraid you were going to say no!” Adora catching her own breath.
Catra laughed and said “I mean I’m shocked you didn’t notice me looking at your lips all night”

Adora looked at Catra in confusion. “oh wow You wanted to kiss me?? I thought I had something on my face.”
Catra “ you’re such an idiot”
Adora laughed and said “can this idiot kiss you again?”
Catra smiled and pulled Adora in this time for a second kiss. It was even more passionate the second time. The second kiss turned into a slight make out session. Her lips really felt like home. She wanted to live there…she wanted them more often.

Adora and Catra finally pulled away from the kiss. Adora turned red and said "WoW"
Catra smirked and said "Don't ruin it"
They both laughed.

Adora opened Catra's eyes to so many things. She couldn't wait to see what else she's been missing. She's had her eyes closed for so long. Who knew that the same person who opened her eyes to the world would be the one who could open her heart. Catra believed that it was worth it.

The Dragon's Daughter

Chapter Summary

Adora and Catra decide to go on a second date ...We get to see Catra panic a little before it even begins.

Chapter Notes

After seeing everyone react to the first chapter. I decide to keep the story going.
So here is the second short chapter.
Just remember my English is still not my strength but I'm working on it =)

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Catra opened her eyes the next morning to a couple of text messages from Adora. She was so happy to find out that what happened yesterday wasn't just a dream. She also noticed about 3 missed calls from Scorpia. That already means 3 voicemails that she wasn't ready to listen to so early in the morning. At least it was Saturday so she had the day off to do some cleaning around the apartment.
Catra suddenly could smell something burning in the kitchen and burst out of the room.

She looked into the kitchen to see several burnt pieces of toast laying on the kitchen counter and the toaster had some smoke coming out of it. Entrapta was standing by the toaster holding her notebook, jotting something down. Catra felt annoyed already.

"Entrapta what are you doing with our toaster!!!?" Catra yelled Entrapta jumped in the air dropping her notebook She was most likely shocked from Catra yelling so loudly and didn't notice Catra.

"Oh hello Catra! I'm just testing out how long it takes to burn bread if you put it on the peak level!"

Catra just rolled her eyes. “Entrapta can you just do your experiments when I’m not home? The smell is horrible”
Entrapta nodded and said “okay no problem. I can do it when you're at work or during your next date with Adora!

Catra suddenly felt her face turn red. Wondering how on earth Entrapta knew about Adora.
“How do you know about her!?” Catra snapped.

Entrapta started cleaning up and said “Oh Perfuma saw you leave with Adora, Perfuma told Scorpia and Scorpia told me that she was pretty sure you were on a date. So I came to the conclusion you had fun. Also you came home late last night and you didn't bring anyone home.”

"HEY That was one time!!!!" Catra yelled feeling super embarrased over it.

Of course, they would already start to gossip about her dating life already. Catra checked her voicemails from Scorpia, and she was right. All of them involved Scorpia asking about how last night went. Catra knew that Scorpia could have just texted her these questions. That’s Scorpia though, always super detailed and needs to talk. She may get annoyed at her but she knows she means well. She was the reason she even got the chance to meet Adora in the first place. So she can’t be that upset about it.

It’s still hard to believe that she got to go on a date with Adora. Let alone she got to kiss Adora. Catra still kept thinking about how amazing that moment was. On the drive home last night she could not stop thinking about Adora. It made Catra so happy to know that someone actually wanted to spend time with her. Of course, she had Scorpia but Scorpia is her best friend it's different to have a real date with someone you are interested in.

Catra helped Entrapta clean up so she wouldn't have to smell the burning toast anymore and when she was done she plopped on the couch turned on Netflix and started watching a show. Catra realized that she hasn't texted Adora back. Oh no she is going to most likely think that she doesn't want to talk to her. Catra looked at the text messages and realized she even left Adora on read. It's not that she didn't want to text the door back she just got distracted by Entrapta as little toaster experiment.

She finally fully read the messeges.

Adora: Hey Catra. It’s Adora. Well you probably know that already since I saved my number in your phone LOL I Hope you got home okay tonight. Anyway I had so much fun with you. Sleep well!

Oh no, Catra fell asleep right away when she got home. She’s never been out all night like that before. She felt terrible because she never said goodnight back in the texts.

Then she saw Adora texted again this morning.
6:00am :
Adora: Good Morning Catra! I hope you had a great night, because I did! I’m just up for my morning run. I hope you have an amazing day! 😊

Catra wasn’t even surprised that Adora would be up this early. Just by the look of Adora’s legs she could tell she kept herself in shape and active. Not that she was looking at her legs…at least not for too long.

8:30am:
Adora: You might still be asleep. I hope I’m not bothering you. It’s such a beautiful Saturday. Anyway hope to hear from you soon. 😁

It was now 11:00am and Adora hasn’t texted since 8:30am. Catra considers 11:00 early. So Adora being up at 6 am was considered the middle of the night to Catra. She hopes that Adora doesn’t think that Catra is super lazy. In fact Catra is a very active person.
She just likes to have her rest when she can. Now what to say back to Adora…

‘Dear Adora’…what no this isn’t a letter.
‘Whats up Adora?’ No we may have kissed but I don’t want to sound to casual as if I don’t care.
Catra just decided to be simple.

Catra: Hey Adora! 😊 😊 I fell asleep last night as soon as my head hit my pillow. I had an awesome time with you last night too. I’m awake now just watching Netflix how are you?”

There that was simple. Adora is probably super busy right now. She won’t text back.
Suddenly Catra’s phone buzzed. Adora texted her back not even a minute later. She spoke to soon. She couldn’t tell if she felt excited or nervous. Probably both!

Adora: That’s okay! I was afraid that I totally made you uncomfortable last night. I guess I just wanted to shoot my shot and well…kiss you. I normally don’t do that.

Catra: Oh no, I wasn’t uncomfortable at all! In shock maybe, but it was a good shock.

Adora: Oh good because I wanted to ask if you were free now and if you are, I wanted to know if you wanted to have lunch with me in about an hour and hangout a bit?

Catra dropped her phone onto her lap. No one has ever asked her for second date this fast. Why was she feeling nervous again? She already kissed her, so there shouldn’t be any reason for her to feel this nervous just to have lunch with her. However, she knew that she wasn’t going to pass up a second date.
Suddenly she felt her phone buzz again.

Adora: Unless I’m moving way to fast. You can say no if I am. I swear I’m not the typical Lesbian who wants to move in after the 2nd or 3rd date LOL

Why does she have to be so cute… come on Catra get it together

Catra: I'd love to have lunch with you Adora! I can come pick you up if you want me to.
Adora: Oh yay!
Catra: you're such a dork. It's cute tho
Adora: You're cute!
If this was a facetime call Adora would totally notice that Catra turned red again.

Catra: I'll get ready and come by you. I still have your address in my GPS.
Adora: Great see you in an hour. I'm so excited!! YAY! 😊
Catra: me too Adora.

Catra hasn't been on a planned date in so long. Last night was totally random but today she has less than an hour to plan on what to even wear. Catra found a pair of brown leggings and an orange dress and tossed . She slowly walked out the house trying to avoid Entrapta, knowing she would want to ask every question in the book.

As Catra pulled up to Adora's house she started looking for her hair tie all over the front seat. She had so much hair she always had to keep it up especially when it's a little windy. She reached down and suddenly heard a knock on the window and hit her head on the steering wheel

"Ow omg who the hell?" Catra yelled as She rolled down the passenger side window to see someone wearing blue and white and curly silver hair with a pink necklace on. Whoever it was seemed to really want to get Catra's attention.

"Umm can I help you?" Catra realized the words came out much more rudely then they meant to

The woman then said " You must be Catra. I just wanted to meet you in person. I'm Netossa."

Catra swore she heard her name before…but from where?...

“Um hi? Yes that’s my name. Why would you want to meet me? I’m just here to pick up a friend”
It’s true technically Adora was just a friend, a really hot friend who she kissed and Is about to go on a second date with.

The woman spoke again. “Well yeah that friend lives with my wife and I. We care a lot about Adora. She told us all about you. I just wanted to meet you for myself.”

Crap…Catra realized this was one of the owners of the building that Perfuma rents from for the Yoga studio. What a great way to introduce herself…this woman was tough like a dragon.

“Um I’m sorry I honestly was looking for my hair tie when you knocked on the window and it startled me. Umm is Adora home?”

Netossa smirked and said “Well she lives here. Aren’t you the one picking her up? You should already know that.”
Wow is she about to breathe fire? Catra swore she was about to burst into flames.

Netossa must have noticed that Catra looked extra nervous all of a sudden because she started laughing and said

“Calm down. I’m just messing with you Catra. Adora will be out in a minute. It was nice meeting you. I’m sure you two are going to have a nice day. I'm sure Adora won't come home upset later.. ”

Catra just smiled to hide her nerves with that comment and watched Netossa wink then walk back into the house. The house was beautiful from the outside during the day. It was a beautiful blue home with a pink door. It reminded Catra of some sort of doll house. Just in that moment while she admired the house, the door opened again. Adora stepped out looking as beautiful as ever.

“Bye guys! I’ll see you later!” Adora yelled back. She waved at Catra and smiled as she approached her car. She had on a golden halter top on and ripped light blue jeans that were tight enough where you could see every curve of her body while she walked to the car. She was holding her purse and a jean jacket over her arm. Adora opened the passenger side door and got in. Catra didn't take her eyes off of Adora. She's just so beautiful.

“Hey Catra! Are you okay?” Adora said looking directly at Catra

Catra snapped back to reality and realized she must have been staring at Adora for far too long with her mouth open.

Catra then spoke but what came out was a bunch of jumbled disaster lesbian word vomit

“Hey Adora! I’m totally okay. Like there is no one else more okay then me! Why on earth would there be anything wrong you look hot I mean the weather is nice but I don't mean ..uhhh you're not... I umm I'mexcitedtohangoutwithyou. ”

Good Job Catra you really are gay mess.
Adora raised an eyebrow and just smiled at Catra and giggled a little. Adora really loves to giggle it seems. She put on her seatbelt and said “I'm ecxited too. Well I hope Netossa didn’t scare you at all. She can be pretty intense sometimes. It’s like she can sense people’s weaknesses and fears. She’s a full time therapist and a volleyball coach on weekends.

Adora is Catra’s main weakness today so that makes sense.

Catra laughed and said “ A volleyball coach? Well I guess it’s in her name.”

Adora laughed and said.

“Oh I guess I never thought about that! Honestly Netossa and her wife treat me like a daughter, as I said it’s why they are so overprotective of me. ”
Catra said “Yeah I thought she was about to attack”
They both giggled together then Adora said
So Catra, do you like seafood? I know a good hibachi restaurant in town that I go to once in a while.”

Catra was already hungry and she loved shrimp so this was an amazing suggestion.

“Yeah I love seafood. Lets put in the address!” Catra said excitedly.

Catra and Adora drove downtown and Adora pointed out some gardens that she used to walk through. Adora then talked about all the amazing food she couldn’t wait to eat.
Catra could listen to Adora tell stories for hours. It got a little quiet for a bit Adora seemed a little nervous. Adora ? Nervous. Catra must be seeing things. She seems so confident. She was a curious person so she wanted to find out.
"Adora are you okay?" Catra asked

"Yeah I'm fine. I guess I just have a lot on my mind. I havn't been on a second date in a long time. You know when your brain keeps moving faster than you can even keep up with your own thoughts?" Catra knew that feeling so well.
Then Catra said, "Yeah. If you ever want to talk about anything, I'll listen. If it makes you feel any better, I havn't been on a first date in a long time in general.
Adora then said "I would expect a lot of people would be asking you for your number. You actually said yes to me. I didn't think you would. I just wanted to be brave because you're like so pretty and I'm just..uh idk what I'm saying.
Oh Adora is such a usless lesbian..but Catra was in shock...Adora really was nervous.
Suddenly Adora looked embarassed.
Catra just started to laugh really hard and said "Woahh calm down Adora. It's okay. You are fine. I'm really happy to have a second date with you."
There was sigh that came from Adora which told her that Adora finally was calm.

They finally pulled up in front of a stand alone building with a huge parking lot. The building was in the shape of a boat. It had lots of circular windows and a large door in the shape of a sail. It was pretty unique.

Catra's hair blew all over with the wind as soon as she got out of the car. Oh man she forgot her hair tie.
Adora tapped her on the shoulder and handed her one.
"You look like you may need this. May I?"
Catra shook her head yes while Adora put Catra's hair into a ponytail. She normally wouldn't' let anyone touch her hair especially after Entrapta almost cut her hair

" Thank goodness you didn't give me that poof you have!" Catra said while gigglng
Adora just raised an eyebrow and Catra then quickly said
"I mean, thank you…and uhh the poof works for you I mean. I umm couldn't pull it off"
Adora laughed so hard.
"Nice save Catra"
They walked through the door to see many hibachi tables. Food flying in the air, flames everywhere, people clapping. The whole inside looked like you were inside of a boat. Wooden walls and wooden floors. They went to the host stand which looked like a tall podium with a Helm and saw a boy with short hair, a white crop top and red dress pants. He was leaning on the Helm and looked up and smiled at Adora

"Oh hey Bow!! Just two for lunch please." Adora said.

"Adora! The boy stepped from behind the host stand and grabbed Adora and hugged her tightly. He looked way to happy for the middle of the day. Suddenly he made eye contact with Catra. She tried to avoid it but it was too late.

"Hey! I'm Bow and you are? " He reached out a hand to Catra and she slowly shook it.
"Umm Catra. " she said while finally breaking eye contact with him. Catra suddenly felt a warm hand grab her own and realized Adora was now holding it. Bow looked between both of them and suddenly gasped.

"OH THIS IS CATRA! Adora told Glimmer and I all about you!'

Adora suddenly looked like a tomato, but a cute tomato..like a little lovely apple even. Did she tell all her friends about what happened last night?
Adora then said through her teeth
. “Haha Bow. What’s said in group chats should stay inside group chats”
Bow then looked at Catra again and said ‘oh sorry. Well let me show you to your seats!”
Catra walked hand in hand with Adora to a corner seat against the wall with a small Habachi grill in the middle. Adora sat across from Catra. Which was totally fine because Catra enjoyed the view of the blonde.
"Well it was nice meeting you finally Catra I hope you enjoy your lunch! See you later Adora!"
Catra then asked "Soooo where's the rest of his shirt?"
Adora just rolled her eyes and said "He likes crop tops, I don't know why but it makes him happy" Catra had absolulty no response to that because who was she to tell people how to dress.
Adora then bounced in her seat and said “Wait until you watch the awesome tricks that the servers will do!” Adora looked like a little girl in a candy store when she spoke. She seemed to find excitement in everything. Catra almost wished she could do the same.
Suddenly a man with a very shiny mustache and a red tie around his neck and a blue and white suit comes over to the table and broke out into what sounded like a loud annoying sea shanty and Catra was so not ready for it.

“OOOOOOOOHHHHHHH WELCOME TO THE DRAGON’S DAUGHTER HABACHI GRILL!! FIRE AND FOOD! WHAT A THRILL!.. OOOHHHH..oh hi Adora!

Chapter End Notes

I've always seen Netossa as the overprotective parent. If she could be a creature I pictured her as a Dragon.
I hope you all liked this chapter! Tell me what you think!
Anyway... Next chapter...Who is ready for some disaster lesbian Catra and Adora?

Oh and a little bit of angst?
also a Helm is the steering wheel on a ship =)

Wow, this guy sure takes his job seriously. Catra giggled and said "Adora are you friends with everyone in town?"

Adora smiled and said "No, but I love food so I know tons of restaurants."
She looked at the man with the shiny mustache and said "Sea Hawk this is Catra. Catra , Sea Hawk!

Catra started laughing so hard and without thinking said "Of course they would let you work here with a name like that" Catra then realized she should have thought before letting that come out.

Adora then said quietly "Umm Sea Hawk owns The Dragon's Daughter.."
Catra then blinked a few times and apologized to Sea Hawk. Even though Catra hates saying sorry sometimes.

Sea Hawk wasn't even bothered by Catra's original comment. He just laughed and said
"Well crew, are you ready for a truly amazing HIBACHI ADVENTCHAA!!!

Catra rolled her eyes. This guy is so extra. She just noddes and smiled. That was safe right? She refuses to make another embarrassing comment in front of Adora while one of her friends are with them. Adora said something to Sea Hawk about mermaids. Catra wasn't going to even bother to wonder what was that about.
After Sea Hawk left Adora started to tell her all about how this is the 3rd renovation to the restaurant. Apparently a fire always started in the middle of the night randomly. Strange. Catra was just enjoying all the stories Adora would tell about what her and her friends do. How busy all of them get. She also told Catra how she has softball practice with the kids she coaches every other Saturday which is why she's off this weekend. During the week she works at a gym. Adora's arms can show that.
Catra was just so into everything Adora said that with Adora rambling and Catra in the AdoraWorld neiother of them noticed the food that was about to turn into a show.

Catra then went from listening to Adora to both of them catching veggies in her mouth and watching the servers light food on fire. Onions and peppers and chicken were flying all over. Catra was having so much fun with Adora during dinner that when they finished eating they were still laughing at all the fun they had. Adora was really sweet and actually paid the bill. Catra tried but Adora was pretty fast and said she was going to the bathroom and instead gave Bow the bill. When they were ready to leave Catra started walking next to Adora admiring how beautiful she really is. Adora then caught her eyes and she smiled and softly grabbed Catra's hand. It felt like tiny sparks going up Catra's arms. The exciting kind. Even though last night they actually kissed. It feels so different knowing Adora actually wanted to see her again for a regular date. Not a hook up. Not some sleezy bar. Just to have lunch. Catra was loving it.
They got into Catra's car and Adora turned ton Catra and said

"So Catra! What do you want to do next?"
Next?! Catra thought this was just lunch and going home. Adora wanted more time with her.
Now Catra had to think about what she would actually want to do and said

“Me ? I don’t know. I didn’t think I’d get this far. I’m really not used to this.”

Adora looked at Catra with a confused face and said,
“Not used to what? Going on dates?”
Catra just said “I honestly don’t usually do actual dating. I’m not used to this.
Adora looked at Catra and smiled and said “Aww Catra! Was I your first date?”
Catra looked down at her shoes to hide the redness that was building in her face and said
“Yeah I guess. Most of my life has been avoiding dates and avoiding connections. I met up with several girls just for the fun of it but I never wanted to deal with anything where I would get hurt. Ive seen it. Ive seen people fight in public. Argue and yell, I really don’t want that. I don’t want any of that, and now I do I guess"

It’s true. Catra really didn’t know what real happiness with a partner would be like. She only was able to see the negatives of the angry couples around her.
Adora had such a sad look on her face then she said “Catra, getting hurt is part of life. It teaches us lessons. Stop looking for what could happen and enjoy what’s happening right now."
Adora then put her hand over Catra’s hand. Catra enjoyed the warmth of Adora’s hands. She really wanted to come up with something cool for them to do. Something that won’t end in Catra making a fool of herself. Suddenly Catra had an idea.
“Hey Adora?”
“yes Catra?” Adora answerd with that super soft smile that never fails to make Catra smile too
“Can we stop by Moonbean Yogurt to grab something to go I want to take you somewhere. I know we had it last night but..” Adora then cut her off.
“Catra I can eat frozen yogurt everyday. Honestly, I used to go there to hangout when I had days off from work. I love the yogurt but I love the atmosphere and seeing Glimmer and friends there too.”

Adora really is a social person. Catra never liked being around too many people at once. It's not that she couldn't talk to people. It's just that she didn't feel like it. She was used to people either leaving or just making new friends and then disappearing on her. Catra is now trying to be more open to making new friends. Scorpia is her longest friend right now. She's honestly really lucky to have Scorpia in her life.
Catra drove over to Moonbean Yogurt with Adora. She was planning to get froyo to go and take Adora to this small cliffside where they could sit and hangout with her alone.
They walked back into the beautiful sparkly room only for Adora's tiny loud colorful haired friend to randomly glomp hug Adora before they even sat down.

"ADORA HIII!! GUESS WHAT GUESS WHAT!" her sparkly friend yelled.
Adora seemed like she was about to answer but her friend interrupted her before Adora could get a word out.
"BOW WON TICKETS TO THE COMEDY SHOW FOR NEXT MONTH! HE WON 4 TICKETS!"
Adora finally spoke, "That's really awesome Glimmer! Now you can give your mom a heads up! "
Glimmer looked at Adora and smirked and said
"Yeah she already knows because she heard me telling Bow over the phone how happy I am. The best part is that we have 4 tickets. So me and Bow and 2 more people. "
Suddenly Glimmer looked at Catra and she automatically knew what she was thinking.
Adora looked excited then said "Oh wow Glimmer ! Are you going to sell the other 2 tickets?"
Both Catra and Glimmer looked at each other and finally Catra spoke up.
"I'm pretty sure Sparkles wants to give it to you dummy!"

Adora suddenly giggled and said "Oh! That's sweet. What are you going to do with the other ticket then?
Wow, and Catra thought she was the clueless one! She wanted to save Adora from this moment by acting as clueless as she is.

“You should take one of your friends with you Adora! It sounds like tons of fun.”

Then a soft familiar voice came from Catra’s left and said
“Why don’t you bring this beautiful brunette right here”
Catra quickly looked and saw it was Glimmer’s mother from last night. The owner. Catra isn’t used to being called beautiful, well unless its Scorpia.

Adora just smiled and said. “Oh yes Catra would you like to come with me next month to the comedy show. Getting ticket’s to see the show is actually pretty hard. They are super expensive.”

Catra was happy that Adora even asked her. Yes the owner may have suggested it, but Adora seems popular enough that she could honestly ask anyone. She picked Catra. That felt like it was good enough.

So wait, does this mean Adora wants to continue talking to her longer? Catra really hoped so. She also kept craving Froyo. She was excited for the next part of the date and said
“Sure Adora. It sounds fun. I would love to go” Catra then turned to Adora’s loud friend and said
“ So Sparkles we need some froyo to go please.”

“Wait you’re not staying? You just got here Adora!!!” Adora’s friend yelled in an upset tone.
Why on earth is she always yelling?
“Oh umm I’m sorry Glimmer but Catra has something planned for us I think” Adora answered in what seemed like a disappointed tone.

Was she not excited to spend time with Catra now that she’s with her friend now? Is she just going to stay and skip spending time with her and then stop talking to her altogether. No that’s just Catra forecasting events that she’s assuming based on a change in someone’s tone of voice.

Then her friend said "OH that's so awesome Adora! Well let me have your order and I'll let you enjoy your day"
Hmm, Sparkles isn't so bad after all. Catra gave her order along with Adora.
After a minute Adora started walking away and said "Hold on a moment Catra I'm going to tell Glimmer that I want rainbow sprinkles today!"

Catra just said okay and suddenly the familiar voice spoke again. "You might be waiting a few minutes. When Glimmer and Adora start to talk it takes time to get them to start." It was the mom of Sparkles again.
Catra just smiled at the owner.
"I'm just glad Adora is out dating again. It's been awhile since um, well nevermind um" the owner suddenly looks away then continued "I'll go get the girls. Have fun today Catra.
Catra wondered what made her stop...
Adora and her friend gave each other a hug and they both walked back to the car and started driving to the place she loves.
"Hey Adora, whats so special about the comedy show that makes it so hard to get tickets?" Catra asked. She was really curious.
"Oh have you ever heard of Double Trouble!" Adora asked in an excited tone
"Nope. Sounds umm like Team Rocket from Pokemon." Catra said. Shes such a mess…
Adora giggled again "No silly! Double Trouble is a comedian. They are so funny. They are on tour and coming to this town in 2 months. They do the most intense shows with crazy jokes and funny stories and are known for doing the greatest impersonations ever!"

That sounded fun and exciting honestly. The only comedy show that she's used to is watching Scorpia try to cook. She just needs a hand sometimes and she'll be fine. If left alone it's a crazy show.
They made it to Catra's favorite spot in the town. It was a small hill overlooking part of the town park. There was a bench on top of the hill near some wooded and leafy area. Adora started to walk over to the bench thinking that is where Catra was leading her to. However Adora was wrong.

“Adora where are you going. Come here dummy! “ Catra yelled over to Adora. Adora walked over to Catra and they held hands while they walked her over to the leafy area on a higher part of the hill. Catra took her to this abandoned looking old blue and white van.
When Catra wants alone time she goes to this spot. She’s been doing this for the last few years.
Adora just looked pretty curious and asked “So you come to the van?
“Yep!” Catra said hopping into the vine and leaf covered van and reached out for Adora’s hand and asked her “You coming?”
Adora smiled and took Catra’s hand and Catra pulled her up into the van.
Catra was pretty good with decorating and cleaning. She cleaned out the van and covered the floor with cheap rugs and small items. A Solar lantern sat in the front and in the back of the van. The front of the van faced over the hill. Catra helped Adora into the front seats. Catra does come here every two weeks to clean up.
Adora then said “wow so you fixed up a 1975 Dodge Tradesman and turned it into a little hangout spot.” She sounded impressed, but how did she know what kind of car this was.
“You must know your cars.” Catra said.
“Oh well before I became involved with sports I used to work part time at a car shop. It’s was a stupid job but I learned a lot. Umm but lets have this froyo before it melts.
Catra noticed that Adora looked pretty upset when she gave that answer. Catra wondered what could possibly have bothered Adora, but she didn’t want to pry. At least not yet..

Adora pulled out the frozen yogurt cups and they both started to eat it and they started talking about all different things to do in town. They talked about all the fun activities that they could do this month. Catra only knew a few places. The library, her van, the yoga studio now, a supermarket, a hospital and all the basic buildings oh and Adora’s place of course. She did know about one place .
“Adora have you ever been to The Broken Watchtower!?”

“Umm no where is that? What is it?
“Basically a rage room, a break room. Where you just destroy and break things!” Catra knew her own eyes lit up. She’s gone there so many times. She saw Adora’s eyes light up as well like 2 beautiful blue as she asked Catra “YOU MEAN THERE IS A PLACE WHERE I CAN BREAK THINGS !! CAN I USE A SWORD!!”
Catra laughed so hard and said “wow someone’s excited and yes Adora you can use a sword.”
Adora suddenly grabbed both of Catra’s hands with both of her own and yelled LETS DO THIS!
Catra nodded yes and looked down at her hands being held by Adora’s hands.

Again, she has kissed Adora already, but these moments she loved just as much, maybe even more. Suddenly she brought her eyes back up from the hands and they met Adora’s eyes again.

Adora softly smiled and said “I like your hands Catra. They are so soft.”
Without thinking Catra just said “ahh uhh ahh thanks I use really good skin.”

Sheesh Catra, your gay is showing…

Adora didn’t do anything but smile bigger and giggle. Then they both looked out of the front of the van Catra now holding Adora’s left hand with her right hand. She didn’t want to let go completely. The van was on an even higher hill and the front windshield had a full view of the town and over some of the buildings. They spent so much time talking that the sun started to go down. Catra was able to watch it with Adora.

Catra was so used to being alone in the van and avoiding most people. She never could enjoy the sunset with anyone else. As often as she avoided almost everyone, Catra did have lonely moments.
Adora was here now. Suddenly Catra notices that It feels like Adora and Catra have been doing this for a long time.

“The sunset is so beautiful. I can see why you come here a lot!” Adora calmly said as she gazed out the window still holding onto Catra’s hand.
“I know. absolutely nothing can ruin this moment.” Catra said with confidence in her voice.

Suddenly Adora jumped and a basic ringtone played. It wasn’t Catra’s she has a special; ringtone for everyone in her phone so she knows who she can ignore and who she can answer.
Adora let go and pulled out her phone and dropped it. Catra picked it up for her and out of curiosity she saw on the phone a name she knew.
Crimson Auto Shop
Catra knew that place. Perfuma suggested she should go there if she ever needed something done with her car. Didn’t Adora mention working for a car place.

“Oh wow I know about that place” Catra said as she handed Adora’s phone back.
“Yeah it’s a dumb place. I don’t want to ever go back there. “ Adora said with a very angry look.
What could have possibly made Adora so angry about her old job. Maybe they fired her?

“Adora why do you hate your old job so much.?” Catra asked
Adora just put her head down and said “I just couldn’t work around certain people anymore. That’s all”
Catra wanted to know more. Then Adora just slid her phone back into the side of the pocket but it wasn’t all the way in because Adora seemed too nervous to pay attention and it vibrated again and fell out.

Again Catra grabbed the phone and right before she handed it to Adora a text popped up on the screen from a "HD" and the text read “Babe, We can totally work this out. Ive changed. I miss you”

Catra almost dropped Adora’s phone…

Chapter End Notes

Don't you love cliffhangers?? I know I do..and I love sunsets. The sunset can either bring good or bad energy in my opinion. You'll never know.
Also credit to jellytart on IG for saying Catra your gay is showing on a post from a comic based off the first chapter by @zero_lawliet. I just had to add it in there.

Let me know what you all think!

Imperfection Is Beautiful

Chapter Summary

> Catra decides to go to Entrapta for some advice and heads over to MoonBean Yogurt for some information.

Chapter Notes

> Hey everyone!!
> Sorry it took me so long to update. I have a lot of motor skills issues due to nerve problems. So typing long can be pretty tough for me at times. That speech to text thing doesn't like me either LOL I didn't want you guys to be stuck with a cliffhanger for super long!! So i didn't give up.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Adora quickly grabbed her phone back from Catra. She got out of the van. She started walking to a nearby tree. Catra was still really in shock from what she read on Adora's phone. She thought to herself who on earth could have texted Adora that? Was Adora dating someone already? No they said they miss her. It could be an ex. Catra doesn't expect Adora to tell her everything because they only met yesterday. She just has no idea why that text still bothered her.
She wanted to follow Adora to see if she was okay. The next thing she knew is that Adora wasn't by that nearby tree anymore. She was getting into some car into the back seat. Catra quickly left the van to see if she could catch up to her. As the car backed away she noticed in the front of the car it had a bright pink Lyft sign. Catra had no idea what must be going through Adora's mind. Catra tried calling Adora twice and it just rang and went to voicemail. Catra got in her car and drove back home. She tried calling Adora one more time. Still so answer.

The next day Catra woke up and was hoping to see some sort of message from Adora. A text…anything. So she decided to text

Adora herself. She knew she would most likely be up since she wakes up everyday for her morning run at 6am 11:00: Hey Adora, good morning. I hope you're okay. I'm sorry if yesterday was a little awkward. I still just wanted to know if you were okay.

Catra sent the text hoping Adora would respond soon. The message says it was delivered. That's a good sign she figured. Adora didn't block her. Catra just really wanted to know what was going on. She knew that Adora had some secrets and Catra didn't want to pry but she honestly just knew she cared.
She waited until later in the day . Maybe Adora just needed space. Catra had to be patient. But patience was not Catra's best strong suit. She knew she had to work on that. She just never wanted to until now.

The week went by and still no word from Adora. Nothing. The worse part was that all the texts Catra sent to Adora were all left on read. She just decided not to be creepy anymore and just leave it alone. Catra knew one thing though. She would most likely see Adora on Friday night for Perfuma's free yoga class. Catra was closing up the front room and organizing and saw Perfuma organizing some tulips. She knew that last time Adora came early. So Catra just organized the yoga mats and cleaned up around the windows. She cleaned off the dirt around all the flower pots and looked outside. No sign of Adora at all. The other yoga students all came in and Catra just waited until it was over and thought to herself that she needed to be calmer about the situation. This was no big deal. Maybe Adora is just going through something. Whatever that something was she automatically felt like she wanted to know.

Once the class was over Catra drove home. Put her keys up and looked over at the living room to find Entrapta sitting on the couch watching some documentary on robots taking notes…totally not surprised and sat down next to Entrapta and decided to do something that she normally would never do…

"Hey Entrapta I need some advice…" Catra asked. As annoying as Entrapta can be, She knew the only person that thinks with the most logic would be Entrapta.

"Hi Catra! What do you mean? What sort of advice?" Entrapta asks as she pulls out another small notebook and starts jotting things down...how many notebooks does this girl carry?...Entrapta then said. "Tell me everything! I can help"

Catra wasn't surprised Entrapta would do that and say that. Catra basically explained the situation and raised her eyebrows everytime she watched Entrapta jot something down.

Entrapta then asked..
"So do you want me to give you ideas on what you should do to move forward type of advice? Or do you need me to tell you what I think?"
Catra responded
"Ummmm both?"
Entrapta's eyes widened and she made a squeeky noise and grabbed Catra's hand and said
"AHH Ive been waiting years for someone to ask me what I think AND give advice!! Hang on let me show you my notes!!!!"

Catra again was not surprised at this either.
It's just Entrapta being herself.
"So in conclusion…"
Entrapta said after just went on a long explanation about how it would be good to learn patience not just for this situation. That she needs to stop trying so hard. She said that all her experiments she goes into them having fun . Not trying to perfect everything. Entrapta went into a lot more detail but some of it involved math and Catra didn't understand the detail...
....so she had to just nod her `head…. Catra was always pretty bad at math…such a stereotype.

Catra knew Entrapta was actually right tho.
"Catra if it is causing you so much curiosity why don’t you just ask Glimmer or someone who knows Adora well?”

Ask Sparkles? Catra already feels that Sparkles doesn’t like her anyway.

Catra raised her eyebrow and said ‘Umm no…nope....that is a whole bowl of nope can’t just go up to her and say Hey Sparkles what’s wrong with Adora?”

Entrapta then giggled and said “Well Catra I think if you want to get an answer I’m not sure calling her Sparkles when you talk to her will help you get a scientifically accurate response. If that doesn't work ask someone else who knows Adora well. I've been over there a few times to help fix their lighting and fro yo machines for them. I think someone will give you some type of accurate response to your question."

Of course Entrapta has to add science to everything.
But Catra knew deep inside that Entrapta was right. She had to be a lot less abrasive in order to get an answer. Some would say she sounded obsessive…but it was more that Catra gets really insecure when she thinks something is wrong with someone she cares even a little about she wants to fix it right away or it would turn to her resenting the person.

“Okay I’ll head over to Moonbean Yogurt tomorrow to see whats going on. Everything has to go perfectly. Thanks Entrapta” Catra then stood up to go back to her room until Entrapta grabbed Catra's hand and said
"Catra don't try to make everything go perfectly. Nobody is perfect. Imperfection is what makes scientific experimentation possible. Imperfection is beautiful At least to me!" and she let go of Catra's hand and smiled.
"Wow that sound's like a good tatoo idea" Catra laughed. "But thank you. I never knew you could give such good advice. Thank you"

Entrapta just smiled and went back to writing in her notebook. As Catra walked away she could hear Entrapta saying something about 'subject seems satisfied with my suggestions and guidance ' Yep that's just Entrapta being herself again but with pretty good advice this time.

Catra decided to go to bed early just so she could have the energy to face Adora's loud sparkly friend and find out what on earth was making Adora avoid her.

The next morning Catra got up took a quick shower, grabbed some toast that Entrapta finally didn't burn and ran to her car. Catra tried going over the conversation in her head during the drive. She wanted to do this right. As she pulled up to the front of the store. She sat there for a few moments. She was hoping that she wouldn't run into Adora because as much as she wants to talk to her, she also knew she wanted more information first.
But Catra remembered that she wouldn't run into Adora since she had coaching every other Saturday.
As Catra walked in of course the first things she heard was loud yelling back and fourth from Sparkles and her mom. Catra wasn't surprised this might as well be the background music. Catra decided to basically sit down and wait for someone to notice her usually it's the owner who does. Suddenly she saw Sparkle's suddenly turned around after the owner walked back into the kitchen and she saw Catra. Catra had to play it cool as if nothing is wrong. She marched over to the end of the table and said
"Umm yes? What do you want?"
Catra was afraid that Adora might have talked to her about all the many times Catra called her. Yeah Catra knew that was a bit weird I guess. Now it was time to ask Sparkles……Glimmer..Catra had to remember that.
"Hey Spark…Glimmer! I just wanted to get my regular and maybe ask you if you heard from Adora?"

Glimmer looked at Catra and made a very weird yet a little adorable pouting face

“Why do YOU need to know? Why should I tell YOU?! Adora has been on edge all week …and she isn’t like that …until she met you! ”
The a little adorable face Glimmer changed and now it looked like it was about to explode into a light show…

. Catra couldn’t believe that Glimmer automatically blamed it on her. Catra was ready to scratch back with her words like an angry feline until a softer voice walked up to the side of the booth “ Glimmer, Bow is calling your cell in the back!”
It was Glimmer's mother.
Glimmer made a very quick “I’m watching you “ gesture at Catra and went into the kitchen.
Glimmer's mother held two frozen yogurt cups. One of them was Catra's favorite flavor. She must have seen Catra coming through one of the big windows. She normally gets her orders quick.
“I brought one for myself just a break and I have yours here. It’s on the house if you eat with me”

Catra felt nervous already however she wasn’t going to turn down free frozen yogurt.

“It’s such a nice day out today. The weather has been pretty beautiful lately don’t you agree?”
Catra has been feeling so anxious and didn’t even notice the weather.
“Yeah I mean…I guess it’s beautiful” Catra said.

‘Well first off I have a feeling why you’re here. It’s about Adora isn’t it?”

Wow this woman was good.
“Oh..um yeah I was going to ask your daughter if she knew anything “ Catra said with another spoonful of yogurt

“Oh Glimmer knows but getting information from her is like pulling teeth , but I can give you the same story if you are willing to listen. I know there is something special about you. Adora has never smiled so much sitting in here then she ever did”

Catra didn’t think she had that much of a small affect on someone she just met. Catra shook her head showing how she was willing to hear the story.

“Well Adora used to work at a place called Crimson Auto Shop.” Catra remembers when Adora mentioned working there… Glimmer's mother contined

“Well Adora worked there for a while. She had a boss Huntara Davis. Huntara seemed really nice. She gave Adora extra hours. Gave her a raise and one day gave her flowers. Glimmer did try to tell her that dating your own boss comes with risks. Adora has always been a bit of a hopeless romantic. She falls in love fast, and trusts to easily. She will take so many risks to protect anyone she cares about. All I can tell you from that is that Adora was hurt pretty badly from Huntara. I don’t know all the details. She just came here a lot and Glimmer and I would do our best to comfort her. I do know that Adora gave Huntara all of her and Huntara never returned it all. It became really hard for Adora to keep her job she couldn’t emotionally handle it anymore and before she found the job at the school I let her work here for awhile. I wish I knew details but I can tell you that Adora is just scared. She will eventually come around. Just be patient with her.”

Catra now can see why the name said HD it was Huntara and Adora must have gotten emotional over it somehow. Glimmer’s mom was right. She just had to give Adora time.
Glimmer’s mother smiled at Catra as they ate the last bit of yogurt.
“Thank you for telling me. I really thought I did something wrong. Youre really nice umm Mrs..”
Oh yeah Catra didn’t know her name.
“You can call me Angella. Thank you for eating with me. I don’t always get time to sit down and just relax with some of my best customers. Take care Catra.”

Angella then got up waved and walked back into the kitchen. Catra felt a little warm inside being called a best customer. Angella was really sweet. She went back to the car. She drove back to her apartment but just sat in the car thinking about Adora and how Adora must feel. For someone she only hungout with twice...it felt like longer.

She went back into her apartment. It was quiet… It must mean that Entrapta is either asleep or not home. Catra flopped back on her bed and just started watching Netflix on her phone. Suddenly a text came in….. from Adora Catra dropped her phone on her face….totally painful but she ignored it to open the text.

Adora: Hey Catra. Glimmer texted me saying you stopped by Moonbean Yogurt. She told me Angella talked to you as well. I'm so sorry I haven't texted or called you back. Will you be busy tomorrow morning? I want to explain what happned in person. We can have breakfast and this time I can pick you up if that's ok?
Catra should have known Sparkles would text Adora right away. She wasn't even surprised. No matter what Catra was happy that Adora was willing to talk to her.

Catra: Hey Adora! I'm happy to hear from you. I'm so sorry for being a bit of a creep and texting and calling you a lot.

Adora: LOL It's okay. I'm sorry I ghosted you the way I did. I probably would have been as confused. I'll explain everything tomorrow morning k, Hows 8am?
Catra: Okay I'll be ready.

Catra was definitely NOT ready by 8am
She was rushing around from oversleeping. She never wakes up that early so she overslept. By 7:55am she was just jumping out of the shower. Her hair was wet, she was running around her room in a towel too holding it up with one hand. She texted Adora that she might be a little late. Adora didn't answer. Suddenly she heard Scorpia's booming voice out in the living room. She just figured Scorpia came to see Entrapta to play video games until she heard a knock on the door. Catra was already running late and had no time for Scorpia to bother her.

Catra went over to the door angrily and opened it and yelled

“oh my God!! Scorpia can you go away it is way too early what….”

Catra didn’t see Scorpia at the door…. Instead she was met with a pair of sky blue eyes staring right into her own blue and yellow eyes…

It was Adora standing right in front of her..

Chapter End Notes

There is more coming!!
So of course i gave Huntara the last name Davis since that is her voice actor's name!

I also want to thank the artists who have done art for this fic! including @Zero_Lawliet on IG also a few people have asked me privately what my first language was. It is Lakota. My mom was raised on a Native American reservation and we spoke Lakota at home. I can speak English wayyyy better then I can write it.

What did you all think of this short chapter?

Food and Flashbacks

Chapter Summary

Adora and Catra get breakfast, meet Mermista. Catra learns so much more about Adora's past.

Chapter Notes

Yes you guys get 2 updates in less than an hour. I had them already done.
So some warnings ahead.

Topics of Death and slight mention of Weight gain and discussion of transitioning
I added a ---------- where i mention them and another line when it ends just in case you don't want to read it. If you think you need more for anything else please let me know.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

...yes Catra...right in front of. Catra … wearing only a towel and her hair a messy wet mess.
She felt like she would die in that moment. This is so not how she wanted Adora to see her in this moment.
Catra tried to speak but words weren't making any sense to her. Adora started laughing so that didn't make anything any easier.

"ummm Hi Catra. I mean this is only the third time we are hanging out, I didn't think you moved this fast!" Adora said through a bunch of giggles

This was not the time for Catra to let her face turn into a big red apple.

"Oh um yeah uhhhh im running late and umm" Catra still couldn't get the words out.

Adora just laughed again and said
"awww Cat got your tongue ?"
Catra didn't think her face could burn anymore. She thought it was going to melt off her face.
Usually if anyone else made that joke….(basically Scorpia) but Adora doing it just felt different.

Catra could finally speak.
"oh stop…um how did you even get in here? You never texted me back."

Behind Adora Scorpia popped up with a huge smile on her face and said
"OH I LET HER IN! I saw her outside while I was outside coming over to see Entrapta and hangout and invited her up here when she told me she was coming to see you. She's a guest!"
Catra wanted to yell at Scorpia but the last thing she needed was Adora to see her lose her cool.she gritted her teeth and put on a fake smile and said
"Scorpia. That's very nice of you and it would be even nicer if this was actually your apartment to invite someone up to" Catra turned to Adora and quickly said "Not that you arnt welcome…"

Adora giggled again that stupid adorable giggle again and said "Catra it's okay I'll just go back down to my car and wait. I should have texted you to tell you i was up here. I really like your apartment though!"

Catra didn't want Adora to feel like she was some sort of unwanted visitor so she said "No no no Adora you can stay you can hangout on the couch . I'll be done soon." Catra said as she used her one free hand that wasn't holding her towel up to point to the couch….she couldn't believe she was still wearing a towel in front of Adora this whole time. Adora walked over to the couch with Scorpia.

Catra finally went back into her room and changed into her clothes for the day. She just tossed on a blue tank and wore her jean capris and finally dried her hair and put it in 2 braids. She left her room to see Adora and Scorpia watching youtube videos together and laughing. Catra was at least happy that her bestfriend was getting along with Adora.

Adora looked up at Catra
"Aww Catra you look so pretty in blue. It matches your right eye!"

Catra didn't think her face could turn anymore red then it did when she had her towel on earlier.
"Umm thank you"
'Catra …you need to come up with a better thing to say back. Compliment her' Catra said to herself.
"You always look pretty Adora"

Adora smiled and stood up and said bye to Scorpia and they head out to her car.

Adora drove a cute small white Honda with gold rims and rainbow and crown stickers on the back ….Catra wasn't surprised.
"This is Marlena!" Adora said getting into the car with Catra Catra giggled. "Wow you're such a dork. You named your car."

Adora's face changed to more of a somber look and at that moment Catra knew she said something wrong.
"I named it after my mom. She left it for me before she passed on. The fact that she adopted me and took care of me makes me want to take care of this car"
Catra's heart sank… nice job Catra…making jokes about Adora's dead mother's car.
"Oh ugh I'm so sorry!!! I didn't mean to ughh I'm sorry"
Adora smiled and said "its okay most people respond the same way. I guess it's still a weird thing to name your car. It just feels like I'm still close to her while I have this car. I try to keep it in top condition so I never have to get it worked on more than I already know how to work on it."

Catra already understood why Adora didn't want that. That would involve heading back to her old job…

“I actually didn’t think you drove at all. Since you got a ride to the yoga studio and all”

Adora then smiled gently and said

“As much as I love Marlena. She isn’t very good with the environment so I try to avoid driving her too much to keep from adding anymore waste into the air. I could get a new one but I just can’t seem to part with her just yet”
Catra was always so easy to cut off her past however

Adora changed the subject quickly and Catra just listened to Adora talk about the place that they were going to. Apparently it was a place another one of Adora’s friends owned. What’s with all her friends owning places. It’s as if this town was one big planet and every restaurant was it’s own kingdom.
“Just to let you know it’s another vegan restaurant. It’s called The Vegan Pearl Palace There are a ton of food options though.
Catra didn’t mind it was food. Food is food! She just wondered what Adora meant by “another vegan resturant”
The place wasn’t far. The sun was already up and it was a bit humid. Adora was dressed in a white yellow and red crop top and red shorts. She just looked so amazing.
They walked into a building that looked like a scene out of The Little Mermaid. The door was in the shape of a giant seashell and there was gold and teal theme going on when they walked into the door. There were aquariums around small round blue tables. There were pictures of sea creatures on the wall. One large one was from Finding Nemo which said FISH ARE FRIENDS NOT FOOD.

There was a sign that said “Seat Yourself if You Feel Like It” Catra kind of liked that attitude.

They found a table close by and decided to sit down at it and wait for someone to come over.

They saw a person come over with blue hair and a small purple hat and tie. The waiter looked like what looked like a mermaid blue top blue and golden shoulder pads.

“Hi welcome to the My name is Anchor and I will be your waiter.”
Anchor handed them the breakfast menus
Catra was going to make another comment but she already knew what happened the last time that she did. That whole seahawk thing was embarrassing.

“Hey Anchor! Nice to see you again. This is Catra. Catra this is Anchor. They have been working here for a very long time!”

Anchor just smiled with a forced smile. It looked like they didn’t want to be there. Or that they were really tired. Possibly both.
Catra looked in the menu. She saw a bunch of options. Smoked Tofu with vegan Caesar dressing and Hummus on Toast with blueberries and some lemon seasoned sautéed spinach. That sounded interesting.
Catra looked up from the menu to see Adora also looking at the menu.
“Catra do you see anything you like? I’m getting boiled broccoli with black salted fried tofu with soy sauce brown rice with some siracha on top. It’s a breakfast bowl and I love it.”
Adora said while still looking at the menu.
Catra never new there could be so much of a variety with vegan food.
“Adora I didn’t know you were a vegan. You eat froyo and we had pepperoni pizza and we had chicken at Sea Hawk’s place and your arms are like….” Catra started eyeballing Adora’s arms in the crop top.

“Well the frozen yogurt I get is dairy free. They have a few of those flavors over there. The chicken at Sea Hawk’s place was actually tofu and bean curd pressed together. The pizza place we went to, I’m not sure if you know but that’s also a Vegan shop. The pizza is made with cashew cheese and the pepperoni is seitan based. Seitan is made from wheat.
“What? Iv’e been eating Vegan pizza this whole time. Makes sense why I wasn’t gaining tons of weight. I eat their pizza all the time!” Catra was amazed at this.

Adora suddenly smirked..

“Now what were you saying about my arms?” Adora’s eyes met Catra’s

“Yes Adora has arms like that superheroine She-Ra. Everyone says it. It’s no big deal though” a very deadpan yet pretty voice came from behind Catra Catra looked back to see a beautiful woman with a long teal braid and a blue and white dress suit on. She had golden brown eyes and darker skin and she looked so bored at the same time.

“Woah umm hi and yeah umm I guess I was wondering how you can have such muscles like that and not eat any meat.”

Adora laughed and said “I get my protein from tofu, quinoa, beans and many other things. Meat isn’t the only thing where I can get protein from. ”
“Oh I never knew that!” Catra said.

“Yeah I really wanted to make this restaurant to give the people of this town more than one vegan option. However as you can see I’m a little understaffed right now.
Mermista pointed at Anchor running around bussing tables and taking orders and finally they were walking towards the table.
“ A lot of people left when I let SeaHawk work here a bit and he wouldn’t stop with the sea shantys and almost set my place on fire a few times. I had to fire him. Working with someone you date can be a major headache. Anyway Anchor will take your order”

Two things happened. Catra realized that Sea Hawk and Mermista were a couple. A strange couple. The other thing was that Adora’s face changed. All this talking and Catra almost forgot why they were having breakfast anyway.

Adora ordered her breakfast broccoli bowl and Catra decided to order a mushroom bell pepper veggie ground scrambled tofu dish.

They started eating and Catra loved her food.

Adora finally looked up and Catra new what was about to happen next.
"Okay Catra let me explain now. So about that text… I know Angella told you what she knew so I'll fill in the details. About a year ago I started working at the Crimson Auto Shop and Huntara hired me. She seemed to really enjoy how well I worked with clients and how helpful I was. As time went on we got along really well. She gave me a raise when I was able to bring us in a bunch of new clients. She was really happy about that. We then started hanging out outside more often. The other workers were starting to get upset. As time went on one day we went to Moonbean Yogurt since of course that's my main place to be. Huntara basically gave me a huge bouquet of flowers that she apparently got from Perfuma. Perfuma had no idea that they were for me. She asked me out later that night. I said yes. I wish I didn't. The relationship wasn't always bad, however after a few months Huntara became really distant at times. It made it really awkward at work and rumors started spreading that she was cheating on me."

Adora stopped in the middle of her story for a moment. She took a deep breath and continued.
"Basically, the rumors were true. I went to the yoga studio on a Thursday which isn't my normal day but I was busy on that Friday and as Netossa and Spinerella pulled up to drop me off. I saw Huntara kissing Perfuma in the back of the studio through the window…. At this time Perfuma didn't rent out the studio yet. She just held yoga classes on Thursdays and Fridays.

Catra could not believe what she heard. How are Adora and Perfuma okay?
"Wait what the hell?" Catra said loudly
Adora put her hands up and quickly said
"Oh no no no no! It isn't what you think. Basically remember how I said Perfuma had no idea Huntara and I were even a thing. Huntara was seeing Perfuma after work for awhile. Netossa was about to jump out of the car and go in there. However I explained that I'm going to handle it myself.

FLASHBACK

"ADORA? WHAT…what are you doing here???" Huntara screamed.
Adora marched in there fuming and crying.
"What am I doing here?? The question is what are you doing with Perfuma?"
Huntara backed away from Perfuma quickly and said
"Adora um.. I am so sorry I just …Baby please I'm so sorry!

Perfuma looked absolutely confused and said "Oh no! Huntara what's going on? Are you and Adora…"
Perfuma suddenly seemed to realize what was happening.
"Huntara and I have been dating for the past 8 months. I'm guessing she didn't expect me to be here today."

Perfuma didn't know how to respond it seemed. Adora cried through her words. "Huntara that's it. It's done it's over. I didn't want to believe any of the rumors but now I get it. Also you won't see me tomorrow either. I quit.

Adora ran out crying. Perfuma walked out after her.
"I am so sorry Adora I had no idea!"
"It's okay Perfuma. It's not your fault. You didn't know so i can't be angry with you. But Huntara knew what she was doing. I just won't be good enough for anyone it seems. I give my all. All my heart and everything and this is what I get back..pain"
Perfuma started to cry as well and said

"Adora I fully understand not being good enough. You are good enough. You are wonderful. You've been my friend for so long. We are also both very private people. I remember telling you I was seeing someone. I should have told you who it was. But I'm definitely not speaking to her again"

“I know and I should have been more open with you as well. You, Bow and Glimmer are my bestfriends.”
Adora said hugging Perfuma.

Huntara suddenly walked out of the studio and was about to say something to the girls. Netossa stepped out of the car and although Huntara was much larger then Netossa, Netossa was still a volcano and nobody ever wanted to mess with her. Her words and her hands could cause a lot of damage still. All that Vollyball. Huntara went to her car and drove off.

Adora just continued to cry. Perfuma then said
“Listen although Huntara is the best machenic in town. She doesn’t have her heart in a good spot. Just know Adora you are loved. You are so important.”
Adora just said “I just wish I was wanted for more than just my muscles. I want to be there for someone who needs me”

Perfuma turned Adora towards her and said “Adora your friends want you around. We all need you and we will be there for you. Remember when I started transitioning? I was terrified. I didn't have much support from my family. You even came with me when I went to get my first dose of hormone treatment. You were there for me! You were there for me through everything!! You will find someone who appreciates you the way all your friends do. Never give up on love and friendship. It's powerful!

“Thank you so much. This will be tough but I’m not going to let this stop me”

PRESENT

“So yeah this is why I was so quick to just ask you out on a date the night I met you. I just wanted to shoot my shot and try. When Huntara texted me I panicked. I knew you saw that and I just assumed you would think I was talking to someone else and I just wanted to avoid any awkwardness. I was being a big coward and I’m so sorry If I hurt you Catra”
Adora said with tears in her eyes.

This was a lot of information for early in the morning. Catra heard light crying nearby and turned again to see Mermista with red eyes.
Mermista must have been sitting there listening to the story.
Adora looked behind Catra and said
“Mermista are you crying??”
Mermista shook her head no wiping away tears
“I’m not crying over anything…. I just must have put too many onions in your tofu scramble. I’m going back to the kitchen to uhh make sure I don’t do it again.”
And Mermista walked off

She was totally crying.

Catra then grabbed Adora’s hand and said
“Adora I appreciate you telling me this and I am so sorry you went through that. I’m glad that it wasn’t me who messed up. I get really paranoid…I don’t know, probably abandonment issues. Haha! I know what it’s like not being wanted. I had the worse foster mother ever. She always told me that no one wanted me and that Id never be good enough for anyone. I just had to fight to love myself. I still struggle with that fight. I sometimes think that I can’t find love until I learn to fully love myself”

Adora looked Catra straight in the eyes and squeezed her hand and said “No Catra that doesn’t make you unworthy of love. I really hate when people try to tell others they can’t have love unless they love themselves. It’s not true”

Catra smiled at Adora and kissed her hand. They sat in silence for the rest of their time eating just smiling at each other . Catra then asked

"So why didn't you ever block Huntara's number? I'm not asking you to do it. However why do you still have it saved if she bothers you so much?"

Adora said "Oh honestly she never does. This was kind of random. But you know. That chapter of my life is over and I'm ready to move forward" She then pulled out her phone and started pressing buttons.

"There she's blocked!" Adora said with a smile.
Catra didn't expect for her to do that so fast. Adora even showed it to her. Again Catra didn't ask her to do it. She was just happy that Adora seemed like she felt better once she did it.

3 weeks went by smoothly Catra worked, Adora worked. They texted each other during their lumch breaks. Spent some nights texting and calling each other. They hung out a lot on their free time. After work and on days off. Of course always getting frozen yogurt. Meeting up Friday nights for pizza Catra even tried Adora's dairy free fro yo suggestion. Which was pretty good.
One Friday Adora came into the studio with her hair down and wearing this cute tied crop top and a beautiful sword necklace that Catra gave her. Catra found it at a little Flea Market. She walked over to Catra kissed her and Catra always turned red. She really loved those. At the end of the night Catra and Adora walked over to the Vegan Pizza shop again. Adora and Catra just enjoyed their pizza and Adora was telling Catra about how the Double Trouble Comedy show was coming up. Adora told some of the jokes to Catra and Catra laughed so hard as Adora ate her pizza. Catra still couldn't believe there was no meat or dairy in it. She should have realized that it was called Save The Planet Pizza for a reason. They ordered their fizzy drinks and small cupcakes for dessert. Catra thought to herself how she should bring some back for Entrapta since she loves tiny snacks and fizzy drinks.

“So next week are you excited for the show?” Adora asked.
“I’ll be going with you so of course. Before the show in a few days do you want to go to the Broken WatchTower with me to smash things?”
Adora’s beautiful blue eyes widened and she hugged Catra and said loudly
“OH OH OH THE PLACE I CAN USE A SWORD TO SMASH STUFF??”
Catra laughed and said “hahah! Yes Adora that place!”

“THEN YES YES YES. I am sooo pumped!” Adora said as she hugged Catra tighter..

Catra could swear she could feel every part of Adora’s abs…and did not not want to move from that position. However she knew she had to breathe again.
“Umm Adora as much as I love your hugs…It’s kinda hard to breathe” Catra let out with an exhale.
“Oh sorry!! I was just so excited!” Adora said as she let go.

They walked out of the restaurant to Catra’s car. Catra was wearing brown fingerless gloves and took them off just so she could feel Adora’s soft skin on her hands. She was excited to do something different with her. These few weeks with Adora have been so wonderful. Catra knew she wanted to make the next big step at some point. The step where she ask this beautiful animal loving blue eyed blonde to be her girlfriend. Catra just had to plan it right.

Chapter End Notes

> Thank you for getting this far! I'll attempt to update again soon! If my hands decide to be nice.
> I really wanted to give Mermista's butler/guard a part and show how tired they really must be from working so much. I also wanted to make them non-binary because.... I can! I think there needs to be more enby love <3 I myself am Two-Spirit so I just thought this would be fun!

The Flashback originally wasn't going to be added but I thought it would be better than Adora just talking and talking LOL

This chapter I dedicated to my bestie. I wrote it the evening of her graduation dinner. She just graduated from college and went through so much mentally and emotionally in order to make it to where she is and I'm so freaking proud of her!! I'm not a vegan but she is a dedicated one and I learned soo much from her. So ZJ if you read this I am so proud of you I love you so much and congrats <3

Also if you wish to see another peice of art from this chapter follow @verssaillessart on IG. A post will be up on her page soon for it so look out! I really love when people make my stories come to life. If you ever make any art of my fic i'd love to give you shoutouts I'll update on here <3 Supporting artists is important to me!! if anyone wants to talk lets be friends <3 follow me on IG @princessmermistaofsalineas and if anyone wants to learn more about the Vegan lifestyle my bestie and I did a mini podcast together.

Let me know what you all think of this chapter!! I <3

The Broken Watchtower

Chapter Summary

> Catra and Adora do something new and go ona date to destroy things !

Chapter Notes

> Hey everyone ! This took awhile but here is another fun chapter! Date time!

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Catra has spent a lot of time with Adora lately. Texting and using facetime. Every Friday night doing their regular pizza and froyo dates. She was super excited about the big comedy show coming up soon. Catra had no idea what to expect. Not the comedy show, but the double date with Sparkles and Arrow Guy. They seemed so different than Adora. Well everyone is different than her. She just happens to be wonderful kind of dumb at times but still wonderful. Catra just knew that that wonderful person should totally be with her.

Catra hasn't dated anyone in a long time. She couldn't even remember the last time that she had feelings for anyone. It was always people coming in and out of places she lived. Commitment was not on her to do list. She just felt like she was finally ready. Catra decided to meet up with Scorpia for lunch over at Mermista' s place to talk to her about it. Plus she's been seeing Perfuma so maybe she knew how to handle these situations
"OH MY GOSH WILDCAT THIS IS SO EXCITING! WHEN ARE YOU ASKING ADORA OUT?" Scorpia yelled
"Scorpia shut up. I don't need all of Etheria to know before Adora even knows anything" Catra said. Scorpia had no idea how to stay calm with any news that sounded exciting.
"Sorry Wildcat! I'm just really glad you finally want to be in a relationship. I've always wanted you to branch out from your one night stands!" Scorpia said in a semi serious tone.

Catra wasn't going to argue that. Scorpia was right about this one. It was a big difference.
"Umm yeah I guess. Scorpia I just have no clue how to do it. I'm not good at the whole romance thing."
"What? You two go out on dates a lot!!? How could you not know!" Scorpia said confused.

It was true. Catra and Adora went out all the time on dates and hanging out. Catra never did anything super romantic for Adora it seemed. Yeah she took her to her favorite spot in the van in the woods. They just never had any fancy dinner. They never had picnics or did anything what others would call "romantic" Catra didn't even know what Adora even considered romantic. She just knew Adora liked to break stuff with swords. She actually has to still take Adora there.

"So why don't you just ask Adora what she finds romantic. I'm pretty sure she would tell you!" Scorpia said with that slightly annoying positive attitude she always has.

"What? Nope nope. That's not happening. I'm not trying to sound like an idiot to her. Who asks that stuff?" Catra said Scorpia's smile went from big to almost a full frown. She then just started eating her food looking at Catra with sad eyes.

"Umm what did I say?" Catra figured that she must have upset her in some way.

"Well that's what Perfuma and I did. We wanted to know what things we both find romantic. There is nothing wrong with asking those simple questions when you are moving forward into a relationship. You want to really understand your partner as much as you can. It takes time but there is nothing wrong with trying to learn more."
Catra knew Scorpia had a point and as much as she hates to admit it. Scorpia was right about this. She should learn more about what Adora likes.

Suddenly Catra's phone buzzed. Adora just texted her. Suddenly Catra had a little more confidence.
Adora: Hey Catra! Perfuma is going to a few doctors appointments on Friday. So I know you might be off work. So I wanted to know if you wanted to spend the day together with me?
Catra felt her smile grow and thought this was perfect timing to learn more about what Adora likes romantically.
Catra: Hey dork, yeah of course I would want to spend the day with you! Is there anything you want to do?
Adora: Yes! Actually I was hoping we could go…..well smash things at The Broken Watchtower?
Catra: Oh yeah! We can totally go! We can get food afterwards. You will work up an appetite after that.
Adora: Yay!
Catra: Why are you such a dork?
Adora: Because you like me!
Catra: I don't like you!
Adora: Sureeeeee anyway I'm going for a walk with Glimmer and Bow soon I'll text you later!

Catra smiled so much again. She knew that Adora really wanted to go and she was hoping Adora would answer some questions for her that day too.
! She looked up at Scorpia who she accidentally was ignoring while texting Adora.
"You okay Wildcat?" Scorpia asked
"Yeah Adora wants to go to The Broken Watchtower this Friday and since Perfuma apparently will have the studio closed I'll have off work."
Scorpia started smiling as well and said. "OH THIS IS AWESOME My wildcat will have a girlfriend soon!!"
Scorpia's positivity sometimes was too much for Catra. Today though, it was totally okay.

Later that day Catra went into work and saw Perfuma and decided to talk to her.
"Hey umm Perfuma" Catra tapped her on the shoulder

Perfuma turned around and said “Hello Catra! How’s everything going? Do you need anything?”
“No no, I just wanted to double check with you about something. Adora mentioned that you won’t be here Friday” Catra asked
“Oh yes I was going to tell everyone this Wednesday, but yes! You and everyone has off Friday. However you still will get paid!” Perfuma said in such a happy tone.
Wow Perfuma is honestly so sweet, Catra wasn’t shocked though. Scorpia and Perfuma were meant for each other.
“Oh Thanks Perfuma! That’s so sweet of you! I don’t know many managers who would do this for their employees” Catra said
“Oh it’s no problem! It’s not everyone’s fault that I won’t be around to run the studio. So why should your paychecks suffer!’ Perfuma said with a giggle.
Catra wishes her other jobs thought that way but none of them ever did. Again she was really thankful to Scorpia for hooking her up with this job.
Catra finished the rest of work for the day. Adora texted her random memes while she was at work. Adora knew Catra couldn’t always answer back so just sending memes to Catra seemed like her way of just being well …just adorable. She couldn’t wait to find the right time to ask her out.

Friday came and Catra was getting dressed and running around her room to find her good sneakers. Catra just threw on red sweat pants and a blue top, Catra wore sandals most of the time, she preferred open toe shoes, however in a rage room she wasn’t allowed to wear them. She found her sneakers and sat down and put them on when her phone buzzed again. It was Adora again.
Adora: hey Catra just letting you know I’m ready and I wanted to know if my outfit was okay.
Catra: I’m sure its..

And before Catra could send the msg another message came in.
Adora: IMAGE
It was a full body photo of Adora in front of a tall mirror wearing gold leggings and a white form fitting v neck t shirt that showed every muscle of her arm. The whole outfit showed every curve of her entire body. Catra thought she was going to fall off her bed. How does Adora manage to do this to her all the time. Unfortunately she had to tell Adora that whatever she wears will be covered by her white safety gear. Now to text her as if she didn't almost have a nosebleed Catra: Your outfit is fine dork. However you are going to be wearing white safety gear with a full safety mask. Oh and sneakers. Wear sneakers.

Adora: oh we get safety gear?? This is going to be so fun! Yes I have sneakers on in the photo did you not see them?
Honestly Catra was distracted by the rest of Adora to notice what was on her feet.
Catra: you had shoes on those were shoes good sneakers
Catra sent that msg and didn't even look to realize how it sounded.
Adora : you are so cute. I'll see you soon?
Catra: yes totally. See you later dork.
Adora: see you soon Catra!
Catra tied her hair up and ran out her apartment. It was about 2pm and their appointment was at 3. Catra rather be early then late to things. This wasn't always something she did, she picked that up from Adora who seemed to always be prepared for anything when she was early to things.
She made It to Adora's house and waited outside for her. Adora came out right at that moment as if she was looking for Catra through the window. She always looked so amazing. Her outfit looked even better in person when she got in her car.
"Hey Catra! " Adora said kissing Catra on the cheek.
Catra has kissed Adora more than this but every time she kissed her on the cheek she still got butterflies and turned red. Adora noticed because she just giggled each time.

They drove to The Broken Watchtower. It was a very tall building with a huge sign that said The Broken Watchtower with the word Tower hanging off the side on purpose to make it look like it was broken and falling off. Catra has been here about 2 times. It still was in great condition despite the name. They both got out of the car Adora grabbed Catra's hand and again, although she has done it multiple times, her hand always feels wonderful within Adora's hand.

They walked inside and it was really cold inside. There was a giant podium in front of a few doors. Catra saw the lockers to the left.

"Adora you just have to put your belongings into that locker over there. Then we are going to change." Catra said.
When she turned around she saw Adora looking into a small glass shelf like box on the wall showing a bunch of small clay figures of everything they get to use.
"CATRA OH MY GOD I SEE A GIANT SWORD! IM SO EXCITED!!"
Catra smiled. Seeing Adora excited about things always made Catra happy. Catra called out wondering where the owners were.
Suddenly she heard a really young voice yelling
"OH MY GOD STOP YELLING I CAN HEAR YOU!"
Catra and Adora looked to the corner. A short girl with a blue bob cut hairstyle walked out wearing a blue and white pair of overalls and pushed over a small stepladder and went to the top of the podium and looked down at Adora and Catra.
"Ok so Welcome to The Broken Watchtower where you can break stuff blah blah blah its $120 for two people for an hour. Pay up or leave please and dont complain about the price."
This little girl did not seem the happiest. Catra was used to seeing an older woman standing there.
Adora started to laugh and say "Oh wow, she's like 10!"
Catra just giggled until she saw the girl's face look even more angry.
"I'm 11 and three quarters so shut up or pay up"

Catra and Adora looked at each other and Catra took out her wallet and paid for them and asked
"Ok so who are you?"
"I'm Frosta. My mom runs this place. She's out today for her other job so I usually take over. Not that it's any of your business. Anyway the safety attire is in the closets, walk through, pick your weapons and go break stuff"

As Catra and Adora walked to put their things in lockers, Frosta also yelled again
“oh and you need to sign a waiver!”
Adora raised an eyebrow and asked Catra “umm why do I need to sign a waiver???”
Catra just put her arm around Adora and said “Just in case you cut your hand off, you can’t sue them”

Adora looked terrified but went over and signed it anyway with Catra. Luckily Catra hasn't heard of anyone getting really hurt/

They put on their white saftey outfits. Catra picked a giant titanium bat. Of course Adora found her sword and couldn’t stop looking at it.

Catra saw many things, Televisions, glass bottles, lamps, old stuffed animals, pillows, plates and more. She started smashing the TV with her bat. It felt good after a long week at work to release stress.
Adora was in a corner slicing a bunch of teddy bears in half as well as pillows and smashing wine glasses screaming “FOR THE HONOR OF GRAYSKULL” as if she thinks shes an 80s warrior princess. She’s such a nerd, but Catra adored that nerd.
‘Having fun Adora?” Catra yelled as she watched Adora smash things.
“FUN? YES I NEVER FELT SO ALIVE!” Adora screamed as she smashed 3 glasses with a full swing of her sword
Catra smiled and started to smash the tv more along with some beer bottles.
After laughing and destroying so many things Catra started to feel hungry again. Adora continued to look around for something else to break.
“Catra I’m out of things to destroy!” Adora whined.
Catra just sighed and said “Yeah I’m pretty sure you destroyed everything in here already.”
Adora crossed her arms and just stuck out her tongue like a child being told they can’t have anymore candy. Which Catra found super cute.
As Catra and Adora grabbed their things from their locker, Catra heard her stomach growl.

Adora must have noticed because she quickly turned and looked and said
“Somebody sounds hungry. I guess you weren’t kidding when you said this makes you work up an appetite. Well let’s get going I’m super hungry.”
Catra laughed and couldn’t wait to sit down with Adora and find out all the things she really loved.
As they head out the door, avoiding the dirty looks Frosta tends to give her every time, she realized it started to rain. She never can predict the weather in this town. Just as she was about to tell Adora to wait so she can go grab an umbrella out of her car, Catra watched Adora run out into the rain and just stand in front of the parked car smiling with the rain dripping all down her hair and face.
Catra was super confused.
“Oh rain!! I love the rain! Catra this is one of my favorite things about nature! Rain just gives life to everything.” Adora said while she started spinning around.
“Umm yeah but youre getting soaked Adora, get inside the…”

And before Catra could finish Adora grabbed Catra by the hands and pulled her in for a kiss.
Catra almost forgot it was raining for a few moments. Adora’s kisses always felt magical. After a few moments Adora finally pulled away and said

“I really find kissing in the rain so romantic." Adora said softly. Then walked towards the car Being in nature is just something that makes me smile.” Adora said as she finally opened the car passenger door and got inside. Leaving Catra soaked from the rainfall as well feeling a mix of satisfied and peaceful. Usually Catra hated rain , but with Adora…she couldn’t even feel that emotion.
Catra got into the car, her hair dripping wet and Adora just kept smiling at her making Catra blush like crazy. She always had towels just in case she got stuck in rain or any watery situation . They patted themselves dry and Catra started to drive.

“I honestly wanted to ask you what you find romantic actually, but now I know, it’s rain and nature so thanks for that answer” Catra laughed.
“Oh ha-ha! Yeah kissing in the rain, picnics, horseback riding holding hands. You know? All that lame stuff and more like,” Catra didn’t let Adora finish
“What!? You ride horses?” Catra asked, yet not surprised, Adora seemed to do everything.

‘Well I haven’t done it since I was at summer camp honestly. All I remember is this one girl and I would always have horse riding activity and we used to hold hands while riding them. I loved it! It wasn’t even about her. Just the idea of doing that was super romantic to me” Adora said while she looked dreamily out the window.
“Umm Was that even safe to do?” Catra asked. Catra has never been on a horse. In fact she was slightly scared of them.
“Oh probably not, but I love taking risks! Whats the fun of life when you don’t take chances? Plus whats the worse that could have happned? I fall off and get a bruise? I’ve gotten more hurt doing safer things. I took a risk by asking you out on a date and asking you for a kiss and look where we ended up now. ” Adora laughed
Catra really admired how much Adora loved to have fun no matter what. Catra usually always tried to follow the rules. Well not always. Growing up Catra always got in a lot of trouble for doing whatever she wanted. It took her a long time to learn that in life we can’t always live that way and that there was only so many risks you could take.
“So Adora, Princess of Food. Any other restaurant suggestions?” Which Catra knows will probably be another Vegan restaurant. Adora smirked then said calmly “Actually I’ll let you pick the place. I’m sure you will pick something we both will enjoy!”
Catra actually liked all the places Adora and her have gone before. It seems like this time Adora wants Catra to take the lead in this. Usually Catra is good at taking the lead in things, but with someone she really likes, no this was different. She wanted to make it work out. Catra thought about the only other place she knows in town, however it wasn't the best place to bring someone you like to. However Adora surprised her a lot. So she thought she would take the chance.

Catra looked over at Adora and said "Ok I know a place , but it's not as fancy as all the places you go to. It's a little on the other side of town. It's kind of like a sports bar. I'm not sure how you will feel about it."
Adora smiled and said "I trust you Catra. "
Catra honestly has rarely ever heard that before. Usually people don't trust her. This just makes her like Adora even more.
They drove a bit and Catra pulled up to a little small corner building on a street and parked behind it. Catra and Adora both got out of the car and walked inside. The inside had plenty of TVs, and tables and more. Catra lead Adora to the nearest table. They both sat down looking around at how crowded the place was.

Catra then said "Welcome to the Black Garnet Bar. Basically it's Scorpia's family who owns this place but Scorpia runs it. I know for a fact that there are vegan options because Perfuma comes here a lot and I know she's a vegan. And I promise there are more options than salad here."
Adora basically seemed very excited and said, "Wow! I've always wanted to come to a place like this. The problem is that Glimmer isn't very comfortable in a place like this. I'm really excited to try the food out here. Thank you for bringing me here. Oh look, I see Scorpia!"
Scorpia came over to the table with 2 menus and a huge smile on her face.
"OH HEY WILDCAT. HELLO ADORA! Oh It's so good to see you both here, at my place! Well here are your menus. Theres really mostly burgers, wings and fries here and some other items! I have a few things to take care of at the bar but just yell if you need anything. One of the servers will come by and help you both out! See you both later!"

Catra knows that normally Scorpia would just stand there and talk but it was super busy evening on a Friday. Most college kids have off Friday so many people were there. As she looked at the menu she hoped to find something Adora would eat.

“OH They have a beyond burger here, and some other options made with tofu. I havnt had a Beyond Burger in awhile I’ll get that. Adora said in a happy voice.
“Whats a Beyond Burger?” Catra asked totally confused.
“It’s basically made with Water, Pea Protein*, Expeller-Pressed Canola Oil, Refined Coconut Oil and some other things. It’s SOOO good!” Adora said practically drooling over the menu.
Their waiter came by and Catra and Adora both ordered their food. Catra was really curious and wanted to try the Burger. They ended up talking about future career ideas and Adora started to tell Catra more about the things she loved doing when it comes to dating.
“I love adventures, hiking, boating, cruises, baking, swimming! I love swimming so much!” Adora said in a sing song voice as she sipped her water.
Catra did not like swimming. She hated water honestly. She showers and bathes because she has to and she likes to be clean. However if there was some magical way she could clean herself without water she would. She just feels like water weighs her hair down . Since the rain does it.
“Wow a lot of things you love involve water…” Catra said quietly as she thanked the waiter for her food.
Adora looked at her and said “Oh I’m guessing you are afraid of water?” as she bit into her burger.
“Nooo.. not scared umm it just makes my hair hard to manage and idk, lakes and oceans always scared me.” Catra said as she bit into the burger which she had to admit was really good.
“Aww Catra I’ll protect you from the mean water “ Adora said jokingly
“I am very capable of handling water anywhere!!!” Catra said trying to sound tougher to impress Adora Adora laughed “Haha! Okay good because The Comedy Show is held underground in the Enchanted Grotto”
Catra was confused and asked herself What the hell is the Enchanted Grotto?
“What does that have to do with water?” Catra asked “Oh. It’s basically a fancy comedy venue taht's underground, and under water. You can see out the windows as well! Like a giant fish tank! Only you are inside" Adora said happily.

Catra's face felt like all the color rushed from it.

Catra slightly panicked and said
"umm Adora did you just say UNDER WATER???"

Catra finished up at work as she saw Perfuma coming out of the front of the store. Catra couldn't stop thinking about what Adora said…. Underwater.
Catra hated swimming, rain, water in general. Unless its in a cup or coming from her bathroom sink and shower she hates water on her. She just feels like water weighs her down if her hair or clothes get wet. Adora seemed fine with everything, and it didn't seem to phase her at all. Catra just wasn't ready. For this. Catra had also planned on figuring out how to ask Adora to be her girlfriend. Catra decided to go talk to Perfuma. Not because they were good friends, but because of how well she knew Adora.
"Perfuma? Can I talk to you about something." Catra said walking over to Perfuma who was putting up more flowers in the front.
"Yes of course Catra, how can I help you?"
Catra just took a deep breath in and said really fast
"Iwannaaskoutadorabutidontknowhow"
Catra knew she spoke soo fast. She wonders if Perfuma actually understood that.
Perfuma just started smiling a lot and giggling and said,
"Oh Scorpia told me all about how well you two have been getting along so well and how much you want to ask her out!"
Great Scorpia loved to tell everyone things. Catra has got to stop telling her things.
"Well uh yeah. I just don't know what I should do. Flowers? Food? She loves food. Make her something?" Catra asked in an unsure way.
"Oh well Adora told me you all are going to see Double Trouble soon right?" Perfuma leaned in with a huge smile.
"Yes…the place that's um underwater" Catra said quietly
"Well! Do it at the show! It would be so romantic! Do it when you feel like its right.. But remember when the time is right, you should also l say what you really feel I bet" Perfuma bounced on her heels happily.

Catra thought about what Perfuma said… how she really feels Catra knew that would be cute, asking Adora out at the comedy show. It didn't seem too hard. Catra really just wanted this to go well. She just didn't know if this would be so easy if Adora is laughing the whole time. What if it's still too early. It really shouldn't be. They have been going out on dates for awhile now. They spend so much time talking and texting. She already saw Catra in a towel. That was hard already to try to forget that embarrassing moment.

"Okay I guess I'll try that." Catra said grabbing her bag to go home. Catra just knows she needs to really work on hear fear of being underwater. She keeps making up scenarios in her head that she says ' oh hey Adora be my girlfriend' as water leaks in and everyone has to swim for their life. That wouldn't be cute in anyway…
'Stop it. It will be fine. Adora will be fine. She will say yes, totally sure of it' she thought to herself.

As she drove home she considered stopping to get some frozen yogurt again. She decided against it. She was honestly too tired. Suddenly she gets a phone call from Adora.

"Hey Adora, I'm just driving home. How are you?
"CATRA! Can you come over quickly I need help please" Adora sounded frantic. What could be wrong? Catra let Adora know shes on her way over. Was she hurt, did something happen? Catra was so nervous but was on a mission to get over there and figure out what was going on. She may have been tired but when it comes to Adora she would take every bit of energy and use it for her. She pulled up to Adora's house. She realized something. All this time they hung out. Shes never actually gone into Adora's house. This would be a first. She was nervous. She parked her car in front of the house and went and rang the doorbell.
"Hold on" This very soft sweet voice answerd the door. She was used to Netossa but this was new.
A beautiful person answerd the door. Blue eyes and almost light pink skin that contrasts well with long lavender purple hair that was in a ponytail. Catra's jaw dropped. She was amazed at how beautiful this person was.
"Hi You must be Catra. Adora says the sweetest things about you." Said the lavender haired person.

Catra just felt her cheeks turn red and warm.
“Well come inside. My name is Spinnerella. Netossa is my wife. She’s out in another town for a volleyball tournament.” Spinnerella said.
Catra walked inside the home. The house was spotless. The walls were light blue. The furniture had a very colorful almost 80s aesthetic to it. There were beautiful birds in some cages. Catra admired the house but then heard a scream..

“CATRA OMG COME HERE PLEASE” it was Adora she ran over grabbed Catra’s arm. Spinnerella stood there rolling her eyes and smiling for some reason. If this is so serious why is Spinnerella smiling.
As Catra was pulled into Adora’s room she looked at it…. It was a mess. Clothes were all over the bed as if they were yanked out of the closet and tossed. Shoes were all over. Adora’s room had red walls. Photos of her and Arrow Boy and Sparkles were taped up over her mirror which was actually really clean.
“Okay Adora whats going on?” Catra asked really curious now.
“I CANT FIGURE OUT WHAT TO WEAR TO THE SHOW HELP ME!!!! “
Seriously, Catra sped all the way over thinking it was some sort of emergency and all it was , was Adora trying to get an outfit for the show. Catra could be mad... but watching Adora and run around a confused in a panic was actually kind of cute.
“Catra don’t just stand there help me pick out an outfit!!”
Catra stood up and walk words Adora’s closet. But most of the clothing that was in the closet is now on the bed.
“Adora you literally can wear whatever you want and you will look fine. Seriously anything you wear will look absolutely amazing on you.” Catra said while still watching Adora play mix and match it outfits.
Secretly Catra really loved fashion. Her goal was to be a professional shopper one day. She just never talked about it much that somehow Adora knew ask her. Catra saw and red dress tossed onto Adora’s vanity chair and went over to pick it up. It looked like a very pretty halter dress that Adora would look adorable in.

“hey Adora why don’t you try this one on”, Catra said tossing the dress over to Adora. Adora looked at the address for a few moments and smiled at Catra.
“oh wow! I didn’t even notice that I still had that dress! I haven’t worn it in so long. I hope it’s still fits. I gained a lot more muscle since I wore this. The last thing I need is it to rip off of me during the show! That would a whole different show.”
Catra did her best not to think about what Adora just said. She had to remember that she was on a mission. Even though it is a mission to help this adorable blonde pick out an outfit.
“Okay now shoes!!!” Adora said scrambling around her room looking for matching shoes. With the way Adora tossed her shoes everywhere she he definitely needed Catra's help. Catra saw these are really cute flats that somehow managed to the tossed together in a corner.
“Okay how about these?” Catra suggested.
Adora took them from her and smiled. She suddenly kissed Catra on her cheek and said “Aww you’re the best. I know this may not have an emergency to you, but sometimes I can get anxious over picking out outfits.”
Catra was shocked. 1. She loved the random cheek kiss. 2. She never expected Adora to be an anxious person. Especially since she kissed her the same night they met.
“You always seem so confident. How does something like taking out an outfit make you so anxious?” Catra asked Adora’s smile turned into a frown. Catra wasn’t sure if she offended her in anyway. Adora then sat down on her own bed and said, “honestly I get anxious about a lot of things. Everyone gets a little anxious about something sometimes. Personally... I really do think about my appearance a lot more than people think I do. Yeah I can easily put on leggings and some random top. I can toss on jeans. Dressing nice to go somewhere. I usually need Glimmer’s help. She was slammed today at the froyo shop that she couldn’t answer me. Bow is out with Sea Hawk, Mermista has amazing fashion sense but she’s also working tonight, which I shouldn’t have been so surprised about. I knew you were getting out of work soon so I thought I would call you.”

Catra felt really good that Adora called her. Something so simple as picking out an outfit really could make someone stress out. It was important to Adora so it became important to Catra.
“Do you want me to help you with your makeup before we go to the show this weekend?” Catra offered.
“That is so sweet if you to offer but Glimmer would kill me if I let someone else do my make up besides her. She’s actually a cosmetologist. She just hasn’t done much with it since she started working for Angella. She really wants to open up our own shop and one day but she saving up for it.” Adora said kindly Catra just imagined Sparkles throwing glitter at all the clients that came in. Yuck! Catra hated glitter. Suddenly a knock was heard on the door of Adora’s room. Adora opened and Spinnerella role was outside of the room with a plate of cookies and 2 cups of iced tea on a tray.
“I made cookies if you two want some!” Spinnerella said with a bright smile.
“Thanks Spinnerella!! I am so sorry I didn’t properly introduce you two. Catra this is Spinnerella. Spinnerella is the more maternal one in the marriage.” Adora said with a smile.
“I can see that . She was really… wait um sorry what are your pronouns?” Catra asked
“Oh! How sweet of you to ask. You can use any pronouns. Just be sure to mix them up sometimes. Being non-binary people tend think if you use any pronouns that they can just always stick with one. It makes us feel a little better when people mix them around” Spinnerella laughed but in a more serious tone.
She put down the tray of cookies and iced tea on an open spot on the bed that wasn’t covered in clothing and left the room.
“Spinnerella seems sweet” Catra said eating a cookie. Possibly one of the best cookie’s she has had in awhile.
“Yeah they can get really moody when they come home from work though” I don’t get to see them as often as I’d like. Spinnerella is always working.” Adora said
Catra was curious and asked “What does she do for work?”
“A pilot. But for private jets and stuff. It’s really cool! To be honest idk what I would do without them both.” Adora said finally drinking some iced tea.

A pilot? Catra was not surprised in anyway. She was so glad that Adora had Spinnerella Netossa to live with. She would love to live with someone who didn't try to burn down the kitchen with science experiments.
"So one more favor Catra?"
Oh no did she want her to now pick out more clothes?
"Can you help me clean up please?" Adora said in such a sweet way.

Catra laughed and said "Only if we can play music while we clean! And no we are not playing anymore Girl in Red. I swear if you put that one song of hers one more time… I'm leaving and you have to do this cleanung all alone."
Adora pouted in the cutest way and said "Fineee. I'll let you pick the song . Let me turn on my Bluetooth speaker.
Catra then went over to Adora's laptop on her vanity and turned on music. They danced around the room together picking up clothes laughing.
"Okay so I can't play Girl In Red but you can blast Hayley Kiyoko? Catra that's just as gay!!!"
Adora complained in a joking tone.
"Yes because I always let you pick the music in MY car. Soo I get to pick the music in your room! Plus you love her music!! Don't deny it" Catra laughed.

Adora knew that Catra was right by the look in her eyes it seemed.
They blasted the music louder and sang together danced around the room picking things up.
🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵Did you take him to the pier in Santa Monica, Forget to bring a jacket, wrap up in him 'cause you wanted to?
🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵 Adora messed up the words and Catra sang it perfectly. Since she plays her music on a regular.
"ugh I can never get it right!" Adora grumbled tossing another shoe into her closet
"Woah princess don't worry. It took me like a lot of time to get it right. " Catra said.

They both finished cleaning up blasting more songs. Catra didn't think she would have so much fun cleaning a room that's not even her own. After about 2 hours the two girls finished up. It only took that long because Adora kept telling Catra stories about how she got certain items and where she wore them. They would end up taking breaks. Adora's room was also really huge. Spinnerella knocked again. Apparently they made dinner . Catra thought it was funny that they ate cookies before dinner. When Catra was younger she would have gotten in so much trouble if she had cookies before dinner. They are grown adults so they can do whatever they want now anyway.
At the end of the night they ate dinner which was delicious stuffed Cabbage with something called Beyond Meat which was in the burgers from Scorpia's bar, and some peppers. Catra was getting used to vegan meals.

Catra hugged Adora goodbye and went home. As soon as she got inside she quickly said hi to Entrapta who was messing with an outlet in the wall. "ENTRAPTA!!! YOU better not make them lose power again. Not just them but the last time Entrapta messed with electrical wiring, she knocked out the power in the whole building. According to her she was testing out the voltage…. For what Catra still doesn't want to know. Entrapta just yelled back "NO PROMISES" Catra just rolled her eyes and plopped on her bed fell asleep so quickly….a few days went past… Before she knew it, it was already time for the show ...and right before the show and everyone seemed to be dealing with a little makeup chaos…
"ADORA SIT STILL OR I'LL POKE YOU IN THE EYE" Sparkles yelled at Adora while she did her makeup.
"Dont push so hard then!" Adora yelled back. They all agreed to meet at Sparkle's huge house. It almost looked like a Barbie Dream house with how colorful it was. So much pink and purple, you would think it was some magical castle. Everything was beautiful, and even Catra had to admit it was. She just sat by the crystle coated window in the room. Arrow Boy was already dressed up wearing blue dress pants gold suspenders and a red crop top. He really loves those crop tops. He just sat in a beanbag chair watching his girlfriend do Catra's hopefully soon to be girlfriend's makeup. Sparkles had on a red and pink cocktail sort of dress that was of course. Covered in Glitter….. Catra was already dressed. She had on Knee high black boots over her deep red leggings and a long black sweater with a gold belt around it. She felt like it would match Adora pretty well. She had to admit red looked good on everyone in the room.

"Okay Adora I'm done. You are so lucky I didn't poke out an eye of yours doing your eyeliner the way you flinch. " Sparkles said as she sat back on her own giant fluffy bed.
"Glimmer you did such a great job! Adora looks amazing! Right Catra?" Arrow Boy said looking at Catra Catra tried to avoid talking to the couple. Arrow Boy was just way too peppy for her to handle tonight. She was already nervous. She looked over at Adora and smiled Adora had gold smokey eye look with perfect wing tips. A very faint pink color on her lips that Catra wondered if it was flavored….
"Catra what do you think?" Adora said snapping Catra back to reality.
"Oh um Sparkles did a great job with your makeup!" Catra said
"Seriously Catra! You know my name!!" Glimmer yelled.

"I know. Its Glimmer. Sparkles just fits you better. I mean look at your makeup" Catra said in a laugh. She knew the little ball of glitter was annoyed.
"Catra! Glimmer! You both have known each other for awhile. Can't you just get along for tonight?" Adora said annoyed.
Catra just stood there with the small girl quiet and they both shook their head yes. Catra doesn't always see Adora get worked up so it was a little scary. She knew she deserved it in that moment.
"So anyway the plan is, Catra you can keep your car here. Bow is going to drive us all there and we are all coming back for a sleepover. Adora you can sit in the back with your little annoying girlfriend, Catra's chest felt so heavy. There was so much of an awkward silence. She looked around the room and then Adora's gaze met her own. Catra felt like she needed to say something, but Adora beat her to it…

"Glimmer! Catra's not my girlfriend…so Uh lets just go" Adora said in a very sad voice.
Was Adora upset Catra hasn't asked her out yet? Oh no. This basically would be even more awkward tonight. Would Adora think that Catra asking her out is out of what just happned? Maybe she shouldn't do it tonight.

As they sat in the car Adora didn't look at Catra at all. In fact most of the ride was just Arrow Boy trying to get everyone to talk. After awhile he just turned on music.
Catra tried to be brave. She reached over for Adora's hand scared that she may pull it away. Luckily no, Adora actually squeezed her hand and looked over at Catra and smiled. It wasn't the same huge smile she usually has on her face. It was still better than nothing.
"Bow we won't be late right?" Sparkles said to her boyfriend. She hasn't spoken much either.
"Oh! We are almost there. Don't worry Glimmer. 5 more minutes." he told her.
Those 5 minutes were really long. In that time with her other hand she grabbed her phone and texted Scorpia everything that happned.
Scorps: OH NO! I'm so sorry the double date isn't going so well.
Catra: The worse part is it hasn't even fully started we are almost at the show. I just don't think I should ask Adora out tonight. It might seem forced Scorps: Don't worry Wildcat!! Do it when it feels right. I honestly think Adora will say yes either way. Listen everything will work out okay! I have to get back to the bar!
Catra: ok thanks Scorpia have fun with the drunk college kids
Scorps : oh I will! Good Luck!

"WE ARE HERE!!" Arrow Boy yelled in such a happy tone.
Catra wondered how anyone can be so peppy. Well at least they can go inside. They parked the car on the street and they all walked towards the huge building. It had glass windows and lights shining out the windows. But it looked like the back of the building vanished. Catra then remembered… it was underwater…

"Ok so how is this place exist? " Catra asked the group.
"OH!! So basically we walk into the door and we show them our tickets. Next thing is we walk down the stairs. They have an elevator for those who are unable to take the stairs too. They are super accessible here! They even have people who offer you tissues. Just in case you laugh so hard you cry! It's great!" Arrow Boy said.
"Okay but that's not what I asked…I mean it's actually really cool they have that..but. I want to know how it's underwater." Catra said confused. She already wasn't comfortable with the thought of being under one arm in the first place.
Arrow Boy continued..
"sorry. So basically there is a manmade lake behind an arch the building you can see from the outside. There are so many types of fish they put into this lake. And the building is underneath the lake.
Nothing that he said made Catra feel any better. Adora must have noticed because she grabbed Catra's hand and said
"Don't worry Catra it's perfectly safe!!! There are 2 very strongwalls that protect the comedy club. So if the first wall cracks or leaks. It will take awhile for the pressure to break the inner wall. In that time we can all get out. But it will be fine! Sea hawk used to come here all the time with Mermista. Sadly they can't come back" Adora said as they walked through the doors.
"Let me guess…. Sea Hawk lit something on fire?" Catra laughed as they started walking down the stairs
"Actually…Mermista did…. She lit a piano on fire"
"Wait WHAT??? " Catra asked. Knowing all the times Sea Hawk lit things on fire that Adora told her about.
"Yeah I was shocked too…apparently she wanted to know how it felt" Adora said laughing

As they all walked in Catra felt her heart drop to her stomach in fear. They weren't kidding the whole place was truly underwater. It was huge. There were round tables all over. You could see right through the glass walls. There were lights on the bottom of the lake so you could see all the fish around. It was pretty much a giant aquarium. There were 2 bars that had sculptures of giant whales on each side. Giant bright chandeliers hung from the very high ceiling. The place was beautiful. Terrifying but beautiful. They found some great seats close to the stage. They sat at the round table. Adora and the others talked amongst themselves. Catra was way too nervous. If she was nervous to ask Adora out tonight. She was even more nervous doing it in some underwater building.

Suddenly the lights dimmed and Catra heard piano music and everyone started clapping already. Adora was so excited she was bouncing in her chair. She smiled at Catra as if nothing happned in the last 30minutes.

Catra suddenly looked up to the stage and saw light green smoke coming out from behind the curtains. A person dressed in black and green suit with blonde hair came out on stage. Catra had to admit this person looked absolutely gorgeous.
"Thank you! Thank you all for coming to my show! I see some familiar faces! I see some new ones too. To all the new ones I'M DOUBLE TROUBLE AND WELCOME TO THE ENCHANTED GROTTO!!"
As they finished their sentence the crowd clapped and cheered. Double Trouble walked across the stage so quickly and reptilian like Catra barley even noticed. They started with a few jokes to just get the crowd laughing. The next thing Catra knew was that she was laughing so hard she felt like she should have taken a few tissues.
"Honestly my mother used to tell me I could never do comedy. See she was the funny one! She would say DT what even are you? I said Mom I'm not a boy I'm not a girl. I'm just attractive and I would walk out the door! I would do so much art as well. Drawing and erasing drawing and erasing. Sheesh… erasers slowly sacrifice their lives for our mistakes"
Catra laughed along with the rest of the crowd.

"Remember being in school when you were in school how had vocabulary tests? Oh I was horrible at it. But I sure could memorize lyrics to a 6 minute song! I wish I was 14 again…and ruin my life differently.. I have new Ideas!" …

Catra heard some laughter from the crowd..
Double Trouble webt on
"Ever put your music on shuffle on your phone….then get annoyed when it doesn't play the songs you want?
Catra and the rest laughed. She was having so much fun she forgot all the awkwardness that happned. Double Trouble continued to make more jokes.
"Oh guys! So every show Double Trouble has, they always bring someone up to say at least 3 jokes. Oh I hope its me or Adora. We always love jokes! " Said Arrow Boy Catra laughed. She would love to hear Adora tell jokes on stage in her gorgeous red dress. Lucky for Catra, Adora looked like she wanted to go up there with the way she was still bouncing in her chair. Double Trouble talked more.
"Okay you lovely people! It's that time when I pick the lucky one to come up and own the stage! Lets see"
Double Trouble looked around the room. Adora stood up so fast and yelled
"ME ME ME ME ME ME!!! PICK MEEE"
Catra wanted to be supportive. She also stood up and said "PICK HER PICK HER" The other little happy couple did the same thing. Double Trouble looked right at their table because at that point they were all standing up pointing at Adora yelling. Double Trouble suddenly stepped down off the stage. Their long beautiful blonde hair trailing behind them. They walked to our table and stuck out their hand at Adora inviting her up on stage.
Catra was really happy for Adora. She wanted her to have a lot of fun. She looked so beautiful as she walked up the stairs and onto the stage. The lights went right on her. She seemed to have no stage fright at all. Catra was the exact opposite she would die inside if she had to stand up in front of a bunch of people.

"Hi everyone! So I guess I should tell a joke or 2…at least you all can see me. Isn't it crazy that just to see us up here we have to pay so much money? No I'm not talking about just us in this room. I'm talking about glasses! So expensive! We need to make money. I once went to an interview and the interviewer asked "Can you Multitask? I just said Depends can the salary multiply?"

Catra knew the joke was a little lame but the crowd had some laughs and being supportive she laughed loudly too.
"Life is expensive…we legit have to pay to exist… and some of us arnt even having a good time! Money is funny. There were times I would say to myself Oh I need a vacation. I could have sworn my wallet whispered 'to where your backyard?'
More laughs from the crowd. Adora went on…
"Fun fact… I'm like really gay and I remember my Aunt came to me after I came out to her once, and asked me if I was still gay… I just told her. Oh man., Thanks for reminding me My gay subscription is about to expire. I better renew it."
The whole crowd laughed. Adora was about to probably tell her last joke but she stopped, frozen on stage. She was looking out into the crowd with a terrified face as if she has seen a ghost. She became really pale and Catra got really worried. Her 2 friends went to the side of the stage and whispered..
"Adora are you okay?" They said in unison.
Adora looked like she was about to either faint, cry, scream or everything at once. All 3 of them went and helped Adora down the stairs. Double Trouble didn't say too much and just said "Okay Get some rest Darling. Everyone please give a round of applause to Adora!"
They brought Adora to the table and she sat down still looking very pale. Catra needed to know how to help.
"Adora?" Catra said grabbing Adora's hand. Her palms were a little sweaty so Catra knew she needed to find out what was going on. Adora then just started to cry a little. Not full on sobbing just tears falling slowly.
"Adora what happned? Do you want to leave?" Catra asked looking at the other two hoping she would get some sort of response, however they looked as confused at she did.
Adora nodded her head yes and they all got up and started to leave. Luckily there were only 10 minutes left of the show. So they wouldn't miss so much. As they head out through the door Catra heard fast footsteps behind them. Was somebody following them? Catra has amazing hearing so whoever it was , was really trying to get to them.
"Guys someone is behind us and.." before Catra could finish as they made it up the stairs. Adora started to run out the front door ahead of them. Catra knew something was wrong. Catra ran after her and she heard the other two running out the door behind them. The front door closed behind her and Adora just stood over by the parking lot sobbing.

They all circled Adora and hugged her. Just then Catra heard a rough voice near them call Adora's name.
"Adora! Please lets talk" the voice said rough yet kindly.
They all turned to look and saw a very tall women with platinum blonde hair in a high ponytail. She wore what looked like a black bikers jacket, ripped jeans and a purple shirt. This woman had muscles … A LOT of muscles. She walked up the their group.

"Leave me ALONE!" Adora turned and yelled at her through her tears.
"Please just go away Huntara!" Sparkles also yelled.
Wow this…this was Adora's ex girlfriend. The one who apparently really broke Adora's heart. Adora wanted nothing to do with her. Did Huntara know Adora would be here? Catra had no idea what was going on.
Suddenly Arrow Boy spoke up this time. "Huntara please leave Adora alone. She was nice enough NOT to put a restraining order on you. Please just go away.
A restraining order????? What the hell was going on that Catra didn't know?
"You stay out of this Crop Top and you too Twinkles" Huntara said in a mean voice. The sudden kindness in her voice disappeared. She sounded angry. Adora never mentioned that she was so mean too. All Adora told her was that she cheated on her, but that was all.
Catra needed to know….she pulled out her phone and texted Glimmer…she only had her number because she needed her gps to drive to her house.
Catra: Glimmer what happned. Tell me please. Ive never seen Adora like this!'
Glimmer knew Catra was serious since she used her name. Glimmer pulled out her phone and texted Catra while Arrow Boy went back and fourth with Huntara and stood in front of Adora.

Catra stayed by Adora's side.

=========

Sparkle Princess: Listen, Huntara was a terrible girlfriend to Adora. Yes she cheated on her. However after a few months with her, she was really mean to her and well. She hit Adora a few times.
Catra: WHAT THE HELL….???
Sparkle Princess: Yes. It was bad. All those times Huntara brought her flowers? Those were her way of saying "it won't happen again" Adora never told anyone. She would lie and say she walked into something, and she knew we would believe her because shes been bruised before and gets a little clumsy. I wish we knew.
Catra: I can't believe this…I wish I knew too.
Sparkle Princess: The final thing to happen was Adora walked in on her cheating on her with Perfuma. That was the best thing to happen because it also saved Perfuma from the abuse Adora got. Adora is strong but inside she's still as fragile as a flower and for someone to hurt her like that…that was hard so we never talk about it. There were so many signs Adora said. She spent the first few months always getting angry at her. Always assuming things. Yelling at her when they worked together. Adora told everyone right after she talked to Perfuma that day.
==========
Now Catra was able to understand why Sparkles was so angry that day she walked in to try to talk to her and ended up speaking to Angella. Sparkles probably thought she did something terrible to Adora as well. She sees why Netossa and Spinnerella were so protective of her. Catra couldn't imagine what that was like for Adora. Catra delt with a lot of abuse from her foster mother. Catra worked like crazy all the way up to when she was 18. She left and took her sister with her so they could take care of each other. Their foster mother didn't even care that Catra pretty much helped her sister run away before she turned 18. It was out of that woman's hands. The physical and emotional abuse Catra had to deal with was tough. Imagine just dating the same abusive person that you also work for. It sounds horrible and Catra was NOT going to let this women hurt Adora ever again.

Catra walked up to Huntara in front of Bow and took a deep breath
"Listen …you…beast. Your tall. That's cool. You have muscles. Also cool. You acting as if Adora is still your property…not cool!
Huntara got closer to Catra she could smell her, she smelled like the inside of a car shop…what a surprise. Even with Huntara being as large as she was. Catra wasn't scared. Catra has faced bigger trouble before.
"Listen tiny" Huntara started..
"My name is Catra." Catra said angrily.
Huntara just laughed at her and said "Listen kitty. I was trying to speak to Adora! Now get out of my way!
==========

Huntara went to punch Catra, but she wasn't fast enough. Catra dodged the punch so quick Huntara almost lost her balance.
"Wow Okay you want to fight…not tonight." Catra yelled feeling so much rage.
"I'm sorry but Years of abuse as a kid taught me so much" Catra said with a smirk Catra dodged another punch from Huntara who was about to fall over. She seemed to try to bring Catra down to the ground with her…
Huntara went to grab Catra but Catra moved out of the way. Knowing that's exactly what Huntara would do. And Huntara fell to the ground.
Catra was much faster.

"I can tell when you're about to strike. I know how to dodge your every move. You really need to leave Adora alone. You need to leave this whole situation alone. I don't want to have to chose violence today"
Huntara wasn't afraid to chose violence tho, and went to yank Catra by the arm but Catra grabbed her arm seeing it coming up and held it tight Huntara practically growled at her, not expecting Catra to be one step ahead of her. Huntara pushed herself up from the ground with her other arm and tried to pull the other away from Catra.

==========

"I'm not going to fight you. But I won't let you hurt Adora, and if that means I need to hold onto you until you agree to leave her alone, I will! Even if I do let go. You lay a hand or talk to Adora again, I know where to find you!" Catra screamed still not letting go.

Suddenly Adora stepped in between them both and said "Catra… Huntara STOP!"

She yelled at the last bit. Catra finally let go of Huntara and Huntara took a step back. Neither of them have ever heard Adora scream like that. Arrow Boy and Sparkles seemed shocked as well with their gasps from behind.

"Listen Huntara. I'm tired of you. I blocked you for a reason. I broke up with you for more reasons. I'm a lot stronger than you know. I could have responded vilontly back at you back all those times, but why should I act as low as you?!" Adora yelled.

Catra never liked to fight just for fun… she was much better at resisting and restraining. She's only had one fight with a really mean foster kid. They moved her to another place. Catra knew that in most situations, The other person would get tired and it gave Catra time to get away. In another universe she might have chosen violence over everything else.

Adora continued but her voice was calmer yet stern "You need help…a lot of help. I can't provide that for you. I just hope you get it. So I'm not going to ask again. Please never come near me again and never talk to me again. I forgive you because you don't deserve to rent anymore space in my brain….and I'm not afraid of you. You were mean to my friends. You went after Catra. Your done scaring me. You aren't someone to be afraid of. You are someone I pity.

Catra remembered how hot Adora really was in that moment…tall blonde strong and smart…at times

. Some random woman who looked homeless with an eyepatch walking past their group just yelled out "ooooooooooh!!" loudly. Catra wasn't surprised they are right outside the parking lot. She could have sworn she's seen that woman before. Catra had to focus though. ….She was just still ready to defend Adora and grabbed her hand. Adora looked at her with these beautiful almost loving eyes.
"If you contact me again I won't just file a restraining order. I will ruin your business. You know I can." Adora said with a smirk. Huntara suddenly looked terrified and angry all at once. She would be because Adora did seem to know everyone in this city. She could have Huntara' s shop shut down in an instant. Catra was pretty sure Huntara wouldn't even be able to do anything. There would be too many people against her. Sparkles and Arrow Boy both gave a loud "YEAH" from behind Catra and Adora. After a few silent moments, Huntara finally spoke " Fine Adora. You win. You have fun with your little friends and guard cat."

A guard cat? Catra just rolled her eyes. Ever since she met Adora she just learned so much about her. What has it been? A whole 2 months…soo about 7 months in lesbian time….and she still hasn't asked her out? A lot of it is fear mixed with the right time. Catra never had someone in her life that she was interested in that actual had a complicated life story where she could relate. For all this time of knowing Adora she never talked about the things she went through. It's not easy to. Catra doesn't talk about her childhood either. It's different for everyone.
Suddenly Huntara looked at Catra and said "Have fun with your little blonde girlfriend"
Again in that very moment Catra looked over at Adora…..took a breath and said
"She's not my girlfriend……" Catra yelled back…
She then paused and smiled at Adora and said
"unless she wants to be."
Catra watched Adora's eyes open really wide and then she spoke
"I've always wanted to be your girlfriend Catra."
Catra felt so many butterflies in her stomach in that moment.

Adora's always wanted this? Catra was so happy. But she had to know….she whispered to Adora. "wait so like is that a yes? Like we are dating now?"

"Catra youre such a useless lesbian omg yes it means I'm your girlfriend now!" Adora said in such a teasing voice.
Catra smiled again knowing Adora is right she's a total disaster sometimes.
Huntara suddenly said "yuck you two are annoying.…and started to turn around until Arrow Boy said "GLIMMER DO THE THING!"
Catra turned around and saw Sparkles put her hands up excitingly and walked through the middle of Adora and Catra and right up to Huntara.
"I think you're just mad because your single" and opened her hands and blew glitter right up at her face. Catra hated glitter because…
"UGH ! IT WON'T COME OFF!!!" Huntara walked away fast and Catra laughed along with the rest of the group. Sparkles may be a little annoying, but she's funny.
"Okay everyone lets head back to the car. " Arrow Boy said turning around to head back.
Catra looked over at Sparkles and said "nice job with the glitter and did you seriously just quote Steven Universe Sparkles?"
Sparkles shook her head proudly and said "It's my favorite show!
She then looked at Catra and said "Catra ..again…as Adora's best friend and you being her new girlfriend…I would really appreciate it if you actually used my name. Please?"
Sparkles…. Ok well..Glimmer was right. She earned it.

Arrow Boy was still Arrow Boy because he hasn't gotten upset about it yet. They all got into the car. Before they drove away Glimmer explained to Catra that Huntara always talked about wanting to go to a Double Trouble show when she was dating Adora which is probably why she was at their show. Adora explained that she saw Huntara in the crowd and Huntara waved at her… it freaked out Adora so much.
Catra looked over at Adora while they were in the backseat and said "Wow…well this was a fun night…" in a very sarcastic tone.
Adora just pulled Catra a little closer to her. Catra noticed how fast both of their hearts were beating.

Adora then said "Honestly I didn't think you were ever going to ask me to be your girlfriend. I didn't think Huntara would cause so much drama either... and then after that…I really didn't think you wanted to be my girlfriend because of this drama. You surprised me."
Arrow Boy overheard them and Catra could hear him say "Aww" and Glimmer telling him to give them privacy even though Glimmer kept sending texts to Adora asking "whats going on back there" it kept popping up on Adora's phone.
"Oh, I really just didn't want you to think I asked too soon" Catra said with her face getting red. Adora still has that affect on her.
Adora laughed "You are talking about me… the girl who kissed you on our first date the same day we met… now that was fast! Sooo Idk what you were so afraid of"
Everyone in the car started laughing.

Catra gave her girlfriend's hand a squeeze and said, "Listen I have no idea whats in store for us in this journey called life but It doesn't matter as long as you are part of my journey I'm here to stay."
Adora looked like she was going to cry… yep Catra felt the warm tears from her face and cupped Adora's face and before she knew it she pulled her in for another kiss. This kiss was different. To be honest they have only kissed a few times and when they did , it was always Adora making the first moves. Catra already asked her out. There was only one more thing she needed to tell her.
"Adora. Thanks for being so amazing honestly…and I want to say something…when you looked in my eyes earlier I just felt this full energy this sort of feeling came over me that I realized. And I"
Adora then cut her off and in a flirty way she said "Oh gosh are you about to tell me you love me or something??"
Well that was not something she expected Adora to say but Catra again faced her fears once again.
"Ummm ..yes… I love you" Catra said a little more quietly.
Adora just let out a small happy squeak like noise and squeezed Catra's hand and said "I love you too" Catra felt every butterfly leave her stomach and she felt like she could fly like one. This must have been what Perfuma was talking about when it came to her feelings…

Glimmer and Arrow Boy seemed like they were listening in because Catra heard tiny little noises that they seemed to try hide.
"Hey everyone who wants the AUX cord and wants to put on some music!!" Arrow Boy said happily handing it back to Catra and Adora. Adora quickly grabbed it before Catra could and put it in her phone.
"YAY I can pick the music!!" Adora said happily
But Catra knew what that meant.
"Oh no..please don't do it...." Catra begged. But it was too late… they were already singing…the whole entire car except Catra….

♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ "I don't wanna be your friend, I wanna kiss your lips……."

♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫ ♫

"Catra sing along!" Glimmer said!
"Yeah Catra! Youre part of the best friend squad now and when we get back to Glimmer's house I can play the whole album for our big sleepover!!" Arrow Boy yelled!
Catra took out her phone to text her girlfriend.
Catra: Adora….I'm gonna kill your friends…
My Princess <3 : Please Don't

Chapter End Notes

YAY WE DID IT!! Sorry for hitting you all with so many things...
Ok I legit stayed up all night to write this...because Catradora... and I wanted to give you guys exactly what I said you would get.... all that drama....
I wanted to make Spinny non-binary too...since well Noelle voices her anyway! I wanted to discuss pronouns too.
I also felt like it was important to talk about the truth in some relationships. .

TW- Abuse
People are so used to hearing about men hurting women.....but it can happen in any relationship. Please remmeber, nobody should be causing unwated harm to you in a relationship. Physical, Mental, and Emotional. Having your partner/partners hurt you is not worth the fake "love" they will give you.

Epilogue

Chapter Summary

After two years, Catra is sure that Adora is her soulmate.

Chapter Notes

Yeah, I know ended the story , but I kind of wanted to make an epilogue because it was in my head, and it felt wholesome and I had to write it.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

The night finally arrived and Catra was feeling more anxious than ever before. They've been together for 2 years now. And those past two years of her life were amazing. They were filled with laughter, sarcasm, love, traveling and so much more.

She had thought about this moment for so long and she wanted it to be perfect. She was determined to show Adora how much she was loved and all the ways their lives together had been perfect, even in the toughest times. Catra had chosen a park by the lakeside near their new apartment they got together for their first year anniversary of being together. She waited in anticipation for Adora to arrive. Catra was a bundle of nerves. She wanted this moment to be just right and she couldn't help but think about all the beautiful moments they had. Angella helped Catra plan this moment because she knew she couldn't do it alone and Angella knows Adora loved being in nature. Catra was happy to know that this was exactly what Adora would love.
She waited feeling scared and excited all at once. Then from the other side of the lake she spotted Adora gracefully walking over to her.

When Adora walked over over the small bridge on the lake, her face lit up the night. She had on a baby blue skirt with a white button down blouse . Her blonde hair was surprisingly down instead of in her regular ponytail poof. She was glowing like always and Catra felt her nerves getting the best of her at first. Adora just seemed to glow brighter than any star in the sky as she walked closer.

Adora was walking out a normal speed but Catra's brain felt like it was slower due to her nerves.
As she walked slowly towards Catra, their eyes locked in a gaze. The setting sun cast an orange and pink hue on the horizon and Catra felt as if the stars were aligning for this magical moment. They quickly kissed and hugged each other.

"Hey Adora" Catra said with her voice shaking.

"Hey Catra! Angella told me you wanted to meet me here is everything okay? You look absolutely terrified."

Adora had no idea how right she was. Catra was so nervous and scared and it showed on her face and said .
" Everything is fine I promise. I just needed to talk to you about something important."

Adora looked confused and asked
"Umm don't you know we live together now we could've just talked at home. We live right around the corner now."
Adora giggled.

Catra laughed a little and explained herself.

"I know. However I just needed to do this somewhere that's as beautiful as you are however, that place doesn't exist, so this is the closest thing I could think of ."

Adora's face turned red and she looked down at her feet and looks back up right into Catra's colorful eyes and smiled.

Catra took a deep breath to steady her nerves and calmly spoke.

"Adora, I just wanted to take a moment to thank you for all the amazing things you bring to my life. We have been together for 2 years now, and I can't imagine life without you. I wanted to tell you how much I love you and how you make me feel like a better version of myself every day. The day I met you in the yoga studio was the day you opened my eyes to so many things. Not just vegan pizza and Frozen yogurt. But to life..a life that I never thought I would have. And I want to continue opening my eyes every day with you. I want to open my eyes in the morning and see you every day, for the rest of my life”

Adora laughed and said
“Well we do sleep in the same bed now so you do get to do that already.”

Catra just smiled at Adora being so oblivious. But this was a good thing.
Adora seemed as if she had no idea what was about to happen and that’s exactly what Catra wanted.

Catra already could feel herself choking on her words.. but she knew that she had to continue it was now or never. So she took a big breath and said,

“Adora I want to spend the rest of my life with you, Not just this. Not just waking up to you. I want to learn with you, dance with you, have a family with you. I want you. All of you and I will do whatever it takes to make us happy.”

' Adora was speechless, She seemed to really love everything Catra was saying.
Her blue eyes filled with tears from all the amazing things Catra was saying to her.
Catra reached into her pocket and got down on one knee, and pulled out a tiny gold box. She opened the box to reveal a beautiful Garnet stone ring.

“Adora, will you marry me?' “

Adora stood there looking absolutely shocked just staring at the ring almost distracted from the question.

“ Oh wow is that my birthstone? So pretty! Wait …wait did you just say…whoa you just asked….

Omg you want to marry me? Really.” Adora started crying more happy tears.

Catra laughed and said “Adora you’re such an idiot what do you think I’m doing right now down here with this ring, and yes it’s your birthstone”

They both smiled at the same time and Adora finally answered “YES CATRA YES of course I’ll marry you. Oh my God Yes Catra yes yes yes”
Suddenly it started to rain.

The two embraced, Adora looked at Catra with those beautiful blue eyes that Catra wanted to see forever , and shared a beautiful kiss that reminded Catra of the time she kissed her in the rain. Only this was more meaningful because Catra was more in love than ever before as they stood there in a beautiful park, surrounded by nature and the city lights.

Fast forward 3 years later and Catra and Adora had built a happy life together. Catra was helping her best friend Perfuma run the yoga studio in town and Adora had just started up her own personal training business that was quickly becoming a top choice for local clients. They were always finding time to hang out with their friends Glimmer and Bow still who had their own little wedding to plan now. Whenever Glimmer and Bow asked Catra how she had proposed to Adora, she would always smile and glance lovingly at Adora as she recounted how she had set up the most romantic surprise ever for her.
Well Angella helped of course.
Catra and Adora were now living a life full of love, and they had never been happier. The only thing that brought them more joy was when they took little Fin home from the hospital 🥰. Catra never thought she would have such a wonderful family. If someone told her that this was going to be her future, she never would’ve believed it .

As they went on with their life. Catra kept her eyes, heart and mind open to how beautiful life can be with love being the strongest power in the world.

Chapter End Notes

I haven’t written anything in a while due to many reasons, but I know when I’m inspired, I have to do it. Thank you to everyone who remembered the story and came to read the epilogue.

End Notes

This was my first one shot. It just popped up in my mind. Again don't mind the bad English skills. It's tricky for me. I almost want to write another chapter but I guess I'll see how well this one does. Feedback needed 😊 For now that's all.
